The Indians started to click in the third period and soon closed the gap to nine points. Lancaster's defense was slightly shattered but they soon found themselves and ended the quarter in the lead by 11; the score 44-32.

The determined Indians took the floor in the first of the fourth quarter. They had soon narrowed down the difference to six points but could not get ahead. The full court press of the Indians held the Lancer's for a while. Lancaster's long passes soon put them into a comfortable lead. With three minutes to go Palmer fouled out and soon after Walker was out of the game via the foul route. The two Indians being the only two in the game fouling out. The final stanza ended with the Lancer's ahead 65-52. There were only thirty fouls called on both teams.

The Coesse Papooses lead during most of their game and then in the last few minutes the Lancer's forged ahead to win 36-29.

High point man for the Lancaster Lancer's was Felton with 29. Rock of the Indians was high with 16.

The officials for the game were Schlundt and Snodgrass.

There was a preliminary game played between Thorncreek and Coesse eighth grade teams. Thorncreek won by a score of 17-16.

Yogi Berra Named American League's Most Valuable Player

CHICAGO (UP) — Yogi Berra, stubby New York Yankee catcher, today was named the American League's most valuable player for 1955.

He became the third player ever to win the honor three times and also the third player ever to win the award in consecutive years. His previous selections were in 1951 and 1954.

Twenty-four baseball writers, three in each member city in the league, voted, and Berra with seven first place selections finished with 218 points. Each writer named 10 players, in order of value.

Detroit's Al Kaline, league batting champion, was second with 201 points, narrowly edging out Cleveland's Al Smith, who had 200. Veteran Ted Williams of Boston finished fourth with 143 points and Mickey Mantle, Yankee center fielder, fifth with 113.

The Pressure Is Off For Nine Major Indiana High School Quintets, First-Time Losers

By KURT FREUDENTHAL
United Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) — The pressure was off today for nine major Indiana high school basketball quintets who absorbed first lumps Friday night, but state champion Indianapolis Attucks was still firing away with both barrels.

First-time losers included Kokomo and Indianapolis Tech, in North Central Conference games; Bloomington, Martinsville, New Haven, Goshen, Sullivan Terre Haute Garfield and Hammond Morton. The last two dropped season openers.

And little Chesterton, which rolled through last year's campaign with a perfect slate, suffered its first regular-season defeat in two years at the hands of Portage, 53 - 48.

Lafayette spurted in the final period to sink Kokomo, 67 - 59, despite Paul Conwell's 25 points; Frankfort ignored the home-floor advantage and whipped Tech, 51 - 45; Jeffersonville downed Bloomington, 58-48; Ben Davis beat Martinsville, 75-64; unbeaten Harlan wrecked New Haven's five-game winning streak, 60-46; Elkhart defeated Goshen for the 32nd consecutive time, 70-46.

Vincennes shaded Garfield, 73-72 on Ronnie Hughes' free throws in the final 10 seconds; Morton lost at Benton Harbor, 75 - 53, while Princeton downed Sullivan 46-36.

Attucks, meanwhile, rolled up its 17th straight triumph and fourth this season at South Bend Riley with ridiculous ease, 90-35. Oscar Robertson with 29 points and Bill Brown with 24 paced the Flying Tigers to a 20-4 first-period lead. It was Riley's third straight loss.

Anderson won from Marion, 65 - 57, to take over the NCC standings with a 2-0 record. Also in the NCC, Dalen Showalter dropped 32 points to lead Logansport to a 75-63 victory over Muncie Central. The losers' Phil Raisor caged 24 on 12 baskets. Richmond beat New Castle, 55-43.

Also upstate, LaPorte riddled Fort Wayne North's 1955 state tourney finalists, 82 - 64, in the East NIHSC. Steady Bob Wilkinson poured in 39 markers for the winning Slicers.

Hammond Beats Clark

In the West NIHSC, East Chicago Washington passed a shaky debut at Valparaiso, 60-58; Hammond overwhelmed city foe Clark, 85-42, Frank Radovich getting 22 points; East Chicago Roosevelt trimmed Gary Emerson, 49 - 38; Gary Froebel dumped city rival Tolleston, 60-42, while Hammond Tech won from Whiting, 56-46.

Elwood made it three straight to keep its Central Conference lead with a hard-fought 62-58 margin at Wabash. Monticello made it four straight, besting Rensselaer, 62-37, in a non-loop game.

Seymour's South Central Conference leaders withstood Southport's late assault, 64 - 62, for victory No. 5. Southport held Danny Thomas and Bode Hill, the Owls classy pointmakers, to a total of 18 points before they were lifted.

In the deep south, front-runners Aurora, Madison, Scottsburg, all unbeaten, plus Jasper and New Albany also kept on winning. Aurora won its fifth start at Brookville 69-56; Scottsburg made it six straight with a 51-33 conquest of Lawrenceburg; Madison chalked up No. 7 at the expense of North Vernon, 68-53; New Albany routed Bedford, 78-58, and Jasper won at Washington, 62-54, both in Southern Conference matches.

Churubusco Eagles Lose To Huntertown

The Churubusco Eagles lost to Huntertown by a score of 65-53 Friday night at Huntertown.

The score was close for the first half with the quarter score beng 13 to 11 and the half time 24-23 in favor of Huntertown.

Huntertown pulled into a steady lead in the third quarter, with score ending 49-40.

Fosnaugh and Montooth, Huntertown are over six feet tall and accounted for 16 and 13 for Huntertown. Huntertown shot 34 free throws and scored 23. Churubusco shot 30 and hit 13. Tom Papenbrock is still hampered by a broken bone in his foot received in the game with Roanoke.

Officials were Slater and Havens, Fort Wayne.

Logart Wins Easy Victory Over Akins

NEW YORK (UP)—Isaac Logart the young hurricane from Camaguay, Cuba, declared himself ready today for a shot at the welterweight crown once worn by townsman Kid Gavilan because of his easy reverse victory Friday night over Virgil Akins in their return fight.

But matchmaker Billy Brown said Isaac's title desires were a bit premature and he would try to pair him with ex-champ Tony DeMarco or fourth-ranking Vince Martinez in January.

With astounding ease, Logart won a unanimous 10-round decision Friday night in Madison Sq. Garden over Akins of St. Louis, who had taken a split verdict in their first fight at St. Nicholas Arena, Aug. 8.

Virdon Outstanding Rookie Of 1955

CHICAGO (UP) — Outfielder Bill Virdon of the St. Louis Cardinals, who the New York Yankees let go in their 1954 deal for Enos Slaughter, was the baseball writers association's choice as the National League's outstanding rookie of 1955.

Virdon batted .281, hit 17 homers six triples and 18 doubles for 231 total bases and drove in 68 runs.

It was the second year in a row that a St. Louis player won the honor. Outfielder Wally Moon was the freshman of the year in 1954.

Taxpayers

World Wars, $22,842, and Veterans of Foreign Wars, $29,000.

In 1945 the Legislature levied an extra one-cent tax on each $100 of taxable property to raise $2,500,000 for a new American Legion National headquarter on the Indiana World War Memorial in Indianapolis. The building went to the Legion on condition it would keep its national headquarters in the Hoosier capital.

Critics say taxpayers should not be forced to pay for property of a private organization. But Legion spokesmen point out Indiana has gained in prestige and businesswise because of the location of its headquarters.

"The purpose the American Legion stands for is very good," Monks also pointed out.

"Open to Attack'

Rep. Alembert W. Brayton (R-Indianapolis) opposed giving more money to veterans and farm groups in the 1955 session, but he said he wasn't "rabid" on the subject.

"It looked at the time...as though we were getting into a pretty serious financial hole," Brayton said. "I was trying to find ways to cut the budget.' He thought the "gifts" would be a ood place to start.

The groups have "worthy purposes," Brayto nsaid, but giving them money "leaves us open to attack" for discriminating against other groups.

Probably Indianas biggest single "gift" was a multi-million-dollar bonus for veterans of World War II and the Korean War, with the money raised by a one-fourth of one per cent surtax on the state gross income tax.

After World War I there was no soldier bonus, but the World War Memorial and an Indianapolis plaza covering several blocks was erected as a substitute.

This Is The Story Of Your Hoosier Highways

By VIRGIL SMITH
Chairman, Indiana tate
Highway Department

Old Dobbin didn't mind the snow; he took ice in stride, too. But when the horseless carriage made its appearance on Indiana's corduroy roads, it was a summertime luxury, for little was done in those days to combat the effects of the elements on highway travel. The season's first snow was the signal to put the family car up on blocks until Spring.

Then more and more people began to own automobiles, and soon the truck came into being. At first, an occasional plowing was all that was required. But today, with almost 2,000,000 vehicles registered in the State of Indiana, snow and ice removal has become one of the Highway Department's major maintenance problems - one on which we spend around $900,000 a year. In fact, snow and ice removal in urban areas cost us an average of $235.00 a mile and on country routes, $85.00 a mile.

Average Snowfall

We have in Indiana an average snowfall of 22.3 inches. Our heaviest snows are in the South Bend area where the average is 48.8 inches during the course of the winter. In that snowbelt area we can expect as much as 45 days of snow or sleet during the winter months. In the Fort Wayne area, where the average is 26.9 inches of snow, we anticipate 35 days of snow or sleet. In the Central part of the State, the annual snowfall drops to 20.3 inches and we will have no more than 20 or 25 days of snow or sleet. In Southern Indiana where the average winter snowfall doesn't exceed 14.4 inches, we can expect only 5 or 10 days of snow.

A light dry snow falling or drifting onto a cold pavement usually will be blown off the road. However, if traffic is heavy and doesn't permit the snow to blow away it compacts and produces a thin, smooth, icy surface. If, when temperatures are a little below freezing, wet snow is permitted to remain on the highway it packs down and oftentimes forms a coat of ice. To combat these situations, snow removal is essential, but it is impossible to plow highway surfaces bare. A thin layer usually remains and this soon ices over unless a melting agent or a "skid-proofing" is applied.

Last year, the 2,000 patrolmen who are on 24-hour call duty, and whose job it is to see that highways are kept as free of ice and snow as possible, spread something like 25,000 tons - 613 box cars - of salt and calcium chloride used to melt snow and ice. If weather predictions hold true, and we have the severe winter that's prognosticated, we can expect to use thousands of pounds more salt and calcium this year than we used last year.

This summer we purchased 108 more tractors, and with these, seventy-two complete sets of snow-fighting equipment. This is in addition to 1200 trucks, 800 snow plows, 37 power graders, 20 trucks scrapers for slush and light snow, 6 travel loaders to load snow, 48 front-end shovels and 16 "drift-busters" to clear snow drifts, which the Department had on hand.

Because of the variation in the amount of snow that falls and the number of days of snow in different parts of the State, the methods of handling the snow and ice problem, of course, varies, too, but it is generally our practice to use salt or calcium on the middle third of a two-lane pavement. Salt is being depended upon more and more each year for satisfactory control of ice and snow to provide safer driving.

Danger Spots

The most dangerous spots on our State routes during the winter months are the bridges, for the wind blowing up from beneath the structure, as well as above, keeps the temperature of the driving surface much lower than the temperature of the road leading on to the bridge. While the snow and ice may have melted from the road, the bridge may still be ice-coated. Salt, used as a melting agent with sand or cinders, loses its effectiveness at 20 degrees above zero, and while calcium works at a temperature perhaps five degrees lower, the double attack of the cold wind, keeps the temperature well below the point where a melting agent can be used.

Motorists, particularly in the Northern part of the State, have no doubt noticed small mounds of cinders stockpiled along inclines. These cinders, treated with a melting agent, are placed there for the use of truckers and others if unusual ice conditions prevail.

It is the responsibility of the State Highway Department to maintain roads in the best possible condition consistent with traffic flow and available funds. The successful discharge of this responsibility shall be our aim this winter. We hope motorists will do their part by reducing speed and bearing in mind that they have no control over a skidding car. Remember when the thermometer indicates 10 or 12 degrees aboe zero, there's only one effective melting agent and that is a rise in temperature.

Good, Bad News On Balance Sheet

The week's good and bad news: on the international balance sheet:

The Good

1. France resumed its place in the United Nations assembly after a boycott which started on September 30. The French delegation had walked out because the assembly voted to debate the demand of Nationalists in French Algeria for independence. Algeria politically is not a colony but a part of France itself. The return came when the assembly reversed its stand. It was a victory not only for France but for other Western countries which hold that the U. N. is endangering its future by trying to meddle in the internal problems of its member nations.

2. Argentina's provisional government returned the great independent newspaper La Prensa to its owners. It also dissolved the Peronist political party which enabled dictator Juan D. Peron to keep himself in power until his overthrow by the army. Peron had seized La Prensa and made it a propaganda organ. Its restoration to its rightful owners was a victory for the free press of the world.

3. Restored Sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef named independent Nationalist Si Bekkai to form French Morocco's first representative government. The two leaders hope to end soon the terrorism which still plagues the protectorate.

The Bad

1. France's politicians maneuvered themselves into the country's most tangled cabinet crisis in nearly 80 yeras. The enemies of Premier Edgar Faure, including members of his own party, defeated him on a vote of confidence on his plan to call an early parliamentary election. But they over - reached themselves. They piled up against him an absolute majority of the votes in the national assembly. That enabled Faure to dissolve parliament and call an election anyway. Infuriated the opposition sought to force Faure out by a vote of censure. But it was too late to stop the election.

2. Soviet Russia raised the threat of a serious new situation in Berlin. The Russian commandant announced that East Berlin, which is the Communist sector of the city, is no longer occupied territoy but is the capital of a "sovereign" East German government. His implication was that Russia intended to nullify the agreements under which Berlin is under joint occupation by the Big Four powers, belonging neither to Communist East Germany nor to free West Germany. The United States, Great Britain and France protested to Moscow. They feared a new Soviet blockade of West Berlin.

3. Nationalist China threatened to veto the admission of Outer Mongolia to the United Nations. Russia announced that unless that satellite area is admitted, it will kill the proposed "package" deal under which 18 countries would be given membership. It was disclosed that President Eisenhower had appealed personally to Nationalist Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek to reverse his stand. But dispatches from Taipei, Chiang's capital on the island of Formosa, said he was unlikely to do so.

ONE TOUCH OF VENUS—Beautiful Veronique Zuber seems to be enacting the mythological story of Venus, goddess of beauty and love, materializing from the foam of the sea. But actually, Veronique, dubbed "Miss Paris," is demonstrating a new synthetic-fiber wool in the French capital.

Blanket Of Fog Shrouds East, Snow In West

By UNITED PRESS

A vast blanket of fog shrouded most of the nation's eastern half today and a snow storm swirled in the West.

The fog started in Kansas, Eastern Nebraska, and Minnesota and stretched eastward across the Great Lakes, the Ohio Valley, and along the Eastern Seaboard from New England to Florida.

Snow and sleet had slicked much of the area earlier and the combination of murky, wintry weather sent the traffic accident rate climbing.

Meanwhile, a major snow storm predicted for the nation's midlands failed to develop. The weather bureau had issued heavy snow warnings for a six-state area, but forecasts of up to six inches of snow were later revised downwards.

Heavy Western Snowfall

There was still plenty of new snow to the west, however. Landers, Wyo., reported nine inches in a 12-hour period and there was four to seven inches in the Central Rockies and Western Nebraska.

The widespread fog caused complaints of gas fumes at Chicago and trapped a burglar at San Antonio, Tex.

Scores of persons called the Chicago Fire Department and gas company headquarters to complain of gas fumes overlaying the city. Weather bureau experts finally came up with the explanation that the fumes were the product of a heavy concentration of smoke and smog.

At San Antonio, the fog was so thick it slicked the roof of Deputy Sheriff George Huntress' home. A burglar trying to break into Huntress' house slipped off the roof and broke his arm. Huntress heard him groaning and arrested him.

Snow In Pennsylvania

To the east, there was up to six inches of snow in some Northern Pennsylvania counties, and at Asheville, N.C., a prison truck skidded on any icy highway, injuring 10 men.

Snow and sleet was blamed for a four-car crash which killed two persons at Chicago. Near New Haven, Ind., Thomas Hartley, 28, Wellston, Ohio was killed in a three-truck crash on slippery U.S. 30 and an Indianapolis woman died of injuries when she fell on a snow-covered sidewalk.

The stepped-up accident rate followed a disappointing Safe Driving Day observance across the nation Thursday. A final United Press tally showed 69 persons died, exactly the same number as on a Thursday two weeks earlier when no attempt was made to hold down the traffic toll.

Registered Angus Average $1,127 At International Sale

Registered Aberdeen - Angus cattle selling at the 1955 International "Show Window" Sale, Monday night, brought an average of $1,127.

The sale, held at the Sale Pavilion in Chicago's International Amphitheatre, is an annual event, sponsored by the American Aberdeen-Angus Breeders' Association and traditionally held during the International livestock Exposition.

The total amount brought for the 50 purebred Blacks selling was $56,330. Ten bulls sold for a total of $11,600, while forty females brought $44,430 to average $1,111.

Highest price of the sale for an individual animal was paid by Ferndale Ranch, Santa Paula, California, for the female, Fannie Bess of DenMor 14th (lot 14). She was consigned by Paul B. Dennis, Wilmington, Ohio, and sold for $5,300.

Top-selling bull was Highlands Bandolier 85th (lot 26). A consignment of Mrs. E. H. Heckett, Valencia, Pennsylvania, he was purchased by Stoneycrest Farm, Oxford, Connecticut, for $3,000.

Thirty Angus breeders from 12 states and Canada consigned animals to the sale which was managed by Frank Richards executive secretary of the American Angus Association.

Toy Sales Break All Records; To Go Over Billion Mark

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—(UP)—The newest thing for play put the children to work.

Look over the toy counters now filled with the makings of the children's Christmas and you'll see such "playthings" as vacuum cleaners, dust mops, brooms, pots and pans, baking kits, tool kits carpenter benches, picture framing kits and even a miniature egetable garden complete with seeds and soil.

These practical toys are just part of Santa's outsize pack, which this Christmas will carry a billion-dollar load to the nation's children.

Three Reasons

The Toy Manufacturers of the U.S.A. predict sales will pass the $1,250,000,000 mark this year, with most of the buying coming during the holiday period.

They expect the total to be 20 per cent greater than last year's record of $1,000,800,000.

The industry gives three reasons for the new record: more children greater employment and higher take-home pay.

Getting back to those toys which provide lots of work with the play let's look first for the feminine side of the family.

There are stoves, some of them with safety-engineered electrical features; refrigerators; supermarket shopping carts; plug-in coffee pots; sets for making doll clothes; embroidery sets; kits for making costume jewelry; cake mixes, tapestry, weaving and needlepoint sets, and a rug-weaving kit with miniature loom.

Sewing kits come in all shapes, sizes and price. And there's a doll furniture set in which the child glues together and finished the furniture herself. A home decorating kit consists of four rooms, playhouse size with the materials for making upholstery, curtains, slipcovers and curtains.

There even is a kit for the girl who wants to blend her own perfume.

The work toys for boys are just as plentiful. There are linoleum laying kits, plastic brick building sets, a kit with materials and instructions for making a pair of moccasins, a mechanic's tow-and-fix-it set, tool boxes complete with saws, hammers and drills which work, and as usual the kits for making model airplanes, trucks, battleship or ocean liner.

Even with all these work-and-play toys, one item perennially leads all others in sales. It's the doll.

Ideal Toy, which is the world's largest manufacturer of dolls, said 23,000,000 will be sold this year—about one for every girl under 14 in the nation.

Grand Champ Lamb Brings $4 A Pound

The 102-pound Southdown shown by Purdue was bought by Swift and Co. for a grocery chain. The record price for a champion lamb was $8 a pound, set last year.

Another Hoosier entry, the reserve grand champion hog, a Poland China owned by John Fox of Shelbyville, Ind., was sold for 25 cents a pound, or exactly $19 a pound less than was paid for the grand champ. The top price paid Friday at the Chicago Stockyards in the open market was 12 cents per pound, one of the lowest prices in 14 years.

In other activities, Darrell Stoops, Sharpsville, Ind., won the professional sheep-shearing contest with a point score of 94.73. And Paul Burris, 19, Uniontown, Ind., was second in the national 4-H Club sheep - shearing contest. He had 94.20 points.

Christmas Gift

MADISON, Wis. (UP)—A Madison man came up with an idea for a Christmas gift for a friend who apparently has everything, but police turned him down.

The man called police headquarters and asked if he could pay a $1 parking ticket in advance for his friend.

Fulfills Pledge

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Mayor-elect George Cristopher of San Francisco has fulfilled his first election pledge to the delight of city hall reporters.

Cristopher has filled the press room water cooler with bonded bourbon whiskey, as he promised the newsmen he would do if elected.

Army Vacancies In Alaska, Germany

Army representative Sgt. Leitch will be in Columbia City at 208 West Market street Wednesday afternoons to discuss enlistments with volunteers for army service.

Openings at present are available with the 2nd Infantry Division at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

The 2d will replace the 71st Infantry Division, now stationed in Alaska, next summer. The unit will be brought up to strength in manpower and materials, before the trip to the land of the midnight sun.

Sgt. Leitch reports that Alaska has long been considered as one of the choicest assignments in the Military service. Contrary to the average layman's belief that Alaska is a cold, bleak and desolate land, returning soldiers ask to go back if possible, and a great many of them return to Alaska as civilians when their tour of duty with the Army is ended, he states.

Prior service men may also enlist with the 5th Armored Div., Fort Knox, or 538th FA Bn. Camp Carson, Col., for duty in Germany starting next summer.

Father-Son Team

HACKENSACK, N.J. (UP) — Bergen County Judge Arthur J. O'Dea broke up a father-son safe-cracking team today.

He sentenced George Schamble, 45, to a two-to-three year term in state prison and sentenced Schamble's son, James, 22, to an indeterminate term in the Bordentown Reformatory. The two were charged with burglarizing the safe of a Fair Lawn, N.J., dry cleaning firm.

Wanted: Reporter

GREENSBORO, N.C. (UP)—A weekly newspaper in Ahoskie, N.C. ran an ad today in the Greensboro Daily News, for a reporter.

The ad said "Our young men hold good positions with our company, go into publishing for them selves, or go West to become writers for papers like the Greensboro Daily. The present position being open for the latter cause."

Purdue Center Named Site Of Regional Event

Fort Wayne Purdue University Center has been chosen as the site of the 1956 Regional Science Fair for Northeastern Indiana, Dr. R. M. Bateman, center director, announced today.

Dr. Bateman said the fair, one of seven in Indiana this year, will be staged at the center next April 27-28. Exhibits at the Regional Fair will include the cream of science projects entered earlier in local fairs by high school science students in the 12-county area.

Two Regional Fair winners will be eligible for participation in the National Science Fair at Oklahoma City, May 10-12.

The area covered in the Regional Fair will include Adams, Allen DeKalb, Huntington, Noble, Steuben, Wabash, Wells and Whitley counties.

The fields include biological sciences chemistry, physics, mathematical engineering, consumer testing and miscellaneous. The miscellaneous section will comprise such studies as archaeology, paleontology, and the like.

Regional Fair competition will produce divisional winners, from who will be selected the finalist. The two finalists at the regional level will be sent with his or her sponsor, on an all-expense trip to the National Science Fair at Oklahoma City to display their winning projects.

Prizes this year at the National Fair will include, along with the medals and plaques, opportunities for scholarships to American colleges and universities.

Recommends His Job Be Abolished

ASBURY PARK, N.J. (UP) — Carney H. Lebra, secretary of the Asbury Park Parking Authority, has recommended that his job be abolished.

He said there is only $422 in the authority's treasury and continued payment of his $25 a week salary would break the authority.

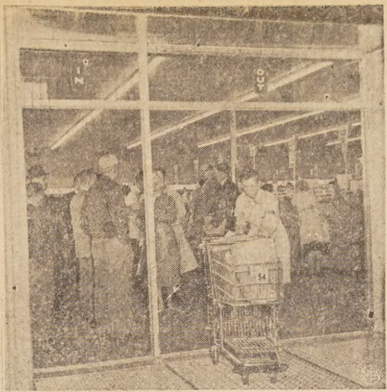
Eisenhower Says Newly Merged AFL-CIO Has Big Opportunity



DOOR'S THERE BUT IT "ISN'T" — When a chain grocery recently opened a new branch in Dillonvale, Cincinnati suburb, it didn't just open the doors—it took them away entirely. The weather outside was blustery, wet and getting colder, yet somehow the storm didn't come into the store. The secret is a revolutionary "air curtain"—an invisible partition projected by blowers across the entrance. As seen above, it lets the customers enter and leave without a ruffle, but turns back weather as sternly as any door of steel or glass. But it's not effective against burglars, so after hours, the air current is switched off and a steel and glass night door is bolted in place. The "air door" is a Swiss invention, getting its first American tryout.

State Board Of Regents Gives Tech Permission To Play In Bowl

ATLANTA (UP) — The state board of regents today gave Georgia Tech permission to play Pittsburgh and its Negro fullback in the Sugar Bowl Jan. 2 but threw future Tech and University of Georgia athletic schedules into jeopardy by banning their participation in non-segregated games played in the state.

The action, taken at a tense special session of the regents, apparently knocked out any hopes that Tech or Georgia would be able to schedule home-and-home games with some choice intersectional opponents past the present contracts.

The regents handed down their decision in a brief public session after its influential education commission had recommended the step behind closed doors for an hour. The vote was 10-1.

Gov. Marvin Griffin had asked the board to meet in special session to order Tech and Georgia teams not to participate in any athletic events in which a Negro played or in which the stands were non-segregated. Pitt plans to bring one Negro player to the Sugar Bowl game in New Orleans and will have non-segregated facilities in the stadium.

The education committee commended Griffin for his "courageous" stand in objecting to the Tech-Pitt game, a position that threw the Tech campus into frenzied excitement.

The only dissenting vote came from regent David Rice who tried in vain to ram through a substitute to the committee's recommendation which would have adopted a hands off policy and would have declared confidence in Tech's ability to handle its affairs independently.

Regent Quimby Melton Jr. said the resolution boils down to this:

1. Tech will play in the Sugar

Local Youth Unhurt As Car Is Ditched

Gerald L. Kramer, 17, son of the Alvin Kramers, 419 South Oak street, escaped unhurt at 2:30 a.m. Sunday when he lost control of his 1955 Fort Victoria a mile west of Collins on State Road 205.

The car went off the right berm, back across the road and crossed the south berm, landing in the south ditch. Kramer was southbound en route from Churubusco to Columbia City. He told State Policeman Norman Pierce, who investigated the accident, that he was traveling about 65 miles an hour when the accident happened.

Damage to the car was estimated at $300. The frame, rear end and wheels were most extensively damaged.

Meditation

By REV. GRAHAM KLEESPIE
Grace Lutheran Church
Matthew 25:1-30

Preparation is one of the most important phases of life. We are preparing for the coming of the Christ Child.

In this Advent Season, we shall take careful consideration of the great Gift given to all people, a Child born to teach and to save the world. As our text suggested, there were ten virgins; five were wise and five were foolish. Five maidens had made preparation to meet the Bridegroom, the Christ, who was coming, no one knew when. Christ said we do not know the day or the hour. The Christ is coming to take His home to the marriage feast. It is that part of wisdom to be ready. When we are ready we will have oil for our lamps. What is the oil? "Believe in the Lord, Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved."

The talents, a sum of money, was presented to the Lord, by good servants for all their belief. They had multiplied their belief by using that which they had to inform others.

Open our hearts again to the Christ Child, Who shall be born anew in our hearts this Christmas; be prepared to receive Him and multiply our talents by lending our interest to the development of His kingdom that they will be an acceptable gift to Him, as the Christ Child is a welcome Gift to us.

The Changing Times: The Old Maid School Teacher Is Fast Disappearing

That the times are fast changing is proven by looking at the school teacher. The 1955-56 model teacher is definitely not an old maid.

The old maid teachers have either gone into retirement or worked their way out of lonely spinsterhood via the marriage license route.

Poser: Will this attract more young women into the teaching profession?

If anyone doubts these statements, a survey made of 120 out of the 124 classroom teachers in the Whitley county schools by the office of School Supt. Harry Yoder should be convincing.

Right here in Whitley county 83.2 per cent of the women teachers are married women. Of all teachers, both men and women, 86.6 per cent are married persons.

The oft-heard saying that pratically all the men have pulled out of the teaching profession to support themselves and their families by more gainful jobs in commerce and industry, doesn't exactly apply here. While the profession is preponderatly feminine, the males nevertheless hold a substantial footing. For 30.8 per cent of the classroom teachers in the county schools are men. This does not include the administrative group which includes superintendents, principals and special teachers who are overwhelmingly male.

Another fact brought out by the status inquiry of the county school teachers is the age bracket in which most of the teachers, male and female, fall. Most of them are found in the 41 to 50 year bracket, in fact 37.6 per cent of them. Almost 25 per cent of them are be-

Discover Body Of Little Ronnie WeitkampSunday

An Autopsy Scheduled Today

BULLETIN

CRANE, Ind. (UP)—An autopsy revealed today that 3-year-old Ronnie Weitkamp died of exposure within 36 hours after his mysterious disappearance last Oct. 11.

* * * *

CRANE, Ind. (UP)—An autopsy was scheduled today to determine whether 3-year-old Ronnie Weitkamp was the victim of a sex murderer 53 days ago.

The boy's body was discovered late Sunday lying across a small gully about 1½ mies away from his home in the village of Crane. It was the same area which had been covered in a shouder-to-shoulder search last October.

The condition of the body prevented immediate determination of the cause of death. However, the fact that the little boy's overalls were found six feet from his otherwise fully-clothed body indicated he might have been slain by a sex deviate.

Coroner Delmer Hasler said the lad might also have died of exposure. There was additional evidence that he had been attacked by wild animals, either before or after his death.

Hasler called pathologist Leon

Mendes-France Bands With Other Leftist Leaders

And Makes Attack On Premier Faure

By WILBUR LANDREY
United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS (UP)—Former Premier Pierre Mendes - France banded with other leftist political leaders today and attacked Premier Edgar Faure on grounds he had imposed an "unscrupulous censorship" on French radio and television networks to aid his reelection campaign.

Mendes - France teamed with the Socialists, the Republican Socialists and the Social Democrats (UDSR) in a solid leftist bloc to attack Faure in Mendes' newspaper L'Express. The lineup indicated the lines were being solidly drawn for the forthcoming campaign.

The Communists, whose 94 votes in the National Assembly give them the balance of power, openly invited the Socialists Sunday to join them in a formal alliance to ensure a leftist majority in Parliament. But the Socialists indicated they were joining Mendes-France instead.

The Executive Committee of the Socialist Party for the Pas de Calais department announced today they would form an alliance only with Mendes. It specifically rejected the Communist invitation, and it was believed the party as a whole would do likewise.

Though both Faure and Mendes-France are members of the Radical Socialist Party, Faure is leading the right-wing in the campaign and Mendes the left-wing. Indications today were that Faure could muster about 301 supporters and Mendes 225, but the battle was not even started officially.

The deadline on the formalities permitting forming of alliances was midnight tonight and horse-trading was expected right up to the deadine. There was a strong possibility France might end up with even more parties than before — and the big number of parties has been the basic cause of its political instability.

Today's protest against Faure's "censorship" was signed by Mendes, Socialist leader Guy Mollet, Social Democrat leader Francois Mitterand and Repubican Socialist leader Jacques Chalton Dalmas, and it was generally believed they would form the bloc that opposes Faure.

8-Year-Old Boy's Leg Broken; Auto Hits Ditch Bank

Eight-year-old James Mettler received a fractured right leg and cuts about the face about 5:15 p.m. Saturday while a passenger in the automobile driven by his stepfather, Robert Ditton, 37, of Columbia City.

The car, eastbound on the Whitley-Noble county line road which dead-ends at state road 109 at the Big Lake Church of God corner, crossed the state road and struck an embankment on the east side. Ditton was charged with disregarding the stop sign at the road intersection by State Policeman Norman Pierce, who investigated the accident.

Both the boy and Ditton were taken to the Luckey hospital in Wolf Lake by the Smith & Sons ambulance, called from Columbia City. Mr. Ditton was treated at the Wolf Lake hospital and dismissed but the Mettler boy was transferred in the same ambulance to St. Joseph's hospital in Fort Wayne for special treatment. Ditton's injuries consisted of lacerations to his chin.

The Mettler boy's injuries were reportedly caused when he was thrown forward from the front seat against the car's dashboard. His leg was broken at the knee.

Saturday's fog was blamed by Mr. Ditton for his failure to see the stop-sign where the county line dead-ends at state road 109. Mr. Ditton's car, a 1947 Chevrolet coach, was damaged to the extent of approximately 100.

Mr. Ditton resides at 605 East Jackson street.

Campaign To Spur The Lagging Salk Inoculation Plan

To Send Booklets To Physicians And Health Officers

By MICHAEL J. O'NEILL
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)— The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis shortly will launch a nationwide educational campaign among parents and doctors to spur the lagging Salk inoculation program.

Foundation officials said an estimated 40 per cent of the vaccine now being released is not being used immediately because of public apathy, fear, or other factors. Basil O'Connor, foudation president, said urgent measures are needed to deal with the situation.

Between Christmas and New Year's the foundation plans to start sending out several hundred thousand information booklets to physicians, health officers, and other authorities. The aim is to remove the doubts some doctors still have about the vaccine's safety and effectiveness.

Circulars To Parents

About 10 days later, the foundation will begin distributing 35 million circulars to parents of children in areas where vaccine is or will be available. Parents will be told the vaccine's safe and will be urged to get their children inoculated as quickly as possible.

Finally, the organization plans where necessary to call on its more than 3,100 chapters and two million year-around volunteers to help remove local bottlenecks in vaccine

Teachers To Vote On Social Security

All classroom teachers in the city and county schools will vote on Friday, Dec. 16, upon the issue of joining the social security program.

Special ballots have reached the county and city school superintendents to be delivered to each of the schools.

The school principal and one classroom teacher to be appointed, will supervise the distribution of the ballots. These will be marked in private by each teacher and placed in sealed envelopes. When all are returned, the ballots will be opened and the school's tally made upon special sheets. They will then be returned to the school superintendents and forwarded to the state office of public instruction.

Red Press Asks Negotiation By Bonn Leaders

On Use Of Barges Helping Supply West Berlin With Food

By JOSEPH FLEMING
United Press Staff Correspondent

BERLIN (UP)— The East German Communist press demanded today the Bonn government negotiate on the use of barges helping supply West Berlin with food. It pointedly reminded the West that the permits to operate the barges "lose their validity Dec. 31."

The constant reference to barge traffic in the Communist press has aroused fears in West Germany that the Communists may begin another blockade of the city which lies 110 miles inside the Soviet zone.

The Neues Deutschland, the official Communist Party organ in Berlin, said in an editorial today the West German government must negotiate with the East German traffic ministry before new permits can be issued.

It was plainly a renewed Communist bid to win recognition of the Eastern regime. Bonn has refused to negotiate with East Germany on grounds the "German Democratic Republic" is a puppet state and does not represent the will of the Germans.

Neues Deutschland said the Soviet zone had the right to control barge traffic to Berlin because the canals leading to the former German capital "run through the sovereign part of Germany, the German Democratic Republic."

West Berliners feared this might herald the beginning of a blockade since, by the same reasoning, the Communists could take a similar stand on the highways, railways and the airlines serving Berlin.

Soviet Russia was backing the East German stand that they now control the rivers leading to Berlin. A treaty signed in Moscow Sept. 20 transferred control of Berlin-bound German traffic to the Communists. Allied traffic remains under Soviet control.

American authorities reported no incidents Sunday when a group of 90 Americans led by "Mrs. America" visited East Berlin on a U.S. Army tour which underlined the American claims of right of free movement.

"Mrs. America," Mrs. Ramona Deitmeyer of Lincoln, Neb., was escorted by Lt. James T. McQueen of Mullins, S.C. McQueen was detained a week ago with two congressmen and the wife of one in an incident that touched off a dispute on the rights of the West in Berlin.

Jordan Appointed Assistant General Manager, Farm Co-op

Harold P. Jordan has been appointed assistant general manager of Indiana Farm Bureau Cooperative Association, according to Marvin J. Briggs, general manager. Under the supervision of the general manager, Jordan will be responsible for all operations of the corporation.

Since 1952, Jordan has had the title of assistant to the general manager, being in charge of procurement for the co-op.

Born in Marion county in 1911, Jordan graduated from Southport High School. For several years he operated a vegetable farm near Indianapolis. He is a former president of the Indianapolis Vegetable Growers Associaiton.

16 1936 he was hired by Marion County Farm Bureau Cooperative Association, the retail farmers' co-op of the county, as general manager. He held this position until January, 1949, when he joined the general field force of Indiana Farm Bureau Cooperative Association In October of the same year he was made assistant manager of the implement department, a position which he held until his promotion in 1952.

He is a director of National Cooperatives, Inc., Albert Lea, Minnesota, and also of the Cooperative Financial Association, Indianapolis. He is also a trustee of Mission House College and Mission House Seminary, Plymouth, Wisconsin.

Jordan and his wife make their home in Indianapolis.

Statement On Goa Produces Anti American Feeling

Joint Statement By Dulles And Cunha

NEW DELHI (UP)—U.S. Ambassador John Sherman Cooper was summoned to the Indian foreign office today amid a new wave of anti-American feeling produced by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' statement on Goa.

Indian Foreign Secretary Subimal Dutt called Cooper to the Indian external affairs ministry at 5 p.m. It was generally believed India would protest sharply over the Dulles' statement but embassy sources said Cooper still had not received the official text.

Observers here said Cooper was placed in a "most embarrassing position" by the statement which referred to the Portuguese possession of Goa as a "portuguese province"—directly contrary to the official Indian government viewpoint.

American officials said the United States had been gaining from the statements made by the visiting Soviet Leaders which embarrassed the Indian government. Now they said only a statement by President Eisenhower could retrieve the situation.

The sources said Cooper had worked tirelessly during the last year to better U.S.-Indian relations but that the joint statement had lined the United States up squarely with the unpopular "colonial powers.'

There had been a vast flood of emotion in India over Portugal and its refusal to give up the 400-year-old settlement of Goa. Some officials here said the United States had lost out not only in India but in all of Asia.

Indian newspapers accused Dulles of committing a major diplomatic blunder in issuing the joint statement.

The statement was issued after Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist Party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev made biting statements about Portugal's hold on Goa. Cunha was visiting in Washington at the time.

Can Help Build Better Citizens In United States

And Liberate Hundreds Of Millions Abroad

By JACK WOLISTON
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP) — President Eisenhower told the newly merged AFL-CIO today it has a "great opportunity" to bolster the democratic process.

But he warned the unified labor group it must protect "scrupulously" the rights of its minorities holding differing political, economic and other views.

Mr. Eisenhower addressed the merger convention by telephone from his tiny temporary White House office in Gettysburg Pa.

Praising labor's contribution to the general welfare and to the fight for a free world, he told the new 1-million-man union group it can help build better citizenship at home and "help liberate hundreds of millions from misery and slavery" abroad.

Commissioners To Consider Bids At Tuesday's Session

The county commissioners, who opened their December session Monday morning, on Tuesday will consider bids for various types of supplies and equipment for county offices and institutions.

Today was spent by the three commissioners in allowing bills presented against the county since the last session of commissioner's court in early November.

Tuesday they will consider bids for supplying the county farm with 25,000 gallons of No. 2 fuel oil during 1956. They will also receive bids for supplying the canned goods, clothing, groceries, dairy products, etc., to the county farm for the first quarter of 1956.

Bids will be opened Tuesday by the commissioners from stationery houses bidding on county office supplies, such as blank books, records, and stationery.

Another item of business to be considered by the commissioners Tuesday are bids expected from tank manufacturers for supplying the county highway department with a 10,000 gallon asphalt mixing tank. This tank is to be equipped with steam coils along the inside

To Buy School Buses

Two townships have advertised for bids upon school buses.

Monday night Washington township is to receive bids upon a bus with a two-ton chasis with a body equipped to seat 54 passengers. A 1940 Chevrolet bus is to be considered in the bidding.

On December 13 the Etna-Troy school district will receive bids upon a similar bus.

Why Would Chief Justice Of United States Quit 'Most Desirable' Job In Whole World?

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—To put it perhaps too bluntly, why would a man quit a job with an assured annual income of $46,545.84 and the privilege of retiring on full pay in a few years?

And if this fortunate person's present job was rated by many of his colleagues as the most desirable in the whole world, wouldn't that be another reason why he might want to keep it?

And if this individual already had announced publicly that he would not change jobs for anything on earth, would not the whole circumstances of the case suggest that he would keep it, come what may?

The man, of course, is the chief justice of the United States, Earl Warren. These ponderings are prompted by the current report in a well-edited national magazine that Mr. Warren can be had. Newsweek put it like this:

"Chief Justice Earl Warren will run if pressed — that's the definite impression brought away from Warren's chambers by recent visitors — including at least one who is anti-Warren and had predicted he would not run."

Might Issue Statement

Maybe so! But the last United Press operative who talked to Mr. Warren — quite recently, too—got it the other way around. The chief justice said with considerable vigor that he would not return to politics as Republican presidential nominee or anything else. He added that he thought he might have to issue another public statement saying just that if the Warren boom failed to subside.

Aviation Pioneer Glenn Martin Dies Sunday Night

BALTIMORE, Md. (UP) — Aviation pioneer Glenn L. Martin, one of the nation's largest airplane builders, died Sunday night of a cerebral hammorhage. He was 69.

Martin was stricken at his farm home near Rock Hall, Md., where he had been recuperating from a heavy cold and virus infection, according to his physician, Dr. W. Kennedy Waller.

He died in University Hospital here where he was admitted for treatment.

Martin, former head of the huge Glenn L. Martin, Co., which he founded just outside Baltimore, had largely relinquished active management of the firm.

But before his illness he had been working on a secret armament development in conjunction with the government.

As early as 1907, Martin was building gliders. He designed and built the old "pusher-type" plane in 1908 and taught himself to fly. A year later he opened one of the first airplane factories in this country.

After Martin launched his first airplane factory, he expanded steadily as aviation grew. He became one of the leading plane manufacturers for the old Army Air Force and later the U. S. Air Force.

12 Per Cent Local Christmas Trees Grown In Indiana

LAFAYETTE: Purdue University forestry and conservation specialist have come up with some interesting data on the Christmas tree market throughout Indiana. These findings can be of value to Hoosier farmers who grow the traditional holiday tree.

Roy Brundage, research forester at Purdue, reports that about 88 per cent of the Christmas trees are shipped in with the remaining 12 per cent grown locally. This 12 per cent amounted to 90,000 trees last year.

Most of the local trees are pines, with scotch, red, white, and jack predominating. Firs, the traditional Christmas trees, come into Indiana from long distances, and, thus, must be cut early. Consequently they have more needle drop than the pines. Pines have strong limbs and are well able to support lights and ornament without drooping.

Brundage says the reason more trees are not purchased locally is that wholesalers can buy in carload lots from Canada, Michigan, and the northwest. Most of the local stock is in small blocks. However, there are several larger growers in northern Indiana, and some other parts of the state who are large enough to harvest several thousand trees annually. These growers sell scotch pine to the Chicago market.

According to Brundage, Hoosier farmers can improve the quality of homegrown Christmas trees by planting a variety of pines that will have good color. Trees should be selected for the market.

Sadistic Teen-Age Gunmen To Take Lie Detector Tests

CHICAGO (UP)—Two "sadistic" teen-age gunmen were to take lie detector tests today to determine whether they know anything of the vicious killing of three young Chicago boys.

The youths, both aged 17, were arrested Sunday night and accused of a string of brutal filling station holdups. Police said there might also be possible links between the young bandits and the murders last Oct. 16 of Robert Peterson, 13, John Schussler, 13, and his 11-year-old brother, Anton.

Detective Charles Fitzgerald who made the arrests, attached the most significance to a roll of one-inch tape found in the possession of one of the youth's girl friend.

The tape is similar to tape which was used to bind the mouths of the murdered boys, Fitzgerald said. The young bandits used the tape to gag at least one of their victims in the same fashion, police charged.

Officers also pointed out that the two teen-agers "hung out" at the Monte Cristo bowling alley, which the three murdered boys visited a few hours before they were killed. One of the young gunmen was even picked up for questioning in the case, police said.

Fitzgerald said the young bandits appeared to get a sadistic thrill out of threatening their victims with death. They had even accosted persons on the street, jamming guns into their belly and threatening to shoot, Fitzgerald said.

Indiana Chalks Up Normal Weekend Traffic Death Toll

By UNITED PRESS

Indiana chalked up a "normal" weekend traffic death toll of 12 today, and half the victims were from Gary.

The state's second largest city contributed more than its share to the rapidly growing list of 1955 fatalities, now up near the 1,050 mark. All except one of the weekend fatal accidents occurred north of U.S. 40, the dividing line between northern and southern Indiana.

But not all the accidents which killed six Gary persons occurred in that city.

Jean Robinson, 18, and Ethel Spencer, 16, were killed in a car-truck crash in Hammond Friday night. Michael Vargo, 38, died in a 4-car crash in U.S. 30 in LaPorte County in a dense fog.

Other Gary victims were Lonnie Wilson, 21, killed in the Steel City in a collison while police were chasing him for speeding; Wendy Marshall, 5, who was struck by a car, and Irvin S. Myers, 35, whose car sideswiped four parked vehicles and hit a tree.

Jane Turfler, 9, South Bend, was killed in a South Bend accident and a few hours later Robert Eaton, 23, a South Bend policeman, was killed when his car crashed into a parked automobile as he drove while off duty.

Other victims were:

Mrs. Betty Keller, 30, Fort Wayne, killed in a two-car collision in Fort Wayne.

Mrs., Margaret Mastin, 19, New Castle, killed in a car-truck collision in New Castle.

Frederick R. Stillabower, 25, Columbus, killed when hit by a car while walking along U.S. 31 near Columbus.

Virgil Tague, 40, Michigan City, killed when struck by a car at a street intersection in Michigan City.

Silver-Tongued Irishman Sets World's Record

DARTFORD, England (UP)—A silver-tongued Irishman claims to have set a new world's record by talking 133 hours without a stop.

Kevin Sheehan, a former Irish Guards trooper, talked to crowds in a local dance hall on subjects ranging from sex to cricket.

Attended by a doctor, nurse and voice coach, Sheehan talked two hours longer than the previous record of 131 hours claimed by a Russian.

Farmers Protect The Wildlife

Let us all take our hats off to the farmers of the community in which we live. It is the farmers who grow the annual crop of wildlife that enables sportsmen to enjoy hunting in the fields and along the streams. You farmers may not realize this, but the sportsmen appreciate this from the bottom of their hearts.

Of course, there is a small minority of rogue hunters who cause poor farmer-sportsmen relations, but these hunters cannot be called sportsmen.

Fortunately, many of you farmers are hunters. You often find time to hunt with friends or relatives from town. What a marvelous way to entertain your friends, when you can flush a bevy of quail, a cock pheasant or even bag a couple of cotton tails.

Many of you have odd areas on your land that are not suitable for cultivaton or pasture. It may be a swamp or a rocky steep bank. Here you have a potential wild life area. You may want to build a pond or plant some cover for wildlife habitat.

The Indiana Department of Conservation, through its Fish and Game Division, will be glad to help you by furnishing technical advice and under certain conditions will furnish plants and engineer the planting. Even if you do not have space to qualify for a habitat planting, you can secure multi-flora rose for permanent fence boundaries or a border around your farm pond. Besides providing living space for wildlife, these areas also beautify and increase the value of your farm.

Cab Driver's Term Suspended

Pleading guilty Friday in circuit court to a petit larceny charge, Robert F. Berry 30, was fined $1 and costs and given a one-year suspended term on the Indiana State farm.

The term was suspended during his good behavior and with the stipulation that he refrain from driving any motor vehicle except for gainful employment, and that he make restitution for the goods taken within five days. He was given 10 days in which to pay his fine.

Berry's arrest followed the report of a local woman that a dress and two hats which she left in his taxi-cab were missing.

Will Make Survey On Hunting-Fishing

Conservationists all over Indiana are looking forward, with a great deal of anticipation, to the results of a survey that will be started January 7, 1956 by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Services on hunting and fishing and its importance to the country's economy.

Throughout the country, the noted survey organization of Crossley, S-D Surveys, Inc., will conduct personal interviews of hunters and fishermen, and the statistics gathered in this survey will provide for the first time an accurate nation wide measure of hunting and fishing, in terms of number of persons taking part and amount of time and money spent.

Survey will report on hunting and fishing during the calendar year 1955. The primary objectives are to determine (1) the number of persons, by age, sex, and licensing, who hunted and—or fished for sport, (2) the amount of time spent on these sports by each (including all expenditures for items connected directly with hunting or fishing). The personal interviews of sportsmen will give a cross section of the country's hunting and fishing habits.

Harley G. Hook, Director of the Indiana Department of Conservation, has instructed the specialists in the ish and Game Division of his organization to lend every bit of assistance possible in this great survey.

Public Hunting Grounds Becoming Popular For Hunters

That public hunting grounds in Indiana are becoming extremely popular, was shown by a record of the first three days hunting at the Willow Slough Game Farm near Morocco and the Tri-County State Game Preserve, near North Webster.

At Willow Slough, 1,087 hunters visited the public hunting area during these three days; and they bagged 369 pheasants, 124 rabbits and 56 quail.

At the Tri-County hunting ground there were 537 hunters; they bagged 181 pheasants, 108 rabbits and 42 quail.

On Saturday, November 12, the game preserves entertained a total of 823 hunters. During the first three days, 879 cock pheasants were released in the two public hunting areas.

Harley G. Hook, Director of the Indiana Department of Conservation, hopes the department can allocate more of these public hunting areas near a number of Indiana's heavy populated centers Aside from the public hunting areas, hunters are welcomed in certain sections of the state and national forests.

Fort Wayne Man Believed Victim Of Carbon Monoxide

BLUFFTON, Ind. (UP) — John O. Bunsold, 22, Fort Wayne, whose body was found in a car parked in a girl friend's garage, was believed today an accidental victim of carbon monoxide.

Bonnie L. Reidenbach, Bluffton, said Bunsold intended to drive her car back to Fort Wayne after their Saturday night date. A coroner said Bunsold apparently decided not to make the trip and went to sleep in the car with motor running inside the garage.

Grace Lutheran Church In This City Scene Of Stampe-Jones Rites Saturday Evening

Mrs. Roger Stampe

White mums and Better Times roses with palms and candelabra at the altar of Grace Lutheran church formed a background for the wedding rites of Miss Avonelle Jones and Roger Stampe, both of near Churubusco, solemnized at 7 o'clock Saturday evening, Rev. G. L. Kleespie officiating.

Miss Phillis Diffandefer of Washington D.C. served as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Stampe, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Robert Walker and Miss Elaine Gross of Columbia City. Jimmie Simon carried the two rings on a satin heart-shaped pillow and the two little flower girls, Kathy Krider and Kenna Lou Geiger in gold velveteen dresses, carried baskets of yellow and bronze mums intermingled with gold net. Tufts of net and yellow mums marked pews for the family.

Dean Zolman attended Mr. Stampe. Donald Woll, Harold Kyler, Richard Stampe, a brother of the bridegroom, and Robert and Roger Jones, the bride's brothers, served as ushers.

Rev. Jesse Martin served as soloist in the musicale program that preceded the ceremony. Kenneth Growcock, the church organist, accompanied Rev. Martin.

In Gown of Nylon Tulle

The bride chose a gown of nylon tulle over white satin styled with Queen Anne collar. The yoke was trimmed with seed pearls and Italian lace. The sleeves were long and the chapel train was edged with Italian lace. Her pill box headpeace held in place her fingertip veil trimmed with seed pearls and rhinestones. A white orchid surrounded with feathered carnations was atop the white Bible she carried.

Mr. Jones gave his daughter in marriage.

The maid of honor and three bridesmaids were in identically styled gowns of blue and American Beauty red waltz length gowns fashioned of velveteen. The molded bodice was styled with a scoop neckline. They wore matching headpieces and matching satin shoes. The attendants carried yellow Garza mums tied with Coleman blue net.

The bride's mother was in purple rayon acrilion with which she wore black velvet accessories and Mrs. Stampe wore tan and white accessories with her dress of coco brown.

Reception at Church

The 200 guests were received in the church social room after the ceremony. The Mesdames Mardell Rhoads, Nancy Kuhn, Kay Kyler, Mary Jones, Nancy Jones and Ferol Coy and Miss Judy Woll, Miss Sharon Boggs and Miss Catherine Coutoure were assistants at the reception.

O'Connor said he would like to see 28 million youngsters injected between now and next June when the 1956 polio season will be in full swing.

"This is a tremendous job," he said in a telephone interview with United Press. "Even with an all-out educational program, I'm afraid we may not achieve our goal if injections are left largely to the individual initiative of parents as at present.

Mass Inoculation Program

"The foundation is not in the distribution system and will not interfere with the present voluntary system. But I have been urging every authority I can find to press for a mass inoculation program—through the schools, for example. It's only in this way that you can give the number of shots we should give before next June."

Millions of children still haven't receved any Salk vaccne. One reason is lagging production. But another big factor has been a sharp slump in demand because of:
1. The shift to the voluntary distribution system; 2. Some continuing professional doubt about the vaccine's safety, and 3. The fact that the 1955 polio season has ended.

Tech

Bowl Jan. 2 since it has a contract to do so.

2. Neither Georgia nor Georgia Tech nor any other unit of the university system may compete with an athletic team in the state on which the races are mixed.

3. When Georgia schools are playing outside the state they will observe the customs and rules of that state.

The belated request by Griffin, a 48-year old champion of segregation, exploded into angry protests by Tech students who burned the governor in effigy at least six times, flooded into the state capitol early Saturday and then demonstrated in front of the governor's mansion.

Flood Of Protests

Griffin's stand touched off a flood of protests from throughout the South and students at Mercer University in Macon, Ga., a Baptist supported school, also burned Griffin in effigy.

"There is no more difference in compromising integrity of race on the playing field than in doing so in the classrooms," Griffin wired Chairman Robert O. Arnold of the Board of Regents last Friday. "One break in the dike and the relentless seas will rush in and destroy us."

Should the regents agree on a compromise which would bar Georgia Tech and Georgia from playing against Negroes in the future the two schools could lose their attraction as national football powers.

In the last 15 years Tech and Georgia, which have played non-segregated opponents, appeared in 14 major bowl contests. Both schools presently are working on contracts with Northern schools which play Negroes.

Two Members Protest

Two of the 15 members have spoken against the governor's proposal. David Rice of Atlanta, an alumnus of Tech, branded Griffin's proposal as "ridiculous and asinine." And the lone woman on the board, Mrs. W. T. Healey of Atlanta, says she will vote against the governor's request which she termed a "big mistake."

One of Griffin's top legislative leaders, State Rep. John P. Drinkard, said he favors cutting off all state funds to Georgia Tech if its football team goes ahead with the Sugar Bowl game.

Cleveland Browns Clinch Eastern Division Title By Whipping Pittsburgh Steelers 30-7

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press Sports Writer

The fabulous Cleveland Browns, one of the most successful teams in the history of professional sports, will defend their National Football League championship Dec. 26 aganst the Los Angeles Rams or Chicago Bears.

Cleveland, getting a vital assist from the New York Giants, won the league's Eastern Division title for a record sixth straight time Sunday by whipping the Pittsburgh Steelers, 30-7. New York erased Cleveland's only remaining challenger when it defeated the Washington Redskins, 27-20.

While the Brownies qualifed for a league championship for the 10th time in as many tries, the tight Western Division race narrowed down to the Rams and Bears. Los Angeles held its half-game lead by downing the Baltimore Colts, 20-14. The Bears remained close behind by rallying to edge the Detroit Lions, 21-20.

Los Angeles knocked Baltimore out of contention and the Green Bay Packers also bowed out although they whipped the San Francisco Forty-Niners, 28-7.

Eagles Down Cardinals

The Philadelphia Eagles, who will help decide the Western champion by visiting the Bears as the regular season ends next Sunday, downed the Chicago Cardinals in Sunday's other game, 27-3.

Los Angeles winds up its regular campaign by entertaining the Packers. The Bears-Eagles game will be over before the West Coast game begins so Coach Sid Gillman's Rams will know what they have to do when they take the field. Cleveland will end its regular campaign in a home game with the Cardinals.

Quarterback Otto Graham and tackle Lou Groza led the Brownie offense at Pittsburgh. Graham, who will be 34 Tuesday, threw touchdown passes to Ray Renfro and Pete Brewster and scored himself on a four-yard lunge. Groza, who will be 32 in January, kicked field goals of 17-21 and 42 yards and three extra points.

Rich Intercepts Pass

But Cleveland did not clinch the title until halfback Herb Rich of the Giants intercepted an Edde LeBaron pass in the New York end zone with seconds remaining at Washington. New York, which lost a 14-0 lead when Joe Scudero led a 20-point second-quarter Washington rally with a 94-yard scoring dash with a kickoff, won on Charlie Conerly's 26-yard TD pass to Kyle Rote in the final period.

Fullback Tank Younger, who scored on a one-yard plunge and got the decisive TD on an 11-yard bolt through the Colts in the final minutes at Los Angeles, was the Ram hero. Rookies George Shaw and Alan Ameche scored for Baltimore.

The Bears won by taking advantage of two Detroit fumbles at Chicago. George Connor grabbed a Bobby Layne fumble and ran 48 yards for the first Bear touchdown. Ed Brown passed 20 yards to Harlon Hill for the winning touchdown after Bill George recovered Doak Walker's bobble in the last eriod.

Buffalo Bisons Defeat Springfield Indians

By UNITED PRESS

The Buffalo Bisons posted two victories during the weekend to pick up important ground in the American Hockey League race.

The Bisons knocked over the Cleveland Barons, 6-4, Saturday night and then edged the Springfield Indians, 4-3, Sunday night on a third-period goal by big Ed Slowinski.

The twin victories moved the Bisons into a second-place tie with Pittsburgh and left them only two points back of pace-setting Providence.

The Reds dropped two weekend contests. They lost a 4-3 overtime decision to Pittsburgh Saturday night and then succumbed to Hershey by the same score Sunday night at Providence.

Hershey fell behind, 3-2, in the second period but gained the victory on third-period goals by Ed Panagabko and Gordie Wilson. Dunc Fisher accounted for the Bears' other goals.

New York Rangers Win Over Detroit

By UNITED PRESS

The New York Rangers are running well ahead of their timetable, which Coach Phil Watson devised this season to spur them into the National Hockey League playoffs.

When the Rangers missed the playoffs last season for the fifth straight year, they scored only 150 goals and allowed 210. "Reverse those figures this season and you'l make the playoffs," Watson told his payers before the start of the current campaign.

Including Sunday night's 7-3 victory over Detroit, the Rangers now have scored 77 goals and allowed 54 in 24 games, but Watson warns, "The worst is yet to come." Before the Rangers launch the second half of the season with a long road trip, he wants them to score 25 goals in the next 11 games—an easy mark considering their current pace.

A five-goal burst in the third period carried New York to its latest victory over the Red Wings. The second-place Rangers still trail Montreal by six points but have opened a nine-point lead over Chicago and Detroit, who are tied for third.

The Canadiens went on another scoring binge Sunday night at Chicago as they whipped the Black Hawks, 5-1, while the Bruins blanked the Maple Leafs, 5-0, at Boston for their first victory in 11 games.

Pellegrini Named U.P. Lineman Of Year

By NORMAN MILLER
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP)— Bob Pellegrini, 225-pound All-America center who made what undoubtedly was Maryland's most important tackle of the season, today was named United Press Lineman of the Year for 1955.

Pellegrini, 2 21-year-old senior from Yatesboro, Pa., was voted the honor in a nationwide poll of 307 sports writers and radio broadcasters. The six-foot-three Maryland star received 75 votes compared to 47 for his closest rival, All-American guard Bo Bolinger of Oklahoma.

Fort Wayne Pistons Beat Boston 111-90

By UNITED PRESS

The Philadelphia Warriors' attempt to run away with the National Basketball Assn. was halted temporarily today by a combination of the Rochester Royals and bad weather.

The Royals took care of the point scoring on their home court Sunday night to beat the Warriors, 107-84, and break Philadelphia's budding winning streak at two games. The weather set up the victory by grounding the Warriors' plane that had been scheduled to take them from Newark, N.J., to Rochester.

The Warriors had to travel the 200-mile distance in an all-day cab ride and arrived in a weary condition. They held the Royals to a 25-24 first-quarter lead but then Rochester romped. Jack Twyman had 25 points for Rochester and Neil Johnston had 21 for Philadelphia.

In other Sunday games, the Fort Wayne Pistons beat Boston, 111-90, as the Syracuse Nats rallied to beat Minneapolis, 102-96.

The Pistons held a 45-44 halftime lead over Boston but blew the game open by outscoring the Celts, 34-16, in the third period. Seven Pistons scored in double figures, topped by Larry Foust's 18 points, while Ed Macauley of the Celtics took game honors with 19.

Syracuse won with a string of seven straight points with three minutes left in the game on a three-pointer by Adolph Schayes, two free throws by John Kerr, and a set shot by Schayes. George King led the Nats with 25 points, but Clyde Lovellette had 26 for the Lakers.

Moore Injures Ankle

NEW YORK (UP) — Archie Moore will defend his light heavyweight title against Yolande Pompey at London "sometime in March," Manager Charley Johnston said today. The fight, originally slated for Jan. 10, was postponed Saturday when Moore injured his left ankle.

Midweek Basketball For Local Teams

The Columbia City Eagles will meet the South Whitley Bulldogs in a double header at Marshall Memorial Hall Tuesday evening.

Columbia City has won from Kendallville and lost to Nappanee and to the Pierceton Cubs by a score of 48-37.

The South Whitley Bulldogs defeated Pierceton by a score of 65-60 and have won from Huntington township, Huntertown, Larwill, and have lost only to North Manchester by a score of 1 point in a thrilling overtime game.

The Wolf Lake Wolves will play Harlan at Leo Tuesday night.

At Churubusco, the Eagles will play Ligonier Wednesday night.

U. S. Olympic Ski Team Now In Italy

CERVINIA, Italy (UP)—Fifteen members of the United States Olympic ski team set up training headquarters here today for the winter games at Cortina d'Ampezbers, including Coach Nelson A. Bennett of Sun Valley, Idaho arrived during the weekend.

Walker-Josephs Bout Postponed

HOLYOKE, Mass. (UP)— A 10-round bout between middleweights Sammy Walker of Springfield and Charlie Josephs of New Orleans, originally schedued for the Valley Arena Tuesday night, has been postponed unti Dec. 20. Walker injured a hand in training, forcing promoter Sam Silverman to cancel Tuesday's entire program.

Drake-Muller 10-Rounder Tonight

NEW YORK (UP)—Ray Drake, a clever but light-hitting New York middleweight, is favored at 7½ to 5 to beat Peter Muller, Germany's eccentric mauler, tonight in their TV 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

Handsome Ray, 25, has knocked out only four of his 26 opponents; but he registered 21 victories because of his long-range skill and his unusual physical strength at close quarters. He was stopped but once, by Gil Turner in November, 1954.

Muller, already an American TV favorite because of his setback attack and goofy ring antics, returned recently from a four-fight campaign in Germany.

Stormy Peter made his U.S. debut in Brooklyn on Nov. 15, 1954, when he went in as a substitute and lost a decision to Gene Fullmer. After that he outpointed Ralph "Tiger" Jones and Joe Micei and knocked out Ernie Durando.

But early this year, he was outpointed by Carmen Basilio, now welterweight champion, and stopped in the eighth round by Joey Giardello. Back in Germany, he drew with Hans Stretz and knocked out Abe Quartey.

Then came his turbulent fight with New Yorker Artie Towne at Berlin on Sept. 9. Towne flattened him in the ninth round, but it appeared Muller was hit on the break. The ultimate verdict was a "no-decision."

Muller's record includes 43 victories, 10 defeats, nine draws, and one no-decision. He knocked out 21 but was stopped six times.

Economy Forecast May Be Reached Before Target Year

CHICAGO (UP) — Undersecretary of Commerce Walter Williams said today President Eisenhower's forecast of a 500-billion-dollar-a-year economy may be reached before the target year of 1952.

Williams based his forecast on the 9 per cent increase this year in the total value of goods and services produced. A record was set in the third quarter when the gross national product reached an annual rate of 391½ billion dollars.

Twin Daughters Die Three Hours Apart

PLAINFIELD, Ind. (UP)—Infectious diarrhea was blamed today for the deaths three hours apart Friday night of the 7-month-old twin daughters of the Robert Bells.

Marilyn and Carolyn Bell died in the famiy's trailer camp home. A 17-month-old son of the couple was not ill.

Chief Justice

The chief justice deflated a boom some months ago when polls showed him far and away the Republican and independent voters' favorite if President Eisenhower did not run. Mr. Eisenhower's illness inflated the boom all over again, and Mr. Warren has been trying to puncture it by authorizing friends to utter his denials.

There is much more, of course, than money involved in any decision Mr. Warren might make. Money might not influence him at all, in fact. But it is true that the young man who began his political career back there in 1919 as clerk to a California legislative committee is coming only now to know what it means to be secure and financially independent.

Mr. Warren drew $25,000 a year and fringe benefits during his 10 years as governor of California just prior to joining the court. But he had three daughters and any father of daughters can figure that out.

Limousine And Chaufer

He draws $35,000 a year as chief justice plus California pension which totals up to $11,545.84 a year. The United States tosses in a limousine and chauffeur, and there's $5,000 for life for Mrs. Warren if the chief justice dies in office. After 10 years on the bench — that would be in 1963—Mr. Warren could retire at full pay.

All of that is a lot to give up for a return to politics, especially when many a lawyer can and does truthfully say that most members of the legal profession would rather be chief justice than president. Moreover, there is the question whether it is ethical for a political party to borrow a candidate from the high court. Charles Evans Hughes left the court for the 1916 Republican presidential nomination and later was returned to the high bench with promotion to chief justice by President Hoover.

So there would be precedent for Mr. Warren, but not necessarily good precedent.

All of these factors shrink in importance, however, beside the point which Mr. Warren makes to clinch his statement that he will not be a substitute for Mr. Eisenhower. It is that he knows the dispute about segregatio - desegregation would instantly become a terrifically personal issue if he were to return to politics.

It does seem as of now that Mr. Warren means it when he says he will not run. But, of course, men have changed their minds. Mr. Warren is 64 years old.

Weitkamp

Bloom from Terre Haute, Ind., to conduct the autopsy at nearby Bloomfield, Ind. FBI agents and military and local police also joined the investigation.

Ronnie, a fun-loving, tow-headed lad, disappeared from his home last Oct. 11. The full resources of the Crane Naval Depot, where Ronnie's father is a civilian employe, were thrown into the hunt for the boy.

Weeks of intensive, widespread searching over a 10-square mile area failed to turn up a single clue. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Weitkamp, finally based all their hopes on the chance that Ronnie had been kidnaped and was still alive somewhere.

Only last week, on what would have been Ronnie's fourth birthday, they held a little party for the missing boy. There was even a cake with four candles.

Hasler said the parents "took it pretty hard" when they heard their boy's body had been discovered.

"They had never really given up hope," Hasler said, and added "they haven't seen the body and they won't."

The final discovery was made by three teen-age boys, who ran across the body about 50 yards from the grounds of the Crane depot. The boys were frightened and ran away, but state and naval authorities later identified the body.

Witness Tried To Wave Down Car, Point Out Train

GREENVILLE, S.C. (UP) — A woman witness to a train-automobile collision which claimed six lives said today she tried to wave down the death car before the speeding passenger train struck it broadside at an intersection.

The only survivor in the death car which was struck late Sunday during a fog by Southern Railway's speeding Crescent Limited was a 10-months-old boy, Benny Brooks.

The Greenville County sheriff's office said the baby was thrown clear of the wreckage and escaped with only minor inuries.

The train, speeding an estimated 75 miles an hour through the suburban village of Paris, about 4½ miles north of here, dragged the crushed vehicle for a half mile.

Among the dead were the boy's parents, James Brooks, 37, his wife, Louise, 26, who was listed was driver of the car and Mrs. Brooks' mother Mrs. Louise Bagwell. The other victims were Holland B. Sutton, 29, his wife,, Rosa Lee Sutton, 23, and their daughter, Wanda Diane Sutton 3. All of the victims were from Greenville.

Otto Mitchell, a county police clerk, said the occupants of the car were "joyriding" and had visited a parts machine plant at Paris, where Sutton worked. Brooks was a civilian employe at nearby Donaldson Air Force Base.

Charles S. Bell, 32, Greenille, said he and his family had driven to Paris so that his 2½-year-old son, who is "crazy about trains," could see the Crescent speed past.

Bell had stopped on one side of the tracks. As the death car approached tracks from the opposite direction, Mrs. Bell waved frantically for the car to stop and tried to point out the approaching train, but the driver apparently saw neither her signals nor the train.

Paycheck Forgery Lands Section Hand In Jail

Arrested in Starke county and held Monday in the jail at Knox is Hubert Howard, Nickel Plate railroad section hand, who is charged with making a counterfeit endorsement on one of the railroad's paychecks allegedly taken from a paymaster's office in Fort Wayne.

A warrant to return Howard to Whitley county to face the charges of counterfeiting the endorsement, thereby defrauding a local resident, Norman Groves, was issuued in circuit court early Monday.

State Policeman Blain B. Schang and a railroad detective chief have gone to Knox to return the prisoner here.

Howard is charged with counterfeiting the endorsement of a Nickel Plate worker, Russel Cannon, upon a $110.99 paycheck.

Brought To Jail Here

A second man who got into trouble here by allegedly forging a check for $85 upon one Rev. H. Willis' account in a Fort Wayne bank and passing it in a local store, has been lodged in the Whitley county jail following his arrest in Allen county. This is Bill J. Netherly alias Bill J. Perry.

Statewide Alert For Woman Parolee And Missing Infant

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—A statewide alert was issued today for a woman parolee missing with an Indianapolis infant.

Police said the woman, Miss Ruth Marie Hillin, disappeared with 13-month-old Georgia Carol Waltz, daughter of Mrs. Evelyn McLaughlin, 35, last Thursday saying she was taking the infant downtown, to "see Santa Claus."

Mrs. McLaughlin said Mrs. Mary Adair, 25, who lives with her, had befriended Miss Hillin and brought her to their apartment last Tuesday. Miss Hillin, 22, had been sentenced to the Indiana Women's Prison for forgery and was free on parole.

"Miss Hillin showed pronounced attraction to the child immediately and apparently has a strong mother complex," police Sgt. Fred Whisler said. The woman's own 3-year-old daughter had been taken from her by authorities in Michigan on charges she abandoned the child.

Mrs. McLaughlin said Miss Hillin earlier asked permission to take the infant to Columbus, Ind., for a visit with her parents. The mother said that when Miss Hillin failed to return with the child Thursday, she assumed she had gone to Columbus.

Mrs. McLaughlin told police she did not become alarmed until Saturday and she notified authorities of the disappearance Sunday. Miss Hilin's parents in Columbus told police they hadn't seen their daughter "for several months."

Guardsmen To Be Withdrawn Tuesday From New Castle

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (UP)—Thirty National Guard troopers, here for a second time to put down violence in the now settled Perfect Circle Corp. strike, will be withdrawn Tuesday.

Gen. Harold A. Doherty, Indiana adjutant general, said today in Indianapolis that the troops would be pulled out because there seems to be little likelihood of any further eruptions of violence.

"Im going to pull everybody out of there by tomorrow night," Doherty said. "Our commanding officer went through the plant and everybody seems to be happy," he said.

Doherty said Governor Craig left the decision on withdrawing the troops up to him and Mayor Paul McCormack of New Castle. He said the "governor told us to use our own judgment."

The guardsmen, based at Greensburg, will begin returning home at noon Tuesday and will be out and home by midnight.

Doherty's estimate of the situation here was affirmed by C.B. Juday, manager of the Perfect Circle foundry which was the scene of a two-hour gun riot Oct. 5 in which nine persons were wounded or injured.

Juday said an "almost normal" work force of 229 employes showed up for work today and "the men returned to work with a normal attitude."

"There have been no further incidents," Juday said, "and all but four of the strikers have applied to regain their old jobs.'

About 1,000 troopers were ordered into this troubled community and martial law was imposed on the strike zone hours after the gun battle. The troopers were withdrawn about three weeks ago, but were returned a week later whn violnce again broke out.

Truman Suffers Slight Illness

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP)—Former President Harry S. Truman is suffering a "slight" illness and will remain at his home in nearby Independence for several days, Dr. Wallace Graham said today.

Graham said the former President became ill Friday, but is "coming along fine." He is suffering from an intestinal malady, the physician said, adding that it is in no way connected with the critical illness which Mr. Truman suffered a year ago last summer.

Woman Has An Exciting Birthday

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Sunday was the most exciting birthday anniversary Mrs. Anthony Kremple ever celebrated.

She started to a hospital to have a baby.

En route, her husband ran a stop light and smashed into four cars, slightly injuring six persons. Then, the baby was born in the wreckage.

A doctor who happened by saved the day by crawling into the car to deliver the child.

Supreme Court May Hand Down Decision On Labor Law Today

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Supreme Court is scheduled to hand down a significant decision on labor law today. It involves controversial "right to work' laws on the books in 17 states.

The high court is slated to act on a Nebraska Supreme Court decision that the Federal Railway Labor Act's union shop provision is unconstitutional and violates Nebraska's "right to work" law.

Sixteen railroad unions appealed the ruling, contending the states have no right to interfere with Congress power over interstate commerce.

A 1951 amendment to the Railway Act permits railroad unions to reach union shop agreements with their employers. Under a union shop, all employes are required to join the union 60 days after they are employed.

However, 17 states, including Nebraska, have "right to work" laws which forbid compulsory union membership.

The Nebraska Supreme Court held that workers have a constitutional right to choose for themselves whether they wish to join a union.

Organized labor contends the "right to work" statutes could wipe out unions.

The Taft - Hartley Labor Act allows union shops although it outlaws the "closed shop" which requires an employer to hire only union members.

Renew Efforts To End Strike At Detroit Papers

DETROIT (UP)— Representatives of Detroit's three daily newspapers and striking stereotypers planned to meet the labor mediators today in renewed efforts to end the five-day strike which has left the city without a major newspaper.

Negotiators for the Detroit Free Press, the Detroit News and the Detroit Times, represented jointly by the Detroit Newspaper Publishers' Assn., and the AFL Detroit Stereotypers Union were scheduled to meet with federal and state mediators in the third session called since the strike of some 120 stereotypers began at 4:30 a.m. Thursday.

Negotiators met both Friday and Saturday nights for the first times since the strike was called. But a union official said "we were no farther after those meetings than we were at the start of the talks."

Harry Caton, federal mediator, and Walter Guillico, state mediator, said both sides "were still far apart" after Saturday night's meeting.

The strike shut down the three papers simutaneously for the first time in history. The last issue to hit the newsstands was the final Thursday edition of the Free Press, Detroit's only morning paper.

Editorial employes of the Times and the Free Press, many of whom were laid off because of the strike, began publishing the Detroit Reporter to give area residents a daily summary of local news. The Reporter, published jointly by the Newspaper Guild of Detroit and the Detroit Alied Printing Trades Council, and smaller area papers were the only local newspapers available to city readers.

Snow Plows Out Across Northern Midwest Today

By UNITED PRESS

Snow plows turned out across the northern Midwest today to clear away the heaviest snows of the season.

Meanwhile, a new cold wave took command of the East, dropping temperatures along the Gulf states and Atlantic seaboard.

On the west coast, five persons were killed on rain-slicked highways in Los Angeles County.

The weekend storm that swept the Midwest piled up nearly a foot of snow across the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Upper Michigan. Traffic was slowed to a crawl before snow plows began bucking the drifts.

Snow removal equipment from two cities was called to clear the streets at Houghton, Mich., which got a 10-inch snowfall to raise its total snowfall so far this season to 50 inches.

At Duluth, Minn., an 11-inch snowfall was whipped by 59-mile-per-hour winds which also picked up a couple's car and threw it into Lake Superior. Around Scottsbuff, Neb., which got a 10-inch snowfall, officials urged drivers to stay off the roads.

At Minneapolis, thunder and lightning accompanied a snowstorm for the first time in 60 years. Scores of persons called the Weather Bureau and police headquarters asking if an explosion had occurred.

The heavy snows ended Sunday, but were followed by a sub-zero chill which dropped the temperature to 20 below at Fraser, Colo., 11 below at International Falls, Minn., and 10 below at Bisamrk, N.D.

Bargain

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (UP) — Three boys sold French vintage champagne worth $18 a bottle to teen-age spectators at a high school football game for 50 [illegible] a bottle.

The boys, two of them 14 and the other 12, told county probation officers they took 30 bottles from the basement of a woman who was out of town and sold 29.

They said they opened the other bottle, found the wine "terrible stuff" and threw it away.

Pardon Me!

WELLINGTON, England (UP)—Farmer Jim Langford yawned so hard he won't be able to shut an eye for the next six weeks.

Langford was tired after a hard day's work and let go with a giant-sized yawn. Something snapped and he found he couldn't close his left eye.

Doctors said he wouldn't be able to close his eye for six weeks.

Anthony Eden To Arrive Jan. 30 To Talk With Ike

May Be Result Of Sharp Change In East-West Relations

By FRANK ELEAZER
United Press Staff Correspondent

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP) — The White House announced today that British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden will arrive in Washington Jan. 30 for talks with President Eisenhower.

Diplomatic sources in Washington predicted that the talks will deal mainly with Western strategy for coping with the new cold war situation resulting from the failure of the Geneva Big Four foreign ministers conference.

The Big Two talks, expected to last for several days, will mark Mr. Eisenhower's return to active top-level international diplomacy for the first time since his Sept. 24 heart attack. It will be Eden's first trip to Washington since he succeeded Sir Winston Churchill as Britain's prime minister. His last meeting with Mr. Eisenhower was at the Big Four summit conference at Geneva in July.

Most urgent reason for the forthcoming talks, in the view of Washington diplomatic circles, is the sharp change that has come over East-West relations since the July summit meeting. The "Geneva spirit" of friendliness has all but vanished under the impact of new Communist moves, such as providing arms to Egypt, asserting a claim to sole control in four-power Berlin, and actively wooing Asian nations such as India with lavish promises of economic aid.

Other troubles of mutual concern that may come up in the talks are the latest French political crisis, and measures to reinvigorate the North Atlantic Treasy Organization.

Temperatures Head Toward Near-Zero Levels Amid Snow

Temperatures tumbled nearly 40 degrees in little more than 24 hours in Indiana and headed toward near-zero levels amid snow flurries today.

Weekend readings in the 50s and 60s surrendered to a cold front which plunged the mercury into the 20s early this morning and paved the way for a dip to the 8-to-15-degree range tonight.

It was snowing lightly in midmorning in the Lake Michigan rim area. Elsewhere, no precipitation was in sight and the weather bureau indicated there would be no snow at least through Wednesday, when a slight warmup from the icy temperatures was expected.

Highs today were expected to range from 27 upstate to 32-freezing downstate. Tonight, it will drop to 8 above in the upper portion of the state and 15 in the lower portion.

A high of 59 early Sunday in Indianapolis was within five degrees of the all-time record for Dec. 4 set in 1879. By dawn today, the temperature had dropped to 22.

At Evansville, the mercury touched 60, then shriveled steadily to 27. South Bend had the lowest early-morning temperature at 19.

Rites Will Be Held Tuesday For Retired Lake Resort Owner

A Resident Of Whitley County Since 1924

Fred E. Losure, 70, retired Loon Lake Resort owner, died at 5:30 p.m. Saturday at the Luckey Hospital, Wolf Lake. Although he had been in failing health for quite some time due to a heart condition, he entered the hospital only twelve days ago. His death was attributed to congestive heart failure.

Mr. Losure was a native of Grant county and was born at VanBuren September 18, 1885, a son of Lisander and Amanda Ellen Losure. After completing his education in the Van Buren high school, he operated a department store there for the following ten years. He spent quite some time working in a shoe store at Marion and later moved to Wabash where he was employed as a foot specialist at the Backman's Shoe store.

In 1924, Mr. and Mrs. Losure came to Loon Lake. They purchased the store and resort which they continued to operate until 1946 when Mr. Losure sold his interests and retired from active business. Since that time, he worked as a cabinet maker when his health permitted. He was a member of the Christian church at VanBuren.

Noember 28, 1912, he was united in marriage to the former Lulu Belle LeFavour, who survives with one daughter, Mrs. Ralph Hartman, of this city and one granddaughter, Teresa Ann Hartman. His father, mother, and one brother have preceded him in death.

The body has been removed to the Smith and Sons Funeral Home where friends may call until the hour of the service. The Rev. John Krieg, pastor of the Etna Methodist church, will officiate at the funeral rites to be held Tuesday at 1 p.m. at the Funeral Home. Committal services and burial will follow the funeral home rites in the cemetery at VanBuren.

Hold Memorial Rites Sunday Afternoon For Mrs. Archie Laughlin

Was The Former Esther Firestone Of Larwill

Funeral services were held at Harris Funeral Home in Syracuse Sunday at 2 p.m. for Mrs. Archie Laughlin, 32, the former Esther Firestone of Larwill.

Mrs. Laughlin dropped dead at 5:15 p.m. Friday while walking in the business section of Syracuse. She had been ill with a cold and under the care of a physician until recently. Death was due to coronary occlusion.

She was born in Whitley county but had resided in Syracuse since 1947.

Surviving besides her husband, is her mother, Mrs. Mona Firestone of Larwill; two sisters, Miss Phyllis Firestone, Larwill, and Mrs. Mildred Deem, Goshen; two brothers, Robert Firestone, Whitley county, and Harry Firestone, Churubusco.

Aker Rites Held In This City Saturday

Funeral services for Carl Aker, were held Saturday morning at the Smith and Sons Funeral Home with the Rev. Graham L. Kleespie, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, officiating. Mrs. Helen Slagle Aker played an organ prelude and postlude as the musical portion of the service.

Those who served as pallbearers were Charles Feit, Lester Brock, Thomas Hood, Joseph Trump, Paul Carver, and Royce Galbreath. Committal services and burial followed the funeral home rites in South Park cemetery.

Mrs. Wolfangle Former Local Woman Dies In California

Death Believed To Have Been Sudden

Relatives here have been notified of the death of Mrs. Charles Wolfangle, 71, of Escondido, Calif., which occurred Sunday at 5 a.m. Death is believed to have been sudden.

She moved to California more than 30 years ago. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schinbeckler and was born in Jefferson township. Surviving besides the husband are three brothers, Ervin and Perry Schinbeckler, Jefferson township, and Joe Schinbeckler of Allen county and two sisters, Mrs. Arthur Bates, Fort Wayne and Mrs. William Klaehn, Allen county.

The late Oscar Schinbeckler of this city was a brother and the late Mrs. Fred Mills was a sister.

Perry Schinbeckler visited his sister last summer and at that time Mrs. Wolfangle was apparently in good health. A recent letter from the Wolfangles to relatives here, stated that they had just returned from a trip and were ready to settle down for the winter.

Funeral Of Carl Rank Held Saturday

Memorial services for Carl Rank, former local restaurant owner, and operator of the restaurant at Kimmell, were held Saturday afternoon at the Smith and Sons Funeral Home with the Rev. Graham L. Kleespie, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, officiating. Mrs. Helen Slagle Aker played a prelude and postlude on the funeral home organ.

The pallbearers were Arnold Hobbs, Clark Davis, William Daseler, John Harris, Paul Forrester, and Gayland Adair. Immediately following the funeral home rites, the funeral cortage left for Van-Wert, Ohio, where committal services were made in the Woodlawn cemetery.

Rites Held Sunday For Pioneer Resident

Funeral rites for Mrs. Emma Feist, pioneer Columbia City resident, were held Sunday afternoon at the Smith and Sons Funeral Home with the Rev. Graham L. Kleespie, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, officiating. Mrs. Helen Slagle Aker played an organ prelude and postlude of selected hymns as the musical part of the service.

Neighbors and friends of the Feist family who served as the pallbearers were Vern Kessler, Firmer Keppler, Roy Duncan, Carlton Carver, Glen Judd, and Paul Windemuth. Committal services and burial followed the funeral home rites in the Greenhill cemetery.

Propose Laws To Free United States President

From Time-Consuming, Minor Chores

By GWEN GIBSON
United Press Staff Corresondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Justice Deartment has proposed new laws to free President Eisenhower and his successor of minor, time-consuming chores.

The legislative proposals are contained in a study now before the White House staff.

It's Justice Department protocol never to discuss legal questions submitted to it. But this much is known:

(1) That the department has suggested laws permitting the President to delegate minor relief bills to certain Cabinet officers.

(2) That it also has outlined other ways in which the President could shift duties under statutes already on the books.

The White House requested a study of ways to lighten the presidential workload after Mr. Eisenhower's heart attack. Actually the problem had long been under review by legal experts. But the White House request gave impetus to this work.

Observers stressed today that the department's final draft of recommendations could be announced by the White House or merely used for private review.

The Justice Department already has made clear its opinion that the chief executive can shift many functions to others without adopting new laws.

But the duty of acting on every bill passed by the Congress is vested in the President by law. In the department's opinion this cannot be remedied without legislation. Such legislation would set up standards by which Cabinet members could act on minor measures coming within their bailiwick.

"In this way as American citizens you will help the republic correct the faulty, fortify the good, build stoutly for the future, and reinforce the most cherished freedoms of each individual citizen."

Ælect Meany President

Mr. Eisenhower thus touched of the announced fears of some Republicans that a unified labor movement might become, or attempt to become, a controlling factor in national politics.

Mr. Eisenhower made it plain he does not believe the union members think or vote as a bloc.

The President's message was delivered after the historic merger convention was officially opened before a crowd of cheering delegates and some 2,000 spectators in the 71st Regimental Armory.

George Meany, 61-year-old head of the AFL, was elected president of the newly merged organization. He was nominated by Walter Reuther, head of the CIO. Meany's election was agreed upon in advance in the process of merging the two groups.

The convention also elected 27 vice presidents — 17 from the AFL and 10 from the CIO — and nominated William Schnitzler to be secretary-treasurer of the new AFL-CIO.

James P. Mitchell, secretary of labor, will address the convention Tuesday and Marion Folsom, secretary of health, education and welfare, will speak Wednesday.

New York Gov. Averell Harriman and Adlai Stevenson, one of whom may become the Democratic presidential nominee, also will woo labor's votes, Harriman Tuesday and Stevenson on Thursday. Other speakers include Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, National Commander J. Addington Wagner of the American Legion and President Omer Becu of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions.

Mayor Robert Wagner of New York City welcomed the delegates.

The AFL and CIO, in separate conventions here last week, approved the merger and voted themselves out of existence. The AFL vote was unanimous. In the CIO, Michael Quill, fiery leader of the Transport Workers Union, opposed the merger as did representatives from CIO industrial councils in Springfield, Ill., and Wilkes - Barre, Pa.

Quill was expected to boycott the five-day merger convention. He and the TWU Executive Board, meeting this week, were expected, however, to approve TWU entry into the AFL - CIO.

Officers Already Selected

The new officers of the AFL-CIO were agreed on in advance, the post of president going to George Meany, 61-year-old former plumber's helper from New York City's Bronx, who had headed the AFL since the death of President William Green in 1952. William F. Schnitzler, 51, whose union career began as an apprentice baker in Newark, N.J., was named secretary-treasurer, the same post he held in the AFL.

There were 17 vice presidents—10 from the AFL and seven from the CIO — including, for the first time in either AFL or CIO history, a Negro, A Philip Randolph President of the AFL Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters.

CIO President Walter Reuther will serve as a vice president and, aided by James B. Carey, former CIO secretary - treasurer, will head the Industrial Union Department of the AFL-CIO.

tween 51 to 60 years old. This shows the trend of "former teachers" back into the activity of teaching due to the "teacher emergency" created by lure of many younger people away from the classrooms to enter commerce and industry.

Specifically, a trifle over 19 per cent of the Whitley county teachers fall in the 20-30 year old age bracket. Seventeen and a half per cent are between 31 and 40 years old. The 41-50 year olds account for 37.6 per cent of the total, over 24 per cent are between 51 and 60 years old while 2.5 per cent are over 61 years old. The ages of the teachers range from 21 to 66 years.

Of vital interest to the parents of school-age children is the training of the teachers who are in custody of the young minds for eight months of the year.

Fifty-five per cent of the classroom teachers in Whitley county hold a bachelor's degree or have four years of training. More than 14 per cent hold master's degrees, or equivalent of five years' training. The remaining 30.8 have less than an A.B. or B.S. degree. Of this group, 22.5 per cent have had less than three years of training but 8.3 per cent have had more than three years of preparation for teaching, but not quite four years.

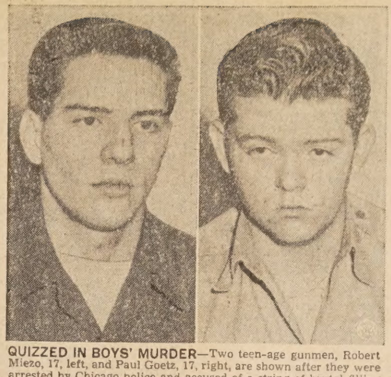
Ike, Defense - Budget Advisers Agree On 1956 Military Budget



QUIZZED IN BOYS' MURDER—Two teen-age gunmen, Robert Miezo, 17, left, and Paul Goetz, 17, right, are shown after they were arrested by Chicago police and accused of a string of brutal filling station holdups. Police believe they may be linked to the Oct. 16 slayings of three Chicago youngsters whose nude and badly beaten bodies were found in a Chicago forest preserve. One-inch adhesive tape found in the possession of a girl friend of one of the youths is similar to that used to bind the mouths of the murdered boys.

Harriman Says Ike's Appointees Using Labor Act To Bust Unions

By JACK WOLISTON
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP) — New York Gov. Averell Harriman charged today that President Eisenhower's appointees are using the Taft Hartley act to bust unions.

Harriman made the accusation in an address before the convention of the new 16 million member labor organization formed by the merger Monday of the CIO and the AFL.

The New York governor singled out Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson, Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay and former Assisant Secretary of Commerce Lothair Teetor as men high in the Eisenhower administration who are unfriendly to labor.

"Unhappily, there are people in high places who don't like your marriage," Harriman said in his speech prepared for delivery to the new merged labor organization.

"What these enemies of American labor fear is that this marriage will last. And at this very moment they are plotting, and carrying on, a powerful and systematic attack designed to weaken the influence of labor in American life."

Cites Indiana Case

"Is it any wonder that the NLRB has been turned over to men with long anti-labor records?" Harriman said. "Or that these same men have tried to use the Taft-Hartley act to bust union, as they did a few days ago in the case of a UAW local in Indiana.

"You remember President Eisenhower himself said the law ought to be amended so that it could not be used to bust unions. But it wasn't, and now his very own appointees are using it that way.

"It's high time we quit talking and eliminated from law the injustices of Taft-Hartley," he said.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell told the new AFL-CIO convention that he had always favored uniting the two labor organizations.

"I look to the new unity to bring improvements in our union-management relations," he said. "If it does not it will have failed to rise to what may very well be its greatest challenge."

Asks Continued Support

He asked for "continued support" of his principles which have brought an increase in the mini-

More Students Burn In Effigy Governor Griffin

Angered By New Sports Policy

By NICHOLAS C. CHRISS
United Press Staff Correspondent

ATLANTA (UP)—Students at Emory University and the University of Georgia, angered because a new segregation sports policy will hurt Georgia teams' reputations, burned Gov. Marvin Griffin in effigy on two fronts late Monday night.

They were the third and fourth institutions to burn the governor in effigy since Griffin asked the State Board of Regents to prevent Georgia Tech from meeting Pittsburgh, which has a Negro player, in the Sugar Bowl.

The new demonstrations broke out a few hours after the regents, adopted a compromise racial policy that will allow Tech to play in the Sugar Bowl Jan. 2, but prob-

French Socialist Party Calls For Council Meeting

Could Determine Election Outcome

By WILBUR LANDREY
United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS (UP) — The powerful French Socialist Party today called a National Council meeting that could determine to a great extent the outcome of the French parliamentary elections.

The Socialists with 104 members, are the largest group in the National Assembly. They were to decide today whether to ally themselves with former Premier Pierre Mendes-France or to fight him.

Socialist Party Secretary-General Guy Mollet already has twice publicly sided with Mendes-France during the past week, and it was believed be would press the party to form an alliance with Mendes-France's Radical-Socialists.

It already was considered certain the UDSR (Social Democrat) Party with 16 members and eight affiliates would join Mendes-France along with the Social Republicans (Gaullists) who have 72 seats. Mendes-France was believed to command at least half the Radical Socialists' 69 members and seven affiliates.

The grouping would form a new non-Communist left of center bloc that could return Mendes-France to power.

But French politicians bore in mind the old saying that "policy is decided in Paris, but the elections are held in the provinces."

And in the provinces the local Socialist groups were busy going

Columbia City Council Masons will be host tonight at the Masonic temple to the Warsaw Council when the two bodies are to be inspected in their degree work by Lloyd W. Young of Plainfield, grand lecturer for the Indian Grand Council.

The inspection meeting will open at 7:30 o'clock, according to Robert Helfrich, illustrious master of the Columbia City Council. Following the inspection, a luncheon will be served in the temple dining room.

Columbia City Council will open the meeting and present the degree of Royal Master. The degree of Select Master will then be presented by the Warsaw Council whose officers and cast will close the meeting.

Russia Tries To Get India To Use Force

In Dispute With Portugal Charges Dulles

By WILLIAM GALBRAITH
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles charged today that Russia has been trying to get India to use force in its dispute with Portugal over the territory of Goa.

Dulles made the charge at a news conference at which he defended a joint U.S.-Portuguese statement on Goa which has infuriated India.

Dulles said he gave very careful consideration to the statement issued last Friday, and that he felt it was appropriate to express feelings on Soviet statements aimed at fomenting trouble in the Goa area.

The contrversial statement, which Dulles issued jointly with visiting Portuguese Foreign Minister Paulo Cunha, referred to Goa as a "Portuguese province."

Statement Aimed at Russia

The phrase infuriated the Indians because they have insisted that Goa is not a province but an unwilling Portuguese colony which should be turned over to India.

The Dulles statement, described by U.S. diplomats in India as a major blunder, was aimed at rapping Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Russian Communist Party boss Nikita Khrushchev for violent anti-Western statements they made during their tour of India and Burma.

Dulles told reporter the United States felt disputes such as that over Goa should not be settled by force.

But he said the United States got the feeling that Russia's two traveling leaders were making statements designed to create an atmosphere which would bring about efforts to invoke force.

Both Bulganin and Khrushchev contended in their statements in India that Goa belongs to India.

Dulles was asked at his news conference whether the tone of the statements made by the Soviet leaders indicate that Russia is not now interested in lowering tensions with the West.

Discusses Other Topics

He said he found nothing in the Khrushchev-Bulganin words showing they want relaxation of tensions with the West. He noted that the two were especially bitter in their attacks on Britain.

Dulles also told newsmen:

1. Communist China has been steadily building up airfields in the Formosa Strait area. But U.S intelligence so far has not indicated that the Red Chinese are making preparations to attack Nationalist Chinese holdings in the area.

2. The United States hopes both Israel and her Arab neighbors will see the benefits to all concerned in a solution to their dispute. So far no concrete step toward a solution is in sight, but the possibilities for agreement exist.

3. It is always possible that Communist East Germany will cut barge traffic to Berlin, but the United States has no reason to think this will happen now. He said the United States will hold Russia responsible for interruptions in canal traffic under the 1954 power agreement assuring the West of communications with Berlin.

Defense Forces Of United States, Canada Bristle

Wartime Emergency Against Mock Attack

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UP)—Mobilized defense forces of the United States and Canada bristled on war time emergency today for anticipated mock air attacks against the North American continent.

Headquarters of the Continental Air Defense Command (CONAD) flashed the alert throughout the North American defense communications network Monday. Interceptor planes were in the sky over the continent within minutes to ward off the simulated attacks named operation "Crackerjack."

Units of the Strategic Air Command, America's offensive air force, are staging the attack or attacks which might last four days. SAC planes are probing outer continental defenses in attempts to exploit any weak points.

Crackerjack's success might not be announced for several days or weeks, if ever, CONAD said. Its official announcement said only that "elements of the Strategic Air Command are being used in the exercise in an attempt to penetrate the air defense system."

An estimated 400,000 civilian aircraft spotters are on alert. Army Navy, Air Force, Marine, National Guard and Reserve units were ordered to emergency duty abuot five hours before the initial signal. Word that the gigantic exercise had started leaked out about 5 p.m. (EST), Monday when these members of the defense forces were suddenly called to duty.

It was announced on Oct. 18 that a test would be conducted, but actual timing was a well-kept secret.

National Guardsmen in the nation's capitol were caught by surprise. Many were baby sitting while their wives attended a bridge session and an emergency nursery had to be set up to relieve the daddies for defense.

Most residents of the continent went about their regular work and play today, hardly noticing the sudden switch to war-time defensive measures that occurred while many of them slept.

Omaha resident apparently were the only civilians jolted by the operation. Many made frantic telephone calls to authorities when they heard a siren and the roar of the giant jet bombers from Offutt Air Force Base.

Morehead Students To Present Musical Christmas Program

Two Columbia City students at Morehead State College, will appear with the college chorus and band in a series of Christmas programs December 14 to 18, it was announced by Milton Moore, head of the music department.

The Columbia City students are Sharon Cole and Jan L. Fleck, both members of the chorus.

The Christmas program by the chorus and band will be given for high school seniors from surrounding counties for the college chapel program, and for the general public.

The 55-member chorus, under the direction of Mr. Moore, will present Ringwald's "Song of Christmas," an arrangement of " 'Twas the Night Before Christmas" and a number of Christmas anthems and familiar carols.

The band, directed by Larry Zingale, will perform the overture to Handel's "The Messiah," as arranged for band by Cailliet. Christmas carols will be played by three "brass choirs."

Dr. Lowell Grant Elected President Of Dental Organization

Dr. Lowell Grant was elected president of the Indiana Academy of Practice Administration at its recent semi-annual meeting held at the Indiana University Medical Center in Indianapolis.

Dentists and their wives from Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, and Kentucky attended the meeting.

Mrs. Grant also attended the conference and participated in the program for members of the auxiliary.

The group will meet again in the spring, but Dr. Grant has not yet set the date for that meeting.

Nation's Top Polio Authorities Meet Wednesday

To Consider One-Shot Vaccination Program

WASHINGTON (UP)—The nation's top polio authorities have been summoned to a conference here Wednesday to consider recommending a one-shot vaccination program to make present Salk supplies go farther.

The present program calls for three injections over an eight-month period. To reach as many children as possible before the new polio season, many experts believe that the schedule should be cut back temporarily to only one shot.

The Health, Education and Welfare Department announced that Dr. Jonas E. Salk, developer of the vaccine, members of the government vaccine advisory committee, and representatives of medical and public health organizations will attend the meeting.

The experts are expected to submit their recommendations to U.S. Surgeon General Leonard W. Scheele this week. He will make his decision public as soon as possible, a spokesman said.

From the beginning of the inoculation program, officials have recommended three shots to give the maximum protection. They said the second injection should be given four to six weeks after the first and the third injection about seven months after that.

Millions of children, however, received only one shot during the mass inoculation program this summer. And extensive studies indicated that the one shot provided a great deal of protection against paralytic polio.

The new polio season gets underway this spring. Since millions of children still haven't received any shots and there isn't enough vaccine to go around, many experts believe a one-shot program is the only way to provide a degree of protection for the maximum number of children.

The other point of view, held by some, is that the initial two shots, at least, must be given in quick succession to provide children with the best protection. They question whether this established program should be altered.

Washington Center Buys School Bus

Arthur Hilligoss, trustee of Washington township, and his advisory board Monday night purchased for delivery in January a Chevrolet 2-ton chassis and a Carpenter body manufactured at Mitchell when eight garages and three body companies presented bids for supplying the Washington township school district with a new school bus.

To be taken in trade is a 1940 Chevrolet 48-passenger bus. The new bus ordered by the trustee and his advisory board is to seat 54 passengers and have front and rear heaters, also truck shock absorbers under the front end.

According to Mr. Hilligoss, both the chassis and body bids of the Whitley County Motor Sales and the Carpenter company were the lowest submitted. Other chassis bidders were the Thomas Motor Sales (Ford), Wolf's garage (International), Tenney Motor Sales (Dodge), Arthur Wigent's New-Way Sales (GRM), Howland Chevrolet Sales of South Whitley, Fort garage at Huntington, and the Scherger Chevrolet Sales, Huntington. Bids were also received by the Superior Body company at Silver Lake and the Wayne Body company at Richmond.

EastGermanReds Say Conant Was Only 'Boasting'

When He Said U. S. Would Hold To Four Power Status Of Berlin

BERLIN (UP)—The East German Communists said today American Ambassador James B. Conant was "boasting" when he said the United States would hold to the four-power status of Berlin.

The savage new attack on West Berlin and the United States was published in the official Communist newspaper Neues Deutschland which was hinted repeatedly at a new blockade of Berlin.

Neues Deutschland said Dr. Conant should know that the four-power statute on Berlin "has not existed for a long time" because the "West itself trampled it in the mud."

The official Communist organ thus appeared to proclaim invalid the four power laws under which the United States, Britain and France occupy Berlin with Russia, supply it and have the right to free movement to Berlin through the Soviet zone.

View Government As Puppet

It was another East German effort to bolster the "sovereignty" of the East German government which the Western powers — and the Bonn government — recognize only as a puppet state under the Soviets.

Only Monday Soviet Maj. Gen. P. A. Dibrova, the Russian Berlin commandant, stressed again the sovereignty of East Germany and the Soviet sector of Berlin. He did this by rejecting a British protest against a border shooting and referred it to "the proper authorities of the German Democratic Republic."

Today's blast against Conant and the West Berlin officials followed a series of boasts by the East Gemans that they will decide "who" travels to West Berlin and "how." They accompanied it with new threats against barge and highway traffic.

Demand Liability Insurance

There still was no clear explanation of how the Communists intended to apply their latest threats. They said Monday that Western vehicles reaching the isolated city through 110 miles of Communist territory must have East German liability insurance as of Jan. 1.

This could be a threat either to stop Western traffic or to levy high insurance rates. Already they have imposed high highway use taxes.

The threat to close canal traffic — which supplies one-fourth of Berlins supplies—was coupled with demands the West Germans negotiate with the East German government. This Bonn has refused to do although low-ranking trade groups have met frequently.

He was entered as a medical patient and will receive treatment for possible heart trouble.

Firemen's Party Christmas Eve Again Is Planned

City's Oldest Christmas Tradition To Be Continued

Columbia City's oldest Christmas tradition — the "Community Christmas party" now known as the Firemen's Christmas party — is to be continued, according to Russel Wolfe, fire chief.

It will be staged again on Christmas Eve, Saturday night December 24, with treats from Santa and Mrs. Santa to all the children who present themselves.

Ths giving of treats will be at the courtohuse at 7 p.m. The Evangelical United Brethren church is expected to be asked to provide a program of Christmas carols from the tower of the "Friendly Church on the Square" during the children's party.

Need Over $200

The firemen will require contributions from citizens in excess of $200 if the expenses of the 1955 treats to children are to be met. Ordinarily a much larger sum is needed, but last year's contributions were in excess of the expenses and this money was saved as a nucleus for the 1955 fund.

Contributions may be left at either of the two Columbia City banks, at the newspapers' office, at the fire department in the rear of the city hall or at the city police station in the front of the city hall. Also, any member of the volunteer fire department, or any of the fire truck drivers will gladly receive contributions for the fund.

Two gifts today tipped off the 1955 fund. These included:

Clyde Billman	$1
Wolfe's Garage & employes	$5

Started by Civic League

The annual children's treat party, now sponsored by the firemen who are aided by their auxiliary, the Siren club, was originated nearly a half-century ago by the Women's Civic League.

It is a custom that has not been let slip by Columbia City citizens through years of thin and plenty. Children from throughout the community, regardless of the economic status of their fathers, are invited for their Santa Claus treats.

No Major Change In Previous Plans For 34½ Billion

Meeting Confined To Budget Says Wilson

By FRANK ELEAZER
United Press Staff Correspondent

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP) — President Eisenhower and his top defense and budget advisers agreed today on a military spending budget of roughly 34½ billion dollars for next year.

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson told newsmen after an hour and a half conference with Mr. Eisenhower that there was no major change in previously announced plans to keep military spending at that level in the fiscal year starting next July 1.

"It will be tough," Wilson said. "We think we can make it."

The big problem which confronted the conferees was whether defense spending would be such as to permit a balanced budget and a possible election-year tax cut.

Besides Mr. Eisenhower and Wilson, those attending the conference were Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Budget Director Rowland R. Hughes, and Asst. Defense Secretary W.J. McNeil.

Final Figure Not Set

The conferees met in Mr. Eisenhower's tiny temporary office in the post office building in downtown Gettysburg.

Wilson said no final budget figure was reached, but it was agreed there would be no major changes from the 34½-billion-dollar spending goal. There had been reports

Problem Agitating Politicians And Farmers 'About Same' On Ike's Farm As Elsewhere

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP)—The farm problem now agitating politicians and farmers is about the same on President Eisenhower's tightly-policed Pennsylvania acres as elsewhere, but with a difference.

Several differences, perhaps. The main difference probably is that Mr. Eisenhower isn't a farmer. Everyone knows that, of course. But perhaps everyone doesn't know that the President's 189 acres actually are leased for operation to a couple of friends who have other neighboring acres. The whole, including the President's patch runs up to about 600 acres and is operated by a partnership.

The partners are P. G. Byars, a Tyler, Tex., oil man, and George E. Allen, one-time Southern football star at Cumberland University and author of a book, "Presidents Who Have Known Me."

The partners do not exactly farm the property, either. Brig Gen Arthur Nevins is charge of overall operations, with special attention to the beautification of the Eisenhower acres. Nevins is a long time Eisenhower intimate. And, then, there are the actual farmers who tend the stock and crops.

Small Town Boy

Allen is a small town boy, himself, but no farmer. This week when the President's own brown Swiss was having trouble calving, Allen fled the scene although the President stood by with considerable interest. Mother and calf both are doing well.

Most of the stock on the four farms making up the 600 acres belongs to the partnership. But the several hogs, beef cattle and such presented personally to the President are his although they are STUTTGART, Germany (UP)—German physicians said today pianist Walter Gieseking has suffered a temporary loss of memory following the bus crash Friday night that killed his wife.

Doctors for the 60-year-old Gieseking refused to disclose whether he had been informed of the death of his wife, Anna Maria, but they indicated that if he had heard the news now he might not be able to remember it.

They described his recovery as "normal" and said his injuries were serious but not critical. They said the pianists hands were not injured in the crash.

PARIS (UP) — The Paris city council was reported eyeing American - style parking meters today as possible answer to the chronic traffic jams in the French captal.

Former Police Chief Andre Dubois silenced Paris automobile horns recently but the city still is plagued with a tangle of nerve-wracked swearing drivers packed fender-to-fender on the teeming boulevards.

City council sources said parking meters might cut down the traffic problem by ending the age-old practice of forcing motorists to drive endlessly around the block looking for a place to park.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (UP)—Acting President Nereu Ramos has told the Inter-American Press Assn. that press censorship in Brazil was only a "temporary emergency measure."

In a cable to the IAPA Ramos said the armed forces who ousted Acting President Carlos Luz on Nov. 11 and prevented Joao Cafe Jr. from resuming his office only wanted to preserve democracy in Brazil.

Censorship was imposed on newspapers and radio stations last week under the terms of the "state of siege" proclaimed to keep Cafe from taking his case to the courts.

TOKYO (UP) — Peiping Radio said today half of the private retail traders in Canton have switched their businesses into "state capitalist" enterprises.

More than 71 per cent of the city's retail trade is now being handled by state and state capitalist shops, the broadcast added. It said state trading companies have almost replaced private wholesale dealers, who now account for only 4.5 per cent of the total.

DUESSELDORF, Germany (UP)—West German steel mills and foundries kept up their record-breaking daily pace in November to push yearly production figures closer to an all time high, it was announced today.

However, the month's total roduction fell below that of October because of extra holidays.

Ruhr steel experts expect the total output for 1955 to exceed 16,500,000 tons for pig iron and 21,400,000 tons for steel. The totals in 1954 were 12,500,000 tons of pig iron and 17,400,000 tons of steel.

HAVANA, Cuba (UP) — Police today held 21 women for trying to stage an anti-government demonstration and government officials openly expressed fear of an armed revolt.

Police moved in when some 80 women gathered on a downtown street corner to stage the demonstration.

Interior Minister Santiago Rey said the government was frankly worried over the activities of groups who are "raising the flag of armed subversion countrywide."

Pro-government Sen. Rolando Masferrer said the dangerous situation may lead to an armed uprising.

MEXICO CITY (UP)—Reliable sources said today ousted Argentine President Juan D. Peron, now living in exile in Panama, will come here within the next few days.

The sources said Mexican Actress Guillermina Tellez and other friends of the ousted dictator were preparing a welcome for him.

The foreign office said it had no official information about the reports. However, it said the Mexican government was ready to issue the necessary permits if Peron wants to enter the country.

SALZBURG, Austria (UP)—The first serious avalanche of the winter killed at least 10 persons and injured several others at the Kaprun hydro-electric plant near Salzburg Monday.

An avalanche of snow crashed into a party of workmen at the project shortly after dark, burying 17 of them. Six of the workmen were believed trapped under the mass of snow.

TOKYO (UP)—Two officials of a powdered milk company are being tried for criminal negligence in an accidental arsenic poisoning case which resulted in the death of 50 infants last summer.

The prosecution charged Monday that the milk plant's former superintendent and the production chief were criminally negligent in not thoroughly examining dibasic sodium phosphate used in the production of powdered milk. Chemical analysis revealed traces of arsenic in the dibasic sodium phosphate.

SEOUL, Korea (UP)—The Army announced today it is investigating the slaying of a Korean man, suspected of stealing gas from an American pipeline, by a U.S. Army private.

An Army spokesman said Pfc. Virgil A. Super, 22, Fort Jones, Calif., fired the shot that killed Kim Byun Kon, 38, last Sunday. The incident occurred when Super, a security guard, discovered a group of Koreans tampering with the fuel line here.

Australian Parliamentary Election Results Saturday Will Be Important To U S., Allies

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Australia's parliamentary election campaign is approaching its climax in a free exchange of insults.

The vote will be taken Saturday for all 121 members of the House of Representatives and for 30 of the 60 members of the Senate.

Australian elections are traditionally wild and wooly. But in this one feeling is running especially high.

Election meetings are marked by hoots, jeers and scuffles.

Spies in Foreign Office

Menzies was shouted down eight times during one recent speech by opponents who demanded, among other things, "Give us an Australian policy for Australians, you mug."

Menzies, sweating freely but unbowed, shouted back that his interrupters were "a band of yahoo Communists."

The election stems directly from the "Petrov case," which became an international sensation.

Vladimir Petrov, third secretary in the Soviet Russian embassy, surrendered himself to the Australian secret service in April, 1954.

He surrendered also a mass of documents which he had collected as Russia's chief spy agent in Australia.

The documents led, for one thing, to the disclosure that the missing British diplomats Donald MacLean and Guy Burgess had long been Russian spies within the London Foreign Office.

They disclosed also, when an Australian royal commission examined them, that one of Enatt's chief aides had given information to Petrov.

Split in Labor Party

Evatt, to the astonishment of even his own supporters, wrote to Russian Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov asking him if the Petrov documents could be forgeries. Molotov replied that they were.

Menzies decided to call an election to take advantage of labor's embarrassment. His coalition majority in the House, the dominant chamber, is 64 to 57. In the Senate it is only 31 to 29.

Menzies hopes to increase his majority substantially, aided by a split in the Labor Party which had resulted in the formation of a small "anti - Communist labor" group.

The election, if it gives either side a substantial victory, will be important to the United States and its allies. Menzies is for complete cooperation with the free countries against the Reds. Evatt tends somewhat toward "neutralism." He wants to admit Communist China to the U.N., and to withdraw Australian troops from Malaya where they are helping Britain fight the Communist rebels.

If labor suffers a real defeat, Petrov will be responsible.

San Francisco Is Overwhelming Choice As Nation's Top Team

NEW YORK (UP)—It's a brand new college basketball season with the same old 1954-55 theme. San Francisco, last year's national champion, was placed in a class by itself today in the first weekly ratings of the United Press Board of Coaches.

All but three of the 35 outstanding coaches who comprise the United Press rating board picked the Dons No. 1 in the nation following a pair of weekend victories. San Francisco's point-total of 343 was only seven short of a perfect score.

Bargain

RALEIGH, N.C. (UP)—A downtown shop today offered Christmas shoppers an interesting bargain: "Stuffed alligators, $1.97."

Stampede

TOKYO (UP)—Police in the industrial city of Osaka are looking for members of an anti-Communist league who have been using a helicopter to shower leaflets on Osaka, site of the current Chinese Communist trade fair.

The Japanese press reported today that one set of leaflets caused pedestrians to stampede the fair grounds. The leaflets promised "free Chinese beer and noodles" which the Red Chinese didn't have.

Mrs. Harden Says Problem Must Be Solved, And Soon

GREENHILL, Ind. (UP) — The problem of falling farm prices must be solved, "and soon," Rep. Cecil M. Harden (R-Ind.) warned Monday night.

The Terre Haute congresswoman told a Farm Bureau meeting some means other than high price supports must be found to give farmers a bigger share of the nation's booming prosperity.

"No price support system of itself is the answer to the problem which confronts the American farmer today," Mrs. Harden said. "Something else is going to have to be done—and soon."

The farmer's present plight could have been avoided to a large extent, she said, if the government had discouraged over-production after World War II. She said continuing high price supports after the war threw the farm program out of balance.

Mrs. Harden called for an effective farm program which will reduce present surpluses, decrease farm production and increase consumption of farm products.

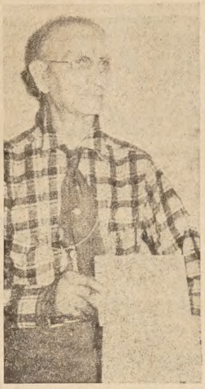
Fifty Years Of Service Merits Gold Pin, Gold Seal Pass On Entire Railroad System



John Schinbeckler

More than 100 guests called at the home of John Schinbeckler in Dunfee Sunday afternoon and evening when Mr. Schinbeckler observed his Golden Anniversary with the Nickel Plate Railroad system, and his 75th birthday which occurred November 27.

The dining table was laid in Irish linen marked with a delicate rose canterberry design and lovely silver. Cake was served with coffee, punch and mints by Mrs. John Stroud and daughter, Nancy, and Mrs. William Bueker and daughter, Diane, who were assisted by Mrs. Alfred Schinbeckler, a sister-in-law, and Mrs. Joe Schinbeckler, a cousin.

The lovely three-tiered cake topped with an engine bore 75 candles suggestive of Mr. Schinbeckler's birth anniversary. A hugh white candle tinted with gold and marked with the numerals 50 burned in an arrangement of spun glass balls at the other end of the table.

The beautiful linen cloth used on the refreshment table had been sent to the late Mrs. Schinbeckler by her son Grover, in December 1944 from Ireland, when he was in military service.

The cloth was to have been used at the Golden Wedding Anniversary of the Schinbecklers but Mrs. Schinbeckler's death occurred two years before the anniversary. It was used for the first time Sunday.

Among the guests were those from Fort Wayne, Columbia City. Mr. Schinbeckler's two brothers, Alfred of Blue Lake and Walter of Tunker and his daughter, Mrs. Edwin Maley of Hammond, besides his neighbors and friends in the vicinity of Dunfee. Many of the guests were those with whom Mr. Schinbeckler had worked in connection with the railroad.

Neighbors Surprise Him

Last Thursday evening, four neighbors of Mr. Schinbeckler and their families gave him a surprise birthday supper at his home. They came with a prepared buffet supper. A beautifully decorated cake, baked by Mrs. Stroud, bore a replica of a railroad track.

The neighbors who honored him with the lovely supper were Mr. and Mrs. John Stroud, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. William Bueker and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Taylor.

Mr. Schinbeckler's foster son, Grover, assisted in receiving the guests and arranging the lovely Open House.

Dunfee Resident 40 Years

For the past 40 years, Mr. Schinbeckler has resided in Dunfee. Last Friday he was presented a gold pin and a life-time gold seal pass which Mr. Schinbeckler may use to travel over the entire railroad sytem.

In the picture, you may see on his tie the pin, and his gold seal pass he is holding.

Mr. Schinbeckler is asking himself the question "Why Retire." He is still in the employ of the company as a crossing watchman. He may retire in the spring.

Luncheon Marks The Christmas Meeting Of Town And Country

At her newly remodeled home on 205 East, Mrs. Ed Ginn was hostess Monday afternoon for a buffet luncheon marking the Yuletide meeting of the Town and Country Home Demonstration club.

A large white candle centered the dining table laid with a red cloth from which the luncheon was served. Small tables, arranged in the living room by the large illuminated Christmas tree, were laid with red and green cloths. Christmas greens surrounded the star-shaped holders that held burning white tapers.

Clever tiny snowmen stood on the placecards that held the letters marking the gifts that lay beneath the tree. The history of the song "Hark the Herald Angels Sing," by Charles Wesley, was given by Mrs. Ross Smith. Mrs. Earl Anderson, who was in charge of devotions, read the Christmas Bible story from Luke 2:8-22.

Mrs. Hollis Peeler, a guest of the club, read the story "The First Christmas Tree." Other guests of the club were Mrs. LeRoy Metzger, county president of the Home Demonstration Clubs, Mrs. Harry Jagger and Mrs. Esli Shively of the Thorncreek club; Mrs. Claude E. Laub, the mother of Mrs. Ginn from Spencerville.

Meeting Changed

The club has changed its meeting from the first Monday in the month to the third Monday in each month. At the next meeting, members of the club will bring dish cloths for the kitchen at the 4-H Community Center.

Marriage Of Thomas Eberhard, Indianapolis Girl Is Announced

Mrs. Thomas Reid Eberhard

Mrs. Thomas Reid Eberhard was Darlene Lamar before her marriage on December 2 which took place in Edwin Ray Methodist church in Indianapolis, in a quiet ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnston, Indianapolis, attended the couple.

Mr. Eberhard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Reid H. Eberhard, Maple street, this city, and the bride is the daughter of Mrs. Frank J. Brockslager, Indianapolis, and Wyman R. Lamar, Evansville.

The bride chose for her wedding a street length dress of eggshell lace over satin, accented in the back with a bow of satin. Her hat was styled of matching feathers with a veil.

Mrs. Johnston her attendant, wore a dress in an apricot shade with a profile hat of blending feathers.

The young Mr. and Mrs. Eberhard are associated with the American Union Life Insurance Company of Indianapolis. The bridegroom is a graduate of Columbia City high school and Wittenberg college and is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

They are at home in Apt. 20, Rose apartments, 526 East Fallcreek, Indianapolis.

Neighbor Girl To Share In Estate

By the terms of the will of Carl Aker, 73, who died Nov. 30, a neighbor girl who endeared herself to the retired railroad telegraph operator and his late wife, is to share in the estate.

To the girl, Barbara Ann Carver 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carver, 401 North Elm street, is bequeathed one-third of the residuary estate. A cousin of the late Mrs. Aker, Heber Jackson of 201 East Market street, is to receive another third of the residue of the estate, while Mr. Aker's cousin, Mrs. Lester Brock, R 2, is to receive the other third.

The estate is valued at $13,000 in personal property. Distribution of certain household articles and books is to be made, according to the will, according to a list deposited by the testator in his safe deposit box. The Farmers Loan & Trust Company is executor of the will. Gates & Gates are the attorneys for the estate.

The will mentions that he made no provision for a sister and a half-brother "because they have ample means of their own."

Rev. Peter Soudah Speaker Before Pi Epsilon Nu Sorority

Dr. Peter Soudah, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Garrett, was the speaker Monday evening, at the holiday guest banquet of Pi Epsilon Nu sorority, held at Plaza Grill, Fort Wayne.

Dr. Soudah recalled his Christmas as a boy in Bethelehem singing "O Come Let Us Adore Him" and kissing the manger, "the holiest shrine in Christendom." He spoke on the many pictures which show Christ and of the 3,000 books written about Him and yet he believes much yet would be painted and written on the inexhaustible subject. He stressed that money cannot buy culture nor refinement because culture is an inward personnel growth. "Worship God in the Beauty of Holiness," I Chronicle 16:29, was quoted by the speaker.

Small Christmas packages and Christmas oranaments decorated the tables lighted with candles which were laid for the holiday dinner. The favors were small gold cornucopias lined with red beside a tiny angel with gold wings and crown. Program booklets bore gold felt covers with holly and musical notes on a staff.

Miss Lolite Pinney read an original Christmas novelette, "The Kneeling Begger," and Joseph Trentadue, of Monroeville, sang Christmas carols accompanied by Miss Marlene Allison.

Among the members receiving laurel corsages for special recognition for poetry was Mrs. George Daily of this city. Miss Pinney received a laurel wreath for having the most acceptances during the year. Recently one of her poems was accepted by Ideals for publication in a Christmas magazine.

The program committee of arrangements include Mrs. Seth Marquardt, Mrs. Helen Proctor, Mrs. Mae Frakes, Butler. Mrs. John [illegible] of this city was a guest.

Poems of many of the members of the sorority have been published in the Columbia City newspapers.

Send Greeting Cards 1st Class Urges Postmaster

Reporting that his "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign is really in high gear, Postmaster Harry G. Bollinger today gave some helpful hints on how you can be sure that your Christmas cards will reach everyone on your list before December 25.

"When you use three cent stamps on your Christmas cards, you get first-class mail service," he said, "first-class friends deserve first-class mail and the use of first-class postage makes it certain that your Christmas cards will be delivered promptly. Also, use of first-class postage insures forwarding service if the addressee has moved or the card will be returned to you if the recipient cannot be located. Then, too, on Christmas cards sent by first-class mail, you can include handwritten messages making your greetings more personal."

Return Address Advisable

It is perfectly correct and, in fact, advisable to include your return name and address on each Christmas card envelope. This helps your friends to keep their mailing list up-to-date and insures correction of your list if the card is returned as undeliverable.

Postmaster Harry G. Bollinger warns that if any of your Christmas card envelopes are larger than 9x12 or smaller than 2¾x4 they must be sent by first-cass mail because such cards require hand cancellation.

When your Christmas cards are ready to mail, you will do both yourself and Postmaster Harry G. Bollinger a real favor by putting the cards with local addresses in one bundle and those for out-of-town destinations in another. Then mark each bundle with special identification labels you can get free at the Post Office which read "All for out-of-town delivery" and "All for local delivery."

If you have a large card list mail your out-of-town Christmas cards several days in advance of those for local delivery and try to get all cards for distant points mailed by December 15th and those for local delivery should be started on their way at least a week before Christmas.

Mail Gifts By Dec. 10

Regarding the mailing of Christmas gifts, Postmaster Harry G. Bollinger points out that right now the big double rush is beginning with the out-going Christmas mails paralleling the flood of incoming packages and Christmas cards. He urges that you get your out-of-state packages into the Post Office within the next day or two and do everything possible to mail all of your Christmas gifts for local delivery by December 10th.

The Postmaster said that he would appreciate cooperation from all business firms to delay the mailing of circulars and catalogs until after December 25. He also suggested that they step up their regular correspondence mailings to 4:00 p.m. or earlier each day.

Hopes Russia To Accept Ike's Plan Someday

Is Expressed By Ambassador

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. expressed hope today in a speech prepared for delivery in the United Nations that Russia will eventually accept the Eisenhower aerial inspection plan.

The U.S. senior United Nations delegate said that despite Soviet refusal to accept the plan, "the United States is not ready to accept melancholy conclusions about Soviet policy."

Lodge referred during his disarmament debate speech to an address by Communist Party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev last Nov. 26 to an Indian audience.

"'Just imagine,' Khrushchev is reported to have said, 'Soviet planes flying over the United States, and United States planes flying over the Soviet Union.'

"Mr. Khrushchev seemed to find this picture fantastic," Lodge said.

"We Americans do not. We believe that many, many others do not.

"We believe that this vision of 'sentinels of peace' crossing each other in the 'open skies' is something which millons of everyday people in every country can see plainly.

'It will be as reassuring as the sight of the policeman on the beat. We hope that there will be the vision and the statesmanship to enable the Soviet leaders also to see it."

The General Assembly, meanwhile, was faced with three major unsolved problems and with only one more week to find solutions before ending its 10th general session.

The world body must decide on the questions of 18 new United Nations members and the walkout of South Africa in protest against "interference" by the U.N. in its internal affairs.

The Security Council election is deadlocked after 21 ballots between the U.S.-supported Philippines and Yugoslavia, backed by Great Britain and the Soviet Union.

Armed Men Tie Up Coed And Her Friend

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) — Two armed men who tied up an Indiana University coed and a male friend and ransacked a north side home in search of money and narcotics had nothing to show for it today.

Beverly Jean Davidson, 18, a physician's daughter, and Hugh G. Smith, 27, told police the men forced their way into the Davidson home as they watched television Saturday night. They bound the couple with telephone cord ripped from the walls and ransacked the home in a futile search, the victims said.

Smith freed himself and the girl shortly after the bandits left.

March Wind

HENRYETTA Okla. (UP) — March Wind of Okemah, Okla., pleaded guilty to a charge of drunken driving and was sentenced to 10 days in jail and a $100 fine.

Highway trooper O. L. Rauch, who made the arrest, said the 23-year-old man was "considerably under the weather."

Proteins Needed In Dairy Rations

LAFAYETTE, — Protein supplements are needed in most winter dairy rations, reports G. A. Williams, extension dairyman at Purdue University.

When good quality legume hay is used with either corn or grass silage, a grain mixture containing 10-14 per cent disgestible protein meets the needs of most cows. Such a mixture can be made up of 500 pounds corn and cob meal, 200 pounds of ground oats or wheat bran, and 100 pounds of protein-rich feed such as cotton-seed oil meal, linseed oil meal, soybean oil meal, or a 32-34 per cent protein commercial feed. One pound of this mixture should be fed for each 2½ to 5 pounds of milk produced, depending on the breed and size of the cow. If low quality roughages are fed, more supplement will be needed.

Cost studies show that when grain feeding is carefully adjusted to daily milk production, the cost of concentrates will make up about 25 per cent of the total cost of producing milk When unnecessary amounts of grain are fed, however, the cost of concentrates may run as high as 40 per cent of the total cost.

40 Persons Killed In Street Battle

ALGIERS, Algeria (UP)—Forty persons were killed in a furious street battle in the village of Lamy between French troops and Algerian rebels, French authorities announced today.

Authorities said reinforcements were being rushed to Lamy.

Nationalist saboteurs cut all telephone and cable communications between Lamy, near the Tunisian border, and the nearest big French center of Bone, and news of the battle was delayed until today.

Authorities said the shooting started when the rebels, mingling with the crowd in the Lamy market place, opened fire on a patrol of French gendarmes.

The crowd panicked and scrambled for cover while the gendarmes and the "army of Allah" insurgents fought with guns in the middle of the miling group.

Thirty-one persons were slain in the market place before French troops encircled the village and reestablished order. Another nine died later. Lamy is a small village west of Bone and three miles west of the Tunisian border.

separate ways. In four districts, or departments, there were indications the local Socialists were in favor of allying with the Communists who now have a 98-man voting bloc.

The strong Pas de Calais Socialists issued a tough statement saying they would ally only with Mendes-France and not with the "so-called French Communist Party." It also rejected alliances with any party supporting Premier Edgar Faure.

The Social Republicans meet on Thursday to plot their election strategy, the Radicals on Friday and the Peasant Party (21 house members) on Saturday. All parties must declare their alliances by midnight Saturday.

Last midnight was the deadline for all nominations of candidates. First indications there were few new men nominated despite cries for "new blood" in the assembly.

Agricultural engineers at Purdue University remind homeowners that now is the time to install outside weatherproof outlets for Christmas decorations in the yard. Instructions can be obtained from the power supplier or a local electrician.

"Don't overshelter your beef cattle this winter," warn animal husbandmen at Purdue University. A shed that is open on the south or east side which provides a dry place for the cattle to lie down is ideal. The worst thing possible for feeder cattle is to keep them in a tight steamy barn.

Walnut, pecan and hickory nuts store best in a cool and dry place, say horticulturists at Purdue University. High temperatures cause the kernels to become rancid while termperatures below freezing spoil the flavor.

tended and marketed, if for sale, by the partnership.

The partners — and the President with respect to his few hogs—have something in common this year with the corn-hog farmers who are raising considerable cain with the Republican Party about prices. The partners and the President are not going to make any money on their hogs. Chances are they will sell at a loss if they sell at all. They probably won't get back the cost of the feed.

One reason for that, however, is that the partnership and Eisenhower hogs are being fed a special scentific diet. There is a solid report here that Mr. Eisenhower is convinced that his hogs could be fed for a darn sight less and, maybe, bring a profit. But they are getting the special diet, just the same.

Could Show Profit

The Aberdeen Angus beef cattle which have had the most publicity among the livestock on the Eisenhower and associated acres should show a profit this year. The President and the partners will keep one or two good bulls, keep the best heifers, and market the steers and any heifers which might be less than tops.

If Mr. Eisenhower were able to get out and circulate among his Adams County neighbors, he would find that things were not going quite as well for them as on the financially-buttressed 600 acres among which he lives and which his partners operate.

The Adams County farm agent reports the area now to be suffering from a general agricultural slump. Adams County farmers are reported generally dissatisfied. The county marketed 20,000 hogs in 1954 for a total of $683,913. The price ranged from $2.40 to $2.60 a hundred. The 1955 price has slumped to $1.60. Farmers say they are lucky if they can get that.

Adams County cherries are down in a year from 11 to seven cents a pound; apples from $5 per hundred pounds to about $2.50. The county's dairy industry is doing the best of the lot, though off a bit from last year.

Higher Factory Wages

There are hints that the President's neighbors have invested too much in farm machinery. They are hit by higher factory wages which make hands more expensive or hard to get.

Adams, York and Cumberland counties comprise Pennsylvania's 19th congressional district, presently represented in the U.S. House of Representatives by a Democrat, who licked a Reublican in 1954. The 19th was historically Republican until 1932. It has been an in and outer since then with the Democrats more often in than out. But registered Republicans outnumber registered Democrats in Adams County.

Dissatisfied Adams County farmers may be, but they are little interested in government subsidies. Only six per cent of eligible wheat producers and only one per cent of eligible corn farmers signed up for government loans. They are small producers and unwilling to bother with the loan red tape.

The car says "GO" and the price won't stop you!

That long and lovely creation shown in action above—glamorous with smartly distinctive car-of-the-future styling and packed with all the terrific "go" suggested by its fleet and flowing lines—is actually a member of Pontiac's lowest-priced series, the value-setting 860 line. And here's what this information means to you!

Whatever your new-car plans for '56—even if you're shopping at the bottom of the price scale—this big and beautiful mile-shrinker can be yours!

You can now look forward to luxuriating in the gracious comfort and solid roadability made possible by a man-sized 122" wheelbase—just about as long as they come!

You can now expect to enjoy the finest, smoothest performance that ever set pulses racing—blazing Strato-Streak performance from the most modern and efficient V-8 engine that ever powered a car.

You can plan on it, definitely, because there's not a thing to stop you—as the figure on the price tag plainly shows.

For instance, your favorite body style in the 860 series carries a price within a whisper of the cost of the smaller, lighter-powered lowest-priced cars! And that's just the start.

We're trading right now to set an all-time record for December. When you've heard our deal you may very well discover that there's virtually no difference in price at all!

Come in and confirm that the 860 is the easiest car to want and to buy that ever came your way. The proof is easy—just take the wheel and go as you've never gone before!

IT'S A FACT—YOU CAN HAVE ALL OF PONTIAC'S BIG-CAR GLAMOUR AND GO FOR LESS THAN THE PRICE OF 44 MODELS OF THE "LOW-PRICED THREE."

There's No Doubt That The Kansas Team Is A Mighty Strong Outfit; Drub Northwestern

By UNITED PRESS

The Kansas varsity basketball team may not be able to beat the Kansas freshmen, but there's no doubt now that Coach Forrest (Phog) Allen's older team is a mighty strong outfit, anyway.

The varsity boys have been the targets of lots of jokes ever since they lost a pre-season exhibition game to the frosh squad, which is led by the fabulous Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain. But nobody laughed at them Monday night when they opened the season with an impressive 91-70 drubbing of Northwestern.

Chamberlain, the seven - foot whiz from Philadelphia drafted by a pro team before he entered college, tallied 40 points against the varsity, but no Northwestern player could come near that.

The Jayhawks, pre-season favorites for the Big Seven championship and rated No. 17 nationally by the United Press Board of Coaches, drove to a 47-38 halftime lead and breezed home as four players scored in double figures, led by forward Gene Elstun with 19. Guard Dick Mast had 20 for Northwestern.

Duquesne Wins Opener

Duquesne, rated No. 8 and last year's National Invitation Tournament champion, also made a successful season debut Monday night with a 61-25 rout of Carnegie Tech. All-America Si Green tallied 22 points.

Robin Freeman of Ohio State and Lloyd Aubrey of Notre Dame turned in two of Monday night's most brilliant performances, but neither could save his team from defeat.

Freeman, popping one - handers from the side, racked up 15 baskets and 10 free throws for 40 points but Ohio State bowed on its home court to tall, sharpshooting Vanderbilt, 76-67. The Commodores, used only six players and were led by Al Rochelle with 23 points.

Center Aubrey of Notre Dame notched 13 baskets and nine free throws for 35 points but the Irish took their second straight beating, 70-66, from Wisconsin. Dick Miller led Wisconsin with 25 points.

Other Top Games

In other leading games Monday night: Memphis State handed the Texas Aggies their second straight loss, 84-71; Niagara was pressed to score its second win, 66-59, over Toledo; Boston College trounced Suffolk, 89-73; Tulane romped over Louisiana College, 94-61; Louisiana State downed Southwest Tennessee, 72-59; Missouri ripped Texas Tech, 92-60; Colorado trounced Oregon, 68-49; and Rice defeated Lamar Tech, 70-49.

An important slate of games is on tap tonight with San Francisco, the nation's No. 1 team, leading five other highly-ranked squads into action. The Dons, easy winners in their first two games, are expected to mark up their 29th straight triumph in similar fashion tonight at the expense of San Francisco State.

North Carolina State, (No. 3) will be tested by Wake Forest, an Atlantic Coast Conference rival; Illinois (No. 7) meets the Butler team that beat Notre Dame but lost to Ohio State; Holy Cross (No. 9) meets Massachusetts; George Washington (No. 11) meets Southern Conference foe William & Mary; and Louisville (No. 20) plays Murray (Ky.).

Club Owners Talk About Big Trades; No Transactions

By ED SAINSBURY
United Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (UP) — There was more "spieling" than "dealing" today at the major league meetings where club owners talked for hours about big trades, but brought forth absolutely nothing in the way of even a minor transaction.

The Chicago White Sox, Cleveland Indians and Baltimore Orioles still had a triangle deal on the fire and Manager Marty Marion of Chicago said "it looks pretty hot.'

Marion spent Monday afternoon talking with Manager Al Lopez of Cleveland and said "I know he wants what we're offering and we like what he has for us."

Marion then went out in the company of John Rigney, the White Sox vice president, in the hopes that General Manager Paul Richards of Baltimore could be talked into completing the deal.

Speculation On Deal

The speculation on the deal was that the White Sox would come out with pitcher Ray Moore from Baltimore and catcher Hal Naragon from Cleveland. Cleveland has been casting sheep's eyes at Chicago first sacker Walt Dropo. Dropo is a power hitter and might be the answer to replacing Vic Wertz, who is said to be retiring even though he has recovered from his polio attack.

The Yankees put the quietus on a deluxe 15-man deal with Washington in which they were supposed to have gotten eight Senator players, mostly veterans, for seven Yankee kids, all second stringers.

However, President Calvin Griffifth of the Senators said he hoped a deal could be made.

Thinks Deal Possible

"In fact, I'm talking with our manager, Charley Dressen about it right now,' said Griffith. "I think we can make a deal with the Yankees."

Dressen said he'd be willing to give up lefty pitcher, Mickey McDermott, whom the Yankees are known to want, in favor of two Yankee players who could be used regularly in the patch-work Washington lineup.

The Giants declared their negotiations to get Red Schoendienst of the Cardinals had "died off" and they were looking elsewhere for a second baseman, although Bill Rigney, the new manager said "I'm ready to go with Foster Castleman, because I think he can do the job for us."

The Cubs reportedly put first baseman Dee Fondy on the market for a deal that might involve either the Phils or Redlegs.

Notre Dame Loses To Wisconsin 70-66

By UNITED PRESS

A record-tying scoring spree by Irish center Lloyd Aubrey couldn't overcome the balance of a taller Wisconsin team as Notre Dame went down to its second straight defeat Monday night 70-66 in Indiana college basketball play.

The 6-foot, 4-inch Auburey connected for 35 points to tie the all-time Notre Dame one-game scoring record previously shared by Joe Bertrand and Junior Stephens.

The game was close all the way with the issue in doubt until Badger forward Curt Mueller tallied an insurance basket for Wisconsin in the last three seconds.

Wisconsin was outscored from the field 19-24, but more than made up for deficit by hitting on 32 of 44 free throw attempts.

Veteran guard Dick Miller paced the winners with 25 points. It was Wisconsin's first victory in two games. It lost to Butler Thursday 67-63.

In other games, St. Joseph's defeated Bellarmine 87-82, and Vincennes beat Lincoln, Ill., 104-77.

Peter Muller Wins Unanimously Over Drake

NEW YORK (UP) — German Peter Muller who is regarded as a ring clown in some quarters, turned serious today and apologized for his unanimous 10-round decision over Ray Drake of New York Monday night at St. Nicholas Arena.

"Maybe I didn't look too good," he explained, "but all that Drake did was clutch and grab. I should be better for my next fight."

Muller has a date with welterweight Vince Martinez of Paterson, N.J., at Milwaukee, Wis. Dec. 29, and probably will be rewarded with another nationally - televised appearance at ancient St. Nicks late next month.

Although wild on occasions Muller landed enough solid blows Monday night to earn votes of all three officials. Judges Harold Barnes and Al Singer each scored the fight 6-3-1-.

Ligonier-Churubusco Basketball Game To Be Played Here

Principal Max Gandy has announced that the Churubusco-Ligonier basketball game will be played here at Marshall Memorial Hall Wednesday evening. This game was scheduled as a home game for Churubusco, but since the Eagles' gym is not yet completed the game will be played here.

Churubusco previously played its game with Wolf Lake at the local gym, but Mr. Gandy states no other such games are scheduled for the Columbia City gym.

Honus Wagner Dies At Age Of 81

PITTSBURGH (UP) — John Peter (Honus) Wagner, whose iron man exploits with the Pittsburgh Pirates made him baseball's "greatest shortstop of all time," died early today at his home in nearby Carnegie at the age of 81.

The famed "Flying Dutchman" died in his sleep at 12:56 a.m. at his bedsde were his wife Bessie his daughter-in-law, brother-in-law and other intimates of the family.

Wagner, who had been ill in recent years, made his last public appearance April 30 when he attended the unveiling of an 18-foot 40-ton bronze statue erected in his honor just beyond the left field wall at Forbes Field. He had been bedridden since last September when he injured his hip in a fall at his home.

The Hall of Fame hero with the peculiar bowlegged stance was one of baseball's legendary figures. He led the National League in batting eight times and was a .300-plus hitter for 17 straight seasons. He set records which are still intact and at which players have been aiming in vain for nearly half a century.

Honus spent 18 full seasons with the Pirates after coming here from Louisville in 1900. He starred in 100 or more games for both Louisville and Pittsburgh for 19 years.

Although one of baseball's greatest players and top drawing cards, he never got more than $10,000 a year for his services.

During his spectacular career, Wagner stole 720 bases, paced the National League in extra base hits seven years, led in triples five years and was first in doubles eight seasons. He played in 2,785 games posted a .329 lifetime batting average, made 4,320 putouts and 5,664 assists. He had only 612 errors for a .943 fielding average during his 21-year major league career.

Backstairs At The White House

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP)—Backstairs at the Gettysburg White House:

Presidential aides are doing everything possible to confine official business to President Eisenhower's downtown office. This is in line with the desire of the President and Mrs. Eisenhower to preserve their farm home as just that—a home. They don't want it made into an office.

But despite the best efforts of everybody concerned, the farm most days resembles a downtown parking lot. A typical count the other day showed at least 13 cars and trucks parked around the President's house and barn.

The White House staff is not too happy about Toffy, the black and white Shetland pony owned by the Eisenhower grandchildren and stabled on the President's farm for their use when they visit here.

It seems that the pony—true Scot that he is—has a slightly unpredictable streak. David, the President's 7-year-old-grandson, has ridden Tony a number of times and reportedly has been tossed off almost as often.

Every youngster who ever had a pony has been thrown. But with these particular youngsters, nobody takes any chances. So when David rides Tony or drives him, hitched to a pony cart, a Secret Service man always is right there to catch, grab, or take over.

Maybe the childrens' second pony of Asheville, N.C.—will prove more even-tempered. It is a brown and wh tie''hroes even-tempered. It is a brown and white "horse pony" 5 years old. and named, appropriately, "Little David."

The crisis atmosphere that pervaded the temporary White House in Denver after the Presidents heart attack Sept. 24 has vanished. Operations at Gettysburg now are about as routine as is possible on any presidential trip or visit outside Washington. With the President well on the way to recovery, newsmen rarely even ask anymore how he is feeling. When they do the anwser is "fine."

Not a broken bale in a barnful

Round bales are easy to handle and feed — no broken bales, no loose hay, no tangled wires or twine. No matter how many tons you put in the barn, every bale will come out whole and firm.

You couldn't buckle a round bale even if you tried. Drop 'em in the mow from a hay fork if you like. They just don't fall apart.

Best of all, round bales are better feed. Leaves are rolled inside . . . safe from shattering and weather. From field to feed rack you save all the leaves — the real feeding punch in quality hay.

We can arrange to show you some round bales. Stop in and see us.

Eisenhower

that the Pentagon would ask for a defense budget of about 35 billion dollars.

Asked what the United States planned to do in the heightening cold war in Berlin, Wilson said: "I don't know."

He added that the subject did not come up at the conference. The meeting, he said, was confined to the budget.

The administration wants to balance this year's budget and have prospects of doing the same for fiscal 1956-57 before asking Congress to reduce taxes.

Defense Is Budget Key

Defense is the dominant item in government spending and, as such is the key to Mr. Eisenhower's drive for a balanced budget and a tax reduction. The Pentagon's proposed spending figure for fiscal 1956-57 is reported to be about 35 billion dollars.

The military hopes to trim that figure some but is none too sure it can. The Pentagon is trying to keep spending for the current year limited to $34,500,000,000 but authorities say it is "going to be tough" to do so and accomplish everything "essential."

Wilson is not expected to ask for any big changes in miltary programs or in the distribution of funds between the Army, Air Force and Navy.

Conferences In Washington

The President's conference with Wilson and Hughes highlighted his work - and - rest schedule for today. He will be busy all week and will return to Washington Saturday for a monthly physical examination and conferences with Republican and bipartisan congressional groups.

The white house announced Monday that British Prime Minister Anthony Eden would come to Washington Jan. 30 for a discussion with Mr. Eisenhower of "mutual problems."

Officials said the conference would deal chiefly with Western strategy for coping with Russia in the light of the deadlock which occurred at the recent Geneva foreign ministers meeting.

mum wage, attempts to extend coverage of the minimum wage laws, extension of employment insurance and social security and which have held "it is a mistake for states to rush heedlessly into the passage of so-called 'right to work' laws."

Harriman's charge of anti-labor tactics by Eisenhower administration officials and his appeal for elimination of the "injustices" of the Taft-Hartley act were considered an indication of the Democratic stand in the 1956 presidential campaign.

Harriman, who is widely considered a possible candidate for the Democratic nomination for president at some later date, also urged:

1. Extending and raising the minimum wage to $1.25 an hour.
2. National minimum standard for unemployment insurance.
3. A medical care program to eliminate medical cost bankruptcy.

He also called for equitable retirement benefits for widows, better rehabilitation services for the handicapped, better education and training services, a national system of insurance for temporary disability, retirement benefits for the permanently disabled, federal aid to education and provision for the needs of older people.

Death Comes To Charles H. Baker; Rites Wednesday

Was A Native Of Larwill

Charles H. Baker, 81, retired carpenter, died at 2:10 p.m. Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Keiser, 207 West Ellsworth, where he had been making his home for quite some time.

He was a native of Larwill, and was born April 14, 1874, a son of William and Anna E. Kepner Baker. Mr. Baker is the last of his family, three brothers and three sisters having preceded him in death. He resided most of his life at Larwill, and prior to moving to Columbia City in the year 1939, he had made his home northeast of South Whitley.

The body has been removed to the Smith and Sons Funeral Home where friends may call after 7 p.m. today. The Rev. Graham L. Kleespie, pastor of Grace Lutheran church, will officiate at the funeral rites to be held Wednesday at 10 a.m. at the Funeral Home. Following a request of Mr. Baker, cremation will follow the funeral home rites at the crematory in the Lindenwood cemetery at Fort Wayne.

Tax Experts See Possibility Of Big Cut In 1956 Taxes

WASHINGTON (UP)—A group of business and tax experts today voiced the possibility of a giant slash in income, corporation and excise taxes next year and recommended that the biggest cut be in income taxes.

A seven-man subcommittee of the Committee for Economic Development (CED), a privately endowed organization, said a three to four billion dollar cut was possible. The bulk of the cuts, the group said, should be in income taxes with biggest reductions in the middle and higher income brackets.

But six leading economists advised Congress Monday against cutting taxes in the 1956 election year.

They agreed unanimously in testimony before a Senate-House economic subcommittee that the booming economy doesn't need — and shouldn't have — the stimulus of a tax cut.

Some said any budget surplus for the next fiscal year should be used to improve highways, schools and other service. Others felt a reduction in the national debt should have first priority.

ably bar state-supported schools from future integration in Southern football games.

There was widespread fear that the new policy would doom both Georgia and Georgia Tech, which together have been to 14 major bowl games in the past 15 years, as national football powers.

Georgia Students Protest

Some 500 University of Georgia students, who usually save their wrath for rival Tech in sports competition, held a sympathy demonstration late Monday night on the Athens, Ga., campus and burned the governor in effigy.

About the same time, some 25 persons burned an effigy of the governor on the library steps at Emory University, a Methodist-supported college in Atlanta, which fields no football team.

Athens police took into custody about 15 Georgia students as they turned their demonstration into a mild panty raid after their march downtown and the effigy burning.

Shortly after Gov. Griffin asked the regents to take action against Tech last Friday, some 2,000 Tech students burned the governor in effigy at least six times, marched on the state capitol and then demonstrated in front of the executive mansion.

Mercer Students Demonstrate

Students at Mercer University, a Baptist-supported school in Macon, Ga., also had burned the governor in effigy.

The regents adopted on a vote of 13 to 1 Monday the new rule which would enforce segregation in the stands and on the field of sports events played in Georgia.

The policy stated that in future contracts by state colleges no game conditions shall exist repugnant to the "laws, customs and traditions of the host state."

That would let Georgia teams play in other regions where there is no segregation or "do as the could not pay return visits to Geor-Romans do," as Gov. Griffin put it. But teams from those regions could not pay return visits to Georgia without leaving their Negro players home, which they probably would not do.

No Publication Of Detroit Papers

DETROIT (UP)—Negotiators for Detroit's three daily newspapers and striking AFL stereotype workers meet again today in efforts to settle the dispute which has suspended publication of the newspapers for five davs.

State and federal mediators said they would sit in on the "exploratory" talk which was scheduled to begin at 3 p.m. It was the fourth meeting scheduled since the 120 stereotypers struck the Detroit Free Press, the Detroit News and the Detroit Times at 4:30 a.m Thursday.

Officials of the three papers, represented jointly by the Detroit Newspaper Publishers' Assn., and the union agreed Monday night's six-hour session was "the friendliest so far."

OUTFIT FOR LOVERS—A single Cupid's arrow pierces the "hearts" of these showgirls in Tokyo, Japan, as they display a sort of twin dress for lovers. Tsukiko Akashi, left, and Shoko Fukakusa are the "lovers." Each one has an arm in that middle sleeve.

Misses Victory Luncheon

Mayor-Elect Garland F. Stickler, invited along with 72 other newly-elected Democratic mayors in Indiana to attend a victory luncheon Monday at Indianapolis, was forced to forego the event due to the illness of his wife, still hospitalized due to surgery two weeks ago.

At the luncneon Nelson Grills, 11th District chairman announced he will seek the gubernatorial nomination.

Not Yet Decided On Single-Shot Polio Inoculation Plan Says Salk

By MICHAEL J. O'NEILL
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—Dr. Jonas E. Salk said today it is "far from easy" to decide whether there should be a single-shot polio inoculation program to get Salk vaccine to more children in 1956.

"The hard fact," he said, "is that when you stretch the vaccine to twice as many children you don't get twice the effect. A lot of shots go to children in which polio incidence is low. And a lot of the children most susceptible to polio don't get the full protection privided by the present schedule."

Salk made the statements to a reporter as the nation's leading polio authorities met in secret session at the U.S. Public Health Service to decide the future of the vaccination program.

The big questions before the experts were: (1) Whether to recommend a temporary single shot program to spread available vaccine supplies among the greatest possible number of children next year; or (2) whether to continue giving a smaller number of children the presently recommended three shots over an eight month period.

The questions have been raised because of the significant protection given by only one shot during this year's program and because there won't be enough vaccine in 1956 to reach everyone.

Salk said he would not take a firm position on the one-shot program until he heard the facts presented at today's meeting.

Support for a one-shot program was strong. But government officials said it was "anybody's guess" what would come out of the secret meeting.

Scheele To Get Report

The recommendation of the experts, expected by nightfall, will be submitted to Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele, head of the Public Health Service. He may make a final decision himself or refer the issue to the government's full National Polio Advisory Committee which reports to the secretary of health, education and welfare.

The move for a one-shot inoculation program stems from two things: The fact that there isn't nearly enough vaccine to go around and reports that even one

County Contracts For 1956 Supplies; Purchases Tank

Whitley county's board of commissioners Tuesday contracted for certain supplies for 1956 at county institutions and purchased an asphalt mixing tank for the highway garage from the Steel Tank Fabricating Corp., Columbia City tank manufacturing firm.

The local tank manufacturer was the only bidder on supplying the tank complete with steam coils for heating and mixing of asphalt mix The bid was $1850.

Fuel Oil Bought

The commissioners awarded the contract for supplying approximately 25,000 gallons of No. 2 or medium grade fuel oil to the Fisher Oil Company, Columbia City, on its bid of 12.5 cents per gallon.

This was the lowest of the three bids received. The Silver Lake Oil Company bid 13 cents a gallon while the Ohio Oil Company's bid was 13.3 cents a gallon.

Bid on Clothing, Canned Goods

But one bid was received for supplying the necessary clothing for county farm inmates during the first quarter of 1956. This was from the Flox Department store. Ten per cent off list price was the firm's bid.

Yontz and Son's grocery with an 8 per cent discount on grocery staples and a 4 per cent discount on sugar, tobacco, and coffee, was the only bidder on grocery supplies for the county farm kitchens for the first quarter of 1956.

Get Printing Contract

The Buford Printing Company Indianapolis, was the successful bidder for supplying blank books, records, and stationery supplies for county offices in 1956.

Two other firms, the Waddell Printing Company of LaGrange and the Stump Printing Company of South Whitley, entered bids on Sections IV and V of the printing specification list. Their bids were not sufficiently low on items in these sections — printed office forms, stationery, bonds for suppliers —to be awarded the contracts for either of these two sections.

Mendes-France Expects To Be Premier Again

Has Pledge Of Socialist Party

By WILBUR G. LANDREY
United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS (UP) — Pierre Mendes-France, backed by the strongest political party in France, called a large-scale press conference today with the self-assurance of a man who expected to be premier again

He had scheduled the conference for Tuesday but postponed it until the Socialist Party, France's largest in Parliament, pledged itself to ally with Mendes-France and his left-of-center group in the forthcoming elections.

The conference, in the Radical Socialist Party headquarters in the Place Valois, was his first big one since he was voted out of office in February. Some 250 French and foreign newsmen were invited.

The dynamic Mendes - France who was called "Mr. France" by his supporters during the 232 days he held office, was expected to outline his political campaign by which he hopes to defeat Premier Edgar Faure, his one-time close friend who became his bitterest political enemy.

The Socialist Party's National Council agreed to allow Socialist candidates to ally themselves with Mendes-France and his left-of-center groups in the Jan. 2 elections. The left-wing group is made up of the small but influential Union of Socialist and Democratic Resistance (USDR), the Social Republicans (former Gaullists) and the Mendes-France faction of the Radicals.

Earlier the Socialists voted not to allow union with the Communists and they worded their agreement so carefully it allowed only an alliance with Mendes' folowers.

Though not especially pro-Mendes-France, the Socialists are bitter against Faure and against the Catholic MRP, the Popular Republican Movement.

Noble County Man Hurt In Cornpicker

Eugene M. Ott, R 2, Albion, lost a finger Tuesday when his right hand was caught in the cornpicker.

The accident happened about 1 p.m. while he was picking corn on the farm of Jess Winebrenner. The Winebrenner farm is two and one-half miles from Mr. Ott's farm. Several men were in the field at the time helping pick corn.

Tye Winebrenner, who was helping with the corn, rushed Mr. Ott to the Luckey hospital at Wolf Lake. The hospital reports this morning that he is improving satisfactorily.

Clement Attlee Resigns As Leader Of Labor Party

Served 20 Years As Party Leader

LONDON (UP) — Quiet little Clement Attlee, the giant-killer of British politics, announced his resignation today as leader of the British Labor Party.

Attlee, who whipped Winston Churchill himself in the 1945 elections, followed Churchill into retirement by only eight months.

He had served 20 years as party leader, 6 of them as postwar prime minister. For 5 war years he was Churchill's understudy.

Attlee announced his retirement dryly and without drama at the opening of a meeting of Labor members of Parliament. Then, looking old and very sad, he sought the privacy of his own office in the House where he could conceal his feelings.

Attlee's resignation signaled the jumpoff of a crucial three-way fight for his job as Labor Party leader—a post that makes its holder prime minister when the Laborites win an election.

Hugh Gaitskell, the staunchly pro-American economist who is a leader of the party's right wing, was favored to win the party leadership in balloting expected within a week.

His chief opposition lay in Aneurin Bevan, the left wing firebrand and "America hater" and in right wing veteran Herbert Morrison. But Gaitskell was the heavy favorite.

The moderate Attlee did not want to step down until the rivalries for his succession had sorted themselves out. But he turns 73 on JJan. 3 and he suffered a mild stroke last summer.

The Socialists, under his leadership, went down to painful defeat under the onslaught of Sir Anthony Eden's Conservative Party in the May 26 elections. So today the weary Attlee packed it up and left it to younger men.

Goal of Christian Service—

Acts 19:17 "The Name of Jesus was magnified," is the King James translation, while J. B. Phillips says "While the Name of the Lord Jesus became highly respected."

This time of year our thoughts naturally go toward Christmas, without many times thinking what it really means. Too often we glorify ourselves, our particular organization, or our ambitions, goals or desires and miss the supreme goal of Christian service.

The words of this Scripture reveals the right attitude toward our Saviour. The word "magnify" could very well be translated "worship," and worship means more than going to a public worship service on Sunday morning. To become a part— "that....ye might be partakers of the divine nature," said the Apostle Peter. To take part— and so exalt and glorify His Name. "A Name that is above every Name."

This should be our spirit in service. Man is a hero worshipper and someone will receive praise. Who is worthy? Who inspires us, directs and keeps us? Surely it is the Lord Jesus Christ. Therefore let us give praise to Him.

There are other names and all are rivals for our attention, and devotion. Many people are deceived. It is imperative that we not forget— The Name of Christ must be magnified and respected.

Urges Companies To Liberalize Dealer Contracts

Independent Businessmen To Guarantee That The Dealers Can Be

By DAYTON MOORE
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney demanded today that the Big Three auto manufacturers liberalize franchise agreements to guarantee that dealers can be "independent businessmen."

The Wyoming Democrat praised the General Motors Corp. for extending the period of its dealers franchises from one to five years. The action was announced Tuesday by GM President Harlow H. Curtice.

But O'Mahoney said his was only a "short step" which "does not deal with fundamentals, as example the fact that the termination of the contract can be made in exactly the same manner as before."

GM dealers still will be "told by the factory exactly what they must do to win renewal," although they will be relieved of the pressure of annual renewal, O'Mahoney added.

Dealer Franchise Contracts

He expressed hope that Ford and Chrysler will join General Motors in liberalizing dealer franchise contracts. He said the Senate Monopoly subcommittee, of which he is chairman, had not received any complaints from dealers of the smaller auto makers.

The subcommittee, which is investigating General Motors' impact on the nation's economy, called top GM executive for questioning today about auto bootleg-

AFL-CIO Deals With Its First Major Dispute

At Meeting Called To Form Industrial Union Department

By JACK WOLISTON
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—The new AFL CIO deals today with its first major internal dispute at a meeting called to form the Industrial Union Department of the huge new labor organization.

Walter P. Reuther, former president of the CIO, was slated to head the new department which will consist of some 51 separate unions with six million members. James B. Carey, former secretary-treasurer of the CIO, was expected to be named Reuther's assistant.

The controversy raged over regulations for admission into the IUD, by far the biggest division within the 16 million member AFL-CIO organization.

The men who brought the AFL and the CIO together into one organization had ruled that the new department would admit only those unions with members organized on an industry - wide basis.

Many specific problems arose in unions which have members organized both by crafts and on an industry-wide basis.

Most of the opposition came from Dave Beck, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters. As head of the 1,400,00-man union he has held extensive power in the American labor movement.

An AFL-CIO Executive Council ruling Monday night was expected to reduce his power considerably. It permits only about half of Beck's union members — those organized on an industry-wide basis —to join the IUD. The remainder would be routed into other sections of the new labor organization.

To Abide By Decision

Beck originally attempted to have his entire union admitted into the IUD. He agreed later to abide by the decision of President George Meany to admit only members organized on an industry-wide basis. He said these would include dairy, canning, taxicab, production and over-the-road truck drivers.

A few hours before the initial IUD meeting today Beck said he would not pull out of the AFL-CIO as long as his union got the same treatment as everyone else. He said he would refuse to cooperate if the new organization did not operate under "one rule book'.

Reuther, who still heads the powerful United Auto Workers union, said it was not his intention to make the IUD into a "union within a union," and he said he did not plan to make the department a power bloc in the new organization.

$1700 Damage In Auto Crash

Damage to vehicles involved Tuesday afternoon in a collision at Line and Jefferson streets reached an estimated total of $1,700, according to police reports.

The 1951 Ford sedan operated by Mrs. Ivan Snapp, 310 West Jefferson street, was considered a total loss when it crashed into the 1950 Oldsmobile sedan of James D. Pelfry, 23, who resides at 315 North Line street. Mrs. Snapp was on Jefferson street, struck the Pelfry car which was northbound on Line street. Pelfry's vehicle was also considered a total loss.

Mrs. Snapp was arrested following the collision for failing to yield the right of way. The accident happened at 1:10 p.m. and was investigated by Harry Prumm, city police officer. The only injury resulting was a bruised leg received by Mrs. Snapp.

Firemen Save Barn As Shed Is Destroyed

Flames Char Barn Siding On Jesse And Fred Sell's Farm

Fire which consumed a tool shed on the Jesse and Fred Sell farm in Thorncreek township Tuesday night, charred the siding of a bank barn standing only five or six feet away from the shed but the combined efforts of firemen working from three fire trucks saved the barn from destruction.

The shed, about 20 by 30 feet square, contained 100 bushels of corn, hand tools, a cornsheller, and miscellaneous farm equipment but no large machinery. It was completely destroyed. This building burned like tinder, the roof collapsing almost before the arrival of the firemen.

Answering the call to the Sell farm which is a mile and a half north of Columbia City on state road 109, then one-half mile west on a county road, was the Four Townships fire truck driven by Herbert E. Wolfe, city fireman. On reaching the fire, John Wilkerson, Thorncreek township fire chief, put in a call for the assistance of the Larwill fire department. Larwill dispatched its two trucks which were given police escort through Columbia City. These two pumpers arrived just as the water supply of the Four Townships truck was exhausted.

The fire was under control, however, as Larwill arrived on the scene, but efforts were continued to keep the barn from being destroyed. The siding on the barn burned, but the structure was saved.

The fire was discovered by the women in the Sell household who happened to glance outside about 6:45 p.m. A call for the fire department was placed at once though it was known at first glance that the shed could not be saved. The barn which caught fire repeatedly as the shed burned to the ground, was saved by liberal use of water from the three pumping units. The farmhouse was not endangered. It stands about 100 feet from the barn.

Rayburn Discusses Problem Of Schooling Retarded Children

Russell Rayburn from the State Board of Education met with the township trustees and with superintendents, Harry Yoder and Edward E. Glenn, Tuesday afternoon to discuss with them the problem of schooling the retarded children of the community.

At the present time 16 children are attending the Opportunity School at the Lutheran Parish House sponsored by the Whitley County Council for Retarded Children. Five additional children were enrolled this fall.

Mr. Rayburn evplained how some of the counties through the State Board of Education are furnishing facilities and teachers for conducting the schools and the problems that confront them. He gave the trustees and superintendents an opportunity to ask and discuss any questions which might be confronting them.

He also told them of many accomplishments that had been made by different individuals who had had the opportunity to attend these schools. He stated that the teachers must not only have the desire to teach these children but that they must also be trained.

Judith Gaff To Have Surgery

Judith M. Gaff, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Gaff of near Ormas, was admitted to the St. Joseph hospital at Fort Wayne today. She is scheduled to undergo a bronchoscopy and major surgery Friday morning.

She has been seriously ill for several weeks with bronchial pnuemonia. She is a student at the Washington Center, Noble county school.

Her condition is regarded as serious.

Mrs. Woodfin Jones To Undergo Surgery

Mr. and Mrs. Woodfin Jones and daughter, accompanied by Mrs. Jones' mother, Mrs. Oscar Ribley of Boonville who has been their guest here, left today for the Ribley home at Boonville. Mrs. Jones is to enter an Evansville hospital Thursday to be prepared for surgery Friday. She and her daughter will stay with her parents through the holidays while she is recuperating. Mr. Jones, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, expects to return here next weekend.

Police, Troopers Called To Break Demonstration

Discharge Tear Gas Among Yelling Throng Of University Students

ATHENS, Ga. (UP) — Police and troops used tear gas to break up a yelling throng of more than 1,500 University of Georgia male students during a campus demonstration early today.

State highway patrolmen arrested two students and discharged tear gas among the swirling horde of demonstrators who blocked traffic, threw rocks at patrol cars and hung effigies of a university dean.

This was a fifth campus demonstration to be staged in the state since Gov. Marvin Griffin proposed that Georgia Tech be forbidden to play in the Sugar Bowl game Jan. 2 because of rival Pittsburgh's Negro full back.

The target this time was not on the state capitol and the governor's mansion, but Dean of Men William Tate, because he is disciplining students for their part in a "sympathy" rally by Georgia students two nights ago.

The State Board of Regents, governing both institutions, voted after Tech's riotous protest to permit the Sugar Bowl game. The board is still debating precise terms for enforcing the state's segregation traditions in future athletic contests.

The regents ordered strict segregation in contests played within the state with some tolerance of racial mingling according to the "ground rules" of the localities involved in out-of-state games.

The regents' opinions appear to favor letting the athletic officials of Georgia and Georgia Tech schedule future games without direct interference so long as they follow that general policy.

Regent Charles Bloch said late Tuesday he wanted to reconsider a proposal he made for setting up a "screening" of all prospective bowl games by the regents to safeguard the board's policy toward mixed athletics.

No Public Report To Be Given On The Discussions

Preparatory To Report To Congress Due In January

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP)—President Eisenhower examined the national economy today and found it in good shape.

The President spent almost two hours going over the latest economic indicators and prospects with his top economic advisers.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said afterwards that there would be no public report on the discussions, since they were preparatory to a formal report to Congress due in January.

But to a reporter's inquiry whether the talks showed the economy in good shape, Hagerty replied: "Yes, sure."

Mr. Eisenhower, working on a series of messages he will send to Congress in January, called in for today's talks Dr. Arthur F. Burns, chairman of his Council of Economic advisers, and Gabriel Hauge the presidential adviser on economic matters.

Tuesday the President discussed the military budget with Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson.

Wilson announced after a 90-minute conference with Mr. Eisenhower Tuesday that the administration will try to hold defense spending next year to about $34,500,000,000. This is the same goal the Pentagon is shooting for in the current fiscal year.

Hagerty also announced that Mr. Eisenhower had accepted the resignation of Morehead Patterson as U.S. representative in negotiations looking toward establishing an international atomic energy agency.

Patterson submitted his resignation Dec. 3 along with a progress report on his negotiations.

The President spent a quiet afternoon Tuesday at his farm. After lunch, he napped for an hour, and then took a walk with his physician, Dr. Howard McC. Snyder.

Benson Says Administration May Restore 90 Per Cent Parity On Top Quality Products

By BERNARD BRENNER
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson said today there is a possibility the administration will restore 90 per cent price supports on "top quality products only."

Benson emphasized, in reply to a United Press questionnaire, that he is not abandoning the administration's flexible support program which has been under heavy fire from Democrats.

But he said "we are exploring" a limited 90 per cent support plan "especially as it concerns next year's wheat crop." He does not regard this as a "compromise" with high-support advocates.

"I think that we must recognize and will recognize differentials for quality," he said. "Therefore, I think that there may be some possibilities for 90 per cent of parity supports on these top-quality products only."

Plan Support Grows

The general idea of restoring 90 per cent supports on top-grade basic farm crops already has attracted backing from several leading Farm Belt senators, including Chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La) of the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Ellender described the proposal as a possible compromise between Benson's flexible program and the rigid high price guarantees in effect under previous Democratic administrations.

Sen. Milton Young (R-ND) said the Benson proposal "sounds feasible" and seems to match "exactly" the plan he hopes the Senate Agriculture Committee will present to Congress next year.

Sen. Karl Mundt (R-SD) said he considers Benson's proposal a constructive step "in keeping with recommendations the (agriculture) committee will make next year."

Supports Can Vary

Under the former program, originally drafted to spur wartime production of scarce foods and fibers, the government supported six basic crops at 90 per cent of the so-called "fair" parity price. Under present law, supports may range from 75 to 90 per cent.

The "basics" are wheat, corn, cotton, peanuts, rice and tobacco. Tobacco still is supported at 90 per cent under a special law.

An aide emphasized that Benson was not commenting directly on Ellender's proposal. He said the secretary merely was dealing with the general idea of a price support differential based on quality.

In his replies to the questionnaire, Benson stoutly defended flexible supports as an overall farm program.

"I do not believe we can get anywhere by raising prices above the levels where commodities will sell," he said. "...We must market what the public wants and at price levels that will clear the market."

REMEMBER PEARL HARBOR

We wonder how many paused for a moment today to think of the anniversary of Pearl Harbor?

The Navy Club will dedicate a memorial on Ford Island near where Japanese planes killed more than 2,000 Navy men on that December 7th, 14 years ago. The only other event marking the day will be a short memorial conducted by Navy personnel aboard the sunken battleship Arizona in Pearl Harbor waters.

December 7, 1941, was on Sunday All radio programs were interrupted to make the horrible announcement which stunned the listeners. Everything came to a startling standstill.

After 14 years, we wonder how many, with the exception of those who lost loved ones, really "Remember Pearl Harbor."

Audience Awards Go To Jennifer Jones, The Late James Dean

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—The movie-going public gave its own version of the Oscar Tuesday night to Jennifer Jones and the late James Dean in the nation's first audience award poll for the best performances of 1955.

The pair was named by 14 million film ticket buyers in the first poll conducted in theaters around the country by a motion picture theater owners' organization council.

Miss Jones has an Oscar at home for her first picture "Song of Bernadette," but she excitedly announced that her audience award "Audie' statuette "means more than the Academy Award because the people who see the movies do the voting, and not the people who make the movies.'

She was handed her gold trophy, a figure of a woman holding a star, by William Holden at a banquet attended by 800 stars, exhibitors and press in the Beverly Hilton Hotel.

The award voted Dean was regarded the first of several posthumous honors expected for the 24-year-old sensitive actor who was killed in a crash of his sports car shortly after he rose to stardom in "East of Eden."

As his name was announced, master-of-ceremonies George Murphy asked the audience to stand in silence for six seconds. Natalie Wood, Dean's co-star in "Rebel Without a Cause,' accepted the statuette for the deceased actor and described him as "touched with greatness.

Awards were also given for the best picture to "Mr. Roberts," the film version of a hit play about Navy life; to Peggy Lee of "Pete Kellys Blues" as the most promising new actress; and to Tab Hunter of "Battle Cry, as the most promising new actor.

Dedicate Monument To Navy Men Who Died At Pearl Harbor

HONOLULU (UP) — The first monument to all the Navy men who died during the Pearl Harbor attack will be dedicated today on the 14th anniversary of the sneak assault.

This ceremony and a 15-minute memorial observation conducted by Navy personnel aboard the sunken battleship, Arizona, in the placid waters of Pearl Harbor will be the only events to mark the day in 1941 which gave the United States its World War II battle cry of "Remember Pearl Harbor."

The Navy Club will unveil the memorial—a simple bronze plaque mounted on a two-ton lava rock on Ford Island within a stones throw of "Battleship Row" where Japanese planes concentrated their heaviest attack and killed more than 2,000 Navy men.

The plaque weighs about 20 pounds and depicts a woman symbolizing peace holding a ship and a palmleaf above this inscription:

"In reverent recognition of divine guidance and to eternal memory of those who gave last full measure devotion to their country this monument is dedicated humbly to their sacrifice in defense of our freedoms.'

The Navy Club bought the plaque with voluntary contributions from its members throughout the United States and territories. Club National Commandant Charles R. Topp, Davenport, Iowa, will head a delegation of about a dozen members here for the dedication.

Remains To Be Seen Which Taxpayers And Politicians Benefit Most From Proposed Cuts

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—An income tax reduction next year is almost in the bag now. But it remains to be shown which taxpayers will get the most benefit and which politicians the most credit.

The election year tax cut was bagged Tuesday at Gettysburg where President Eisenhower agreed on defense spending with the appropriate officials. The target figure for the fiscal year which begins next June 30 was fixed at $34,500,000,000.

That is about $17,250,000,000 in pre-war dollars the dollar having shrunk since 1939 to the equivalent of four bits under a political and wartime squeeze. If the dollar remains relatively stable in the next 18 months as it has for the past couple of years there is a fair chance that the Pentagon spending officers will not much exceed in fiscal 1957 the $34,500,000,000 within which thier commander-in-chief has ordered them to remain.

Defense spending is not being cut much if any. The experts say the real significance of the Gettysburg figure is that there will be no cut in defense spending merely to make a tax cut possible and no increase in defense spending in response to an intensification of the cold war — or the Geneva disappointment.

With defense spending on a fairly even level, the logical keys to tax reduction seem to lie in three other fields. They are: (1) Revenue, which probably will increase beyond estimates; (2) agriculture and how much subsidy will be voted for farmers; (3) foreign aid and what will be done to meet the stepped-up Soviet challenge in that field.

They will be factors in the final decision. But a fourth factor is presidential year politics.

Both parties urgently desire to win friends among voters next year. There are few better means of doing so than by reducing taxes.

Unofficial reports recently credited the treasury with estimating now for a budget surplus in fiscal 1957 ranging from two billion to four billion dollars. This assumes that Congress, the administration, the farm bloc and others are willing to hold the spending line.

There's a school bloc, too, a big one. And a lot of persons in and out of congress are seeking bigger sums for roads. All of these will have their impact on spending.

The most favorable factor is zooming national production which increases treasury income. Increased revenues are so much political gravy in an election year.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) recently proposed "tax revision to benefit the low income groups." That would be by increasing exemptions which would remove some millions of persons from the tax rolls altogether.

Something along those lines is likely, perhaps accompanied with some added relief for higher bracket taxpayers. There is considerable Republican support for the latter, but probably not enough to prevent an exemption hike which would confine substantial relief to the lowest income groups.

That's where the votes are.

Charles Wins Decision Over Hall

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UP)—It's still too early to count Ezzard Charles out of the heavyweight picture.

The former champion kept his comeback hopes alive Tuesday night when he pounded out a unanimous 10-round decision over Toxie Hall of Chicago that avenged a loss to Rocky Marciano's stablemate last month.

Charles took command of the bout at the outset and seemed to get stronger as it progressed. There were no knockdowns but Charles stunned the stubby Hall with a right to the jaw as the bell sounded ending the eighth round.

Hall, 191¼, tried to move inside at the beginning of the bout but was kept at long range by Charles' left hooks. The bout was the first major boxing event in the new War Memorial Stadium.

Charles, of Cincinnati, weighed in at 197½ pounds.

Explosion Blamed On Hot Water Tank

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—An explosion which destroyed the $65,000 Sigma Chi fraternity house on the Butler University campus No. 19 was blamed today on a hot water tank.

The state fire marshal's office announced Tuesday an investigation pinpointed the tank as the cause but did not establish whether faulty construction or installation was responsible.

TOKYO (UP) — The Japanese government announced officially today that investigations revealed the recent Russian hydrogen explosion took place in the desolate Lake Baikal region of Siberia.

The sprawling lake is located in central Siberia just north of the Outer Mongolian border.

Moscow Radio, in a broadcast beamed at Japan, attacked speculation that dust from the nuclear explosion was harmful. "If the Soviet radioactivity is actually dangerous, the first to feel the effects of that danger would be Russia which is spread out over a wide area," the broadcast said.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (UP) — The revolutionary government Tuesday night revoked a Peron decree which legalized prostituion in Argentina nearly a year ago.

The Peron decree, ending a 19-year ban on prostitution, was issued on Dec. 30, 1954 at the height of the feud between deposed dictator Juan D. Peron and the Roman Catholic Church. It authorized the mayor of Buenos Aires and all provincial and territorial governors to open brothels.

LONDON (UP) — The British Medical Assn. warned Parliament today that unscrupulous drug dealers can cook heroin on a kitchen stove and beat any government ban on its manufacture.

The House of Commons now has such a ban under consideration.

The BMA, in a statement distributed to members of Parliament, argued that the drug can be strictly controlled only so long as physicians have the say-so on its use.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UP) — Cornell University Professor Vincent du Vigneaud is in Stockholm today to receive the 1955 Nobel Prize for chemistry.

Vignead was awarded the prize by the Swedish Academy of Science for his work on sulphur compounds, especially for the first synthesis of a polyeptide hormone.

His visit to Sweden will be climaxed Saturday when King Gustaf Adolf hands Vigneaud the prize check for $36,720.

NEW DELHI, India (UP)—David Marshall, chief minister of Singapore, said Tuesday his city-state status of a sovereign member of the British Commonwealth.

Marshall told the Times of India he was not asking for complete independence for Singapore at present and would be content if foreign affairs and defense remained in the hands of the British by some kind of treaty for the time being.

Cranberry Pie Helps To Glamorize Your Feast

NEW YORK — (UP) — What a "conversation piece" to round out the Christmas dinner? Cranberry chiffon pie looks like a production, but actually it is easy to make; even less work when a graham cracker crust is substituted for a baked pie shell (9-inch).

It's made this way:

Dissolve 1 package lemon-flavored gelatin in ½ cup boiling water, and put aside. Combine in saucepan 1 can unstrained cranberry sauce (whole cranberries) 1 tablespoon lemon juice and ⅛ teaspoon salt. Heat mixture to boiling point then remove from gas range and add gelatin. Stir until dissolved, then chill until it begins to thicken. Beat 2 egg whites until stiff and gradually add 1-4 cup sugar. Do not underbeat. Whip separately ½ cup heavy cream, and fold both egg white meringue and whipped cream into cranberry mixture. Pour into baked pie shell or graham cracker pastry shell and chill until set.

Gas Mileage goes up AGAIN

With all the big excitement of Buick's 1956 styling and power and ride and handling – it's easy to overlook this fact:

Gas mileage in the '56 Buicks takes a big step upward.

One reason, of course, is the new power plant itself.

Every new Buick cradles an advanced 322-cubic-inch V8 engine with the highest horsepowers, Series for Series, in all Buick history. Yet every engine delivers more efficiency, and more usable power to the rear wheels—because each one has a new double "Y" manifolding, and a new high in compression ratio.

But the major reason for the happy news in gas mileage—and for the new step-up in safety and thrills—is Buick's latest version of Variable Pitch Dynaflow.

In this airplane-principled transmission, you always had a gas-saving cruising range—and, at a switch of the pitch, a full-power getaway range.

Now Buick engineers have brought to this cruising range what they call "double regeneration." It simply means a new way to make flowing oil add to its own velocity to build up driving force.

So now, you merely nudge the pedal to part throttle and get new breakaway getaway. And since you get this quicker, safer response in your normal cruising range—where you don't use full power—you get plenty more miles from every tankful of gas.

But when you do need sudden safety-surge for emergencies, you just floor the pedal to switch the pitch. Instantly, you're at full-power acceleration—and it's the most thrilling safety measure in the land.

How about coming in to try the most modern transmission yet?

The absolute smoothness of this new Dynaflow is worth a visit in itself. So you can be sure you're in for a wealth of wonderful surprises—for that's just the start of the best Buick yet. Can you make it this week?

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.*

Best Buick yet

Jet Plane Explodes, Levels Dwelling

RICHMOND, Va. (UP)—A Navy Banshee jet plane exploded in the air and crashed today into an exclusive residential section, demolishing one fine residence and setting another ablaze.

Firemen and police who rushed to the scene were amazed to discover that there were no deaths and that the only injuries were a few minor burns to some of the six persons in the dwelling that was virtually leveled by the impact.

The pilot managed to eject himself from his plane and parachuted to safety, landing several miles from the scene of destruction in exclusive Windsor Farms.

Two women and four young children were in the home of businessman Benjamin Dennis when the jet slammed into the structure about 9:30 a.m. Somehow they managed to get out, almost without a scratch. An unidentified passerby helped get the children out. One of the women was an 18-year-old Negro maid.

Three of the persons in the house were taken to a hospital for observation.

The other residence, that of Thomas F. Walton, was not occupied. The fire in that house was brought under control within an hour, but firemen were treading carefully around the Dennis home in the belief that one of the fuel tanks from the jet still was imbedded in the ruins.

MOTOR MAIDS

Are You a 'Crazy Driver'?

By Betty Skelton, Dodge Test Driver

"Danger!" "Slow—Bad Corner!" "Reduce Speed!"

Those are signs of the times that every motorist should heed, for oft-times they mean the difference between a safe trip and a nasty accident.

There's a new one that has come into prominence recently, however, that seems to me to be more appropriate than warnings about excessive speeds—"Watch Out for that Crazy Driver!"

We women drivers are not normally as speedy as our male counterparts, yet it appears that men, too, have been somewhat maligned by accusations of contributing in large measure to accidents through high speeds.

Miss Skelton

After analyzing 9,000 mishaps, the Pennsylvania Turnpike safety committee reported that high speed was "not a measurable factor. Accidents are primarily the result of driver failure."

Contrariness Causes Accidents

Three other surveys, in Michigan, Indiana, and Illinois, conclude that many drivers pay little attention to traffic rules and that driver contrariness contributes more to accidents than speed.

The Pennsylvania report said "Ninety-three per cent of the (9,000) accidents involved cars traveling at less than 60."

The answer to the accident problem, according to the turnpike group, "involves the necessity of educating people to recognize the part they play. Accidents are primarily the result of driver failure. Driver education and training appear to be the most promising keys to accident reduction."

In Michigan, it was found that posted speed limits acted as a spur on many drivers. In a 45-mile zone, 85 per cent of the vehicles clocked averaged 50.4 mph. Significantly, the same percentage appeared in reports of the University of Illinois, and Purdue University in Indiana.

Exert Your Influence

It appears obvious, therefore, that we women could do the nation—and our families—a favor by exerting more of that feminine influence we're supposed to have.

You may not be a "crazy driver" yourself, but possibly there's one in your family who could be persuaded to use more caution.

A little education still goes a long way.

America's most famous woman driver, Miss Skelton holds the woman's automotive speed record of 143.44 mph, and is the only woman test driver in the automotive industry. Address any questions or suggestions about cars, safety, and driving problems to her in care of this newspaper.

New State Highways Have Limited Access

By VIRGIL SMITH
Chairman, Indiana State Highway Department.

The sole purpose for the existence of State highways - and the objective to which all Highway employes dedicate themselves - is the movement of traffic from where it is to where it wants to go.

The Indiana State Highway Department spends in the neighborhood of $50,000,000 a year on maintenance and construction, yet with the vast expenditure many of the highways become functionally obsolete long before they wear out.

In years past - when automobiles were still more or less a novelty - roads were designated as "to and from market" roads. Practically all highways were used as a means to get to and from home, farms, factories, and businesses. Today, with 2,000,000 automobiles registered in the State of Indiana and each mile of highway carrying a million miles of travel each year, experience has proved that some highways must be constructed and designated as "through" highways, in order to facilitate the safe movement of high-speed traffic with as little obstruction as possible.

The appalling human and economic toll of motor vehicle accidents, temper-provoking congestion and the delays in the movement of traffic have forced a number of decided changes in engineering design. Not the least of these changes is limited or controlled access.

The first forceful step in this direction was made by the Federal Government when it requires that all new construction on inter-state routes - routes leading through one State to another and carrying the same route number - must be with limited access. In Indiana there is something like 1,065 miles of inter-state routes. To take advantage of the Federal Aid these roads must be built with limited access.

The feasibilty of lmited access has proved itself to those who spend very much time on our highways. The Lafayette by-pass is a glaring example of what can happen to a route when it is not protected against adjacent business developments. S. R. 37 through Marion has become just another city street.

The location of new construction, whether it be a by-pass or a straight road has taken on a different complexion since the limited access came into use.

Prior to the application of the law, the Highway Department had attempted to locate by-passes so they would be easily available to the particular city or town, yet far enough from it to avoid congestion. Experience proved, however, that the city soon built out to the by-pass and within a few years the by-pass was just another city street with all the attendant traffic congestions. Today, with the limited access law in operation, it has been found that by-passes may be constructed near the business community thereby being more available to that community, and yet be protected against haphazard roadside ribbon developments.

COLUMBUS, Miss. (UP) — A $150,000 replacement for the 50-year-old "honor system" jail was being planned by the board of supervisors today.

A number of prisoners have proved they could dig through the jail's crumbling walls with spoons and escape.

Passes Sentence

CHICAGO (UP)—Fred J. Estrada, 20, on trial on charges of drunk driving, was asked by Judge Joseph J. Butler, "Do you know what they do to drunken drivers like you?"

"They get a year in the county jail," Estrada said.

"You have just passed your own sentence," the judge said.

John L. Dulles Started Something When He Referred To Far East Portuguese Provinces

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles started something when he referred last Friday to "Portuguese provinces in the Far East."

Dulles made the reference in a joint statement with visiting Portuguese Foreign Minister Paulo Arsenio Verissimo Cunha.

He made it in joining with Cunha in a criticism of the speeches made in India by Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin and Russian Communist Party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev.

The Soviet ambassadors of ill will had denounced Portugal's continued possession of Goa, Diu and Daman, three pinpoints of territory on the map of India.

To Cover Embarrassment

Now dispatches from India report that the Dulles-Cunha statement has caused violent anger in India and has started a wave of anti-American feeling.

The anger is so intense, in fact, that it seems to be a little strained.

Would it be unfair to suggest that the outburst against Dulles helps to cover the embarrassment of Indians over the blatant attacks made by the Kremlin's Rover Boys on the Western Democracies?

Indians do resent bitterly the refusal of Portugal to give up the little territories it has possessed since 1510. There is no doubt about that.

Indian Prime Minister Jawaharhal Nehru already has coerced France into giving up its possessions in India.

He has announced his determination to get Goa, Diu and Daman.

But the fact is that these tiny territories which total 1537 square mies and have a population of about 38000 are Portuguese provinces as Dulles called them. They are not classed as colonies.

Anti-colonial Sentiment

Ought Dulles to have called them something else in a joint statement with the foreign minister of a fellow member with the United States of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization?

Ought he to have kept silent about the anti-Western statements of Bulganin and Khrushchev?

It is still uncertain how much Nehru intends to make of the incident.

But it is certain that the United States has shown its good will to India. Its anti-colonial sentiment has been traditional throughout its history.

Had it not ben for the United States, it may be that countries like India, Pakistan and Indonesia would not have attained their freedom after World War II.

It is certain also that the United States has helped India substantially as part of its foreign aid program and that Russia offers nothing that is not paid for.

The incident over the "Portuguese provinces" is unfortunate. It will help Bulganin and Khrushchev. But it is to be hoped that it will simmer down to its proper size.

Eagles Defeat Bulldogs

The Columbia City Eagles defeated the South Whitley Bulldogs 46-38, in a hard-fought contest Tuesday night at Marshall Memorial Hall. The Bulldogs worked the ball quickly in an effort to get openings for good shots. South Whitley maintained a lead until midway through the third period when Schwartz sank a free throw to put the Eagles out in front 26-25.

Woodham, Deutsch, Schwartz, Bridge, and Martin started for Columbia City and Evans, Cordill, Easterday, Graf, and Feagler made up the starting five for South Whitley.

South Whitley took the opening tip but was unable to score, and Columbia City netted four consecutive points. With 3:36 remaining in the quarter, the score was tied 5-5 and later at 7-7 and 9-9. The Bulldogs went ahead 11-9 with twenty seconds left and led 13-9 at the close of the initial period.

In the second quarter the Bulldogs capitalized on bad Eagle passes and were able to grab many rebounds away from the taller Columbia City squad, to increase their lead. South Whitley held a 25-19 edge over the Eagles at halftime.

The Eagles pulled ahead in the third period with improved ball handling and control of the boards. With 4:49 remaining, the Eagles had come within two points, 25-23. Midway through the stanza, the score was tied 25-25. A double foul was called and Schwartz sank his free throw to put the Eagles ahead 26-25. The Bulldogs regained their lead 29-28 with 1:22 yet to be played, but a field goal and two free throws gave Columbia City a 32-29 lead at the three quarter stop.

South Whitley pressed Columbia City in the final period and intercepted several passes, but the Eagles were able to widen the margin and win 46-38.

Woodham paced the Eagles in scoring with 16 points and Schwartz contributed 10 points to the Eagle cause. Easterday, the Bulldogs mainstay scored 22 points for South Whitley.

Officials for the game were Mosier and Heppner of Woodburn.

The Columbia City reserves won the preliminary tilt 28-23. The Eagle "B" squad led at all quarter stops 8-6, 16-14, 20-15, and finally 28-23.

Hopalong Cassady, Who Led Ohio State To Second Championship Is Player Of Year

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP) — Howard (Hopalong) Cassady, the brilliant halfback who led Ohio State to a second consecutive Big Ten championship, was named the United Press' "Player of the Year" today in a nationwide poll of 307 sportswriters and broadcasters.

The 21-year old Cassady, a two-time All-America and winner of the Heisman Trophy this year, was voted the honor by an overwhelming margin. He received 134 votes —more than were received by the next eight players in the balloting.

Jim Swink, Texas Christian's explosive breakaway back, was second in the balloting with 47 votes followed by Paul Hornung of Notre Dame (19 votes), Ron Kramer of Michigan and Earl Morrall of Michigan State (15 votes each) Bob Pelligrini of Maryland (12 votes) and Jon Arnett of Southern California and Bo Bolinger of Oklahoma (nine votes each).

Blocker And Runner

Although relatively small — he stands five feet, 10 inches and weighs 172 pounds — Cassady was rated an outstanding blocker and defensive player as well as a splendid runner. In four years of competition in the rugged Big Ten, Cassady gained 2,491 yards rushing and averaged 5.5 yards per try.

Cassady scored 90 points for the Buckeyes this year and was the No. 1 choice of the Detroit Lions in the National Football League's player draft last week. Cassady has indicated that he intends to play at least one year of professional football before entering military service. He later hopes to become a coach.

Cassady, who studies movies of Ohio State's games in order to detect and correct flaws in his style, is married and the father of a son who will be two years old this month. A native of Columbus, Ohio, he attended Central High School and also is the regular center field on Ohio State's baseball team.

Top Running Back

Swink, who is often called a "carbon copy of Doak Walker," was the year's leading ground-gainer in major college competition. Although only a junior, Swink already is considered as one of the finest running backs ever developed in the Southwest Conference. A native of Rusk, Tex., he stands six feet, one inch and weighs 185 pounds.

Hornung, a 19-year old junior from Louisville, Ky., was converted to a T-quarterback this year and led Notre Dame to eight victories in 10 games. A rugged six-foot, two-inch, 205-pounder, typified the new emphasis on running T-quarterbacks and was especially brilliant against Miami, (Fla.), Navy and Iowa.

Kramer, a 20-year old, 218-pounder from Detroit, was the outstanding player on a Michigan team which was a Rose Bowl contender until its final game; Morrall, the 180-pound T-quarterback who ran Michigan State's tricky multiple offense, was the key player in the Spartans' campaign and Pellegrini, a 225-pound center, was the bulwark of unbeaten Maryland's powerful defensive squad.

High Gun Named Champion Older Horse

MIAMI (UP) — King Ranch's High Gun, who had to carry high weight all year and won three big stakes despite it, today was named "Champion Older Horse of 1955" by the selection board of the Thoroughbred Racing Associations.

Misty Morn Named Outstanding Filly

MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—Misty Morn, who finished out of the money only seven times in 22 trips to the post this year, has been named the outstanding three-year-old filly of the year by the Thoroughbred Racing Assn. Misty Morn becomes the second horse trained by Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons to win a division title in the annual TRA poll. Nashua earlier was named top three-year-old colt.

Baker - Valdes 10-Rounder Tonight

CLEVELAND (UP) — Big Bob Baker of Pittsburgh will take a million-dollar gamble tonight in his heavyweight challengers' fight with lofty Nino Valdes of Cuba at the Cleveland Arena.

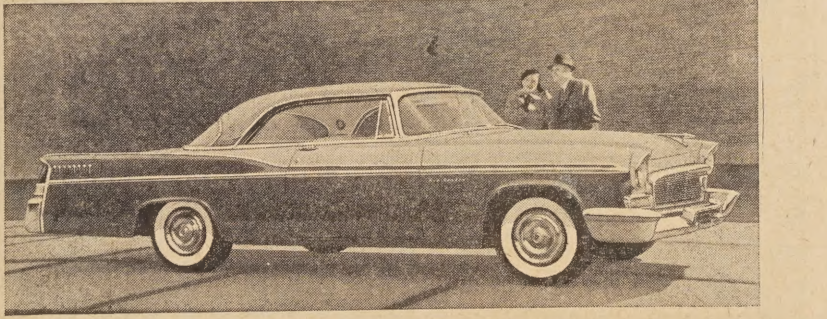
Mr. Floyd Clymer

"Best car manufactured in America today"

That's what Floyd Clymer, famous automobile authority, said about Chrysler in Popular Mechanics (October)



"I have tested many fine automobiles over all kinds of terrain," writes Mr. Clymer, "and in my judgment Chrysler is the best automobile manufactured in America today."

When you compare this Chrysler with the other two major cars in its price class, you will be in for an electrifying awakening. Because this is power driving as it was meant to be.

You push the "D" on the Pushbutton PowerFlite Drive and a mighty airplane-type engine whisks you away in an instant. There's a new, wonderfully easy feel-of-the-road with full-time PowerPilot Steering . . . a straight, sure, velvety sense of safety in the stops you get with PowerSmooth Brakes . . . a world of authority in the tremendous response of Chrysler's exclusive airplane-type Fire-Power V-8 engine!

Just one look at this car tells you the power's there. You see it in the flairing "PowerStyle" lines . . . in the flight-swept look of its rear deck and fenders. Let us put you behind the wheel of the "PowerStyle" Chrysler for just 15 minutes this week. Compare its all-around performance with its two price competitors. Then you'll know why "the best car manufactured in America" is your best buy! Come in or call us today!

Clay County Farmer Reigns As 5 Acre Corn Club Champion

LAFAYETTE Ind. (UP)—Robert Rector, a Clay County farmer who lives near Jasonville, reigned today as 1955 Indiana Five Acre Corn Club champion with a yield of 210 bushels per acre.

Rector nosed out H.W. McKown, a Madison County farmer living near Alexandria, who grew 204 bushels per acre.

It was the second time in 43 years of competition that a winner exceeded 200 bushels per acre.

However, Rector failed to approach the all-time record of 241 bushels chalked up in 1954 by A.J. Custer of Dekalb County and likewise didn't match the 219 bushels grown by Custer's nearest rival, Russell Housel of Dekalb, last year.

Both Rector and McKown won with Indiana certified hybrids. Rectors was a variety known as C870. McKown used Indiana 844 and 805.

Rector's champion stand was grown in a field in river bottom land which last year also was planted in corn. However, the yield then was only 141 bushels due to drought.

Rector fertilized heavily before drilling the seed corn both years. He plowed last May and planted on May 25. He double-disced once, harrowed twice and cultipacked once before planting. The corn was drilled in rows 37 inches apart. The crop was cultivated three times and rotary hoed once.

The contest brought Clay County still another honor. The Indiana Corn Growers Association, sponsor of the contest, said 111 competitors from that county represented the largest participation of any county.

McKown's second-place yield was realized on silt loam on which alfalfa was grown two years straight.

If McKown's one-year rate of advancement continues, he should win next year. Last year he was third in the contest with 188 bushels per acre.

Other placings: Allen Clodfelter, Putnam County, third, 186; Wayne Dearing, Gibson fourth 182; Allen Harris, Wayne, fifth, 180; David Grimes Montgomery, sixth, 175; Lestel Mace Vigo, seventh 175; Russell Gunning, Tipton, eighth, 173; Max Martin, Parke, ninth, 172; Mark Anson, Huntington, and Almia Doyle, Ripley, tied for 10th 170; Burck Harlan, Vigo, 12th 169; Howard Pegg Randolph, and K.L. Ramsay, Parke, tied for 13th, 168; T.W. Hilligoss, Hancock, 15th, 167.

The contest attracted 2290 entries from 88 counties. Rose gold medals for yields of 150 bushels or more went to 103 consestants. Green gold medals for 125 to 150 bushels went to 737 persons. Gold medals for 100 to 125 bushels were given 1,124 members. Silver medals for 85 to 100 bushels went to 267 members. Only 58 contestants fell below the 85-bushel level.

More than 45 million Americans —between birth and 20 years old— still have not been inoculated. Unless there is a spectacular jump in production, vaccine supplies are expected to fall far short of meeting the need next year.

Careful government studies showed that the vaccine was 75 per cent effective against paralytic polio this year. This record was achieved even though most of the youngsters had received only one shot.

The idea advanced by many experts is that it would be better to give limited protection to many, through one shot, than to provide three shots to a smaller number.

One problem was whether one shot would last through the coming polio season, which runs roughly from spring until fall. Salk has said his studies indicate that even one shot offers some protection over a fairly long period of time. It will be up to the experts to decide whether this protection is sufficient to make a one-shot program advisable.

Rites Held Today In Chicago For Mrs. Sam Flower

Was The Former Bertha Traub Of This City

Rites were held in Chicago this morning for Mrs. Sam Flower, 67, the former Bertha Traub of this city. The family moved from Columbia City to Chicago where they have since resided.

Mrs. Flower was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Traub, deceased. She is survived by her husband; a daughter, Mrs. Howard L. Goddauch of Los Angeles, Calif., two sisters, Miss Gussie Traub and Mrs. Fannie Kaufman, and a brother, Sidney Traub of Chicago, and relatives living in this city.

Attending the rites in Chicago today were Mrs. Louis Daniel, Mrs. Abe Strouse, and Edgar Strouse who are cousins of Mrs. Flower.

Memorial Rites Held For Fred H. Losure

Funeral services for Fred E Losure were held Tuesday afternoon at the Smith and Sons Funeral Home with the Rev. John Krieg, pastor of the Etna Methodist Church, officiatin. The Rev. Albert Rider and Mrs. Robert Roose sang two hymns as the musical portion of the service. Their accompaniment, the prelude and postlude to the service was played by Mrs. Helen Slagle Aker on the organ.

Those who served as the pallbearers were Roy Kneller, Herbert Kneller, Arlie Wolfe, Herbert Wolfe, Ferrel Secrist, and Maurice Pickel. Committal services and burial followed the funeral home rites in the Van Buren cemetery, in Grant county.

Fort Wayne Man Killed In Accident

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UP)—Robert C. Buhler, 24, Fort Wayne, was killed early today when his car hit a bridge railing near the junction of U.S. 30 and Ind. 101.

State police said Buhler evidently was speeding. His new car broke into 10 pieces and parts were hurled 150 feet from the point of impact.

Joyce Brothers Second Contestant To Win The $64,000

NEW YORK (UP)—Psychologist Joyce Brothers, 101-pound blonde boxing expert, with a heavyweight wallop, clobbered the clock and a seven-part question Tuesday night to win $64,000 on a TV show.

The trim PH. D., bolstered by guest "expert" Col. Eddie Eagan and her mother's lucky charm, became the second contestant to romp off with the whole jackpot on "the $64,000 question."

On Sept. 13, Marine Capt. Richard McCutchen also won $64,000 by answering a difficult question on exotic foods.

Mrs. Brothers, the author of a scientific paper on "Anxiety," said after the show: "I'm still shaking. I know now what individuals undergo in an anxiety experience.

"My mother sewed a lucky charm inside my dress — I couldn't possibly show it to you. I tell you, I just wasn't taking any chances.'

All told, the program was tapped for 104,000 Tuesday night by three contestants, the largest loss by a single program in the history of TV.

Stanley Skeens an electrician for a coal mine in Barrat, West Va., pushed his way to the $32,000 level, by answering a multi-part question on the Bible. Skeens a native of Danville, West Va., will be back next week to tell whether he, too, will shoot for top money.

Another contestant, Mailman Roscoe Wright of New York moved to the $8,000 point by answering a series of questions on poetry.

Russia Snubs U. S. Offer To Sell Surplus American Farm Products

WASHINGTON (UP) — Russia has snubbed a U.S. offer to sell its surplus American farm products it was disclosed today.

The offer was made by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at the recent Geneva foreign minister's meeting. It got a brush-off from Soviet Foreign Minister V.M. Molotov.

A State Deartment spokesman said Molotov "made no response" when Dulles pointed out at a private meeting on Nov. 13 that the prospects for normal trade between the two countries were large, particularly in the field of farm surpluses.

Year's Vital Statistics For 1955 Life In Glamorous Hollywood Fast Drawing To End

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Hollywood Writer

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—The year's vital statistics for 1955 life in Hollywood are drawing to a close, and this time cupid and the divorce court fought to a fairly even draw.

Not one big lavish wedding kept the caterers and autograph hounds busy in the Cinema City during the past 11 months. But a few quiet weddings and unscheduled elopements kept romance from being a total off-screen flop.

One of the year's biggest marriage stories came when Clark Gable and Kay Spreckels eloped in July. Last month they lost their expected baby. The bobby-soxers had to find another young bachelor idol after Rock Hudson wed the pretty secretary of his agent, Phyllis Gates.

Saw Her Lawyers

After an on-off engagement that had moviegoers either yawning or anxious, Debbie Reynolds and Eddie Fisher finally became man and wife at a subdued ceremony at a New York resort. And Yvonne De Carlo, one of Hollywood's last bachelor girl holdouts, finally said "I do" with stunt man Robert Morgan. Jane Withers, Lucy Marlow, Colleen Miller, Sheree North, Jarma Lewis and Nancy Kelly were other 1955 brides.

Betty Hutton wed record executive Alan Livingston shortly after she marched from a divorce court with a decree from dance director Charlie O'Curran. But other marriages were splitting just as fast in tinsel town.

Jack "Dragnet" Webb put down his badge to wed Dorothy Towne in January. But last month she saw her lawyers about a separation. Rita Hayworth hit headlines again when she walked out on husband No. 4, crooner Dick Haymes.

Record Number of Deaths

Linda Christian ended her marriage to Tyrone Power and took home a million dollar settlement from the judge. Mrs. Victor Mature cornered half that amount when she was untied from the brawny actor. Mrs. Sterling Hayden and Mary Astor won divorces.

Both Edward G. Robinsons—Jr. and Sr. — saw their marriages falter, with the son's being dissolved in divorce. Separations were also admitted by Gloria Grahame and Cy Howard, the Dean Martins, Vivian Blaine, Jean Peters and Aldo Ray and Jeff Donnell.

But the biggest news in Hollywood's 1955 was the saddest—a record number of deaths among younger members of the film colony. James Dean, a 24-year-old new star, was killed in the crash of his sports car. Heart attacks claimed John Hodiak and Carmen Miranda, Robert Francis, headed for stardom after "The Caine Mutiny," lost his life in the crash of a small airplane. The world was saddened when beautiful Suzan Ball died of cancer.

On the brighter side of the news, babies arrived this year for Pier Angeli, Jan Sterling, Judy Garland, Eva Marie Saint, Mrs. Robert Taylor, Jenmaire, the Kirk Douglases and the Guy Madisons.

Police Trace Four Bogus Endorsements To Railroad Worker

At least four Nickel Plate railroad payroll check endorsement counterfeitings by which he obtained in the neighborhood of $500 are attributed to Herbert Howard 23-year-old railroad employe, who was arrested at Argos upon a Whitley county warrant and returned here Monday.

Pending arraignment he is being held in the Whitley county jail.

Howard gained approximately $100 in presenting one of the allegedly purloined railroad pay checks at the Norman Groves service station at state roads 9 and 14. According to investigating officers, he later gained cash and merchandise from similar transactions at Sidney and Knox. When he made his fourth try at Argos, his home town, he was apprehended and held at the Starke county jail in Knox.

Police Dragnet Out For 3 Young Masked Bandits

Who Staged Hammond's Second Bank Robbery In Just 13 Days

HAMMOND, Ind. (UP) — The alarm was out today for three "very young" masked bandits who staged Hammond's second bank robbery in 13 days and eluded a police dragnet with $21,747.

The robbers entered the Calumet Avenue Branch of the Mercantile National Bank with stockings pulled over their faces shortly before closing time Tuesday and announced, "This is a stickup—we aren't kidding."

Assistant Vice President John Sullivan said two of them jumped over a counter while a third stood guard in the lobby with a shotgun. Two customers were ordered to face a wall with their hands up, and a third was forced to lie face down in an office, Sullivan said.

Four employes were herded into a corner while the robbers scooped currency in the tellers' cages into a pair of shopping bags. Sullivan said the bandits missed considerably more money by ignoring the bank vault.

Witnesses said the robbers appeared "very young"—probably in their "early 20s."

They fled seconds before a police squad car arrived. Police chased the getaway car, stolen the night before, at better than 70 miles an hour before the robbers outdistanced them in heavy traffic.

The car was abandoned at Woodmar Shopping Center, scene of the $13,123 Nov. 23 robbery at a branch of the Hoosier State Bank. The bandits switched to another car, and police lost their trail. They were believed headed toward Chicago.

Police said the second car was blue and white with Illinois license plates.

The bandits were hatless and wore leather jackets. One of them was described as slender, with light brown hair and wearing a sweat shirt. Another was dark complexioned with short hair.

This Chevrolet keeps a secret...beautifully!

The "One-Fifty" 2-door sedan—one of 4 models in Chevrolet's smart and sprightly "One-Fifty" series.

It's one of Chevrolet's New "ONE-FIFTY" series . . . the lowest priced of all the high-priced-looking Chevrolet series for '56. But you'd never know it to look at that speedline chrome treatment or to feel that new power ranging up to 205 H.P.

There's so much fresh new styling in the "One-Fifty" it's hard to believe the car costs so little. It has new chrome—including both windshield and back window reveals—and its own distinctive two-toning. It stretches long and clean from grille to taillights (the left one hides the gas cap). It offers new power, V8 or 6, steering and handling ease few cars can match, plus all of Chevrolet's great performance and safety features. Directional signals and safety door locks are standard equipment. Seat belts, with or without shoulder harnesses, and instrument panel padding are available at extra cost. Truly, the "One-Fifty" represents more quality than before. Come in soon and let us tell you its big secret—its low price tag!

President Meets With Top Money Men To Consider Delay Of Tax Cut

Stevenson Appeals For Support Of Labor In Speech To AFL-CIO

By JACK WOLISTON
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP) — Adlai E. Stevenson appealed today for the support of labor in his political ambitions in an address prepared for delivery to the new AFL-CIO labor organization.

He urged the delegates of 16 million members of the AFL-CIO to take an active part in politics and said that democracy needs all the political participation it can get out of just as many individuals and just as many responsible groups as is possible.

"Like you," he said, "I have been astonished by some worried declarations I've heard in the last few days about the dangers of an unlimited franchise for working people and their organizations."

Stevenson emphasized that he had "hopes" the new labor organization would support him fully in the coming campaign.

In the field closest to the hearts of labor men, he said that many of the provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act are "inequitable or unworkable."

"They must be changed or removed," he said.

Denounces Right-to-Work Laws

Stevenson denounced the so-called right to work laws, now in effect in 17 states.

"The laws must be fair to all, he said, "and the so-called right-to-work laws do not meet this test."

Stevenson said steps must be taken to strengthen the American way of life. He said this means making more secure the right of labor to organize and to bargain collectively—"to make democracy work in the plant, in the shop, on the job, in people's daily working lives."

Stevenson was the second Democrat of national stature to appear before the joint convention and he made a point of praising New York Gov. Averell Harriman, who appeared earlier.

"Since the disturbing state of the world has been discussed so ably and so recently by the distinguished governor of New York let me only say here today that it seems to me among the brightest promises of this new federation that the powers and resources of American labor for peace may now be even more fully mobilized," Stevenson said.

Resolutions Criticize Policy

The AFL-CIO indicated possible support for the Democrats in 1956 Wednesday when it adopted a number of resolutions criticizing administration policy.

One accused the administration of making only "brudging, piecemeal and belated efforts" to correct abuses in the security program.

Another urged the United States, Great Britain and France to enable Israel to obtain arms and other materials.

The new union went far toward eliminating discord within its ranks Wednesday in the formation of the 700,000 member Industrial Union Division with Walter P. Reuther at its head.

Dave Beck, president of the 1,400,000 man Teamsters union, agreed that only one third of its members go into the IUD although he originally had campaigned for entry of his entire membership.

Recount Board Named By Judge

The recount board asked for by two defeated Democratic candidates in the Churubusco town election Nov. 8 was named today by Judge Lowell Pefley.

Named to the recount commission were Perry E. Ort, R., William Shew, R., and Dale Barrett, D.

They are to meet sometime during the week of Dec. 19-24 at 7 p.m. to conduct their recount. The local court has instructed the town clerk to deliver the ballots cast Nov. 8 to the recount commission and to take them back, sealed when the recount is completed.

The respective political parties were represented in court today by legal counsel when the commission was appointed. John W. Whiteleather appeared for the Democratic complaintants, while B. E. Gates appeared for the defendant Republicans.

The recount was sought by William C. Veazey, D., who lost by 4 votes to Republican Cecil F. Allman, and by Nile Egolf, D., who lost by 9 votes to Republican Abraham D. Nestel, in the Nov. 8th election.

Navy Jet Bomber Explodes On Test Flight, Crashes

Was Considered Forerunner Of Our Atomic-Powered Plane

PATUXENT Md. (UP) — The first model of a revolutionary Navy jet bomber, considered the potential forerunner of an atomic-powered airplane, exploded and crashed in flames into Chesapeake Bay Wednesday.

One crew member was killed. Three others were missing and presumed dead.

The plane was the 600-mile-an-hour Seamaster, powered by four turbojet engines and only recently ordered into production at the Glenn L. Martin Co. of Baltimore.

A salvage barge began pulling wreckage from 55-foot-deep waters of the bay today. Divers searched for the bodies of the missing men.

The Navy had fostered great hopes for the new plane. It was hailed as the world's first multi-jet seaplane and compared favorably in range and speed with modern land-based bombers.

The Air Force was interested in the Seamaster as possibly being capable of carrying the first atomic plane engine when it is developed. An atomic plane would require an extremely heavy airframe and broad areas for takeoff and landings. The Seamaster would have almost limitless ocean runways on which to operate.

Navy investigators began an intensive effort to determine why the first model crashed.

A second Seamaster, fitted out

Mrs. Ben Herr, Sr., Fractures Hip While In Florida

Relatives here have been notified that Mrs. Ben Herr, Sr., of 112 North Oak street, who recently left for Florida to spent the winter, suffered a fractured hip in a fall Sunday morning.

She was taken to Lee Memorial hospital at Fort Myers to have the fracture reduced. Mrs. Herr was csalled to Florida a number of days ago by the death of the infant child of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Heidenreich at Fort Myers.

Mrs. Herr was dressing when she caught her foot in the hem of her house coat.

Eden May Make Sweeping Change In His Cabinet

Before Visiting United States

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Anthony Eden will make sweeping changes in his cabinet before he goes to the United States next month to visit President Eisenhower, authoritative sources said today.

The reports said the changes probably would involve Chancellor of the Echequer R. A. Butler, now the No. 2 man in the Conservative government, and possibly Foreign Minister Harold Macmillan.

The sources said Eden has not yet completed the projected reshuffle but that the long-delayed rearrangement would come sometime between Christmas and the New Year. The changes have been expected since last summer.

The most startling report, and one not confirmed, was that Butler may be promoted to become deputy premier and leader of the House of Commons. He has been reported "tired" of the burden the treasury has imposed on him, and since the death of his wife recently he has been reported anxious to make a change.

The difficulty in replacing Butler as chancellor of the exchequer was reported behind the delay in reshuffling the cabinet. The post requires expert knowledge because of the powerful control it exerts over Britain's economy.

The reports said Macmillan might be considered as a possible candidate to succeed Butler. But Macmillan took over the Foreign Office from Eden only a few months ago and it was feared moving him might imply criticism of his achievements as foreign secretary. He has been criticzed because conferences on Cyprus and the Big Four meeting at Geneva ended in failure.

Speculation centered on Selwyn Lloyd, the present minister of defense, as a candidate for the Foreign Office. Lloyd has risen fast in the Conservative hierarchy moving from the junior post of minister of state to a seat in the inner cabinet.

U-Turn Results In Auto Crash

A U-turn made by Donald W. Juillerat, R. 6 resulted in an auto collision late Wednesday two miles north of Troy Presbyterian church at a county highway intersection. None was hurt in the accident but damage estimated at $275 resulted to the vehicles involved.

The collision took place at 3:30 p.m. when Mr. Juillerat in his 1952 Chrysler, pulled up to a newspaper delivery box to get his paper. He was turning around to retrace his direction and started into the intersection on the east when he saw Mrs. Zelma M. Ewers, R. 6, approaching from the north. He stopped his car but Mrs. Ewers thought he was coming from the east to cross the intersection. She applied the brakes to her 1953 Chevrolet and turned to avoid an accident. When the car stopped, the right rear of her car struck the right side of Juillerat's.

Damage to the Ewer vehicle was to both right fenders and was estimated at $200. Damage to Juillerat's car was limited to $75 and was confined to the right rear fender and rear bumper. The accident was investigated by State Policeman Norman Pierce.

U. S. Authorities Awaiting Return Of Two Soldiers

By Soviets As Test Of Good Faith

By JOSEPH FLEMING
United Press Staff Correspondent

BERLIN (UP)—Western officials expressed fear today the Soviets would hold two captured American soldiers as hostages in a deadly game of blackmail aimed at forcing the return of a Soviet officer who fled to the West.

The East German Communist press hammered away again at the "corrupt' West Berlin government, and an official Communist newspaper said the "whole regime must disappear to make Berlin free from scandals and corruption."

The newest threat was accompanied by renewed hints at blocking passage of Berlin's supply barges from West Germany unless the Bonn government knuckles under to the Red demands it negotiate as an equal with the "sovereign" East German government.

Turned Over To Russians

The two Americans were seized Wednesday by East Berlin Communist police as "drunken American gangsters" and turned over to the Soviets in apparent respect of a four-power agreement covering such cases. Western officials said their early return would show Soviet good faith in abiding by the four-power argreements.

Identify of the Americans was still unknown. The Communist Party newspaper Neues Deutschland identified them today as "officers," but indications were they were enlisted men. Pictures of them in the Communist press were too smudged for easy recognition.

One day before the Americans were seized and charged with knocking out the singing star of an anti-American political cabaret in the Russian sector, a Soviet tank officer fled to West Berlin.

Entered American Sector

The officer, 1st Lt. Ivan V. Ovchinnikov, entered the American sector Monday and asked for asylum on political grounds. It was granted and he was flown to West Germany for safekeeping.

Western officials expressed fears the Sovieits would demand the return of the Soviet officer and attempt to use the two Americans to bargain for his return. In the past the Soviets have held captured Americans for weeks if their arrest happened to coincide with the desertion of a Soviet soldier. They always released the Americans in the end.

The Communist press said cabaret actor Werner Lierck was the victim of the Americans who called him a "dirty Communist" and was beaten when he objected to their insults.

Columbia City Bands To Present Christmas Concert December 18

The concert bands of the Columbia City schools will present their annual Christmas Concert Sunday afternoon December 18, at 2:30 in the Marshall Memorial Hall.

This year's concert band is the largest in over fifteen years with an enrollment of 70 members. The Junior high band has an enrollment of 53 members. Both bands won top honors in their division in the state contest this past spring and will present an interesting and varied type of program.

The concert will be completed by 4:00 p.m. so those people who are interested in attending late afternoon church services may do so.

No admission will be charged for this concert; however an offering will be taken at the intermission.

Hospital Patient

Oil Exploration Quietly Under Way In County

Secrecy Surrounds Drilling Near Bash Hill School; 62 Leases

Exploration for oil or natural gas in the southwest portion of Whitley county is quietly in progress by two major oil companies.

These are the Ohio Oil Company with home offices at Findlay, O., and the Carter Oil Company of Mattoon, Ill., a drilling subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

The latter company did drilling operations on Noah Bollinger land in the vicinity of the Bash Hill school, south of South Whitley on state road 105. Equipment has been erected in the southern portion of Richland township for further testing of sub-strata and rock composition.

To date 62 oil leases have reached the office of County Recorder Kenyon Kaufman, 56 giving options to the Carter Oil Company and six to the Ohio Oil Company.

The Carter Oil Company has taken leases on tracts located in sections 9, 10, 15, 16, 22, 27, 28, 33, and 34 of Cleveland township all south and southwest of South Whitley. The Ohio Oil Company leases are all in section 29 of Cleveland township, immerdately south of South Whitley.

Exploration with the latest in sounding and drilling equipment is reportedly being used. Auy probable oil dome in the vicinity is the object of the search.

Most of the leases reaching the recorder's office allow the landowner one-eighth of any oil produced at the well. Searches of abstracts have reportedly been undertaken so as to determine if at any time mineral rights were retained by former owners as lands changed hands.

About 20 years ago a wildcat company sank a well east of South Whitley along the River road. It stirred interest in the Cleveland township area but operations were abandoned. Since then little has been done in the field of oil exploration in this vicinity until the entry this fall of the Carter Oil Company into the local field.

According to financial reports upon the Carter Oil Company it is a wholly owned subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey, one of the largest integrated oil companies in the world. In 1955 the Carter company completed an Oklahoma well and was engaged in drilling operations in Hamilton county, Illinois, of which McLeansboro is the county seat.

FBI Reports No Trace Of Brainy, Cool Bank Thief

Made Clean Getaway After $74,293 Robbery

LAKE GENEVA, Wis. (UP)—A lone gunman appeared to have capped his $74,293 bank robbery masterpiece by making a clean getaway today.

FBI agents and local authorities reported they had found no trace of the cool, brainy bandit who carried off the first bank robbery in the history of this swank resort town Wednesday.

Their only leads were a mocking note left to police and the knowledge that the gunman was possibly an ex-banker or bank employe as well as an experienced stickup man.

The stocky holdup man guarded himself against capture by taking only well-worn, small denomination bills and confiscating the bank's list of currency serial numbers, through which the loot might have been traced.

He abandoned his getaway car, stolen from one of the bank employes, and apparently made good his escape by switching to another auto.

Uses Funny-Face Mask

Police conceded that the daring robbery of the First National Bank was a masterpiece of crime.

The bandit, his face hidden by a Halloween mask of a funny-faced woman, was waiting when the first bank employe, Mrs. Vickie Lochner, arrived.

Levelling a 9 mm. Luger automatic, he ordered her into a record vault. He then proceeded to welcome seven other employes as they entered the bank and escorted

Discusses Old People's Needs For Kiwanians

The Rev. T. G. Holmes, superintendent of the Presbyterian Old People's Home for the state of Ohio, was the guest speaker at the Wednesday evening meeting of the Kiwanis Club. He spoke on the topic, "The Problems of the Aged."

According to statics presented by Rev. Holmes, in the year 1950 more than $12,348,000,000 was spent by the various agencies in the United States for the care of the aged. In America he said, "We have an under-girding philosophy of life. Through charity, through many national, state, and local agencies we support such a philosophy."

All elderly people want: to be recognized as a person, to have health, to receive affection, to be useful, and to have spiritual and physical security." His advise to all people growing old is "to be such a good man or woman that in old age someone will be sure to want to love and care for you."

In addition to Rev. Holmes, William Crosby, spoke in behalf of the Prentiss Normal and Industrial Institute, a school for the training of colored young men and women. A free-will offering was taken immediately following the meeting. Next Wednesday evening the Kiwanians will hold their Annual Christmas Party for the kids.

O.P.M. Squires Is Member Of Uncle Sam's 1-2-3 Boys

On Tuesday, O. P. M. Squires of this city, received his membership card and pin to the national organization of Uncle Sam's 1-2-3 Boys. This organization is made up of men who served in the Spanish-American War, World War I and who were still young enough to have to register for World War II.

Mr. Squires served in the Suanish-American War when 19 years served in World War I four years being discharged as a captain, and is now 76 years old, making him 62 years old when registering for World War II. He feels he is "probably the only man in Indiana who qualifies for membership in Uncle Sam's 1-2-3 Boys, as most of the Spanish-American War veterans were too old to have to register for World War II."

The national encampment for the organization will be held at Lexington, Kentucky September 2-6, 1956.

Will Reside In California

After December 20, Mrs. William Noble, Etna-Troy township, will reside in California with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs Ralph Shoemaker. Her address will be 11613 Freeman Ave., Inglewood 2, Calif.

Mrs. Noble will be leaving next week with Mr. and Mrs. Shoemaker, who have been with her since the death of Mr. Noble.

Children Should Get Salk Shots Very Soon Now

For Protection In 1956 Season

WASHINGTON (UP)—Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele appealed to parents today to get Salk shots for their children as soon as possible to be sure they are protected during the 1956 polio season.

If everyone waits until May, he warned, there will be a "hopeless logjam." Inevitably, he said, some children would miss out at least temporarily.

Scheele made the plea after a committee of the nation's leading polio authorities unanimously rejected a proposed switch to a single-shot inoculation program to stretch Salk supplies to more children.

The experts, including Dr. Jonas E. Salk, met all day Wednesday on the question. Scheele announced they agreed to stick to the present schedule which calls for three injections over an eight - month period.

The surgeon general said the scientists decided there wasn't enough evidence to be sure one shot would suffice over a long period. Salk called the decision "splendid." He said it means we will be able to give "the best protection to the most susceptible children." This is the best way to cut down on polio incidence, Salk said.

Scheele said he expects vaccine production to pick up this month and increase substantially in January. On the other hand, he said demand is not great at present because people are "thinking about Christmas and not about polio."

Scheele reported that the experts decided against the single-shot program because "it might dilute the effect" of the vaccine on polio prevention.

Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said the experts made "a very sound decision to continue the program as it is presently operating."

Advisers Urge Ike To Omit Tax Relief Proposal

From Message To Congress In January

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer

THURMONT, Md. (UP)—President Eisenhower met with his top money men today to consider delaying any recommendations for tax cut until mid-spring.

Mr. Eisenhower drove here from his Gettysburg, Pa., farm for a private talk with Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey and Budget Director Rowland R. Hughes in advance of the weekly meeting of the National Security Council.

Informed sources said Humphrey and Hughes came to the meeting prepared to urge that Mr. Eisenhower omit any proposals for tax relief from his messages to Congress in January.

The two officials were said to believe that the administration should hold off tax cut proposals until spring, at least, to make sure that a balanced budget is in sight or the new fiscal year starting next July 1.

Secretaries to Meet

Mr. Eisenhower arrived at his mountain retreat here at 7:48 a.m. CST, and went into immediate conference with Humphrey and Hughes.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, whose departments handle the foreign aid and military programs that account for the biggest share of the budget, and Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams, sat in on the tax talk, which lasted for about an hour.

Mr. Eisenhower and the other officials then walked 200 yards to Laurel Lodge, a larger cabin, to meet with the National Security Council. Mr. Eisenhower invited the council members to be his guests at lunch after the meeting.

Christmas Cheer

"Bringing Christmas Cheer To Others" the response to roll call in all Whitley Home Demonstration Clubs for December emphasizes the following of the rule of giving rather than receiving by the members.

Suggestions included more "gifts of time" in the making, selecting and taking of remembrances rather than money expended.

Writing a neglected letter or more personal letters and notes in Christmas greetings rather than numbers of cards was emphasized especially for those away from home. Also suggested was the inclusion of pictures especially of the children.

The Whitley county chorus plans caroling for shut-ins. Others planned remembrances for or calls on shut-ins, neighbors, friends and acquaintances who might be alone at Christmas.

Some groups were working together to make or package cookies and organization boxes of gifts. Others were taking cookies, candy meals or homemade bread to shut-ins. Some were inviting guests who have no families for Christmas day.

Remembering needy children and encouraging children in the family to assist with gifts and shopping for others was suggested.

Pi Beta Has Lovely Program; Dinner At The Milo Harley Home

Members of Pi Beta at South Whitley observed the Yuletide Wednesday evening with a delightful program at the home of the club president, Mrs. Harry Hensel. An illuminated tree in the living room formed the background for the program.

From a miniature church and its choir boys, peeled forth the words "O Holy Night." Members of the club contributed to the program which opened with the Christmas story from the Bible read by Mrs. George Talbert. Readings and poems were given and as a closing number Mrs. Hensel read the poem "After Christmas."

On the dining table, laid with a Christmas cloth, was found the eskimo and his igloo, also Santa and his reindeer. A large red candle surrounded by greenery and choir boys furnished illumination for the serving of punch, Christmas cookies and mints.

The lovely program followed a dinner served at the home of Mrs Milo Harley, across the street from the Hensel home, illuminated by the large Christmas tree in the living room. Santa Claus had already visited the Harley home and left boxes of candy which were found at covers laid for members of the club at the dinner. Red and green formed the color note of the table appointments. One tall candle, surrounded by greenery and little elves, burned in the center of the table. Santa and his reindeer were on the serving table. The favors were Christmas corsages.

The committee in charge of the delightful affair was the Mesdames Park Huffman, George Talbert Russell Glassley and Harry Hensel.

Thorncreek Club Has Delightful Program Marking The Yuletide

Cones and evergreen running the length of the tables were decorations for the dinner of the Thorncreek Home Demonstration club which held its December meeting at the REMC Home Wednesday.

One huge candle surrounded by choir boys lighted the tables laid for the dinner for which Mrs. Clara Fry returned thanks. Twenty-nine members responded to roll call by giving a simple way in which each one could bring Christmas cheer to others.

Mrs. Esli Shively led in the group singing of "Hark The Herald Angels Sing" after she had given the history of the song. Mrs. George Herrick gave devotions reading from Luke 2:1 to 20 verses, stating as her introduction that it was the sweetest story ever told. "If He had not Come" was the theme of her short talk that followed.

Mrs. Elmer Hendrickson and Mrs. Esli Shively sang Star of the East and Mrs. Roy Metzger read from "Fireside Christmas Stories" the story "The Little Hunchback Zia." Mrs. Metzger stated she went to the Bible to find the name Zia mentioned just once in the Old Testament.

Mrs. Lawrence Ott was in charge of the gift exchange. The eight children present were remembered by the club, the girls were given little dolls and the boys small tractors.

During the afternoon handkerchief corsages were pinned on 13 members for perfect attendance during the year. They were the Mesdames Orval Gaerte, George Herrick, Gerald Jagger, Harry Jagger, John Jagger, Roy Metzger Lawrence Ott, Arthur Schaper Russell Sherman, Esli Shively Harold Skidgel, Roy Whetstone Chester Wright Jr.

The dinner meeting closed with the group singing of "O Come All Ye Faithful" and "Silent Night" and as a duet number Mrs. Hendrickson and Mrs. Shively sang "White Christmas."

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Louis Schalk and Mrs. Gerald Jagger.

Guests of the club included Mrs. Russell Skidgel, Mrs. Keith Maggert, Miss Gertrude Meredith.

Mrs. Floyd Miller and Mrs. Dalton Blanchard joined as hostesses, Wednesday, for the Christmas party of the West Columbia Aid, held at the Miller home.

Twenty-five covers were laid for the carry-in dinner served from a table attractively appointed in the Yuletide motif. The devotions conducted by Mrs. Harmon Mosher, who read the Christmas story from the Bible which was found in Luke second chapter, 14 to 20th verses.

The sick and shut-ins will be remembered by the club according to plans made at the meeting Wednesday. Mrs. Paul Tagtmeyer and Mrs. Verl Bender were in charge of contests in which honors were awarded to Mrs. Dalton Blanchard and Mrs. Blain Schang.

A gift exchange was a feature of the afternoon.

Mrs. Schang, the incoming president, announced the January meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Hawn when the new year books will be distributed.

Women Of The Moose Hold Chapter Night

Women of the Moose at their meeting Wednesday evening, made a contribution of $5 to the Whitley County Tuberculosis Fund and $5 to the Firemen's Christmas Fund.

Mrs. Clarence Spohn was awarded the door prize and the cake walk prize went to Mrs. Henry Karst. The program of the evening was given by Roger Richey, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Richey who sang two songs, accompanied by Mrs. Sam Galbreath.

Mrs. Glenn Hill and members of her committee served sandwiches and coffee.

Eagles Meet Once Beaten Bluffton Tigers On Friday

On Friday evening, the Columbia City Eagles travel to Bluffton where they will tangle with the Bluffton Tigers in the second NEIC game of the season for the Eagles.

It will be the NEIC opener for the Tigers and will also be the first time the Eagles have played on the new Bluffton high school court

Located five blocks west and four south of the courthouse in Bluffton the seating capacity of the gym is 3,850 thus assuring all who desire to go to the game a chance to gain admittance.

While the Eagles have copped but one victory prior to the South Whitley game, they have been showing steady improvement and are expected to give the Bengals a busy evening as they try to stay atop the NEIC standings.

The Tigers have played four games to date, chalking up three wins against a single loss. Bluffton dropped the season opener to Hartford City 59 to 52 and then spilled Decatur in a non-conference game 55 to 53, upset South Side 48 to 44 and in their most recent game outshot Dunkirk 73 to 56.

Lacking height the Tigers must depend upon sniping and ball handling to rack up their share of points. Likely starters for the Bluffton team are Dave Flowers 5-11, and Wade Hammond also 5-11 at the forward spots. Ted Wasson, a 6-2 junior will be in the pivot position and Don Lockwood, 5-10 and, Dick Uptgraft, 5-9, will be the likely starters at the guard posts.

Crashes On Routine Training Mission

HONOLULU, T.H. (UP)—A two-engined Navy patrol bomber with a crew of 10 crashed at sea 26 miles off shore of Kauai Island late Wednesday night and a submarine picked up three survivors.

An air-sea search was manned immediately for the remaining crewmen, but search commanders held little hope of finding the other seven until sun-up.

The three survivors were identified as Lt. K.C. Guedel, Dover Ohio, the pilot of the downed P2V; Lt. (jg) E.F. O'Malley, Chicago, co-pilot; and the navigator, Lt. (jg) Robert S. Smith, Montgomery, Ala.

The plane crashed while on a routine training mission with seven submarines.

Representative Says He Will Demand Ike Fire John F. Dulles

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UP)—Rep. Adam C. Powell (D-N.Y.) said he will send a "communique" to President Eisenhower today demanding that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles be fired.

Powell told a civic group meeting Wednesday night that Dulles ended his usefulness as secretary when he backed Portugal's efforts to keep Goa, a Portuguese-controlled section of India.

"Dulles has lost for the United States" a great part of Africa and Asia, including India, and "a greater part of the Moslem world in Morocco and Egypt," Powell said.

The congressman conceded that Dulles served his purpose in other matters, but said he cannot handle African and Indian problems. Dulles' point of view "is totally oriented to the West and he doesn't understand Asia," Powell said.

"Dulles made the mistake of siding with Portugal" by calling Goa a province at a time when Premier Bulganin was touring India," Powell said.

Powell said he had warned the State Department about the sale of Communist arms to Egypt and the Moroccan revolt, but no one heeded his warnings.

Wyoming Woman Faces Arraignment

CASPER, Wyo. (UP)—A pudgy matron who buried the body of a young divorcee under her basement floor faced arraignment today on charges she murdered the woman who won away her husband.

The matron, Mrs. Rose Alexander, 42, insisted that Barbara Alexander, 27, was killed accidentally by falling bricks. She said she buried the body with a crude wooden cross because she was afraid the death would be blamed on her.

James Alexander, 47, the husband who fathered three children by Rose and one by Barbara, claimed he did not know Barbara was dead and buried in his basement when he poured concrete on the floor in 1953.

Baker Rites Held Wednesday Morning

Funeral services for Charles H Baker were held Wednesday morning at the Smith and Sons Funeral Home with the Rev. Graham L. Kleespie, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, officiating.

Immediately following the funeral home rites, the body was taken to the Lindenwood cemetery crematory at Fort Wayne. The remains will later be interred in the Lakeview cemetery at Larwill.

When bank Vice President George Allen showed up, the gunman forced him to open the main vault and pack the money in a box he had brought up from the bank basement. Then he tied Allen to a basement post with lengths of wire.

The thief was leisurely, courteous, and talkative during the hold-up.

"Don't worry about me being nervous," he assured his hostages. "Ive been through this before.

Leaves Scoffing Note

He confided that he had got into the bank with a key made from a wax impression, and added "Ive got wax impressions to keys from 12 banks.'

He even had a word for police, leaving a hand-printed note which said "How's this for a joke? If your squad car hadn't had such a squeak I'd have a rough time.

Police believed the bandit may have heard a noisy squad car approaching as he was letting himself into the bank.

Before he left, the gunman disconnected three telephones and used a fourth to turn in a fake fire alarm at the other end of town.

He then selected a key from a pile of car keys he had forced the bank employes to leave on a counter. His choice fell on Cashier Warren Huber's car, which was found later abandoned near a railroad station.

Authorities said the bandit's sure movements showed an intimate knowledge of banks, as well as of the layout of Lake Geneva.

Sheriff John Cusack said, "It was a well-planned job except for one fact—he didn't have a getaway car."

Plane Crashes

with complete military equipment, will be ready to enter the water for initial taxing tests near Martin's Baltimore plant later this month. A company spokesman said he saw no immediate reason to postpone the tests.

Maryland state police identified the man whose body was recovered as James Hentschel of Baltimore, flight test engineer.

The Navy identified the missing as Maurice Bernhard of Towson, Md., the pilot; Herbert Scudder of Chase, Md., senior flight engineer, and Lt. Cmdr. Victor Utgoff of the Patuxent Naval Air Station, Navy project officer.

Hentschel was thrown clear of the plane when it exploded. His parachute opened as he fell but his head apparently was crushed when he was thrown from the plane.

Routine Test Flight

The Seamaster crashed six miles south of Point Lookout, Md., just below where the Potomac River enters the bay. It was on a routine test flight from the Martin plant.

D. H. Buus, control tower operator at Webster Field, an auxiliary field near Patuxent Naval Air Base, said the huge seaplane exploded at an altitude of about 5,000 feet.

Buus, who watched through field glasses said:

"All of a sudden there was a flash and then flames, sort of in combination and right behind the two starboard engines. They had exploded. Then, almost right after, the engines of the other side blew up."

He said the plane then "just nosed over and went straight down.'

Fourteen Years Ago Franklin D. Roosevelt Delivered Memorable Speech To Congress

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — Franklin Delano Roosevelt was a man who inspired controversy among his fellow Americans, some hating equally as others loved. But FDR's worst enemies never claimed he couldn't make a speech.

Fourteen years ago this day, Mr. Roosevelt delivered before Congress an address which surely will be in any short list of great presidential utterances. FDR was a past master at the political game of concealing thoughts in flowing language. He could rouse a rabble with the best.

But when the chips were down he spoke in simple phrases which had a lightning bolt's crackling power.

So it was at noon Dec. 8, 1941, when Mr. Roosevelt addressed the Congress:

"Mr. Vice President, Mr. Speaker, members of the Senate and the House of Representatives:

"Yesterday, Dec. 7, 1941 — a day which will live in infamy—the United States of America was suddenly and deliberately attacked by naval and air forces of the Empire of Japan.

"The United States was at peace with that nation and, at the solicitation of Japan, was still in conversation with its government and its emperor looking toward maintenance of peace in the Pacific..

"The attack yesterday on the Hawaiian Islands has caused severe damage to American naval and military forces. I regret to tell you that many American lives have been lost.

"Yesterday the Japanese government also launched an attack against Malaya.

"Last night Japanese forces attacked Hong Kong.

"Last night Japanese forces attacked Guam.

"Last night Japanese forces attacked the Philippine Islands.

"Last night the Japanese attacked Wake Island.

"And this morning the Japanese attacked Midway...

"As commander in chief of the Army and Navy I have directed that all measures be taken for our defense.

"Always will our whole nation remember the character of the onslaught against us.

"No matter how long it may take us to overcome this premeditated invasion, the American people in their righteous might will win through to absolute victory...

"Hostilities exist. There is no blinking at the fact that our people, our territory and our interests are in grave danger.

"With confidence in our armed forces — with the unbounding determination of our people — we will gain the inevitable triumph—so help us God."

A few minutes later Congress declared that a state of war existed between the imperial government of Japan and the people and government of the United States.

The speech was one of FDR's truly great efforts. To those here who clocked him through the remarkable years of his reign, it packed a punch equally with FDR's stirring first inaugural and was bettered only once.

The best was the unforgettable first chat from FDR's fireside with an anxious nation standing by. From the loud speaker came that powerful, reassuring voice with the memorable words:

"My friends——."

Spruce Up Tableware Before Time For Feast

NEW YORK — (UP) — Give tableware a freshening-up before Christmas and help to prevent the last minute rush. If your largest damask cloth has been folded since last Christmas, it may need a quick laundry—in 140 degree water if it's white, 120 degrees if colored. Treasured china and crystal also may need a quick wash and polish. Silver tableware and servers usually need a thorough polishing.

And if the dining room table is to be extended by extra leaves which are seldom used, open it to full length ahead of time and give the whole surface a good cleaning and waxing.

Just Who Started Sending Greetings At Christmas Time?

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—Some of the first Christmas cards carried these messages: "And many sweet returns." "Here's Christmas come again!" "Be privileged to see." And "To my friend.

But who started the business of sending greetings to friends on Christmas? Nobody knows for sure, but its likely it was an English shop-keeper named Henry Cole.

Way back in 1843, Cole commissioned a Royal Academy artist, John Colcott Horsley, to design some cards of greeting suitable for the Christmas season. Horsley's design showed a Victorian family gathered at the feed board and added a few words of sentiment about giving to the have-nots on the day of Christ's birth.

Cole's printer struck off a thousand copies and Cole sent a few to his friends and offered the rest for sale in his shop. They are the earliest examples of the now-familiar Christmas card that have come to light.

Some of Cole's cards are included in a vast Hallmark collection of relics in the card business, displayed at the Washington Post and Times-Herald book fair going on here.

The idea of folding cards is not new. Back in the 1870s there was an unusual card about Robin Hood and his "Quest for a Yuletide dinner." The card was folded into four sections and during the unfolding a story was told with the third section showing the dinner being served and the last showing the diners fancing in glee after a full meal.

The cards for this Yule season don't go too far afield from the originals. Both contemporary and modern art are prominent, but the emphasis seems to lean to the real story of Christmas. Scenes of Bethlehem, carol singers and the like.

Different kinds of stores have been visited by different members of the newspaper staff. pecific stores have not been mentioned but all items are available in Columbia City.

Toys and Games

Almost any toy your child might order for Christmas this year can be found in the stores in Columbia City.

For the girls there are all types and sizes of dolls, even ones with blue, green and pink tinted hair and ones with moving lips. One store reported that this year the smaller doll was in demand with Tiny Tears, complete with wardrobe, placing first. Any accessory that the young lady might desire for her doll can be found on the counters, including sweater sets, jewelry, dresser sets, fur pieces, shoes and nylon hose. The usual stuffed toys, dogs, giraffe, mother and daughter teddy bears, monkeys, are for sale with the monkey placing first in demand. There are all sizes of doll buggies.

The little Miss can relieve Mother of her housework with a variety of housekeeping toys. There are sweepers, electric irons, minature revere cooking sets, unbreakable dishes, washers, sewing machines, cake and cookie mix sets, plus battery-run mixers, to mix the cakes and cookies. Also there are nice formica top table and chair sets, child's card table sets, 1 table which hangs on wall as blackboard with the legs unfolding to make table for reading or eating. It has eraser and crayons with it.

For the young man of the house there are all kinds of trucks and cars. Several are remote control toys. There are stock, freight and fire trucks, all types of farm equipment and all kinds of construction work toys, built to scale, with most of them having mechanical parts like the real thing. Also something new this year is a housetrailer with the furniture included.

A new diesel type train is on the market along with the regular models. Also there are all kinds of track and accessories for the trains.

For the cowboy of the family there the many types and shapes of guns which includes a six shooter and has life like bullets and another that shoots 250 caps without reloading. There are also guns that resembles Dad's hunting gun and Annie Oakley's rifle.

The old favorite games, Uncle Wiggley, checkers, clue, dominoes, and monoply are on the counters plus TV specials like Beat the Clock, Down you Go, Masquerade Party, People are Funny, and Pinky Lee, What's my Line, Break the Bank and many more. For the smaller child there are washable rubber toys and new Walt Disney and Ding Dong School games. There is a new Walt Disney pull toy, the Tomato Worm.

There are wagons, all sizes of tricycles including one which has a propeller on its handle bars. Also there are new radio bicycles.

There are equipped tool chests, boxing gloves, play cosmetic and shaving sets, dart games and all types of books. One toy set has two cabs with four different trailers.

For the child that likes the outdoor life, there are sleds, including the flying saucer, and roller and ice skates. If the child wants a new car just like dad's, several of the car dealers have toy cars just like the new models in matching colors.

Footwear

Are houseslippers on your Christmas shopping list? The conventional stand bys of felt and corduroy with leather and soft soles are available. Cosy shearlings for warmth are in pale pink or red. Satins and corduroys, for glamor, have jeweled and gold embroidered toes and in pink, black, blue white and with either soft or hard soles. Some terry cloth varieties are hand washable.

There are bunny slippers. Others have Davy Crockett pictures on the side. Indian moccasins that are washable come in pink, white, natural and dark colors. Davy Crockett boots are available such as would have made the real "Davy" the envy of all the pioneers as well as the most comfortable. Western cowboy boots have favorite program hero names. For the very young starting at size O are tiny felt or leather cowboy boots in red, blue, yellow or brown.

New are easy on, easy fastening, light weight, insulated boots for all the family from a variety for fisherman and outdoor workers to matching fur trimmed models for mother and daughter. Colors are red, brown, blond, black and white. Some require only one button to close.

Very light weight utility boots have a small case to carry in a purse or to keep in a desk.

For lounging or TV watching cozy slipper socks may be on your want list. These have leather soles and knit uppers. Some have zippers to remove the knit part from the sole Men's oxfords come in dark colors as charcoal and feature a low silhouette. New patent closures similar to zippers may end lacing and tying. If uncertain as to size, gift certificates are available.

Sandals for ladies have heels of clear plastic.

Stretch hose for all the family extra sheers, dark seams, and knee lengths are available.

Clothing and Accessories for Women and Children

Austria Has Carp In Place Of Turkey For Christmas Feast

By THOMAS WEYR
United Press Staff Correspondent

VIENNA —(UP) —Big carp from the Danube River is fattening in tanks, ponds and riverside pens all over Austria for the Christmas eve feast—the biggest eating treat of the year.

The Austrian counterpart of the traditional Christmas turkey in America is a plump carp—fried to a sizzling golden brown.

Mrs. Liesl Fuchs, a typical Viennese wife, has ordered a four-and one-half pound carp for her husband, two children and herself on Christmas Eve. A careful budget planner, she works in a lawyer's office to supplement her husband's slim civil service income. But she says there'll be no stinting on the holiday. She expects to spend between 200 and 300 schillings —$8 to $12 — for the dinner.

After the children have opened their presents beneath a tinselled tree laced with candy, the grown-ups will drink a holiday toast of plum brandy. Then the family will sit down to dinner.

Liesl says the first course will be "fischbeuschelsuppe," old-fashioned Austrian fish soup which includes roe and liver.

Then comes the carp. Austrian wives prepare it many ways, but Mrs. Fuchs' recipe is typical:

Cut the fish into medium-thick slices, dust lightly with flour, dip each slice in beaten eggs, sprinkle with fine bread crumbs and fry in butter to golden tenderness. Serve smoking hot with lemon wedges.

As a side dish Liesl will serve potato salad.

The grown-ups will drink a light, dry white wine from Burgenland province, near the Hungarian border, where husband Tony has friends among the wine growers.

For dessert the family will have poppyseed noodles with mountain honey. This Viennese delicacy, a sort of supper-doughnut, is made by rolling fat curls of sweet dough, frying, and then adding the poppyseeds and honey.

And with the dessert, there'll be another wine — a heavier, more aromatic product from the Krems district of the Danube valley. To finish the meal, the children will have candy and the parents will have Turkish coffee and—a special luxury—American cigarets.

CHRISTMAS PRAYER

One of the beautiful prayers of St. Francis of Assisi which have come down to us through the centuries is most appropriate for Christmas:

"Lord, make me an instrument of Thy peace.
"Where there is hatred, let me sow love.
"Where there is injury, pardon.
"Where there is doubt, faith.
"Where there is despair, hope.
"Where there is darkness, light.
"Where there is sadness, joy.
"O, Divine Master,
"Grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled as to console;
"To be understood as to understand;
"To be loved as to love;
"For it is in giving that we receive,
"It is pardoning that we are pardoned,
"And it is in dying that we are born to Eternal Life."

Attlee Successor Should Be Optimist

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The man who succeeds Clement R. Attlee as leader of the British Labor Party will need to be an optimist.

He will have to find a policy that will take a lot of votes away from Prime Minister Anthony Eden's Conservatives.

He also will have to close the wide split between Labor's right wing and left wing factions.

For the present, the Conservatives are going strong.

Unless something happens, they can remain in office until the life of the present Pariament expires in May, 1960.

There are three leading candidates for the Labor Party leadership.

But it is a sign of the state of the party that seven men, in all, are mentioned as possibilities.

Winston Churchill spent years building up Eden as his successor When he retired from the prime ministry last April 5, Eden stepped right into his place.

But Attlee was unable to do that. He had enough to do to try to keep the party together.

Herbert Morrison was his deputy. But time has caught up with Morrison as it did with Churchill and Attlee. He is 67.

Labor needs a younger man. Hugh Gaitskell, 49, a pro-American member of the right wing, is expected to be elected leader by the Parliamentary Labor Party, which consists of labor members of Parliament.

But Aneurin Bevan, the anti-American left wing leader, intends to make a fight for it—a fight which may widen the party split.

After the Conservatives won the general election last May, to remain in office with an increased majority, Gaitskell said:

"The cold, sober prospect for Labor in the next 10 years is that we spent the first 5 years in opposition and the second 5 in government."

The Conservatives now have a majority of 58 in the 630-seat House. But with 344 seats to Labor's 278, they have a majority of 66 over the official opposition.

The only hope the Laborites have of a comeback before 1960 at the earliest is that something will happen to cause the dissolution of Parliament and a resultant election on some big issue. But if the Conservatives find an issue favorable to them, they can call an election and get themselves in for another five years.

CHECK ORNAMENTS EARLY

NEW YORK —(UP) —Unpack your Christmas tree decorations early so you will have plenty of time to purchase replacements and clean all lights and ornaments Clean light bulbs several days before Christmas, wiping them with a sudsy sponge if they're heavily soiled. Make sure they are disconnected during cleaning.

Early Christmas Eve Paris Smells Like Roast Turkey

PARIS —(UP) —Early Christmas eve, all of Parts begins to smell good—just like roast turkey.

Lines form in front of bakeries and from the ovens, which 364 days a year make mile on mile of string-like loaves of bread, the baker will bring out roast turkeys ranging from the modest six and eight-pounders to the 24-pound king-size model.

Most French homemakers find their ovens too small to bake a turkey, so they turn the job over to a baker, who charges from 70 to 200 francs—20 to 57 cents— for the job.

Not all French families will serve turkey. Chicken takes over in cases where the family is small, or finances are tight.

Typical of the small family meal on Christmas will be that served by Madame Emile Despray, the concierge of the Villa Sucher, in a residential section of Paris.

She will cook for six—her husband, a postal clerk, their daughter, Madame Despray's mother, and her married sister and brother-in-law. Her only son is in the French army in Germany and won't get home for Christmas.

Altogether, she figures the dinner plus the wines and champagnes traditional of the holiday will cost about $20.

The menu she has planned:

To start: hors d'ouevres—sardines, cold cuts, tomatoes, radishes, hard boiled eggs with mayonnaise, pate, and shredded celery—all served with a bottle of good white wine.

Next: a good fish. Mme. Despray says it will be a channel sole. Some oysters. More white wine.

Then comes the roast chicken served with straw potatoes — French fries cut thin.

"We won't have any vegetable" said Madame Despray. "Just a touch of watercress for color. Because we will eat so much that Christmas night."

A good bottle of burgundy will be opened with the chicken—wine of a better quality than the "vin ordinaire" the Desprays drink the rest of the year.

Italian Housewife Ignores Budget At Christmas Season

By ERNEST SAKLER
United Press Staff Correspondent

ROME — (UP) — The Italian housewife ignores the family budget when the Christmas season arrives.

No matter what her husband's income, high, medium or low, the holiday plan of each homemaker includes plenty of food on the table, presents for the family, and the traditional pine tree and-or presepe, a miniature reproduction of the crib in which Christ was born.

The crib, a typical Christmas feature was invented by St. Francis of Assisi seven centuries ago.

The holiday fixin's are far more elaborate than most American homemakers will prepare. The Christmas menus of Mrs. Antonietta Lo Curzio, the wife of a car dealer, are typical. Mrs. Lo Curzio, an excellent cook, said Christmas lunch and dinner would cost about 12,000 lire—$19.20.

Her menu for the Christmas eve including eggs, tuna fish; sardines; a kind of big eel called capitone, a fish which is a traditional Christmas dish; a mixed salad of cauliflower, fennel and apples; torrone, a marble-like candy made of sugar, almonds, and pistaches that makes American rock candy seem as soft as marshmallow: fruit; coffee.

Christmas day lunch, which according to the best Roman tradition is continued through the afternoon and until night to include dinner, will include hors-d'oeuvres, this time with ham and sliced sausage in addition to the previous menu; capon broth with noodles (stracciatelle or agnolotti); fettuccine all'uovo, another savory member of the wide variety of Italian paste dishes; the roasted capon served with salad; torrone, panettone, cheese and fruit, all washed down with red and white wine.

Although gifts are exchanged at Christmas, the real day of presents for children is Epiphany Day, January 6. On the night before that day, Italian children are told, a benevolent gray-haired witch called Befana descends through chimneys to fill their stockings with gifts—or coal if they have been bad boys.

Wish On Holly Leaf On Christmas Eve

KENT, O. —(UP) —Turn over a new leaf—holly, that is—if you want your Christmas wishes to come true.

It's an ancient Christmas Eve custom, according to historians of the Davey Tree Expert Co.

Place tiny pieces of lighted candle on holly leaves. Then float them in a tub of water—one for each wish. If the leaf floats, that wish will come true. If it sinks, you're sunk.

Don't Get Sassy With Man Wearing Green Felt Beret

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — Don't get sassy with any man you happen to meet in the street who is wearing a green felt beret cocked over his right eye.

He'll be all man, and if he's in a vile mood he may haul off and clobber you one.

Like as not, if you look him over you'll find that he sports "jump wings" on his chest and happens to be one of the U.S. Army's most versatile soldiers.

The beret was not of the tough man's choosing, but it is part of his new official get-up.

The soldier in the beret will be member of one of the 15 new teams which comprise the 77th Special orces Group — all airborne. If the shooting business comes again, this fellow and his team mates will have the job of organizing and directing "pro - democratic" guerrilla bands behind the lines.

Not All Make Grade

The home station of the new outfit is at Ft. Bragg, N.C., but the vanguard at the moment is located at the Mountain and Cold Weather Training Command at Ft. Carson, Colo.

Not every soldier can make the grade. The man in the green beret has to be a sly one, and, actually, you may never bump into him on the street.

This guy is handpicked. He may be a medic, a weapons or demolition expert, a linguist, a radio operator, or all of these rolled into one.

His special training starts when he volunteers for paratroop jump-school, after eight weeks of rough and tumble basic training.

Must Butcher Animals

If a man is high up in his class as a parachuter he can volunteer for the special forces. Ahead of the lads who have the courage to raise a hand on this detail are months and months of rugged training. Some make it some don't. Men here are separated from boys.

First, there is a half year course in psychological warfare. Study of things like communications, medical aid, tactics, weapons and more airborne training.

Later, the tough boys get schooling in mountain climbing, amphibious and survival training.

All of this isn't easy, fellows in case you think of joining the special corps. The medic team, for example, has to be able to perform amputations in the field and clip out an ailing appendix or rip out an infected tonsil.

In addition, each fellow has to be an experienced butcher. He must be able to dissect a chicken or break up the shank of a steer. He must learn how to live off the land and shoot or fish for his own living, if necessary.

The line isn't very long, men. It forms on the left, as usual.

Cadillac

Strangers—with a Mutual Friend!

Anyone who owns and drives a Cadillac will find this a familiar scene.

For it is not at all unusual for Cadillac owners to salute one another as they pass on the highway . . . or to exchange approving nods as they wait at the traffic light.

Cadillac owners, you see, know that they have at least one mutual friend . . . in the Cadillac car.

And the chances are that if they were to meet, they would find they had a great deal more in common than just their affection for the "car of cars."

For Cadillac owners, taking them by and large, are people who share a keen appreciation for the finer things in life.

And, generally speaking, they are people of sound judgment and unusual practical wisdom.

They have learned, for instance, how reasonable a new Cadillac can be insofar as original cost is concerned.

They have seen for themselves how economical a Cadillac is to operate through the miles . . . and how dependable it is through the months.

And they have savored that final reward for choosing the "car of cars"—Cadillac's extraordinary resale value.

Perhaps, in view of these remarkable facts, the time has come for you to meet this wonderful friend of America's most demanding motorists.

We'll be delighted to introduce you at any time you find convenient—and to supervise a personal demonstration on the highway.

Larwill-Rome City; Wolf Lake-Coesse Play Double-Header Saturday At Columbia City

Larwill will play Rome City and Coesse will play Wolf Lake in double header high school basketball games Saturday evening in Marshall Memorial Hall in Columbia City. Wolf Lake is the host school.

The Larwill Trojans are coached by Roger Zwayer. They have played six scheduled games to date and have won three from Urbana, Churubusco and Jefferson Center and lost to Coesse, Arcola and South Whitley. Larwill has scored 275 points and their opponents 311. Paul Patterson is the principal.

The Rome City Romans have won all six games played on their schedule thus far from Cromwell, Huntertown, Lima, Shipshewana, Topeka, and Wawaka. Rome City has scored a total of 375 points and their opponents a total of 298 points.

George Grosskopf is the coach assisted by Paul Schock. Herman J. Ward is the principal.

The Coesse Indians have won four games from Larwill, Churubusco, Jefferson Center, and Arcola and lost to Harlan and Lancaster. Coesse has scored a total of 316 points and their opponents 292 points.

Jim LaFollette is the coach for the Indians. Richand White is the Coesse principal.

The Wolf Lake Wolves have won two games and lost five in their seven game schedule to date. Hugh Thimlar is the coach and Robert Glenn is the principal at Wolf Lake.

Wolf Lake has defeated Churubusco by a score of 62 to 59 and Coesse defeated Churubusco by a score of 59 to 43.

The Wolves, the team without a gymnasium, since fire destroyed it last January, have been practicing and scheduling games in neighboring gymnasiums.

Mr. Thimlar reports that the Rome City - Larwill game is called for 7 o'clock Saturday and the Coesse-Wolf Lake game will begin at 8:15 p.m. Admissions are 60 cents for adults and 50 cents for students. Season tickets may not be used for admission.

Four Local Teams Play Friday Night

Columbia City will play at Bluffton Friday evening in their sixth game of the season. South Whitley will play at Angola.

Jefferson Center and Churubusco will play at Jefferson Center. Both teams have lost to Coesse and Larwill in previous games.

Warriors Head For Showdown With San Francisco Team

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer

The Marquette Warriors, who stunned the college basketball world with a 22-game winning streak last season, are flying high again today as they head for a quick showdown with national champion San Francisco.

Powered by six-foot, eight-inch Terry Rand, who rifled the cords for 31 points, the Warriors looked impressive Wednesday night as they racked up their second win of this season, 89-75, over Valparaiso.

The triumph was a grim warning to San Francisco, which is slated to meet Marquette in the opening round of the DePaul tournament in the Chicago Stadium on Dec. 16. The national champs are idle until this clash, which opens their big national tour, but Marquette has two more games that figure as victories.

Marquette found itself held to a 38-38 halftime tie by Valparaiso, but exploded in the second half as Rand and soph Jay Schauer inspired the Warrior attack. Valparaiso, suffering its first loss, was led by Bob Madrick's 18 points.

Ousted In Thriller

Marquette is the surprise-package club that lost its opening game then won 22 straight before losing its last regular-season game. The Warriors moved into the NCAA tournament and won two games before being ousted in an 86-81 thriller by Iowa and since then they've been hoping for a chance to show their stuff against San Francisco.

Marquette, ranked No. 15 nationally by the United Press Board of Coaches, was one of four high-ranked teams to score victories Wednesday night. Dayton (No. 6) again displayed its power in a 73-50 victory over Miami of Ohio, a 56-55 win over Wichita in a tense and St. Louis (No. 13) easily defeated Centenary, 95-84, but Kansas (No. 17) barely squeaked to battle on the losers' court.

Other Top Games

In other leading games Wednesday night: Villanova took a 100-77 win over St. Francis (Pa.); St. John's (N.Y.) won a season-opening 89-62 from Roanoke in a tune-up for a Saturday clash with St. Louis; Notre Dame downed Loyola of Chicago, 85-84, in overtime; Pennsylvania took a season-opening 72-60 win over Swarthmore; Army romped over Ithaca, 9347; Cornell nipped Colgate, 82 - 76; Brown edged Tufts, 58-56; Yale won a spirited 92-87 fray with Connecticut; Cincinnati trounced Tennessee, 109-82; Georgia edged Mercer, 74-71; Tulsa nicked Texas Western, 57-56; tall Houston routed Texas A & M, 86-59; and visiting Baylor beat Oregon State, 62-57.

The Madison Square Garden seasons begins with a twin bill tonight, with Georgetown (D.C.) facing New York U. in the first game and Seton Hall, ranked 19th nationally, hosting Western Kentucky in the second. Louisville, ranked 20th, visits Wayne of Detroit, while other top games tonight include Arkansas-Oklahoma Aggies, Clemson-Georgia, and Oklahoma-Rice.

Hershey Bears Beat Indians 5-1

By UNITED PRESS

The Hershey Bears' hopes of rising out of the American Hockey League cellar were lifted today on the wings of a 5-1 victory over the fifth-place Springfield Indians.

Jim Uniac paced the Bears' triumph by scoring his first two goals of the campaign as the Bears tallied three third-period goals to break a 1-1 deadlock at the end of the second session.

Uniac, who had received credit for only five assists in the Bears' previous 21 games, tallied at 5:02 and 17:14 of the third period to lead Hershey's laterally .

New York Rangers Beat Maple Leafs 3-1

By UNITED PRESS

Coach Phil Watson singled out wing Anay Bathgate and defennseman Harry Howell today as key men in the amazing New York Rangers' surge to contention in the National Hockey League race.

"Bathgate's played like a Maurice Richard or a Gordie Howe and Howell's been a brilliant defenseman," Watson said after the Rangers beat the Toronto Maple Leafs, 3-1, Wednesday night and extended their unbeaten streak to eight games — longest for them since the 1949-50 season. "Bathgate may go on to become one of the great players of the league and Howell is as good a defenseman as I'd ever want to have on my team."

The Rangers, picked to finish last in pre-season ratings, now trail the first-place Montreal Canadiens by only four points and hold an 11-point bulge on third-place Chicago and Detroit.

Bathgate, a 24-year old product of the Ranger farm system, scored the New Yorkers first goal at 8:51 of the second period Wednesday night and then tallied into an unprotected net at 19:12 of the third period to clinch the triumph. He's now scored 11 points in his last four games.

Bathgate's first goal stood up until 11:15 of the third period when Hugh Bolton tallied his first goal of the season but Andy Henbenton picked up a goal-mouth pass by Rudy Migay to beat Harry Lumley only a minute and 16 seconds later and regain the lead for the Rangers. Then Bathgate made his second goal of the game while Toronto had six forwards on the ice to wrap it up for New York.

Lakers Lose 92-79 To Rochester Rovals

By UNITED PRESS

The Minneapolis Lakers, with league-leading scorer Clyde Lovellette sidelined by a virus attack, found themselves buried deeper than ever today in the cellar of the National Basketball Assn.

Big Lovellette was taken ill just before Wednesday night's game at Rochester and the Lakers went on to lose a 92-79 decision to the Rochester Royals. Minneapolis took a 22-16 lead at the end of the first period but dropped behind in the second and out of contention in the third.

It was the only league action Wednesday night.

J. A. A. Schedule

The JAA schedule for Saturday is as follows:

8:40 Bulldogs and Giants
9:20 Stars and Kewpies
9:50 Yanks and Owls
10:20 Badgers and Crows
10:55 Pirates and Wolves
11:30 Mudhens and Tigers
12:05 Trojans and Bearcats
12:45 Panthers and Comets

YULE DECOR, KID STYLE

NEW YORK — (UP) — Let the children help decorate the house for the holidays. They will enjoy drawing Christmas scenes on window glass or mirrors, using a paste of scouring powder and water. First outline a snow scene using a crayon-like sliver of soap. Next dip a brush in the scouring powder-paste and paint along the soap lines. This gives a raised, frosted look that lasts until you wipe it off with a damp sponge after the holidays. The soap crayon can be used to sketch out almost any holiday motif — Christmas tree, sleigh bells, reindeer.

Germans Feast On Wild Game And Pork On Christmas

BAD NAUHEIM, Germany — (UP) —The Karl Langsdorf family, like thousands of Germans, will feast on pork and wild game come Christmas.

"No turkey for us," said handsome Elly Langsdorf. "Turkey is too scarce and expensive."

The Langsdorfs and their three boys live in nearby Friedberg but always come to Bad Neuheim to celebrate with grandma, who has a comfortable flat in the resort town's residential section. In all, four generations are represented at the Langsdorfs' family Christmas.

Said Mrs. Langsdorf:

"Grandma takes over, we all must leave for a while, and she gets the Christmas tree lighted up —we use genuine candles—and all the gifts beneath it.

"In Germany, we present our gifts on Christmas eve, so that the children have all Christmas Day to play.

"When everything is in its place, grandma rings a little bell, and in we march, the children first, of course, because they are the most impatient.

"Christmas is a day mostly for kids," she said, "so most of the money spent is spent on them. They get useful things like shoes and shirts, but there must also be toys, of course."

Mrs. Langsdorf, whose husband is a mechanic, said she spends 100 to 150 Duetschmarks — between $24 and $36—on Christmas gifts alone, most of them for the children.

"While the boys get ready to take their toys apart, grandma and I go into the kitchen to prepare the Holy Night dinner," she said. "My husband likes fried or broiled hare, rabbit, or deer. We serve potato balls and lettuce with the meat, and, of course, a heavy gravy.

"After dinner we just have a sweet pudding or fruits.

"Now Daddy comes in with the wine—and let me assure you, this is wine!

"Grandfather is manager in a big wine cellar, and from the owner he always gets selected vintages for Christmas—as a gift."

Christmas Dinner Served At Mid-Day In Great Britain

LONDON —(UP) —Housewives happily are preparing holiday meals.

Even the traditional Christmas pudding will be more of the home-made variety. London shops report the ready-made variety is a slow seller. No trouble finding the makings, they say.

London already is decorated for the Yuletide, and trees with colored lights and decorations will deck most homes.

Carolers with their traditional lanterns on poles will sing the favorite carols of Queen Elizabeth II and her family, and an excited Prince Charles and Princess Anne will go to bed wondering what Santa will bring them.

Early Christmas morning, the young prince and princess like children all over the country will open gifts, and after breakfast the family will walk to the old parish church for services. Then, back home for the traditional Chrismas feast, and the opening of more gifts.

All over Britain, the Christmas dinner is served at mid-day.

Typical menu is that planned by Mrs. Norman White, wife of a London engineer, who will feature roast turkey. Mrs. White said the Christmas day meal for herself, her husband, their two children, her mother and sister will cost about 10 pounds—$28.

The menu: Chilled grapefruit, roast stuffed turkey, boiled ham, giblet gravy, bread sauce, potatoes, brussels sprouts, green salad, Christmas pudding with rum butter, mince pies with brandy sauce, fruit salad and cream, nuts, and wine.

Modern Fruit Cake

LOS ANGELES —(UP)—Today's version of the holiday fruit cake is just as tasty as the old-time product, but not nearly so back-breaking to make.

Fruit cakes are English in origin and are "a lot of fruit, a little cake." The original recipes called for raisins, currants, orange peel, candied pineapple, citron, and three or four kinds of nuts by the pound. These meant several hours of chopping and mixing.

Now, the raisins, dates, currants, almonds, walnuts and other additions come chopped, and in some cases already mixed. One company has added the flour and other ingredients so that all the home-maker need do is add liquid and bake.

To keep the cakes moist if they are to be held for several days or weeks before serving the California Foods Research Institute suggests they be "basted" with sherry or brandy from time to time. The cakes should be stored in a covered jar or dish.

Modern cooks have found that texture and flavor are better if the cakes are smaller — the one-to three-pound size. To serve, slice them thin. Fruit cake is delicious with cheese and coffee; with afternoon tea or hot chocolate.

Santee Beats His Own Record

QUANTICO, Va. (UP) — Wes Santee, former Kansas U. runner now in the Marines, clipped two seconds off his own American three-quarter mile record Wednesday when he was clocked in 2:56.2. Santee set his previous mark at Randalls Island, N.Y., in 1952.

Hugh Daughtery Has Been Chosen Coach Of The Year

NEW YORK (UP)—Hugh Duffy Daugherty, who in his second year on the job guided Michigan State to a Rose Bowl berth, today was chosen football "Coach of the Year" in the annual poll conducted by the New York World-Telegram and Sun and the other Scripps-Howard newspapers.

The 40-year-old Spartan mentor, who didn't get a single vote in last year's balloting, this time rolled up the greatest winning margin in the 21-year history of the poll.

A total of 492 members of the American Football Coaches Assn. took part in the voting and Daugherty received the first-place ballots of 199. A distant second was Bud Wilkinson, coach of Oklahoma's Orange Bowl bound Sooners with 54.

Woody Hayes, coach of Big Ten champion Ohio State, was third with 42 and was followed by Paul (Bear) Bryant of Texas A & M with 29, Abe Martin of Texas Christian with 26, JJohnny Michelosen of Pittsburgh with 20, Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech with 13, Art Guepe of Vanderbilt with 12, Jim Tatum of Maryland with 11, Bowden Wyatt of Tennessee with 10, and Terry Brennan of Notre Dame and Ara Parseghian of Miami of Ohio with eight each. A total of 81 coaches received mention in the ballots, which included first, second, and third choices.

The award comes after a season that saw Daugherty build a team with only a three games out of nine record the previous year into a formidable machine that won eight of nine and landed in the Rose Bowl.

Schooling his players in an intricate system that utilized the straight-T, split-T, and single-wing formations, Daugherty came up with a smooth combine that left rivals confused and battered. The sophloaded team dropped a 14-7 decision to Michigan in its second game, then found itself and roared unchecked through Stanford, Notre Dame, Illinois, Wisconsin, Purdue Minnesota and Marquette.

As "Coach of the Year" Daugherty, a native of Barnesboro, Pa., succeeds Henry (Red) Sanders of UCLA. Sanders will be Daugherty's coaching rival in the Rose Bowl game Jan. 2.

Bob Baker Beats Cuba's Nino Valdes

CLEVELAND (UP) — That "Dance of the Elephants" staged Wednesday night by Bob Baker and Nino Valdes seemed today to have boosted another guy — Young Floyd Patterson, of Brooklyn — into a June shot at the heavyweight crown.

Baker of Pittsburgh, won another decision over Valdes of Cuba in the Cleveland Arena, but the fight was such a boo-provoking farce that both were eliminated as potential challengers.

The cat-calls and strains of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," had scarcely echoed away in the arena's girders, when it was learned reliably that 21-year-old Patterson, top contender for the light heavyweight crown, has now become the man most likely to challenge Rocky Marciano for the heavyweight championship in June.

Patterson is slated for an important bout tonight in Los Angeles against Jimmy Slade, a "spoiler' who once wrecked the hopes of Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson.

Baker, second - ranking heavy contender and Valdes, number three, not only eliminated themselves Wednesday night, but came close to being tossed out of the rirng by Referee Tony La Branche.

"I threatened to throw them out a couple of times," said La Branche, who provided most of the action during the dull 10 rounder that topped the 30th annual Cleveland Christmas Fund show. He was persistently circling them like a terrier and yelling: "Get in there and fight. Come on, you two, fight."

Baker, wearing a mustachio and little goatee and packing 213½ pounds on his six-foot-two frame, won the unanimous decision over taller Valdes, whom he had outpointed in their first fight at Huntington, W.Va., on May 21, 1953. Lofty Nino, towered six-feet-three and weighed 207.

Heimbachs Escape Serious Injury In Accident Thursday

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Heimbach of Columbia Township escaped serious injury late Thursday afternoon on Road 16 west of Roann, when their car collided with a tractor that was pulling a wagon load of corn.

Their automobile was practically demolished. Mr. and Mrs. Heimbach were pinned in the debris and could not release themselves. They were given help by a passing motorist.

Taken into a doctor in Roann, Mrs. Heimbach was found to be suffering from injuries to her left arm and to one knee. The accident occurred in a wooded section. The driver of the tractor did not stop and had no lights on his tractor and wagon.

Mr. and Mrs. Heimbach were brought home by the garage man, who towed their automobile into the garage. Earlier in the afternoon, the Heimbachs had attended funeral services held for Edward Voorhess, 91, member of the Voorhess Lumber Company at Flora, uncle of Mrs. Heimbach and a member of an old pioneer family in Carroll county.

On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Heimbach were expecting to return to Flora to attend funeral services to be held for a cousin of Mrs. Heimbach who died in Carroll county this week.

A SINNER FINDS PEACE

Scripture lesson is found in Luke 7:37-38-48-50.

"And behold a woman, in the city which was a sinner, —stood at his feet behind him weeping—." Jesus said, "Thy sins be forgiven thee—go in peace."

At the home of a local religous leader, a sinning woman stood behind Jesus weeping great tears of repentance.

All sin is accompanied by heartache, misery, and tears of sorrow. The woman of discussion never had her name mentioned but her character is discussed 1,900 years after her death.

Notice carefully her actions of repentance: An alabaster box of costly ointment was poured upon the head of her Lord, warm tears flowed to Jesus' feet, with her hair she dried them, with her mouth she kissed them. With her heart she loved Him. She loved Him in deed and truth but never said a recorded word.

Then Jesus praised her very highly. He is quoted to have forgiven her sins. He explained that faith had saved her. He gave the order for her to depart in peace evidently to sin no more.

Christmas Gift Of Jaycees To Be For Elderly

60 Patients In Nursing Homes To Receive Gifts

Columbia City's Junior Chamber of Commerce is at work on a Christmas project which includes the purchase of individualized gifts for each nursing home patient in Columbia City.

The Jaycees have announced through their Christmas committee head, Keith Dowell, that this project will replace the promotion of outdoor home and commercial lighting and displays which the clubmen sponsored annually through contest prizes for the best in outdoor Christmas decorations.

Approximately 60 individuals will get Christmas rememberances from the Jaycees as the result of the club project for this Christmas season. These are the patients in the four nursing or rest homes located in the city. The patients at the Farris Nursing Home, the Irvin Nursing Home, the Bakle Convalescent Home, the Bakle Con-Nursing Home, will be included.

Regardless of whether the patients have families to remember them and brighten the holidays or whether they are without relatives or friends, the Jaycees intend to deliver to each of the patients in the convalescent homes, small gifts from their club as remembrances from the people of Columbia City.

Each gift will have to be tailored to the individual's needs and requirements, Mr. Dowell explained. Dietary restrictions mean that some cannot have candy, fruit, or nuts. Some cannot read, while to some reading is one of their greatest pleasures. So each gift is to be selected, with consultation with the nursing home heads, for the patient's wants or needs in mind.

As a reminder to those who in the rush of preparations for Christmas might forget a deserving friend in the nursing homes, the Jaycees are urging that patients known to the Columbia City citizen be included on his Christmas card list.

Date Of Recount Set For December 22

Friday morning Judge Lowell Pefley fixed December 22 as the date for the Churubusco town election recount.

The recount commission composed of Perry Ort and William Shew Republicans, and Dale Barrett, Democrat, is to assemble at 7 p.m. in the circuit courtroom in Columbia City to recount the ballots cast for two of the Churubusco town trusteeships.

The recount was asked by two Democrats who lost by a small majority to their Republican opponents in the Nov. 8 balloting. These are William C. Veazey, defeated by 4 votes by Cecil F. Allman, and Nile Egolf, defeated in the Nov. 8 count by 9 votes by Abraham D. Nestel.

Proper party watchers and legal counsel will be at the courtroom for the recounting of the Churubusco ballots.

Car Spins On Ice; Youth Hurt Slightly

Paul Eugene Hazen, 17, of R 4 was hurt slightly about 9 p.m. Thursday on U.S. Highway 30 two and a half miles west of here, when he lost control of his 1947 Chevrolet car on the ice-covered road.

His vehicle, eastbound, went off the highway on the south side broke off the mailbox at the George Armel home, then rolled over and landed on all four wheels.

Hazen told State Policeman Wayne Reese, who investigated the accident, that he was driving about 50 miles an hour when he lost control of the car on the icy patch. He received a slight cut in the top of his scalp. His compaion, Gene Baxter, Columbia City, escaped unhurt.

Tokheim Chorus To Be Heard By Masons

The Tokheim glee club, a mixed chorus of 27 voices under the direction of H. Lloyd Grosvenor, will be heard tonight at the Masonic temple dining room in a program of music following a dinner-smoker for Master Masons.

The dinner will feature chop suey prepared in the kitchens of the Oriental Show You company and served with the side dishes prepared and served by the Order of Eastern Star. The dinner is to be served at 6:30 p.m., according to Hartwell Giles, master of the lodge.

Tonight's dinner meeting to which all Master Masons are invited, is to be entirely of a social nature. No formal lodge session will be held. On December 19 the Blue lodge Masons will hold their annual election of officers.

Meany, Sligh Debate Publicly On Obligations

Of Labor, Industry To One Another

By JACK WOLISTON
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—The nation's top labor leader and the top representative of industry meet today for a public debate at their summit on their obligations to each other.

George Meany, president of the new 16 million member AFL-CIO, will speak on "What Industry Owes To Labor."

Charles Sligh, chairman of the National Association of Manufacturers, will reply with an address on "What Labor Owes To Industry."

There was no advance information on what each would pursue in their "summit" meeting. But their organizations have expressed strongly opposing views during their respective conventions here this week.

NAM Winding Up Congress

The debate is scheduled at a lunch meeting. athe NAM is concluding its 60th annual Congress of Industry this week. The AFL-CIO Thursday ended its inaugural convention at which Meany was elected president.

Meany will preside today at a post convention meeting of the 29-man Executive Council. The council was expected to deal with problems that have arisen since the convention opened Monday. It may deal with matters pertaining to overlapping unions, raiding, industrial unionism, Communism and related matters.

Cola G. Parker, new president of the NAM, indicated some policy views of his organization in a convention address Thursday.

He particularly condemned security consciousness with the statement that the country has gone "completely overboard on security."

Two Teams To Debate At Delphi Saturday

Two varsity debate teams from Columbia City Joint high school will go to Delphi Saturday to compete in the state-wide Indiana High School Forensic Debate. The debate will consist of three rounds of debating.

Those going from Columbia City as affirmative speakers will be John Forrester, Eldon Killian, Hugo Martz and Jim Grant.

Rex Carpenter, John Pontzius, Barry Brennan, Judy Schrader and Linda Gates are the negative speakers.

The subject to be debated is resolved: "That the Federal Government should guarantee higher education to qualified high school graduates by direct grants to colleges and universities."

Forrest Orr To Head District School Board Association

Forrest Orr was elected as district chairman of the Indiana School Boards Association for the Fourth district at the meeting in Indianapolis Wednesday. He was elected for one year with the term starting January 1.

He will be in charge of planning the district meeting which will be held in Columbia City and assisting with the state program.

Mr. Orr is serving his third term as a member of the Columbia City school board and he is treasurer of the Columbia City Joint high school Board.

Kenneth Growcock To Give Recital Sunday Evening

Kenneth Growcock, organist at Grace Lutheran church, will give an organ recital, Sunday evening, at 7:30 at the Evangelical United Brethren church.

He will be assisted by Mrs. Paul Hoover, pianist.

The recital is open to the public.

Robert Meyer To Head Lutheran Men; "Adopt" Parish House

Robert Meyer, scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop No. 80 sponsored by the Lutheran men, was chosen to head the Grace church Brotherhood at its annual election held last night in the church social rooms.

Forrest Barney was elected vice-president and secretary while William Stellhorn was elected treasurer. Retiring Brotherhood president is John Moyer.

Henry Sievers was named program chairman of 1956 by the new president. The election followed a dinner served the group by Group Two of the Ladies Mite society. Chicken pot pie and mince pie were featured on the menu.

The Brotherhood will sponsor the parish house next year. With assistance from the church ladies linoleum floor covering has been laid in the high school classroom. Purchase of draperies and window shades are contemplated.

The Lutheran men will continue their sponsorship of the Boy Scout troop which has 18 active members and 25 on the roster.

Red China Sends United Nations Into An Uproar

Threaten To Block The Admission Of Any New Members This Year

By BRUCE W. MUNN
United Press Staff Correspondent

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—Nationalist China today threw the United Nations into an uproar that threatened to block the admission of any new U.N. members this year.

The Security Council scheduled a meeting Saturday to consider the controversial membership issue.

But diplomatic observers said there was little chance of any country getting in this year unless the major powers devise a new formula.

The Security Council was confronted at the outset by a procedural debate sparked by Nationalist China s surprise move in nominating 13 non-Communist countries for U.N. membership.

The Nationalist move came shortly after the General Assembly approved by a vote of 52-2 a resolution urging the Security Council to admit 18 countries, including five Communist satellites.

The General Assembly list included Albania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Romania and Outer Mongolia, all Communists satellites and Austria, Cambodia, Ceylon, Finland, Ireland, Italy, Japan Jordan, Laos, Libya, Nepal Portugal and Spain.

The Nationalist nominations excluded the Communist countries as well as Finland and Nepal, which recognize Red China. They sugstituted the Republic of Korea and free South Viet Nam.

This put the Security Council in the position of deciding which group should be voted on first, and the Nationalists were expected to demand priority for theirs.

If they succeed, and many believed their parliamentary ground was strong, it would put the Soviet Union in the position of vetoing the free nations first.

The Nationalists already have said they would use their Security Council veto to block admission of Outer Mongolia. Dispatches from Formosa today indicated this position was still firm.

Holiday Decorations Are Up At West Ward

The traditional illuminated Christmas tree has been put up in the central hall of the West Ward school by Principal Dale Pence assisted by students. A record player is to be installed near the landing to play Christmas music in the mornings, at noon and dismissal periods.

Pupils in the fourth grade taught by Miss DeMaris Smalley asked for permission to put their room tree out in the upper hall to add to the holiday spirit.

All classroom doors in the West Ward school are decorated with evergreen sprays tied with red ribbon. These were made by Miss Smalley and put up by Leonard Barnum.

Norris Addresses Whitley County Farm Bureau

At Meeting Wednesday Evening

Paul Norris, Director of Organization for the Indiana Farm Bureau in his address before a crowd of 400 people at the December county wide Farm Bureau meeting Wednesday evening at the 4-H Community Center stated that Indiana Farm Bureau had over 124,000 members in 1955,. This is an increase of 6,000 over the previous year.

He also discussed a number of the resolutions adopted by the delegates at the recent state convention held at Indianapolis. Among the state resolutions discussed were those favoring more public relations for better understanding between farmers and the people in town, the need for a veterinary college at Purdue and a need to study the water resources of the state.

He also reported that on national issues Indiana farmers at the State Convention favored repeal of the 2-cent federal gas tax and the establishment of a soil fertility bank to insure the food supply for future generations. The number of Indiana farmers who helped to form these resolutions were 45,000.

Program

Mrs. Clarence Eberhard led the group in singing and a splendid devotional program was given by Rev. Richard Knarr. Entertainment was furnished by the Jac-Lou-Mar Trio of South Whitley, consisting of Jackie Kline, Lou Ann Miller and Marian Harvey, accompanied by Ann Bechtold on the piano.

Dean Harris played a piano solo and Sandra Heinley sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. Clarence Eberhard. They are from Columbia township.

Caroliny and Marlyn Parrett of Etna-Troy township played an accordion duet.

Following the program, Merlin Heinbaugh, former county president, installed the county officers for the coming year. Heinbaugh acted as installing officer for Guy Gross, who was unable to attend on account of illness.

The Pet and Hobby club members concluded the meeting by singing the Booster song and Santa arrived with a treat for all the youngsters who had stayed awake throughout the evening in anticipation of this event.

Receive Awards At Dinner Meeting

At a dinner meeting at the First Methodist Church in Huntington recently for the scout leaders and their wives of the west district of the Anthony Wayne Council Dr Lowell Grant was presented with a certificate of service. This award was given to him in recognition for his outstanding services rendered to the scout organization in the year 1955. Dr. Grant is vice chairman of the district.

Dr. Grant was unable to attend the meeting and Dr. Charles R Guse accepted the certificate for him.

Robert F. Meyer was also presented an award for his outstanding service rendered at the time the Boy's Scout Camporee was held in Whitley County this past summer.

Scout Master, Ralph Evans, of South Whitley also received recognition for being a good troop leader.

Others attending from Columbia City were Mrs. Robert Meyer, Milton Schubert, Mr. and Mrs. John Moyer, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Watson, Ronald Hile, Bob Binkley, Ulysses Groves, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Grant and Mrs. Wayne Method.

President Meets With His Cabinet At Camp David

To Outline State Of Union Message

THURMONT, Md. (UP)—President Eisenhower met with his Cabinet at his mountain retreat here today to outline his forthcoming State of the Union message to Congress and to discuss the difficult farm problem.

Mr. Eisenhower drove in from his Gettysburg, Pa., farm 22 miles away.

Tipoff that the difficult farm situation was up for discussion was the fact that Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson took two of his top aides into rustic Laurel Lodge for the Cabinet session.

One agricultural aide told newsmen there has been some discussion by the administration of a proposal by Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) for a federal bonus program to promote a cut in pork production. He did not elaborate.

The two officials with Benson were Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Morse and Asst. Secretary Earl Butz.

Mr. Eisenhower met here Thursday with the National Security Council. That meeting ended in the early afternoon and the President motored back to his Gettysburg farm to spend the night.

Taken To Hospital

Mrs. Clara Kennedy, a patient in the Farris Nursing Home, was taken on Thursday night to the Whitley County Hospital where she had been admitted as a medical patient.

Mrs. Kennedy was suffering from a sudden hemorrhagic condition from the nostril. She was taken to the hospital in the Hollingsworth ambulance.

The Jefferson Township PTA will meet Monday evening, December 12 at the school, for their annual Christmas party. A social program is planned and a 50-cent gift exchange.

Soviet Contends East Germany Now Sovereign

And Has Control Of West Berlin's Life Lines To The West

By JOSEPH FLEMING
United Press Staff Correspondent

BERLIN (UP)—The East German government announced today that Communist police have taken over from Soviet troops the "guarding and control" of the borders of the Soviet Zone and the routes to Berlin.

The announcement, issued by the East German press office, underlined the Soviet contention that East Germany is now sovereign and has complete control of isolated West Berlin's life-lines to the West.

The announcement, coming at the time of an East-West controversy on four-power agreements on Berlin, appeared to serve notice on the Western Allies that agreements on free acess to this city now are at the mercy of the East German government.

The latest move gave the Communists power to harass or blockade the German supply routes to this city.

However, the transfer of control appeared to pertain only to German traffic to Berlin and not to Western Allied traffic.

Ask Return of GIs

The press office announcement said the transfer of control was made Dec. 1. An American spokesman said there has been no change since then in the status of Western Allied traffic.

He said Soviet guards and not East German border guards, still were exercising control over Western Allied highway and rail traffic.

The Communist announcement said the transfer of control was made as a result of the East German-Soviet treaty giving the Soviet Zone sovereignty. The treaty was signed in Moscow Sept. 20 and ratified in October.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Army disclosed it had made a third demand for the return of two American soldiers whose arrest in East Berlin led to Communist hints that they would try to bar the Eastern sector to Americans.

Coesse Basketball Teams See Pistons

Members of the Coesse first and second team basketball squads were entertained at a dinner at the Hobby Ranch House in Fort Wayne and attended the Zollner Piston-Syracuse basketball game at the Coliseum Thursday evening. The Pistons won by a score of 105 to 94.

Also attending the game and dinner were student managers Marvin Goble and Lynn Barnes.

Coach Jim LaFollette and Principal Richard White attended the party. The trip was made in a school bus driven by Lee Perry.

Columbia City Stores Offer You Many Gifts Of Jewelry, Furniture And Home Appliances

This is the second in a series of articles intended to help you with your Christmas shopping. Post and Mail reporters visited our local stores and offer you these suggestions.

Many of these ideas have been presented in advertising with prices and details in local papers.

Columbia City merchants will be glad to help you with suggestions and with your shopping.

Jewelry

Have you visited the novelty jewelery counters to see the gold plated jeweled can openers, bottle openers, key chains, four leaf clover, heart shaped or mustard seed charms? Have you seen those plated pill boxes, some jeweled one with hands like a clock to remind you when to take your pill? Some were shaped like a mail box.

Yes, there were letter openers and Lucite base mousetraps complete to hold your papers down with a cute little gold plated mouse attached. A choice of combs with rhinestone, silver or gold trim, and rhinestone stretch bracelets or identification bracelets and a place for pictures, also the secret love bracelet for the young at heart with attached heart and key.

At the jewelery stores here are suggestions for the home. Brass plaques to ornament the home, waste baskets and magazine racks, trivits of all kinds and lovely Fostoria glass and milk glass. There are wall clocks and novelty clocks.

Do Your Turkey Shopping Early

CARBONDALE, Ill. — (UP) — Shopping for the Christmas turkey is like the rest of your holiday buying. Do it early.

Scott Hinners, poultry specialist at Southern Illinois University said early shopping assured the homemaker of a choice turkey, and one also sized to the family's needs.

"Many families fin that small turkeys, turkey halves, turkey quarters and even sliced turkey steaks are enough for the holiday meal," said Hinners.

Some other shopping tips from the poultry expert:

Allow ½ to ¾ pound, dressed weight, of turkey for each person to be served. Small children do not require that much. A 15-pound turkey will provide about 20 generous servings.

The SIU poultry expert says cutting a turkey into halves or quarters does not affect its flavor in roasting.

"We find at our house that we get more of that good dressing wth the turkey because there is more space in the roaster when halves are used," Hinners said.

"There is one objection to turkey quarters, though: your family has to be unanimous on their choice of light or dark meat."

Hinner's said there may be some difference in flavor between large and small birds. Usually the large turkeys are the toms and the smaller ones are the hens.

"Most people prefer a large hen to the same weight tom," Hinners said, "but large, fat toms are palatable. They normally cost less per pound and yield a higher percentage of edible meat, making them the most economical buy.

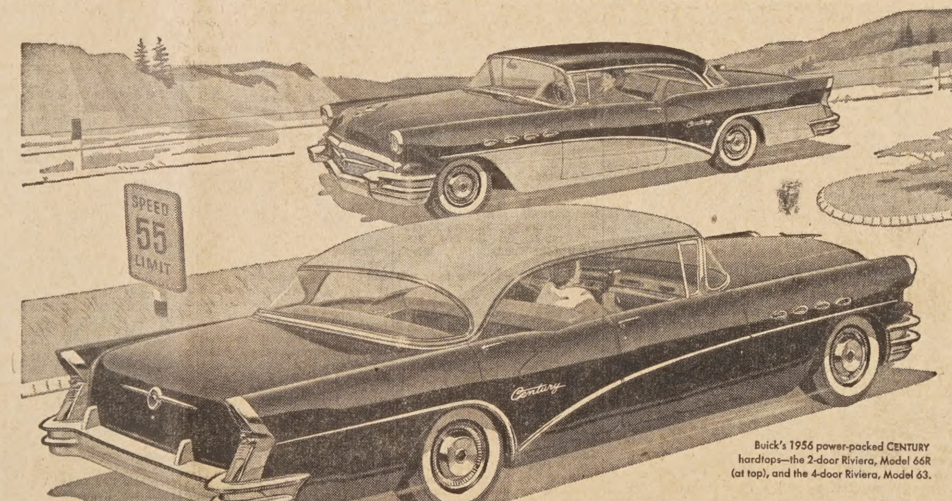
At 50—it's using less than 10% of its power



Buick's 1956 power-packed CENTURY hardtops—the 2-door Riviera, Model 66R (at top), and the 4-door Riviera, Model 63.

It's practically no effort at all for a sprinter to walk.

And so it is with the 1956 Buicks in cruising—for these are the mightiest powered Buicks yet built.

Take the '56 Buick CENTURY pictured here. It's almost a loaf for this beauty to cruise a superhighway at a legal 50 mph. At that point it's using less than 10% of its pedal-to-the-floor power.

And that's just the reason for the record-high power and compression ratio in your big 322-cubic-inch V8 engine. You and your engine can take it easy so much of the time.

You have no qualms about the response at your command. Your power plant has no need to breathe hard—so it saves gas, stays young, lasts longer.

So when you take the wheel of a '56 Buick, you take it easy, and still lead the parade. You know you can call out the reserves with a touch of your toe.

And you find you silk through a whole day's driving with the flowing ease of today's new Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

For not only does this advanced new Dynaflow give you stepped-up gas mileage and brilliant new getaway response at only part throttle. Not only does it permit you to switch the pitch for full-power safety-surge take-off.

It also gives you absolute smoothness in acceleration and deceleration like you get in no other car in the world.

Drop in on us this week for a sampling of the best performance yet—and for a first-hand look at what else goes with the best Buick yet.

Santa At Meeting Of BPW; 76 Grownups And Children Present

A brilliantly lighted star at the very top of the huge Christmas tree with its colorful lights, that stood in southeast corner of the banquet room of the American Legion Home, added its charm to the annual Christmas party of the Business and Professional Women's Club, Thursday evening.

Santa Claus came in time to distribute gifts to the 24 children present, and participate in the gift exchange of the grownups. Each child was also presented a bag of candy and nuts and a candy cane. The children particularily enjoyed singing "Jingle Bells" and "Here Comes Santa Claus." Mrs. Glenn Mattix led in the group singing with Mrs. Charles Gage at the piano.

Mrs. Ed Stuckey, a member of the club, read the story of Raymond Alden "Why the Chimes Rang."

Each member of the club was to bring a child as her guest, either her own or a borrowed one.

At the close of the evening after the lights had been turned out, the group sang, "Silent Night" by candlelight. Clever Christmas arrangements, burning red candles, poinsettias, evergreen and cones formed the attractive appointments of the three long tables where 7 covers were laid for the chicken dinner, covers were marked with booklets bearing an angel scene.

Mrs. Irma Toomey and Mrs. Walter Ditton were welcomed as new members. Included among the guests were Mrs. Maynard Harrold and small daughter, Carla, guests of Mrs. Raymond Pence, their mother and grandmother.

GROUP FOUR AT GRACE CHURCH TO HOLD MEETING

Women At Oak Grove Hold Christmas Meeting Wednesday

The Mission Circle at the Oak Grove Church of God held its December meeting Wednesday with Mrs. David Oliver and Mrs. Kenneth Crowell in charge of the day's activities.

The Christmas story from Luke was read by Mrs. Edward Fenker. Mrs. Valiere Taylor gave the Christmas meditation and poems were read by Mrs. Virgil Heintzelman and Mrs. Everett Taylor.

The church women quilted in the morning and sewed rug rags. The Mesdames Robert Heady, Carl Herald, Dessie Schrader and Hazel Grabill prepared and served the dinner, in the parish hall.

The gift exchange was conducted in the afternoon. The decorations of the parish hall and of the tables laid for the dinner were in keeping with the season.

Christmas Traditions Of Other Lands Told To Washington Club

The Christmas program of the Washington Township Home Demonstration club was given by Mrs Jacob Dial, who read a Christmas story and then told of some of the Christmas traditions of other countries.

The December meeting of the club was held Tuesday in the social room of the Washington Center church. The program followed a buffett dinner served at prettily appointed tables decorated in keeping with the Christmas season.

There was group singing of "Hark the Herald Angels Sing,' the song of the month, Mrs. Oren Ware playing the piano accompaniment. Mrs. Milton Sickafoose and Mrs. H. R. Steele, a guest of the club, were in charge of devotions

In the exchange of gifts, secret sisters were revealed.

Marian Gregory Back From Europe; Makes The Trip By Plane

Miss Marian Gregory has returned from a vacation trip to Europe where she spent a month with her brother-in-law and sister, Sp—3 and Mrs. Wendell Buntain. Miss Gregory and Mrs. Buntain are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gregory of Etna-Troy township.

During her month's stay in Europe, Miss Gregory and Mr. and Mrs. Buntain spent a week in Italy, and traveled through Germany and Austria. They visited points of interest near Bad Kreuznach and along the Rhine River.

Miss Gregory made the trip by plane, leaving here November 4. She is associated with offices of the REMC in this city.

Pistons Defeat Nationals 105-94

By UNITED PRESS

The Syracuse Nationals beat Fort Wayne out for last year's National Basketball Assn. championship by a single point, but this year their rivalry is a different story.

The Pistons met the Nats for the fourth time this season at Fort Wayne Thursday night and came out with their third victory, 105-94. Six of the Pistons scored in double figures as rookie Chuck Noble from Louisville showed the way with 28 points. Adolph Schayes was high for Syracuse with 20.

Syracuse downed Fort Wayne, four games to three, in the final round of last season's title playoffs getting the big nod by the little margin of 92-91 in the final game. Thursday night the Nats threatened when they cut Fort Wayne's lead to 80-76 but three straight hook shots by Bob Houbregs opened the gap.

Extra police guarded the Fort Wayne dressing room because two threatening phone calls were received at the Pistons' office during the day. Officials said the caller demanded the Pistons win by a certain margin.

This was the only league game played Thursday night.

Canadiens Win Over Maple Leafs

By UNITED PRESS

The Montreal Canadiens and the Toronto Maple Leafs, who set the National League game record for penalties two years ago, between them spent more time in the penalty box than on the ice in their latest "Donnybrook."

Altogether, Referee Jack Mehlenbacker handed out 16 minors, seven misconducts and two majors Thursday night for a total of 112 minutes in penalties as the league-leading Canadiens rallied in the final period to down the Leafs, 3-1.

The win moved the Canadiens six points up on the second-place New York Rangers. In the only other game played, the Boston Bruins gained a 2-2 tie with the Detroit Red Wings and moved out of the cellar.

Jean Beliveau's goal in the third period gained the Canadiens a 1-1 tie and then Maurice Richard scored what proved to be the winning goal midway through the period. After some question as to whether it was a legal goal or not, Referee Mehlenbacker upheld the goal judge and said it was. That touched off a near riot.

Beliveau and George Armstrong began swinging and immediately were sent off with minors, a 10-minute misconduct plus a game misconduct. Before order was restored. Rudy Migay was awarded a 10-minute misconduct, and Tom Johnson and Ron Stewart were chased for five minutes for fighting.

Eric Nesterenko and Bert Olmstead soon followed to the penalty box for highsticking and Olmstead was thrown out of the game when he continued his fight with Nesterenko in the box.

Exactly two years ago, Dec. 9, 1953, the same two teams were slapped with 15 misconducts, four majors and 17 minors for a total of 204 minutes.

Beat winter grief—buy a new Ford Truck now!
New Ford Trucks for '56 give you more horsepower per dollar than any other truck line!* New Driverized Cab for winter comfort! New Lifeguard Design for winter safety!
Why risk trouble with cold starts, costly breakdowns, or other winter headaches an old truck can cause? You can get a brand-new 1956 Ford Truck for a lot less than you probably think.
Look at it this way. Figure the cost of putting your old truck in shape for winter . . . new tires, new battery, engine work, and so on. Then decide if you should plough that money back into your old truck—when it may more than cover the down payment on a brand-new '56 Ford Truck!
Only Ford gives you a Short Stroke engine in every model at no extra cost. Tubeless tires and other safety features now standard on all models. See your Ford Dealer!
*Comparisons of all makes of trucks, based on net horsepower and suggested list prices, show that Ford gives you more power for your money than any other truck line.
New '56 Ford Pickup leads all others in usable power! Your choice of new 133-h.p. Six or new 167-h.p. Y-8, both Short Stroke design!

Golfers Again Start Miami Open Tourney

MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—A field of 153 golfers started the Miami Open all over again today with Doug Ford and Billy Maxwell as marked men.

An afternoon downpour washed out the first round Thursday and officials decided to "bobtail" the tournament to three rounds of 54 holes so as to finish on Sunday as scheduled. The distribution of $12,500 in prize money will remain the same with $2,200 going to the winner.

Going down the drain with the showers were a pair of four-under-par 66s posted in dry weather by Ford and Maxwell and the under-par cards of 20 other golfers. It was the second time Ford, Yonkers, N.Y., pro named as "Golfer of the Year," has been rained out of a tourney lead. Two years ago, Ford had a fine 64 scratched off in the first round of the Washington celebrities event.

In all, 115 shotmakers managed to finish before the showers filled the greens ankle-deep with water. But 38 were left on the course with no chance to finish, including such hot favorites as Sam Snead, Mike Souchak, Freddie Haas and Tommy Bolt.

Snead, bidding to win this tourney for an unprecedented sixth time, posted an even-par 35 on the front nine along with Souchak, Haas and Bob Toski. Bolt carded a 34.

The postponement gave defending champion Bob Rosburg of Palo Alto, Calif., a new chance. The bespectacled youth opened with a 71 that gave him only a slight chance to hang onto the title.

Roy Campanella Again Wins Most Valuable Player Award

NEW YORK (UP)—Roy Campanella, who climaxed baseball's "comeback story of the year" by winning his third most valuable player award, said today he wished Brooklyn Dodger teammate Duke Snider "had won this one.'

"Winning the award three times is just an overwhelming experience and I can't say how happy I am,' the brilliant Negro catcher said. "But, at the same time, I really wish Duke could have won this one. He's such a great hitter and, after all, I did win the award twice before.'

Campanella, who also won the award in 1951 and 1953, beat out Snider this year in one of the closest races in history. The 34-year old backstop polled 226 points to Snider's 221 and was named on each of the 24 ballots while the slugging Brooklyn outfielder was left completely off one.

also pottery and chrome.

There is steel and silver tableware, tole trays, Lazy Susans, Paul Revere pitchers and Paul Revere sugar and creamer, chime clocks and pens for your desk. All kinds of men's goods and watches of various makes.

Musical compacts that would attract any woman or girl, imported feature-glow diamond rings, and feature-lock diamond ring sets. You will find colored stone set rings earrings of all kinds and children's silver and jewelry. Then there is the boxed jewelry, bracelets and emblem rings.

Other suggestions are Shaeffer Snorkel pens; mixmasters; single double, triple toasters; electric irons; Phinney-Walker clocks; chafing dishes; razors of various makes; cocktail shakers; aluminum ware.

Did you see the clever little novelty which might have the appearance to you as an old fashioned car with a frame that holds a child's picture bearing the slogan "Remember Me, Drive Slowly."

Some of the articles found in the furniture and appliance stores which would make extra special gifts for mother or the whole family are: contour chairs, occassional chairs of tub or swivel type, sofa beds with concealed inter-spring mattress with matching chair.

Some of the smaller items are pillowcases, sheets, towel sets in gift boxes or packages, foam rubber pillows, mirrors and pictures actual photographs in color, frames and lighted, blankets (cotton to electric), bathroom scales, nylon rugs, and nylon luncheon sets.

There are many small electric appliances to choose from such as ladies razors, electric irons with colored handles, electric sheets electric clocks, toasters, mixers, including the new stainless steel mixers and chrome trim, electric skillets, roasters, food warmers, deep fat fryers, zigzag attachments, electric coffee makers including an instant coffee maker which is new on the market.

If you would like to go into labor saving gifts there are all kinds of electrical equipment, such as stoves, refrigerators, washers, dryers, deepfreezes in the white, as well as pastel colors, and electric sweepers.

Gas equipment dealers suggest dryers, stoves, incinerators, and refrigerators as well as room heaters.

Unusual Lamps

A couple of other articles which have appeared on the market this year is an electric floor and table lamp which turns off by merely touching it with your hand. The heat from your hands turns the light off and on. There are pin-up lamps, desk lamps, and table lamps of classic design.

Dinette sets with plastic tops resembling wood or fabric, with the legs of the table and chairs brass plated aluminum or with black or white chrome. The seats of the chairs come in plastic pastel shades. One dealer mentioned the increasing demand for larger dinette tables and six chairs, perhaps due to the larger size families.

Gifts that can be bought for the entertainment of the whole family are radio, television, record players or the combination of radio, TV and record player.

Serving tables are suggested as a gift for the home. One of the newer colors is charcoal. Some servers fold and hang in a small space in a closet. Some had outlets for plugging in electric appliances.

Ironing tables are adjustable to all heights for sitting or standing. Some may be ordered for right or left handed persons.

Poster chairs have adjustable heights and back supports.

Coffee serving and casserole sets are trimmed with gold, copper and platinum and many have candle warmers.

Relish and salad serving sets are combined with wrought iron and brass.

Cake carriers and cannister sets are found in many colors of plastic, chrome, aluminum and copper with matching bread boxes and vegetable holders. Flour sifters are decorated with pictures of all kinds of baked goods.

Wooden cannister sets in natural light finish, salad sets, trays, knife holders, salt and pepper sets are all available. Nut bowls are complete with crackers and picks.

Brass and ceramic planters along with totem poles, bird cages are popular. Figurines have a matching centerpiece. Brass and black iron napkin holders are popular small gifts. Antique gold finish buffet sets are also combined with black. Tole ware to paint by numbers complete with a kit of supplies are ready for "do it yourself" artists.

Reproductions of milk and other glass, new complete sets of dishes for your holiday tables and silver and flatware are all possible gifts.

FCC Reinstates Grant For TV Station At Fort Wayne

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Federal Communication Commission Thursday reinstated its 1954 grant to Radio Fort Wayne, Inc., for a Channel 69 television station at Fort Wayne, Ind.

The FCC suspended the grant last July after the U.S. Court of Appeals ordered it to determine whether the death of former Indiana Gov. Paul V. McNutt would effect its decision in the case.

McNutt was a partner in Anthony Wayne Broadcasting, a competing applicant for the Channel 69 permit. James R. Fleming, co-publisher of the Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette, is the other Anthony Wayne partner.

McNutt died after Anthony Wayne had appealed the FCC's denial of its application to the Court of Appeals.

After suspending the Radio Fort Wayne TV permit, the FCC reopened the Channel 69 case. In its decision, the FCC said it revised the record in the case to reflect McNutt's death but otherwise said the 1954 decision would remain unchanged.

East German Communists Warn Today Of Great Housecleaning

ATOMIC PICKLE BARREL A physicist takes the radiation count from New York University's sub-critical nuclear reactor—two tons of uranium rods in a pickle barrel. The sub-critical reactor—so called because it cannot sustain a full chain reaction—is used in N.Y.U.'s nuclear engineering education program. Experiments are made by hoisting a neutron source among the uranium rods. Water, not vinegar, as some gagster suggests, is used to shield the experiment. It is the first nuclear installation in New York City.

King Adolf Of Sweden Presents Noble Prizes To The 1955 Winners

By KLAS ULLMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UP) — King Gustaf Adolf of Sweden today presents Noble prizes to the 1955 winners — three Americans, a Swede and an Icelander.

The ceremony, in Stockholm's famous Concert Hall, highlights the opening day of Sweden's 55th annual festival. Four prizes will be awarded here. The fifth—the 1954 Nobel Peace prize—will be presented to the United Nations Refugee Committee in a similar ceremony in Oslo, Norway. The 1955 peace prize has been held over.

Honored in Stockholm today will be Prof. Vincent du Vignaud of Cornell University, New York, for chemistry; Profs. Polykarp Kusch of Columbia University, New York and Willis E. Lamb of Stanford University, for physics; prof Hugo Theorell, of Stockholm, for medicine; and Icelandic author Haldor Kiljan Laxness for literature.

Each prize is worth $36,720. In addition, the winners will receive a gold statuette and a leather-bound diploma from the king.

Officials called all five prize winners to a morning rehearsal to make certain they would be action-perfect for the ceremony. Tail-coated ushers shepherded them through workmen putting the finishing touches to the Concert Hall to show each the route he will take to the rostrum to receive his prize from the king.

The ceremony has been unchanged since it was first held following the institution to the prizes by Swedish industrialist Alfred Nobel, inventor of dynamite. By tradition, even newsmen and photographers must wear tails and white ties to gain admittance to the hall.

The five prizewinners met Friday for the first time at the traditional reception given by the president of the Swedish Nobel Foundation. The reception was given by Lord High Chamberlain Birger Ekeberg.

Tonight, the winners and their wives will be guests at a state dinner tendered by the king.

Meditation

By REV. R. A. WOOD
Thorncreek Bethel and Collamer Churches of God
Mark 12:18-44

In this advent season when the eyes of the world are again turned toward that wonderous manger in Bethlehem, with new found interest and meaning, most of us also take new interest in our Bible reading. Searching the scriptures that we might know the will of God, and be prepared for the second coming of his Son, who first appeared in that Bethlehem manger so many years ago.

His mission to win men back to the teaching of God that they might escape the penalty of death. Which is the wages of sin and Godlessness. Receiving instead eternal life which is the gift of God through Jesus Christ his Son.

Thus that we might know and be ready when he calls —Jesus not only set for us a perfect example of Christian living, but also set forth the commandments that must be met to become the children of God. Therefore acceptable into His heavenly kingdom.

A careful search of these teachings and commandments of Christ's soon show us that here is new depth and meaning applied to many of the commandments that man had known for many years, but had taken altogether too lightly and had kept only in part. And then only as an outward show of superiority and selfrighteousness. Seldom if ever were they whole-heartedly accepted and applied to personal standards of living, before Christ's coming. But the teaching of Jesus show us that we accept his teaching as our standard of living, and "believe from the heart that form of doctrine delivered us."

Behold the depth of His teaching as He says "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul, with all thy mind, and with all thy strength." This is the first commandment and the second is like, namely this, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thy self." There is none other commandments greater than these.

Truly as we study His teaching we are made to realize that to lightly esteem them or to half-heartedly practice them is but to utterly fail in our quest for eternal life. And to miss this is to miss all.

So may we this Christmas season realize the full value of God's gift to us. And may the results be a spontaneous response to the love of God, that shall cause us to wholeheartedly accept His Son as ous savior, His teaching as our way of life, praying His power down on us in such a way that wrong thinking and evil ways might be erased from our lives, and we might be filled with a spirit of Godly love that will reach out to all mankind.

Ike Will Undergo An Examination Of Heart Today

At Washington's Walter Reed Hospital

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP) — President Eisenhower will undergo at Washington's Walter Reed Hospital today the first x-ray and fluoroscopic eaxminations of his heart since he left a Denver hospital Nov. 12.

After his examination, expected to require about 90 minutes, the President will go to the White House and remain there until late Tuesday when he returns to Gettysburg. While at the White House he will meet Monday with Republican congressional leaders and on Tuesday with a bipartisan group of House and Senate leaders.

The Walter Reed examination was expected to confirm the steady improvement the President has shown in recovering from the heart attack he suffered at Denver Sept. 24.

New Legislation May Be Result Of G.M. Hearings

Senator Does Not Specify Intentions

By DAYTON MOORE
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney predicted today that new laws will be recommended as a result of congressional hearings on the impact of General Motors on the nation's economy.

The Wyoming Democrat said he would not specify what legislation he has in mind until his Senate monopoly subcommittee makes an interim report next month on its five weeks of hearings on GM.

During the hearings O'Mahoney repeatedly said that auto dealer franchise contracts should be liberalized to give dealers a better break. He also said that allegedly monopolistic practices by GM and other big auto makers might lead to federal regulation of the industry.

The subcommittee's investigation of GM's complex, multi-billion dollar operations ended Friday except for testimony later from a few Chicago Chevrolet dealers.

Another subcommittee member,

Science Verifies Suspicion Some Adults Are As Susceptible To Polio As Are Children

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor

NEW YORK (UP)—Science has verified a long-held suspicion that adults enjoying high standards of living can be almost as susceptible to polio as their children.

A tightly "localized" polio epidemic in New Canaan, Conn., an expensive exclusive outer suburb of New York City, provided an ideal opportunity for a thorough, scientific investigation.

Dr. Joseph L. Melnick, professor of epidemiology, Yale University School of Medicine, seized the opportunity. He and his associates, Drs. James P. Nolan and Barbara H. Wilmer, have made their report.

The epidemic began with a four-year-old girl, one of 35 pupils in a nursery school. She missed school beginning June 4, 1954, because she was ill with fever but no one suspected polio at the time. Within two weeks four of her classmates and the mother of one of them were down with polio.

There were two more cases in June and five more during the first week of July which was the "peak week" of the localized epidemic. The last case occurred in late July.

Contact Was Shown

There were 16 cases in all, six of them in adults. Four of the children were from the nursery school; the remainder were their brothers or sisters. Each adult was

U.S. Jet Fighter Crashes Hospital, Kills One Person

Pilot Parachutes To Safety Before Crash

SHEFFIELD, England (UP) — U.S. Air Force officials today opened an investigation into the crash of an American jet fighter plane which plowed through the roof of a crowded hospital near Sheffield Friday night with its wingloads of ammunition exploding.

A 46-year-old mother of five children was killed when the F84F Thunderstreak skimmed the glass roof of a ward in the Lodge Moor Hospital, tore along a glass-covered corridor into another ward and blew up on a lawn outside. Seven other persons, including three children, were injured.

The pilot, Lt. Roy Evans, 24, Pulaski, Tenn., bailed out before the crash and parachuted safely from 35,000 feet. He was hospitalized for "observation" and Air Force officials said he would be questioned as soon as his condition permits.

Forced To Bail Out

Evans radioed his base at Sculthorpe shortly before the crash that his engine was afire and he was trying to crashland. A few minutes later he sent a message saying he was forced to bail out.

The pilotless plane crashed into the hospital roof like a blazing meteor. Ammunition stored in the wings exploded as it smashed through the crowded wards. The explosions and the whine of ricocheting bullets mingled with the terrified screams of patients and nurses.

The dead woman was Mrs. Elsie Murdock, who was scheduled to be released from the hospital in three days. Luckiest person in the hospital was 19-year-old nurse Rita Richardson, who according to police, had left Mrs. Murdock's bedside only two minutes before.

Rushed To Scene

Senior Air Force officers from the U.S. base at Burtonwood drove 60 miles through a driving rainstorm across the Pennine Mountains to the scene of the crash. They brought with them trucks and men to recover the wreckage and began an immediate on-the-spot inquiry.

Air Force sources said that Evans radioed he was running out of fuel before reporting his engine was on fire. Ground controllers at Burtonwood gave him landing instructions but the Thunderstreak screamed over the field and headed eastward.

There were 28 patients in each of the wards but hospital staff members converged from all parts of the hospital at the sound of the crash to carry them to safety.

Bits of blazing wreckage from the plane touched off a fire but hospital workers managed to keep it in check until the arrival of firemen.

Mrs. Martin Nelson Becomes U.S. Citizen

Mrs. Martin Nelson, resident of Columbia City, was one of the thirty-eight aliens who became United States Citizens Thursday in ceremonies conducted in Federal Court, Fort Wayne.

The oath of allegiance was administered by Kenneth Lackey, U. S. Clerk.

The pledge to the flag was led by the Daughters of the American Revolution, with Mrs. Carl Rothert in charge, and a brief address was given by Aaron T. Lindley, superintendent of Fort Wayne Public Schools.

Judge Luther M. Swygert of the U.S. District Court of Northern Indiana presided at the session in the courtroom.

Mrs. Martin came to the United States nine years ago. She was born in Australia. It was while Mr. Nelson was in the Armed Forces he met Mrs. Nelson and they were married. Their first child was born while they were living in Australia. They have two other children who were born in Columbia City.

Mr. Nelson is associated with the Nelson Dental Laboratory in Columbia City.

A-1c Lee Bitting Ends Four Years In The Air Force

A—1c Lee Bitting was discharged from the Air Force and returned to the home of his parents, Mr and Mrs. Frank Bitting of Thorncreek township, last week.

A—1c Bitting served four years in the Air Force, 18 months of that time being spend on Okinawa. For the last year and one-half he has been stationed at Keesler Field in Mississippi where he was an instructor in electronics. He states his plans are not definite, but he will probably farm with his father.

Christmas Card Mailings Shoot Upward Today

Estimate 100,000 Will Be Postmarked Before Postmen Get A Rest

The Christmas card mailing which has been trickling out of the post office since December 1, saw its tempo increased today when many greeting cards poured into the local post office for mailing.

These included cards not only for delivery in distant states but also for delivery in nearby towns.

The early mailing of the Christmas greetings was heartening to the postal employes, for the more that reach them for cancellation in the next few days will reduce the burden of work the week before Christmas.

Parcel mailings have also been stepped up, it was learned. Especially have packages for delivery at distant points been mailed in the past few days.

The volume of Christmas greeting mail can be gauged by a few local statistics. One variety store in Columbia City annually sells 20,000 Christmas cards. It is conservatively estimated that approximately 100,000 Christmas cards are sent each holiday season by the Columbia City post office patrons.

While the majority of the Christmas card purchases are made from the stocks of the retail merchants, from variety, drug stores and gift shops, many cards are sold by club and church organizations, through special printing orders, and by individual agents of the card manufacturers.

The Christmas card preparation is faced differently by individuals. Some regard it as a chore; others gain pleasure and some delight in remembering friends in the manner. Few are brave enough to discontinue the custom.

Some organize their card mailing. Others are haphazard. From well-prepared lists made in advance, complete with addresses and zone numbers, some persons address and mail their cards. Others save last year's cards as the reference to whom cards are to be sent. Others go about it haphazardly and groan when they realize cards are arriving from those not remembered by the sender.

All agree that the best greeting card to receive is not necessarily the handsome and expensive one, but the card upon which a thoughtful friend has written a message — news about himself and family — which keeps the friendship alive.

Police Quiz Man About Murder Of Wife, Daughter

Bodies Found In Family Car

MELBOURNE, Fla. (UP)—Police held a laundry operator in custody today while they investigated the vicious murder of his redhaired wife and seven-year-old daughter.

Officers questioned Philip Van Eeghen for more than seven hours Friday night about the death of his wife, Patricia, 39, and little Phyllis Ann, whose bodies were found Friday in the family car parked across the street from a funeral home.

Sheriff H. T. Williams said he planned to hold Van Eeghen in custody, apparently for more questioning today.

Police intensified a search of a sandy area covered with sand spurs near a laundry operated by Van Eeghen and his mother, Mrs. Teddy Van Eeghen.

Blood In Area

Officers found blood in the area and hoped to find other clues, possibly including the murder weapon.

Patrolman Charles Collis found the body of Mrs. Van Eeghen slumped on the right side of the front seat of the car, her red hair matted with blood and sand spurs. She was covered with a blanket.

The child's body was found locked in the trunk of the car.

Police Chief John Thomas said the woman apparently had been struck from behind with a a heavy instrument and toppled forward into the sand. Her head was slashed in two places and one of her shoes was missing. Police said they found two nickels in the other shoe.

The daughter had also been hit on the head. She was still dressed in the clothes she wore to school.

Taken To Hospital

Van Eeghen, who broke down and was taken to a hospital after arriving at the scene where the bodies were found, told police he last saw his wife and daughter about 5 p.m. Thursday.

He said Mrs. Van Eeghen, who worked for an insurance company in Cocoa, Fla., had gone to a nearby town on business and he was to meet her and the daughter at a theater later.

When they failed to show up, Van Eeghen said he had a beer with a friend, then went home and fell asleep. The bodies were found shortly after Eeghen woke up and reported to police his family was missing at 6:30 a.m. Friday.

Last Meeting Of Better Farming Group Is Tuesday

The last meeting for the Better Farming and Better Living group will be at the Charles Wilcoxson farm north of Columbia City in Thorncreek township at 9:30, Tuesday. The group is to consider the sample farm and work out alternatives in respect to field management, crop rotating, and type of livestock. They will consider soil types, topography, fertility etc. in setting up the farm.

The women will work chiefly with house planning in the morning and join the men in the afternoon to help work out alternatives for the farm.

The group met November 29 and covered the "Development of the Livestock Program." Lester Arnold, Extension Economist, from Purdue was in charge of the discussion.

After the farm tour, Hugh Reinhold, assistant county agent, will work with the individual families in working out alternatives and with the special problems of each family. A specialist from Purdue will help with the home management problem.

U.N. To Debate On East-West Package Deal

To Admit 18 New Members

By BRUCE W. MUNN
United Press Staff Correspondent

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP) — The United Nations Security Council opened debate today on an East-West package deal to admit 18 new U.N. members and there were predictions that Nationalist China would refrain from blocking the proposal.

The council was faced with a procedural debate that might consume several days before the 11-nation body decides how to deal with the controversial membership issue.

The prediction that Nationalist China would not veto the application of Communist Outer Mongolia came from Asian-Arab diplomats in Washington. These diplomats said they were "sure" the Chinese would be absent from the council when the voting begins.

American officials were not so confident. They said all the evidence points toward a veto despite two appeals by President Eisenhower to avoid upsetting the admission project.

Russia has said it will veto the whole deal if Outer Mongolia is not included.

The procedural tangle resulted from submission by the Chinese Nationalists of a formal set of resolutions nominating 13 non-Communist nations for membership.

The General Assembly already had approved the package deal resolution asking the council to vote favorably on applications of Communist satellites Outer Mongolia, Albania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Romania, and non-Communist Austria, Cambodia, Ceylon, Finland. Ireland, Italy, Japan, Jordon, Laos, Libya, Nepal, Portugal and Spain.

The council must decide whether to follow precedent and vote first on the Chinese resolutions already formally before it or give priority to the assembly's resolution, which technically has not been submitted to the council yet.

Move Would Give Reds Control Of All Of Berlin

Mystery Deepens Over 2 U.S. Soldiers

By JOSEPH FLEMING
United Press Staff Correspondent

BERLIN (UP) — East German Communists warned today that the "working class" in their sector was ready to kick out the anti-Communist government of West Berlin.

The warning appeared in the Berliner Zeitung, a Communist newspaper. It said the workers were prepared for a "great housecleaning" that would sweep away the existing anti-Red government and give the Communists control of the entire city.

First move in the Red strategy presumably would be removal of West Berlin Mayor Otto Suhr and his council by claiming the East Berlin government is sovereign.

The threats followed an announcement that the East German regime had taken over "guarding and control" of transportation between West Berlin and Western Germany. This gives the German Reds the opportunity to harass and perhaps even blockade vital road, rail and barge traffic through the Soviet zone to West Berlin.

Drum on Sovereignty Theme

Red speakers and organs hammered hard at the theme of East German sovereignty.

A prominent Communist lawyer urged the Soviets to turn over two American soldiers arrested for beating a cabaret actor in East Berlin for prosecution by the East

County Extension Agents Back From Training Session

County Agent B. V. Widney and assistants, Hubert Reinhold and Harold Buckenmeyer, returned from Purdue University yesterday after spending the past week in special training about new methods and advancements in county extension work. Mrs. Widney accompanied her husband to the staff conference.

All extension agents of Indiana were assembled to be briefed by specialist on new developments in chemistry, agronomy, livestock management, home management, and the like. The big problem facing western civilization is to demonstrate to the world that a democracy, such as the United States, can give to man a more satisfactory life than collective Socialism, the extension workers were told. We are producing in 1955 what we will need in 1959. That is the agricultural problem.

Local Stores Have Ornaments, Cards, Pets, Tools, Flowers, Safety And Religious Items

This is the third in a series of articles intended to help you with your Christmas shopping. Post and Mail reporters visited our local stores and offer you these suggestions.

Many of these ideas have been presented in advertising with prices and details in local papers.

Columbia City merchants will be glad to help you with suggestions and with your shopping.

Drug Stores

You can find all kinds of beauty boxes in the drug stores many of them in beautiful sets. They have a wide variety of perfumes and colognes making it easy to find a scent suited to the individual you wish to remember. A few new ones are Adam's Rib, Intimate Abano. If you do not know which fragrance she likes, get the set with the six long lasting colognes

There are several different colors and styles of dresser sets and also manicure sets, brush sets and musical powder boxes. Something new is the compressed bath powder sets.

A new article this year for the ladies is the electric shavers and they have them in several colors.

For the men there are several types of electric shavers, pipes, streamlined ones and some which are bright colored. Included in the smoking supplies are the gift wrapped cartons of cigarettes, cans of all types of tobacco, pipe stands and the lighters. There are also all kinds of men's toilet sets, including gold plated shaving sets

Aurora Stores Give Men Chance To Shop In Peace

By SHELDON GARBER
United Press Staff Correspondent

AURORA, Ill. (UP) — Aurora stores will give men a chance to do their Christmas shopping in peace tonight by keeping all women out.

The little women were expected to retaliate, as in years past, by picketing the stores with signs reading "Unfair to Women Shoppers.'

There were also female plans afoot to disguise themselves as men and join the male shopping spree.

This is the third year that the merchants of 62 stores have set aside the hours between 7 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. "for men only."

In return for the favor, the head of the house is likely to splurge on the best he can buy for the little lady, the storekeepers said.

In the 2½ hours, an estimated 10,000 to 20,000 men will surge through the stores of this town of 55,000 population.

In that time, the merchandisers estimate that they will spend as much as a full day's Christmas shopping brings in.

The men swarm to the women specialty shops and the sports apparel and lingerie sections of the department stores.

The merchants have learned to pull out the best quality merchandise. They expect to sell such things as a $100 dollar negligee with 14karat gold trim. Leather jackets, robes and stockings are popular items.

Last year, to stimulate hosiery sales, one storekeeper used live models in his window. He blotted out the window down to the girls' knee level and drew an enthusiastic response from the male crowds gaping at the parade of shapely ankles.

Although the civic project saves the male the embarrassment of shopping in the lingerie section alongside women shoppers, the merchants have found he still isn't too sure of himself.

Rather than shop alone, the men tend to get together in groups and gangs and invade the forbidden female realm with the strength of numbers on their side.

One department store expected 6,000 men tonight on its four floors, but Manager Harold Dooley said he won't be doing his shopping with them.

"I'm a day before Christmas man myself,' he said.

My Neighbor

Lesson for December 11, 1955

TWO cart-drivers in China were trying to get up a muddy hill. Each driver's cart was stuck in the mud, almost side by side. Each man was beating his own scrawny horse, but the wheels were stuck fast. Along came an American. "Why don't you unhitch one horse," he said "and hitch him to the other cart? Then the two horses might get the cart out of the mud." The carters were astonished. They had never thought of that. But they did as the stranger said, and sure enough they both got to the top of the hill. That true story, told by a missionary, shows two things at once. One is that in countries where Christianity has had a chance to get around, some simple Christian ideas get taken for granted, such as helping your neighbor when he is in trouble. The other is that where Christianity is unknown, even so simple a thing as getting together to pull out of the mud, comes as a strange new idea.

Dr. Foreman

Who Is My Neighbor?

Now if those two Chinese carters had been father and son, or brother and brother, they might have thought of helping each other, for in China nothing is too good for members of your family. But we have no great right to make fun of the Chinese. All of us are inclined to draw pretty hard lines and to think,—Outside those lines I have no neighbors. Inside the lines, yes, we understand pretty well what neighborliness is. "Love thy neighbor as thyself" is a commandment not too hard to understand, for we know what it is to love ourselves, that comes all too naturally. We like to get ahead, to cushion ourselves from danger and if possible from discomfort, we consult our own interests. Loving one's neighbor as oneself just means looking out for him in the same careful ways, thinking ahead for him, promoting him. We understand what neighborliness is, yes. We do not confuse it with being meddlesome. If you want to know as much about your neighbor as you do about yourself, you aren't being a neighbor but a nuisance. If you do for your neighbor what he can very well do, ought to do and maybe wants to do for himself, then you are not treating him like a neighbor

Neighbors Out of Sight

Jesus' famous parable of the Good Samaritan shows that having neighbors is easy, in fact you can't help it; but that the important thing is being a neighbor. It means more than living in "peaceful co-existence" and not bothering each other. It means active co-operation and help, of those who need help. Wherever there is a person in trouble whom we can help, there is a neighbor. In our time the world has grown closer together than it was in Jesus' time. If there had been a famine in India, the good Samaritan would never have known it, or if he had, he could have done nothing about it. Now if there is a famine in India we hear about it as soon as the Indians can; and we can do something about it too. When farmers in a church in Iowa, for instance, send a heifer to a farmer in some out-of-the-way or devastated part of the world across a wide ocean, that is being a neighbor, modern-style for a modern world.

What We Haven't Figured Out

There are many problems we haven't worked out yet, in this business for acting as good neighbors. For example: What is the wisest way to be neighbor to people of different race from our own? How can a mill-worker be a neighbor to the stock-holders, or how can the stock-holders be neighborly to the workers? When a corporation, in the process of expansion, throws 500 persons out of work at one time, is there any way in which those who are employed by the corporation can be neighbors to those who have lost their positions? How can we be neighbors to people who resent us? How far can we go in helping people without turning them into "moochers" and beggars? How can Christians in one denomination be neighbors to those in another? And one more question: Is it possible for non-Christians to be as good neighbors, in Jesus' sense of the word, as Christians can be?

ATOMIC FALLOUT DANGERS TOLD I.U. STUDENTS — In a laboratory - classroom of Indiana University's new Jordan Hall of Science, an undergraduate class gets instructions in radiation genetics from one of the world's leaders in the field, Nobel Prizewinner Prof. H. J. Muller. He is shown discussing a giant model of a fruit fly, the tiny insect which is the medium of his world-famous research on the hereditary effects of radiation. The danger of these effects to future generations must be recognized, Prof. Muller holds, although he says atom bomb tests are a military necessity in the present world situation.

Circuit Court News

Entering a not guilty plea to charges of improper parking, turning and starting of a truck in South Whitley, Jack A. Pentecost has been released upon his own recognizance until trial date has been set. Mr. Pentecost is being represented by Eldon M. Wright, North Manchester attorney.

In the divorce action of Mrs. Elaine M. Kemery against Frank D. Kemery, the court has made the restraining order against the defendant permanent. He has been ordered to pay $30 weekly to the plaintiff beginning Dec. 3 for her support and for that of the minor child. Attorneys' fees are also to be taxed to the defendant. He has been granted the right of visitation two evenings each week.

In the divorce action of Paul Dean Shaffer against Marilyn Jean Shaffer, a decree dated Sept. 29 has been modified to place the children in the plaintiff's custody and that he be released from further payments to the defendant for their support. The defendant is to have the right of visitation and to temporary possession of the children as she and the plaintiff agree, from time to time.

Dismissed on oral motion of the plaintiff was the suit for foreclosure of mechanic's lien brought by Robert Shoda and others against William Smith. Costs, taxed to the plaintiff, have been paid.

The court has entered its finding in two damage suits, those of H. M. Cormany against Patrick E. Frazier and others, and George M. Rowe against Frazier and others. The finding is that neither party recover from the other. The suit grew out of a trailer-truck collision on U.S. Highway 30 12 miles southeast of New Haven on July 19, 1949. Costs are to be paid by the plaintiffs.

The estate of Carl Noble, 74, former trustee of Etna-Troy township, who died December 1st, has been probated. The widow, Mrs. Coral A. Noble, Larwill, R 1, is administrator. She and a daughter, Mrs. Hilda N. Shoemaker, Inglewood, Calif., are the heirs. The estate is valued at $4,000. John W. Whiteleather is attorney for the estate.

In the estate of Charles E. Harris, final report of the executor, the Citizens State bank, has been approved and the executor discharged from further liability.

In the petition for drainage of Martin Hemmelgarn, the court has approved the proposed contract submitted by Engineer Charles T. Miser with Magley & Son, successful bidder. The court also has approved the contractor's bond.'

In the estate of Anderson Herron, the co-executrices Viva Robertson and Ellen Gaff have been discharged from further duty, distribution of the estate's assets having been completed.

Suit on account filed by the Linvill Memorial Clinic against Gerald Egolf has been dismissed by the plaintiff at its costs.

In the suit of Mrs. Doris V. Bowles, Toledo, O., against Granville O. Miller, petition for allowance of monies allegedly due, the defendant's petition to require the plaintiff to provide a costs bond has been granted by the court. The plaintiff, a non-resident of the state, has been directed to furnish a costs bond in the amount of $100, to be approved by the court.

Bloom & Bloom have also enter their appearance for the defendants in the petition for injunction brought by Clark Cleland against Ralph Webber and others. This action is to allow Cleland access to a private sewer and for prevention of the Webbers to use or obstruct the drainage, as charged by the plaintiff.

Bloom Bloom have also entered their appearance for Gaylord Sowers, defendant in the suit brought against him by John Sowers, for dissolution of a partnership.

Christmas Story On Television

The traditional Christmas tale, the story of The Nativity, will be seen this year in a special televised program, "No Room at the Inn," which will be telecast over the NBC television network on Christmas Day, Sunday, December 25th, at 4:00 p.m. (EST). This program, though sponsored, will be offered as a public service, without any commercial or institutional messages to disturb the reverence and sincerity of the dramatic story of the birth of Christ. For those who miss the television broadcast, the story of The Nativity can be heard the same day from 5:30 to 6:00 p.m. (EST), over the ABC radio network, when "No Room at the Inn" will be presented on "The Greatest Story Ever Told" radio program.

Regular Process Of Development Of Human Growth

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor

NEW YORK (UP)—A mathematically minded baby doctor has figured out that if you measure the height of a two-year-old boy and then multiply by two, you'll know how tall he will be when he is 18.

Weigh him and multipl his weight by five, and that will be his weight at 18. Or take his "pelvic breadth" multiply by two, and you'll have the width of his beam when he attains the status of young adult.

For girl babies, the mathematics of growth and development as calculated by Dr. Irving Kowaloff of Brooklyn, were a little different. For height and weight they were two and five times height and weight at eighteen months. For "pelvic breadth" it was the same as for boys — twice the width at two years.

Dr. Kowaloff did not claim that these multiplications would be precisely accurate in every case — he claimed only "a high degree of probability."

"In the studying and teaching of the subject of growth and development," he said in reporting to the technical journal of the Medical Society of the State of New York, "one is impressed by the many regularities of the process of development in both the physical and psychologic spheres.'

He needed only basic statistics from which to work out formulas which would be generally applicable. The old statistics on the heights and weights of growing children were too old — they were taken 35 years ago, and since then the average height and weight of young adults have increased.

Used University Statistics

He found what he needed in statistical studies of large numbers of children of the Harvard School of Public Health and the University of Iowa. Having arrived at the babyhood ages when height, weight, and pelvic width were one half to one fifth that of eighteen year olders, he tried out his formulas on the combined statistics.

Of the boys, 97 per cent were 37.2 inches tall at two years. By multiplying that by two, he predicted that these 97 per cent should have been 74.4 inches tall at 18. Actually, the 97 per cent were 73.9 inches tall at 18.

So on height, his formula was off only one half inch. On weight predicting for boys, the formula was off four and one-half pounds for 97 per cent of the subjects. The closeness of his predictions for height and weight of girls and pelvic width for boys and girls with what actually happened, was comparable.

Why Did Jesus Pray?

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

JESUS not only taught others to pray (Luke 11 1-3), leaving us the heritage of "the Lord's Prayer" (the true model for all praying) He also taught by example, for Jesus prayed.

On the Mount of Transfiguration, with Peter, John, and James (Luke 9:28, 29) it is recorded that as Jesus prayed "the fashion of His countenance was altered, and His raiment was white and glistening."

The scenes of Jesus' praying were not all so glistening. There are various references to His going alone on a mountain to pray (Matthew 14:23), and in Luke 6-12 it is recorded that He "continued all night in prayer to God" And there was the agonizing prayer in Gethsemane (Matthew 26:36-45), with the warning to the disciples to "watch and pray"

Why did Jesus pray, if all power was given to Him (Matthew 28:18)? And why, if He was Himself divine, did He pray to God? The answer is that He prayed to God in His complete humanity.

We are so wont to emphasize the divinity of Jesus that we tend to forget the reality of the Incarnation, that "the Word was made flesh" (John 1 14), that the divinity was revealed in the earthly life of "the man Christ Jesus," who hungered and thirsted, wept and was wearied, who was subject to temptation, "in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin" (Hebrews 4 15)

So Jesus in that human life prayed; and He especially commended prayer as a power against temptation. He spoke of prayer as a great treasure house of resources, "Ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you" (John 15 7). But Jesus Himself defined the obvious limitation, "If ye abide in Me, and My words abide in you."

Prayer is a Christian resource and a Christian discipline. It is not an Alladin's Lamp, to be used for the fulfillment of every passing wish. Christian prayer is in the spirit of Christ and every prayer in the spirit is answered; for to every such prayer is added "not my will, but Thine be done."

In the background of all praying is the assurance that "your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask Him" (Matthew 6:8).

Why, then, should we pray? For the same reason that Jesus prayed, and in the same manner, and with the same devotion. It is our needful strengthening to know and do God's will, for God's will concerning us is our highest character and destiny

In giving to His disciples the Lord's Prayer, Jesus gave a model of the manner of prayer "After this manner therefore pray ye."

The prayer is one of adoration for God and God's kingdom, and for God-likeness inasmuch as we pray for God to forgive us as we forgive others.

The manner of prayer that Jesus taught is an attitude of heart and life.

We must live our prayer, for a true prayer is expressed in character and action, and not only in words.

Slides Of DAR School Shown Friday Before Chapter

Mrs. Velma Moeller, regent of Colonel Augustin de la Balme chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, showed pictures of the Kate Duncan Smith school at Grant, Ala., and Tamassee school in South Carolina, before members of the chapter, Friday evening. Mrs. Joseph Jenkinson served as narrator.

The living room of the Paul Morsches home, on North Main street, bore a Christmas setting for the December meeting of the chapter. There was a large lighted tree, and the mantel decorations above the fireplace were evergreen bows and small trees fashioned with Christmas tree balls.

The evening meeting opened with ritual pledge of Allegiance and the national anthem. The national defense message was read by Miss Gladys Kyler.

It was announced that Don Weller had cleaned and oiled the collection of guns in the Whitley relic room and that the Girl Scouts are starting to clean the cooks and cases and make new tags in the relic room with Mrs. B. F. McNear in charge of the work. The need for gun racks and repair of some of the show cases was discussed.

Plans were made to send used clothing to Crossmore school in North Carolina. The clothing is to be taken to Mrs. Moeller at the City Hall.

Resolutions to Edith Knisely Markley, a charter member of the chapter, were read by Mrs B. F. McNear.

A chapter quota of 26 cents per member to buy a new rug for the Indiana roo min the DAR museum at Washington D.C. has been sent.

The music of the evening included solo numbers, in keeping with the season, given by Mrs. Ross Smith and Richard Anderson, who was the guest of Bobby Morsches.

From a lace-covered table centered with red carnations flanked by green candles, Mrs. Morsches, Mrs. B. F. McNear and Mrs. Blanche Reed served cake, coffee, tea, nuts and mints.

December Meeting Of Union Township Club Marked By Dinner

The Union Township Home Demonstration club met Thursday in the social room of Coesse Lutheran church with Mrs. James Hess and Mrs. Burton Hess as hostesses.

Thirty-seven members and guests attended the meeting. Mrs. Cecil Egolf the retiring president, was presented a gift. A simple way to bring cheer to others at Christmas time was named in response to roll call. History of the song "Hark the Hearald Angels Sing" was given by Mrs. Glen Burns, and Mrs. Robert Briggs, read a Christmas story.

Secret pals were revealed after the dinner and Christmas candies and homemade fudge were served by the hostesses.

Honors Fifty Year Members Of Laud Rebekah Lodge

Four fifty year members, Mrs. Clarence Stickler, Mrs. Glenwood Orcutt, Mrs. Laura Stickler of Mishawaka and Mrs. Minnie Betz of Huntington, were honored Thursday evening at special ceremonies following the regular meeting of the Bethel Rebekah Lodge at the Laud Lodge Hall. Mrs. Laura Stickler and Mrs. Minnie Betz were unable to be present due to ill health.

The ceremonies were opened with a piano duet by Mrs. Merritt Lauer and Miss Gladys Luther. Twelve members of the lodge presented a playlet, "The Perfect Lodge of Fifty Years Ago." The ladies taking part in the playlet were dressed in costumes worn fifty years ago.

All the guests, including the honor guests, and members of the lodge were seated at the T-shaped table. The tables were beautifully decorated with gold paper and burning white tapers which were sprinkled with gold dust. The number 50 in gold stood between the tapers and a large 50 in gold decorated the table where the guests of honor were seated.

Ice cream with the number 50 in gold, cake with pink roses with green leaves, the lodge colors, were served with coffee.

The welcome address was given by Mrs. Oscar Sheets and the guests of honor responded reminiscing briefly of happenings in the lodge when they traveled to the meetings by horse and buggy.

Price Lefever of Huntington, a 50 year member of the Forest IOOF lodge at Laud, also spoke on the early lodge days. Mrs. Merritt Lauer, accompanied by Miss Gladys Luther, sang, "His Hands."

The Noble Grand, Mrs. Wayne Rosenberger, presented and pinned 50 year pins on the two members present. She congratulated them on their faithfulness to the Rebekah Order. Mrs. Betz is a charter member.

Illuminated Tree Setting For Party Of Ladies Of The Elks

In the midst of a Christmas setting created by the colorful lights on an illuminated tree and a rich red poinsettia plant, 10 tables were arranged Friday evening for the December party of the Ladies of the Elks.

The poinsettia plant was awarded as a door prize to Mrs. J. C. Sanders. Bath towels or sets of finger towels were awarded as table prizes to the Mesdames J. C. Sanders, Hugo Jacobsen, J. C. Stump. Esther Schrader, Asa White, Edgar Strouse Jr., Douglas Clapp, Verlin Jackson, Frances Schinbeckler, Herschel Hall.

The snack bar, from which the buffet lunch was served, was decorated with Christmas ropes and bells. The hostesses served a molded Christmas salad, wafers, potato chips, olives, candy, nuts and coffee.

Hostesses for the party last night at the Elks club rooms were the Mesdames Walter Miller, Harley Smith, Fred Souers and Kenneth Gillespie.

Mesdames Earl Fisher, Ervin Boyer, Paul McElroy and Asa White will be hostesses for the January 27 party.

TAE Club Entertained By Mrs. Hoos; Santa Stands In The Hall

Santa Claus stood in the hallway at the home of Mrs. George Hoos, on South Chauncey street, to greet members of the TAE club, who attended the annual Christmas party of the club Thursday evening. A large Christmas wreath hung on the lamp post in the yard.

Covers were laid for 12 for the serving of a two-course collation at 8 o'clock. Evergreen surrounded the Madonna that centered the table laid in the Daisy and Button pattern in blue, amber and white. Chartreuse colored mats were used. The cake was served on milk glass dishes.

Mounds of snow formed a background to the manger scene on the mantel above the fireplace in the dining room. Candles burned throughout the home.

Beneath the large illuminated tree in the living room lay lovely gifts which were exchanged during the evening.

Guests besides members of the club were Mrs. Harold Bandelier of New Haven, and Mrs. John Hickman, who is here the guest of her parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ford Hickman until the first of the year.

Fellowship Circle Holds Meeting At Church Hall Thursday

Mrs. Albert Weihe served as hostess for the meeting Thursday evening of the Fellowship Circle of St. John's Lutheran church. The date marked the 15th wedding anniversary of the hostess.

In response to roll call, 14 members each read a prophecy from the Bible. Mrs. Robert Miller read from the booklet "Portals of Prayer" during the devotional period.

A gift exchange was conducted and bunco was played in which prizes were won by Mrs Don Sims and Mrs. Edward Anders. Mrs Phil Sheeler won the attendance prize.

Sandwiches, pickles, salad, cake and coffee were served from a table decorated in keeping with the Christmas season. Rev. and Mrs. Henning were included among the guests.

Mrs. Harold Swartz and Mrs. Theodore Weihe were co-hostesses for the meeting.

and all-plastic sets for traveling

You can find nice billfolds for the lady or man in the drug stores and for the young girls they have the bullet bags.

If your old clock isn't working, they have some nice ones. For the person that likes to take pictures they have all kinds of cameras, including the polaroid that develops a picture in 60 seconds, and supplies.

The new stationery this year is in real bright colors but they still have the softer and floral patterns. Also for the teen-ager there is a stationery called "Dig This Crazy Box." The pencil and pen sets with the liquid lead pencil is popular this year.

Christmas cards of all kinds, gift wrapping supplies and 'glow in the dark' tree ornaments. A "Remembrance Album" which includes a daily calender card to help remember special days and events and a greeting album-to keep your supply of cards for each day.

There is always someone on your list for whom you can buy candy. They have several kinds of attractively wrapped boxes of candy from one to five pounds.

Ornaments and Decorations

Domestic glass tree balls, and old-time favorite, decorated with stars and flowers are available again. Spray-on snow, aluminum and metal foil stands all add to the trimmings as well as blinker and twinkle lights for the tree.

The candy canes now come wrapped in cellophane but they are as popular as ever, along with colorful and new flavored suckers.

Candles for Christmas are in the shape of choir boys, angels, Santas, snowmen, trees, stars, jugs, deers, and igloos.

Large snowball candles may have color showing through when lighted. Others have tree designs on the outside that glow when the candle is burning.

Slender miniature tapers burn for three hours.

Bayberry candles come with the reminder that they must be burned to the ends to assure the recipient of good fortune and friends.

Large Christmas tree shaped candles have gold and sequin trim. Other candles are marked with the 12 days.

Carollers brass lanterns hu— candle like the perforated tin lanterns of old.

Pets and Toys for Pets

Canaries, parakeets, turtles, (one store sold over 100 this year), gold fish (2400 were sold by one store during 1955) are available in local stores as well as all types of balanced diets in fish food and bird seed, new bowls and fittings. Bird cages include the large luxury 30-inch models with all kinds of swings, mirrors and ladders.

Rubber mice and bones are suggested as toys for cats and dogs.

Dogs, cats and ponies have all been advertised.

Special feed and a variety of feeders for wild birds are suggestions for gifts.

"Do It Yourself"

All types of power tools for the home workshop are available in Columbia City stores. One three-in-one combination had a saw, router and shaper. There were portable saws, drills and buffers, soldering outfits and small sanders for finishing and refinishing wood.

Instruction books on the use of tools and patterns for "Do It Yourself" are popular.

Some tools were pre-wrapped and packaged for Christmas giving.

Safety Items

Safety belts recommended by the National Safety Council to reduce severity of injuries in certain types of motor vehicle accidents are available in local stores.

A snow brush for cleaning car windshields and across the back glass is long enough to extend the arm and has an ice scraper on the opopsite end.

A trouble light to plug in the lighter socket, a new flashlight a light weight snow shovel, seat covers of nylon, plastic or terry cloth and cushions for added driving and riding comfort are a few of the available accessories.

Religious

If there is someone on the list for whom you might want to get a Bible, you can buy any size you want or any price of the King James version or the revised version.

There are several Bible Story books for the children which make thoughtful gifts. You can find all kinds of religious cards on the counters, and some of the gift warpping has the navitity scene on it. There are religious pictures and plaques.

For your Christmas trees, there are angels and stars. For the fireplace mantel or beneath the tree are navitity scenes, or if you want to add to a scene you already have there are all of the Bible characters.

There are churches and Navitity scenes that light up and can hang in your window.

Plants and Flowers

Plants for Christmas include the traditional poinsettia in red, white or the newer pink. Azaleas, cyclamen, dutch begonias and chrysanthemums are also favorite plants.

Plants and vines in new ceramic or metal containers or as a refill for old favorites are available.

Flocked Christmas trees in white, pink, silver of natural trees and greens of balsam, spruce, Scotch Jack, yellow, or white pines are on local markets in addition to mistletoe and holly.

Special gifts are cut flowers or corsages as orchids, camellias, gardenias, lilies, roses or carnations.

Man Found Guilty Of Murder By Jury On Televised Trial

WACO, Tex. (UP)—Harry Washburn was found guilty of murder by a jury of 10 men and two women on a televised trial Friday night and sentenced to life imprisonment for booby-trapping his ex-mother-inlaw's automobile.

But Washburn talked before live television cameras immediately after the trial and said he felt the case would be reversed on appeal and "I will be vindicated ultimately."

The case was probably the first televised murder trial in the nation. District Judge D. W. Bartlett broke the precedent and permitted the trial to be telecast live to the Waco area by KWTX-TV when both the prosecution and defense agreed.

Washburn was found guilty of killing wealthy socialite Mrs. Helen Harris Weaver by attaching a dynamite bomb to the ignition of her automobile. She was killed instantly when she pressed the starter button of her automobile outside her mother's home in San Angelo, Tex., the morning of Jan. 19.

The state contended Washburn planted the bomb intending to kill her husband, architect Harry N. Weaver, but Mrs. Weaver was the first to use the car the next morning.

The state charged that Washburn tried to hire at least three persons, including a former lady wrestler, to kill Weaver and get him out of the way so he could force money out of Mrs. Weaver.

Science

the parent of at least two small children and with almost all of them, a "contact" was easily shown — either with an earlier case of polio or with a member of a family in which there was such a case.

These were the surface facts. The doctors began to look under the surface. They looked for polio virus in the gastro-intestinal tracts of all 35 of the school children and of their parents, brothers, sisters, and any other household "contacts." In the 16 patients, viruses were found in 88 per cent In the 79 contracts, viruses were found in 54 per cent.

The doctors took blood samples. The presence of high anti - body levels would indicate a recent polio infection. The blood of 40 per cent of the contacts showed those levels. The obvious suggestion was that there had been a number of slight illnesses during the period of the epidemic which had been "abortive or even non-paralytic poliomyelitis." The scientific investigators found that there had been — in 16 children and 40 adults.

The scientists were impressed by "the extremely invasive nature of poliomyelitis in a group of susceptible persons, regardless of age." New Canaan's high living standards meant that the virus was not spread by poor hygiene but by contact.

But these very circumstances could also make adults of such "high social - economic groups" more susceptible than other adults. Adults have acquired immunity to many infectious diseases by having had brushes with their viruses. But adults who have always lived in "an excellent sanitary environment" like New Canaan's would have had fewer brushes with fewer viruses.

Among epidemiologists there is some question as to the necessity of vaccinating adults with the Salk vaccine. This and other implications the scientists left the readers of their report — which was published by the New England Journal of Medicine — to ponder.

Auto Makers

Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis), said he doubts there is need for any special legislation for the auto industry. He said any new laws probably would be general in nature and be in the form of revisions of present anti-trust laws.

Wiley also said he believes it is up to the auto industry itself to solve most of its problems without benefit of legislation.

As the final company witness before the subcommittee, GM President Harlow H. Curtice said Friday that bigness was not an important factor in General Motor's success.

He contended that organizational setup and superior management were the more important keys to GM's growth and profit record.

Curtice also said the various divisions of General Motors benefitted from a central pool of styling engineering and research talents and activities.

He said that GM policy is not to stay in any industrial field "just for a profit." He said that the company has promptly gotten out of lines of business when it was not making a "real contribution."

Eagles Lose, Hit .174

The easy-going Bluffton Tigers nailed down their fourth win of the season last night in their new gym as they won from the Columbia City Eagles 53-31. The game started off slowly as both teams displayed a cool, deliberate offense. Neither team scored in the opening minutes.

Wasson, Bluffton center, was the first to blink the scoreboard, sinking a free throw, and Schwarz, Eagle center retaliated shortly with a hook shot. The tempo of the game livened, and with Schwarz and Deutsch setting the scoring pace for the Eagles, Columbia City led 15-13 at the end of the first quarter.

Could Not Score

Lockwood and Flowers both scored from the field soon after the second period got underway, making it 17-15, Bluffton. The Eagles kept things even until shortly after midway in this period, and then the lid closed on the C.C. basket. For the last four minutes of the second quarter and during almost five minutes of the third quarter, Columbia City did not hit once from the field, attempting 19 shots. In the meantime, Bluffton had rolled up a 25-19 advantage at halftime, and the third period ended with the Eagles trailing 38-23. The Eagles inability to score during this lapse of time spelled the difference in the ball game.

Coach Johnson substituted Carpenter, Ewing, and Yant into the game in the second and third quarters, but still the C.C. five could not get a rally started.

The the game, the Eagles hit the unusually low percentage of .174 from the field, while the Tigers were dropping in field goal shots at the more respectable average of about .380.

Woodham led the Eagle offense with eight points, Schwarz scored six, and Martin hit 5. The Columbia City starters were Woodham and Martin, forwards; Schwarz at center; and Deutsch and Bridge, guards.

Lockwood, Wasson, and Grove led the Tigers in the scoring column with 16, 14, and 8 points respectively.

The Tiger reserves made it a perfect evening for the home team, by defeating the young Eagles 38-25 in the preliminary game.

Chico Vejar Favored Over Bobby Murphy

BOSTON (UP)—Veteran Chico Vejar, TV's popular battler, ruled a solid 2-1 choice over scrappy Bobby Murphyof Boston in their scheduled 10-round feature bout tonight at Boston Garden.

Although bombed by former welterweight champ Tony De Marco in the first round of their September match, Vejar still rated the favorite's role merely off his ring experience.

The Stamford, Conn., drama student has some 67 fights behind him while the young, hard-hitting Murphy only 14 professional appearances — all victories.

Churubusco Eagles Defeat Jefferson Center Tigers 66-58

The Churubusco Eagles defeated the Jefferson Center Tigers 66-58 in a thrilling game Friday night at the Tigers gym. Jefferson Center dominated in the first half and it looked as though they would maintain their lead. However Churubusco went ahead 36-35 and after a see-saw battle, the Eagles widened the gap and went on to win.

Churubusco opened the scoring on a field goal and Jefferson Center retaliated on the next play to tie the score at 2-2. The Tigers then pulled ahead and held a four point lead throughout most of the first period. The Tigers held a 16-9 advantage at the close of the stanza.

Jefferson Center pulled out in front by as much as eight points in the second quarter and controlled the backboards especially well. In spite of this, the Eagles managed to come within four points of the Tigers, 34-30, at halftime.

The Eagles opened the scoring in the hectic third period and went ahead 36-35 with almost five minutes remaining. The lead changed hands seven times in the see-saw battle of the quarter. Lewellyn and Pete Geiger were largely responsible for the Eagles 46-45 lead at the end of three quarters.

The Tigers worked to a 47-46 lead on two free throws and headed Churubusco until nearly midway through the final period. Gaff made a free throw and a field goal to tie the score at 54-54. The Eagles netted a field goal to give them a 56-54 edge and they went on to win 66-58.

Dygert of Jefferson Center copped scoring honors for the evening with 20 points. Lewellyn and Pete Geiger paced Churubusco with 19 and 18 points respectively.

Robinson Downs Olson; First Middleweight To Win World Championship Three Times

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (UP) — Sugar Ray Robinson, still amazed and delighted at the quick knockout over Carl (Bobo) Olson that made him the first middleweight ever to win the world championship three times, said today, "It seems almost like a miracle."

He added, "I'm a Christian. I did the very best I could and left the rest to God.'

At 35, he scored the most glorious victory of his long career Friday night on an upset knockout over 27-year-old Olson at 2:51 of the second round before 12,441 wildly yelling fans in Chicago Stadium and recaptured the 160-pound crown for the second time.

His second thwarting of the ancient ring axiom: "They never come back," was achieved at the very hour when life seemed darkest for him.

Shortly before the fight, he was tagged with an $87,000 federal tax lien, and Chicago newspapers were front-paging the gangland slaying of his former business associate, Alex Louis Greenberg.

Robinson and Joe Louis a few years ago had the Detroit distributing rights for Greenberg's Canadian Ace Brewing Co.

The slender negro with the little mustache went into the ring a 3-1 underdog because most experts and betting men thought "his legs were gone" and that he could not go 15 rounds in the nationally televised and broadcast fight against the aggressive Hawaiian - born Bobo from San Francisco.

Bobo Rocked Early

But Robinson didn't let Olson last long enough to answer the $64,000 question about the legs. He rocked Bobo early in the second round with a right to the chin, and staggered him a minute later in an exchange with a left hook to the jaw. Then he began barraging Bobo and finally dropped him with a left hook and a smashing right to the jaw. The explosive right blasted Bobo to his back on the canvas.

Game Bobo writhed about on the floor but was unable to lift himself as referee Frank Sikora waved the 10-count above him. He suffered the third knockout and eighth defeat of his career in the fourth defense of the crown.

It was Olson who had forced the fight in every minute except during the final barrage. However, the retreating, side-stepping and circling Robinson landed the more effective punches.

Sugar Ray won the first round on the score sheets of the two judges, John Bray and Ed Hintz, 10-9, but referee Sikora called it even 10-10. The United Press had Sugar Ray ahead, 10-9.

Nationally Televised

The noisy crowd of 12,441 paid a gross gate of $139,725 for the fight, which was blacked out on television on a 150-mile radius. In addition, the TV-radio fee was $75,000. Olson's 35 per cent of all net receipts amounted to $66,475, and Robinson's 25 per cent was $47,482.

Robinson weighed 159¾ pounds, the heaviest for any title bout during his regimes as welterweight champion and twice middleweight ruler. Olson, who was reported to have had weight-making difficulties, scaled 159 .

However, Olson did not blame weight-making for his defeat—his third suffered at the fists of Sugar Ray. He blamed marital difficulties. His wife is suing him for divorce. And he blamed the difficulties with a former manager, who also is suing him.

Contracts provide that Olson will get a return shot at the title within 90 days. Each will receive 30 per cent of the net receipts. However, manager Sid Flaherty said he was uncertain whether Olson would be ready to take the return shot in 90 days unless his marital difficulties have been settled satisfactorily soon.

It was Ray's 137th victory in 144 fights, and his greatest. His previous triumphs included a 12th round knockout over Olson in October, 1950, and a decision over him on March 13, 1952.

Psychiatry Only An Auxiliary In Dealing With Crime

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor

NEW YORK (UP) — Two leaders in the field of reforming lawbreakers through mental science are trying to put brakes on enthusiasts who keep proclaiming that psychiatry has the answers for criminal behavior.

Psychiatry is and has to be only a small auxiliary of the conventional means of dealing with criminals, according to Dr. Melitta Schmideberg and Jack Sokol, executive committee chairman and executive director respectively of the Association for Psychiatric Treatment of Offenders. They made their views public in an address sponsored by the National Association for Mental Health.

Just suppose that criminal courts were converted into "diagnostic centers" to find out what ailed criminals mentally, they said. Not even "diagnostic centers" could be permitted to "function in any way that violates our constitutional privileges.

Name Makes No Difference

"Guilt or innocence must be legally ascertained. And when guilt is established, something obviously must be done about it. Whether we call it a sentence or period of treatment makes little difference to the offender or is custodians or supervisors."

The two experts said they doubt the distorted minds of criminals could be straightened out in prison or in any other "authoritative setting" which involved parole or probation officers or other officials representing the authority of society.

In such settings, they noted, the criminal can only identify the physician trying to heal him with the officials restraining or punishing him — and so he prevents the physician from getting to his mind

They thought psychiatric treatment could be fully effective only when it was given "independent of any authoritative set-up" — when it was "detached, but not isolated" from the official agencies dealing with law-breakers — when it was "working in the same direction" as those agencies.

Statistics Chill Enthusiasm

They also tried to chill the enthusiasts with statistics. They estimated some 600,000 persons are convicted of law-breaking (traffic laws excluded) annually. Of that number 200 or less get psychiatric treatment by private psychiatrists and 500 to a thousand in public agencies and institutions.

"Yet," they said, "we have by now become accustomed to hear and read statements by prominent psychiatrists, psychologists, and social workers overzealously proclaiming that psychotherapy is the pre-eminent antidote for criminal behavior.

"Some even go further and say that all other methods are antiquated and should be immediately replaced by psychiatry and psychotherapy. These viewpoints may or may not prove to be true; it remains to be seen. But the attempt to establish a case based on such small samples is unscientific."

West Ward Eighth Grade Team Wins Over Manchester

The West Ward eighth grade team chalked up another win Thursday after school, defeating North Manchester 40-24 in Marshall Memorial Hall.

The West Warders had little trouble with the visitors, as they led 15-3, 32-9 and 33-18 at the quarters.

Scoring for the West Ward team was as follows: R. Johnson 5, B. Sutton 10, B. Schwarz 20, S. Shively 4, E. O'Conner 0, B. Weeks 1, J. Hyndman 0, R. Clark 0, R. Waugh 0, D. Goldwood 0.

Officials for the game were Harold Heeter and Richard Duffield.

The next game for the eighth graders will be in Marshall Memorial Hall Monday afternoon at 4:30.

Doby Signs With Chicago White Sox

Dead Woman

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Police sent a squad car to a Pittsburgh home Thursday to investigate a report that a dead woman was in the house.

A few minutes later, one of the investigating officers radioed back that the report certainly was correct.

"She's laid out in a funeral home," he snapped.

How's The Weather?

RENO, Nev. (UP) — The U.S. Weather Bureau in Reno received an anxious call Thursday from an official of Pacific Fruit Express who wanted to know if the temperature was expected to rise above 10 degrees in north central Nevada.

"If it doesn't," he said, "we'll have to put heaters in our refrigerator cars."

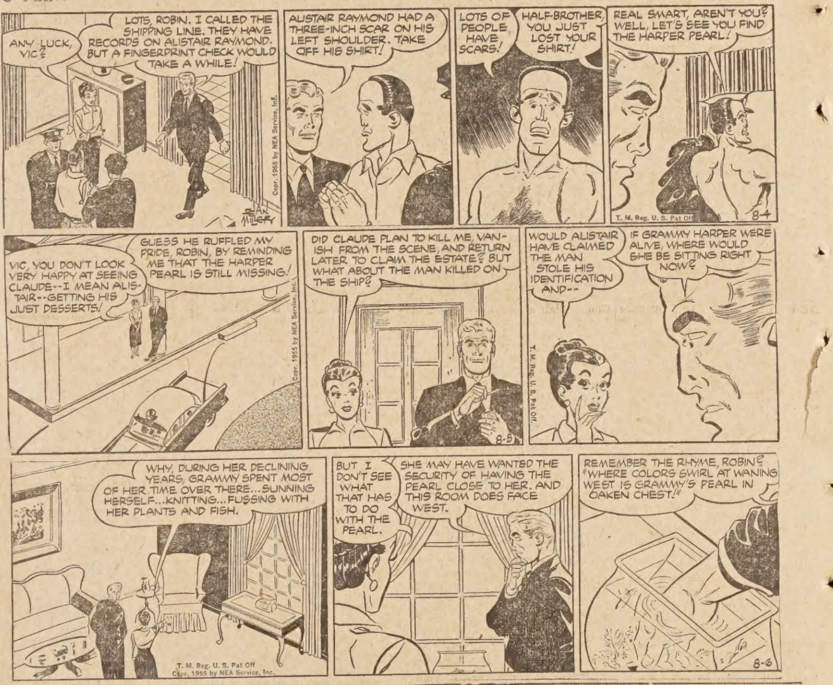
VIC FLINT By Michael O'Malley and Ralph Lane



ANY LUCK, VIC?
LOTS, ROBIN. I CALLED THE SHIPPING LINE. THEY HAVE RECORDS ON ALISTAIR RAYMOND. BUT A FINGERPRINT CHECK WOULD TAKE A WHILE!
ALISTAIR RAYMOND HAD A THREE-INCH SCAR ON HIS LEFT SHOULDER. TAKE OFF HIS SHIRT!
LOTS OF PEOPLE HAVE SCARS!
HALF-BROTHER, YOU JUST LOST YOUR SHIRT!
REAL SMART, AREN'T YOU? WELL, LET'S SEE YOU FIND THE HARPER PEARL!
8-4
VIC, YOU DON'T LOOK VERY HAPPY AT SEEING CLAUDE--I MEAN ALISTAIR--GETTING HIS JUST DESSERTS!
GUESS HE RUFFLED MY PRIDE, ROBIN, BY REMINDING ME THAT THE HARPER PEARL IS STILL MISSING!
DID CLAUDE PLAN TO KILL ME, VANISH FROM THE SCENE, AND RETURN LATER TO CLAIM THE ESTATE? BUT WHAT ABOUT THE MAN KILLED ON THE SHIP?
WOULD ALISTAIR HAVE CLAIMED THE MAN STOLE HIS IDENTIFICATION AND-- IF GRAMMY HARPER WERE ALIVE, WHERE WOULD SHE BE SITTING RIGHT NOW?
8-5
WHY, DURING HER DECLINING YEARS, GRAMMY SPENT MOST OF HER TIME OVER THERE...SUNNING HERSELF...KNITTING...FUSSING WITH HER PLANTS AND FISH.
BUT I DON'T SEE WHAT THAT HAS TO DO WITH THE PEARL.
SHE MAY HAVE WANTED THE SECURITY OF HAVING THE PEARL CLOSE TO HER. AND THIS ROOM DOES FACE WEST.
REMEMBER THE RHYME, ROBIN? "WHERE COLORS SWIRL AT WANING WEST IS GRAMMY'S PEARL IN OAKEN CHEST!"

The whooping crane is not hard to identify. it is about five feet high, with a seven-foot wing spread. In flight, the long neck and spindly legs are completely outstretched. The white body, black wing tips and resounding "whoop" distinguish it from other birds.

WANTED! SAFE PASSAGE—The Fish and Wildlife Service of the U.S. Interior Department is asking hunters to give safe passage to the whooping crane, America's largest—and rarest—bird as it migrates southward It traditionally travels from Canadian breeding grounds through North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma to the safety of its winter home in the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge in Texas. The whooping crane is fighting for survival. Last fall only 21 adult birds arrived at the refuge The Fish and Wildlife Service pleads: "Please do not shoot ANY large, white bird."

If Farm Prices Have Fallen So Sharply, Then Why Does Food Still Cost So Much?

Editor's Note:
"If farm prices have fallen so sharply that the government is taking emergency action to help the farmers, why does food still cost so much?" That question, in many different forms, reflects a widespread puzzlement among housewives and others about the "spread" between farm prices and retail food prices. The following dispatch explains why the spread exists, how great it is, and why it's likely to grow even greater.

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—The farmer gets considerably less than half of every dollar the housewife spends on food. And this "price spread" is expected to grow even wider.

Despite bumper crops and lower prices to farmers, the Agriculture Department predicts that the housewife's food bill in 1956 will average about the same as in 1955. This poses the question as to why retail prices don't come down proportionately to the decrease in farm prices.

The answer is in marketing and processing charges. They include labor, transportation, processing, wholesaling, retailing, profits of firms making and selling food products — in short, all the services connected with food handling. The cost of these services has increased steadily in recent years and the outlook for next year is "further moderate increases."

Consumer Pays Cost

The cost comes out of the consumer's food dollar. The marketing bill for 1955 is estimated at 28 billion dollars. This is 60 per housewives will spend across the cent of the $46,300,000,000 that housewives will spend across the grocery counter for farm produced goods. Forty cents of each food dollar goes to the farmer.

The Department of Agriculture computes the farmer's share and the marketing bill through use of a "tpyical market basket" for average wage earners or clerical workers in an urban community. The basket contains all farm-produced foods. Fish are excluded. In the latest report — July-September — all items of the market basket cost at retail $935.35. Of this, the farmer's share was $393.25, or 40 per cent. The 60 per cent marketing bill was $590.10.

The farmer does not get the same per cent of return on all items. For example, a pound loaf of bread in the market basket retails at 17.7 cents. The bread contains 0.912 pounds of wheat worth at the farm 2.5 cents, to 14 per cent of the cost of the loaf. The marketing bill — which in this case includes milling the wheat into flour, adding other ingredients and baking it into bread — is 15.2 cents.

Steer-On-The-Hoof

A pound of choice grade beef retailing at 67.4 cents represents 2.16 pounds of choice grade steer-on-the-hoof. The marketing charge on the pound of beef is 26.5 cents, leaving the farmer 40.9 cents, or 61 per cent.

Most of the marketing costs are fixed. They do not fluctuate like the prices received by farmers. Therefore lower prices at the farm do not bring anywhere near as much of a reduction at retail.

Furthermore, many consumers have been willing to pay for the convenience of getting foods already prepared or partly prepared for the table, and the processing cost in these is of course proportionately higher.

Man Burns To Death

BLUFFTON, Ind. (UP) — Jesse Brown, 67, burned to death Wednesday when fire destroyed the converted milk truck body in which he made his home.

Cause of the blaze was not determined, but the one-room house was heated by a coal stove.

A neighbor, Russell Thompson, discovered the blaze, and tried unsuccessfully to enter the room in a rescue attempt.

Draft Call 6,000 For February

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Defense Department today announced a draft call of 6,000 men for February—the lowest draft call since the start of the Korean War.

The Defense Department at the same time said that the previously announced draft call for January is being reduced from 8,000 to 6000 men.

The reduction in draft calls reflected two factors: High Navy re-enlistments permitting the service not to use the draft in February, and the continuing reduction in Army strength.

Army officials said that draft calls can be expected to run at about 6,000 men during the first six months of the coming year.

Here's How
ADVERTISING
by selling more goods to more people
MAKES YOUR JOB MORE SECURE

NO matter what your job today, it depends on "good business." And someone has said that in the American business system, nothing can be accomplished until "something is sold."

You know the truth of this. Falling sales mean pay cuts, layoffs, fear. Increased sales mean better pay, promotions, more security in every job for every man.

Advertising is the low-cost, efficient way to sell goods. Advertising is the spark plug of business. So advertising, by selling goods, makes your job, your home, your income more secure!

Other Ways
Advertising Helps You:
1. Brings you better goods for less money.
2. Makes shopping more pleasant and easier.
3. Has given us the world's highest standard of living.

Good And Bad News On Balance Sheet

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet:

The Good

1. Restored Sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef swore in the first representative government of the French protectorate of Morocco. The cabinet is headed by Si Bekkai, one-legged former French army colonel, as Premier. The ministry is a coalition of the Istiqlal (Independence) and Democratic Independence parties. Bekkai himself is an Independent nationalist. Youssef announced that he and Bekkai will work for an independent Morocco, but that Morocco will remain in the French Union, as the French empire is now called.

2. Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi's Iranian government firmly rejected a threatening Soviet Russian protest against its entry into the new Middle Eastern treaty organization. An Iranian note to Moscow said the Soviet protest constituted interference in Iran's internal affairs. The note accused Russia of repeated violations of Iranian-Russian treaties.

3. The Bundestag, controlling house of the West German parliament, approved an agreement under which the United States will provide heavy weapons for the new German army. Defense Minister Theodor Blank said in a speech that only full German participation in Western defense would help to save it from atomic attack.

The Bad

1. In France, Premier Edgar Faure and his years-long close friend Pierre Mendes - France fought bitterly in the campaigning for the January 2 parliamentary election. Whatever might happen, it was certain that the election could not bring France political stability. The prospect was for indefinite continuance of the chronic cabinet crisis which weaken Allied defense as well as France itself.

2. The threat of a new Communist blockade of West Berlin grew steadily more serious. The city is an island under United States - British - French-Russian occupation, inside the Soviet occupation zone. Movement of supplies to it is governed by four power agreements. But the East German Communist puppet government insists that it now controls movement of all traffic to the allied sectors in the west part of the city. It holds the threat of a blockade over the heads of the Allies unless the West German government recognizes it as "sovereign."

3. "Neutralist' India was swept by a wave of anti-Americanism because Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, in a joint statement with visiting Portuguese Foreign Minister Paulo Arsenio Verissimo Cunha, referred to Portufals tiny possessions on the Indian coast as "provinces." India held this implied American support for Portugal's refusal to give up the three territories, which officially are provinces and not colonies. It looked as if denunication of Dulles was being used to Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin and Communist Party chief Nikita S. Krushchev have made on the United States and its Allies.

ANSWERING THE CALL TO DUTY—A polar bear cub moves in for a meal at the Milwaukee, Wis., zoo. But the feeder is a dog, not the mother bear. Because zoo officials feared the cub would die or be killed by its inexperienced mother, a dog that had just had pups was called on for wet nurse duty.

Collinwood Herd Wins Trophy From Kosciusco Group

Recognition was paid Richard Holden and John Foster and the Collinwood Farm dairy herd at the 10th Annual Kosciusko County Dairy Banquet recently, when the local herd received the second place trophy of the organization for production.

The Collinwood Farm is a member of the Kosciusko county organization, and the production record for which the local herd received the award was made in 1954. At that time, John Foster was managing the farm, located at the north edge of the city. Richard Holden is the owner of the farm.

To receive the award, which was open to herds of 25 or more cows, the Collinwood Guernseys produced an average of 9,508 pounds of milk and 482 pounds of butterfat. The average test was 5.07 per cent. At the time the record was made 35 cows were in production.

The first place herd in this group is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Millard Stookey, of near Warsaw, and consists of Holsteins.

Eisenhower

est report on the President's health with keen interest. Several top Republicans have expressed the opinion that if the President's recovery continues satisfactorily, he will run for a second term. But Mr. Eisenhower is expected to keep his intentions secret until sometime next year.

The main purpose of the examinations by the President's physician, Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder and Col. Thomas W. Mattingly, chief of cardiology services at Walter Reed, was to determine whether the President has had any heart enlargement as a result of his stepped - up activities.

Mr. Eisenhower was last examined by x-ray at Fitzsimons Army Hospital in Denver Nov. 12. At that time, his physicians said there was no indication of heart enlargement.

Had Daily Checkups

While at Gettysburg the President has had daily or twice-daily checkups but x-rays facilities were not available.

Ready for Mr. Eisenhower's examination at Walter Reed was the hospital's presidential suite, three handsomely furnished rooms and a private bath on the third floor of the east wing.

It will be the first time Mr. Eisenhower ever has used the suite. Former President Truman stayed there briefly once, but except for that occasion it has been used chiefly for other important persons such as cabinet members and leading military figures.

The President met with his cabinet for two hours and 25 minutes Friday at the presidential retreat near Thurmont, Md. It was announced afterward that he would send a special message to Congress next year on the farm situation.

Special Navy Recruit Now In Operation

A. Q. Longmire, Chief Quartermaster, U.S. Navy, Recruiter in charge of the Fort Wayne Recruiting District, announces that a special recruitment campaign is now operating to recruit an all Indiana recruit company. This special company will be known as the "Hoosier Company" and will depart Indiana for the U.S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Illinois on December 28, where they will undergo recruit training.

Chief Longmire states that the big advantage these men will have over other recruits is that they can enlist in the Navy and remain at home for the Christmas Holidays. Christmas at home and New Years at a naval training center is the theme for the campaign. Another advantage is that these recruits will have the opportunity to enlist with their friends and are guaranteed to remain together during their indoctrination period. After this training the men will come home together on their "boot" leave before being transferred to various service schools, ships and stations throughout the Navy.

Past experience indicates that this system of recruiting complete companies has gone over very well in the state of Indiana, Chief Longmire stated. The "Hoosier Company" will consist of 70 young men, 20 of which will come from this district. The opportunity to enlist for the company now is excellent, but young men are advised to contact their local Navy recruiter soon as it is expected that this company will be made up rapidly.

German regime. The soldiers were arrested Wednesday.

The demand came even while U.S. Army authorities were trying to identify the soldiers. The Army here said that no men are missing from units stationed in West Berlin and there were no soldiers missing from units in West Germany.

The East Germans have not identified the soldiers they said were arrested and turned over to the Soviet authorities. The Russians have not yet admitted even holding the men and have ignored repeated American approaches.

Army officials said all they knew about the case was what they read in the East German newspapers.

Top Red Attorney

Dr. Friedrich Kaul, East Germany's top lawyer, asked the East Berlin state prosecutor's office to try the two men. The Communist Neues Deutschland said Kaul made the proposal because "the German Democratic Republic is a sovereign state and the bandits' attack took place in the capital of the GDR."

Four-power agreements exempt occupation troops from German laws. The agreements provide that soldiers of one power accused of misconduct in the sector of Berlin occupied by another must be handed over to their own superiors for trial.

Some observers said that Kaul's demand may indicate that the Russians might break the agreement on the ground that East Germany is now "sovereign." The concern was given added weight by the fact that Kaul was entrusted with the case. Kaul defended the West German Communist Party at the West German Supreme Court against the Bonn government's move to outlaw the red organization as subversive.

Officials Promise Protest

American officials said they would protest vigorously any Russian attempt to turn the soldiers over to East Germany for trial.

The Soviet Union already has surrendered its control over Berlin's lifelines to the West. An official East German announcement said Friday that Communist police have taken over "guarding and control" of the East-West city borders of East Germany and the routes used to supply Western Berlin. Western Allied traffic was exempt from the new order.

However, an American spokesman said the West will still hold the Soviets responsible for free access to the city isolated in the Communist zone some 100 miles from Western Germany.

Not All Scientists Are Little Old Men With Beards

BLOOMINGTON, — Are scientists "squares" and "little old men with beards working in a musty laboratory?"

That's the way they were described by high school students in a recent Oklahoma City survey which indicated that most pre-college pupils there take a dim view of science as a career.

But an A to Z astronomy to zoology) check of Indiana University scientists indicates that the kids have been looking at the wrong TV shows and movies, for the I.U. microscope manipulators qualify as real folks.

They belong to service clubs, take part in sports, play music, are among the most avid concert and play goers, they take part in scout work, tend gardens, play bridge, and are mighty handy around the house with hammer and saw. A mathematician is a mountain climber and a chemist heads a group of square dancers who do a weekly television show.

You'd probably never suspect, if you met him at the weekly luncheon of the Bloomington Kiwanis Club, that the energetic chairman of the group's vocational guidance committee is a prominent researcher on the chemistry of nutrition. He is Prof. Harry Day, who is head of the I.U. chemistry department.

Prof. William Breneman, zoologist and researcher on the endocrine glands, a few years ago won the "Brown Derby", voted each year by Sigma Delta Chi fraternity to the "most popular professor." Breneman for several years was I.U. faculty representative to the Big Ten.

Another past winner of the "Brown Derby" is head of the astronomy department, Prof. Frank Edmondson, whose classical record collection is about to burst the seams of his large house. Every Friday night, Edmondson holds open house for students, and plays them a carefully planned record concert.

The mountain climbing mathematician is Prof. Eberhard Hopf, whose technical treatises are published and circulated world-wide. He is an expert photographer, and his collection of color slides of North American and European mountains show his keen eye for a picture.

Also among the I.U. mathematicians are K. P. Williams, who is best known as a writer on the Civil War, and Vaclav Hlavaty, expert on relativity, who is a former member of the Czech parliament and one-time professional violinist.

Prof. James Canright, botanist, is a boy scout leader and crack tennis player; Prof. James Cuffey, astronomer now in Ethiopia on an eclipse observing expedition, built his own home; Emeritus Prof. J. J. Galloway, geologist, is hard to beat at the bridge table; and the coach of the I.U. soccer team is G. K. Guennel, geologist.

Three IU Students Crawl To Safety Had Been Trapped By Rock Slide

By KEITH MARTIN
United Press Staff Correspondent

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (UP) — Three Indiana University students crawled to safety from an abandoned saltpeter cave Sunday night, three hours after a rock slide trapped them 40 feet underground.

Rescuers led a girl and an air force student through knee-deep water to a second entrance to the cavern. Another Air Force man pulled himself out by rope past the boulder which had endangered their exit.

The students, Barbara Reahard, 20, Wabash, Ind., Robert Jordan 24 Seattle Wash. and Lawrence Cooke 19, Lonsdale, R.I. were treated for exposure but were not injured.

They were part of a party of six khaki-clad students who slid through the cave entrance four miles from the campus to explore passageways. Three of them pulled themselves to an upper ledge by rope which loosened a barrage of rocks, tumbling past the three below.

Boulder Weighs Ton

A boulder which they said weighed about a ton wedged along the shaft, partially blocking the upward path. Jordan, a husky amateur explorer, decided it would be "stupid" for the three below to try climbing past the boulder.

"If one of us had knocked it loose, it could have shut off the shaft for good," he said.

Jordon, Cooke, and Miss Reahard remained huddled on a chilly edge which formed the horizontal bottom of a 20-foot-tall "C" shaped passage in the cave.

On the ledge above them, where the slide started, were Carol Meyer, 20, Fort Wayne, Ind., John Hamm, 19 Memphis Tenn. and John Matin 19 Highland Park, Mich. The girls were newcomers to cave exploring but the men had tried it at least once before.

Runs For Help

Jordon passed up his car keys by rope but Miss Meyer was so excited she couldn't start the auto so she ran to a nearby airport for help.

Police and hundreds of sightseers rushed out with blankets and coffee which were lowered to the three.

"We bundled up like sardines in a can,"- Jordon said. "I was sort of dubious about there being another way out, and when somebody

Meditation

Scripture lesson: Luke 10:25-37

Jesus spoke the parable of the Good Samaritan in answer to the question "And who is my neighbor?". It seems to be a clear and complete answer — "Your neighbor is anyone that you are in a position to help." Yet I once heard a man who had regularly attended both Church and Sunday School for many years tell his Sunday morning class that the teaching of the parable was that "Your neighbor is anyone who can help you."

This interpretation expressed his own philosophy of life. He was constantly seeking those who would be willing to give him a helping hand, but in exchange, he did very little for others. Are we not all prone to read our own prejudices into our religious life? Do we not tend to make Christian teachings mean what we want them to mean, rather than what they really do mean?

Christmas is a good time for us to examine our ideas of life, and to bring them into conformity with the ideas that have come to us out of the past, from men and women who lived close to God, and who heard Him speak to them.

Israeli, Syrian Forces Battle In Serious Outbreak

Cannonading Rocks Sea Of Galilee Shores

JERUSALEM (UP) —Israeli and Syrian forces battled today near the Sea of Galilee in one of the most serious outbreaks since the end of the Palestine War. Syria was reported rushing planes and troops to the scene.

An Israeli spokesman said Isralie forces killed 50 Syrian soldiers and captured 30 others in a massive retaliatory raid into Syria Sunday night and that cannonading rocked the shores of the storied sea throughout the night.

A dispatch from Damascus said the air forces in the southern part of the country bordering Israel were alerted for action and that heavy reinforcements were rushed to the frontier near the River Jordan in an incident that could embroil Egypt as well.

Urgent conferences were reported underway in Damascus where syria recently concluded a defense pact with Egypt that provides joint action should one or the other be attacked by Israel.

Study "Political Measures"

Official sources said the Syrian government was studying the possibility of "preventive military and political measures" against Israel.

The fighting which raged for hours was believed to be even larger in scope than the clash between Israelis and Egyptians at El Auja Nov. 4 which almost dedeveloped into a full-fledged shooting war.

The Israeli military spokesman said the Israeli troops withdrew to their bases in "good spirits" from their foray into Syria and that

Children Pleased By Free Pony Rides

Columbia City's merchants treated shoppers' children Saturday afternoon to free pony rides near Santa's headquarters, thereby giving a childhood thrill to Santa's ardent fans.

The Chamber of Commerce arranged for the event to provide entertainment for all those large enough to mount a pony. The smaller children were aided on and off the ponies by the two local Boy Scout troop members. Also assisting the ponies' owner, William Gorman of Newcastle, were two local men, Robert Berry and Harley Pettit.

The "covered wagon" drawn by six ponies, the wagon equipped with sled runners which made it appear to be a snow vehicle instead of a four-wheeled wagon, was as popular as the individual pony rides. The "covered wagon" trip around the courthouse square required 12 minutes. The individual pony rides around a straw and sawdust covered circle on Chauncey street outside Santa's headquarters, took from two to three minutes, depending on how many children were waiting. Some who arrived when the line of waiting children thinned, enjoyed much longer rides. The ponies were saddled and carried stirrups. The smallest children hung onto the pommels.

McLallen PTA To Have Christmas Program Tonight

The Parent-Teachers Association of the McLallen school will hold its meeting tonight when the annual Christmas program of the association will be given at 7 o'clock, in the school auditorium.

The program will be given by the children of the school. Every child will appear in some phase of the program. According to the president, Mrs. Dale Nolt, only a short business meeting will be held. Refreshments will be served immediately following the program.

EastGermanReds OrderRiotSquads To Demonstrate

In Western Sectors Of Berlin

BERLIN (UP) — The East German Communists ordered riot squads to demonstrate in the Western sectors of the city today as further proof of the growing might of the "sovereign" East German state.

The Communist pretext was that the West German "Stahlhelm" (Steel Helmet) veterans organization had scheduled a meeting in a cafe of the French sector of the East - West city border.

The cafe owner said no meeting would be held there but the Communists ignored his statement and said they would break up the meeting whether it is held or not.

Mobilize For Trouble

West German police mobilized their reserves for trouble and ordered them to border positions to beat back the invaders should they stream across the border as expected. The cafe is so near the border the Communists could send in wave after wave of assault teams.

The last such invasion occurred in May when 3,000 Communists swarmed across the border and battled 300 police. The police won and 68 Communists were arrested. Thirty four police and scores of Communists injured.

The new Communist threat built up despite an apparent move to slap the Red regime on the wrists for pressing their claims to sovereignty too rapidly.

Russians Release Soldiers

The Russians Saturday night released two American soldiers captured originally by Communist 'Peoples Police" in an apparent snub of the East Germans claim to sovereignty.

The action apparently was taken by the Russians without informing the East Germans for the East German press continued to demand the soldiers trial in East German courts even though they were safely in Western custody.

The Americans were Pvt. Willie J. Holden, 19, of Poplarville, Miss., and Pvt. Richard L. Calbert, 22 Kansas City, Mo. Army spokesmen said they were being held in "administrative custody" pending investigation of Communist reports they beat up an East German night club entertainer.

Ralph Gates Expects To Attend Top Level Strategy Session

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Hoosier Republican big-wigs gather here Wednesday for a "top-level" strategy session called by Sen. Homer E. Capehart.

Also expected to be present were Governor Craig, former Gov Ralph F. Gates, Sen. William E Jenner and the entire Indiana GOP Congressional delegation, GOP district chairmen and chairwomen.

Capehart, Indiana Supreme Court Justice Arch N. Bobbitt and Gates head the tentative speaking program. Capehart said also included is a "round table discussion" on organizing next year's elections.

Mrs. Bossard's Mother, Cousin Killed In Crash

Sister Of Fort Wayne Woman Only Survivor; Car Struck Headon

Mrs. Ursula Bossard, Fort Wayne, formerly of Tri-Lakes and a former organist at St. Paul of the Cross Catholic church, was informed Sunday of the deaths in an auto crash near Celina, Ohio, of her mother and her mother's cousin.

Her mother was Mrs. Kathryn M. Stein, 81, Fort Wayne. A sister of Mrs. Bossard, Miss Clementine Stein, 45, escaped with minor injuries. Mrs. Stein's cousin, the Rev. Sebastian Joseph Kremer, 74, pastor of Most Precious Blood Catholic church in Fort Wayne, was killed.

The three Fort Wayne people, the priest, his cousin, and Mrs Stein's daughter, were en route to Chickasaw, Ohio, to attend the funeral Tuesday of Father Kremer's brother, Frank, 69, of Chickasaw.

The accident happened at 3:40 p.m. Sunday when the priest's car was struck headon on U.S. 127 approximately six miles north of Celina by the car operated by Jan Mathews, 16, of Ohio City, O. Mathews suffered a fractured left arm and broken left leg.

The Matthews youth, investigating officers said, was northbound on U.S. 127 and was unable to get back into his own lane of traffic after passing another northbound vehicle.

Third Vehicle Involved

A third vehicle was involved in the crash, that operated by Charles C. Ricketts, 81, of Celina, R 3. Officers said Ricketts, who was alone, was driving 30 to 35 miles an hour as the Matthews youth, also alone, started around him.

Matthews, seeing Father Kremer's car approaching, attempted to swing back to the right side of the road, clipping the left rear fender of Ricketts' car before ramming headon into Father Kremer's vehicle.

The deaths of Father Kremer and Mrs. Stein were attributed to internal injuries. Both were dead on arrival at Our Lady of Mercy hospital at Coldwater, Ohio.

Mrs. Stein, member of Most Precious Blood church in Fort Wayne, its Rosary Soldality and the Catholic Order or Forresters, is survived by four other daughters in addition to Mrs. Bossard and Miss Clementine Stein who lived with her. These are Mrs. Herman Bir, Marion, Sister M. Anselma of Our Lady of Good Counsel Convent, Toledo, Ohio; Mrs. Charles Glessner and Mrs. Josephine Glasper, all of Fort Wayne. One son, Urban, lives at Indianapolis. Also surviving are 17 grandchildren and 32 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Stein's body was taken to the C. M. Sloan & Sons Funeral Home, Fort Wayne, where friends may call after 7 p.m. Monday.

Father Kremer is survived by a brother, Anthony, of Carthagena, Ohio, and a sister, Mrs. Anna Meiring, Cincinnati. The Fort Wayne priest had been pastor of the Most Precious Blood church since 1947.

Council To Show Film Wednesday

The Whitley County Council for Retarded Children is showing a film "Tuesday's Child" at an open meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30 at the Council room in the city hall.

A bulletin published by the Opportunity school reports on the activities at the school. The pupils are divided into three groups. At present they are making Christmas gifts for their mothers.

Arm Broken In Fall

Mrs. Grace B. Meitzler, 506 West Van Buren street, is a patient at the Lutheran hospital, Fort Wayne, following a fall in the living room of her home Saturday evening which resulted in a broken right arm. Her arm, broken between the elbow and shoulder, is in traction and reduction of the fracture is to be accomplished about the middle of the week. She is a patient in Room No. 209.

Firemen's Christmas Fund Now Totals $29

The Columbia City firemen's Christmas Party Fund now totals $29, thanks to contributions received from citizens during the past week. According to Fire Chief Russell Wolfe, $171 in additional contributions will be required before the expenses of the Christmas Eve children's party treat can be met.

Those wishing to contribute to the Christmas fund may leave their donations at either of the local banks, at the fire department or police department in the city hall, or give them to any of the volunteer firemen. The recent contributions to the fund include:

Police Question Two Suspects In Hunt For Killer

Of University Of Omaha Beauty Queen

By LADD KUZELA
United Press Staff Correspondent

OMAHA, Neb. (UP) — Police questioned two suspects today in their hunt for the sadistic killer of a University of Omaha beauty queen.

One of the men, a 35-year old former cab driver, was described as the best suspect yet in the three-day old investigation.

He was picked up Sunday night after a newspaper reporter told police he heard the man boasting in a tavern that he had killed a woman.

The other suspect was a 26-year old Negro, who also underwent intensive questioning Sunday.

Both men were kept behind bars until police established whether they had any connection with the gun-slaying of 20-year old Carolyn Marie Nevins.

The bullet-riddled body of the brunette honor student was found on the university campus early Saturday. She had been shot four times, either late Friday night or early Saturday.

Police were convinced it was a sex slaying. Carolyn's clothing was disarranged, her shoes were found 40 feet from the body, and her panties were 30 feet away.

The girl was last seen waiting for a bus in front of a university building at about 11:15 p.m. CST Friday night. Two witnesses said she was talking to a tall Negro.

Detective Inspector Ernest Brown, investigating the former cab driver's alibi, said he had learned from the man's daughter that he had been away from home until after 11 p.m. Friday.

Leaves found in the man's car were compared with leaves in the campus area and police were also considering whether to give the man a lie test. He has agreed to take such a test, Brown said.

The murdered girl, who recently won a local Masonic beauty contest, had left her part time job in the student library at 10 p.m. her father, an insurance executive, had planned to meet her, but was late.

Taken To Her Daughter's Home

Mrs. Martin Trier, a patient at the Whitley County Hospital for the past month was dismissed Sunday afternoon and taken to the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr and Mrs. Harley Bridge, south of this city, in the Smith and Sons ambulance. Although it will be necessary that Mrs. Trier remain in bed for quite some time, she is making satisfactory recovery.

Two Newspapers Announce Increase In Delivery Rate

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Two upstate newspapers announced a five-cent weekly increase in their carrier delivery rate during the weekend, raising the price to 40 cents.

The Bluffton News-Banner and the Warsaw Times-Union said the increase resulted from higher costs of newsprint and other publishing expenses.

Doctors' Reports On Ike Start New GOP Speculation

As To Whether He Will Seek Reelection

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—Doctors' reports that President Eisenhower should ease his work load touched off new Republican speculation today as to whether the President will seek reelection.

GOP viewpoints about Mr. Eisenhower's political plans seem to be running roughly along the lines that divided the party in 1952. Most of the recent public and private forecasts that the President will run again have come from men who have been regarded as all out supporters of Mr. Eisenhower.

With no obvious explanation, disbelief appears to be running in much greater proportion among GOP politicians not closely tied to the Eisenhower wing of the party.

For more than a month, there has been a steady upswing in expressed hopes or beliefs that Mr Eisenhower will run again. Evidence supporting these views, if it exists, has not been disclosed.

Admit Wishful Thinking

Some Republicans admit wishful thinking may be a factor; others say the President is facing an unfinished job as a world leader; others concede they just have a "feeling in the bones" that he will run again.

Those who remain unconvinced are expressing their opinion only in private. Some are suspicious of a plot among White House lieutenants, encouraging hopes of a second Eisenhower candidacy to discourage moves by other possible candidates.

On the other side of the political fence, New York Democratic leader Carmine DeSapio predicted the Democratic presidential nominee in 1956 will recapture the "Solid South" and be elected — even if Mr. Eisenhower runs.

Cites Democratic Gains

The Tammany chief, who is pushing Gov. Averell Harriman of New York for the 1956 presidential nomination, said Democratic gains in the 1954 congressional and gubernatorial elections amounted to "a definite repudiation of the Republican philosophy regardless of who its leader may be."

No Broad-Gauge Economic Laws For Automation

Decision Made By Congressional Subcommittee

WASHINGTON (UP)— A congressional subcommittee has decided that "no specific broad-gauge economic legislation appears to be called for" now because of automation.

But it warned that with the coming of push button factories "no one dare overlook or deny the fact that many individuals will suffer personal, mental and physical hardships."

"The middle-aged worker particularly, who may find his skills rendered obsolete overnight or his job abolished as his works turned over to a machine, has every right to expect that industry, his union and society, will recognize his plight and assist him," the subcommittee said.

The subcommittee on economic stabilization, headed by Rep. Wright Patman (D-Tex), recently concluded hearings on automation. It gathered testimony from scores of labor, industry, government, economic and scientific leaders.

In a report issued Sunday night, the subcommittee urged development of national and local programs by government, industry and organized labor to ease unemployment problems "whatever the cause or causes of distress may be."

However, the subcommittee refused to draw hard and fast conclusions pending further study.

It said the new age will witness an "enormous" increase in the amount of atomic energy for peaceful purposes, as well as giant strides in electronics and the use of modern computing machines.

The subcommittee urged industry to time its investments and technological changes "with an eye to the state of general business and the needs for increased employment."

The group also called on unions to "continue to recognize that an improved level of living for all cannot be achieved by a blind defense of the status quo."

Compete In Forensic Debate At Delphi

Two varsity debate teams from Columbia City Joint high school motored to Delphi Saturday to compete in the state-wide Indiana High School Forensic Debate. The debate consisted of three rounds of debating.

Rex Carpenter and Jon Pontzius were the negative speakers on the varsity team and John Forrester and Eldon Killian were the affirmative speakers. They each won one debate out of the three.

Hugo Martz and Jim Grant, affirmative speakers on the sub-varsity team, won two debates. Linda Gates and Judy Schrader, negative speakers on the sub-varsity team, won one debate.

Forrest Fruits and Robert Forrester accompanied the students to Delphi and also served as judges.

Thought To Have Fractured Hip

Mrs. Fanny Warner was taken to the Whitley County Hospital on Friday evening from her home in Smith township in a J. A. DeMoney and Son ambulance. She was admitted to the hospital with a possible fractured hip.

Without Waiting For Agreement On Full Plan

Revised Resolution Given To Committee

By BRUCE W. MUNN
United Press Staff Correspondent

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—The United States today called on the world's military powers to "take every action now feasible" as a first step toward world disarmament.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., speaking in the United Nations Main Political Committee debate on disarmament, proposed that world powers make arms "reductions which can be adequately controlled without waiting for agreement on a comprehensive plan" of disarmament.

Lodge was speaking on a revised resolution submitted to the committee by the U.S. and five other nations.

The resolution calls for "priority" or President Eisenhower's "open sky" plan and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin's proposal for control points at "stratetic centers" in the United States and Soviet Union.

Soviets Oppose Resolution

The U.N. General Assembly today started the final scheduled week of its 1955 session with its membership split on three major problems—disarmament, the election of new members and the election of a country to fill the remaining Security Council seat open Jan. 1.

The political committee scheduled morning and afternoon sessions in an effort to force a vote on the Western power resolution.

Tri-Lakes Home Damaged By Fire

Fire badly damaged the home of the Calvin Okensons on the north shore of Shriner lake Saturday about 4 p.m. when a defective oil-fired floor furnace charred the flooring of the home and smoke damage resulted throughout the house.

The Four Townships fire department responded to the call, but the cottage owner with the aid of neighbors had the fire practically under control before the fire department arrived. A hand extinguisher was used by the owner and neighbors.

The flooring was charred, also the joists. Access to the fire had been gained by chopping through the floor.

The Okenson home is located west of state road 102 on the north shore of Shriner lake, access being from a road joining the state highway near the Cities Service service station.

Around The World! Around The Clock:

By UNITED PRESS

LONDON (UP)—A London newspaper said today Soviet Communist leader Nikita Khrushchev, former Premier Georgi Malenkov and an "unidentified group of ultra-extremists" are engaged in a three-way struggle for leadership in Russia.

Daily Mail diplomatic correspondent Walter Farr said the Soviet Union is heading for a new series of large scale purges that will see one or the other of the three factions emerge triumphant. Farr said Khrushchev is trying to pack the February congress of the Soviet Communist Party with his own supporters to ensure that his views are adopted.

LONDON (UP) — Libya today blamed the pilot of a British Overseas Airways Argonaut airliner for the crash which killed 15 persons at Tripoli last Sept. 21.

A report on the crash issued here by the Libyan government said Capt. Bob Griffiths made an error of judgment in landing. Given a choice of two runways, he chose the wrong one and then came in too far to the left.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UP)—World - renowned cellist Pablo Casals arrived Sunday for a three-month visit to his mother's homeland where he will celebrate his 79th birthday Dec. 29.

Casals, a Spaniard who fled to France after Gen. Francisco Franco came to power in pain will see the house in Mayaguez where his mother was born 101 years ago.

SEOUL, Korea (UP) — About 180 men comprising the Greek Expeditionary Forces went home on Sunday, leaving a 10-man contingent to represent Greece in the United Nations Command.

The withdrawal reduced the once powerful 1-nation Allied fighting force in Korea to two American divisions, a British Commonwealth division, a battalion of Turks, a company of Thais and a small force of Ethiopians.

BOMBAY, India (UP) — King Saud of Saudi Arabia received many gifts from the government and people of India on the last day of his state visit Sunday.

The presents included two tiger cubs, two panther cubs, a Himalayan bear, a spotted deer, a baby crocodile and a five - year - old elephant.

The elephant, named Sasankh, was given a try-out ride by two of the king's sons before the animal was formally accepted.

LONDON (UP)—A British army sergeant and his wife Sunday night won the largest British television jackpot of $3,080 — puny by American standards — by performing a stunt which couples on 11 previous programs had failed to do.

The trick was for the woman to bounce three tennis balls at her husband and for him to catch each one in a hollow tube. Then, he had to move to a wastebasket and let the ball drop into it.

The time limit was 40 seconds. But Sgt. Kenneth Waterworth and his wife did it in 11 seconds on the "Beat the Clock" program.

Another Davy Crockett

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Davy Crockett was born Friday in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital in Los Angeles, far from any Tennessee mountain tops.

The new Davy, weighing nine pounds, is a sixth generation Crockett according to records written in a family bible dating back to 1700.

Supreme Court To Act On National Lawyers Guild Protest

WASHINGTON (UP)— The Supreme Court is scheduled to act today on the National Lawyers Guild's protest against a Justice Department order to register as a Communist-dominated group.

The guild has challenged the attorney general's right to designate organizations as subversive. It also charges that Brownell has prevented a fair hearing by prejudging the case in speeches condemning the guild as "...fully committed to the Communist Party line."

Federal District Court here and the U.S. Court of Appeals both have held that the guild must defend itself before the Subversive Activities Control Board before applying to the court for relief.

The Supreme Court may act also today on important cases involving state fair trade laws, Taft-Hartley collective bargaining requirements, and the controversy between Louisiana and the federal government over tidelands oil.

Ignores School Bus, Passes Semi And 3 Cars On Berm

An Iowa tractor driver was $26.75 out of pocket today, result of flagrant violation of the Indiana school bus law which requires all moving traffic to halt while school buses are loading or unloading.

He was arrested on U.S. Highway 30 near the drive to the American Legion home after reportedly endangering the life of a housewife and several children at Westgate.

The tractor operator, John McCanless McGill Jr., 29, of 3919 Lincoln Place Drive, Des Moines, was fined $10 and costs totaling $26.75 in the court of Mayor Thomas H. Hood. He was arrested by Sheriff Galen O. Adair, who purposely followed a Columbia township school bus this morning because reports have been received from several school bus drivers that many motorists and truck operators, both local and out-of-state, have been ignoring the provision of the law regarding loading or unloading buses.

Following the westbound bus which halted at Westgate to receive the Delbert Ballard children, the sheriff waited behind the bus. Three eastbound autos and a semi-trailer halted also until the bus received its passengers. These were several children who were accompanied to the highway edge by their mother.

While the traffic was halted, the tractor operated by McGill, approached from the west and passed the three cars and truck by driving on the berm. The sheriff followed and halted the tractor operator at the Legion Home drive. The tractor operator, himself the father of two children, gave as his explanation that his attention was diverted from traffic as he was trying to adjust his cab radio while driving and did not see the halted traffic ahead until he was a short distance away.

From bus drivers' reports, local drivers as well as those from outside Indiana are equally at fault by ignoring loading and unloading buses. The law enforcement officers by accompanying the buses from time to time plan to arrest violators of this provision of the law.

yelled down there was another exit, those were the best words I ever heard."

Two students familiar with the maze of passageways, William Sparks, 21, Louisville, Ky., and James Glatz 23 Bloomington volunteered to go through the second entrance. When they didn't come out in an hour, two more went in—Steven Bedwell, 25, Bloomington a geology major, and Jay Thomas, 21, Bloomington.

The four led Cooke and Miss Reahard one-fourth of a mile through the passages squeezing through narrow openings and wading in water 18 inches deep.

Jordan went out the way he came in when he saw the others would get to safety. He said he was "anxious" to get to that fresh air on the surface, "so I scrambled hand over hand past the boulder.'

The cave is on land owned by Monroe county Sheriff Clifford Kinser. He previously posted "danger—keep out' signs at both entrances to the cave, from which saltpeter was mined during World War I to make gunpowder.

Hoover Thinks Congress Should Create New Post

To Ease Rigors Of Presidency

NEW YORK (UP) Former President Hoover believes Congress should create a new post of administrative vice president to ease the rigors of the presidency.

The 81-year old former president made the suggestion Sunday in a televised interview when reporters asked him for recommendations to lighten the burden of the presidency in view of Mr. Eisenhower's illness.

Mr. Hoover said the new position should be filled by presidential appointment. The new officer would be assigned such duties as the chief executive would delegate to him, he added.

The former president said he thinks the post could be created by Congress without amending the Constitution.

If such legislation were enacted, he said, "I do not believe" the burdensome post of the presidency would be beyond the physical capabilities of any one man.

Mr. Hoover said Sherman Adams, chief presidential aide to President Eisenhower, does not now have the legislative authority to perform many presidential duties and functions.

He said vice presidents in recent years have been "brought more and more into the administration as an aide to the President." But he said this can only be done under present law in such fields as social and public relations, the formulation of policy and speech-writing.

It would take additional legislation, he said, to delegate to the vice president or a new administrative vice presidency many other "minor or secondary" duties of the chief executive. But he warned against delegating any vital presidential powers.

All questioning of the former president centered around the proposed vice presidential post and the work of the Hoover Commission on Government Reorganization.

Mr. Hoover headed the commission under both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations. He fully endorsed the commission's many recommendations and said none of them were contrary to his personal views.

Israel

the raid on a dark and stormy night had been carried out even more swiftly than planned. The scene is now "very quiet," he said.

United Nations truce observers from both sides rushed to the scene today in their white jeeps. It was understood Maj. Gen. E.L. M. Burns, the truce supervisor would forward a complete report to the United Nations tonight or Tuesday.

The fighting started Sunday night when Israeli forces stormed across the frontier into Syria on a small-scale invasion aimed at halting Syrian attacks on fishing boats in the Sea of Galilee where men have fished since the time of Christ.

Fighting also was reported Sunday between Egypt and Israel.

Four Israelis Lost

Maj. Dan Gov, the Israeli military spokesman, said Israeli casualties were only four killed and 12 wounded in the clash which may have been the biggest battle since the end of the Jewish-Arab war in 1948.

Gov said the Israel forces returned to their base after capturing all the Syrian shore positions which had shelled Israeli fishing boats and destroying all fortifications and capturing Syrian arms.

But fighting continued through the night as Syrian guns roared back from their hill positions overlooking the Sea of Galilee. The Israelis said the guns were directed at the Israeli town of Ein Gev and that there were no casualties.

The Sea of Galilee, where the Bible says Christ performed many of his miracles, lies at the northeast corner of Israel. The international boundary runs a few yards to the east of the sea.

Three Soldiers Killed

There have been frequent clashes betwen Israeli fishermen and Syrian armed forces in recent weeks, and in October an Israeli army raiding force stabbed into the border territory and killed three Syrian soldiers.

The incidents were considered crucial because Syria is reported to have massed strong forces along the border because of the recent flareups between Israeli and Egyptian troops. The border area was the scene of heavy fighting months after an armistice ended the war.

The latest Egyptian-Israeli clash came Sunday. Gov announced that two Egyptian infiltrators were killed and a third captured in a raid on the outskirts of Eilath at the southernmost tip of Israel near the Gulf of Akaba. Relations again were tense because of Egyptian charges Israel captured an Egyptian boat on the high seas Thursday.

Rome City Defeats Larwill 76-40; Coesse Beats Wolf Lake 68-60 In Doubleheader

LARWILL GAME

In a double header played at Columbia City Saturday Rome City tromped the Larwill Trojans 76-40. The Rome City Romans made the first field goal in the first few seconds of the game. Larwill got off to a slow start and couldn't find the hoop. The Romans just couldn't miss and steadily increased the score. At the end of the first period the Romans were ahead 16-11.

In the second stanza the Romans pulled steadily ahead with several layup shots by Post. The Trojans couldn't seem to find the bucket and couldn't control the ball. The period ended with Rome City ahead 35-18.

In the third period Rome City commanded the rebounding and controlled the ball. The Trojans made eight points to the Romans 23 points the stanza ending 58-26.

During the fourth quarter the Trojans were able to hit several field goals and foul shots, making 14 points. The Romans were still going great guns and in the final period they made 18 points. The game ended with the Romans leading 76-40.

This was the fourth loss for the Trojans having lost to Coesse, Arcola and South Whitley. They have won three beating Urbana, Churubusco and Jefferson Center.

Rome City has had seven previous wins. They have beaten Cromwell, Huntertown, Lima, Shipshewana, Topeka, Wawaka, and Mongo. They have not lost this year.

COESSE WOLF LAKE GAME

The Coesse Indians defeated the Wolf Lake Wolves 68-60. This was the fifth win in seven starts for the Indians.

The Wolves have lost five previous games, two to Cromwell,and one to Riverdale, Albion, and Harlan. They have won two, Ligonier and Churubusco.

Wolf Lake jumped to a 7-0 head start early in the first period. Maley of the Indians soon sunk two field goals putting the Indians in the game. Soon after Rock dumped in a field goal. The determined Wolf Lake Wolves stayed ahead in the first quarter with the score at the end of the first eight minutes of play 17-13 in favor of the Wolves.

The Indians started to rally in the second stanza and soon caught up with the Wolves. It was then a seesaw battle then with first Wolf Lake ahead by one and then the Indians. The Indians then pulled ahead by a score of 22-17. At the end of the period the Indians lead 34-31.

Going into the third quarter the Wolves couldn't find the rim of the basket and the Indians intercepted several passes. Rock, Maley, and Steele stole the ball time and again from the Wolves and put the Indians ahead 50-41 at the end of the stanza.

The determined Wolves were still in the game in the fourth period and soon pulled within a few points of the Coesse team. The Indians out for the scalps of the Wolves kept ahead with several pass interceptions and were 11 points ahead with four minutes to go. The Wolves rallied but it was too late and the Indians won 68-60.

Steele of the Indians made fifteen out of 18 free throws. The Indians only missed nine out of twenty-nine free throws. High point man for the Indians was Steele with 23 then came Maley with 13. Huntsman of the Wolves led his team with 20, Van Holten was second with 13.

The officials were Hoppinger and Mosher.

Santee Has Best Time; Mate Wins Race

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Ace miler Wes Santee, formerly of Kansas University and presently in the U.S. Marines, ran five miles in 27 minutes and 36 seconds Sunday to win the Penn A.C. Handicap cross-country race. Santee, who had a 6:30 handicap, said he felt "a bit fatigued" at the half-way mark but was all right after getting his second wind. Santee had the best time but the race was won by John Tibbetts, one of Santee's mates on the Quantico Marine team.

3-Bedroom House Is Reported Stolen

PITTSBURG, Calif. (UP)—Police were at a loss today to explain one of the "biggest robberies" in the history of the San Francisco Bay area.

A three-bedroom prefabricated house was taken sometime during the day Friday.

Detectives said it would have taken at least two men with a large truck to dismantle and move the building, but no one in the area remembered seeing it go.

Weary Shopper

DETROIT (UP)— Police theorized today that a weary Christmas shopper who fell asleep may have set off a burglar alarm Sunday.

They said a window was smashed from the inside with a crowbar belonging to the store and nothing had been stolen.

Pistons Win From Philadelphia 96-91

By UNITED PRESS

The Rochester Royals took over the lead in the western division of the National Basketball Assn. Sunday as club officials reported two more incidents of mysterious telephone callers trying to "fix" the outcome of games.

The Royals took over the top rung by beating St. Louis, 93-91, at Rochester after one of these phone messages was received by Royals' playing coach Bobby Wanzer. The caller, from St. Louis, warned Wanzer against Rochester winning by more than seven points.

At Syracuse, similar calls, this time originating from Minneapolis, were received by officials of the Syracuse Nationals before the Nats beat Boston, 101-89. The first such incident occurred Dec. 8 in Fort Wayne, when Piston officials were told their team should beat Syracuse by a certain margin.

In each case, the team involved informed police of the call and dressing rooms were given added police protection.

In the only other game Sunday, the Fort Wayne Pistons downed Philadelphia, 96-91.

Four Local Teams Play Midweek Games

The Jefferson Center Tigers will play Huntington Catholic high school on Tuesday evening at Huntington.

The Wolf Lake Wolves will play North Webster at Ligonier, Tuesday.

The Larwill Trojans will play Sidney at Larwill Wednesday evening.

Churubusco will play Wawaka at Churubusco, Wednesday.

All games are double headers with the "B" teams playing at 7 o'clock.

Saddler - Gallardo 10-Rounder Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Sandy Saddler, rounding out his fifth year as world featherweight champion, meets hard-hitting Dave Gallardo of Los Angeles tonight in a 10-round, non-title bout at the Civic Auditorium.

The fight will be strictly a closed affair with not a TV camera or radio announcer in the house.

Saddler, who has lost a pair of non-title verdicts this year to Joey Lopes and Flash Elorde, has been installed as a prohibitive favorite over the former Los Angeles busboy and the slat-like champ presumably will defend his title here next month against Elorde unless Gallardo pulls an upset.

Rams Will Pit Youth vs. Experience In Playing Browns

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press Sports Writer

The rookie-studded Los Angeles Rams will pit youth against experience Dec. 26 when they play host to the Cleveland Browns' "old men" in the National Football League championship game.

Los Angeles, led by rookie Coach Sid Gillman, won the Western Division title and the right to tackle Coach Paul Brown's veterans by whipping the Green Bay Packers Sunday, 31-17. The Chicago Bears, only team with a chance to catch Los Angeles, beat the Philadelphia Eagles, 17-10, but finished a half-game behind the Rams as the 12 pro clubs ended their regular seasons.

The Browns, who clinched their sixth straight eastern crown last week, warmed up for their title defense by scoring 21 points in the last five minutes to beat the Chicago Cardinals, 35-24.

Three Scoring Passes

Otto Graham, 34-year old Cleveland quarterback who will retire after the championship game, finished his final home appearance by throwing three scoring passes, including the decisive 41-yarder to Ray Renfro.

In the other season finales Sunday, Eddie LeBaron's two touchdown passes helped the Washington Redskins defeat the Pittsburgh Steelers, 28-17; Y. A. Tittle and Hugh McElhenny sparked the San Francisco Forty-Niners to a 35-17 victory over the Baltimore Colts; and Frank Gifford scored twice to lead the New York Giants to a 24-19 triumph over the Detroit Lions.

The Browns, who have 16 players between 29 and 34 years old, scored their sweetest victory in the 1950 championship when they defeated the Rams, 30-28, on Lou Groza's field goal with only 28 seconds to go. Brown and his Brownies rate that game their favorite triumph because the older league regarded them as "cheese champions" when they entered it in 1950 from the All-America Conference.

Los Angeles reversed the decision in the 1951 title clash, scoring a 24-17 victory over Cleveland on Norm Van Brocklin's 73-yard pass to Tom Fears in the final minutes. Off those two games, their Dec. 26 contest in 101,296-capacity Memorial Coliseum promises to be a wingding.

Graham won the league passing title by averaging 9.41 yards for each of 185 tosses. Cleveland led all teams in scoring with 349 points and gave up the least, 218.

Doak Walker of Detroit, who is retiring, won the scoring title with 96 points. Rookie fullback Alan Ameche of Baltimore won the rushing crown with 962 yards and Pete Pihos, Eagle end who is retiring after nine seasons, won the pass receiving championship with 62 catches.

Wonderful Treatment

HIGH POINT, N. C. (UP)—A woman convicted on a worthless check charge politely declined Friday a suspended 30 day sentence given her by Judge J. A. Myatt.

Mary J. Kinney said rather than go free she would like to be sent to the woman's division of central prison where she received such "wonderful treatment" a short time ago.

The judge shrugged his shoulders and granted her request.

Quotes From The News

WASHINGTON — Presidential Aide Harold E. Stassen on President Eisenhower's delayed decision as to whether he will run again:

"I pray his recovery will be so complete that, God willing, he will continue to lead the nation."

IOWA CITY, Iowa — Dora Lee Martin, a 17-year-old Negro beauty on being named sweetheart of the University of Iowa campus:

"I did not expect to win."

NEW YORK — Walter P. Reuther, a vice president of the AFL-CIO, on the plight of American farmers:

"American farmers are the forgotten man. I have asked Congress for an investigation — a congressional investigation of the price situation."

WASHINGTON — Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson in a reply to Adlai E. Stevenson's criticisms of Republican farm policy:

"If Mr. Stevenson wants to be helpful to farmers, labor and industry he might well occupy himself with the problem of disposing of price depressing surpluses acquired under unsound Democratic programs."

WASHINGTON — The Population Reference Bureau on the increase in life expectancy:

"The American baby will live, on the average, 21.5 years longer than his grandparents who were born in 1900."

Breach Of Contract Suit Against Olson

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—A $500,000 breach of contract suit against former middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson and his manager Sid Flaherty will be heard in federal district court today. Herbert Campos, who is instituting the action, claims that Olson and Flaherty ran out on a contract in which he was supposed to get one third of Olson's earnings from 1951 until July 1959. Campos contends he was Olson's first manager.

Health Of President Frequently Has Been A Matter Of Political And Public Concern

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—The health of presidents frequently has been a matter of political and public concern. There were some slanderous whispers and inside-dope-letter libels about Franklin D. Roosevelt's physical condition during the years of his presidency.

But, aside from such, there was a gentlemanly understanding all around that no political play would be made on FDR's colossal misfortune, polio. He was a cripple, but the lameness did not extend to his head. So his legs and his steel braces were largely ignored, especially by the news photographers who never took advantage of their chances to picture Mr. Roosevelt in strange and painful postures.

But the time came after two robust terms of office and well into a third when the wear of the White House began to crack Mr. Roosevelt's health. His colds or bouts with influenza began to last a bit longer and, then, longer than that.

White House reporters noted the physical change. So did other regular visitors. Some of FDR's close political associates have written books since his death. In them the record is clear that the insiders knew in 1943-44 that Mr. Roosevelt was failing. That was a prime cause for their successful campaign to ditch Henry A. Wallace as a fourth-term running mate.

Failing Health Evident

The insiders didn't want to take the very real chance that Wallace would serve out Mr. Roosevelt's fourth term. So evident was the President's failing health and so widely was the fact known, that FDR, himself, determined on strategy to scotch the public fears.

He chose his New York City campaign appearance for as bright a piece of political strategy as even he could wish for. The day was awful—cold rain and gusts of wind. Around the big city Mr. Roosevelt moved in an open car. He was soaked and smiling. He did duck in at intervals to snatch dry clothing, perhaps a bolt of bourbon or some tea. But that didn't show much in the news stories or pictures.

What the voters saw and read showed a big and hearty man laughing at the snarling elements—a healthy man, if ever was. FDR was elected president for a fourth term a few days after that. And a few months later he was dead.

All of that is history and long gone. But it may be appropriate to recall those circumstances now when another president has been stricken and the debate roars whether he could or should run again.

Pressure Building Up

There is real pressure building up for President Eisenhower to go again next year. Republican National Committee Chairman Leonard W. Hall simply says—he's my candidate. Other Ike-men repeat that in public or in private. And many of them will concede the Republicans are likely to take a 1956 licking if Mr. Eisenhower does not run.

To be a satisfactory candidate, Mr. Eisenhower must convince himself and convince the voters that his physical condition would permit another term without unreasonably endangering his life.

Right now the President is under doctors' orders to slow up a bit after apparently going a little too past during the early phase of his convalescence. But that doesn't mean Mr. Eisenhower won't step back into normal routine eventually.

And perhaps, after awhile, the President and his advisers may be looking for a lucky rainstorm, as did FDR in 1944.

Ike, Top GOP Congressional Leaders Confer

On Administration's Legislative Program

WASHINGTON (UP)— President Eisenhower called top GOP congressional leaders to the White House today for a lengthy conference on the administration's legislative program for next year.

Mr. Eisenhower, who spent Sunday resting for the session, planned to preview his State of the Union message and his legislative proposals during the meeting which aides said would last all morning and go well into the afternoon.

The session was one of two to be cleared from the presidential calendar before Mr. Eisenhower heeds doctors' orders to give himself more leisure to recuperate from the heart attack he suffered Sept. 24. The other conference comes Tuesday when Mr. Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles brief both Democratic and Republican congressional leaders on foreign policy.

Return To Gettysburg

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower planned to return to their Gettysburg, Pa., farm Tuesday afternoon after the meeting.

After an exhaustive physical examination Saturday, doctors said Mr. Eisenhower is recuperating normally but has shown "signs of fatigue" as his work schedule increased.

Facing the conferees today was the knotty farm problem, the outlook for the administration's hopes for a balanced budget and a cut in taxes, the defense budget, reciprocal trade, and federal aid for road building and schools. Farm policy and taxes are regarded as the administration's main problems.

The Unspoken Question

Not on the agenda but an unspoken question among Republican leaders attending the conference was: Does the President intend to run for reelection?

The week-end medical report on the President set the guessing game going full tilt again. The doctors said Mr. Eisenhower's condition was "good" and his convalescence "normal", but they added that executive responsibilities had kept the convalescence period from being "ideal."

Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, the President's physician, said he thought the President should wait until about mid-February before deciding about whether he could run again.

Snyder suggested that Mr. Eisenhower not try to deliver the State of the Union message in person. The final draft of message, which Mr. Eisenhower discussed today, probably will be read by clerks after Congress convenes.

COMMUNITY TELEPHONE — Service station operator Dave Haddad uses his phone—oops—the phone that's partly his. When Haddad moved into Pleasant Valley, a new community outside Pittsburgh, Pa., telephones were at a premium. He needed one for his business So a pay phone was installed outside his home, for use by the whole community. By leaving the living-room window open, Haddad can hear the telephone ring. This also cools his home. But he says he doesn't mind the higher heat bills too much. When the phone rings in the middle of the night, Haddad has to scramble out of a warm bed and jump into boots and overcoat to answer it.

Search Party Finds Wreckage Of U. S. Plane

And Bodies Of All Eight Persons Aboard

RABAT, Morocco (UP) — A Spanish search party today found the wreckage of a U.S. Air Force C54 plane in the Riff Mountains of northern Morocco and the bodies of all eight persons aboard.

The four engine transport plane crashed Monday night near Ketama, an isolated village in the Spanish zone.

A Spanish military patrol located the wreckage. It reported to the headquarters of the 17th U. S. Air Force Division here that there were no survivors.

The plane went down while on the way from the United States to Wheelus Air Force Base at Tripoli, Libya.

There was no immediate explanation as to why it crashed.

It had made radio checks with Gibraltar and Tangier and was flying at a steady 10,000 feet. Casablanca Radio first reported the plane missing.

Two heavy trucks and two ambulances of the 17th Air Force Division left Rabat for Ketama after the first report of the crash reached here Monday night.

American authorities said the wreck lay on a nearly inaccessible slope high in the rugged Riff Mountains, whose peaks are blanketed by the year's first snow.

Is Dismissed From Hospital

Miss Patricia King, who was injured in a automobile accident four weeks ago, was dismissed from the Whitley County Hospital on Monday and taken to her home on R 6. Miss King was taken to her home in a J. A. DeMoney and Son ambulance.

At Nursing Home

Mrs. Jennie Worrick was dismissed from the Whitley County Hospital Monday and was taken to the Bakle Convalescent Home in a J. A. DeMoney and Son ambulance.

Meditation

By REV. JOHN C. KRIEG
Etna Methodist Circuit

The very thoughts of Christmas should bring us happiness. It brings to our mind one of the greatest events of all history, the coming of Christ, The only begotten Son of God, Jesus. We should always think of Christmas in connection with Christianity and salvation. The Bible tells us there is no other name but the name of Jesus whereby we can be saved. That is how important the birth of Jesus is to us. Without Him there would be no salvation.

We must not stop with thinking about the baby Jesus. Just to be sentimental over His birth will not help much. The Bible tells us He grew in wisdom and stature, He did not stay a baby. We must not stay by the baby Jesus but know Him in His presence here within us. He tells us "I will dwell within you" and "I will not leave you," so unless we Have the risen Christ as our Savior, being sentimental over His birth will not help us.

Fears Of Veto On Admission Snarls Council

One Of Worst Procedural Tangles In Its History

By BRUCE W. MUNN
United Press Staff Correspondent

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP) — Communist and Western fears of a veto on the admission of 18 new United Nations members snarled the Security Council today in one of the worst procedural tangles in its history.

The council scheduled its second meeting in an effort to untie the knot of mutual suspicion blocking admission of 13 free nations and five Soviet satellites.

Despite official optimism, especially among the Western powers, that most of the 18 applicants under consideration would gain admission, U.N. observers saw little chance that any would make it.

China Promises Veto

Russia has announced it will wreck the deal if any of its candidates fail to gain election. Nationalist China has said it will veto Communist Outer Mongolia.

The situation was further complicated by Soviet demands for an iron-clad guarantee that Communist nations aprpoved in the Security Council will not be voted down in the General Assembly.

The Russians wanted each application approved in the order applications were submitted. That would place Communist Albania first, Outer Mongolia second, and so on down the list to Spain.

The Soviets want each council-approved application to be sent to the General Assembly, meeting in concurrent session, for a vote before the Security Council goes on to the next application.

U.N. rules provide for election to membership by a two-thirds vote of the assembly only after recommendation by the council.

New Zealand and Brazil presented a resolution calling for separa-tc votes on each applicant and then an overall vote on a resolution recommending the admission of all 18 in a package.

Council President Sir Leslie Knox Munro of New Zealand asked priority for this proposal. Russian Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev said he woul vote against priority and threatened to veto the package deal if it is considered first.

Nations involved in the package deal are Austria, Cambodia, Ceylon, Finland, Ireland, Italy Japan Jordan Laos Libya Nepal, Portugal and Spain, all backed by the West and Soviet satellites Albania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Romania and Outer Mongolia.

Senator Hopes For Improved World Relations

Despite Russia's New Tough Talk

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Walter F. George said today he thinks the international situation will improve despite Russia's new tough talk.

"I am not without hope that conditions will improve in the international field," the Georgia Democrat said. He expressed his view as he and other congressional leaders of both parties gathered at the White House for a briefing by President Eisenhower on foreign policy and national defense matters.

It was George, top foreign policy spokesman for the Democrats, who urged that Mr. Eisenhower agree to last summer's Big Four "summit" meeting at Geneva as a step toward solving world problems.

George said he clings to his hope for improved world relations despite increased tensions brought on by the new Communist maneuvers in Berlin and the Middle East.

Looks For Change

He said there is "bound to be a change' in those areas — "They cannot remain in the situation they are now in." He said he was "not without hope' that the change would be "for the better.

Mr. Eisenhower called todays conference to seek bipartisan support for the administration's strategy against the new Russian stand. That strategy consists of a strengthened North Atlantic Treaty Organization, maintaining the free world's military might and broadening the "win-friends-abroad" foreign aid program.

Secreary of State John Foster Dulles, who attended todays White House conference, planned to leave after the meeting to work on one phase of the strategy. In France he will confer with NATO foreign ministers on improving European defenses.

Mr. Eisenhower arranged today's meeting as his foreign policy was coming under increasing heavy attack by candidates for the Democratic presidential nominatioin — Adlai Stevenson, New York Gov. Averell Harriman and Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn). Both Dulles and George have urged previously that foreign policy be made a subject only of constructive criticism and not of "partisan excesses."

After today's meeting the President planned to return to his Gettysburg, Pa., farm in the afternoon and begin adhering to his doctors orders to take it easier.

The President put in one of his busiest days Monday. He spent six hours and 55 minutes in a conference with Republican congressional leaders on his legislative program for next year.

The President laid before his congressional leaders a program calling for a balanced budget and a farm program aimed at quieting complaints about the administration's handling of falling farm prices.

Syrian Defense Minister Asks Nation For Calm

Cabinet Meets In Urgent Session

JERUSALEM (UP)—The Syrian cabinet met in urgent session today in Damascus to consider the Israeli Sea of Galilee attack which plunged the Middle East into crisis once again.

Defense Minister Rashad Barmda appealed to the nation for calm, but Syria-wide demonstrations against Israel underlined the anger of the Arab nations against the Jewish state.

Informed sources in Damascus said the nation probably would accuse Israel of aggression in a formal complaint to the United Nations Security Council and demand its punishment.

Crowds surged through the streets of all Syrian cities demanding arms instead of bread soon after announcement was made of the attack which Israeli sources lives.

Arabs Cite Pacts

In Cairo, Raif Bellama, acting secretary general of the Arab League, swore the "Arabs will answer Israeli aggression with double aggression." He said the Arab states were well-armed now and that their joint defense pacts would be invoked.

There was a growing demand the 1947 United Nations resolution said cost 55 Syrian and six Israeli on Palestine be invoked. This resolution partioned Palestine into Jewish and Arab sectors and in the spring of 1948 an Israel state was proclaimed.

The Arab nations, refusing to accept the borders, attacked Israel. Israel won the war and kept the territory it gained.

There were indications the Soviet Union had instigated the new Arab demand for a return to the 1947 border agreement. Iraq and Syria denied there had been Russian approaches, but well-informed sources in Cairo said the Soviet Union would press Israel to give up the territory it won.

Syria Strengthens Forces

The situation along Israel's borders was tense. Damascus reports said Syria had rushed planes and troop reinforcements to the frontier. The Israeli army was reported digging new fortifications in Jerusalem itself in preparation for trouble with neighboring Jordan.

Egypt was especially bitter about the attack and issued a communique accusing Israeli Premier David Ben Gurion of duplicity. It said the attack against Egyptian positions on the border came only a few hours after Ben-Gurion offered to talk peace.

And it said the attack on Syria came only a few hours after he proposed a Christmas Day truce session with Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser in an interview fwith Scripts-Howarn Writer William Longgood.

Mr. And Mrs. Grant Weick Move To This City Monday

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Weick moved to this city Monday and are located in their home at 211 East Jackson street which they recently purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Edward Berwert.

Mr. Weick is associated with his brother, Walter, in the Weick Shoe Store here. More than 20 years ago the Weicks established the Weick Shoe store in Plymouth. Lease on the store room which they occupied at Plymouth has expired.

The Bosworth heirs, owners of the building and the department store next door, expect to occupy the room, in enlarging their ready-to-wear department.

Mr. and Mrs. Berwert have moved to their new home recently completed in Hilltop.

Rev. Herbert LePage is pastor of the church.

Still Too Early To Speculate On NetTaxReduction

Say Two Democrats On The Tax-Writing House Committee

By VINCENT J. BURKE
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — Two key Democrats on the tax - writing House Ways & Means Committee said today that it's too early yet to tell whether there can be a net reduction in taxes next year.

They declined to join Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga) in painting a rosy outlook on chances of tax relief next year. George said Monday he believed the treasury could stand a tax cut of three billion dollars to $3,500,000,000 in the fiscal year starting next July 1.

Rep. Hale Boggs (D-A) said he agreed with the stand taken by Rep. Wilbur Mills (D-Ark) that Congress should put off until spring a final decision on a cut in taxes.

The White House also refused to speculate on tax reduction, although President Eisenhower and Republican congressional leaders were told Monday the outlook is hopeful for balancing the budget in the current fiscal year without cutting military spending.

Boggs is a vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee as well as a member of the House Ways & Means Committee. Mills is chairman of a joint congressional economic subcommittee studying tax policy and is second-ranking Democrat on the Ways & Means Committee, which initiates all tax legislation.

George has long had a major voice in tax matters as a member of the Senate Finance Committee which considers tax bills after they are approved by the House.

Earlier this year, George joined in helping the administration kill in the Senate a $20-per-person income tax cut which Mills and Boggs and other Democrats pushed through the House. But Monday George said he thought the budget finally could be brought into balance by June and that income taxes could be lowered without putting the government back into the red.

George said he favored using the first $2,500,000,000 of any tax cut to increase personal income tax exemptions from the present $6.00 to $7.00. If additional tax relief is possible, he said, he favored reducing rates for middle income brackets.

Pet And Hobby Club Visits Nursing Home

Seventeen members of the Pet and Hobby Club of Columbia township, under the direction of Mrs. Traverse Hull, assistant leader, visited the Bakle Home.

They carried with them a basket filled with small gifts and let each patient select their gift. They sang their Pet and Hobby song and a Christmas Carol.

The visited the nursing home while the Farm Bureau was having their county wide meeting at the 4-H Community Building. Later in the evening they met with the other township Pet and Hobby Clubs and enjoyed Santa's visit and the treat he had for them.

Mrs. Robert Lawrence, Pet and Hobby leader and Mrs. Traverse Hull, visited the Opportunity School and presented them with the handicraft articles made by the club members at their November meeting. They consisted of tree decorations made from Christmas bulbs and gummed paper in the form of little birds.

Prowant Family Of 9 Homeless Due To Blaze

House At Lorane Is Damaged Second Time Within Two Years

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Prowant, R 6, and their seven children again today were homeless the second time in two years due to fire which swept through their house on old U.S. 30 a quarter-mile east of Lorane.

Monday afternoon the Prowant dwelling suffered damage estimated at $4,000 when fire developed around the chimney and burned the timbers supporting the roof and ceiling. Smoke and water damage also resulted as firemen succeeded in confining the blaze to the portion of the structure surrounding the chimney. The fire ate a hole through the roof near the chimney.

Mrs. Prowant was washing Monday afternoon when she noticed the flames licking at the ceiling near the chimney. She threw water on the fire and investigated in the attic space. This she found full of smoke. Her husband was picking corn away from home.

Mrs. Prowant notified the Larwill fire department from a neighbor's home and then drove to get Mr. Prowant.

James Sweeney, Larwill fire chief, said the space above the ceiling was very hot. With water from their pumpers, the firemen confined the fire to the area near the chimney but smoke and water damage resulted through most of the home.

The Prowant's home was originally a two-story residence. In a fire two years ago the dwelling was extensively damaged. It was rebuilt as a one-story structure and had been completely rewired and a new chimney built. Cause of Monday's fire has not been determined. The house was insured for $4,000 against fire, Mr. Prowant said today.

The Prowants have seven children. ive are in school at Larwill. The other two were hurried from the house by Mrs. Prowant Monday as soon as she discovered the fire. These are Victor, aged 3; Nancy, aged 15 months.

John Wilson Is Patient In Robert Long Hospital

According to word received by the Rev. Robert Crosby at noon today from Wilfred Wilson, his son John Wilson is a patient in Robert Long hospital, Ward C, with serious inflamation of the kidney.

Tests are still being taken to determine whether the illness is chronic or acute. John is under the care of three of the leading physicians at the hospital, and considerable optimism is expressed concerning his condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were called to their son's bedside at Indianapolis Sunday morning.

Leaves Hospital

Mrs. Clara Kennedy, medical patient at the Whitley County Hospital, was dismissed Monday afternoon, and taken to the Farris Nursing Home in the Hollingsworth ambulance.

Marietta Miller Member Of College Choral Union

Marietta Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd S. Miller of Columbia township, was a member of the combined choral groups who presented the annual Christmas Concert at the North Manchester College auditorium Sunday evening. The Choral Union and the A-cappella Choir made up the choral group. She sings first soprano.

Clyde Holsinger was the director.

Miss Miller is a freshman at North Manchester College this year. She is preparing for elementary teaching.

Her father and mother and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Max Miller, attended the program.

Man Cuts Throats Of His 3 Babies, Then Kills Wife

An Elder Daughter Escapes Without Injury

DALLAS, Tex. UP —A father cut his three babies throats and then shot them in the head today, killed his estranged wife and wounded her son-in-law, police said.

The babies were 3-month-old twin girls, asleep in the same crib, and a 19-month-old boy, sleeping with his mother. An elder daughter escaped without injury. Police issued a pickup order for Buford Calhoun, 32, whom they said was "cosidered dangerous." The pickup order said Calhoun was wanted for four counts of murder."

Police inspector D.A. Loe said he had reports that Calhoun previously has threatened members of his family. A final hearing on a divorce action by Mrs. Calhoun, was scheduled this Friday.

The twins were named Pamela Sue and Patricia Lou. The older baby, Bobby Lynn, was asleep wnth his mother, Mrs. Mary Calhoun, 33. The wounded man was John Warren, 19.

His wife, Shirley, 16, said she and her husband were asleep in the front bedroom of the five-room frame house in East Dallas and were awakened when they heard Mrs. Calhoun moving around. Shirley said she finally got up to see what was going on.

"When I went in both of them were coming out of the kitchen into her room," she said. "He had a pistol. Mother was screaming Shirley, help me."

Shirley was still so hysterical police could not get a complete story from her.

Mrs. Calhoun's father, James G Apel, said Calhoun had threatened her once before.

Loe said Warren was shot when he tried to get his gun.

Local Hospital Granted $10,000 Of Half-Billion

Largest Single Philanthropic Act In World History

Memorial Hospital here is to receive $10,000 from the Ford Foundation's $500 million grants, $10,747,700 which was ear-marked for privately supported educational institutions and hospitals in Indiana.

According to Carl Arntson, hospital administrator, the fund which Memorial Hospital is to receive, will be used for purchase of needed new equipment. No expansion of the institution's present facilities is contemplated. The gift is to the hospital solely, not to the clinical services in connection with the local institution.

The County's hospital here was not eligible to share in the Ford Foundations grants as it is publically supported.

Half-Billion Grant

The gift to the Memorial Hospital is a part of a half-billion dollars in grants by the Ford Foundation to private educational institutions and hospitals — the greatest single philanthropic act ever performed. Of the grants made, $210 millions were earmarked for $15 regularly-accredited privately supported colleges and universities, to raise instructor's salaries, and $200 millions were marked for 3,500 privately supported hospitals to improve and extend services.

The $10,000 alloted the local hospital is to be used for improvement of facilities rather than for extension purposes, it has been stated.

Income From Dividends

The Ford Foundation was set up by the late Henry Ford and his son, Edsel, and its main source of income is Ford Motor Company dividents. Exclusive of the present grants, it has given away $350 million since its founding in 1937.

Henry and Edsel Ford gave the foundation its initial grant of 250,000 shares of the motor company stock. On their deaths the two

Former Security Chief Mysteriously Returns And Surrenders To West Berlin Authorities

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent

BONN, Germany (UP)—Dr. Otto John, former head of West German security, returned to the West today under circumstances as mysterious as his original flight to communism 17 months ago.

John fled across the "little Iron Curtain" sector border in Berlin Monday and surrendered to West Berlin authorities. Monday night he was flown to Bonn and handed over to intelligence agents in such secrecy as to cast doubt whether his role remained that of traitor or master spy.

Just as mysteriously, his wife disappeared from her London apartment. A maid said she left at 11 a.m. Monday without indicating her destination. London sources said she may have been forewarned of her husband's return and had gone to join him.

The 46-year-old John plunged the Allied world into crisis when he went over to the East German Reds in July, 1954. It was feared he might betray Western intelligence secrets to the Communists.

Reasons Not Known

The reasons for his return flight were not known immediately.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, informed of John's return, said he must have been driven hard by fear of his fate at the hands of the East Zone Reds with whom he sought asylum on July 20, 1954.

But speculation mounted—though without official support in Bonn—that perhaps he had been sent deliberately by the Bonn government to the Soviet Zone as a fake political refugee in one of the most daring "inside jobs" in the history of espionage. And that now he had returned loaded with the Reds ineermost secrets learned

From Your Congressman, Earl Wilson

Our Future Leaders — Though the recent White House Conference on Education left much to be desired and some of its recommendations may cause concern to those who fear ultimate federal control of the nation's schools, it did bring the general American public to a realization that something must be done.

The future of American education is certain to be a major issue in the coming Congressional session, and much good can emerge from the debates. Today's high school and college students will be tomorrow's leaders. They must have better educational facilities than now exist.

That Communism has concentrated on American schools as one of the major objectives of World War III seems quite evident. Our colleges and universities are prime targets for Red infiltration. They are making headway - a fact that has been brought out by Congressional investigations and by the FBI.

As I view the Communist effort to capture the minds of our youth, the high schools now are not the target of Red concentration. They're after the higher institutions. It would seem, then, that a concerted and unending drive to instill Americanism deeper into the minds of our grade and high school students is much in order.

GOOD TEACHERS — Most public high school teachers are loyal Americans trying to condition their students against the Red Menace. They are hampered, however, by a number of problems, chief of which is the terrific growth in population with its resultant shortage of teachers and of classroom space.

The national teacher shortage, already acute, soon will reach disastrous proportions unless immediate steps are instituted to meet that problem. A study by the Ford Foundation says that "in the next ten years three new teachers must be recruited for every two we now have."

How to induce young people to enter the teaching profession is today's problem. It can be met by lifting teachers' salaries far, far above the disgracefully inadequate levels which have existed too long. Good teachers and enough of them constitute one of our strongest weapons of World War III.

Wood Chips Good Bedding Material

LAFAYETTE, Wood chips have been found to make a good material for livestock bedding through research conducted at Purdue University.

An experiment directed by Roy C. Brundage, of the Purdue forestry department, through the cooperation of the dairy department at Purdue, indicates that wood chips made from slabs or limbwood is an economical bedding material and offers many advantages over some of the more common materials.

Brundage reports that the bedding trial showed that cows remain clean on wood chips. The chips caused no apparent discomfort to the animals, produced no dust, and stayed in place better than other materials tested.

Although straw is still the cheapest bedding where it is readily available shorter supplies have encouraged farmers to try some other materials.

In the Purdue test, straw bedding cost 4½ cents per cow each day while wood chips cost around 5½ cents a day per cow. Bedding with ground cobs cost just over 8 cents a day during the trial.

Brundage has compiled his findings in Purdue station circular 395, "Wood Chips—A Good Material For Livestock Bedding." The circular can be obtained by writing to the office of agricultural publications at Purdue University.

Man of Prayer

Lesson for December 18, 1955

SOME people will try to tell you that we can learn nothing from the fact that Jesus was a man of prayer. He was so different from us, they say, that we must no more try to imitate him than to imitate Einstein. This is not the way the New Testament looks at it, not the way Christian theology looks at it. Jesus "had to be made like his brethren in every respect," we are told in Hebrew 2:17. The church theologians call Christ "consubstantial with us according to his manhood," which is a way of saying that he is every bit as human as we are. Without sin, to be sure. The only prayer for forgiveness which he ever uttered was on behalf of others, not himself. If even the sinless Son of God was a man of prayer, surely we who are so imperfect and sinful need prayer even more; and we can learn about prayer from him.

Dr. Foreman

The Motive of Prayer

One thing stands out: Jesus' motive or motives for praying must have been far stronger than the motive of most of us. Jesus would go without sleep or rest in order to pray. He, a man who had many friends and loved to have people around him, would withdraw from all human companions, would go far into the hills, would climb a high mountain, just in order to find a place where he could pray without interruption. In short, he took a great deal of trouble to pray. We take less trouble, because we don't feel the strong desire that he felt. But why? What was his motive? It is not so mysterious that we cannot give it a name, though it is too profound for us to fathom it to the depths. It was his heart's desire for close and closer sharing of heart and life with the heart and life of the heavenly Father. Jesus shows no sign of needing to "get right" with God. He was in full harmony to his life's end. But his prayers were an expression of that harmony. The piano tuner makes the strings of the instrument ring true; but the musician then brings out the beauty that is there when all is in tune.

The Manner of Prayer

Dr. W. D. Chamberlain has written a book for plain Christians called "The Manner of Prayer," based on the Lord's Prayer. This is no place to borrow many pages from that fine book. Yet a word should be said about the manner of Jesus' prayer in general. We know that he used to attend the synagogue meetings, and we know that in those meetings formal (what we would call "printed") prayers were used, in which no doubt Jesus would join. But we hear a great deal more about his private prayers, and we can be pretty sure that for these occasions he never took a prayer-book with him. His prayers were personal, individual, they were free, and many of them were fully private, strictly between himself and His Father. This much is clear for our own prayer-practice: whatever formal prayers we may use in church, or whoever may be praying there for us (and with us, if "leading" in prayer means anything), this can be no substitute for personal, private prayer. We must never be tied down to any formula, as if God were something like a bureaucrat who would not consider a communication not in proper form! God wants to know most of all not how we say it but how much we mean it.

The Matter of Prayer

What things is it right to pray for? We can be sure of this much at least: It is always right to pray for the kind of thing which is in harmony with the "Lord's Prayer." (Incidentally, the fact that this prayer appears in more than one form in the gospels shows that it can hardly be right to insist on one set form of words.) Things not mentioned in that prayer, perhaps yes; but things out of line with it, no. Let the reader consider which of these objects of prayer are in line with the Lord's prayer: A promotion in one's job? Greater spiritual strength? The cure of an afflicted loved one? Foreign missions? An unborn child? The President of the United States? The elimination of a rival in love or business?

Milk Production Costs Are Highest In Winter Months

LAFAYETTE, — It costs about 50 cents more to produce 100 pounds of milk in the winter than it does in the summer. But G. A. Williams, extension dairyman at Purdue University, says that there are many ways whereby dairymen can reduce this extra cost.

Cull the herd at the end of the pasture season. Low-producing, unhealthy, unprofitable cows should not be carried through the winter.

Breed cows to freshen during late fall and early winter. The average dairy cow produces approimately 50 per cent of her 305 day lactation total during the first three months after freshening. If cows freshen in the fall, the low producing months and the dry period will come during the pasture months when feed costs are low.

Feed more high quality roughages and less grain. Roughages supply total digestable nutrients at an approximate cost of $40.00 per ton as compared with $60.00 to $100.00 per ton for grain, depending on prevailing market prices and per cent of protein.

Increase total production by milking high producing cows three times a day for 60 to 90 days after freshening. Feed consumption is increased, but the higher milk prices that prevail at that time results in lower costs per 100 pounds of milk produced, and thus higher income over feed costs.

Secret Pals Reveal Identity At Party At Andrews Home

Secret pals revealed their identity Monday evening at the annual affair of the club organized 15 years ago in the Evangelical United Brethren church, which met last night at the John Andrews home.

Mrs. Don York read from Luke 2 and then led the group in singing "Silent Night." Games formed entertainment during the evening. Mrs. Andrews served a dessert course at attractively laid tables, assisted by Misses Opal and Zella Betzner, and the Mesdames Robert Faulkner, DeWayne Dimmick, Robert Binkley.

An illumniated tree and Christmas greens formed an attractive setting for the affair. The favors were tiny candles which held the names of secret pals for the new year. Each one revealed their identity last night with a gift.

History of the club organized 15 years ago was given by Mrs. Bonnell Mosher during the evening. Mrs. Paul Ramp was the club's first president. Mrs. Mosher, Mrs. Ulysses Groves and Mrs. Lawrence Wolfe are three members of the club who have never missed a meeting which meets annually at Christmastime.

Candles Furnish Illumination For The Sorosis Party

A ham dinner marked the annual Christmas party of the Sorosis club, Monday evening, for which Mrs. Ed Ginn of near this city was hostess.

One large lighted candle, with a garland of greenery, burned on the dining table laid with a red cloth. Twenty-seven covers laid at small tables in red were marked with tiny Christmas trees. Smaller lighted candles surrounded by evergreen centered the small tables.

Gifts lay under the Christmas tree in the living room. These gifts will be distributed at the County Farm Home. Mrs. Hollis Peeler read Eugene Field's story "The First Christmas Tree" and the story of the little New York girl which came out of the little girl's question "Is There a Santa Claus."

There was group singing of carols and Mrs. Peeler, Mrs. Dick Gipe and Mrs. Harold Bennett formed a trio that presented a group of carols.

Mrs. Charles Hathaway of Kokomo, the mother of Mrs. Peeler, was a guest of the club.

Huntington Men Injured When Car Struck By Train

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UP)—Four Huntington men enroute home from work were injured today when their car was struck by a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train at a westside crossing.

Hospitalized in critical condition was Dave Trout, 37. Driver John Eckart, 25, was hurt slightly, and James Brown, 29, and Jack Stewart, 23, were injured seriously.

Police said the driver's vision was blocked by a truck parked near the crossing. The engine of the train dragged the car about 50 feet.

willed the foundation an additional 1,440,000 shares of the stock.

The Foundation now owns about 88 per cent of Ford Motor Company stock, capital amounting to $2,500,000,000. Next year it plans to offer part of its stock to the public.

Previous gifts made by the foundation have been from dividends and interest earned. The foundation may have to dip into its capital to complete today's grant, but it is willing to do so.

As a part of its program, the foundation in 1950 announced it would attempt to advance human welfare through the following programs: International, public affairs, economic, educational, and behavorial sciences. Under the public affairs program the foundation made a 15 million dollar grant to set up the Fund for the Republic, perhaps its most controversial activity to date. This fund, now headed by Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, has been criticized as left wing by the American Legion and a number of congressmen.

NEW YORK (UP) Eighteen privately supported Indiana colleges and universities and 54 Hoosier hospitals will share in a 500-million-dollar gift from the Ford Foundation, it was announced today.

The grants, largest single philanthropic act in world history, will go to 4,115 institutions around the nation. They will become available in 1956.

Hoosier educational institutions will receive a total of $6,772,000 and the state hospitals will get $3,975,700. The money is to be used to raise teacher salaries and to improve hospital care.

List School Grants

The University of Notre Dame received the largest grant among Hoosier schools, $2,630,300. DePauw will get $813,200 and Butler University is to receive $360,000.

Other schools and the amounts they will receive are:

Anderson $140,400, Earlham $193,400, Evansville, $244,600, Franklin $104,600 Goshen $103,400, Hanover $300,200, Indiana Central $104,700, Manchester $143,400, Rose Poly $155,600, St. Joseph's $313,500, St. Mary-of-the Woods $71,200, St. Mary's $323,400, Taylor $85,100, Vadparaiso $332,200 and Wabash $353,100.

during his months behind the Iron Curtain.

American officials in Washington said John's return should give the West important propaganda ammunition in the East-West cold war struggle. Both the Central Intelligence Agency and State Department, however, refused to comment officially on his return.

Bonn intelligence agents began grilling him this morning.

The West Berlin government's announcement said John got in touch with friends there "some time ago." He told them he wished to return to the West. British sources said this contact was made about 10 days ago.

Quotes From The News

By UNITED PRESS

NEW YORK — Mrs. Sibyl Schneller, of Mill Valley, Calif., a [illegible] Flour Mills Co. "Cook of the Year" contestant, on her reason for earning to cook:

"My mother-in-law was a celebrated cook and I had to be as good as she was."

Iowa, Big Ten Title Favorite, Loses 60-57 To Defending Big Seven Champ, Colorado

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer

Iowa, Big Ten title favorite and ranked fourth among all the nation's teams, went crashing from the unbeaten ranks today as the result of the second biggest upset of the college basketball season.

Colorado, defending Big Seven champ but overlooked in pre-season dope sheets because graduation claimed four starters, played host to the Hawkeyes Monday night at Boulder, Colo., and handed them a stunning 60-57 defeat.

The surprise is topped this season only by Kentucky's loss to Temple last Saturday night and Kentucky narrowly averted another upset Monday night by nipping De Paul, 71-69.

Colorado handed Iowa 75 - 74 thrashing during last season's NCAA tournament, but things were supposed to be different now. And it seemed they were as Iowa seized a 33-31 halftime lead. But Colorado surged to a 54-48 lead midway in the second half before an Iowa rally led by Bill Seaberg narrowed the gap to 57-56 with 26 seconds left.

Scores On Rebound

With 11 seconds remaining, Bill Peterson of the Buffalos sank a free throw to make it 58-56. He missed the second shot but George Hannah, Colorado's six-seven center, rocketed in to slap in the rebound for a clinching basket.

Kentucky came within a whisker of taking a second beating within three nights. The Wildcats trailed De Paul through most of the second half, but were even at 69-69 when forward Jerry Bird scored the winning basket with only six seconds to play.

Unbeaten St. Louis and unbeaten Indiana, tied fo rthe No. 14 national ranking, clashed at Bloomington, Ind., and St. Louis won convincingly, 86-75.

Top Scoring Star

Robin Freeman, Ohio State's five-11 guard, was Monday night's top scoring star. He tallied 40 points on 12 baskets and 16 free throws to lead an 89-69 rout of Oklahoma.

In other leading games Monday night: Southern Methodist took a 75-62 victory over Wisconsin; Wake Forest took an 82-60 Atlantic Coast Conference game from Virginia; Drake downed Kansas State, 70-64; Boston College nipped Rhode Island, 75-72; St. Joseph's (Pa.) trounced Penn Military, 96 - 53; Miami (Fla.) edged Loyola (La.), 83-82; Rice routed Louisiana State, 85-60; Witchita ripped Nebraska 71-46; Oklahoma A & M downed Baylor, 59-48; and Texas A & M beat Tulane, 85-66.

Local Eighth Grade Team Wins Fourth Game By 51-40 Score

The West Ward eighth grade team won its fourth game of this season Monday afternoon at Marshall Memorial Hall, handing Garrett its first loss 51-40. The West Ward eighth graders came from behind in the second half of the game to win.

Garrett led during the first half and held a 24-20 advantage at halftime, but in the third quarter, the local team took the lead and pulled away to an 11-point win. Garrett's last game was a victory over Auburn.

The West Ward seventh grade team also won over Garrett by the score of 34-22. The local seventh grade team led 18-11 at halftime.

Players and their scoring on the West Ward eighth grade team were: Schwarz 21, Johnson 2, Sutton 16, Shively 2, O'Conner 10, and Weeks, Clark, Hyndman, Goldwood.

The seventh grade players were: Eberhard, Fleck, King, Kimmell, Swoverland, Harris, Hile.

The next game for the West Warders will be here with Kendallville on Thursday, December 22.

Paolo Rosi Beats Perez Monday Night

NEW YORK (UP) — Lightweight Paolo Rosi of Italy beat Lulu Perez and the New York Boxing Commission Monday night, and was being offered again today as an opponent for fourth - ranking Frankie Ryff.

Baldish, hawk-faced Rosi — who was rejected by the commission as an opponent for Ryff-won a lop-sided, upset decision over the nearly knocked out Perez of Brooklyn in their TV 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

Rosi, 27, was originally matched to fight Ryff of New York at Madison Square Garden on Dec. 23, but the commission disapproved the match on grounds that Rosi was "an unfit opponent" for Ryff. Accordingly, the rangey Italian accepted Monday night's bout with Perez.

Rosi, weighing 134 1-4 pounds to Perez's 135, had Lulu on the verge of a kayo in the fifth round, and Dr. Alexander Schiff examine the battered Brooklynite in his corner but permitted him to continue.

Perez, former top featherweight contender, was favored at 6½ to 5; but he was staggered by the hard-hitting Italian in the first, second, fifth, sixth, seventh, eight and 10th.

Lulu suffered such a beating that he decided today to take a layoff for "six weeks or so" and go back to brick-laying to harden up.

Don Chandler Captures 1956 Major Football Punting Title

NEW YORK (UP)Don Chandler of the University of Florida captured the 1955 major college football punting title by averaging 44.3 yards on 22 boots.

Earl Morrall of Michigan State was runner-up with a 42.9 average for 22 punts. Morrall's consistantly good kicking helped Michigan State win the team punting crown with a 41.2 average on 28 punts, the lowest number on which the title ever has been won. Florida was second in team punting with a 39.6 average for 59 boots, according to final statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau.

Eight of Chandler's kicks traveled 50 yards, one went 68 against Louisiana State and another zoomed 74 against Georgia Tech.

Turncoat Crosses Into Hong Kong

By WENDELL MERICK
United Press Staff Correspondent

HONG KONG (UP) — Richard R. Tenneson, 22, crossed into Hong Kong today from Communist China and said he turned his back on the United States because his stepfather "used to beat and whip me" back in Alden, Minn.

The one-time private first class in the U. S. Army said he also chose Communism because he disagreed with Army policies and because he believed "a bunch of American Generals" practiced germ warfare during the Korean War.

Tennesson was one of 23 U. S. soldiers who were captured by the Chinese Communists during the Korean War and declined to return home when the fighting ended. One changed his mind almost immediately. Another died in Red China. Three changed their minds last July.

Tenneson said he had seen the remaining turncoats recently and "I guess they all will come back sometime." But he brought out a message from former Pvt. James G. Veneris of Hawthorne, Calif., that "I'll be in China another 15 years."

Peiping announced that Tenneson would be released on Nov. 30 but instead he became a pawn in the cold war. The Communists, in their drive for world recognition, would release him only to an American official and none could take him then.

Today he was "accepted" by American Red Cross Representative Richard Tomlin who was with British Representative Margaret Strathie. U. S. Consul S. M. Backe interviewed Tenneson briefly and said the turncoat was still an American citizen.

Tenneson was wearing a dark brown flannel suit and black shoes and carried a brown leather suit case. He boasted that the Chinese let him pick out the suit himself and that they paid for it. He had adopted Chinese mannerisms and he smoked Chinese cigarets.

American authorities placed him in a third class Hong Kong hotel until he leaves Thursday. He is expected to fly to Tokyo for a one hour stopover Thursday and board a Northwest Airlines plane for Seattle.

One-Half The Credit

WASHINGTON (UP)—General Motors President Harlow H. Curtice said Friday that auto manufacturers don't take full credit for everything even though they do take credit for the growth of the U.S. oil industry.

When Curtice made his statement about the oil industry Chairman Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) of the Senate anti - monopoly subcommittee asked: "Well, you don't take credit for the population, do you?"

"I have three daughters; I take one-half the credit for them,' Curtice replied.

Oregon Housewife Wins $25,000 Today As Cook Of The Year

NEW YORK (UP)—Mrs. Henry Jorgensen, wife of a Portland, Ore., city employe, won $25,000 today as the "cook of the year" in the seventh annual Pillsbury bake-off.

Mrs. Jorgensen won over 99 other contestants. She baked a simple nut-filled roll named "ring-a-lings." She was handed the prize check by opera singer Helen Trauble at a lunch at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, where the 100 contestants Monday baked their special recipes.

Mrs. Jorgensen, who has entered recipes in the six other Pillsbury bake-offs without even reaching the finals, is the mother of an18-year old son and plans to use her winnings to send him to "a large university."

The recipe, which came from Mrs. Jorgensen's mother, was developed to use an Oregon product—filbert nuts. Judges of the contest said her recipe demonstrated a simple way for the average housewife to produce a sweet roll with a professional appearance.

All contestants also won a General Electric pastel range, an electric mixer and their trip to New York City.

MacArthur May Be Top Speaker At GOP Rally In Fort Wayne

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur may be the keynote speaker at a Republican campaign rally here Feb. 2, the GOP district chairman said today.

Roy B. Jones, who is planning the Coliseum meeting to launch the 1956 campaign, said there is a "50-50 chance" MacArthur will speak to an expected 8,500 persons at the event.

If the general is unavailable, Jones said the keynote speaker may be Vice President Richard Nixon, Former President Herbert Hoover or California Sen. William Knowland.

The Girl Scouts are making plans for their 1956 Senior Girl Scout Roundup which will be held from June 29 to July 11 in the Highland Recreation Area in Michigan.

A Senior Girl Scout patrol consisting of provisional selections and alternates from Columbia City, Warsaw, and Ligonier held their first practice cook-out December 3 and 4 at Joe Roe's cottage at Crooked Lake. They prepared their own menus and food. Since charcoal will be used at the Roundup, the girls did all their cooking over charcoal, out-of-doors, and used their kaper charts to set up fire starter teams, cook teams, and cleanup teams. They cooked Saturday night supper, Sunday breakfast and Sunday dinner. They planned and attended their own Sunday Church Service.

The girls practiced tying knots, lashing, story-telling, games and songs. They also made future plans to work as a patrol in setting up their own encampment. Their experience at this and future patrol meetings will enable them to arrive at the Roundup with full knowledge of how to pitch tents and kitchen area, lash their washing, clothes line, cooking, garbage, and latrine areas.

This patrol will be one of 480 patrols. The Roundup will be an official uniformed camp. Senior Girl Scouts and Girl Guides from all over the world will be represented. Over 5000 girls and counselors will be at this encampment.

Provisional Selections

Becky Erne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Erne; Linda Gates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benton E. Gates; Debra Sheets, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oren Sheets and Kaye Dean Platner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Platner have been selected as provisional participants in the 1956 Senior Girl Scout Roundup.

The provisional alternates selected will be Joyce Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Fisher, Brenda Gawthrop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thurlo Gawthrop; Marjorie Gibson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claris Gibson; Rose Gibson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gibson. These selections and alternates are contingent on their passing a strict health examination. Selections were decided upon from each girl's experience in camping skills, program skills, and personality.

From now till the end of June the girls will be busy equiping themselves with primitive camping skills, program skills and planning their wardrobe. This Columiba City-Warsaw - Ligonier patrol will be responsible for a skit on "Americana," which is the theme of the Roundup.

White Fruit Cake Easy And Cheaper

NEW YORK — (UP) — If your family is weary of the traditional dark fruit cake for holiday meals, try this white fruit cake—easier to make than most and also economical. You will need: 1 1-8 cups shortening; 1¼ cups sugar; 7 eggs; 3 teaspoons baking powder; 2 cups milk; 5 cups sifted all-purpose flour; 1-4 cup chopped citron or condied orange peel; 1 cup seedless raisins, soaked and drained; ¼ cup currants, soaked and drained; 1-4 cup chopped almonds; and 1 teaspoon salt.

Cream shortening and sugar together; beat eggs well; combine with shortening mixture. Add milk, with shortening mixture. Add milk, and flour sifted with baking powder, alternately, stirring well. Sprinkle fruits lightly with flour. Stir in with nuts, and salt; or sprinkle nuts over top of batter in pans. Pour into two greased loaf pans. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about one hour. Turn out to cool; remove paper. Slice thin to serve. Makes 2 loaves.

Tip For Cleaning Up After The Holiday Meal

NEW YORK — (UP)— If your holiday menu is written in stains on the tablecloth, here are some tips for removal.

To erase cranberry spots from a white cloth, stretch the stained portion over a bowl and pour boiling water from a height of two or three feet onto the stain. Use the same method for colored clothes, but use warm water, not scalding. Brush gravy or salad dressing stains with soap jelly before washing. Scrape away candlewax as much as possible, then sandwich the stain section between two clean white blotters, press with a warm iron to absorb the grease, and wash in warm soapsuds.

Traces of coffee or tea on white linens can be removed with the same treatment and give cranberry stains. But such stains on colored linens should be soaked in cool water, then washed in warm suds. Rub lipstick marks first with glycerine, then was in warm water.

Here's How

ADVERTISING

by selling more goods to more people

MAKES YOUR JOB MORE SECURE

NO matter what your job today, it depends on "good business." And someone has said that in the American business system, nothing can be accomplished until "something is sold."

You know the truth of this. Falling sales mean pay cuts, layoffs, fear. Increased sales mean better pay, promotions, more security in every job for every man.

Advertising is the low-cost, efficient way to sell goods. Advertising is the spark plug of business. So advertising, by selling goods, makes your job, your home, your income more secure!

Other Ways Advertising Helps You:

1. Brings you better goods for less money.
2. Makes shopping more pleasant and easier.
3. Has given us the world's highest standard of living.

LET'S TRADE TODAY!

Now is the time to trade that old car that you've been getting along with all summer. Look over this selection of sure winter starters.

Miss Minnie Kugler, Noble County Woman, Dies Early Today

Memorial Rites On Thursday At Churubusco

Miss Minnie Kugler, 63, lifetime resident of Noble county, died at 3:10 a.m. today, in Sacred Heart hospital in Garrett, where she was admitted Saturday night.

Ill for the past year with internal carcinoma, Miss Kugler had been a hospital patient at various times. She was born April 11, 1892 in Swan township, Noble county and was a daughter of Joseph and Anna Rhoads Kugler. Last spring she moved from the Kugler farm to LaOtto. Simplicity With A Flourish

Lime Gelatin Party-Style

These charming Christmas tree molds are wonderful holiday treats and so decorative on a buffet table. Simply mold lime gelatin, fruit cocktail and nut meats into individual Christmas trees and garnish with whipped cream to outline the branches. There's nothing to it, yet that extra touch can make all the difference in a world of desserts especially during the merry yuletide season.

CHRISTMAS TREE MOLDS

- 1 package strawberry-flavored gelatin
- 1 cup hot water
- 1 cup minus 2 tablespoons fruit juice
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1½ cups (No. 2 can) drained fruit cocktail
- ¼ cup coarsely chopped nut meats, toasted, if desired
- 1 cup cream, whipped and sweetened

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add fruit juice and lemon juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in fruit and nut meats. Spoon into individual Christmas tree molds. Chill until firm. Unmold. Make tree design on top of molds, using whipped cream in pastry bag. Serve with remaining whipped cream and maraschino cherries for dessert. To serve as salad, garnish with crisp lettuce leaves. Makes 8 servings.

Soldier From Indiana Gets Into Trouble For Building Orphanage, Finally Wins Approval

By ROBERT BROWN
United Press Staff Correspondent

SEOUL, Korea (UP)—An American soldier from Indiana who got into trouble with the Army for building his own orphanage finally won approval from his superior officers today.

PFC. Fritz Moller, of South Bend, Ind., supported 30 orphans. But he caused the Army hours of anguish because he:

1. Purchased Korean land.
2. Built an orphange in an off-limits village.
3. Used a jeep without permission.
4. "Misappropriated," an Army spokesman said, military supplies for his orphanage.

But the Army, after questioning the one-man charity project for three months, relented today.

"We've straightened everything out now," an Army spokesman said, "and the orphanage is not off limits any more. It was all a misunderstanding."

The 22-year-old private bought an acre of land in an off-limits village for about $65.

A provost marshal officer questioned the right of an American soldier to buy land in a foreign country but he couldn't find the answer in the books.

Moller, a member of the 21st Infantry Regiment, spent $500 of his own money to build an orphanage on his land and install 30 Korean children in it.

He visited the site almost daily, although the area was off-limits. Once he used an Army jeep without permission, and Army officers said some of his supplies were not requisitioned from the Army in the legal way.

The Army knew Moller was going into an off-limits area to work with his orphanage, but officers were not certain they could keep a man off land he owned.

They solved the problem by lifting the off-limits ban from the village.

Now Moller is faced with a new problem. He is scheduled to return to the United States early next year and must find someone to take over his orphanage.

LONDON (UP)—The Foreign Office has admitted that dealers in surplus British army stores are selling modern army equipment in the Middle East.

R. H. Turton, Foreign Office under-secretary, told the House of Commons Monday night that "certain reports" have been received that war surplus goods originally intended for export for civilian purposes have been reconditioned as war material.

He said the government was "taking steps" to prevent further consignments being shipped.

ROME (UP) — Some 91,600 secondary school teachers planned today to go on a new seven-day strike for higher wages starting Thursday.

The teachers recently staged a three-day strike in an effort to force the government to give in to its wage demands. But the government has said the teachers want more money than it can afford to pay.

YOKOSUKA, Japan (UP) — U.S. Navy Secretary Charles S. Thomas will arrive on Okinawa Wednesday to begin a 10-day inspection tour which also will take him to Japan and Korea, the Navy announced today.

During the tour, Thomas will inspect Navy and Marine bases, witness U.S. Seventh Fleet maneuvers and confer with Japanese officials and Republic of Korea President Syngman Rhee.

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (UP) —Dr. Romeo Aguero, Honduras delegate to the U.N. General Assembly currently meeting in New York, was found dead Monday with a bullet in his heart.

Authorities said it was an apparent suicide. Aguero had arrived from New York on leave only Monday morning. No reasons were given for his apparent suicide.

RIO DE JAJNEIRO (UP)—The Bank of Brazil said Monday that the United States surplus cotton disposal program is "creating serious difficulties" for Brazil and other countries where cotton is a basic export product.

The bank's export bureau said with the United States scheduled to dispose of nearly one million bales of surplus cotton in world markets next month, it may prove "good business' to start shipping Brazilian cotton to Communist China.

1-7 Year Term For R. R. Worker

Found guilty of obtaining money under false-pretenses, Hubert Howard, 21-year-old Argos employe of the Nickel Plate railroad, was sentenced to serve a 1-7 year term at the Indiana State reformatory late Monday by Judge Lowell Pefley. In addition Howard was fined $10 and costs upon this count.

On a second count, the railroad worker was found guilty of forgery and uttering a forged endorsement to a railroad paycheck. On this charge a 2-to-14 year sentence was suspended by a fine of $10 and costs was imposed.

Howard has been remanded to the custody of Sheriff Galen O. Adair who will deliver him to the reformatory. He had been held at the local jail, unable to post $5,000 bond.

His arrest followed alleged passing of a $110 railroad check at the Norman Graves filling station, state roads 9 and 14, on Dec. 5. Three similar checks which he succeeded in having cashed en route to his home at Argos netted him approximately $500.

Howard's suspended term on the forgery count is conditioned on restitution of funds gained by passing the checks in Marshall and Kosciusko counties. Prosecuting Attorney Edward J. Meyers conducted the state's case against the Argos man.

Completes Term; Is Re-Arrested

Mrs. Florence Adair, 44, resident near Five Points, was re-arrested by Sheriff Galen O. Adair at the Indiana Women's Prison, Indianapolis, when she completed a 60-day term on a disorderly conduct charge.

Re-Arraigned before Judge Lowell Pefley in circuit court on a charge of driving while in an intoxicated condition, she pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs, but a six-month term at the women's prison was suspended for two years conditioned on her good behavior. The court recommended that her operator's license be suspended for one year.

Mrs. Adair was given 90 days in which to pay her fine and costs. The drunken driving charge followed her arrest on South Whitley street last Sept. 28.

Christmas Gift Wrappings Are Now Big Business

By MARGARET RICHARDS
United Press Staff Correspondent

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP) —Americans will use enough ribbon on gift packages this Christmas to tie the earth to the moon with a six-strand ribbon rope and have about 238,000 miles left over for a celestial bow.

To go with the ribbon, they'll buy enough gift wrapping paper to wrap up the island of Nantucket, Mass.— paper that if cut in a strip two feet wide would encircle will use enough ribbon ongift pac the world five times with a rainbow band.

Trade sources estimate that Mr. and Mrs. America, along with Junior and Susie, will spend at least $150,000,000, perhaps as much as $200,000,000, to wrap and decorate the packages beneath Christmas trees.

Work Began Two Years Ago

What will they get for their money? Plenty, if they choose wisely.

Artists and technical experts began 24 months ago on this year's paper, ornaments, seals, and gift enclosure cards. They've had the help and advice of some of the world's finest artistic talent.

A single manufacurer has over 100 ne designs in its wrappings. And many of the most popular patterns of other years are carried over. Actually it's in the wrapping of gifts that the giver gets the best chance to be creative.

Grandma used to make a rag doll for Mary's Christmas. Today she buys a doll—much better than her fingers could construct. But she still wants to give Mary something from her hands. She does so with the package she creates.

Santa Is Changed Man

Like most everything in the decorating field, the trappings of Christmas have gone modern.

Santa Claus still smiles from the package, but he's a changed man, more likely to prance than waddle. He looks in many instances like a drawing from a sophisticated magazine.

The nationally famous artist Sol Steinberg, has drawn a Christmas paper entitled "Man of Distinction," in which the whimsical subject of numerous portraits is the new Santa Claus.

The traditional red and green are present, but in many papers and ribbons they're not the old fire-engine red and almost-kelly green. Reds run from magenta and cerise to delicate gray shades. Green is likely to be a sage green, blue a turquoise, or yellow a chartreuse. Ribbons match or contrast.

Airplane Santa To Distribute Goodies

CALUMET, Okla.— (UP) —Santa Claus will arrive in an airplane to distribute goodies and presents to children at the 10th annual pageant and festival of the Calumet Catholic Church Dec. 21.

Monsignor Don Kanaly will serve as over-all chairman or the event, which will begin with Santa circling the pageant area in the plane.

The pageant will be staged at the intersection of the two main streets of this central Oklahoma city. It will feature a children's processional, lighting of a Christmas tree, presentation of the colors by local veterans groups and a nativity scene.

Arab-Asian Bloc Leads Move For Expelling Nationalist ChinaNation

BULLETIN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—Russia today requested a special meeting of the United, Nations Security Council to re-open the membership question.

By BRUCE W. MUNN
United Press Staff Correspondent

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP) — Members of the powerful Arab-Asian bloc today threatened action to oust Nationalist China from the United Nations for killing off an 18-nation membership deal.

Resentment against the Nationalists was strong although they used only one veto against 15 exercised by the Soviet Union in the Security Council Tuesday.

The Nationalists vetoed Outer Mongolia as they had threatened for weeks to do. Russia had said it would kill the whole package deal of the Asian Soviet satellite country was not approved.

Russia first vetoed the Republic of Korea and free South Viet Nam proposed by the Nationalists for U.N. membership. Then the Nationalists killed off Outer Mongolia's application.

That was the end of the deal. The Soviet Union proceeded to veto all 13 free nations recommended for membership by the General Assembly. The council approved, but later cancelled, applications of four other Soviet satellites.

Both the United States and the Soviet Union expressed hope the membership question could be revived in another effort to solve the 10-year-old deadlock at this session, due to end Friday.

But some Arab nation delegates were openly threatening action to oust Nationalist China from the world body and seat the Chinese Communist regime in its place.

Indian Delegate V. K. Krishna Menon called a meeting of Arab-Asian delegations to consider what could be done.

It was understood that some delegates were demanding a meeting next spring to give them a chance to vote out the Nationalists. It was agreed at the beginning of the present session that the question of Chinese representation would not be considered this year.

Meditation

By REV. MERLE BRIGHT
Church of the Nazarene

Based upon Luke 14:15-35.

Text: "whosoever he be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple" Luke 14:33.

One is considered a rank fool who starts building a house without first getting an estimate as to what the price will be. Then after an estimate is given one is just as foolish to go beyond his financial means in building.

Spiritually: there are those who are swept by emotional tides (and there is a place for emotions), the personality of a good pastor we especially like (and there certainly is a place for the consecrated personality of a godly pastor), and many other mediums into making committements, find themselves unable to pay. It is good to count the cost of your salvation before you make a committment. God gives you an estimate in His word as to the price you must pay for your salvation. Is the price simply believing on the Lord Jesus Christ? Jesus Christ? Is it simply an act of baptism, joining a church, goin to a mourners bench, or being educated and confirmed: To these questions, on the authority of God's Word, we must answer, NO! These may be essentials in bringing us to a place where we can pay the price but they are not the price. The Bible tells us "whosoever he be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple." We would not take the import or the ihpact from this message for God expects His children to come to a place of Entire Consecration to His own will. He is saying to you Christian friend "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy acceptable unto God which is your reasonable service" Romans 12:1. Many claim to know Jesus Christ who have never and will never make such a sacrifice to divine will.

In conclusion, I would urge all of you who claim to be christians; that you make an altar somewhere, be it at your church, or, in the privacy of your own home, that you there yield yourself in a complete committment to divine will. At this Christmas time give yourself unto Him who gave Himself for you.

Switch Engine Hits Tractor Pulling Trailers

No Injuries Result; Truck Driver Arrested

Shortly before 3:30 a.m. today a Pennsylvania railroad switch engine struck a tractor pulling two empty trailers in tandem at the Main street crossing of the Panhandle branch. The truck driver James Merrill Werstler, 31, of Box 418, Pierceton, escaped unhurt. No injuries resulted to the train crew.

Damage to the tractor and first trailer, used for the hauling of inflammable liquids, was about $250 according to City Policeman John North, who investigated. Air hose connections and dents to the diesel locomotive shell are expected to make the switch engine damage well over $100.

The truck driver was arrested as a result of the accident. He will appear Saturday afternoon in city court to answer charges of disregarding the red blinker lights at the railroad crossing near downtown Columbia City.

Werstler told the train crew and Officer North that he was northbound on Main street, did not realize the crossing lights were working nor know his vehicle had been hit until he glanced backward and saw his second trailer had jackknifed. The switch engine hauling three cars and a caboose, was westbound.

The train crew included Jacob A. Himes, 215 North Line street, engineer; William J. Callaway 1620 Woodlawn avenue, Logansport, conductor; and William Corbin, R 7, fireman.

Following the crash the switch engine limped to the pit near Madison street and had to be retired from service the remainder of the night. It will probably be repaired in the Pennsy shops at Fort Wayne.

Werstler's truck is owned by James A. Hannah, Lemont, Ill., is listed as one of the C.F & W Truckers out of Pierceton. The switch engine struck the northbound tractor and tandem trailers at a point just behind the tractor. This was the first trailer. The impact sheared the 5th wheel pins and tore the 5th wheel from the tractor. The second trailer then jackknifed against the side of the engine.

President Takes It Easy At His Gettysburg Farm

Following His Doctors' Orders

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP)—President Eisenhower followed his doctors' orders today and took it easy.

He planned to stay away from his Gettysburg office and to see no callers — even members of his staff — if at all possible.

The President flew to his Gettysburg farm Tuesday after two days of important conferences with congressional leaders in Washington. Mrs. Eisenhower returned by car, preferring not to fly in the President's unpressurized, two-engined plane because of a valvular heart condition she has had for many years.

The President has no engagements on his schedule for the rest of this week except his Saturday examination date with Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston Heart specialist.

On Sunday he will make a live telecast from Gettysburg, clicking a telegraph key which will light the national Christmas tree on the Cannon (D-Mo) — commented

$10 Christmas Bonus Voted To City Employes

Mayor Hood Welcomes Council-Elect; REMC Suit To Be Dropped

A ten dollar Christmas bonus to all the city employes except those on salary was voted last night by the City Council. At last night's session the new administration which will take office Jan. 2 was present at the invitation of Mayor H. Hood and the present council.

Mayor Hood welcomed the new council and mayor-elect and wished them a successful four years in office. After the formal session of the council, Mayor-Elect Garland F. Stickler spoke briefly, thanking Mayor Hood for his welcoming remarks and thanking the council for inviting the new administration to the meeting that the new members of the city board could familiarize themselves with matters of procedure.

At last night's meeting, City Attorney Robert E. Gates announced that by agreement the REMC will dismiss and pay the cost of the suit in Marion Superior court, Indianapolis, appealed there from the Public Service Commission which sought to prevent Columbia City from serving the Westgate area with electrical service. It was announced also that Columbia City has granted the REMC rights for a transmission line on U.S. 30. The REMC and the city will soon build a joint line from the Hively church north to the Krom service station on state road 9. This will serve the city as a distribution line and the REMC as a transmission line only.

The next session of the council will be on Thursday, Dec. 29, at 8 p.m. At this meeting 1955's business will be concluded. The officers elected Nov. 8 will take office Jan. 2 when they sign their oaths of office.

John Whiteleather New City Attorney

Mayor-Elect Garland F. Stickler at the close of the city council meeting Tuesday night to which he and the newly elected councilmen were invited, announced that he has appointed John W. Whiteleather as city attorney.

Mr. Whiteleather accompanied the new councilmen and Mr. Stickler to the session of the old council last night.

The new city attorney, who will succeed Robert E. Gates, has been engaged in the practice of law in Columbia City and South Whitley for the past 18 years. His father, the late D. V. Whiteleather, was for many years active in Democratic politics in Whitley county and an attorney in Columbia City. Mr. Whiteleather himself has served as Democratic county chairman.

Mr. Whiteleather received his LLB degree from Notre Dame University in 1937. He entered the practice of law here the same year, becoming a member of the Whitley County Bar association.

Choirs To Practice

The Senior choir of the First Presbyterian church will practice Thursday evening at 7:30 at the church. The Junior choir will practice preceding the Senior choir.

DefenseSpending Billion Higher In 1956 Than Now

Due To Rising Cost Of Weapons And Men

By JOHN W. FINNEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — The increasing cost of weapons and men will push defense spending next year about one billion dollars higher than the present level, defense officials said today.

Congressional leaders who have been briefed on the new defense budget reported that it calls for an outlay of $35,500,000,000. It is expected that defense spending for the current fiscal year will total about $34,500,000,000.

Defense officials, traditionally reluctant to discuss budget details until they are formally presented to Congress declined to reveal the exact figures of next year's military budget. But they confirmed that spending is scheduled to rise above the 35 billion dollar mark.

Two Principal Reasons

They cited two principal reasons for the rising expenditures:

1. New technological weapons, such as guided missiles and advanced interceptors and bombers, which become more costly as they become more complex.

2. Increased wages for workers in defense plants as well as for men in uniform and civilian employes of the Defense Department. The increased labor costs are also reflected in higher materiel costs.

Nearly all the increase will go to the Air Force.

Congressional sources reported that Air Force spending in the coming fiscal year will total $17,200,000,000 — a 700 million dollar increase over the present fiscal year. Most of the additional Air-Force money will go into guided missiles and accelerated production of the new B52 intercontinental jet bomber and new supersonic fighter planes, such as the F104.

The Navy, congressional sources said, will spend $9,700,000,000, an increase of 200 million dollars. The Army will spend $8,600,000,000, a 100 million dollar increase.

About one billion dollars will be spent by all the services on guided missiles. The budget also will provide for expanded research and development on long-range ballistic missiles often called the "ultimate weapon" of the future.

The enlarged budget, appeared likely to win congressional approval without much opposition. The complaint of Democrats last year was that the administration had cut defense spending too much.

Egolf Chairman For Neighbors Of Southeast Smith

The Southeast Neighborhood of the Smith Community made Norman Egolf their chairman for 1956 at a meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Zeigler Tuesday night. Mrs. Raymond Wappes was elected secretary of the group. A discussion on how families can work together to advance their neighborhood was led by County Agent B. V. Widney.

Robert Johnson, Clarence Zeigler and Mrs. Paul Fry were appointed to survey the sound farming and sound farm family living practices now in use by the members. A planning committee will develop a program of work based on the information resulting from the survey.

Charter members of the Southeastern Smith Neighborhood in addition to those already named, are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Deem, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Rosentrader, Mr and Mrs. Luey Wade. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Zeigler, Mr. and Mrs. Avery Nulf, Mr. and Mrs. Cleland Fry, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Green, Mr and Mrs. Clifton Geiger.

Professor Fred Conkling Speaks At Laymen Meet

Professor Fred Conkling, from Manchester College, was the guest speaker Tuesday evening at the Troy Presbyterian Church Laymen fellowship meeting. Ninety laymen from Elkhart, Goshen, Nappanee Warsaw, Winona Lake, Pierceton, and Columbia City were present.

Professor Conkling served as College and Civic counselor and advisor on juvenile problems for many years. He shared many of his experiences in his talk of "Youth Guidance."

Walter Firestone was in charge of the devotions. The Messner Trio from the Grace Seminary of Winona Lake played several musical numbers. Foster Jones led the group in singing.

Benson To Ask Multi-Million Dollar Soil Bank

To Give Farmers More Of Nation's Prosperity

By BERNARD BRENNER
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson will ask Congress to approve a multimillion dollar "soil bank" as part of a 1956 program to give farmers a bigger share of the nation's prosperity.

The farm program also may include a plan limiting the size of federal price support payments to individual farmers.

Benson announced the program Tuesday after it was approved by his special farm advisory commission. He said GOP congressional leaders with whom he has discussed the program received it very favorably.

He said the commission, which advises the administration on farm policy, approved five "basic proposals." It also favored the limiting of price support payments to individual farmers, but Benson said he will make a "further study" of the proposal before including it in his 1956 program.

High administration officials are said to favor some cut-off which

NATO Nations Plan To Review Defense Policy

Because Geneva Conference Failed

By K.C. Thaler
United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles arrived here today to join in a sweeping review of Western defense policy to meet the Soviet revival of the cold war.

Dulles' plane landed at the Evreux - Faauville American air base 65 miles west of Paris. He landed at the American base because a strike of ground personnel has paralyzed France's main air fields.

American officials at first said Dulles landed earlier but it turned out the plane was carrying Treasury Secretary George Humphrey and Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson.

Dulles was one of the first leaders of NATO's top-level ministerial council to arrive for the meeting to study the suddenly revived cold war.

All 14 foreign ministers will have with them their defense and finance ministers or deputies for the critical session which opens here Thursday.

The meeting is the first by the Atlantic alliance nations since Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov blew away the "Geneva spirit" with a refusal to consider Western proposals for the reunification of Germany through free elections. It also marks the first time that West Germany took her full part in the defense planning of the West.

Grassfire Close To House Reported By Passing Motorist

A grassfire at 2 o'clock this afternoon on 30 west, across from the Westgate addition, was brought under control by the Four Township fire department.

About two acres of ground was burned and the fire was close to the L. A. Brown home when the fire department was notified by a passing motorist from Warsaw.

Virgil Johnston Is Injured In Cornpicker Accident

Virgil Johnston, Union township, suffered the loss of four fingers on his right hand in a cornpicker accident about noon today.

He managed to free himself from the cornpicker and came to the house. He was taken to the Whitley County Hospital by Mrs. Johnston where surgery was performed this afternoon.

Community Chest Ready To Make First 1956 Quarterly Payment; Exceeds Goal By $500

The Community Chest of Whitley County, Ind., was ready this week to begin making the first quarterly payments for 1956 to nine agencies after a final report on the 1955-56 campaign was made to the Board of Directors at a meeting Monday noon.

The 1955-56 campaign, for funds to be used during 1956, went over its goal by about $500, according to the report given by Clarence Gall, president of the Chest. The exact amount given to the Chest was $20,307.28.

First quarterly payments will be mailed about January 1.

The Chest president was greatly pleased with the assistance he received from the Chest's volunteer workers. He expressed his appreciation in the report to the Board.

Of the campaign's final figures $11,365.53 was given in Columbia City with Dave Spence as chairman, South Whitley's share, with William Striggle as chairman, was $2639.90. Churubusco, under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. L. Isay gave $2397.68. The total given in the townships, with J. D. Reiff as chairman, was $3904.17.

The house-to-house division of the campaign netted $6062.31 throughout the county while another $5373.65 was given through industry and its employes with Milton Schubert as chairman. School pupils and teachers gave $767.83. Co-chairmen were Harry Yoder and Edwin Glenn. Retail establishments and their employes gave $5411.81. The remainder came from clubs and organizations, professional men, city, town and county officials, donations at the office and churches.

Expenses of the campaign amounted to $92.47 including advertising, supplies, postage and milage.

Agencies which will benefit are Whitley County Cancer Society, appeal in a meeting with Benson last month. They argued that the Agriculture Department had placed too narrow an interpretation on a law enacted by Congress last year. It authorizes free allocation of surplus farm product to voluntary relief agencies for distribution to the needy abroad.

Previously, the department had released only farm products which were in danger of spoiling in storage — mainly dairy products and cottonseed oil. And it had served notice that the availability of dairy products for relief agencies would be sharply curtailed next year because surplus stocks were dwindling.

Benson said all of the surplus foods released for foreign distribution also will be available to domestic relief agencies. However the principal demand from relief groups has been for commodities to fight starvation abroad.

The foods will come from the government's stock of more than 7,700,000,000 worth of surplus farm products.

The foods will be distributed to 67 foreign countries on all continents.

Besides supplying the commodities, the Agriculture Department will pay for packaging, transportation to shipside, handling, and other charges.

The International Cooperation Administration will pay for ocean transportation from a fund of $9,500,000 allocated for that purpose.

Salvation Army Has A Proxy Gift Plan

By HARRY CULVER
United Press Staff Correspondent

OKLAHOMA CITY — UP) — One of the world's oldest welfare organizations is giving its fund-raising efforts a new twist here this Christmas season.

For the first time, the Salvation Army is conducting a program of gifts by proxy. The proxy idea has been used by some other agencies, but usually it has taken the form of accepting donations to charities in lieu of funeral flowers.

Lt. Col. Wesley W. Bouterse, officer in charge of the local Salvation Army office, said an unexpected donor brought the idea to him last year.

Letters Sent

"I've got to buy Christmas gifts for several relatives and business friends who don't really need the gifts," said the donor. "I feel like I'm buying something just to keep up with the neighbors.

"How about my writing you a check so you can give it to some kids who need it?"

The Salvation Army official praised the idea. In return for a sizeable check, he wrote each person on the caller's gift list a letter. It explained this was their Christmas gift from Mr. ——, that via the Salvation Army a family would receive food, clothing and toys furnished by his contribution.

Bouterse planned a full-scale campaign this year. Similar letters will be sent, and he hopes the idea will grow in future years.

He believes the new gift media will not only boost the Salvation Army's Christmas fund, but will help solve a shopping problem for many givers, and perhaps give them a warm feeling inside at Christmas.

Herb Score Named Rookie Of The Year

NEW YORK (UP)—Herb Score, who set an all-time strikeout record on his first season with the Cleveland Indians, was named American League "Rookie of the Year" today by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

The 22-year-old flame - throwing southpaw from Rosedale, N.Y., won the eighth annual award by receiving 18 of the 24 votes cast by the writers' special committee. Shortstop Billy Klaus of the Boston Red Sox received five votes and teammate Norm Zauchin one.

Basilio And Murphy Are Fighter Of Year And Rookie Of Year

NEW YORK (UP) — Welterweights Carmen Basilio and Bob Murphy were named "Fighter of the Year" and "Rookie of the Year," respectively, today by the Boxing Writers Assn, which broke precedent by voting the two awards to scrappers in the same division.

Coincidentally, champion Basilio —the "Iron Man" of Chittenango N.Y.—and fledgling Murphy of Boston are unbeaten in 15 fights each.

"The Bird's Christmas Carol" Given Before Philomathean Club

The home of Mrs. B. J. Bloom on Chauncey street was aglow Monday evening with its garlands of Christmas greens, an illuminated tree and mounds of Christmas balls for the annual Yuletide party of the Philomathean club.

A dessert was served at 8 o'clock at small tables laid for 30 active and associate members. Mrs Charles Guse read "The Bird's Christmas Carol" by Wiggens and Mrs. Clarence Gall played for the group singing of carols.

Around the illuminated tree that stood near the fireplace lay the gifts that were exchanged. Multicolored lights illuminated the mantel.

At the dining table laid in white, Mrs. Claud Walker, president of the club, presided at the punch bowl after the program.

Associate members present for the affair were the Mesdames Benton Bloom, George Leininger, John H. Keiser, Roy Duncan, J. E. Ginder. Other guests included Mrs. P. J. Maloney and Mrs. Herbert Johnston.

CLOVERLEAF CLUB TO HAVE LUNCHEON SATURDAY AT SCHALK HOME

The Cloverleaf club will observe the Yuletide with 12 o'clock carry-in luncheon Saturday, at the home of Mrs. Louis Schalk.

Secret sisters will be revealed at the Christmas meeting.

NATO

Outside of the conference hall, Dulles plans to meet with British Foreign Secretary Harold MacMillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay to discuss matters of mutual concern, including the explosive situation in the Middle East.

The Atlantic council meeting climaxed a weeklong series of conferences among the Western nations, including a meeting of the Council of Europe and a session of the Western European Union.

Thursday the foreign, defense and finance ministers of the 15 member nations of NATO will begin their annual review meeting to set the defense goals for the coming year.

Informed sources said a report of the military experts will warn the NATO ministers that Russia is stronger than ever and that the West should push ahead quickly with the atomic streamlining of their defense forces — approved last year.

The Atlantic council will consider plans calling for strengthening of NATO's military setup, for creation of a Europe-wide radar warning system and for converting the alliance into a political as well as military shield.

would prevent big farm operators from collecting $100,000 a year or more from the Treasury in price support payments.

The five proposals which Benson said will be submitted at the next session of Congress are:

1. The "soil bank" plan under which farmers would be paid for diverting land planted in surplus crops to grass and trees. Benson said the program, which would cost an estimated 400 million dollars the first year, would combine "immediate aid for farmers with a long-range conservation goal to benefit all citizens." Participation would be voluntary.
2. Liberalized farm credit.
3. New ways of disposing of surplus crops including more donations of surplus foods to low-income groups at home and abroad. This plan also provides for expanded foreign marketing and barter programs, heavier spending for surplus perishable products, and stepped-up use of surpluses in school lunchrooms and the Armed Forces.
4. New commodity programs. This would include relaxing controls on corn and wheat which is fed on the farms where it is grown. It envisions reducing cotton surpluses by raising the grade on which price supports are based.
5. Increased spending for research aimed at developing new markets, new crops, and new uses for old crops.

Benson also said the commission recommended a new corn program that would give farmers "greater freedom" by relaxing acreage controls. He said the corn program would be sent to Congress if the President approves it.

White House grounds in Washington. He will speak briefly.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, under questioning by reporters, said the very quiet schedule for the President this week was "not necessarily" dictated by the doctors but had been arranged for some time.

The President's physicians apparently realized weeks ago that following intensive conferences on the budget and the State of the Union message, it would be advisable for Mr. Eisenhower to have a few days of the greatest possible ease.

While he may escape paper work the rest of this week, the President undoubtedly will have to take a certain number of priority telephone calls at the farm. Thursday and Friday, he probably will dictate for brief periods to his personal secretary, Mrs. Ann Whitman.

Congressional leaders who met with Mr. Eisenhower during the Washington conferences were impressed with his seeming fitness. One of them — Rep. Clarence Tuesday:

Governor Lausche To Be Presidential Nomination Candidate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP) —Gov. Frank J. Lausche today announced he would be a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination next year.

The five - term governor announced he would seek Ohio's 56 delegates to next year's Democratic national convention. He would not say if he would permit his name to be entered in contests for delegates in other states.

Man Dies Of Burns From Scalding Water

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UP)—William C. Raney, 69, of near Fort Wayne, died late Tuesday at Lutheran Hospital here of second and third degree burns suffered when a pail of scalding water fell on him.

Authorities said Raney was carrying the pail to a barn in preparation to butcher a hog when he slipped and the hot water splashed over his body.

Near Zero Temperatures, Wind, Snow And Ice Belt Hoosierland

By UNITED PRESS

Near zero temperatures, wind, snow and ice belted Indiana early today causing hundreds of accidents as driving conditions became a nightmare to Hoosier motorists enroute to work.

Lafayette was one of the hardest hit as early morning temperatures skidded to a season low of 4 and two inches of snow fell on the city.

Snow also fell at Indiainapolis and Fort Wayne where temperatures dipped to 7. South Bend reported a thermometer reading of 10 and one inch of snow. Evansville had a comparatively mild 16.

In the Indianapolis and Marion County area, the snow began to fall late Wednesday and by nightfall streets and highways were coated with a sheet of ice. More than 100 accidents were reported in the county as motorists found their brakes useless on slippery streets.

In the capital city, traffic was piled up as much as five miles as police and street crews worked to alleviate congestion.

In northern parts of the state, light snow was reported, but stiff winds caused drifting in some areas and several schools were closed in LaPorte County.

The icy blast was the fringe of a blizzard which slammed into the northern states from Montana to Wisconsin, dropping temperatures as much as 15 below zero and marooninig school children in the Dakotas.

The Indiana weatherman said the cold will remain through Friday. Lows tonight will range from 8 north to 13 south and highs Friday will range from 20 to 30.

Snow is expected to continue in the north today, tonight, Friday and Saturday.

High Wednesday ranged from 42 at Evansvilile and 36 at Indianapolis, to 30 at Fort Wayne and Lafayette.

The outlook for Saturday is mostly fair and continued cold with snow flurries near Lake Michigan.

William Ness Taken Home Wednesday

William Ness of Washington township was dismissed from the Whitley County Hospital Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Ness had been undergoing medical care and treatment at the hospital for the past two weeks. He is making satisfactory progress but will be confined to a hospital bed at his home for a while. The J. A. DeMoney and Son Ambulance was called to return him to his residence, near the Huntington County Line on State Road 9.

Larry Schuman Is Semi-Finalist In Scholarship Tests

Larry Schuman, senior in Larwill High School, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schuman, Richland township, is listed as one of the 144 school seniors semi-finalists in competition sponsored by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Out of 5,000 students in the semi-final round, at least 425 will be awarded four-year college scholarships.

Meditation

By REV. ALVIN S. LINK
First Church of God

Scripture Lesson: John 3:1-17

"For God sent not his son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved." John 3:17.

Paul, the great servant of the Lord, had this to say to Timothy "This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners" I Timothy 1:15. There are five of these, "faithful sayings" in the letters of Paul, usually called "the pastoral epistles." It seems to have been a manner with him, at that time of his life, to underscore anything which he felt to be especially important by attaching to it this label.

Perhaps we should underscore the real meaning of Christmas with this thought, "Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners." "Christ Jesus came." Then he was before he came. His own will impelled His feet, and brought him to earth. He came to save sinners!

Since sin is a disease, and all have sinned and come short of the glory of God, then all need to be saved by the healing power of Christ Jesus.

May this Christmas bring to us a new vision of the love of God for us, and a greater appreciation for the saving power of Christ Jeuss.

Pilgrim Holiness Church To Have Christmas Program

The program is under the supervision of Mary Honeycutt, Norma Warnick, Florence Coffelt and Ann Marshall. Wallace Marshall is pastor of the church.

Four Local Teams Play Friday Games

Four of the Whitley county basketball teams have games scheduled for Friday evening and the Wolf Lake Wolves will play Avilla at Albion Saturday night.

The Columbia City Eagles will play the New Haven Bulldogs at New Haven.

The Coesse Indians will play at Albion. Albion has won seven of the eight games played. The Indians have won five games.

The Jefferson Center Tigers will play at Lancaster.

The South Whitley Bulldogs play the only home game in the county when they meet Monroeville at South Whitley.

Mrs. Job Burnworth Enters MemorialHospital

Mrs. Job C. Burnworth, 202 S Walnut street, is a patient at Memorial Hospital, where she will undergo further medical care. Mrs. Burnworth entered the local hospital Wednesday afternoon after being transfered here from the Parkview Memorial Hospital, Fort Wayne, by the J. A. DeMoney and Son ambulance.

Mrs. Woodfin Jones Is Entering Hospital

Mrs. Woodfin Jones who went to her parents' home at Boonville a week ago, preparing to enter Protestant Deaconess hospital in Evansville for major surgery, was prevented in this by a cold she had contracted. She is to enter the Evansville hospital today and undergo surgery Friday. Mr. Jones secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, left late Thursday to spend the weekend with her.

Accept School Calendar; Hear Purdue Speaker

H. S. Principals Told Of New Standards; Spelling Bees Set

Principals of the Whitley county schools meeting at Coesse Wednesday, accepted the proposed 1956-57 school calendar and heard Allen Cooper of the Purdue Center administrative staff who outlined the changes in entrance requirements for engineering students, effective next September.

The principals received their supplies for the balloting Friday of classroom teachers on whether to take advantage of the federal social security program.

All schools in Whitley county, including the Columbia City schools, will enter a spelling contest to be held April 7 at 10 a.m. in Columbia City. The county winner will then go to the regional contest April 28 at North Side high school, Fort Wayne. The contests to determine the entrants in the county contest will be staged in each school before March 24.

The high school principals will meet with the educational committee of the Chamber of Commerce at 4 p.m. Dec. 21 to plan for the senior career day, date of which is to be selected later. January's meeting of the principals is set for Jan. 4 at Thorncreek Center.

1956-57 Calendar

The tentative calendar of the county schools for 1956-57, yet to be approved and adopted by the boards of education, follows:

Sept. 4 Workshop
Sept. 5 Teachers to meet half-day with pupils for class organization
Oct. 25-26 Teachers Association
Nov. 22 - 23 Thanksgiving vacation
Dec. 22-Jan. 1 inclusive Christmas vacation
March 1 - Sectional tourney.
April 19-22 - Easter vacation

The eight and a half month schools will complete their program on May 15 while the nine-month schools will close for the summer on May 29.

Raise Entrance Requirements

Mr. Cooper of Purdue Center told the principals that effective next fall Purdue will raise its entrance requirements for students working toward engineering degrees. Purdue will require trigonometry instead of solid geometry; two units of algebra will be required instead of one and a half units. The university also will require both physics and chemistry of entering engineering students.

As it will be difficult for small high schools to offer sufficient courses that these requirements may be met, the university will offer make-up courses on the campus but these will extend to four and a half and five years the time the deficient student must take to complete his work toward a degree.

Kitsons Holstein Herd Classified

Monroe Kitson, Thorncreek township Holstein breeder, has been listed as recently completing classification of his herd for type.

Such work is done under the official type classification program of The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

The entire head was inspected by M. R. Campbell, Oconomowoc, Wisconsin, an official inspector in the employe of the association.

This is the third time Mr. Kitson's herd has been classified. His herd consists of 14 head, and three of his animals were classified as very good, eight good plus and three good. His herd is listed as the only one classified from Indiana.

Slides Car Into Side Of Train; Escapes Unhurt

Howard W. Trumbull, Collins, Escapes In Road 205 Collision

Howard Wesley Trumbull, 19, of Collins, northbound on state road 205, escaped unhurt about 9:10 p.m. Wednesday when his car slid on the ice into the side of a passing freight train on the Vandalia branch of the Pennsylvania railroad at the state road 205 crossing one and a half miles north of South Whitley.

His car, a 1951 Chevrolet sedan was almost a total loss. Damage was estimated at $800 to the vehicle.

Trumbull's vehicle struck the passing train about in the middle. The Collins driver quickly got out of his car and tried to attract the attention of the crewman in the caboose but he was not seen. The train was en route from South Whitley to Columbia City.

Trumbull told State Policeman Wayne Reese that he did not see the locomotive's headlight as he approached the crossing, but the freight was moving at a slow pace. Trumbull's speed was slow also because of the icy pavement. Police notified the train crew of the accident when they reached Columbia City.

Trumbull was shaken up but required no medical attention. He was taken to his home at Collins by the state policeman after the accident. Trumbull, an employe of a South Whitley factory, was en route to his home after work.

Several Cars Ditched

The snow late Wednesday afternoon which packed into an icy film on pavements, accounted for numerous motoring mishaps. About 5:45 p.m. an auto overturned on the Old Yellowstone Trail just east of the Vandalia crossing where the Old Trail leaves state road 205. The car slid into the ditch on approaching the railroad from the east and went onto its side.

Early Wednesday night a Bursley salesman from Fort Wayne in a new Cadillac automobile skidded on U.S. 30 just west of the W. A. Jones & Son trailer display lot breaking off the "40-mile speed zone" sign. In rounding a curve in the Weatherhead parking lot drive where it joins extended Ellsworth street, a motorist overturned his car late yesterday.

Coesse PTA To Have Program On Monday Evening

A Christmas program of music will mark the December meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association of the Coesse school, to be held Monday evening at 7:30. The program will be presented by the various grades including the high school.

The program will open with a playlet by the first and second grade entitled "The Little Stranger." The third and fourth grades will sin gW' 'ihCtehristmas" and sing "White Christmas" and grades five and six will sing and give a Christmas story.

The seventh and eighth grades will appear on the program with the number "Santa Claus is Coming to Town." A girl's ensemble will sing "Winter Wonderland and "Silver Bells" and the Junior band will play a group of numbers including "Here Comes Santa Claus," "Away In a Manger" and "Rudolph the Red Nose Reindeer," "O Come All Ye Faithful."

The High School chorus will conclude the program with "Silent Night." The program will be given in the school gymnasium.

Christmas With The Greatest Show On Earth Friday

"Christmas With the Greatest Show on Earth," scheduled for CBS Dec. 16, will have Charlton Heston as master of ceremonies. It comes from Sarasota, Fla., and involves the annual affair given by the employes of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Circus.

$9 More Reaches The Firemen's Party Fund

Nine dollars more reached the Firemen's Christmas Party fund Wednesday, leaving a $154 as the amount yet required to pay the cost of the Christmas Eve treat party for children.

The recent contributions are from:

Motor Parts & Equpt. Col. Columbia City	$5.00
Carter Diffendarfer	2.00
Frank Bauer	1.00
A friend	$1.00

Citizens' contributions to the community party fund may be left at either of the Columbia City banks, the newspaper office, with any fireman, or at the police or fire stations in the city hall.

U. S. Should Pay On Debt Before Cutting Taxes

Knowland Doubts Administration Will Recommend Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (UP)—Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said today he would like to see the government able to pay about one billion dollars on the national debt before taxes are cut.

He also indicated that he doubts the Eisenhower administration will recommend a tax reduction in the 1956 election year.

Knowland told newsmen he was not suggesting the one billion dollar annual payment on the national debt as a "rigid" figure or as one backed by the administration. But he did make clear that he believes the administration. But he did make clear that he believes the administration is prepared to give priority to at least some debt reduction ahead of a tax cut.

"I don't believe there should be any tax reduction contemplated until the budget is balanced and there is some reduction of the national debt," he said.

He also said he thinks there can be no appraisal of tax cutting prospects until after the heavy tax collections due next April 15.

Knowland said the administration "wants to see what the fiscal facts are" before tax legislation is considered. If government revenues should increase substantially above expected levels, he said, there could be enough for both a payment on the federal debt and a tax cut.

House Leaders Agree There Should Be No Immediate Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (UP) — Democratic and Republican leaders in the House agreed today there should be no immediate tax cut when Congress returns next month.

Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., (Mass) said the administration won't know until April whether the budgetary - outlook will be such that it can recommend a tax cut for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

"I think it's quite doubtful we can have any substantial tax cut," Martin told newsmen. "If there is a tax cut, it would have to be a modest one.'

As for the Democrats, Speaker Sam Rayburn (Tex.) made clear Tuesday that he is opposed "at present" to general tax reduction. "As of now,' he would favor granting tax relief to low-income groups in the next session of Congress only if other taxes could be hiked simultaneously to offset the revenue loss.

This indicated that Rayburn wants to let President Eisenhower take the lead in deciding whether there should be a tax cut in 1956—a presidential election year.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex) already has called for tax relief for "small income groups.'

Martin told newsmen the administration would announce its tax recommendations no later than April 15. In the meantime, Martin and Rayburn agreed that Congress probably will extend the 52 per cent tax on corporate income scheduled to drop to 47 per cent on April 1.

Gettysburg Will Sing Salute To PresidentTonight

In The Town Square; Eisenhower Will Miss Neighbors' Greetings

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP)—The town of Gettysburg wilil sing a Merry Christmas salute to President Eisenhower in the town square tonight, but the President will miss his neighbors Yuletide greetings.

Because of his doctors' orders to slow down for a while, Mr. Eisenhower is accepting no outside social invitations for the rest of this week.

Mr. Eisenhower also is keeping his work to a minimum. He planned brief conferences with his staff today but otherwise will spend his time resting and walking around his farm.

Town Square Decorated

Gettysburg has decorated Lincoln Square in the center of town with a colorful Christmas scene that includes a "Santa Shanty" where St. Nicholas arrives during the evening.

The idea that the President might be a participant in the Christmas celebration started when Leroy E. Smith, vice president of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce, wrote Presidential Press Secretary Hagerty on Dec. 9:

"The combined choirs of Gettysburg will sing a Merry Christmas salute to President and Mrs. Eisenhower, the White House press secretary and his wife, and the White House press corps at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening, December 15th, in front of the Hotel Gettysburg, Lincoln Square. The salute is an expression of our appreciation for the world-wide recognition all of you have given Gettysburg."

Lions Club Meets Tuesday Evening

The new Lions Club of this city met Tuesday night in the Clugston Hotel to organize and elect officers. At a previous meeting temporary officers had been appointed. Permanent officers elected were president, John F. Andrews; first vice president, Rev. P. F. Young; secretary, Harold Curry; treasurer, Robert E. Wilson; lion tamer, Robert E. Binkley; tail twister, Lyman W. Scott.

The Columbia City club is sponsored by the Tri Lakes Lions Club. Lion Ernest Buenung of the Tri-Lakes Lions club extension committee attended the meeting.

The next meeting is scheduled for December 20, at which time the second and third vice presidents and 4 directors will be elected. Charter night will be held late in January. The date will be announced as soon as the committee completes the arrangements.

President Berres DiscontinuesTour Of United States

Suffers Sudden Stomach Attack

By HENRY RAYMONT
United Press Staff Corespondent

CHICAGO (UP)—A sudden stomach attack today forced Uruguayan President Luis Batlle Berres to discontinue his tour of the United States.

The president suffered an apparent bleeding ulcer attack at a private dinner Wednesday night and was rushed to a hospital. Doctors at Wesley Memorial Hospital said his condition was "excellent" but advised him to stay in bed for at least a few days, cutting short his 10-day-old tour of the U.S.

Sources close to the 56-year-old president said he fainted while attending a dinner in his honor at the exclusive Chicago Club.

Batlle Berres recovered consciousness and refused to be carried to an ambulance. But, while walking to the door he became ill and vomited some blood, the sources said.

Hours later at the hospital, attending physicians issued a statement saying "there is apparently a bleeding ulcer. The president's condition is excellent.

Says New Soviet Union Strategy Serious Threat

Charges Giving Aid To Middle East, Asia

PARIS (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles warned the North Atlantic Treaty Organization today that the Soviet Union has launched a new cold war offensive in the Middle East and Asia.

In an address to the opening session of the North Atlantic Council, Dulles said the new Soviet strategy is a serious threat.

Speaking for nearly an hour to the assembled foreign, defense and treasury ministers of the 15 NATO nations gathered to revieiw the West's military, political and economic policies in the cold war, Dulles noted that the Soviets have the potential to act decisively.

He said the Soviets were offering both aid and technicians in the Middle East and Asia. He pointed out that Russia has huge stocks of obsolescent arms to offer, even though it lacks many consumer goods.

Reviews Soviet Policy

The Dulles speech reviewed in their entirely the Soviet's zigzags of policy for the last year.

He said the year started and ended with the cold war. He recalled that last year's annual NATO Council meeting met under growing Soviet threats of what would happen if the West approved the western European Union (WEU).

That crisis came ana went, he noted. But the last 12 months, he added, had made up a "caleidioscopic year" which posed a "lot of puzzles.'

He rercalled that his prophecies have come true that Russia would not carry out its threats against bringing Germany into NATO.

He pointied out that the conclusion of the Austrian state treaty, the "pilgrimage' by Soviet leaders to Marshal Tito's Yugoslavia, and finally the Geneva summit conference all were part of a puzling year.

Dulles said the Soviet position became clear during the second Geneva conference of foreign ministers. At that time Moscow refused to unify Germany by free elections and rejected Western proposals for more contacts between East and West.

Services will be held Sunday morning at 9:15 at Eberhard Lutheran church and the Sunday school hour will follow.

A Christmas program will feature the Sunday school hour.

Christmas Parties Staged By The Firemen, Rotary And Kiwanis Clubs WednesdayNight

Staging a Christmas party isn't exclusively a woman's prerogative three men's organizations proved Wednesday night. The evening witnessed the Columbia City firemen's annual Christmas party for firemen's families while both the Rotary and the Kiwanis clubs staged their annual pre-Christmas meetings.

Santa Hands Out Gifts

At the firemen's party, staged in the fire department at the city hall, Santa officiated at the families' gift exchange in front of a fireplace. The exchange was the result of name drawings made a month ago.

Dr. Otto Lehmberg told the group about his trip last winter to Hawaii and showed motion pictures of the sights he and Mrs. Lehmberg saw on their plane trip to the Pacific islands. The pictures included views of volcanic eruptions.

The firemen and their ladies, it was announced, will meet at the fire station at 7 p.m. Friday, Dec. 23, to sack the community Christmas treats.

The firemen and the Siren Club have announced their 1956 officers. Russell Wolfe has been re-elected fire chief; Carl Beeson, first assistant chief, and Harold Hess second assistant chief. Robert Engle will be secretary-treasurer.

The ladies' organization will be headed by Mrs. George Woodring, president; Mrs. John Bechtold vice-president; Mrs. Robert Engle, secretary-treasurer.

Entertain 86 Children

The Kiwanis Club held its annual Christmas party Wednesday night at the American Legion home with 86 children as guests of the 70 Kiwanians attending.

Following the dinner, served by the women of the American Legion Auxiliary, the group participated in the singing of Christmas songs and then enjoyed a movie.

Gifts were presented to each of the guests by the club.

The program was planned by the Boys' and Girls' committee of the club. This is headed by Donald Staples as chairman; Robert Meyers, Dr. Charles Guse, Richard Dornick, and Cal Landrum.

Presents Three Electric Roasters To Community Center

At its December meeting the Columbia Township Home Demonstration club voted to buy three electric roasters for the kitchen at the 4-H Community Center and members of the club will each take a tea towel to the January meeting for use at the Community Center.

Mrs. Reinhard Heinfeld was appointed booth chairman for 1956 During the coming year hostesses for each month will decide whether the meeting will be held in the home or the REMC home.

Mrs. Clarence Keiser, club president, presented gifts to members of the club for perfect attendance for the past year. They were Mesdames Harry Schuman, Ernest Fenker, Harold Fenker, Ulysses Groves, Norman Shearer, Kenneth Fleck, Clarence Keiser.

Mrs. B. V. Widney was in charge of the candlelight installation ceremonies during the day. The program of the afternoon included the Christmas story from the Bible which was interspered by the singing of carols and a story read by Mrs. Widney titled "Santa Claus' Partner" by Thomas Nelson Page.

The hostesses, Mesdames Leroy Veazey, B. V. Widney, Warren Wigent, Ira Wolfangle and William Worden conducted the gift exchange.

Mrs. Keiser, club president, returned thanks at the noon hour when a buffet dinner was served at prettily appointed tables.

The Mesdames Harvey Graves, LeRoy Veazey, Lyman Schrader Reinhard Heinfeld were announced as January hostesses and Mrs. R. L. Holden as topic leader.

Mr. And Mrs. George L. Wuertley To Keep Open House Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Wuertley of near South Whitley will keep open house next Sunday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock, in honor of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Wuertley invite all of the friends, neighbors and relatives to call at their home Sunday afternoon. Monday, the 19th, is their anniversary day. Theywere married in 1905 in Brandenburg, Ky., and resided in Whitley county for the past 33 years. They previously resided in Huntington county and for a number of years lived in southern Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Wuertley have five sons, John, South Whitley; Fred, North Manchester; George J., Huntington; Charles of Marion, and Ernest at home. Two daughters are deceased. They also have nine grandchildren.

A family dinner will be given Sunday at the home of the son, John Wuertley at South Whitley, which will be followed by the open house at the home of the honored couple on the Tunker road.

Honor Patty Lou Schmitt On Her Sixth Birthday

Mrs. Harold Schmitt and Mrs. John Mangan planned a party for Saturday afternoon in honor of the the birthday of Mrs. Schmitt's daughter, Patty Lou. Contests formed the entertainment and each little guest was presented a balloon and candy.

A birthday cake with burning candles centered the table and was later served with ice cream. The guests joined in singing "Happy Birthday" to the honor guest, and to Joe Adams, one of the guests.

The guests included Joe, Billy, Linda and Barbara Adams, Lori Fahl, Mike, Steve, Tommy Mangan, Rickie Rouch, Vada and Rhonda Fahl, Jane, Susan and Stanley Schmitt.

Others present were Mesdames Henry Schmitt, Maurice Rouch, Clifford Adams, John Mangan.

The Christmas Tramp, A Playlet Given Before The Deborahs

The Mesdames Verl Bender, Jacob Hile, Charles Feit, Henry Ward were hostesses Tuesday evening for the Christmas meeting of the Deborah class of the Baptist church, at the Bender home on South Chauncey street.

In the midst of an attractive Christmas setting, members of the class sang carols and a clever playlet, "The Christmas Tramp," was presented. The playlet was given by the Mesdames Willie Roby, Russell Grim, Ben Wagner, Arthur Rondeau, Arnold Souder.

Mrs. Hile read the Christmas story from Luke concluding with the reading "Keeping Christmas." Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus in the persons of Mrs. Bender and Mrs. Feit, assisted with the gift exchange.

Poinsettias were presented to the teacher of the class, Mrs. Roy Inks, and Mrs. Verl Bender, the retiring president. Mrs. Paul Forrester is the incoming president.

The hostesses served Christmas tree salad, cookies, nuts and mints at the close of the evening.

Christmas Party Of Probonis Club Is Held Wednesday Evening At Lloyd Walpole Home

Mrs. Lloyd Walpole president of the Probonis club at South Whitley, was hostess for the Christmas meeting of her club, Wednesday evening. Mrs. Robert Harley read a Christmas story and contests formed entertainment.

An antique pressed glass compote bearing a spray of holly held pine cones and Christmas balls flanked on either side by tall red candles centered the table from which coffee, Christmas cookies and mints were served.

A large tree in the living room and cones and white candles above the fireplace were further evidence of the Christmas season. The program at the Walpole home followed a lovely dinner at the Miller Tea room served at tables decorated in red, green and silver.

The committee in charge of the affair was composed of Mrs. Walpole, Mrs. Robert Harley, Mrs. Russell Bowdy and Mrs. Ora Grossman.

The club year will end in June with a picnic at the home of Mrs. John Whiteleather in this city. Mrs. Bowdy is secretary-treasurer of the club.

A carry-in supper and gift exchange was held Tuesday evening by the American Legion Auxiliary of Post 98.

Mrs. Raymond Bird and Mrs. Keith Collins were in charge of the supper, and Mrs. Fred Sell was in charge of the gift exchange.

Mrs. Sam Galbreath and Mrs. Alice McNabb told of their work in the Gift Shop at the Veterans' hospital recently.

It was announced that the Auxiliary would meet in the card room on December 27, at 7:30 promptly because of the charity ball to be held at the Legion Home on that date.

Mr. And Mrs. R. O. Ward Will Be Married Fifty Years Monday

Next Monday, December 19, will be the Golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Reaser O. Ward of near South Whitley. They will observe their anniversary with a dinner at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Hestetler next Sunday, at Goblesville.

The have spent all of their married life in Whitley county with the exception of six and one-half years, at which time they resided at Saskatchewan, Canada. Mrs. Ward is the former Hazel Alice Catey. Mr. Ward is now retired.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward are members of the First Baptist church at South Whitley.

Three daughters were born to the couple. They are Mildred Ella now Mrs. Theodore Schultz, Washington D.C., Jessie Louise now Mrs. Kenneth Hestetler of near Huntington and Elnora Alice Ward, who died in 1926.

They also have two grandchildren Crystal Mae Hestetler Huitema, Richmond, and Joe Hestetler of near Huntington, and two great-grandchildren, Shirley Ann and Douglas Earl Huitema of Richmond.

The couple will not keep open house but will be glad to hear from their friends.

Mrs. Schalk Shows Pictures Of Alaskan Trip Before Club

Mrs. Lewis Schalk was the guest of the Jefferson Township Home Demonstration club at their December meeting, when she showed pictures of an Alaskan trip she and Mr. Schalk had made.

Mrs. Noel Smith and Mrs. Anna Smith were hostesses for the meeting at the IOOF hall in Laud. Members of the club made response to roll call by telling how one might bring Christmas cheer to others.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Cecil Peacock. Following the dinner, a short Christmas program was given when Mrs. Loren Hodsen read a paper on the "Christmas Customs of Other Lands." A gift exchange followed.

It was announced that members of the club would take tea towels to the January meeting for the kitchen at the 4-H Community Center.

"Away In A Manger" Theme For December Meeting Of WCTU

The Women's Christian Temperance Union held its December meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. E. Yost Braddock at the corner of Elm and Ellsworth streets, which opened with the song "O Spirit of the Living God."

The theme of the meeting was "Away in a Manger." Mrs. Floyd Hedges sang "Ivory Palaces" and "Silent Night." Each member at the Christmas meeting gave a contribution of 25 cents which will be used to buy records for veterans at the hospitals.

Miss Chloe Mowrey gave the story of the Nativity for devotions and she concluded with the poem "What Makes Christmas." Mrs. Harley Baker presented the topic "Freedom from Fear" and she was assisted by other women of the union who had as sub-topics "Fear Not Zackarias," "Fear Not Mary," "Fear Not Shepherds," "Fear Not Peace in the Hearts of Christians."

A number of the women in the Union told of the signifiance of the color of the ribbon she held when she placed it on the tree. White is symbolic of purity; Purple symbolic of majesty, yellow or gold symbolizes gifts at the base of the Christmas tree, and green the gifts on the tree. Food on the tree "The Bread of Life" and the star placed on the tree is symbolic of Bethlehem. The lights on the tree symbolizes "Faith in God". At the close of the program the group sang "Light of the World is Jesus." A gift exchange followed and Mrs. Braddock served Christmas candies.

Giant Spruce From South Dakota Is U. S. Christmas Tree

By BETTY JANE SOUTHLAND
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON —UP) —A giant spruce flown here from the Black Hills' of South Dakota is the national Christmas tree this year.

The tree—ornamented with 8,000 colored lights— will be illuminated here when President Eisenhower pushes a button from his Gettysburg, Pa., farm during the holiday season (on Dec. 18).

At the same time community trees across the nation, in U.S. embassies abroad and on ships at sea will be lit.

The national tree-lighting ceremonies will usher in this year's Pageant of Peace—a two-week celebration to dramatize the Christmas message of peace on earth, good will to man.

The ceremonies will be attended by members of the Supreme Court, Congress and representatives from the United Nations and the Pan American union.

The pageant will be held in the Ellipse, a park near the White House. The Washington Monument towers nearby.

About 50 embassies are planning to participate, along with representatives from the states, civic, school and cultural organizations. Many of the embassies will have trees or other national symbols in the Pathway of Peace, leading to the giant tree.

The Pakistani embassy, for example, will have a replica of the Badshadi, Lahore, mosque. The three-foot high replica is pink with a white dome and will be framed in a huge green wreath.

Pageant officials said there will be a life-size reproduction of the nativity scene. And around the park will be replicas of other Biblical events.

Santa Claus and eight live reindeer will be the main feature of the children's corner. Puppet shows will be shown several times daily.

Beneath the giant tree a stage will be erected where religious services of all denominations will be held. There will also be plays, folk dances and song fests.

Part of the pageant will be broadcast abroad in English and 38 foreign languages by the Voice of America.

The idea behind the pageant—a non-partisan, non-secular, non-profit venture—is to provide an exchange of friendship and understanding among all the peoples of the world.

It was held for the first time last year. Its reception was so great that it was decided to make it an annual affair. Over 500,000 spectators visited the first pageant. And 6,000 men, women and children of practically every race and creed took part in the religious services and other presentations on the stage—all demonstrating the same message, peace on earth, good will to man.

Simmer the bones from the leftover turkey with onion to make a tasty broth.

Holiday salad tip: Use a food chopper to chop 4 cups of fresh cranberries and 2 oranges, with seeds removed. Add 2 cups of sugar and mix well. Freeze the relish in ice trays, cut in squares and serve on salad greens.

Ventilating fans in the broiler house should be kept free of accumulated dust, advise poultrymen at Purdue University. Dust on the fan blade cuts down on the volume of air that the fan can move.

TURKEY TREAT

CHICAGO — (UP) — Leftover turkey makes a post-Christmas treat in this easy-to-prepare main dish, combining the meat with broccoli.

Make a white sauce by using ¼ cup each of butter or margarine and flour, seasoned with 2 teaspoons of salt and a dash of poultry seasoning. Cook until thickened. Stir in 2 cups of cubed, roasted turkey, 1-4 cup of slivered almonds and 1 table spoon of lemon juice. Serve on hot cooked broccoli, garnished with slivered almonds.

Have A Happy, Fire-Safe Christmas

BOSTON — (UP) — For a fire-safe Christmas, says the National Fire Protection Association, you should observe these rules:

The Tree

Select a tree that hasn't dried out from long storage.

Stand it in water or snow outdoors until you're ready to use it indoors.

Bring the tree indoors just before Christmas and take it out as soon afterward as possible (Dec. 26 is recommended).

Place the tree trunk in water and keep level of water high the entire time the tree is indoors. Check the water level daily for absorption and evaporation.

Lighting

Don't use candles on the tree or nearby where there is any chance for an open flame to contact the tree.

Use only electric lighting sets that bear the UL (Underwriters' Labratories) label.

Check lighting sets each year before using for frayed wires, loose connections and broken sockets.

Besure the fuse on the electrical circuit you use is not over 15 amperes.

Don't plug too many cords into one outlet.

Make certain that all tree lighting is turned off before retiring or leaving the house.

Decorations and Wrappings

Don't let Christmas wrappings accumulate in the home.

Use non-combustible materials to decorate the home wherever possible. When you must use combustible materials, be sure they are "flameproofed."

Santa Claus whiskers have caused Christmas tragedies; be sure they're "flameproofed," too.

Gifts

Don't buy pyroxylin plastic dolls, toys or non-flameproofed cowboy suits, etc. Toys operated by alcohol, kerosene or gasoline are especially dangerous.

Look for the Underwriters' Laboratories label when buying electrical toys. This means they have been tested for fire and shock hazards and may be considered safe if properly handled.

Don't set up electric trains or spirit-fueled toys under a Christmas tree.

Alan Ameche Named No. 1 Ball Carrier

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Alan (The Horse) Ameche, the No. 1 draft choice of the Baltimore Colts last winter, was the No. 1 ball carrier of the National Football League this season, final statistics showed today.

Three veterans who previously announced their retirement also finished as leaders, with Otto Graham of the Cleveland Browns the top passer, Pete Pihos of the Philadelphia Eagles the leading pass receiver and Doak Walker of the Detroit Lions the leading scorer.

George Blanda of the Chicago Bears completed his fifth season without missing a conversion to put his total at a league record 143.

Ameche, whose 213 carries was the most for the league, became the first rookie to win the ground gaining title since Bill Paschal of the New York Giants.

Circuit Court News

In the case of State of Indiana vs Wendell Harshman, Harshman appeared by his counsel and asked the court to withdraw his plea of not guilty and it was granted. He then entered his plea of guilty to the offence of driving and operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and the court found him guilty as charged and recommended that his driver's license be suspended for one year and that he be fined $50.00 and costs and that the sentence of six months to the Indiana State Farm be suspended except 20 days thereof to be served in the Whitley County jail.

Bloom & Bloom have entered their appearance for the defendant, Earl W. Flohr, in the action for damages brought by Eli M. Slabaugh. This suit was venued here from the Wabash circuit court. The demand of the plaintiff is for $10,000 damages for personal injuries and $1100 property damage.

This suit is the outgrowth of an auto accident two and a half miles north of North Manchester on Jan. 15, 1955.

By consent of the parties, a continuance until a date agreeable to both the plaintiff and defendant has been made.

Dismissed by the plaintiff at his costs Wednesday was the suit for money loaned brought by Fred Wuertley against Thelma P. Hawn. Judge Kennedy of Wabash heard the evidence in this suit, a change of venue having been taken from the local court. Wuertley sought judgment for $450 from the defendant.

Formal appearance of C. W. H. Bangs, Huntington attorney, was entered Wednesday for Clark Cleland, defendant, in the action brought by Columbia City, Indiana Planning Commission, or restraining him in hookup of a house-trailer on a lot fronting on Chicago street, allegedly in violation of the local zoning ordinances.

Export sales of agricultural and vegetable seeds will be expedited by an agriculture department seed testing service.

Season Here For Hog Flu

LAFAYETTE: — Hogs, like humans, are more susceptible to flu during periods of uncertain weather, reports F. A. Hall, extension veterinarian that heralds the ap-

Bad weather that heralds the approach of winter is an invitation for the hog flu virus to go into action. Hall warns swine producers to be on the alert for the dreaded disease during the coming weeks.

Hogs may acquire germs from bugs and worms in contaminated areas such as old straw stacks and manure piles. One means of protection is to keep the animals in clean areas away from these contaminated spots.

High fever, persistent coughing, and reduced appetite are symptoms of flu. Added discomfort will be jerky breathing, a discharge from the nose, and stiffness in joints. Hog flu strikes suddenly and can travel through the entire herd, Hall cautions.

If the hogs are attacked by the virus the only practical treatment is good care. Affected hogs should have good ventilation but should be kept out of drafts. These hogs should be well bedded, provided plenty of fresh water, and fed easily digested food. Good nursing will prevent the further complication of pneumonia, a worse fate than flu.

"Because of the danger that some other diseases may be present, it is always advisable to let a vererinarian examine the hogs and make a correct diagnosis," Hall concludes.

Christmas Parties

their husbands at the Rotary club's annual Christmas party, staged in the Presbyterian church dining room Wednesday night. Each "Ann" was presented a Christmas corsage. These were made with various colored carnations.

The group enjoyed a turkey dinner with ice cream cake dessert. All sang carols, led by William Bloom as chorister with Mrs. B. V. Widney at the piano. Candy cane treats were passed out, to be taken to the Rotarians' children.

The feature of the evening was the Christmas message brought to the club by the Rev. Marion Shroyer. His theme was the getting of the most from life, how Christmas and its meaning brings out the best in all persons, and that the aim of all should be to extend this philosophy to a 12-month practice.

Heart Attack Is Fatal To Glant Welsh Of Arkansas

Was Husband Of The Former Georgia Bodley

Word has been received by relatives here of the death of Glant Welsh, 64, at the hospital in Helena, Ark. He suffered a heart attack early last spring and approximately one week ago suffered the second attack which proved fatal.

He was a native of Greensburg and was born October 15, 1891, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Welsh. Following his marriage to the former Georgia Bodley of this city they started housekeeping at Hartford City. They later moved to Noblesville, and more than thirty-years ago went to Helena, Arkansas, where Mr. Welsh operated a lumber mill. For a number of years he had been employed as a salesman for a meat packing firm at Helena. He was a member of the Catholic Church there.

The surviving relatives include his wife, Georgia; one son, Richard Dale Welsh, Mobile, Ala., one granddaughter, Joe Dale Welsh; his father, Dale Welsh, Memphis, Tenn., and one sister, Ann, of Helena.

Funeral services were held this morning at the Catholic Church in Helena. The body will then be transferred by train to the Smith and Sons Funeral Home here Graveside services will be held Friday at 3:30 p.m. in the Greenhill cemetery with the Rev. John Frawley of the St. Paul of the Cross Catholic Church officiating The train is scheduled to arrive at Warsaw at 2:38 p.m. Friday.

Virgil B. Ritter, 78, Noble County Resident Dies

Had Been Ill For The Past Five Years

Virgil B. Ritter, 78, died at his Noble county home on the shore of Big Lake, at 3 p.m. Wednesday. Death followed an illness of five years due to complications.

A native of Kosciusko county, Mr. Ritter was born November 20, 1877 to George and Alice Black Ritter but spent most of his life in Noble county. He married Susie E. Gray December 25, 1900. His wife survives with one son, and two daughters. His son is Forrest Ritter of Ligonier and Mrs. Alva Searfoss of Syracuse; and Mrs. Harold Geiger of near Albion are daughters. Other survivors are two brothers, Walter and Allen Ritter of Syracuse and two sisters, Mrs. Grace Willard of Epping, North Dakota, and Mrs. John Beckner of Ligonier. Twelve grandchildren, 11 great grandchildren survive.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Big Lake Church of God of which Mr. Ritter was a member, the Rev Fredrick Wraight officiating. Friends may call at the house.

Designer Calls Functional Dolls A Must These Days

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

HOLLIS, N.Y. — (UP) — A five-story glass and brick building in this Long Island community houses heaven for every small girl.

The rambling structure is the home of the world's largest doll factory. This year, it will turn out 2,500,000 dolls in all shapes, sizes and fashions. It will make close to 3,000,000 costumes, more outfits than dolls because some of the dolls come with a change of clothes.

Supervising this project to delight the hearts of children is a woman who has no youngsters of her own, Miss Mary Bauer, vice-president in charge of doll production for the Ideal Toy Corp.

A tall, brown-eyed, gray-haired woman, Mary Bauer has been designing dolls and layettes for 28 years.

It was she who helped originate one of the all-time best sellers of the toy world — the Shirley Temple doll.

How Much Further?

She also helped produce the Betsy Wetsy, one of the early functional dolls; and the Posie which walks and kneels to pray.

"I don't know how much further we can carry this realism," Miss Bauer sighed. "Little girls nowadays don't want a doll unless it does something."

To a grownup, a visit to Miss Bauer's bailiwick is like a tour of some sort of horror chamber—at first look. There are thousands of doll heads—still bald—on rack after rack, shaking weirdly when a rack is moved. More racks are filled with naked, pink arms, legs and torsos not yet joined.

A doll begins its way to a child's Christmas stocking as nothing but an idea in the mind of such designers as Miss Bauer. It then is a sketch on the drawing board, a sculptor's acutal model of the doll-to-be, a single test mold, and then many molds which "bake" its various parts by the thousands.

Miss Bauer said it takes as long as a year, and as much as $100,000 to develop a new doll.

Once the parts are made, the doll goes through the various stages of painting and assembly—legs and arms attached to torso, head joined later because it needs the face made up and the "real" hair or painted-on-coiffure added

Children Write

As a doll moves down the assembly line one girl will paint on eyelashes, another brush on the mouth, still another spray on the rouge.

Ideal runs a beauty shop section, where doll hair—these days, realistic looking stuff made of curled rayon thread—is brushed, combed, cut and arranged. Most wigs now are stitched to the doll's scalp, since many manufacturers use vinyl, a pliable plastic which feels like skin.

But she and her staff can't forget an unusual one. The letter came from friends of a very sick little girl, whose doll was broken. They asked if Miss Bauer could get the doll repaired. In a few hours the good-as-new doll was on its way back to the hospital.

A few weeks later, this letter reached her desk:

"We're writing to tell you the doll you sent Dotty is up in heaven. She loved it so much her mother thought she would want it with her when she left us."

Place Emphasis On Traffic Safety For December

The traffic safety emphasis for the month of December in Indiana has been dubbed "Holiday Hazards" by the Indiana Office of Traffic Safety. December, with its bad weather and increased traffic, coming on the heels of a none-too-successful S-D Day in Indiana, as well as the passing of the Hoosier state's one-thousandth traffic death for the year, lends an ominous indication of the state's 1955 traffic death toll.

With highway deaths maintaining a steady three-deaths-per-day average, it seems hardly possible to contain the total under last year's final count of 1,077 traffic deaths.

In December of last year, 104 persons died in traffic during the Christmas month. The traffic death trend for last December swung away from the weekends as the high death rate days and concentrated on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday as the deadliest days; 63 persons died on those days in December, 1954.

Statistics prove two elements responsible for December's marked increase in traffic deaths: heavier traffic due to Christmas shopping and increased social activities. These factors, coupled with bad driving conditions, form a deadly trap for Indiana's motorists and pedestrians. There were 29 persons killed during the week before Christmas, when Christmas shopping was at its highest point; 20 persons died during the eves of Christmas and New Years, when parties and visits are most numerous; 9 died on Christmas Eve; 11 more were killed on New Years Eve.

The Indiana Office of Traffic Safety lists four general rules for Hoosiers to drive by during December.

1. Obey all laws and regulations on the highways, with particular emphasis on speed.

2. Stay alert while driving or walking. It's too eay for some to enter into the holiday spirit and exist in a world of semi-reality during the holidays. It is this lack of awareness that kills every Christmas.

3 . Be especially careful to avoid driving when excessively fatigued. A tired mind and a tired body produces very slow reaction times. This also applies to holiday shoppers.

4. Don't drink and drive. There are those persons who claim drinking doesn't affect their driving. There are coffins and coffins full of them.

Temper all these rules with good common sense, and the holidays will not be marred by a traffic death. Remember, the life you save may be some child's Santa Claus - maybe your child's.

Don't Be Alarmed, Santa, Christmas Trees Really Pink

CHICAGO — (UP) — Pink elephants, pink champagne, pink mink — and now live pink Christmas trees.

The world's largest processed Christmas tree firm, Halvorson Trees of Duluth, Minn., this year is producing pink trees in a big way for the first time.

"We've processed pink trees before," said Roy Halvorson, president, "but this is the first year we're mass producing them. Which means pink trees at popular prices for the first time."

Halvorson started his business during the depression. He decided that the tops of the scraggly spruce trees north of Duluth would make fine small Christmas trees for dinner tables and small apartments

Trial and Error

For months, Halvorson cut trees on week ends and brought them home. He and his wife, Ede, tried out hundreds of ways to color and preserve them. At last they hit on a solution of water and plant food which, when sealed in a metallic tree base, acts as an artificial sap and keeps the trees fresh for weeks, even in a warm room.

The tree tops are cut and hauled to the Halvorson factory in trucks Then they're treated, colored and "frosted" with a special colored powder in a wind tunnel. Some 20 carloads a day are shipped out on railroad tracks directly from the factory during the Christmas rush season.

Only the tops of the trees leave the forest. The rest of the tree is left to decay. Halvorson says that rather than being wasteful, the cutting actually is a conservation measure.

Halvorson, in an interview here, said his annual business amounts to more than $1,000,000 a year. He sells in excess of 1,250,000 trees annually, but can't fill all the orders he receives.

Decoration Recipe

The miniature trees come in dark green, white, silver and the new pink. There's also a gift box including a tree and miniature ornaments and miniature electric light strings with bulbs about twice the size of kitchen match heads.

Mrs. Halvorson oversees the office work at the plant and "checks on every order."

Her favorite is the green tree which closely resembles the natural shade. And one of her favorite decorations is the old fashioned Scandinavian "spritz" cookie which can be made into ornaments of "S" and "O" shapes. Here's her recipe for these decorations:

Cream ½ pound of butter and 2-3 cup of sugar, then mix in 2 egg yolks, 2½ cups of flour and ½teaspoon of almond extract. Put in a spritz cookie maker (or a star-shaped cookie press with a small tip) and form into "S" or "O" shapes. Decorate with colored sugar or silver balls. Bake on a cookie sheet at 400 degrees for 8 minutes and remove from sheet while warm. When cool tie onto tree with thread.

Men Know There'll Be Sox In Yule Sox

NEW YORK —(UP) — A man's dead right if he complains he wants golf clubs but gets socks for Christmas.

The National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers is out with statistics to back him up.

The association said that last year 120,000,000 pairs of men's socks were bought as Christmas gifts — enough to provide two pairs for every man in the country from age 15 to 100 years. Socks outsold pajamas and ties, a couple of other gift perennials.

And this year, the association promised more socks would be bought than last year.

Half-Tree Makes One; Done With Mirrors

NEW YORK — (UP) —Use half a Christmas tree if yours is a small living room, and still have it looking like a whole.

It's done with mirrors.

June Cabot, home arts consultant for Libbey-Owens-Ford, suggested this method for decreasing the bulk of the tree. Cut off all the back branches and stand the tree against any wall space paneled with a mirror. The tree looks full size and the mirror's reflection also accentuates the lights, glass balls and other decorations.

Eisenhowers Plan First Christmas At White House

By PATRICIA WIGGINS
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (UP) —Christmas will be a candy-cane and stocking-at-the-chimney affair for President and Mrs. Eisenhower this year as they gather their family together for their first big Christmas in the White House.

Mrs. Eisenhower says that "Christmas isn't Christmas without the children around." So she has made many of the plans with the three grandchildren inmind— the first youngsters to spend Santa Clause season in the White House since early in the Franklin D Roosevelt administration.

And there's likely to be extra excitement before the White House holiday is over. Major John Eisenhower's wife, Barbara, is expecting her fourth child toward the "end of the year."

Family Circle

In addition to Major John and his family, the old-fashioned get-together will include Mrs. Eisenhower's mother, Mrs. John S Doud; Mrs. Eisenhower's sister, Mrs. George Gordon Moore, her husband and two daughters, Ellen and young Mamie; and possibly the President's brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower and his daughter. Ruth

The Eisenhowers reportedly planned as long ago as last summer, before the President's heart attack, to spend this Christmas at the White House.

The last two years the first family went to the little White House at Augusta, Ga. for the holiday. Last year, Major John and his family were at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

Christmas at the White House should be a wide-eyed time for lucky David, 7, Barbara Anne, 6 and Susan, 3. There will be a small tree upstairs, just outside Mrs Eisenhower's bedroom in the big hall which is called the private living room, and the usual towering evergreen downstairs decorated with tons of tinsel.

A Red Dress?

Mrs. Eisenhower, who finished most of her Christmas shopping before Thanksgiving, supervises the trimming of the family tree by White House decorators who also trim the one in the public downstairs rooms.

There's a good chance Mrs. Eisenhower on Christmas day will wear a dress right in keeping with the holiday and also in her husband's favorite color—red.

Pfc. John Davis Helps Give Orphans Banquet On Christmas Day

Pfc. John D. Davis, whose wife Lorena lives on R 3, is helping give some 200 orphans near Wurzburg Germany, a Christmas Day banquet.

The party, complete with entertainment, refreshments and gifts is being made possible by contributions from Private First Class Davis' unit, the 86th Infantry Refiment.

A demolition specialist in Headquarters Company of the regiment's 1st Battalion, he entered the Army in February 1954 and completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Life-Size Animals Newest Toy Fad

NEW YORK —UP)— Old Santa's plagued with a new packing problem this year.

It's those life-size stuffed animals, some so big it is doubtful whether they will fit in his pack and certain they won't fit in many living rooms.

"But the bigger they are, the better they sell," said many of the stores featuring them.

One Cleveland store told United Press it put a stuffed, life-size pony in its window at $295, never dreaming it would sell. It did.

It's a race between the elephant and giraffe on which takes up more space.

A Kansas City store featured a baby elephant six feet tall and seven feet long for $350. A San Francisco store showed an imported stuffed elephant, eight feet long, four feet high, made of brushed wool and topped with an orange canopied "sultan's chair," priced at $350. A giraffe from the same store stood nine feet high, five feet long, and cost $250.

Other life-size toys, include "a lioness and two cubs, available in a Cleveland store and a six-foot lion that roars, carries a rose in its mouth and looks out through rhinestone-studded eyelashes, on sale in New York.

One Philadelphia store went realistic in its animal offerings.

It advertised a live baby elephant "for the person who has everything," Priced, $7,800; gift-wrapping charge, 25 cents.

At last report, there had been no takers.

Cattle sheep and goats have an extra stomach that predigests rough feeds.

Local Grocery Stores Suggest Food Gifts And Variety Of Edibles For Holiday Tables

Editor's Note: To help you with your plans for the coming holiday meal planning for the family or for one or two, anw with your gifts of food, the Post and Mail shopping reporters have visited local stores to list and suggest some of the foods available.

Prices and brands have not been identified but many additional gift suggestions are found in the newspaper advertising sections.

Main Dish

In planning the Christmas dinner usually the first consideration is the decision on the kind of meat.

Offered in local markets are turkey, fresh beef, veal or pork, chicken, duck, goose and Cornish hen.

The cornish game hen is a breed of chicken with small legs and wings weighing about a pound and nearly all white meat. They are about the size of a squab and may be broiled, roasted or fried.

Much poultry is grown locally and whether buying direct from the producer or at the store the shopper is advised to order early.

Smoked ham is always popular and its color may be wanted at Christmas— Roast pork is a favorite for Christmas and is in good supply in the markets.

For a small family a choice might be one of the dinners frozen and ready to heat. One may choose turkey, chicken or beef. The dinners usually have some kind of potatoes and vegetable so that a salad, beverage, bread and dessert will complete the meal.

Individual beef, chicken, turkey or tuna pies are also a suggestion

If dressing is desired oysters and chestnuts are available. The prepared dressings packed in dry form are increasing in popularity

Fruits and Vegetables

In addition to potatoes and the frozen and canned vegetables are fresh green beans, corn-on-the cob, Brussells sprouts, brocolli, cauliflower and cabbage.

Plentiful and of good quality salad and relish vegetables to be found are celery, carrots, cucumbers, radishes, tomatoes, peppers, green onions, endive, leaf and head lettuce, parsley and endive.

Cranberries are a "must" at Christmas for their flavor and color and they come ready to serve as sauce or strained or as a frozen cranberry and orange relish. They may be cooked by one's favorite method or made into the popular molded fresh cranberry salads.

Pears, pineapple, bing cherries, Royal Anne cherries, fruit cocktail, avacodo pears, oranges, apples recommeded buys are Jonathans and Delicious, tangelos, tangerines, pink or white grapefruit, emperor or tokay grapes, white seedless or almeria grapes, all are used in making tasty individual or combination fruit salads or for giving.

A dressing with poppy seeds is especially suggested for fruit salads.

Dealers report that the California seedless oranges commonly associated with Christmas are arriving in local markets but they are limited in quanity and at present rather high in price.

Spiced grapes for making gelatin salads, spiced peaches, crab apples, cantaloupe, or halves of spiced red apples, mandarin and stuffed oranges, pickled onions, cauliflower, pickles, olives, red and green maraschino cherries may serve as gifts or add decorations, taste appeal and interest to the home feast.

Breads and Desserts

Red and green breads may be ordered in advance for the holidays.

The popular brown and serve rolls, prepared rolls all-ready to heat or rolls made from the package mixes are easy for Christmas dinner.

Pies from berry to mince or pumpkin are ready to bake, or crust mixes and a variety of fillings are time savers.

Cake mixes of today offer an almost failure proof good Christmas cake. Most require only the addition of liquid and eggs. Some varieties are white, chocolate, yellow, spice, marble, carmel, burnt sugar, angel food and sponge, as well as many flavors of frostings. Additional suggestions appear on the packages.

Mixes are available for fruit cakes as well as many brands of prepared fruit cake. Fruits and peels as pineapple, cherry, citron figs, dates, raisins, (seeded, seedless and golden) dates, figs, and other dried fruits are in the markets.

Nuts— English and black walnuts, Brazils, almonds, filberts, pecans, peanuts, fresh cocoanut are ready for baking or giving. Nuts are in the shell, shelled or sealed in tin cans.

Plum, fig and date puddings are ready for Christmas feasting or giving.

Christmas cookies made at home or purchased may be served with ice cream, which may have trees, bells and Santa centers.

Oysters may be used for stew or the frozen soup may be quickly prepared for easy holiday entertaining. Oyster crackers or the prepared toasted croutons from bread may be a choice to serve with the stew.

Ready to serve eggnog which this year comes with recipes for additional dishes is available.

Popcorn supplies for the holiday are plentiful, including the kind that pops right in the container

The old fashioned hard candies, boxes of candy, marshmallows stuffed dates and figs, mints and candy canes are ready for decorating, gifts and to serve from home candy jars.

Especially packaged for holiday giving are tins of tobacco and cigarettes.

Jellies and preserves come in special Christmas cases, some with 12 jars. Another chest had 15 jars, in two layers of assorted foods as chili, catsup, pickles, jelly, relishes, plum pudding and mincemeat.

Another package had six varieties of cheese. Tins of peanuts, cashews and mixed nuts were packaged for Christmas giving.

One company had a case of twelve jars of assorted canned fruits in glass containers.

Hams and turkeys have special Christmas gift wrappings.

Gifts of fresh fruit in trays, boxes and baskets may be combined with jellies or other prepared products to suit the taste of the giver. Trays with the Indiana map and flower might be used or perhaps one with Christmas decorations.

Merchants have a variety of baskets, imported from many sections of the globe where the art of weaving baskets is handed down from one generation to the next.

Oak or ash splint baskets come from New England. Cornucopias are used for both Christmas and Thanksgiving.

A casserole in a basket might have fruit cake or some other baked specialty from the giver.

A basket with a gift copy of a newspaper or magazine subscription might be used as a container.

There are many novelty shaped baskets for candy, rolls, crackers, fruits and flowers, as well as bed baskets for pets or baskets to carry cats and dogs.

Shopping baskets on small wheels are helpful in carrying groceries.

Cranberry Relish Variations Are Many

CARBONDALE, Ill. — (UP) — Some cooks like to vary cranberry relish, which is a traditional accompaniment to the holiday turkey or chicken.

Here are some suggestions from home economists at Southern Illinois University.

Use a 1-pound size can of cranberry sauce as the base to make:

Grape relish —add 1 teaspoon of grated orange rind and ½ cup seedless grapes; stir together and chill.

Chutney — add ½ cup seedless raisins, ½ cup of chopped cored and unpared apple; ½ cup of chopped celery, and 1 teaspoon of ground ginger. Stir together and chill.

Pungent relish—add 2 teaspoons each of grated orange rind, coarsely chopped walnuts and pickle relish. Stir together and chill.

Agricultural engineers at Purdue University report that an extra hour spent in storing the combine this fall may save dollars next season. Run the combine with all elevator doors and sieves wide open with full fan blast to clean out straw and chaff. Lubricate all bearings. Loosen canvas and rubber belts and if outdoor storage is necessary, remove the belts. Block the machine up to take pressure off tires.

Ted Kluszewski Leads First Basemen In Fielding Again

NEW YORK (UP)—Ted Kluszewski is no "Fancy Dan" but his sharpest critics must admit he gets the job done.

That was the testimony of the National League's official fielding statistics. They revealed today that the Cincinnati Redlegs' 235-pound slugger set a major league record by leading the circuit's first-baseman in fielding for the fifth consecutive season.

Kluszewski handled 1,482 chances and committed only eight errors this year in compiling a .995 average that beat out Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals by .002 points. Over the last five years Kluszewski has handled a total of 6,844 chances and made only 33 errors for a .995 percentage.

Shared Old Record

Kluszewski previously shared the record for leading first-basemen in fielding four straight seasons with Dan McGann, Chick Gandil, Joe Judge and Charley Grimm. Grimm led the N.L. in fielding nine times for an all-time mark now within Kluszewski's range.

Kluszewski, who developed his muscles by loading 120-pound bags of corn as a youth in Argo, Ill., previously led N.L. first basemen in fielding with marks of .997, .993, .995 and .996.

In addition to big Ted, a team of players with the best fielding averages in the league would include catcher Andy Seminick of the Philadelphia Phillies, second-baseman Red Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals, shortstop Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs, third-baseman Willie Jones of the Phillies, outfielder Eddie Miksis of the Cubs and pitcher Art Fowler of the Redlegs.

Club defensive honors went to the Phillies with a .981 average while the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates led with 175 double plays.

Seminick made only three errors in 93 games for a .994 mark compared to the .992 average compiled by Brooklyn's Roy Campanella, the circuit's most valuable player Campanella was charged with six errors in 121 games.

Schoendienst topped the second basemen with .985, Banks led the shortstops with .972, Jones won his third straight crown for defense at third with .960, Miksis shaded Brooklyn's Duke Snider for honors among outfielders with .989 and Fowler handled 42 chances to top a list of 34 pitchers with averages of 1.000.

Too Persistent

DENVER (UP)—William Homer Hopfer began a 60-day jail sentence today for being too persistent in his bid for the affections of Mrs. Irene Giesecker..

Police said Hopfer drove onto her lawn, raced his engine and honked his horn under her window even though she once took a shot at him.

Recipe For Longevity

EMBARRASS, Wis. (UP) — Julius Barkow celebrated his 103rd birthday and contributed his own recipe for longevity: "Keep the doctors and lawyers away."

Expert Now Lowers Percentage Of Mentally Deficient Who Are So Because Of Heredity

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor

NEW YORK (UP)—An expert has further lowered the percentage of mentally deficient persons who are deficient because of heredity. He believes they number somewhat less than one-third of the total.

That called dramatic attention to a field of scientific research where new knowledge could result in immediate benefits to the race. But normal people shy away from it—the subject is unpleasant. So research is starved.

Anything which isn't due to heredity, is due to environment. Theoretically it is scientifically possible to control human heredity. But it isn't practical. Human beings choose mates and reproduce as they please.

But environment can be controlled qquite readiliy — when there is precise knowledge of the things in environment which do good or cause harm. The new estimate meant that somewhat more than two-thirds of mentally deficient persons are deficient because environmental things made them so.

Many Separate Factors

"As time goes by, additional environmental factors in the causation of mental defect come to light, said the expert, Dr. Brian H. Kirman, in the famous medical journal, "The Lancet." "No single one of these, so far as we know, is responsible for any big group but there seems to be a great many separate environment factors each of which makes a small contribution to the sum total of cases of impaired mental function."

He was critical of a trend "since the end of the last century' to attribute most mental deficiency to hereditary factors. This is perpetuated even in modern medical text books and cited one in particular which says that 80 per cent of all cases are "primary" — that is, out of the range of environmental controls.

Evidence Of Little Value

But a "more critical" appraisal of only last year showed "that much of the evidence of hereditary factors previously accepted is of little value, and that in perhaps only a third of all cases do genetic influences seem to be the most important. He indicated that his experiences show that it is even lower than that.

He was discussing mainly one known environmental condition, namely, German measles.

Dr. Kirman, who is deputy physician - superintendent of the Fountain Hospital for Mental Defectives in London, found seven children among his 791 patients whose mothers had had German measles in early pregnancy. His evidence that the infectuous disease had damaged the forming babe in the womb was rather conclusive in six of the seven. While the seven constituted only 0.9 per cent of the patients, he pointed out that it is only one of "the very many causes of mental deficiency and brain damage which are being discovered."

How To Display Christmas Cards

NEW YORK —(UP)— Let those Christmas cards serve also as Christmas decoration.

Fact of the matter is, most persons like to look at Christmas cards received by others. That's why it is a good idea to arrange those you receive so they can be seen. A panelled screen makes an excelent background, and if you're handy with a brush, you can sketch a garland of greenery around the cards. Intersperse the display with clusters of Christmas balls and pine cones.

Keep in mind that you will want to add cards as they arrive, so select a display area large enough to accommodate the extras. Kaye King, card designer for one firm, uses this trick to display those she receives. She cuts a large sheet of green oilcloth, in the shape of a holly leaf, tacks it to the wall and then pastes cards to it as they arrive. In effect, it makes a large holiday bulletin board.

With the addition of a large ribbon bow, you can fix the cards to a large, hollow circle cut from cardboard, and create a wreath for wall, mirror or panel. Wrap the cardboard in red or green crepe paper.

Display cards by fastening them to lengths of wide ribbon suspended from the top of a wall or around a wide doorway or arch; pin them to draperies around a central window; tie or paste them to the outside of a stairway to give them prominence in an entrance hall.

Mrs. James Bohnstedt

Mrs. Earl Hill, Mrs. Charlena Terman and Mrs. Elva Gruesbeck were hostesses Wednesday to the Troy Methodist Women's Society of Christian Services. At noon a carry-in dinner was enjoyed. The afternoon meeting was opened with prayer by the president, Mrs. LeRoy Marker. Mrs. Elva Gruesbeck read the Scripture, the lesson and Mission topic was given by Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Terman. Mrs. Ray Weaver gave a reading entitled "A Christmas Dinner Scene." A fifty-cent gift exchange was enjoyed, and a sunshine boy was prepared for the ministers wife, Mrs. John Krieg, who recently had major surgery. Seventeen members, two guests, Mrs. Don Goodrich, and Mrs. Robert Shook and eight children were present. Mrs. Hill served popcorn balls.

Forrest Van Voorst of San Diego, California, was a dinner guest Friday of his aunt, Mrs. Richard Jones of Fort Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bohnstedt of South Whitley were Sunday evening visitors at the James Bohnstedt home.

Mrs. Frank Marrs and daughters Nancy and Lana spent Saturday at Huntington.

Mrs. Bessie Sauers and Mrs. Claude Heritier have received word of the serious condition of their cousin, Miss Thurza Marrs of 849 Birch street, San Ana, California.

Connie, Debby Sue, and J. C. Kissinger of North Webster visited their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe DePoy, Saturday.

HOLIDAY SHORTCAKE

CARBONDALE, Ill. —(UP)—The home economics department of Southern Illinois University offers this recipe for one of the easiest-to-make holiday cakes available.

Mix together 1 cup each of chopped, fresh cranberries, apples, bananas and sugar.

Place in the refrigerator 2 to 3 hours to blend the flavors. Place between layers and on the top of biscuit shortcake. Garnish with whipped cream.

A shortcake can be made quickly of biscuit mix plus a little extra shortening and sugar. Yield, 6 servings.

Wrap some empty boxes in fancy paper to decorate the Christmas tree after all the gifts have been opened.

Princess Anne, Prince Charles Firm Believers In Santa

LONDON (UP)—Prince Charles, 7, and Princess Anne, 5, are firm believers in Santa Claus, a bewhiskered member of the Santa Claus family reported today.

The prince and princess visited Santa at a London department store Monday and whispered their requests into his ear. He refused to say what they wanted.

"It's a secret between us after all," he said, "but I can tell you it was something pretty ordinary. And the main thing is, they still believe."

The Santa Claus who refused to give his name is a 6-foot 2-inch employe who spends 1 month as Santa and 11 months as a door keeper.

Anne appeared more fascinated with Santa than Charles and could not keep her eyes off him. Charles whispered his request and then dashed off to look at an electric train without waiting for his sister.

Christmas shoppers bustled through the toy department unaware of the identity of the two children, who were accompanied by ladies in waiting. Charles and Anne conferred solemnly over one present and finally decided on a clockwork penguin for 6 shillings (84 cents.)

Eventually Charles took out his purse and bought that and a clay modelling set for his sister. He popped both into a green and white shopping bag he was carrying and carefully counted his change.

PERSONALIZED PACKAGES

NEW YORK—(UP)— Personalize your Christmas gifts by adding a monogram, made from glue and yarn, to the package. Draw the monogram with a thin line of glue and affix colored yarn to the moist section. Or, for glamor's sake, sprinkle sequins on the glue.

For a flavor treat, add ¼ teaspoon of mace to your favorite recipe for oatmeal drop cookies.

NOTICE

Dr. Heritier will be out of his office from December 26 until January 8. The office will be open as usual.

Oklahoma Is No. 1 Team; Coach Conditions His Team For Victory And Fans For Defeat

By JACK HEANEY
United Press Sports Writer

NORMAN, Okla. (UP) — Oklahoma is the nation's No. 1 team in ranking, scoring, rushing and total offense, but perennial pessimist Bud Wud Wilkinson fears Maryland's defense will take the bloom off the Sooners' Orange Bowl football hopes.

Wilkinson, in contrast to Maryland Coach Jim Tatum, believes in conditioning his team for victory and his fans for defeat. He never hints he thinks his national champions can win. His Orange Bowl prediction fits that pattern.

"I think all of the advantages are with Maryland," he said. "The best defensive team will win in any case, and I have a feeling Maryland is a far superior defensive team than ours — and they share the feeling."

Oklahoma's jet-propelled backs and linemen almost as fast are riding the crest of a 29-game winning streak, 53 Big Seven Conference games without defeat, and have scored in 105 straight games.

The Sooners beat Maryland, 7-0 in the 1954 Orange Bowl and another victory this time would all but clear the way for Oklahoma to break its own national record of 31 straight triumphs. The Sooners' first two opponents next season are North Carolina and Kansas State.

One At A Time

Wilkinson tries to prepare the Sooners for one game at a time, emphasizing each victory as equally important. But it's no secret the hopped-up Sooners want to win this one more than any other.

Tatum's predictions of victory and praise of his No. 3 ranked team has irritated many of Oklahoma's high-spirited players. An added factor is Tatum's unpopularity in Oklahoma while Sooner coach in 1946 — with Wilkinson as his assistant — and team leaders see the game as a contest between Wilkinson and Tatum. They don't want Wilkinson to come in second-best.

Wilkinson pointed out that in past bowl games the favorite lost about 75 per cent of the time, but said he did not think the psychological effect of a team's national ranking had any effect.

The 1955 Oklahoma squad averaged 36.5 points per game — well below the 1952 squad's 40.7 average — but many observers think this Sooner edition is Wilkinson's finest over-all unit.

Speed Is Key

The key this season has been speed. In halfback Tommy McDonald Oklahoma has one of the fastest backs in the game, equally dangerous running or passing. If the defense spreads to stop McDonald — as did Colorado — right halfback Robert Burris and fullback Billy Pricer churn through the middle.

Guard Bo Bolinger, an All-America, leads a Sooner line strongest from tackle to tackle. Center Jerry Tubbs, who may be crippled with a knee injury, made the All-America third team and has stood out as a linebacker.

Tatum's longing for revenge for the 1954 defeat. Oklahoma's desire to defend its No. 1 ranking, and the penchant for upsets in bowl games all are "just interesting sidelights," Wilkinson said.

"I honestly don't think those factors enter into it," he said. "They don't ever affect the outcome of a game."

Maryland game movies show the Terrapins are "by far the best team we've played," Wilkinson said gloomily.

"I think we'll play as hard as we can play," he added in his closest move toward a prediction. "If they beat us it will be because they played better."

Babe Zaharias And Walter Alston To Receive Awards

NEW YORK (UP)—Babe Didrikson Zaharias, famed woman golfer and Brooklyn Dodgers Manager Walter Alston have been named to receive the Graham McNamee Memorial Awards at the Sports Broadcasters annual dinner, Feb. 2. SBA President Don Dunphy disclosed it is the first time two McNamee awards had been voted in one year and also that it marks the first time the radio and television broadcasters had honored a woman.

Arnett To Receive Voit Memorial Trophy

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Jon Arnett, All-America halfback from the University of Southern California, has been selected to receive the W. J. Voit Memorial Trophy as the outstanding college football player on the Pacific Coast. Arnett, who led the Pacific Coast Conference in scoring with 108 points, is the first junior to win the trophy.

Narleski Signs 1956 Contract

CLEVELAND Ohio (UP)—Relief pitcher Ray Narleski, who made 60 appearances during the 1955 season, has signed his 1956 contract with the Cleveland Indians calling "for a very substantial increase." Narleski wound up the season with a 9-1 won-lost record.

Berra, Campanella Selected As Most Valuable Players

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP)—For the third time both Yogi Berra and Roy Campanella stand enshrined today as the most valuable players of their craft and on sober reflection you can't find too much fault with their selection.

The honors in the National League, you may feel, could have gone to such as Duke Snider, Don Newcombe or Robin Roberts. If you're an American Leaguer you may feel that Ted Williams, Al Kaline or Al Smith should have taken the laurels.

But when you compare chunky Yogi or roly-poly Roy with the immortal Bill Dickey you see just how valuable they are to their respective teams.

Don't think this is a "home town" decision. My personal choices would be Williams and Roberts. I can't conceive of anybody being more valuable to their teams than tall Ted is to the Bosox of the dazzling Robin is to the Phillies.

Voting Hinges On Wins

But much of this voting, and probably rightfully so, is predicated on leading your team to victory. Certainly, Yogi and Roy did just that— if you can select between Campanella and Snider of the Dodgers.

Yet the catcher's chore unquestionably is a dog's life. Remember that the players themselves call their equipment "the tools of ignorance." They lead the most strenuous life in baseball, directing the action, handling various pitchers, suffering from battered fingers and crushing contact at the plate as well as doing deep knee exercises that would quickly wear out ordinary mortals.

Still you can't evaluate the value of such as Yogi and Roy — who also are offensive stars — until you compare them with the mighty Dickey.

No one will question the fact that, with Mickey Cochrane, Dickey is regarded as one of the finest backstops in baseball annals. Yet both Berra and Campy are enroute to putting big Bill in the shade.

Dickey In Fewer Games

Dickey only once caught as many as 140 games in a season. His next most durable season saw him behind the bat in 132 games. For the 13 years which were regarded as his best, he averaged but 109 games per season. Campanella's average for eight years past has been 129 games a season, twice catching 151 games. Yogi's is even more startling, an average of 145 games for six years past, and he also twice caught 151.

Dickey's batting average is more impressive but he wasn't being worn to the bone behind the mask. When he hit his tops at .362 he received only 112 games. His next best, a .339 mark, came in 109 games.

Yogi batted .322 when he caught 151 games and .307 over the same distance. Campanella hit .325 in 143 games and .312 in 144. This year, Campy's mark was .318 in 123 games while Yogi batted .272 in 147 games.

Compared with Dickey, one of the immortals, you've got to rate them mighty high. Which means that, compared to the current crop their selection isn't a disgrace.

Gil Turner Wins Hard Fight From Young Jack Labua

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UP) — Gil Turner will campaign permanently as a middleweight, he announced today, because he had the "new strength" to win an unexpectedly hard fight with handsome young Jackie Labua Wednesday night in their TV-radio 10-rounder at War Memorial Auditorium.

His next opponent will be rugged Gene Fullmer at Madison Square Garden on Jan. 6, if not prevented by the eye-cuts he suffered while winning a majority decision over Labua of East Meadow, N.Y.

It was his first victory in four bouts, and he had to have the win over speedy Labua in order to get the "rubber match" with Fullmer. Philadelphia Gil and Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, had won a decision each in their two fights this year.

Turner, 25-year-old veteran of 60 fights has been bobbing between the welterweight and middleweight divisions for several months, but he will remain in the 160-pound division now, he said.

Manager Georgie Katz said, "we will make one exception. If Carmen Basilio will give Gil a shot at the welterweight crown, he'll pare down to 147 pounds and take it."

Wednesday night Gil, the 11-5 favorite, weighed 154½ pounds to Labua's 159, and he forced the fighting in every round. But 23-year-old Jackie's speedy hooking combinations in the many bristling exchanges made the fight so close that only Gil's superior strength in terrific middle rounds gave him an edge in the fight. And he appeared fresher at the finish.

It was Turner's 49th victory in 60 fights, and Labua's seventh defeat in 32.

Meditation

By REV. P. F. YOUNG
Evangelical United Brethren Church

"What Do We Believe?"
John 14:1-14

The previous words of Jesus had troubled the hearts of his disciples; He spoke of "His going away," "one of them would betray Him" and "another would deny Him."

These were not possibilities, it was not a nightmare, these were realities — they would happen.

The disciples were troubled, alarmed and desperate.

Jesus seeks to comfort them with the words "Let not your heart be troubled." Jesus anticipated the coming questions and immediately gave the answer in two parts, "Ye believe in God, believe also in Me."

Every Hebrew believed in God but they also need to believe in Jesus whom God sent.

Here hinges our entire Christian faith; To believe in God is not enough, we must also believe in Jesus whom God sent.

Jesus is not forsaking them tho He is leaving them temporally; He seeks not to terrify them, but they must be prepared for the truth; He now further comforts them in promises to be fulfilled later: "I go to prepare a place for you" and "I will come again for you."

There are times that try our faith; the outcome of the test depends on how much we believe in the fundamentals that Jesus taught in relation to his Father and to Himself as God's Son.

Seal Sale Reaches $3,000 Or 70% Of The Quota

Seal sale returns to date approximate $3000.00 or 70 per cent of the quota for the year. This amount is almost identical with the returns of one year ago at this stage of the seal sale.

Those who have not yet sent their contribution are reminded to do so as soon as convenient. If persons desire additional seals, or if anyone was missed when the seals were mailed, please contact the office of the Association, telephone 554, or call Mrs. A. H Moeller, executive secretary, at her home, telephone 149.

Seal sale dollars pay for many community benefits. School children from kindergarten through the 9th grade are patch tested for tuberculosis; tuberculosis clinics are conducted four times each year; and upper grade students, industrial employes, and the general public are given an opportunity to have miniature x-rays at least once a year. These are only a few of the many activities of your Tuberculosis Association.

Benson Predicts Lower Net Farm Income For 1956

1955 Estimated Income Has GOPs Worried

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—If Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson's prediction is correct, net farm income in 1956 will be about $10,200,000,000 down 400 million dollars from 1955 and $1,600,000,000 from 1954.

A net farm income of $10,200,000,000 next year would mean a drop of almost 14 per cent in two years.

This year's estimated farm income of $10,600,000,000, which was 10 per cent under 1954, already has Republican politicians worried well in advance of next year's presidential campaign. The predicted further drop of about four per cent — although much smaller than last year's decline — would add to their misery as well as hurt the farmers.

Benson told reporters Thursday that he expected farm income next year to remain at about the present level. But under questioning, he said that average farm income for 1956 as a whole would be lower than in 1955.

Benson's remarks to reporters squared with forecasts made by Agriculture Department economists in the publication, "The Farm Income Situation." The publication stated net farm income in 1956 "will probably show some decline."

Benson was optimistic in a carefully-worded 1956 outlook statement made Thursday before television cameras.

He said "this abnormal condition" of declining farm income in the face of a rising national economy "has about run its course."

"Some improvement in prices of a number of farm commodities can be expected in the year ahead," he said. He did not specify any commodities which he said would improve. He has said earlier that the live hog market will improve shortly. Hogs now are at a 14-year low.

Benson also said on the television sound track that "conditions in agriculture must improve if we are to maintain a healthy balance in our economy."

14 Local Students Attend IU Center

Patrick W. Allen, Barry K. Brennan, Mrs. Joan D. Brennan, Franklin Dillman, JJohn L. Fries, Harold E. Heeter, Albert Loutzenhiser, John H. Morris, Keith W. Prichard, Jack W. Rogers, Marlyn S. Sellers, Robert K. White, Kaye M. Winebrenner, and Floyd G. Wolfe, all of Columbia City are among the 1,037 students enrolled this semester at the Indiana University Fort Wayne Center.

There are 13,737 students taking work this semester at the University's 10 off-campus centers which represents an increase of three per cent over last fall's enrollment figure. The number of credit hours carried by these students has increased nine per cent.

The spring semester in the off-campus centers, will begin Feb. 6.

Kefauver Tells He Is Candidate For Nomination

For President; Third Democrat To Announce Formally

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver announced formally today that he is a candidate for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination.

The lanky Tennessean told a crowded news conference he again will wage a "vigorous campaign" for the highest office in the land even though he failed to win his party's nomination in 1952.

Kefauver said in a prepared statement that he will fight for the nomination in "a number of state primaries....as many as I can." The statement did not identify these primaries, however.

Kefauver is the third Democrat to announce formally for the party's 1956 nomination. The others are Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 standard bearer, and Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio who announced this week that he will enter Ohio's presidential primary as a favorite son candidate. Gov. Averell Harriman of New York also has announced that his name will be placed in nomination at the national convention, but he insists he is not an "active" candidate.

Kefauver pledged in his nomination statement that, as a candidate, he will "seek to maintain the spirit of unity which now permeates our party."

Receives Party Encouragement

But he added that he will, as in the past, attempt "to advance the forward-looking, progressive traditions of the Democratic Party which characterized the administrations of Presidents Roosevelt and Truman."

"We must continue to seek solutions to great social problems in human terms—something which the Republicans have signally failed to do," the senator said.

Kefauver recalled his statement at the conclusion of a European trip this past fall that he would confer with party leaders before deciding whether to run. Kefauver said today that he received encouragement "particularly from the rank-and-file members of the party."

"I therefore announced my candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination at the convention which will be held in Chicago next August," he said. "I intend to conduct a vigorous campaign. I will again contest in a number

School Board Names Mrs. Hill Secretary

Mrs. Mary Hill was named to succeed Mrs. Donald Helfrich as secretary to Max Gandy, principal of the Columbia City Joint high school at the school board meeting Tuesday.

Mrs. Hill is the wife of the late "Pete" Hill, who was a lineman at Goshen.

Mrs. Helfrich has been the secretary in the school principal's office for six years. She and daughter, Stephanie, eighth grade and son, Tommie, third grade will join Mr. Helfrich in Richmond where he is now located as an adjuster in the offices of the M. M Johnson Claim Service. They plan to move at the end of the semester.

An additional year's lease on the shop building on Van Buren street owned by Dr. Park Huffman, was signed.

The first semester of school in both the joint high school and in the Columbia City elementary schools will end January 20. Tests will be given during the mornings of Jan. 19 and 20.

Dick Sickafoose Has Appendectomy

Indiana Freezes In This Season's Coldest Weather

Warmer Today And Saturday, Colder Sunday

By UNITED PRESS

Indiana froze up today in its coldest weather of the season.

Temperatures plunged to one degree below the zero mark about dawn at Lafayette and South Bend while the mercury skid at Indianapolis went down to zero.

Weathermen promised a slight warming trend today and Saturday but colder weather again about Sunday. For the next five days temperatures were to average below normal.

Hoosiers weren't the only ones affected by the bitter temperatures. The cold wave stretched all the way from the Pacific Northwest to the East coast, with temperature readings of 35 below zero in parts of Wyoming and 20-foot-high snow drifts in parts ofCanada.

Car Kills Boy

In the South Bend area, additional snow fell Thursday night causing the death of a six-year-old boy who was hit by a car as he waited for a bus on Ind. 23.

Syria Asks U.N. Security Council To Punish Israel

Egypt Warns She Is Prepared For War

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UP)—Syria asked the United Nations Security Council today to punish Israel for an attack on Syrian positions and Egypt warned it was prepared to go to war to halt Israeli "aggressions."

The Council was meeting to consider a strong Syrian protest against the Israeli attack last Sunday near the Sea of Galilee. The attack cost 49 Syrian lives.

The United States, Britain and France expressed grave concern over the attack.

Syria, terming the raid "a flagrant violation and an act of open aggression and provocation by Israel," was expected to demand economic and military sanctions against the Jewish state.

Egypt May Act

Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser informed U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold that:

"In view of the Security Council's failure to prevent a repetition of Israeli aggressions, I'd like to inform you that the Egyptian government is forced to take matters into its own hands and won't hesitiate to use its land, air and sea forces to protect its security and maintain peace in the area."

Nasser cited six incidents of Israeli "aggression,' five of them against Egypt and the sixth against Syria. His warning was considered serious in light of the recently - concluded Syrian-Egyptian mutual defense pact.

Two Fronts Indicated

The premier told reporters in Cairo that if Israel attacked either Egypt or Syria, a counterattack "will not come from one side,' indicating a combined military operation.

In Washinton, Assistant Secretary of State George V. Allen called in Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban to convey American displeasure. Informed sources said Allen warned Eban the United States may have to hold up action on Israel's urgent request for American arms as a result of the clash.

If the Security Council should call for an arms embargo against Israel, the United States would most certainly abide by the decision, Washington reports said.

In Damascus, the government called for a "constant alert and state of emergency" on the Syrian-Israeli border.

Adult Farm Class Will Hold First Meeting

In the Vocational Agricultural room at Coesse high school Wednesday evening, December 21, at 7:30 p.m., all adult farmers will meet for the purpose of enrolling in the evening classes which will start January 4.

These classes, which are free to the public, will be held once each week for a period of 10 weeks.

Several topics of interest will be discussed with special speakers associated with the various fields leading many of the discussions.

Bitterest Cold Wave Of Season Chills Nation

Cold Wave Spreads From Killer Blizzard

By UNITED PRESS

The bitterest cold wave of the season chilled the nation from the Pacific Northwest to the Eastern Seaboard today.

The cold wave spread out from a killer blizzard that lashed Canada and the snow and ice were blamed for at least nine deaths in the two countries.

Near-blizzards were blamed for deaths in South Dakota andIndiana and icy roads killed two persons in Pennsylvania and one in Wisconsin.

In Canada, the prairie provinces were digging out from one of the worst blizzards in their history. There were four persons known dead and hope dwindled for a farmer and laborer missing since Monday.

Search crews bucked 20-foot-high drifts hunting for the missing men, but without success. Many Saskatchewan roads were still blocked by 10 and 12-foot drifts and snowplow crews and communiciations-line repairmen worked around the clock.

The massive freeze bit all the way to the Southeast coastal states and parts of the Gulf Coast early today.

Sub-zero readings, which included an icy 48 below in Montana Thursday, eased slightly in the nation's north today. Only the upper Misisissippi Valley shivered in below-zero temperatures. But in other parts of the country it was still the coldest weather of the season.

In Chicago, a biting six above was registered early today. It was zero at Minneapolis.

Some relief was promised for the Midwest today.

The wind-whipped snow created near-blizzard conditions as far east as Indiana Thursday, forcing three schools to close and spreading an ice glaze over streets and highways.

Even hockey players found the going too icy. A hockey game between the Toledo Mercuries and the Indianapolis Chiefs had to be postponed when the Mercuries' car skidded into a ditch.

Christmas Choral Concert By School

The Yule season will be made more beautiful again this year by the annual presentation of the Christmas concert in Marshall Memorial Hall at 8 p.m. Wednesday The program is given without admission charge, but there will be a free will offering.

This program is presented by Columbia City Joint high school and City School choral organizations and directed by Mrs. Merrill Munns.

The 73-voice high school choir, girls glee club, 7th and 8th grade chorus and the 6th grade chorus, 146 students in all, will join to stage a variety program.

Holiday Time featuring the high school choir and glee club in "Home for the Holidays" arranged by Don Craig," Christmas Alphabet," "The Christmas Song" by Torme' and "The Sleigh" by Kountz; also numbers by small ensembles.

Singing Christmas Tree formed by the 7th and 8th grade chorus singing Christmas Carols. The 6th grade chorus will sing around the tree and here will be found old Santa with his reindeer.

A candlelight processional by the high school choir will precede the singing of "The Song of Christmas" arranged by Ringwald.

Counter Tactics Against Soviets' Cold War Moves

Will Also Beef Up Military Defenses

PARIS (UP)—The West agreed today at a meeting of the 15 NATO foreign ministers to strengthen the political ties of the Atlantic alliance for a counter - offensive against the Soviets' new cold war moves.

The NATO Allies already had agreed to beef up their military defenses against the Soviets. Today the foreign ministers decided in a secret three-hour meeting to bolster their political action.

In another move to beef up the West's military power in Europe, the NATO powers announced they will build a brand new tactical air force with American units based behind the Alps in northern Italy.

The new move will widen the spread of Allied air bases now clustered in mid-Europe. It will strengthen the continent's air shield against Soviet aggression with United States aircraft and pilots to serve clear notice that no American withdrawal is planned.

A NATO spokesman said the new defensive air fleet will be known as the 5th Allied Tactical Air Force. He said new U.S. air units would fly in to join it on the northern Italian bases.

They also agreed to step up NATO propaganda at home and abroad to counter the steady barrage poured out by Moscow Radio and Soviet spokesman at home and

Bishop R. C. Raines Urges Us To Keep Christ In Christmas

Bishop Richard C. Raines will be speaking to thousands of Hoosiers each day during the Christmas season urging them to "keep Christ in Christmas" this year.

Appearing on television sets in every Indiana listening area, Bishop Raines strikes at the over commercialization of the Christmas season. He suggests a different way to keep Christ in Christmas in each of 10 half-minute announcements.

Taylor University at Upland, produces and distributes "Keep Christ in Christmas" seals and the Little Christophers distribute posters. Automobile window strips, Nativity seals and pamphlets.

The television announcements will be used during station breaks on public service time donated by the stations.

In a typical announcement, Bishop Raines states, "Let us put Christ back into Christmas this year by remembering that Christmas belongs to the children. Let our lives by their example lead the children who know us into the true Christams spirit."

Rachel Circle Holds Christmas Meeting At Don Anderson Home

Twenty-seven members and guests were entertained at the Don Anderson home Thursday evening for the Christmas meeting of Rachel Circle of Trinity Methodist church. Each member responded to roll call by telling what her family would like for Christmas.

Mrs. Hollis Peeler gave devotions and Mrs. Gerald Kessie discussed "Christmas — With or Without Santa Claus." Mrs. Kessie also read a short Christmas story "The Long Road" by Margaret E. Sangster.

Mrs. Argyle Beard, chairman of the group, poured coffee and tea at the prettily decorated dining room table which was centered with Christmas greens, balls, and a large red lighted candle. Sandwiches, cookies and mints were served.

The group exchanged gifts, of a small price, the remaining money usually spent for a gift being donated to a needy family.

Guests of the evening were Mrs. Don Gerbers, Mrs. Dick Fahl, and Mrs. Don Squires.

Zion Church Women Hold Christmas Meet At The Parish House

The annual Christmas Party and meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of Zion Lutheran church was held Wednesday evening, at the Parish House.

Prior to the business meeting, a sound motion picture was shown This film, "Suffer the Little Children to Come Unto Me," depicted the work being done by the Lutheran Child Welfare Association in Indianapolis. This children's home is supported by Missouri Synod Lutheran churches.

During the business meeting Mrs. Emil Schaper, chairman, announced the January 8th Congregational Meeting Committee as: Mrs. John Auer, Mrs. Carl Auer and Mrs. Ralph Knecht. It was announced that this meeting is to be preceded by a potluck supper for the entire congregation. The ladies responded to the request for workers and financial help in connection with the Sunday school party which will follow the children's program December 23.

Guests for the evening were Miss Bernice Carver, Miss Gretchen Poehler, Mrs. Ralph Knecht, Mrs David Sleesemann, Mrs. Charles Stanley and Mrs. Richard White Mrs. John Auer and Mrs. Ivan Parrish were received as members of the Ladies' Aid.

Christmas carols were sung and refreshments served by Mrs. O F. Lehmberg and Mrs. J. K. Muhlenbruch. As has been the custom in the past, the gifts exchanged at the Ladies' Aid Christmas Party are toys suitable for "stocking gifts." These gifts have been sent to the children at the Lutheran Home in Indianapolis.

Following the meeting a number of ladies stayed and wrapped favors and gifts for children of the Sunday school.

MEN SHOPPERS ARE GOING TO HAVE SPECIAL CONSIDERATION MONDAY NIGHT

How has the little woman been treating you lately? Who picks up the clothes you leave scattered all over the floor? Who lets you have a night out with the boys? Who rises early and prepares you a hearty breakfast which you enjoy while she is assembling your wardrobe for the day? Maybe we better look at it from the other angle. Forget her birthday? You and the mother-in-law getting along fine? Of course you didn't forget your anniversary, or did you? Let's face it man, any way you look at it you owe that doll of yours something special this Christmas. Don't give her something that will just make more work for her to do in the kitchen or basement. Give her something that will really mean something to her, give her a feminine gift. Ben, Del, and Roger are going to be on hand to take care of you Monday night. There is safety in numbers and we are expecting a big turnout. We've got a jillion items that will please even the most particular women. We have Prince Gardner Billfolds, Pretty Blouses, Belle-Sharmeer Hosiery, R & K Dresses, beautiful Coats, Sweaters, Jewelry, House Coats, Slips, Etc. We could just go on and on forever. Dupas And Lightburn 10-Rounder Tonight

NEW YORK (UP) — Ralph (Wonder Boy) Dupas and "Lightnin' Luddie" Lightburn, the worlds two fastest lightweights, will have a 10-round speed test tonight at Madison Square Garden.

And if the dodds-makers are correct, this TV-radio tilt between the whiz kids of Cauliflower Canyon certainly will scramble the ratings among contenders for the 135-pound crown.

Twenty-one-year old Lightburn of British Honduras is not even ranked among the top 10 contenders; but he is favored at 13-10 to beat 20-year-old Dupas of New Orleans, the number three aspirant who is unbeaten in nine straight bouts.

Only Duilio Lo: of Italy, top man and ex-champion Jimmy Carter are rated above rapid Ralph as possible challengers for Wallace (Bud) Smith's crown. And Ralph is willing to wait for the title shot until next October, when he's 21.

But Lightburn wants to smash into the ratings, high up, tonight and then ammer toward a championship fight as soon as possible.

Hondura Luddie, a former mohogany peeler who developed boxing skill by tossing leather at his sister, Hortense, is favored because of his aggressiveness and harder punch. He has an excellent left jab and good follow-up right. He knocked out 13 of his 41 opponents and was never stopped.

Like Pastrano, Ralph depends much upon speedy, baffling footwork — circling, side-stepping and shifting. He is a left-hooker, but he can leap in with two-fisted bursts to body and head. Many of his opponents have suffered face cuts because of the ram-position of his head when he plunges in.

Woman Convicted Of Manslaughter

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., (UP) — Mrs. Evelyn Mae Fuller, 31, today awaits sentencing on her conviction of manslaughter in the shooting death of her blind attorney husband last March 14.

A Vigo Circuit Court jury of 11 men and one woman deliberated about three hours before returning its verdict in the nine-day trial. The state had pressed for a first degree murder verdict.

Judge Herbert R. Criss fixed Jan. 4, 1956, as the date for sentencing. Maximum penalty for manslaughter is 2-21 years.

The defense contended during the trial that Mrs. Fuller accidentally shot her husband, Wallace, 48, during an argument and struggle for a 38 caliber revolver. The defense said the gun discharged accidentally during the struggle.

Fuller died nine days after the shooting and gave a death bed statement naming his wife as his assailant. Fuller's statement was admitted in evidence during the trial.

Turncoat GI Richard Tenneson Returns To Home

Turned Back On Own Country, Then On Communist China

By HOWARD T. RYAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

MINNEAPOLIS (UP)—Turncoat GI Richard Tenneson returned to his home and mother today after turning his back first on his own country and then on Communist China.

Mrs. Portia Howe, Alden, Minn., rushed up the ramp to Tenneson's plane with tears in her eyes and embraced him. He had once spuned her after she crossed the ocean to try to win him from the Reds.

Tenneson parried most questions by newsmen and Mrs. Howe pleaded "How can he be expected to evaluate? He just got home."

He assured his mother that he will go to church Sunday despite statements in Hong Kong earlier this week that he no longer is religious and does not believe in the power of prayer.

Asked if he will pray to God Sunday, he replied:

"I'll be in church and that's what you go to church for."

Now Uncertain about God

Tenneson said, however, he will "wait until I've been around here for awhile" before deciding whether he still believes in God. He said that right now he feels uncertain.

Mrs. Howe had said her son's statement about religion after his exit from Red China was her greatest immediate concern.

Mrs. Howe was crying softly but her son smiled broadly when they met and kissed on the ramp of the plane. When they reached the ground, Tenneson gave a big hug to his 12-year-old twin half-brother and sister.

The first question asked by the boy, Eben Howe Jr., was "Why did you cut your hair?" Tenneson laughed and replied he got a crew cut in Hong Kong after entering the free city from Ded China late Monday.

He stood back and looked at his half-sister, Jan, and held his hand at his waist.

"It seems funny, she was just about this big," he said.

Tenneson said he had had only the border.

Martinsville Children Christmas Seal Twins

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) — Two eight-year-old youngsters from Martinsville are Indiana's 1955 Christmas Seal Twins, the Indiana Tuberculosis Association announced today.

The association said Mike and Barbara Grosskopf were selected as being most typical of the children on the 1955 seals, and each were awarded a $25 Savings Bond.

Second place in the contest was won by David and Diana Gremza, seven, South Bend; third place by Sherrill and Carroll Cohee, five, Frankfort, and fourth place by Patrick and Patricia Thomas, six, New Albany.

Federal grading and stamping of beef was started by the Agriculture Department May 1, 1927.

Your lawn will get an earlier start in spring if it is green when it freezes in the fall.

Red China Wants Data On Chinese In United States

Demands May Delay Return Of Americans Still In Their Hands

By MELVILLE MARK
United Press Staff Correspondent

GENEVA, Switzerland (UP)—A series of Red Chinese demands on the United States coupled with a string of new accusations may jeopardize the early return of Americans still in Communist hands, diplomatic sources feared today.

The Reds demanded that the United States give names and information on all Chinese residents and assist the Indian embassy in Washington to contact these persons.

They accuse the United States of "outright violation of the letter and spirit" of the agreement for the return of civilians reached in the ambassadorial talks here.

The demands and accusations were contained in a statement handed to correspondents Thursday night at an unprecedented prerss conference at the Red Chinese consulate.

The United States denied charges but diplomatic sources feared that the demands may stymie for an indefinite time the talks between U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Red Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping Nan. The United States has been reluctant to disclose the identity of Chinese still in the country for fear of reprisals against their families in China.

Johnson and Wang met Thursday for the 30th time since the talks began Aug. 1. A brief announcement said only they would meet again next Thursday. But sources said that the United States may want additional time to study the Communist statement.

The five page Red document charged the United States with:

1. Failing to furnish a complete and detailed list of all Chinese living in the United States.

2. Pressing too hard for the release of Americans still detained in China and trying to set a time limit for their release.

3. Blocking attempts by the Indian embassy, acting for the Chinese Communists, to contact Chinese in the States to determine whether or not they want to return to Red China.

4. Attempting to pressure Chinese students against returning to the mainland by requiring them to have a Formosa entry permit.

Indiana Budget Committee To Act On Pay Increases

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—The State Budget Committee was slated to act today on requests for up to $1,000 yearly pay increases for all state department heads and state commission members.

The committee late Thursday authorized pay hikes of up to $600 a year for about 100 physicians and psychiatrists at all state institutions and laid the groundwork for a new Fort Wayne State School.

Dr. Margaret Morgan, state mental health commisisioner, had requested pay boosts of $1,800 yearly for physicians and $1,200 for psychiatrists.

The committee action will increase the monthly pay bracket of physicians to $600-$775 and of psychiatrists to $750-$975.

The committee also allocated $50,000 for architectural and engineering fees for the new state school to be constructed at the school's Oak Park farm colony at the edge of Fort Wayne.

Rep. Laurence Baker (R-Kendallville), committee chairman, said the school will be part of a 20-million-dollar, 20-year program aimed at expanding and improving educationa facilities for retarded children.

Other improvements are contemplated at the Muscatatuck State School near Butlerville which serves southern Indiana.

Mrs. Ivah Vogley, with Mrs. Bess Mayer, Fort Wayne and Mrs. Frank Byer, Rd. 14 left for Florida where they will be staying at the trailer court at Melbourne.

The Past Noble Grands club of Bethel Rebekah Lodge will hold their regular monthly meeting Wednesday at the IOOF hall. Members are to respond to roll call by telling something they like to do to make others happy at Christmas. Instead of a gift exchange the members have voted to give 25 cents each to the fund for Muscular Dystrophy. Hostesses for the evening will be Mesdames Herbert Hollenbaugh, Mrs. Mayola Tschantz, and Lester Crowell.

Hoosier Teachers Mark Ballots Today

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Indiana school teachers marked ballots today which will determine if the federal social security program will be integrated into their retirement fund.

The voting was held for 32,000 teachers throughout the state. Results from each school will be sent here and tabulated next week.

B. W. Johnson, executive secretary of the State Teachers Retirement Fund, asked State Board of Accounts examiners to help count the votes in the Statehouse next week.

1956 Income Tax Forms To Arrive After Christmas

N. B. Eshleman, Regional Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Cincinnati, Ohio, today announced that Federal income tax forms for use during the 1956 filing season will go into the mails in time to reach taxpayers between December 27 and January 10.

Each taxpayer who filed in 1955 will be sent forms from the Service's central mailing plant at Kansas City, based on his return for the previous year. Those taxpayers who have changed their addresses will receive their forms if the Post Office has a record of their new locations, Mr. Eshleman said.

Accountants, attorneys and individual taxpayers who may nned advance copies will find reasonable supplies of forms available at district and local offices by December 1. Farmers who file and pay estimated taxes by the January 15, 1956, deadline may also obtain the forms they require at district and local offices by December 1. All mail requests for forms should be addressed to the District Director of Internal Revenue at the office location where returns are filed. Local offices will be able to supply personal or telephone requests for limited numbers of forms.

Farmers who file and pay by the February 15 deadline and individual taxpayers whose filing deadline is April 15 were asked by the service to await mail delivery of their forms.

Mr. Eshleman also stated that slight revisions have been made in several of the forms for 1955 returns.

Lakers Defeat Syracuse Nats In Triple Overtime

By UNITED PRESS

Two new scoring records went into the National Basketball Association book today as a result of the Minneapolis Lakers 'hair-raising 135-133 victory over the Syracuse Nationals in a triple-overtime game.

The 63-minute battle at Syracuse produced a two-team total of 268 points to erase the old mark of 248 set in the same city by Syracuse and Anderson in five overtimes on Nov. 24, 1949, won by Syrarcuse, 125-123.

The Nationals' total of 133 points was the highest score ever posted by a losing NBA team, topping Anderson's total in that same five-overtime struggle.

In regulation time, Jim Tucker's jump shot for Syracuse with five seconds left tied the court, 105-105. In the first overtime, Chuck Mencel of the Lakers sank a long one-hander with three seconds left to tie, 116-116. In the second overtime two free throws by Ed Conlin of the Nats with 25 seconds created a 125-125 tie.

In the third overtime, Dick Garmaker's only goal of the game proved the game's biggest basket, putting the Lakers ahead to stay, 132-130 with 1:45 to play. Adolph Schayes had 34 points for the Nats and Clyde Lovellette 30 for the Lakers.

In the only other game played by Ernie Beck and Paul Arizin led the Philadelphia Warriors' to their eighth straight home-court win, 80-73 over Fort Wayne..

Jefferson Freshmen Team Defeats Chester 37 to 20

The Jefferson Center freshmer team defeated Chester township of Wabash County Thursday evening on Chester township's floor, 37 to 20.

At the half time Jefferson Center had a total score of 25 while Chester had only three.

High point men for Jefferson Center were Steve Hollenbaugh with 13 points, Sheets with 10 and Fairchild with seven.

Miller was high point man for Chester township with a total scoring of eight.

Jefferson Center reserves played the game in the last half.

Willie Mays Wins Slugging Crown Again

NEW YORK (UP)—Willie Mays, the New York Giants' brilliant centerfielder, today officially became the first player in a decade to win the National League's slugging crown two consecutive years.

Figures released by the Eliais Baseball Bureau revealed that the 24-year-old Mays compiled a .659 slugging percentage and also topped the circuit in total bases with 382. Duke Snider of the Brooklyn Dodgers ranked second in slugging with .628 while Ted Kluszewski of the Cincinnati Redlegs was second in total bases with 358.

Mays, who also led the circuit in slugging with a .667 percentage in 1954, is the first National Leaguer to win two straight slugging crowns since Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals did it in 1943 and 1944. Other National Leaguers who have won the slugging crown in consecutive campaigns were Johnny Mise, Chuck Klein, Rogers Hornsby and the late Hans Wagner.

Mays, who played in 152 games, compiled his 382 bases in 580 official times at bat. He collected 1[illegible]5 hits, including a league-leading 51 home runs, 13 triples and 18 doubles.

Snider compiled his .628 percentage with 338 total bases for 538 at-bats. He had 166 hits, 42 homers six triples and 34 doubles. Kluszewski amassed his 358 total bases on 192 hits, including 47 homers and 25 doubles, but failed to hit a single triple.

Musial ranked eighth in slugging with .566. His 318 total bases marked the 11th time he passed 300 in his career—an N. L. record.

Eddiei Mathews of the Milwaukee Braves, who ranked third with a .601 slugging percentage, led in bases on balls with 109. Richie Ashburn, the league's batting champion, ranked second with 105, while Kluszewski's 25 intentional passes were tops for that department.

Outfielder Don Mueller of the Giants struck out only 12 times for the best showing in that category. On the other extreme Cincinnati's Wally Post fanned 102 times. Peewee Reese of the Brooklyn Dodgers hit into the most double plays — 22 —, and Bill Bruton of the Braves into the least —two.

To Construct Plant East Of Mishawaka

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UP)—Rockwell Spring and Axle Co. of Corapolis, Pa., announced late Thursday it will construct an 11-million-dollar manufacturing plant just east of Mishawaka next year.

William H. Walton, company vice president, said the new plant will manufacture automobile bumpers and will employ about 600 persons.

Walton said Mishawaka was chosen because of its nearness to the Detroit auto market and because of the availability of water and power facilities used in electro-plating.

The firm has other plants in Indiana at Gary and Logansport, and 20 plants located in Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania and California.

Etna-Troy Wins From Jefferson Center 42-37

At Jefferson Center Thursday afternoon the Etna-Troy Eighth grade team chalked up a score of 42 to Jefferson Center's 37.

At the half time the score was 15 to 16 in favor of Etna-Troy.

High point players were Mowrey from Jefferson Center with 20 points, Tuggle 19 and Franks 16, both Etna-Troy players.

Sports Briefs

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UP)—The 44-man Michigan State football team was scheduled to leave by chartered plane today for its date with UCLA in the Rose Bowl Jan. 2.

The Spartans were forced into the fieldhouse for their final home workout Thursday because of cold weather.

MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—The North squad was complete today for the annual North-South football game in the Orarnge Bowl Dec. 26.

Jim Freeman, an end from Iowa, and center Buddy Amendola of Connecticut were the last players named to the "Yankee" roster.

NEW YORK (UP)—Wes Santee, who proved he's in shape for top-notch competition by running the fastest flat-floor mile ver seen in this area, says he isn't worried by the AAU's new investigation of his amateur status.

"Id be heartbroken if not allowed to run for the United States in the Olympics," the Marine lieutenant said Thursday night after clocking 4:10.2 for the mile in a special handicap meet here.

"But I'm not worried, because my conscience is clear. I never made demands on meet directors. I have always accepted expenses in good faith and made full reports on them."

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates announced today that Bill Burwell will act as a trouble-shooter for their farm clubs and also handle special scouting assignments next season. A veteran of 41 years in baseball, Burwell managed the Lincoln Chiefs of the Western League last season.

J. A. A. Schedule

A slight change has been made in Saturday's Junior Athletic Association schedule due to the Columbia Products Division's annual Christmas party in Marshall Memorial Hall Saturday afternoon.

The schedule is as follows:

7:30 Giants vs Celts
8:00 Bearcats vs Bulldogs
8:40 Trojans vs Comets
9:20 Stars vs Yanks
9:50 Kewpies vs Owls
10:20 Mudhens vs Pirates
10:55 Badgers vs Tigers
11:30 Crows vs Wolves
12:05 Midgets vs Panthers

Standings

The standings to date in the three leagues are:

Little League - Yanks 3-1, Stars 3-1, Kewpies 1-3, Owls 1-3.

Middle League - Wolves 4-0, Mudhens 2-2, Crows 2-2, Pirates 2-2, Tigers 1-3, Badgers 1-3.

Big League - Midgets 4-0, Comets 3-1, Bulldogs 2-2, Panthers 2-2, Bearcats 2-2, Trojans 1-3, Giants 1-3, Celts 0-4.

Touring Golf Pros Find Themselves Trailing Sam Snead

SANFORD, Fla., (UP)—The touring golf pros found themselves in the familiar spot of trailing Sam Snead today with a new course record to shoot at the second round of the $15,000 Mayfair Open.

The 42-year-old West Virginia golf king went to the front by two strokes in Thursdays opening round with a six-under-par 64 that gave Snead his second course record in four days.

En route to victory in last week's Miami Open, "Slammin' Sammy' set a record of 29 strokes on the back nine, and Thursday he added the eminole course record for 18 holes.

Trailing Snead into the second round came Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio, and Ted Kroll of ethesda, Md., at 66. After them, the field of 112 pros bunches up with seven tied at 67 including big money-winner Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y.

Snead's victim in the playoff for the Miami Open title, Tommy Bolt of Chtatanooga, Tenn., opened with a 68 that tied him with nine others.

On top of the list of 20 amateurs was Florida state champion Don Bisplinghoff of Orlando with a 69. Near the bottom came New York Giants' Manager Bill Rigney at 84. Giants' captain and shortstop Alvin Rark, who won the baseball players golf title last year, shot a 72, and Carl Hubbell, the former great pitching star, carded a 78.

Tied with Souchak at 67 were Jim Ferree, Winston-Salem, N.C.; Rut Coffee, Moundsville, W. Va.; George Bayer, Cincinnati; Pete Cooper Detroit; Gardner Dickinson, Jr., Panama City, Fla.; and Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill.

College Basketball

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer

The amazing evidence continued to pile up today that the Kentucky basketball team may have been badly over-rated.

Loaded with height and high-scoring veterans this was supposed to be one of the best teams turned out in recent years by Coach Adolph Rupp, the highly-successful "Baron of the Bluegrass." But a 62-61 victory over Maryland Thursday night, saved only by a desperate "freeze,' was the Wildcats third poor showing within six nights.

In other leading games Thursday night: Kansas State dumped Loyola (Calif.), 92-66; Oklahoma City's height proved decisive as Wyoming suffered its fourth loss in five tries, 65-59; Tulsa ran its record to 5-1 by beating Western Kentucky, 67-56; Yale crushed Wesleyan, 97-36; Tufts upset Harvard, 84-76; Tennessee trounced Springfield, 67-33; and Oklahoma downed Arkansas, 65-59.

No Stirring

In some factories, the paint used for finishing various products is circulated in pipes. The hose lines of spray guns are attached to the pipes containing the desired colors and the finishing process is completed swiftly and easily.

Many Eastern Indiana Farmers Disapprove Of Benson

KNIGHTSTOWN, Ind. (UP)—Sixty-three per cent of farmers voting in an Eastern Indiana poll disapprove of Ezra Taft Benson as Secretary of Agriculture, the Eastern Indiana Farmer said today.

The farm publication asked its readers to indicate only whether they approve or disapprove of Benson.

The paper circulates in Hancock, Henry, Wayne, Shelby, Rush, Union and Fayette counties.

Clarence Stewart Retains Attorneys

Clarence K. Stewart, Fort Wayne, arrested on charges of public intoxication and driving while drunk, has retained the services of attorneys to represent him in the Whitley circuit court where he is to stand trial. Edwin R. Thomas, Fort Wayne, and Robert E. Gates, Columbia City, have entered appearances for Stewart.

will have their Christmas dinner next Wednesday in the cafeteria when turkey will be the menu feature.

The Blue Bell personnel next Friday at noon will enter into the festivities of the Christmas exchange. In each department names are drawn early in the shopping season and exchanges of gifts result. While the exchanges are within departments, the entire exchange party is staged in the factory's cutting room.

The Columbia Club of the Columbia Products Division of the Weatherhead Corporation is in charge of the annual holiday party for employes and their children which is to be an event of 2 p.m. Saturday at Marshall Memorial hall.

Paul Mossburg, president of the club, will m-c the 12-act variety show which will feature the entertainment, Santa's visit with gifts for each of the 475 children, expected.

All children 12 years old or under will receive gifts, also candy and oranges. The variety show will appeal to them and their parents as well, Charles Argerbright, of the factory's personnel department, believes. The variety show will stress the Christmas theme and include: Saxophone quintet, "Deck the Halls" and "Angels We Have Heard on High" by Charlotte Fahl, Jerry Hosler, Judy Will, Bonnie Cullers, and Mary Jo Wysong.

Quartet, "A Good Man Is Hard to Find" and "Carolina Moon," by Jane Smith, Millie Michael, Alice Stevens, and Sharon Gaerte.

Tap Dance, "Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer," and "The Sidewalks of New York" — Melodie Ditton, Jon Reckeweg, and Jean Ann Hansen.

Duet and Electric Guitar numbers, "White Christmas" and "Don't Let Me Hang Around," by A. C. Trent and Ann Savage.

Trio, "O Christmas Tree," "There Is a Song in the Air," and "Away in the Manger," by Betty, Mydonna and Victoria Klopfenstein.

Instrumental music, "Frosty, the Snow Man, "Raggy Ann" and "There Will Be No Teardrops Tonight," by Harry and Roger Kelley.

Trio, "The Virgin's Slumber Song," "Winter Wonderland," and "Popcorn song," by Becky Cable, Judy Will, and Lynne Argerbright.

Tap Dance, "McNamara's Band," and "On the Sunny Side of the Street," by Linda Lou Nace, Sharon Nace, and Mary Byers.

Solo, "Christmas Song" and "O Holy Night," by Janice Anders.

Marimba solo, "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers," and "Silent Night," by Norma Engle.

Solo, "He," and "The Holy City," by Fred Smith.

Saxophone Quintet, "Come All Ye Faithful," and "We Wish You a Merry Christmas," by Charlotte Fahl, Jerry Hosler, Judy Will, Bonnie Cullers, and Mary Jo Wysong.

Mrs. Charles Argerbright will serve as accompanist for the performers, all employes or their children.

Mrs. Fred Hendrickson Dies; Rites To Be Held In Georgia

Friends in this city have been notified of the death of Mrs. Fred Hendrickson which occurred Wednesday. Death occurred in a hospital at Savannah, Ga.

Mrs. Hendrickson, who had been a resident of St. Simon Island, Ga. had been in declining health for some time. She was the former Anna Clapham of this city and was the last of her family. Mr. Hendrickson died some years ago.

Mrs. Hendrickson is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Lester Oltman of St. Simon Island, Ga., and a granddaughter, Betsey.

Big Three Holds Soviet Liable For Obligations

Assumed By It In 4-Power Agreements

By JOSEPH FLEMING
United Press Staff Correspondent

BERLIN (UP) — The Western Allies said today in a statement they will hold the Soviets responsible for four-power agreements on Germany despite the Soviet grant of sovereignty to East Germany.

The American, British and French embassies in Bonn issued separate statements affirming their right to Berlin soon after West German scrap dealers disclosed the Communists had seized 11 westbound trucks worth $183,000 in another effort to force recognition of the East government.

The Big Three statements rejected the contention of Soviet Ambassador G.M. Pushkin that East Germany can limit Western Allied rights in Berlin as threatened recently by both the Soviets and the German Communists.

The embassies said the Western powers made it clear to the Soviets in their note to Moscow Oct. 3 that "they continue to hold the Soviet government responsible for the obligations assumed by it in the quadri-partite (four-power) agreements regarding Germany."

They said this remains the position of the West.

Later, it was disclosed that the three Western ambassadors sent similar notes to Pushking, repeating the views disclosed by the statements.

Summarized Sire Owned By Whitley County Dairymen

As released by the American Guernsey Cattle Club of Peterborough, New Hampshire, the registered bull, Terra Vista John, owned by Leo H. Miller and Metzger Brothers of South Whitley, has become a summarized sire. To attain this distinction, a bull must have at least 10 daughters with official production records.

This bull has 15 tested daughters that have made 32 official records which average 9,514 pounds of milk and 476 pounds of fat on twice a day milking for 305 days.

This bull was bred by F. A. Walker of Middlebury. His sire was Pine Manor King's Immage and his dam was Mayo's Mary.

His most outstanding daughter is South View J. Mistress with a record of 9,402 pounds of milk and 505 pounds of fat.

abroad.

The ministers studied proposals for giving the Atlantic alliance a full-dress political council or delegating political powers to the present permanent NATO ambassadors to tighten their alliance against the Soviet initiative.

"A slap in the face of one NATO country will be a slap in the face of all of us," one minister said as he emerged from a conference room.

NATO conferees said the ministers made such progress at this second day of the three-day session that they might be able to wind up the conference with a communique tonight.

The foreign ministers meeting—which excluded most of their aids—was called specifically to plan strategy that could win in the "new cold war front" in the Middle East and Southeast Asia.

Secreary of State John Foster Dulles gave that name Thursday to the new Russian-paced arsm race in the Middle East and the new Russian propaganda offensive in India and Burma and now in Afghanistan.

Dulles gave no advance information on U.S. strategy to be outlined at the morning session, but Western sources said the new Western strategy must not close the door on an eventual settlement with Russia — when and if Russia relaxes its new diplomatic war.

The morning conference was limited to the 15 foreign ministers and two each of their aides. Their program was long-range but they were faced with some immediate action, especially in the Middle East that has hovered for weeks between peace and war.

The foreign ministers and their defense and finance ministers called a full session for later in the day. It could well be one of the most important NATO sessions in years for diplomatic solidarity depended on economic, political and cultural solidarity.

The discussion centered on Article II of the NATO treaty—closer economic, political and cultural ties. An influential Paris newspaper, Le Monde, commented that each year the Atlantic Council mentions it "without ever deciding the least concrete measure to put it into effect."

Western quarters said it was high time to put the article into action, first by aligning the foreign policies of the NATO countries more closely and then setting up a self-help "Marshall Plan" that would bolster their economies.

Indiana Freezes

The zero reading at the state capital was the lowest since last February 12 when the temperature dipped to one below zero.

Highway conditions were reported "normal" except for a few icy spots around the South Bend-LaPorte area. Secondary roads throughout the state were reported covered with packed snow and ice with no immediate prospects of a thaw to clear the less-traveled routes.

Main streets in most of Indiana's major cities were reported clear of ice with street crews working overtime to lessen the danger on glazed side streets.

The Indiana weatherman said temperatures today would climb to about 25 in most parts of the state.

Lows tonight will be about 15

Snow in Prospect

The five-day forecast is for temperatures averaging four to eight degrees below normal.

Normal maximums are 33 north and 42 south. Normal minimums are 18 north and 25 south.

Precipitation during the period will total about .10 of an inch in the form of rain or snow Sunday or Monday.

The weatherman said a warming trend will envelop the state Saturday, with highs ranging from 35 north to 40 south. Temperatures will turn colder late Sunday or Monday and then continue below normal until the middle of the week.

Highs Thursday ranged from 15 at Lafayette and 16 at South Bend to 25 at Evansville and 24 at Indianapolis.

Kefauver

of state primaries.

"Beyond the limiting factor of my work in the Senate, the amount of money available for campaigns and the possibility of conflicting dates, I will hope to enter as many as I can."

Attacks GOP Policies

In his statement, Kefauver attacked GOP policies as they affect business and the farmer.

"I will hope to aid in restoring an equitable relationship between industry, labor and agriculture," he said.

"We must act to restore farm income; we must re-examine our labor laws in the light of present conditions; and at the same time we must maintain an atmosphere in which business—and particularly independent and small business—can prosper.

"Most important of all, we must again employ our best intelligence and imagination in dealing with other nations in an effort to attain a just and secure peace. We must restore respect for, and confidence in, the administration of our foreign policy."

There were reports that Kefauver sent advance telegrams to Gov. John F. Simms, Jr., of New Mexico; Frank Fasi, Democratic national committeeman for Hawaii, and others saying he would become an avowed candidate.

In Honolulu, Fasi said his message from Kefauver stated:

"I'm announcing my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for president. During the course of the campaign, I shall do my utmost to add to the unity and strenth of our party."

With his candidacy virtually a foregone conclusion, the big question was: What state presidential primaries will Kefauver enter and in which ones will he directly challenge Stevenson?

The Minneapolis Tribune said in

The Minneapolis Tribune said in a copyrighted story today that Kefauver would enter Minnesota's March 20 primary against Stevenson. If quoted as itis sourrce an unnamed "high official" of Minnesota's Democratic Farmer Labor Party.

Would Be First Test

It this proves true, Minnesota could provide the first test of strength between Kefauver and Stevenson. Stevenson presumably would have an edge there since he has been endorsed by Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) and by the Central Committee of the Democratic Farmer Labor Party.

If Kefauver steers clear of Minnesota, it was considered likely that aClifornia's June 5 primary would provide the main pre-convention battleground between the two candidates. Stevenson already has announced definitely he would enter that contest and Kefauver has said he "most certainly" would too if he became a candidate.

Besides California and Minnesota, Stevenson will enter primaries in Illinois April 10, Pennsylvania April 24, and Florida May 29.

Kefauver also was expected to run in the New Hampshire primary, which launched his 1952 drive for the presidential nomination.

U.N. Security Council Seeks New Answer To Impasse Over Election

By BRUCE W. MUNN
United Press Staff Correspondent

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP) — United Nations delegations met in hasty conferences today in an effort to settle a deadlocked Security Council election which forced extension of the 10th annual session until midnight Tuesday.

The General Assembly, originally scheduled to adjourn Friday night, will meet again to try to decide which nation will occupy a Security Council seat which becomes vacant Jan. 1.

There was serious doubt as to whether the council could function legally if the seat were left vacant It was hoped that private consultations during the weekend would solve the impasse in time to get the delegates home forr Christmas.

The assembly rejected Friday night a plan proposed by assembly President Jose Maza of Chile to draw iots for the seat.

Backed By U.S.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. and Britain's Sir Pierson Dixon threw the full weight of their governments behind the plan.

Maza's plan was that the Philippines and Yugoslavia, deadlocked through 34 ballots taken since Oct. 14, should draw lots to decide which should withdraw from the running.

At the same time, they entered a "gentleman's agreement" that the winner of the drawing would srve only half of the two-year term provided for non-permanent Security Council members under the U.N. charter.

The loser of the draw then would be elected to fill the "unexpired' term of the winner, who would "resign."

Mid-Evening Drawing

This plan was evolved after daylong conferences Friday. With Lodge and Dixon looking on, the drawing was held in mid-evening in Maza's office.

Maza was blindfolded and made the draw. He drew Yugoslavia.

Maza announced the decision to the General Assembly and declarred that he would take full "moral responsibility" for it. Lodge and Dixon, with some help from France's Herve Alphand, supported the president.

But parade of delegates, led by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kznetsov and Sir Leslie Knox Munro of New Zealand, council president for December, took the rostrum to denounce the plan as contrary to provisions of the U.N. charter.

Mrs. William Noble To Reside In California

Mrs. William Noble left this morning, with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shoemaker, for Inglewood, California. They are driving her car through.

A week ago Mrs. Noble had a sale disposing of her farm and equipment in Etna-Troy township She will reside with the Shoemakers at 10613 Freeman Avenue Inglewood 2, California.

Meditation

"If ye love me, keep my commandments...He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me...If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him."

John 14:15,21,23

Ties at Christmas and gifts on anniversaries have never been as convincing to me of my wife's devotion as has been her faithfulness to the tedious and aggravating little jobs that make up a homemaker's day. Any woman who would faithfully sew on hundreds of buttons, wash and unending parade of dishes, and make life happy for me in a million little ways—must be truly devoted.

And surely as our texts suggest sporadic Christmas and Easter displays of devotion to God, must leave Him quite un-convinced of our devotion and love for Him. He who knows what manner of spirit we are of, is convinced of our love only to the degree of our unwavering loyalty to His commands—not of our periodic claims to devotion.

In this time of festivity let us pray: "Lord, make me always faithful to thy commands that Thou might come and make Thine abode in my life, even as Thou hast promised."

Bricker First ActualCandidate GOP Nomination

Candidacy Satisfies Legal Technicality

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP) — Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) became the first actual candidate for the 1956 Republican presidential nomination Friday, but his candidacy was only to satisfy a legal technicality.

Ohio's delegation to the GOP national convention in San Francisco next August actually was lined solidly behind President Eisenhower in event the President announces he will be a candidate.

The Ohio Republican State Central and Executive Committee named Bricker as its "favorite son" and named H. Chapman Rose, under secretary of the treasury, as its second choice at a meeting here Friday.

Bricker said, in consenting to run, that he was "privileged to join with Ohio Republicans in restating our loyalty to President Eisenhower and our desire that he stand for re-election . . ."

Bricker explained that he was named to satisfy primary election laws here "in a way that is consistent with loyalty to the President and that still does not weaken Ohio's voice in the convention nor embarrass the President with demands for an untimely decision."

Stamp To Honor The Birthday Of Benjamin Franklin

Postmaster General Arthur E Summerfield today announced that a special stamp to commemorate the 250th anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin will be first placed on sale on January 17, 1956, at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

The central subject of the stamp is a reproduction of a painting entitled "Franklin Taking Electricity from the Sky" by Benjamin West, now in the possession of Mr. Wharton Sinkler of Philadelphia.

The wording "U. S. Postage" and the denomination "3c," arranged in two lines, appeard in the upper right corner in white-face Gothic. In a panel at the bottom of the stamp is the lettering "Benjamin Franklin 250th Anniversary," arranged in two lines.

Steals Roof

WASHINGTON (UP) — Charles Edward Beard was sentenced to 360 days in jail Thursday for stealing a roof.

Judge Armond W. Scott imposed the sentence on Beard for ripping copper roofing from a new $22,000 building and selling the sheets to a local junk dealer.

James Briggs To Be In DePauw Band

James Briggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Briggs, freshman at DePauw University, has been selected to play with the university's concert band during the 1955-56 season. He will be a member of the cornet and trumpet section.

The concert band opened its season at the university December 14 with a program of classical and light classical selections, marches, and Christmas carols in Meharry Hall.

The 75 piece concert group is directed by Professors Franklin Inglis and Dan Hanna.

James was graduated from Columbia City Joint high school.

IUE Says Offer By Westinghouse To Be Examined

Says Offer Of Christmas Loan Just A Bribe

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The International Union of Electrical Workers said today an offer by Westinghouse Electric Corp. to give 55,000 striking employes a $100 Christmas loan was a "bribe' aimed at breaking a solid strike front.

"The Westinghouse offer is a recognition that its back-to-work movement has failed,' IUE Secretary-Treasurer Al Hartnett said. "They have offered a bribe."

Robert Nellis, chairman of the IUE - Westinghouse Conference Board, said the union will "neither recommend nor rreject' the offer.

"We want some time to examine it for tricks," he said.

Gwilym A. Price, company prresident, said the money to help prrovide a "decent Christmas' for strikers' families could be repaid without interest in "modest installments" when the walkout is over.

Won't Prolong Strike

"We recognize that some people may feel that we are prolonging the strike by subsidizing the strikers," Price said. "We don't think so.

He added that employes could accept part or all of the offer. The money will be distrributed to employes applying for loans at plants starting Monday.

Price said the holiday loans would be available additionally to non-striking workers furloughed as a result of the walkout and strikers who have returned to work. It was estimated up to 70,000 employes would be eligible.

The IUE called 44,000 employes at 30 Westinghouse plants out on strike Oct. 17. The United Electrical Workers (Ind.) called its 11,000 Westinghouse members out on strike a week later in a similar dispute over wages and length of contrarct.

The Westinghouse offer also drew a blast from Daniel Marguréit, president of UE Dist. 6.

The proposal, "to say the least, is inconsistent,' he said. "However, it seems that consistency is not a Westinghouse virtue."

In making the offer, Westinghouse said it could "see no reason why the deadlock over terms of a union contract should mean a bleak Christmas for thousands of children who would never quite understand why Santa passed them by.'

Federal Mediator John R. Murray met with company negotiators Friday to find a "new angle" for a basis of further negotiations. There was no announcement of possible progress.

Local Teachers Favor Joining Social Security

City Teachers Vote 32 To 16; County Teachers Favor Plan 3-To-1

The classroom teachers in the Columbia City schools voted Friday two to one to join the federal social security plan. In the Whitley county schools, with but two schools not yet reported, the vote was 75 per cent in favor of joining the social security plan.

The vote in the Columbia City schools, according to E. E. Glenn city superintendent, was tabulated as follows:

For social security	32
Against the plan	16
Not voting	2

In the county school system, according to County School Supt. Harry Yoder, the vote (incomplete) was as follows:

For social security	82
Against the plan	27

The two schools whose ballots were not included in the above figures were the Etna-Troy township school and the South Whitley schools. Their tabulation is expected to arrive at the county school superintendent's office before the end of the day.

Returns on the teacher voting made at Indianapolis, although unofficial and incomplete, indicated that the public school teachers had voted 2-1 in favor of adding social security benefits to their present teachers' pensions.

If the plan is finally approved, as the voting returns indicate teachers upon retirement would draw social security as well as benefits from an existing Indiana State Teachers' Retirement fund.

The votes from all classroom teachers in Indiana will not become official until next week. The tabulations on the referendum will be opened Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, in the statehouse in the presence of the public and the press, according to Aaron T Lindley, state public school superintendent.

Balloting took place in all the schools Friday. Each teacher was handed a ballot and an envelope by the principal and an appointed teacher. The balloting was done secretly and the ballot enclosed in the plain envelope. A register was signed by the teacher when the ballot was received. When the voting was completed, the envelopes were opened and the school's tabulation made. The ballots and tabulation blanks were then delivered to the school superintendents. From the superintendents' offices they are to be forwarded to the state for final tabulation.

Two Whitley County Students Make Honor Roll At Manchester

Two students from Whitley county are among the 76 students listed on the Dean's Honor roll at Manchester college for the fall term as announced by Dr. Earl S. Garver, dean of the college.

Dale Neher, freshman and son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Neher of South Whitley, received high honors, achieving straight A's. He is a graduate of South Whitley high school.

Albert Bohnstedt, a sophomore and the son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Bohnstedt of Etna-Troy township, was also named on the honor list. He was graduated from Larwill high school.

They are majoring in elementary education.

Thieves Take Christmas Trees

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UP)—Mrs. Roscoe Yoder told police thieves took 49 of 50 Christmas trees from her grocery store Tuesday night and returned Wednesday night for the last one.

Disgusted

MEXICO City (UP) — Silvano Delgado, hospitalized with a deep wrist cut, explained to doctors today he was so disgusted with his 'ugly face" he smashed his bathroom mirror with his fist.

$123 Still Needed For Christmas Fund

Exam May Give Ike Hint About Political Future

To Have Extensive Check-up Today

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP)—President Eisenhower had a doctor's appointment today that might give him some hint about his political future.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston heart specialist, and a staff of physicians planned to put Mr. Eisenhower through an extensive check-up. They want to know whether the Chief Executive's recent increased activity has hampered his recovery from a heart attack Sept. 24.

During the examination at the Eisenhower farmhouse the doctors will punch, listen to and electronically plumb the President in their evaluation of his present condition.

Hint Might Result

From the examination some hint might come of the President's ability to face up physically to his political future. But however favorable White's prognosis might be, the nation would learn today whether Mr. Eisenhower intends to run for reelection.

White might tell the President that he may resume a fairly normal life after completing his medically supervised convalescence.

White has said in the past that most of his coronary thrombosis patients are able to resume normal lives. But the doctor adds quickly that he never has had a President as a patient before.

White traveled to Gettysburg in a White House car from Baltimore Md., where he participated Friday night in a meeting of heart specialists.

Others taking part in the examination were Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, White House physician; Col. Thomas W. Mattingly, chief of cardiology services at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, and Maj. Walter Tkach, the assistant White House doctor.

Made Denver Examination

The New England doctor said after last examining the President in Denver Nov. 7 that "with increased activity something different might develop."

Snyder said in Washington last Saturday that the President, after sessions with the cabinet and the National Security Council at nearby Camp David, Md., was showing signs of emotional and physical fatigue. Snyder said he was recommending steps to "lighten the burden" of the presidency.

The President devoted most of Monday and Tuesday of this week to conferences in Washington with party leaders on the administration program for 1956. But late Tuesday he returned to Gettysburg and since then, has been loafing on his farm and doing as little work as possible.

U. S. To Continue Its Geneva Talks With Red China

Until All American Civilians Held In China Are Freed

By WILLIAM GALBRAITH
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States will continue its Geneva talks with Red China until all American civilians still held in China are freed.

It will do so despite its accusation that the Communists have broken their word on freeing the remaining Americans they still hold.

The accusation was made Friday night in a formal government statement which charged the Chinese with violating their September agreement to free all American civilians "expeditiously.' The statement was America's answer to a Communist Chinese charge that it is the United States which has violated the agreement.

Despite the bitter exchange, officials said, the United States has no plan to break off the Geneva negotiations with Red China. They said the United States thinks the talks may yet be valuable in winning release of the remaining American civilians in China and in getting Red China to rernounce use of force to settle territorial disputes.

Cited 14 Prisoners

In its statement the State Department said Communist China holds 14 Americancivilianltlsw still holds 14 American civilians although it agreed to release the U.S. citizens expeditiously last Sept. 10.

"All United States citizens who wish to leave should have been out of Communist China long before this," the State Department said.

The statement also charged that Red China is guilty of "cruel and inhuman treatment" of the American prisoners.

In making its charges against the United States Thursday, Red China demanded that this country give names and information on all Chinese residents in the United States and help the Indian Emassy contac tthem. bi bassy contact them.

No Representation Made

The State Department retorted that the Indian Embassy in Washington "has made no representation aht natyC hnei se i benseirg-p tion that any Chinese is being prevented from leaving."

American officials said British diplomats in Red China have been able to contact only two of the 14 American civilians still in Communist prisons. They are John Downey, New Britain, Conn., and Dr. Homer V. Bradshaw of New York.

said andBr ard- fcifaewsyDno iOl

Officials said Downey and Bradshaw both sent letters to the British charge d'affaires appealing for help in getting out of China.

State Department spokesman Lincoln White said Friday that "the great majority of Chinese in the United States travel on Nationalist passports and their allegiance is to the Nationalist and not to the Communist government."

Clarence Feist Reports Increase In Bond Sales

Clarence A. Feist, chairman of the Whitley County U.S. Savings Bonds Committee, has received a report revealing that the county's Savings Bonds sales for November were $100,454 compared with $38,479 for the corresponding month of 1954. Fifty-nine of the ninety-two counties reported sales gains.

U. S. Savings Bonds sales in Indiana were increased by 11 per cent over the sales during November of last year. Sales for the month were $13,309,986 and $11,985,746 a year ago. The national sales gain for the month was 3 per cent.

Indiana's quota of Savings Bonds sales for the year is $169,400,000 Jack Storms, director of the Indiana U. S. Savings Bonds Division said that substantial sales during the current month would enable the state to reach its goal.

Kefauver To Add Wisconsin And Perhaps Florida

To His Schedule Of Primaries

By JOHN A. GOLDSMITH
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver will soon add Wisconsin and perhaps Florida to his schedule of Democratic presidential primaries, informed sources said today.

The Tennesse senator's entry in the Florida primary May 29 would mean another clash with his rival for the presidential nomination, Adlai E. Stevenson. They already are committed to meet in the California primary June 5.

Stevenson, 1952 presidential candidate, welcomed Kefauver to the presidential nomination race Friday, saying "come on in, the water's fine." Kefauver said Friday night in a speech to Maryland Democratic leaders at Baltimore that he has "no desire to tear down" other democratic presidential candidates.

No Commitment Made

The 100 Maryland Democratic leaders before whom Kefauver spoke made no commitment to the Tennesse senator on their state's 18 votes at the Democratic National Convention. Baltimore Mayor Thomas d'Alesandro, Democratic committeeman, told the gathering, "We want to cast our votes for the very best man whoever he may be,"

Sources close to Kefauver predicted he will follow up Friday's formal announcement of candidacy by quickly expanding his primary schedule. So far it includes only California and probably New Hampshire, the nations first.

The sources said Kefauver is expected to add more states to the list after he names his campaign staff Tuesday.

Allies Pledge To Defend Freedom Of West Berlin

Withhold Recognition Of Communist East German Government

PARIS (UP)—U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today scheduled a series of conferences with advocates of a united Europe on an European atomic pool before flying home from the crucial North Atlantic Treaty Council meeting.

Dulles, before he takes off this afternoon for Washington, will confer with European union leaders Jean Monnet of France and Belgian Foreign Minister Paul Henri Spaak. He also will meet with French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay and West Germany's foreign minister, Heinrich von Brentano.

The 15 NATO nations Friday ended a two-day meeting that put new strength into the Atlantic alliance to meet the new Soviet challege to the free world. The Western Allies warned Russia they will defend the freedom of West Berlin and pledged to withhold recognition of the Communist East German government.

New Air Force

The NATO nations backed up their warnings by disclosing they have decided to set up a new tactical NATO air force behind the Alps in northern Italy to counter any Soviet aggression. American planes and pilots will form the striking power of the new 5th Allied Tactical Air Force and will be joined by Italian contingents.

The new force will be part of the new coordinated NATO air defenses that will also include a European-wide radar warning network.

Monnet is the French unity pioneer who was the first chairman of the Schuman coal-and-steel pool lan and now heads an action committee for a United States of Europe. Spaak is the architect of a projected six nation atom pool, Euraton.

Plans for Euration are almose completed and Dulles has hinted he may be ready to support them if the European nations can agree. That is still the snag.

WEATHER

Partly cloudy with snow flurries today. Mostly fair and colder tonight. Sunday mostly cloudy with snow and little change in temperature. High today 30, low tonight 12.

The outlook for Monday is partly cloudy and cold.

Finding Gifts For The Hims No Trouble, Our Surveys Of Men's And Sports Shops Reveals

Gifts for the Hims loom large on the Christmas shopper's list as there are almost as many Hims in America as Hers, according to the census bureau. Surveys undertaken locally show that Columbia City's men's stores are doing their part to ease the shopper's dilemma.

These stores offer clothing, apparel, dress accessories, ranging from the small juniors in the family to the 250-pounder. In addition there are stores which cater to the sportsman's requirements and desires for comfortable attire for the hunter and fisherman, as well as the equipment to make the forays into wood, lake or stream country pleasant and provide the vacationer with the utmost in relaxation.

At Men's Stores

At the men's clothing stores the shoppers will find quite a few "new" things to appeal to masculine taste, especially since the emergence of the male from the drab apparel colors which characterized his attire until recently.

Special notice should be given by the shopper to the variety in design of the cuff-link sets designed for the wearer of the popular French cuff shirts. Matching clips for the narrower ties are to be found, also. These link sets range from the most inexpensive to the luxury class and all are attractive and well-styled.

For the traditional Christmas tie, the square end ties will appeal Flamboyant designs have disappeared and the plainer and neater designs and harmonizing colors have taken their place.

Italian style sport shirts are in great demand by the shoppers These are offered in varieties to suit any male. In dress shirts the collars are lower and widespread, make for more comfortable necks on dress-up occasions. The Bola ties are still in style, are worn especially during the colder months with sports shirts, but are apt to be omitted in the summer when the shirt collar is left open.

Suede jackets and coats and the suburban coats, offered in many tweeds, should solve the problem when something "special" for Him is sought. The new topcoats are tending toward the tweeds but the so-called mixed fabrics in slacks hasn't caught on here to the extent that woolens have been pushed into the background. Wool slacks are still the favorite with local shoppers — and any man can always use another pair for work or casual wear.

The all-nylon jackets are popular items as they are washable. In fabric jackets, those with milium lining are cherished possessions of their owners because they are light but yet warm.

There are tie racks which can be really loaded with large collections, belt hangers so that the spare belts can be hung in clothes closets and not net entagled with things in dresser drawers, plastic garment bags which hold a suit in

Silage Feeding Is Made Easier

LAFAYETTE, — Back-breaking drudgery can be taken out of silage feeding this winter, John Foley, Purdue University extension agricultural engineer, has reported.

Unloading of upright silos by hand labor is fast becoming obsolete, Foley said. With several reliable brands of silo unloaders on the market, the feeding operation from a standard silo can be made entirely "push button."

Unloaders for these upright silos have a "long arm" which sweeps the top of the silage from the silo with a clawing action. Silage is readily removed, no matter how hard it is packed and even when frozen. After the silage is dropped to ground level, a conveyor belt or flight chain can move the feed to a spot where it is to be fed. This unloader and conveyor combination can be used on more than one silo of equal size.

Silage from a trench or bunker silo can be removed through the use of a swinging feeding gate, a sliding gate, or an electric wire. Farmers who want to limit the amount the cows eat, may set feed bunks across the silo and fill them by hand. Or bunks may be placed outside the silo and filled with a tractor scoop.

Plans are available from the Purdue agricultural engineering department for swinging gates, sliding racks, and forage bunks as well as ideas for bunker (horizontal) silos of poles or concrete.

These Christmas Gifts Head For North Pole

OKLAHOMA CITY — (UP) — Most youngsters look for their Christmas gifts to come from the North Pole, but 120 Camp Fire Girls are reversing the matter.

The girls, following an idea of Mrs. Calvin Jones, are sending Christmas packages to Eskimo children in a school at Teller Mission, Alaska.

Mrs. Jones learned of children's needs through her sister, Mrs. Karl Basheller, who is in charge of education at Teller Mission. When Mrs. Jones left here to teach in France, the girls decided to complete the project.

The Eskimo children include 13 boys and 12 girls. They range in age from six to 14 years. Each girl will get a doll and the boys toy cars.

MAKE YOUR OWN SNOW

NEW YORK — (UP) — Soap makes a safe and clean "snow" for the Christmas tree and other greenery. Mix packaged soap with a little water, and beat into a stiff froth, using either a rotary beater or an electric mixer. Use a wooden spoon to apply the froth to the branches.

Lausche Will Have Labor Trouble If He Is Serious About 1956 PresidentialNomination

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — Ohio's Gov. rank J. Lausche will have labor trouble if he is serious about seeking next year's Democratic presidential nomination .

Labor leaders blame the governor for at least two unforgiveable sins. If he actually goes for the nomination, they will get a long-sought chance to cut him down to size.

Lausche announced this week that he would enter Ohio's presidential primary as a favorite son candidate. That should shoo all other Democratic hopefuls away from the state. Labor cannot lick Lausche on his home grounds. He's been elected governor five times by now, never with more than grudging labor admission that he might do, and more often without even that.

There are Democrats who argue that Lausche is no Democrat but a disguised Republican. There are even more Ohio labor leaders who will insist now that the governor is no pal of the unions. Lausche, nevertheless, has been unbeatable in Ohio. It is considerably more than likely that Lausche will win the Ohio presidential primary.

Labor Eyes Convention

In other states it could be another story. Lausche would not offend labor leaders if he dared cross the Ohio frontier to enage them elsewhere. But it is not in state presidential primaries that the giant AFL-CIO, likely assisted by the railway brotherhoods, will expect to repay Lausche for past mis-favors.

Organized labor would expect to stop Lausche in the smoke-filled rooms and on the floor of next year's Democratic National Convention. The unions have a veto there. They have had it ever since FDR added to the Democratic Party. But of them all, the aggressively left-of-center labor leaders have been the most powerful.

They have vetoed Democratic candidates before this and the odds that they will be able to repeat next year are 100-to-1 or longer. All of this may be why Lausche hesitates to enter primaries outside Ohio.

Lausche's sins, as labor catalogs them, are great and small And even trivial. But two of them are underlined in rainbow ink and tagged unforgiveable. No. 1 was marked up in 1950 when Lausche openly favored the re-election of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, Mr. Republican himself, and co-author of the Taft-Hartley Act. Lausche rated Taft a much superior man to his Democratic opponent, Joseph (Jumpin Joe) Ferguson, and he let the voters of Ohio know it.

Last month Lausche committed sin No. 2. The AFL-CIO, powerhouse aided by the railway brotherhoods, was trying by popular vote to amend Ohio's constitution. The amendment would have made it legal in Ohio for unemployed workers to receive unemployment compensation plus the additional lay-off pay which the automobile industry has promised under its new CIO contracts.

Lausche said he thought the idea of paying people not to work was fantastic. That word "fantastic" did it. The proposed amendment was not merely defeated, it was swamped in opposition votes. Since then the word from Ohio has been that labor is out to get Lausche.

If he's serious about the presidential nomination, labor will have its chance.

Holy Land Faces Another Uneasy Christmas Season

By ELIAV SIMON
United Press Staff Correspondent

JERUSALEM —(UP) —Another Christmas season finds the Holy Land still divided and living under an uneasy armistice, as it has been for five years.

For seven years, the young state of Israel has clung to its beachhead, hemmed in by Egypt, Jordan, Syria and Lebanon. A large area of erstwhile Mandate Palestine fell to the Hashemite kingdom of Jordan, including Bethlehem and the "old city" of Jerusalem.

But despite the tension and distrust marking the Arab borders, Christmas has sufficiently overcome ill-feeling to secure the safe passage of pilgrims from Israel to Bethlehem in Jordan.

At dawn on Christmas Eve, whole families of Christian Arabs will begin crossing the frontier separating the "new city" of Jerusalem, in Israel, from the "old city" in Jordan. This is one of the only two occasions in the year when pilgrims may cross into Jordan and return by the same route. The other is Easter. Normally, the Jordan government permits one-way traffic only.

Open 36 Hours

On Christmas, the frontier post stays open for 36 hours, with a strong supplement of officials to check the identity of pilgrims and inspect their baggage. Several thousand Arabs, mostly Greek Catholic with a sprinkling of Maronite, Protestant and Latin Catholic, will travel from all over Israel to make the annual crossing.

On the other side of the checkpost, shouting delirious welcome, will be their relatives. Arab families resemble small tribes and many Israel Arabs have a horde of cousins over the border.

When the 36-hour reunion is over the pilgrims will go home to Nazareth and Jaffa, laden with coffee rice and various Oriental sweets hard to buy in Israel. Those with relatives in Jordan are spared the trouble of hunting for accommodation. Hotels and homes with rooms to let enjoy golden prosperity over the festival—in sharp contrast to the normal stagnation prevailing in the "old city" and Bethlehem—and are booked up for weeks before Christmas.

Both Israel and Jordan authorities examine applications to cross the lines and reject anyone suspect on grounds of security.

The only pilgrims to approach Bethlehem along the road traditionally used by the Three Wise Men will be diplomatic and United Nations personnel, for most of this road lies in Jordan territory and is normally barred by a stretch of mine-fringed no-man's land.

UN People Participate

Jordan allows these neutral groups to ride down the desolate highway from Jerusalem to Bethlehem. Both Israel and neighboring hostile states afford uncontrolled exit and entry to the officials, and the white-painted UN jeeps can be seen whizzing by the frontier posts at all hours.

This Christmas more than ever, the UN staff seems to be holding the balance which precariously keeps in check attackers and counter-attackers along the Israel border. One of the guests in Bethlehem will be E. L. M. Burns, UN truce supervision chief of staff who will leave his residence in Government House, a black-and-white marble mansion built for the British Mandate commissioner, to join the pilgrimage.

Arab Legionnaires patrol the massive wall encircling the "old city," not a stone's throw from the modern municipal offices of the "new city." A few meters from the piled rubble around the frontier between Israel and Jordan, the "old city," a cramped criss-cross of alleys and stooping houses dwarfed by the great Moslem Dome of the Rock, has hardly changed since New Testament times. Here lie the shrines of three faiths.

No worshippers pray at the wailing Wall, last vestige of the Jewish Second Temple, and few Christians from abroad manage to pace the Hill of Calvary. Only at Christmas does the "old City" regain its traditional religious life, thronged with celebrants and echoing with joyful bells.

In the "new city" also, Christmas brings its cheer to the handful of churches, missions and chapels which pursue their evangelical work with hindrance.

Good And Bad News On Balance Sheet

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet:

The Good

1. Sixteen nations were admitted to membership in the United Nations. The new members include two important European powers, Italy and Spain. Seventy-six countries are now members of the world organization.

2. Dr. Otto John, former chief of the West German intelligence service, fled back from East Germany. John had gone behind the Iron Curtain on July 20, 1954. His return was a severe blow to the Reds. It was reported also that two important East German officials had escaped to the West—a department chief in the trade ministry and an alternate member of the lower house of parliament.

3. Hugh Gaitskell, a staunchly pro-American right-winger, was elected leader of the British Labor Party. Gaitskell received 157 votes of the labor members of the House of Commons against 70 for left-winger Aneurin Bevan, who is violently crirtical of American policy.

The Bad

1. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles warned fellow delegates to a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Paris that Russia has opened a dangerous new "cold war front" aimed at penetrating the Middle East and Asia. "Stalin is dead but Stalinism is not," he said. NATO experts reported in a survey that the Russian military threat to Western Europe is greater now than at any previous time.

2. Israeli forces killed at least 41 soldiers and civilians a night attack on Syrian army posts overlooking the Biblical Sea of Galilee. Israel said its action was taken in retaliation for Syrian attacks on its fishermen. Syria asked for U.N. action against Israel. Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt announced he would inform the U.N. that any further Israeli aggression would be met by an attack on two fronts by Egypt and Syria.

A rational farm program in eastern Texas includes the growing of timber for home use. There may be a surplus for sale. On many farms timber brings in a substantial part of the income.

The lumber industry is the oldest industry in America.

Farmers own 30 per cent of the forest lands in the nation.

BOOST FROM THE IKES—A blind World War II veteran is mighty glad President and Mrs. Eisenhower have come to Gettysburg, Pa. That's where Robert Johnson, 32, and his blind wife, Betty, live and sell rugs they weave. The Eisenhowers heard about the courageous couple and wanted to give them a boost. Mamie bought 10 rugs. Ike made sure reporters learned the story of this veteran who spent four years in the Valley Forge, Pa., Army Hospital undergoing 53 operations. He was hit in the face by a mortar blast at Saarbrucken, Germany, in 1945. The Johnsons, shown at their loom, believe the way to stay happy is to keep busy. So they started their rug business, although Johnson gets a veteran's disability check each month.

Share The Night Before Christmas

Oyster Stew in a punch bowl tureen centers the buffet table at Christmas Eve Supper.

ON the night before Christmas . . . all thru the house . . . there's a warm wonderful spirit we love to share with nearest and dearest friends.

For hundreds of years since the first Christmas, families from warm Jerusalem to the coldest corner of Norway have treasured Christmas Eve. This is the shining summit of each year. Many families, in countries round the world, attend a church service. Some folks invite friends in to decorate the tree . . . or sing carols.

International Traditions

Whatever the other activity, almost every home honors the tradition of celebrating Christmas Eve with a midnight supper. Many times the menu typifies one served in the native country of the family . . . such as Sweden's smorgasbord. The famous Polish suppers run from seven courses up to eleven. These include: Pickled herring; a hot soup (mushroom or fish); baked fish with horseradish sauce; baked sauerkraut; fruit compote; poppy seed cake and a pudding or pastry; nuts and candies; coffee.

When you invite guests for supper this Christmas Eve, offer them a warming wonderful feast . . . that won't keep you in the kitchen. As they troop in from the shivery outdoors, they'll be glad to behold a punch bowl steaming with soup. Use one of the elegant new frozen soups . . . ideal for this joyful occasion. Probably most traditional for Christmas Eve is buttery hot oyster stew. Or you could have the old-fashioned potato soup (now frozen) . . . or rich green pea with ham. Surround the soup with other holiday goodies like these:

The Christmas Story: Ever New

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

IS there anything new that one can write concerning Christmas, the birth of Jesus, the significance of His coming to the world, and all that His life and ministry have meant to mankind?

To ask the question is to answer, "Why should there be anything new?" The ever-living reality of Christmas is set in the Gospels. It is amazing how that story never grows old (or not amazing when one thinks of all that it tells).

The great poet, Tennyson, closed his great poem, In Memoriam, with the reference to "one faroff divine event, to which the whole creation moves." It was a prospect of great faith, and hope, and optimism, a couple of generations before our atomic age, when the very human event of man's destruction of himself and his world looms as a threatening possibility of final disaster.

But not final. For the greatest of all events is not in a far-off future, but in a very real, historic past. For all that Jesus means to the world enforces and strengthens that confidence of the Psalmist, who wrote (in the 46th Psalm) of God as a refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble, dissipating fear, and giving man confidence, even if the earth should be removed.

That is what Jesus means to the world, and it is the power and significance of the Christian story—the fact that God lives and loves, no matter what man is and does, and that there is "a house not made with hands eternal in the heavens" (II Corinthians 5:1). The language is figurative, but the fact and the faith are real. Such words have a new significance as one contemplates annihilation, now possible as never before.

The birth of Jesus in Bethlehem marks a concentration point in human history. The story is rich in the portrayal, in the legends, the art, the glorification of motherhood, in all that is attached to it of richness, though not in the commercialization that has become so grossly attached to it in our time.

But Bethlehem is only the beginning. The Christmas story is in the whole life, and ministry, and influence of Jesus. Yes, in His sacrificial death and Resurrection as well. When a few years ago I wrote the text for pictorial strips of "The Christmas Story," a New England editor made the criticism that it was lacking because there was no reference to the Resurrection. The critic was right. The Christmas Story is not complete if anything relating to Jesus is left out.

It is the story of a Christ, who ever lives and moves; who has conquered and is still going forth to conquer in a world that needs to be conquered by love, righteousness, and truth.

For, despite what Christmas means to us and to millions, we are living in a world that is still largely pagan.

So Christmas ought to be for all of us a time of new consecration to Christian living and Christian tasks, and above all the task of world evangelization.

Cardinal Chapter At Larwill Holds Its Annual Yuletide Party

An angel topped the tall Christmas tree which decorated the Masonic hall at Larwill, Tuesday evening when members of Cardinal chapter of the Order of Eastern Star entertained members of their families.

A carry-in supper was served in the Masonic dining room where candles burned on the tables.

The children participated in a program following the supper. Mrs. LeRoy Marker was in charge of the program. "Silent Night," was sung by the entire group. Ricky and Carol Helfrich sang Jingle Bells, accompanied by their grandmother, Mrs. Glen Shook at the piano, and by their own ringing of sleigh bells. Jane Ann Holy [illegible] played a piano solo and rea [illegible] were given by Randy Bra [illegible] Debbie Kile and Janice U [illegible] Lynette Nichols, sang "Ru [illegible] the Red-Nosed Reindeer," ac [illegible] panied at the piano by Carolyn Boggs. War Mothers Guests At White Home; Annual Party Held Forty-five War Mothers and guests attended the annual War Mothers Christmas party and dinner for which Mrs. Burton White was hostess Thursday evening.

The lovely program, planned by Mrs. Merritt Hursey and Mrs. Roy Bainbridge, included group singing of carols and a solo "Oh Come All Ye Faithful" by Mrs. Verl Bender Mrs. Bainbridge read the Christmas story from the War Mothers magazine.

Another feature of the delightful program was a playlet titled "The Christmas Tramp," presented by Mrs. Bender, and the Mesdames Paul Gruver, Ben Wagner, Arnold Souder, Russell Grimm and Charles Feit.

Mrs. Feit made a jolly Santa Claus for the gift exchange and Mrs. Bender was her attractively dressed helper.

Gifts were presented to nine mothers with perfect attendance during the year. They were Mesdames Merritt Hursey, Roy Bainbridge, Howard Aker, E. O. White, Monna Firestone, Charles North Irvin Hively, Russell Creager and Burton White.

SANTA CLAUS TO VISIT LEGION HOME

Santa Claus plans to stop at the American Legion Home Monday evening to treat the children of Legionnaires. His schedule calls for a brief appearance at 7:30 p.m.

Additional entertainment will be provided by showing some movies, both black and colored, featuring Walt Disney Comics. All kiddies of veterans are invited to the party.

[illegible] Hostess To Members Mother's Study Club

The annual Christmas party of the Mother's Study club at South Whitley was held this week at the home of Mrs. Martha Graham. A fire in the fireplace with attractive decorations on the mantel, lighted candles and a tree formed a background for the Christmas program.

Mrs. Harold Howard read the story "Let's Keep Christmas" and she told the story "The Miracle of Christmas." and Mrs. Graham concluded with Christmas quotations.

Nut shells hidden on the Christmas tree held numbers that corresponded to numbers on the gifts under the tree, which were later exchanged. Mrs. Graham served refreshments marked with a Christmas motif.

The program and gift exchange followed a dinner served at 6 o'clock at the Mabel Tea Room.

Naomi Circle Is Entertained By Mrs. Asa White

Nineteen members of Naomi Circle of Trinity Methodist church were guests of Mrs. Asa White North Elm street, Thursday evening.

An illuminated tree and Christmas bells were used in the decorations of the White home. Mrs. Verlin Vernon was in charge of the devotions in which she told of the shepherds, the angels and the Christ child, and she gave the poem "How Far to Bethlehem." She closed with the poem, "Christmas in the Heart."

Mrs. Richard Smith gave the Christmas customs and Christmas traditions in Czechoslovakia. Mrs. Gilbert Gwin was in charge of the gift exchange.

A pudding, garnished with whipped cream and red and green cherries, was served by Mrs. White and members of her committee.

LITERARY CLUB TO HAVE DINNER AND A GIFT EXCHANGE

A dinner at the Kenny Drive-in at 6:30, and a program and 50-cent gift exchange at the Byron Bollinger home, will form the Christmas activities of the South Whitley Literary club, next Tuesday evening.

Fire In Fireplace, Christmas Greens Form Circle Setting

The fireplace with its burning embers, the burning candles and boughs of evergreen on the mantel and the lighted Christmas tree formed the setting for the program Wednesday, of the Priscilla Circle of Trinity Methodist church.

The R. E. Holden home on Road Nine North was the scene of the affair.

Mrs. Oren E. Clark told the story of the "Three Wise Men" and Mrs. Willard Gerkin, who was in charge of the devotions, read the Christmas story from the Bible.

Twenty-two members of the Circle were present for the carry-in noon day luncheon served from an attractively appointed table, also the birthday auction conducted by Mrs. E. L. Grant.

The group sang carols and Miss Chloe Mowrey read the poem "Twas The Night Before Christmas" during the gift exchange in which words in the poem, left out by the reader, marked the gifts which lay beneath the tree. Mrs. Lester Barney assisted Miss Mowrey in the gift exchange.

CHAUTAUQUA CLUB TO HAVE DINNER, GIFT EXCHANGE AT FEIT HOME

Baptist Women In Thorncreek Hold Christmas Party

The Thorncreek Baptist Ladies Aid met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Curtiss Johnson for its regular meeting and Christmas party. Ten members were present.

Mrs. Robert Keirn and Mrs. Howard Marsh gave devotions and Christmas readings were given by Mrs. Jay Paulus, Mrs. Don Christman and Mrs. Curtiss Johnson.

Mrs. Dale Christman and Mrs. Merle Keirn were welcomed as new members, and names were drawn for secret sisters for the coming year.

Gifts were exchanged after the business meeting and a gift exchange was also held for the children.

Mrs. Johnson served ice cream, cake and coffee.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. David Johnson at which time the new officers will preside.

C. C. Trips New Haven

The Columbia City Eagles scored a conference upset over the New Haven Bulldogs Friday night, at New Haven, breaking a 52-52 tie in the last minute and winning 54-53.

The Eagles led throughout the game and held a seven-point lead 48-41, with four minutes left in the game. A couple of bad passes by the Eagles at this crucial point, and New Haven quickly tied up the score. However, in the final 60 seconds the Eagles controlled the ball and handed the Bulldogs their second loss of the season. Harlan had previously won over New Haven.

Free Throws Decide

Columbia City's victory margin was registered at the charity stripe. Twenty-six of the Eagles' 54 points were scored on free throws, while New Haven scored only 15 free throws. The Eagles missed 12 charity tosses. Columbia City was penalized 15 times on personal fouls, while the Bulldogs were given 20 personals.

At all quarter intervals, the Eagles held the scoring advantage. At the end of the first quarter, it was a slim 16-15 margin, and at halftime it was 30-25. At the end of the third quarter, the Eagles were out in front by seven points 42-35.

Cloys, a speedy guard, and McComb, 6-4 center, were the leading scorers for New Haven, each accounting for 16 points. The Eagles displayed a well-balanced offense as five players scored nearly evenly. Woodham led with 12, Bridge got 11, Smith 10, Martin 9, and Schwarz 8.

The Columbia City reserves lost the preliminary game 39-39. In the evening opener, the Eagle reserves led 17-15 at halftime, but fell behind in the third period 34-25 and could not overcome this disadvantage in the last quarter.

Pungent Clue

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (UP) — Officers who searched Ola Mae Anderson's car in vain for illegal whiskey finally found a pungent clue to her secret.

A leak in a copper piping led sheriff's officers to a five-gallon tank welded under the Negro cafe operator's car.

The system was equipped with an electric motor to pump whiskey through a tiny spigot concealed under the dash board.

The most efficient method of controlling ground squirrels is by poisoning.

Purdue University dairy specialists report that molasses can be substituted for corn in dairy rations if the cost per 6.5 gallon is less than the value of one bushel of corn. Molasses may be mixed with the grain ration, diluted with water and poured over the roughage, or fed just as it comes from the barrel.

Bred sows are good gleaners to follow the corn picker. But animal husbandmen at Purdue University warn farmers to see that the sow don't get too fat. Every 20 kernels in a 40-inch square area equals one bushel per acre. Hogs cleaning up cornfields need a protein supplement if they are to make good use of the corn.

Film Stars Spring Fanciful Yuletide Decorations Again

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Hollywood Writer

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Christmas in Hollywood is snowless under the sunshine, but this year the film stars made u pfor it with the fanciest yuletide decorations in history.

Liberace's neighbors are used to his amazing house with its backyard fence decorated with musical notes. But even they were startled to see a huge lighted Santa playing a piano by that sam candelabra atop his roof. Next to Santa are reindeer and huge glittering stars.

Piano music — Liberace's, of course — is spread around the neighborhood from loudspeakers.

"Well, I'm the mayor of Sherman Oaks and I sorta felt I wanted to have some different decorations," smiled the pianist.

The Liberace Yuletide touch also includes a rhinestone-studded tree. This glittering sight, sprinkled with artificial snowflakes and jeweled ornaments that would make St. Nick drop his beard at the North Pole, stands by Liberaces piano-shaped swimming pool.

Another white tree in the Liberace living room is decorated with conventional ornaments, and a third tree on the lawn is brightly lit.

Richard Boone, star of TV's "Medic," is a close runner-up in the unusual tree division. He draped his with bandages, balls of cotton, scissors and stethoscopes to match the doctor character he plays on the NBC show.

Names For Triplets

TROY, N.C. (UP)—Mrs. Whit Brady asked nurses at Montgomery Memorial Hospital for names for her newly arrived triplets, a girl and two boys.

One young nurse, still breathless from the excitement, suggested: "Hurry, Wait, Stop."

Background Of Troubles Between Israel And Syria

By UNITED PRESS

Background of the troubles between Israel and Syria: Palestine was partitioned into Jewish and Arab states in 1947 and the state of Israel was proclaimed May 15, 1948. The Arab states refused to accept the new nation and went to war against Israel.

In the course of the fighting, Israel took over more territory than had been allotted to it by the partition.

To stop the bloodshed, the United Nations negotiated a series of cease-fire agreements between Israel and her Arab neighbors. Syria was the last to sign and Syrian troops were the last Arab legions to leave Israel soil. The armistice was signed July 20, 1949

Despite the agreement, sporadic fighting continued between the two countries, mostly confined to border clashes.

There have been two serious clashes this year. On Oct. 22, Israreli forces launched a "well planned operation' against Syrian positions in the Aalmine area of the Jordan River. They claimed the Syrians had kidnaped an Israreli soldier.

Three Syrians were killed and six wounded in the raid.

The latest clash occurred last Sunday along the shores of the historic Sea of Galilee. Israel claimed that Syrian positions had been firing on farmers working in the fields along the border.

Israeli troops launched an attack in force against the Syrian positions, killed 49 Syrians and blew up their fortifications.

This provoked Syria's strong protest to the United Nations, and Egypt's threat of open war if Israeli "aggressions" were not halted. Egypt charged five Israeli attacks against its forces this year.

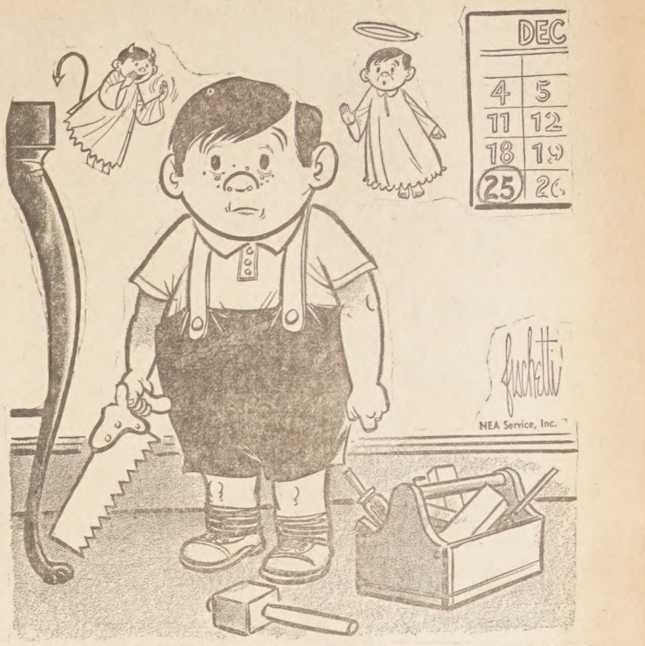
War of Nerves



Straw for livestock feeding should be taken from the field as soon as possible after combining.

HEIRLOOM—That's what you might call this working TV receiver with a three-inch screen. It's owned by the Howard Squires family in Cleveland, Ohio. They keep it as a reminder of the "old days" of televiewing. Giving you an idea of the smallness of the screen is five-year-old Jerry Squires, who says he has to stand up close to recognize his favorite cowboy heroes.

HEIRLOOM—That's what you might call this working TV receiver with a three-inch screen. It's owned by the Howard Squires family in Cleveland, Ohio. They keep it as a reminder of the "old days" of televiewing. Giving you an idea of the smallness of the screen is five-year-old Jerry Squires, who says he has to stand up close to recognize his favorite cowboy heroes.

President Tells World Christmas Promise Brighter Than Ever Before

WASHINGTON (UP)— President Eisenhower told the world Sunday that Christmas, 1955, is "brighter in its background and in its promise than any we have known in recent years."

It is "even brighter than last year," he said, and that was the first Christmas "in many years. . not marred by the tragic incident of war."

This was Mr. Eisenhower's message of Yuletide cheer as he pressed a gold telegraph key in Gettysburg, Pa., lighting a huge Christmas tree in the "Pageant of Peace" exhibit at the White House in Washington.

Simultaneously, Christmas trees at many points across the nation, on naval vessels, in U.S. troop barracks overseas and in American legations and embassies were lit.

With this ceremony the President also gave to the world his Christmas prayer. It was:

"May each of us strive to do our best to bring about better understanding in the world and may infinite peace from above live with us and be ours forever and may we live in confident hope that it will come."

The President's brief address was carried to the nation via radio and television. The Voice of America shortwaved the ceremonies to other nations in 38 languages.

After pressing the gold key that lit the towering 65-foot South Dakota spruce, Mr. Eisenhower chuckled and said: "Well, it worked." He made his address from the office of the president of Gettysburg College.

The tree, with its hundreds of gaily-colored bulbs, is the centerpiece of the Pageant of Peace exhibit on the ellipse facing the White House. Forty foreign embassies have greetings displayed and many of the 48 states have their own Christmas trees.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon introduced Mr. Eisenhower "loved and respected as a great leader in the cause of peace" and described the pageant scene as "a great manifestation of the desire of men everywhere for peace."

Mrs. Elmer Johnson Taken To Nursing Home

Mrs. Elmer Johnson of Larwill was dismissed from the Lutheran Hospital in Fort Wayne Saturday morning and was taken to the Bakle Nursing Home in the Smith and Sons ambulance.

While at the Fort Wayne Hospital, Mrs. Johnson submitted to the amputation of her left leg which was found necessary due to a blood clot. She is recovering satisfactorily from the operation.

The paternal gradparents are Mrs. Ralph Schuman, R. 7 and Mrs. Iva Zumbrun, R 7.

Meditation

By REV. VERLIN O. VERNON
Methodist Church

Scripture Reading: Romans 12

The Wise Men hastily rode out of the East to Bethlehem, to honor the new-born King. At the manger they knelt before Him and gave gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh. Thus, summarily discharging their regal homage, they mounted their golden tapestried camels and rode back into the obscurity from whence they came.

The Bethlehem shepherds had no wealth to leave at the manger. Their gift was the humble gift of self as they went out to make "known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child." They were the beginning of a great line of disciples, martyrs, and followers who would eventually proclaim the good news "unto the uttermost part of the earth."

Next Sunday, we have an opportunity to offer our gifts to the Babe of Bethlehem. Some of us will perfunctorily perform the traditional observances and remount our time schedules to fade away into the obscurity of the office, shop, or farm.

Others of us will draw near with faith, to our Christ and to our church and offer ourselves as living sacrifices to those causes for which He lived and died. This is the true Spirit Of Christmas — and "our reasonable service."

Chinese Reds Will Deliver Minister, Wife

To Hong Kong Border Tuesday

HONG KONG(UP) The Chinese Communists have released another American missionary from prison and will deliver both him and his ailing wife to the Hong Kong border Tuesday, the American Red Cross announced today.

Red Cross representative Richard Tomlin said the Chinese Red Cross Society in Peiping cabled the American Red Cross that Presbyterian minister Dr. Homer Bradshaw of New York had been freed and that the Reds were trying to arrange his release Tuesday.

The Chinese announced last week that Mrs. Bradshaw would be freed Tuesday. The Communists gave her permission last month to leave China but she was too ill to make the trip by herself.

The release of the Bradshaws will leave 13 American civilians still in Chinese prisons.

Since the current talks between the United States and Red China began at Geneva Aug. 1 the Communists have freed 11 Americans from prisons and permitted three priests who had been under house arrests to leave. Other Americans previously denied exit permits also were allowed to leave.

Russia's Touring Leaders Fly Back Home With Promise Of Afghanistan's Neutrality

KABUL, Afghanistan (UP) — Russia's touring leaders flew back to the Soviet Union today with a renewed promise of Afghanistan's neutrality in the cold war. They left behind a promise of 100 million dollars in aid.

Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist Party leader Nikita Khruschev took off in a Soviet transport for the flight cross the Himalayas into southern Russia.

(Moscow Radio reported they landed at Tashkent in southern Russia.)

The Russians ended their official duties Sunday night when they signed a joint communique with Afghanistan Prime Minister Sardar Mahanned Daud and agreed to extend for 10 years the joint non-aggression pact first signed in 1931.

Before leaving the Russians played Santa Claus. They presented Mohammed Zahir Shah, the Afghan king, with a new airplane such as they gave to Burmese Premier U Nu during their visit to Rangoon.

They presented Kabul officials with 15 buses and all the equipment for a 100-bed hospital. They also promised stepped up economic aid in the way of new roads, an airfield, hydro-electric dams and irrigation projects.

And Khrushchev made a few more of his blunt remarks that signaled a return to the cold war during the Russians' monthlong tour of India, Burma and Afghanistan. He sided with Afghanistan in its dispute with Pakistan over the border regions.

The Soviets promises of aid and talks of peace won the hearts of many Indians, Burmese and Afghans and gave Russia a huge propaganda victory. From the Russian viewpoint the tour was a smashing success—millions saw them and cheered.

Navy Jet Plane Slips Moorings, Kills 3 Persons

Runs Wild At 80 MPH

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP)—A Navy jet plane warming up at the Lincoln Air Force Base suddenly slipped its moorings and killed three men when it ran wild at 80 miles an hour.

The F9F Navy Cougar finally crashed in flames into a hangar and set it afire at the end of its rampage Sunday. It had also crashed into four planes, one of them a P2V4 Neptune patrol bomber which was knocked at right angles.

The dead were the pilot of the jet, Lt. (JG) Vernon R. Chapman Jr., 25, Grand Island, Neb.; Air Controlman 1.C. Kenneth Cecil Newman, 24; and Air Controlman 3-C Hubert Lee Tracy, 29, both of Lincoln.

Newman and Tracy were in the hangar when the jet crashed into it and apparently burned to death.

Chapman was said by witnesses to have tried to jump from the runaway plane. He was thrown clear when it rammed into a bomber.

Air Force fire fighting equipment and five Lincoln fire companies were unable to save the hangar.

Authorities were unable to say what caused the jet to run away. Witnesses said it was warming up for a routine flight and the engine roared to "100 per cent full power" and jumped its wheel chocks.

Congress Will Be Asked To Curtail Authority To Buy

Goods By Defense Department Through Secret Contracts

By PAUL SOUTHWICK
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—Congress will be asked to curtail the Defense Department's authority to buy goods through secret, negotiated contracts.

Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Armed Services Committee made this plain Sunday in accusing the Pentagon of a "shocking" abuse of military buying procedures.

He said the Defense Department has virtually scrapped open, competitive bidding in favor of negotiated contracts. As a result, he charged, an unnecessary $3,650,000,000 of the taxpayers' money was spent on military purchases during the past 2½ years.

That much money saved, Vinson said, would have been almost enough to balance the government's budget.

Seeks Competitive Bidding

He said he would demand that Congress next year do "some first class overhauling" of the 1947 Armed Services Procurement Act to assure that competitive bidding is used in most military purchases.

The Defense Department said it received a report containing Vinson's charges Friday and that it was being studied with "interest and concern."

A spokesman conceded that many items such as aircraft carriers, tanks and airplanes are procured through negotiated contracts. But he said "the question of what might be saved if you did things somewhat differently is a matter of individual interpretation."

Many Negotiated Contracts

Vinson said that between January 1953 and June 1955 the armed services handled 94 per cent of their $36,500,000,000 worth of purchase orders under negotiated contracts.

Vinson's criticism apparently signaled a new Democratic attack on the administration's military buying policies. Heretofore, Vinson generally has supported the administration on military manpower and budget matters.

A House Armed Services subcommittee headed by Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D-La) has been secretly investigating major aircraft manufacturers for months in preparation for hearings on alleged excessive profits. A House Military Appropriations Committee is conducting a similar inquiry.

Winter Concert Is Presented By Two School Bands

Columbia City's two school bands were presented in their winter concert at Marshall Memorial hall Sunday by their bandmaster, Robert Sharpe.

Wednesday night at 8 o'clock the choral organizations of the Columbia City Joint high school will offer their Christmas concert, featuring the 73-voice high school choir, the girls' glee club, the 7th and 8th grade chorus, all totaling 146 student voices. These groups are directed by Mrs. Merril Munns.

Christmas selection featured both bands' programs.

Opening the musical presentations of the afternoon were the three numbers presented by the Grade School Band. These included "Mutual March," a melody from the Violin Concerto of Mendelssohn, and "Greensleeves," published only three weeks ago, an arrangement of the old English Christmas song, "What Child Is This?"

The Golden Eagle Band offered a varied program, liberally sprinkled with Christmas selection. These ranged from stirring marches to light musical selections, featuring the woodwinds.

Patrons, who were admitted free to the concert hall, gave an offering during the intermission for furtherance of the bands' activities.

Students To Speak At Kiwanis Meeting

Four members of the speech department of the Columbia City Joint high school will speak at the Kiwanis dinner meeting Wednesday at the American Legion Home.

Kay Leininger, Bob Egolf and Emily Carpenter will give humorous and Hugo Martz will give poetry readings.

Newell Rice is in charge of the program.

Weekend Traffic Toll For Indiana At Least Six

Erases Last Chance To Hold 1955 Toll Below That Of 1954

By UNITED PRESS

Indiana's last chance to hold this year's traffic toll below last years was erased during the weekend as at least six persons were killed, one of them a victim of a hit-and-run driver.

The weekend toll brought this year's total to 1,081 deaths as compared with 1,077 for all of 1954.

The frozen body of the hit-run victim, who was not identified immediately, was found early Sunday about 12 hours after she was struck on Ind. 37 southwest of Indianapolis and hurled 18 feet into a fence.

Police said they found a bent headlight rim at the scene and issued a statewide alarm for a 1949-52 Chevrolet with a damaged right headlight. The body was discovered by Harold Skaggs, Martinsville, while collecting milk from farms along his truck route.

Four of the weekend victims were in the 50s, and another, Earl McClelland, Monticello, was 72. McClelland died Sunday at a Lafayette hospital of injuries suffered the night before when he was struck by a car at Monticello.

Addie Haught, 57, Paris, Ill., was killed in an accident north of Hebron blamed on icy roads. State police said his car skidded on an icy patch of Ind. 2, hit a concrete embankment and plunged into a ditch.

Ellis Honey, 55, Goshen, was killed on Ind. 4 when his car, parked on the highway with its lights out, was struck by a milk truck.

Edna Eskridge, 54, Knox, was killed Saturday in a two-car crash three miles north of Plymouth on U.S. 31.

Friday Almost As Important A Date As December 25

Friday, Dec. 23, is almost as important a date as Christmas to several thousands of our citizens — the junior citizens, that is. For Friday is the date Christmas vacation starts.

On Friday afternoon the last classes for 1955 will be held, and the teachers will have to excuse a certain amount of restlessness on the part of the pupils as the time approaches for ringing the dismissal bell. Maybe the teachers won't notice this too much as they themselves will be thinking of the last-minute things they must do before starting to their homes to begin the Holidays.

With the vacation schedules of the city and county schools integrated as far as the year-end holiday is concerned, the students throughout Whitley county will have the entire period from Friday afternoon until January 3 free from worries about lessons. The schools will reconvene Jan. 3 (Tuesday), thus permitting the students to be at home over the legal observance of New Year's day.

In many of the schools, before dismissal time Friday, Christmas programs will be held in the classrooms and assembly halls.

German Parties, Nationalists, Get Power In Saar

Will Form Government Pledged To Restore Territory To Germany

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent

SAARBRUECKEN, Sarr (UP) — The triumphant German nationalists announced today they would form a Saar government pledged to restore the rich coal - steel territory to Germany.

The three German parties, banned until last summer, surged to a massive landslide victory in Sunday's general elections for the 50-man legislature (Landtag).

The election came just seven weeks after an Oct. 23 referendum in which the Saarlanders rejected by a sweeping majority the "European statute" handed them by France and Germany.

The Saar is German - speaking but French controlled since the war. The two votes added a tremendous punch to the campaign by the German parties to restore this 900-square mile "lost corner" of Germany to the fatherland.

But the German parties — the Christian Democrats (CDU), the German Social Democrats (SPS) and the Saar Democratic Party (DPS)—fell just short of complete triumph.

They had hoped to pile up a three-fourths majority of the new Landtag, or at least 38 seats. They actually won 64 per cent of the popular vote and 33 parliamentary seats.

A three fourths majority would have enabled them to change the 1947 Saar constitution at once. This would eliminate all references to the territory's political separation from Germany and economic attachment to France. And it would have paved the way for the Saar's early return to Germany from which it has been separated since 1945.

The German parties banded together in an alliance known as the "Homeland League" (Heimatbund) to fight both the referendum and the election contests.

At a 1 a.m. news conference after the election results were announced the Heimatbund indicated it would maintain the alliance in a drive for restoration of the Saar to Germany. Both Germany and France have feuded over the Saar for centuries.

Henry J. Kaiser To Consolidate Vast Holdings

Merger To Repay Kaiser Motor Debts

NEW YORK (UP) — Henry J Kaiser plans to consolidate all of his vast industrial empire into one new corporation.

The plan, announced Sunday by Kaiser, chairman, and his son, Edgar F. Kaiser, president of both Kaiser Motors and the Henry J. Kaiser Co., would merge all of the Kaiser holdings into an organization to be called the Kaiser Industries Corp.

Under the proposed plan, the Henry J. Kaiser Co., would become a wholly owned subsidiairy of Kaiser Motors Corp. through an exchange of stocks. The announcement said the merger would repay all outstanding debts of Kaiser Motors, including $13,300,000 due the government for a loan that helped launch the corporation.

The Kaisers said details of the plan would be fully explained in a proxy statement to be made available prior to a special meeting of Kaiser Motors stockholders scheduled for March.

The announcement said that Willys Motors, which manufactures jeeps and commercial vehicles would become a wholly owned subsidiary of the new corporation, free of all its present bank debt. Willys also would be in a better position to carry on its present profitable vehicle business, Kaiser said.

The basis for the exchange which would give all present Kaiser Motors shareholders stock in the new parent corporation has not been exactly determined, the announcement said, but it was believed "the present public stockholders of Kaiser Motors would be the owners of not less than four and one half per cent of the common stock of the new Kaiser Industries Corporation."

24 Deaths During Weekend Due To The Weather

45 Degrees Below Zero In Minnesota

By UNITED PRESS

A bone - chilling cold wave gripped the nation's midsection today and spread southeastward into the Ohio Valley.

The temperature dropped to 45 degrees below zero at Bemidji, Minn., this morning, tieing the all-time December low there.

Winter, officially due on Thursday, was staging a coast-to-coast preview.

At least 24 deaths during the weekend were attributed to the weather.

It was so cold at Minneapolis that traffic lights froze, remaining red or green until crews could repair them. The temperature at Minneapolis hit 21 below, a new record for the date.

At St. Paul, Minn., water froze in a fire hose Sunday night as firemen fought a blaze.

Gales Lash Coasts

Gales lashed the Pacific Coast and small craft warnings were displayed along the Atlantic Coast from Block Island to Cape Hatteras.

Cold wave warnings were issued for New York, Pennsylvania, the Ohio Valley and West Virginia as the frigid Arctic air mass moved southeastward.

Plunging temperatures were forecast for today throughout the

Jordan's Government Announces A Dusk To Dawn Curfew For Little Town Of Bethlehem

JERUSALEM (UP) —Jordan's embattled government today announced a dusk to dawn curfew for the little town of Bethlehem where Christ was born.

The announcement by the Jordan Radio heard in nearby Lebanon was the latest in a series of critical events in the trouble-torn Holy Land at the start of this Christmas week.

During the weekend, there were other reports of bitter anti-Western riots in Amman, the capital of Jordan, and joint Egyptian-Syrian pledges of action against Israel.

The Jordan Radio broadcast said the curfew would be in effect from 4 p.m. to 6 a.m. daily.

Unconfirmed reports told of rioting in the old city of Jerusalem which Jordan controls. Israel has jurisdiction over the new city of Jerusalem.

Bethlehem is also controlled by Jordan.

Demonstrations apparently had broken out there today, bringing on the curfew. However, the Jordan Radio broadcast made no mention of disturbances in Bethlehem—or anywhere else in the country.

A Cairo dispatch said Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser told Syrian President Shukri El Kuwatli he would be glad when their armies meet on the shores of Galilee to avenge the attacks by "Zionist bands."

His letter emphasized the burning anger of the Arabs against last week's Israel attack agaist syrian outposts near the Sea of Galilee in which more than 40 Syrians were killed. It brought the reply from Kuwatli that the "Syrian army prides itself on its martyrs as well as its comradeship-in-arms with the Egyptian army."

Welsh Announces His Candidacy For Governor

VINCENNES, Ind. (UP)—State Sen. Matthew E. Welsh, a former U.S. Attorney for the Southern Indiana District, announced during the weekend that he will be a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Welsh, 43, has served in both branches of the Indiana General Assembly and presently represents Knox and Daviess counties in the upper chamber. He also has serrved as Seventh District Democratic chairman.

Welsh is the second Democratic gubernatorial candidate. Nelson Grills, Marion County Democratic chairman, announced his candidacy Dec. 8.

Welsh has maintained a law office here since receiving his law degree from the University of Chicago in 1947. He also attended Indiana University and Wharton School of Finance at the University of Pennsylvania.

He was state representative from Knox County in 1941 and 1943 when he resigned to enter the U.S. Navy. He was discharged from the Navy in 1946 with the rank of lieutenant.

Circuit Court News

A divorce was granted to Mrs. Kay H. Hand from Carl E. Hand, Tri Lakes, upon her complaint by the circuit court Thursday. Judge Burr H. Glenn of the Huntington circuit court, refused jurisdiction and the parties by agreement of their counsel agreed to restore jurisdiction to the regular judge of the local court.

Hand withdrew his cross-complaint and the court found that Mrs. Hand was entitled to divorce upon her complaint. The court found that she is the owner of all household goods now in her possession and real estate now in her name but that Hand is owner of all personal effects now in his possession.

Her maiden name, Kay H. Foster, is to be restored to her and Hand has been directed to execute a quit claim deed to her for any interest he may have in real estate in Thorncreek township at the time of the divorce. Mrs. Hand was represented by Attorney Joseph Roe. Benton Bloom was Hand's attorney.

Women At St. John's Hold Christmas Meeting At The Parish Hall

Mesdames Albert Luecke, William Weisweber, Emil Briggeman and Trauty Briggeman were hostesses to women of St. John's Lutheran church, at the parish hall Thursday.

Mrs. Luecke was in charge of the devotions and Mrs. Weisweber read a receipe for a Merry Christmas. The table was attractively laid for the dinner served at noon. Mrs. Ivan Goings won the door prize and the honors in the guessing contest were awarded to Mrs. Charles Sievers.

Mrs. Melvin Wheeler Hostess For Yuletide Meeting Of Her Club

Mrs. Melvin Wheeler was hostess for a meeting of the Lakeview club at her home Thursday. Bingo formed entertainment after the dinner and gift exchange. The gift exchange revealed the secret sisters in the club.

Members of the club were the Mesdames Donald Deeter, Edna Corbin, Fred Losure, Ada Sweigart, Grace Kaster, Jack Foster and children, Kenneth Leedy and son Merritt Hursey, Ralph Spurrier James Wise and son, Ray Shelmadie, Archie Rohrbach and son, Cora Winter, and Miss Nellie Secrist.

Canasta Club Has Dinner, Gift Exchange At Bloom Home

Mrs. B. J. Bloom, 337 North Chauncey street, was hostess Thursday evening to her canasta club following a dinner at the Thirty Club, covers being laid for nine.

The club members exchanged gifts at the Bloom home where tables were arranged for the card game around the fireplace. Candles burned on the mantle where boughs of evergreen were used to further carry out the Christmas atmosphere which prevailed throughout the home.

From the dining table centered with a red poinsettia, Mrs. Bloom served eggnog and fruit cake after the canasta game.

DELTA THETA TAU TO HAVE DINNER AND GIFT EXCHANGE AT 30 CLUB

Delta Theta Tau sorority will hold its dinner, gift exchange and program tonight at 7:00 at the 30 Club.

Bob Carlin, radio announcer and religious speaker of Fort Wayne, will be the speaker at the Trinity Methodist Men's meeting, Tuesday night at 6:30.

At the present time he is news editor and writer for the new radio station WKTL in Kendallville. Mr. Carlin and his family are members of the Simpson Methodist Church in Fort Wayne.

Paul Vance is program chairman.

Priscilla Club Is Entertained At Clark Home Friday Evening

Mrs. Roy Clark, 110 West Jackson street, was hostess Friday evening for the annual Christmas party of the Priscilla club, following a dinner served at the Ennis restaurant.

An attractively decorated miniature tree centered the table laid for 11. After a gift exchange around the large illuminated tree three tables of Sambo were played.

Mrs. Clark served homemade breads after the card game.

Dr. Rodeheaver Dies Sunday

WARSAW, Ind. (UP) — Dr. Homer A. Rodeheaver, 75, musical director for the late Billy Sunday's gospel team and religious music publisher, died Sunday of a cerebral hemorrhage.

Rodeheaver who had been ill for some time, died at his home at Rainbow Point at nearby Lake Winona. He had been confined to his bed since suffering a heart attack last Wednesday.

Services will be held here Tuesday afterrnoon.

Rodeheaver was a native of Ohio and spent his early years in Tennessee. He was a college cheer leader while attending Ohio Wesleyan University.

He had planned on becoming a lawyer, but decided instead to make a career of evangelism. He worked with Dr. W. E. Biederwolf, an evangelist, before joining Billy Sunday. He was with Sunday's gospel team for 20 years.

In later years, Rodeheaver devoted most of his time to publishing religious songs, books and records.

Rodeheaver never married, and his most immediate survivors is a sister, Mrs. Ruth Thomas of Lake Winona.

Glenn E. Wolfe Weds Fort Wayne Girl; Ceremony Read In First Church Of God

The Rev. Alvin Link received the marriage vows at 7:30 Saturday evening of Glenn Eugene Wolfe, son of Noah Wolfe of 354 North Line street, and Miss Lola Marie Bible, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Bible Sr., of near Montpelier, Ohio.

The candlelight ceremony was read before members of the two families before an arrangement of pompons flanked on either side by palms and candelabra.

Miss Sandra Seeley of Fort Wayne served as maid of honor and Marvin Stout of Somerset attended Mr. Wolfe.

Miss Carolyn Hile played "The Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's "Lohengrin" and preceding the informal ceremony she played "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride chose a two-piece dress of white faille for her wedding with which she carried red roses on a white Bible. Her maid of honor was in a charcoal dress with which she wore pink carnations. Mrs. Bible, the bride's mother was in a dress of powder blue with which she wore a corsage of white carnations.

For the informal reception which followed the ceremony, the bride pinned her corsage of red roses, from her Bible, to her dress.

More than 125 guests were received in the church social room by the couple.

Candles burned on either side of the bride's cake topped with a wedding bell which stood on the serving table presided over by Mrs. William Heredeen, Mrs. Neil Evard, Miss Ilene Leutz and Miss Mary Leffel. The cake was served with ice cream, mints, nuts and coffee.

The couple will return from a trip to Northern Michigan on January 3 and will reside at 1649 Cass street, Fort Wayne.

A graduate of Columbia City high school in 1950, Mr. Wolfe spent four years in the United States Navy, 21 months of that time he spent in the Far East. He is now a student in International Business college where his bride was graduated and is now employed as a secretary. She was graduated from high school at Montpelier, Ohio, in 1953.

Guests from a Distance

Guests attended the quiet wedding and reception from Fort Wayne, Somerset, Kendallville Churubusco, Warsaw, South Whitley, Albion, Montpelier, Ohio, and Albion, Michigan.

Husbands Are Guests Of Fidelity; Covers Laid For 27 At Turkey Dinner

Twenty-seven covers were laid for the annual Christmas party and turkey dinner of the Fidelity club, Friday evening, when husbands in the club were guests.

Evergreen boughs, cones and red candles decorated the covers marked with nut cups, each marked with a tiny snow man. Mrs. Eugene Beyer, president of the club, welcomed the guests to which B. V. Widney responded.

Mrs. Widney played a group of numbers which included "White Christmas," "Christmas Winterland," and "The Toy Makers Dream" and she furnished piano accompaniment for the singing of carols. Arthur Trier Sr., played the violin accompaniment. Mrs. B. M. Pressler led in the group singing.

A trio composed of Mrs. Joseph Hayes, Miss Marjorie Keiser, and Mrs. Pressler sang the Polish melody "Jesus in a Manger," accompanied by Mrs. Widney at the piano. Mr. Trier played as a violin number "Santa Claus Is Coming To Town." Two vocal numbers were given by Mrs. Ralph Brockenhamer who sang "Holy City" with violin obligato and "Magnifacant," by Wessel.

The "I've Got a Secret" program formed a part of the lovely program which was conducted by Mrs. Hayes. Mrs. Ford Hickman, William Yaney, Mrs. Beyer and B. W. Widney formed the panel and contestants were Ford Hickman Mrs. R. F. Raber, Charles Smith and Mrs. Glenn Overdeer."

Secret sisters were revealed in the gift exchange and there were gifts beneath the large tree in the southeast corner of the banquet room for the husbands.

The committee in charge of the program was Mrs. Trier, chairman, Mrs. B. M. Pressler and Mrs. Charles Smith.

The Considines Leave Today For California To Spend Two Weeks

Mr. and Mrs. James Considine of Raber left early today by train for Los Angeles, Calif., where they will spend two weeks. They will be the guests of their daughter, Miss Mary Considine at Los Angeles.

On December 23, Miss Considine will motor her parents to Concord, Calif., where they will spend Christmas Day with Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Dilly and children, Mike and Marianne.

Mrs. Dilly, who is the former Elsie Considine Langohr, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Considine.

Thorncreek Township Community Aid Guests Metzger Home

One large lighted candle garlanded with greenery and pine cones centered the lace covered table laid for the buffet dinner of the Thorncreek Community Aid Thursday, at the home of Mrs. Roy Metzger in Thorncreek township.

In the living room, gifts lay under the illuminated tree. Mrs. Arthur Schaper was in charge of the program and led in singing "Come All Ye Faithful." The hostess read the Christmas story from the Bible.

Mrs. Adams, Miss Ethel Schuman, Miss Ruth Sheckler, Mrs Hively, Mrs. M. E. Dowell and Mrs. Bristow gave readings and the program of readings was followed by a group of recordings by Bing Crosby, and "The Lord's Prayer"

Nineteen members and guests of the Society attended the affair. Guests included Miss Ethel Schuman, Mrs. Schrader and Dennis and Lana Hively, children of Merlin and Gerald Hively.

Nurses Aides Hold Party In Hospital Dining Room

The Whitley County Nurses' Aid association, composed of the aides at the Whitley County Hospital held their Christmas party in the hospital dining room Friday evening.

Mrs. Carl Weigold gave the prayer and read the account of the birth of Jesus from the St. Luke gospel.

The long dining table was attractively laid with white linen cloths and decorated with a large white and blue centerpiece on which stood a giant white Christmas candle and reindeer and tiny snowmen. On both ends of the table were large red candles.

The potluck dinner was served by candlelight. After the meal a short business meeting was held and the group sang Christmas carols. A dollar gift exchange followed.

The association has announced its officers for the coming year as follows: Mrs. Carl Weigold president; Mrs. Irene Johnson, vice-president; Mrs. H. O. Raypole, secretary and treasurer.

Miriam Circle Is Entertained At The Richard Fisher Home

Twenty-two members of the Miriam Circle of Trinity Methodist church attended the Christmas meeting held Friday evening at the Richard Fisher home on the Squawbuck Road.

Mrs. Paul Greiser led in the singing of carols and she gave a history of some of the carols and how caroling came about, and how some of the carols had been passed down from generation to generation.

The program which followed a carry-in supper was served from a table laid in green and lighted with red candles. A gift exchange was conducted.

Cleveland Browns Place Seven Players On 1955 United Press All-Star Professional Team

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP)—The Cleveland Browns, who led the National Football League in scoring this season while allowing fewer points than any other club, today placed seven players on the two-platoon 1955 United Press all-star professional team.

The Los Angeles Rams, who will play host to Cleveland in the league's championship game Dec. 26, won two berths in voting by 30 sports writers who covered the NFL campaign.

The Chicago Bears, Baltimore Colts and San Francisco Forty-Niners also placed two players apiece on the first team. Each of the other seven teams placed one man on the mythical two-platoon team.

Cleveland, which won the Eastern Division title for the sixth straight year, placed quarterback Otto Graham, tackle Lou Groza, guard Abe Gibron and center Frank Gatski on the offensive first team. End Len Ford, tackle Don Colo and halfback Don Paul of the Browns won places on the defensive first team. Graham, Groza and Ford each made the team for the fifth straight season.

Rams Place Three

Los Angeles, the Western Division champion, placed Ron Waller, rookie halfback from Maryland, on the offensive unit and halfback Bill Sherman on the defensive platoon.

The others who won positions on the offensive team were ends Harlon Hill of the Bears and Billy Wilson of San Francisco; tackle Bob St. Clair of San Francisco; guard Bill Austin of New York; halfback Ollie Matson of the Chicago Cardinals and fullback Alan Ameche of Baltimore.

The remainder of the defensive platoon was made up of end Gene Brito of Washington. Tackle Art Donovan of Baltimore; middle guard Dale Dodrill of Pittsburgh; linebackers Chuck Bednarik of Philadelphia and George Connor of the Bears; and halfbacks Jack Christiansen and Bobby Dillon of Green Bay.

Two Rookies Named

Hill, Groza, Gibron, Gatski, Graham, Donovan and Sherman were the only men who won berths with clear-cut margins. Ameche, former Wisconsin All-America, and Waller were the only rookies who made the team.

The second offensive team Ends: Pete Pihos, Philadelphia, and Kyle Rote, New York; tackles, Mike McCormack, Cleveland, and Lou Creekmur, Detroit; guards, Duane Putnam, Los Angeles, and Stan Jones, Chicago Bears; center, Dick Szymanski, Baltimore; quarterback, Norm Van Brocklin, Los Angeles; halfbacks, Fred Morrison, Cleveland, and Alex Webster, New York; fullback, Howie Ferguson, Green Bay.

The second defensive team: Ends, Andy Robustelli, Los Angeles, and Norm Willey, Philadelphia; tackles, Ray Krause, New York, and Bob Toneff, San Francisco; middle guard, Bob Gain, Cleveland; linebackers, Joe Schmidt, Detroit, and Les Richter, Los Angeles; halfbacks, Bert Rechichar, Baltimore, and Warren Lahr, Cleveland; safetymen, Dick Lane, Chicago Cardinals, and Emlen Tunnell, New York.

Fiore Favored Over Poirier

It will be 23-year old Poirier's first start since Aug. 29, when he was stopped by Chris Christensen of Denmark in the sixth round at St. Nick's because of face cuts. Gene's right brow required eight stitches, but he was winning when stopped.

Fiore, 26, will be making his second comeback appearance. He returned to the ring on Nov. 21, after a 13-month lay-off, and won a unanimous 10-round decision over Rinzy Nocero of Brooklyn at St. Nick's.

It was Fiore's 48th victory in 71 fights. He has been beaten 18 times, eight by TKO's on cuts. He had five draws, and knocked out 18.

Poirier won five of his seven bouts this year. His 13-3-2 record includes five kayoes. He was stopped in each of his three defeats.

Coesse Indians To Play Second Game With Churubusco

The Coesse Indians play the Churubusco Eagles Tuesday night at Churubusco. The Indians have won five and lost four in the games played this season while the Eagles have won two and lost six.

The Indians defeated Larwill by a score of 41-26 and the Eagles defeated Larwill by 54-47.

Coesse defeated Jefferson Center by 71-50 and Churubusco defeated Jefferson by 66-58.

Churubusco lost to Wolf Lake by a score of 59-62 and Coesse defeated Wolf Lake by 68-60.

In an early season game at Coesse the Indians won from the Eagles 59-43.

Larry Foust Leads Pistons To Victory

By UNITED PRESS

The St. Louis Hawks moved back into first place in the Western Division of the National Basketball Assn. today because a last-minute rally by the Rochester Royals just fell short.

The Hawks escaped with an 86-85 decision in Sunday night's clash the then first-place Royals at St. Louis. St. Louis led by 86-81 with only 14 seconds left, but Don Meineke of the Royals slapped in a rebound and Richie Regan stole the ball for another quick basket before St. Louis could freeze only the closing seconds.

League scoring leader Bob Pettit of the Hawks notched 26 points, but Jack McMahon of the Royals took game honors with 28.

In other games played Sunday, the Boston Celtics nipped New York, 95-92; Syracuse downed Philadelphia, 99-79; and Fort Wayne defeated Minneapolis, 96-86.

At New York, Boston Coach Arnold "Red" Auerbach was given a "day" by the fans and 20 points each by Jim Loscutoff and Bob Cousy led the Celts to victory. Ray Felix had 21 for the Knicks and he and Loscutoff were involved in a brief fist-fight that was quickly halted.

At Syracuse, league-leading Philadelphia trailed the Nats all the way. Seven Nats scored in double figures, led by John Kerr's 18 points, while Neil Johnston had 17 for the Warriors.

Larry Foust led Fort Wayne to victory over Minneapolis by notching 33 points, including 19 of 22 free throws. The win snapped both a three-game Piston losing streak and a three-game Laker winning streak.

Reds Score 12-5 Victory Over Indians

By UNITED PRESS

Don "Bones" Raleigh, former captain of the New York Rangers, played the first minor league game of his life Sunday night—but he won't be playing many more if he keeps up the pace he set.

Dropped by the Rangers in Phil Watson's drastic shakeup last Saturday, the 29-year old Raleigh, who joined the Rangers in 1943 direct from amateur hockey, scored two goals and received credit for two assists in the Providence Reds' 12-5 victory over the Springfield Indians.

Camille Henry, another former Ranger, also scored two goals in the rout which enabled the Reds to take over first place in the American Hockey League from idle Pittsburgh.

Buffalo defeated last-place Hershey, 4-2, in the other game Sunday night.

Winter

Middle Atlantic states and as far south as Tennessee.

Twenty persons were trapped in a wooden apartment building at San Francisco when wind ripped the roof from the building. They were rescued by firemen and none was reported serirously injured.

Wind gusts in the San rancisco and Bay areas reached 63 m.p.h. during an intense storm that swept the Pacific Coast. An inland fog in southern California was blamed for three traffic accidents that killed five persons.

South of San Francisco at Linda Mar a school roof was blown off.

Record Snowfall Reported

The northern tier of states from Wyoming east to the Great Lakes suffered with falling temperatures and snow.

More than 08 inches of snow has fallen at Houghton, Mich., this season for a new record. There was 36 inches of snow on the ground Sunday. Parts of northern Minnesota measured 25 inches of snow on the ground.

The north-central states experienced some of the coldest weather this season. from northern Illinois southern Iowa and southern Nebraska northward it was zero or below.

It was 20 below or lower in most of North Dakota, eastern South Dakota and Minnesota.

By UNITED PRESS

A frigid cold wave may push temperatures down as low as five degrees below zero in Indiana tonight.

Weathermen warned some of the season's coldest weather is on tap after a zero reading in one part of the state early today. There were fair skies during the day but temperatures stayed below the freezing mark.

Northern Indiana can expect temperatures from 5 below to 5 above zero tonight, while southern Indiana will get 5 to 15 above.

Tuesday's temperatures will be slightly below or above 20 degrees, with light snow expected in the north and snow flurries in the central portion Tuesday afternoon or evening.

The cold wave sent the mercury to zero at Lafayette this morning, 8 at Indianapolis and 14 at Fort Wayne.

Sports Summary For The Weekend

By UNITED PRESS

Saturday

NEW YORK— Tony Trabert of Cincinnati and Vic Seixas of Philadelphia were placed first and second, respectively, in the selections of the United States Lawn Tennis Association's ranking committee.

CORAL GABLES, Fla.— Switch On captured the Coral Gables Handicap at Tropical Park by two and one-half lengths.

MELBOURNE, Australia— Dave Stephens of Australia beat Sandor Iharos and Laszio Tabori, Hungary's two standout distance runners, in a 5,000 meter race for a major track upset.

SAN BRUNO, Calif.— Bobby Brocato covered a muddy mile and a furlong course in 1:50 2-5 to win the $35,000 Tanforan handicap.

NEW YORK— Scott Frost, a three-year old trotter that won harness racing's triple crown, was voted harness horse of the year by the United States Trotting Assn.

Sunday

SANFORD, Fla.— Al Balding of Canada shot a two-under-par 68 to win the $15,000 Mayfair Open golf tournament.

NEW YORK— Coach Red Auerbach of the Boston Celtics was honored with a "day" and then watched his team beat the New York Knickerbockers, 95-92, in an NBA game.

NEW YORK— Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., and Shirley Fry of St. Petersburg, Fla., were ranked one-two in the annual ladies tennis rankings by the U. S. Lawn Tennis Assn. ranking committee.

Floods Strike Port Of Tripoli

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UP)—Lebanese authorities announced today that floods which struck the Lebanese port of Tripoli had drowned 163 persons and that 250 persons were missing.

The floods hit Tripoli, 40 miles north northeast of Beirut, and its two suburban villages of Zghorta and Minyey Sunday night, 24 hours after torrential rains fell at the village of Becharreh.

The Abou-Ali river rose out of its banks and swept toward the sea, destrroying the refinery and offices of the Iraq Petroleum Co. and several hundred shops and houses. Property damage was estimated in the tens of millions.

Children Of Moose Entertained Sunday Afternoon By Order

The ladies lounge at the Moose Home was the scene Sunday afternoon of the Christmas party held for children of the Moose and Chapter members. A large illuminated tree stood on one corner, and under it was placed a gift for each child. The gifts were distributed by Santa Claus.

Christmas Carols were sung by the children under the direction of Mrs. Sam Galbreath at the piano. Motion pictures were shown by Dale Webber. Cookies and ice cream were served by the committee in charge, consisting of Mrs. Henry Karst, Mrs. Sam Galbreath, Mrs. Jack Welsheimer, and Mrs. Therring Mullendore. The children present were as follows.

John, Tom, and Richard, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Winebrenner; Russell and Darlene, children of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Swing; Shelia, Kathie, Connie and Sherry, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Lundblad; Bradley and Byron, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shively; Billy and Frank, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kemery; Bobby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Helblig; Paula Jane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shoda; Barbara, Diane, and Ronnie, children of Mr. and Mrs. George Keifer; Larry and Lanna children of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Line; J. T. and Bill, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Webber; Jane and Jimmie, children of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Phend; Jack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Keiser; Jane daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Christmas song, "What Child Is Seivers; Marille, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boyd; Penny, Larry and Bruce, children of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Webber; of Fort Wayne; Stephen and Sue, children of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Barcus; Darrell and Douglas, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Bonnell Helfrich of Churubusco; Vickie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Arnett of Norfork, Virginia.

Fort Hood Tankers Defeat Navy Amphibs

GALVESTON, Tex. (UP)— Don Gottlob, former Sam Houston State College star, completed nine of 17 passes for 154 yards and three touchdowns Sunday to lead the Fourth Army champion Fort Hood, Tex., Tankers to a 33-13 victory over the Navy Amphibs before a crowd of 7,500 in the Shrimp Bowl game.

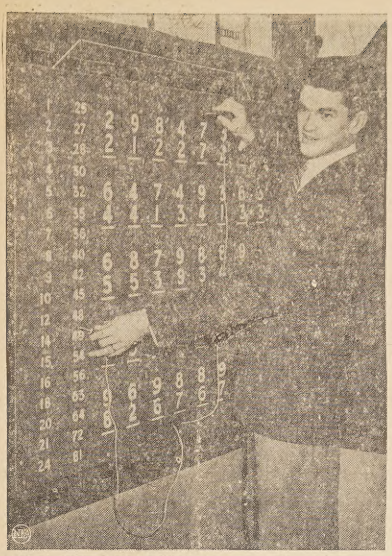
U. N. General Assembly Elects Yugoslavia To Security Council



HIS CLASSROOM'S BUZZING—Teacher Robert Black demonstrates the use of his homemade "buzzer board." It's simplifying the learning of multiplication for his sixth grade pupils in Berea, Ohio. The board contains 45 multiplication tables. A buzzer sounds when a student applies to the problem one end of the "finder," two radio jackplugs attached by a long wire, and the other end to the correct answer. If the answer chosen is wrong, then no buzz. Black made the board with two dry-cell batteries, 100 feet of wire, some lumber and masonite. It took five hours' work and $12 in materials to build.

Air Force Begins Investigation Into Two Separate Air Collisions

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (UP) —The Air Force began an intense investigation today into a pair of separate air collisions, between two B47's and another involving a B29 and an F86, which left all 14 airmen abroad the aircraft dead or missing.

Eight of the known dead were the crewmembers abroad the two big jet B47 bombers, which crashed in the air with a thunderous explosion near Tampa, spraying fiery bits of wreckage over a wide area Monday afternoon.

Three other airmen were known dead and three others were listed as missing in the air collision of a propeller-driven B29 and an F86 all-weather jet interceptor about 14 mies east of Tyndall Air Force Base in the vicinity of Mexico Beach just outside Port St. Joe.

One of the B47's was from MacDill Air Force Base, Tampa, and the other was from Pinecastle AFB, Orlando. Each carried four airmen.

Landing Gear Trouble

Lt. Robert E. Johnson, public information officer at MacDill, said a preliminary investigation indicated that the jet bomber from MacDill had landing gear trouble.

He said the Pinecastle plane apparently flew underneath the other bomber to check its landing gear and "must have hit a downdraft and collided."

They slammed into each other over a wooded area between a factory and a railroad yard, but there were no ground casualties.

The propeller-driven B29 and the F86 jet were believed to have collided in the air while the fighter was making a gunnery run on a target towed by the World War II type-bomber only a few hours after the B47's collided.

No One Hurt

The B29's nose landed on U.S. Highway 98 close to a tourist court where some 50 people were staying but none of the tourists were hurt. The falling debris missed by only 20 yards a man and his family in a car on the highway.

I John 4:1-21

In this chapter the apostle exhorts to try the spirits. He gives a note in verse 2 and 3 to try by scrutiny and analyzation, and shows who are of the world and who of God in verse 4 and 5. Next he urges Christian love by many conditions. Then he describes our love to God and the effect of it.

First we are urged not to believe every spirit but to try them. There were false spirits abroad in the early centuries as well as today. John says these spirits can be discerned by the confession they make, namely that the evil spirit will not confess that Jesus has come into the flesh. The theory was abroad in this day that the spirrit that descended on Jesus Christ at His baptism had left Him before His crucifixion and thus took away His incarnate power. But the true spirit as manifested by the apostles on the day of pentecost said that the same Holy Spirit which ascended at baptism remained and came as the Comforter after His ascension. Believing on Him implies more than the first glance reveals.

The writer then reveals that the christian can have a know so salvation. In love for the Christian Brethren because of the love God manifested in giving Jesus is manifest in divers aspects. We love what we see and experience. Christ is incarnate. Therefore, we love our brethren who name His Name in the hope that the evil will be overcome of good.

Our love to God is manifest in that we abide in Him. God is love. Jesus Christ is His only begotten son. Jesus is incarnate. Therefore, we love with a perfect love. "For perfect love casts out fear." We love because He first loved us.

Local Seniors Plan Rudolph's Rendevous

The senior sponsored semi-formal dance, "Rudolph's Rendevous" will be Friday evening, after the Columbia City and Decatur game until 12:15 in the Eagles Hall.

Music for the dance will be furnished by a seven piece combo from Fort Wayne, under the leadership of Jim Bechstein.

Several senior committees have been working for the past week to make the dance a success.

One of the committees is the date bureau committee. This committee was organized to help give the Columbia City students a more enjoyable evening. It is felt that the dance will be more enjoyable if everyone has an escort. Keeping this in mind the committee has made an effort to match boys and girls for the evening.

The committee was quoted as saying "We seniors want this dance to be a success in that everyone enjoys himself and remembers it as one of the highlights of the holiday season. We are not making it semi-formal to scare people away but only to make it more special."

To Practice On Thursday Evening

The choir of Trinity Methodist church will practice Thursday evening at 8:00 at the church for the midnight service to be held on Christmas Eve.

Every member of the choir is urged to attend.

Topics Discussed For Adult Farm Classes

Several topics were discussed by the committee, which met Monday evening in the vocational agricultural room at Jefferson Center to make plans for the winter evening classes for adult farmers.

The topics discussed which seemed of general interest were income taxes, social security, insurance, farm management in land use, crop and livestock systems, cutting farm costs and uses of farm buildings.

The class will meet for the first time on Wednesday, January 4 in the Vocational Agricultural room at 7:30 p.m. The topic to be discussed will probably be income taxes.

Gerald Wallace, Jefferson Center Vocational Agricultural teacher, will be the topic leader for these classes.

Administration Will Increase Its Foreign Aid

About 200 Million Over This Year

WASHINGTON (UP) —Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today the administration plans to spend about $4,400,000,000 for foreign military and economic aid in the next fiscal year—an increase of $200,000,000 over this year.

He also said the administration will ask Congress in January for $4,900,000,000 in new appropriations for foreign aid.

Dulles made the statement at his weekly news conference in an effort to clear up a flurry of conflicting reports regarding the foreign aid plans the administration will lay before the new session of Congress next month.

There has been some confusion over "spending" and "appropriation." The $4,400,000,000 is the amount the administration actually expects to spend in fiscal 1957 which begins July 1. The $4,900,000,000 is the amount of new money to be requested and would be spent partly in the next fiscal year and partly later.

John Wilson Able To Return Home

Wilfred Wilson, North Chauncey street, returned from Indianapolis Monday night. He reported that his son, John Wilson, a student at the Indiana Medical Center, was able to return to his home at 615 Tibbs Ave., Indianapolis, 22, from the Robert Long hospital although he will need to remain in bed for a time. He is suffering from a virus kidney infection.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson had been called to Indianapolis the previous weekend when his condition became critical.

Four National Farm Organizations Want Voluntary Participation In Soil Bank Plan

WASHINGTON (UP) — Four national farm organizations want participation in the proposed federal "soil bank" program to be purely voluntary.

The four organizations also want Congress to insist that surplus-crop producing land taken out of major crop production for the soil bank should not be used for pasture, hay or the production of other crops in surplus production.

The proposed soil bank program would pay farmers for diverting land used for production of surplus commodities to soil conserving crops.

Representatives of the four groups got together in an all-day closed meeting Monday at the request of Chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La) of the Senate Agriculture Committee. He urged them to agree, as far as possible, on a legislative program that might ease the cost-price squeeze on farmers.

Represented at the session were the National Grange, the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, the National Milk Producers Federation and the National Farmers Union.

The American Farm Bureau Federation, which had requested a one-week delay in the meeting, was not represented. A spokesman said President Charles B. Shuman felt he should not attend prior to a January meeting of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers.

A spokesman said after the meeting that there was informal agreement on a "surprisingly large" number of farm problems. He said no formal statement would be made but the group scheduled another session for shortly after the first of the year.

Besides the soil bank program, the conferees discussed such subjects as ways to bolster declining farm income, balancing farm supplies with demand, a self-help program for dairy farmers, and the general area of government price supports.

The spokesman said there was informal agreement on such projects as the school milk and lunch program, the use of tariff funds to buy farm surpluses, tax treatment of farmer cooperatives and agricultural research programs.

ColdWaveShoves The East Farther Into Deep Freeze

Relents A Little In The Midwest

By UNITED PRESS

A bone-chilling cold wave shoved the East farther into a deep freeze today, but relented a little in the Midwest.

Temperatures were still well below zero in the North Central states, although Bemidji, Minn. "warmed up" from 45 below to 11 below. In other midlands areas, forecasters predicted the mercury would struggle into the 10's and 20's.

In the east, however, cold wave warnings were posted for New York and Pennsylvania. And the Pacific Northwest weathered another kind of wintry blast—Hurricane rains and blizzards which left flood dangers in their wake.

With winter officially two days away, the temperature was below freezing early today from northern North Carolina to southern Arkansas, northern Texas, and across the Western plains.

Low temperatures included 13 below at both International Falls and Redwood Falls in Minnesota and a frosty 11 above at Dalhart, Tex.

Rash Of Fires

A rash of disastrous fires, many of them caused by overheated stoves, accompanied the bitter cold.

At Springfield, Ohio, an exploding oil stove touched off a blaze which killed five children and the mother of two of the victims. Another fire burned down four buildings on the main street of Appleton, Wis., early today and the five-below cold was so intense that water changed to ice almost as soon as it left the hoses.

The cold was also blamed for a mounting list of deaths by exposure and exhaustion. One of the latest victims was a Belmont, Wis., truck-driver whose body was discovered frozen in a foot and a half of creek water.

Holiday Buying Ahead Of 1954

Columbia City's merchants have indicated that the 1955 Christmas shopper is spending more than he did in 1954. Stores' sales generally are slightly ahead of the 1954 Christmas gross.

Last year had topped previous years in Christmas sales, being far ahead of 1953 which saw a spring and summer slump in payrolls, the recovery period which set in later still leaving many with back bills to be paid and limiting the Christmas spending.

Last Saturday's sales in many stores set a peak which this week's buying is not expected to equal, although longer store hours have been announced for the convenence of the Christmas shopper this week.

In certain lines, however, the previous Saturday, Dec. 10, was the peak day. Early habits of shopping and the chance of selection before stocks were depleted have been cited as reasons for the exceptional business on Dec. 10.

Christmas Program To Be Presented By Etna Methodist

The Etna Methodist Church will present their Christmas Program Wednesday evening at 7:30. The program will consist of recitations and songs by the children of the church and the MYF will present a playlet entitled, "The King who Abolished Christmas."

Rev. John Krieg is pastor of the church.

Patricia King Brought To County Hospital

Miss Patricia King who was injured in a two-car accident five weeks ago was taken from her home in Etna Township to the Whitley County Hospital Monday night by a J. A. DeMoney and Son ambulance. Miss King was admitted to the hospital as a medical patient and her room number is 159.

$80 Still Required For Firemen's Party

Eighty dollars are still required to finance the Firemen's Christmas Party fund. Contributions Monday totaled $19.

These were received from:

Those wishing to contribute to financing the annual Christmas Eve party featuring treats for the children, may leave their donations at either bank at the fire or police stations in the city hall, or with any fireman.

Rioters Attack U. S. Consulate In Jordan Sector

And Rip Down American Flag

JERUSALEM (UP) — Rioters attacked the U.S. consulate in the Jordan sector of Jerusalem today and ripped down the American flag before Arab legionnaires hurled them back with gunfire.

Violence flared anew in the divided holy city as former Premier Fawzi El Mulki started consultations to form a new Jordan government. Nationwide rioting over Jordan's possible adherence to the pro-Western Baghdad Pact forced Premier Hazza Majali to quit Monday.

Jordan's 21-year-old King Hussein picked El Mulki to form a caretaker government pending elections to let the people of Jordan decide if they wanted their country to join the anti-Communist alliance.

Youthful rioters battled past a cordon of Arab Legionnaires guarding the American consulate in the Jordanian old city of Jerusalem as the violence continued this morning. The demonstrators hauled down the stars and stripes.

A crowd of older Arabs tried to follow the youths to the consulate. Legionnaires opened fire over the demonstrators' heads and they retreated.

Another mob stormed the French consulate afterwards. Legionnaires fired again, and a number of demonstrators were reported wounded. But the mob got through to the building, looted files and set fire to furniture while diplomats took refuge on the roof.

The French consul general fled to the Israeli sector of Jerusalem Monday after rioters dragged him from his car.

Name Speaker For Student Convocation

The Rev. Verlin O. Vernon, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, has been invited to speak at the Christmas convocation Friday afternoon in Marshall Memorial hall. This is the occasion of the joint convocation of the high school's student body and the departmental grades from the West Ward school.

The program, as outlined today by Max Gandy, high school principal, and Dale Pence, West Ward principal, will include several Musical selections by the high school choir under Mrs. Merrill Munns' direction.

The convocation will open at 2:15 p.m. and last until 3:00 when the schools will be dismissed for the holidays. Classes will be resumed Jan. 3.

Cravens Declares Candidacy For IndianaGovernor

Wins Support Of His Congressman

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Dan W. Cravens of Franklin declared himself a Republican candidate for governor today and won the support of his congressman.

Cravens submitted his resignation as vice-chairman of the State Alcoholic Beverage Commission to campaign for the nomination. The resignation is effective Dec. 31, and Governor Craig will appoint a successor.

Rep. William Bray of Martinsville congressman from Craven's home district who previously was mentioned as a gubernatorial possibility himself, was present when Cravens announced his candidacy. Bray gave Cravens his blessing and said he will seek reelection to Congress.

Cravens said he will base his campaign principally "on a desire to restore self-determination to local communities," allowing them to regulate their own affairs without "dictation" from the state or federal governments.

"I want to stress the fact," he said, "I am not a candidate representing any special group or any faction within the Republican party."

A former Johnson County GOP chairman, the 35-year-old Cravens said he knows the value of a political organization and will "work through the organization whenever possible."

Cravens joins Frank Millis, state revenue commissioner, and State Rep. Merrett Monks of Winchester as candidates for the top GOP nomination next year.

Bray told newsmen he is not a candidate for governor "and I don't intend to be." He called Cravens his "political friend" and said "I don't know what the seventh district will do, but I do know the district has a lot of respect and high regard for Dan."

"If I were a delegate to the convention," Bray added, "I would vote for Dan."

Intersection Is Collision Scene

None was hurt but considerable damage resulted to the vehicles when the cars operated by Terry May, aged 17, and Walter R. Sickafoose, 40, local machinist, collided at 12:05 p.m. Monday at Oak and Spencer streets.

Sickafoose was westbound on Spencer street in his 1946 DeSoto sedan, pulled against the north curbing when he saw May approaching from the south on Oak street. May, driving the 1948 Chevrolet coach owned by his father, Lewis May of 509 West Ellsworth street, applied his brakes and slid about 75 feet. He tried to turn right onto Spencer street and in doing so collided with the Sickafoose car. Damage to Sickafoose's vehicle was estimated at $175 and included both front wheels and the left front fender. The right front wheel, hood, and front end of the May car were damaged. Repair bills on the May vehicle are expected to reach $150.

As a result of the accident, May is to face charges in mayor's court of improper turning and failing to give a half of the roadway. The accident was investigated by Harry Prumm, local police officer.

100 Auto License Managers, Workers To Meet Here Dec. 28

A luncheon for over one hundred license branch managers and workers will be held here at the 30 Club Wednesday, December 28.

A school for 1956 operations will be held under the direction of M. Eugene Browand, director of branch operations.

The school will begin at the 30 Club at 10 a.m. and the luncheon will be held at 12 noon. Marion Mayberry of Churubusco, Gladys Souers and Bernice Simmers of the local branch, and Charles H. White, local branch manager, who is in charge of arrangements for the dinner, will attend from this county.

Free Parking On Friday, Saturday

As one of its Christmas presents, Columbia City will offer free parking both Friday and Saturday, Dec. 23 and 24, to shoppers.

While the parking meters will not be tagged, none will be expected to deposit coins in the meters on either of these days.

Christmas Day and the Monday legal observance of Christmas will also be free days regarding parking meters.

Christmas Loans Plan Stepped Up By Westinghouse

First Day Nears Quarter Million Mark

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Westinghouse Electric Corp., rejecting proposals by two governors to submit strike issues to arbitration, stepped up its gigantic Christmas loan operations today.

First day distribution of $100 interest-free loans to striking or furloughed workers neared the quarter million dollar mark Monday.

Company paymasters anticipated a rushing loan business when disbursements begin today at the huge East Pittsburgh plant and at Fairmont, W. Va.

Of a total of 13,000 employed at East Pittsburgh, 10,000 are eligible for loans to tide them over for the holiday season. The potential one million dollar loan at East Pittsburgh is one seventh of the 7-million dollar total the company is prepared to disburse to 55,000 striking employes.

Workers crossed their own picket lines in five states Monday when the "big payoff" began.

The International Union of Electrical Workers, which represents 44,000 members out at 30 plants, quickly approved pleas by Pennsylvania Gov. George M. Leader and New York Gov. Averell Harriman to submit the strike to arbitration.

But Westinghouse President and Chairman Gwilym A. Price fired off telegrams to the governors rejecting the proposal.

Price said he did not wish the company to "abdicate its responsibility" by accepting the proposal.

Agrees To Serve Only First Half Of 2-Year Term

Philippines Slated To Be Elected To 'Unexpired' Term

By BRUCE W. MUNN
United Press Staff Correspondent

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP) —The United Nations General Assembly today elected Yugoslavia to the Security Council, ending a long deadlock over the disputed seat.

Election of Yugoslavia came on the 36th of a series of ballots that began last Oct. 14 and consumed seven meetings of the assembly.

Yugoslavia received 43 votes, 5 more than the required two-thirds majority. The Philippines received 11 votes, Finland 1, Sweden 1.

There was dead silence in the huge meeting hall when Assembly President Jose Maza of Chile announced the result. Usually, such announcements are greeted with applause.

The 36th ballot marked the conclusion of a deal unprecedented in U.S. history.

Last Friday night, Maza drew lots to decide whether Yugoslavia or the Philippines should withdraw from the race for the council seat. The Philippines lost.

But, with strong backing from the United States and Britain, an agreement was made that Yugoslavia would serve only the first half of the two-year term prescribed by the U.N. charter. At the end of 12 months, Yugoslavia is to resign and the Philippines is slated to be elected to the "unexpired" term.

The assembly at first refused to sanction the deal in a rebellious meeting Friday night. Many delegates attacked the plan as illegal and contrary to the U.N. charter.

During the weekend, however, Britain's Sir Pierson Dixon, U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., Secretary-general Dag Hammarskjold and Maza led consultations with a host of diplomats and lined up enough votes to put the plan across.

Teachers' Total Vote Is 96 to 44

The final tabulation of the Whitley county school teachers' vote on whether to subscribe to federal social security benefits, was 96 favoring the plan to 44 opposed. The final tabulation as received by Harry Yoder, county school superintendent, included the last two schools to report in the voting, the Troy-Etna school, and the South Whitley schools.

Nation's Farms, Ranges Produce Record Total Of Crops, Livestock

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — The nation's farms and ranges in 1955 produced a record total of crops and livestock.

Crop production alone was the second largest—just six-tenths of 1 per cent under the 1948 record when the crop index stood at 106 per cent of the 1947-49 average.

But Agriculture Department officials said when the 1955 livestock production is added to the field crop index the overall figure will be at least 111 per cent of the base production index. This will be 3 percentage points above last year's record of 108 per cent.

The department's Crop Reporting Board said Monday that production in 1955 was "generally good, crop by crop and area by area, with some notable exceptions." The combined acreage of principal crops harvested was the smallest since 1940, but generally higher yields per acre more than offset acreage reductions.

Acreage Considerably Lower

The 1955 harvested acreage of 333,000,000 acres was 5,400,000 acres less than in 1954. Largest acreage reductions from 1954 were in winter wheat, down 5,500,000 acres; spring wheat, down 1,600,000 acres; oats down 1,400,000 acres and rice, down 700,000 acres.

Largest acreage increases from 1954 were in all sorghums, soybeans, hay, and barley.

Record productions were attained for oats, soybeans, hay, alfalfa seed, sorghum silage, and oranges. Second largest crops of record were produced for barley sorghum grain, and rice. Many other crops had above average outturn, including corn, flaxseed, sorghum forage, cotton, sugar beets, dry beans, rye, sweet clover seed, lespedeza seed, broomcorn, grapes, cherries, apricots, avocados, lemons cranberries and walnuts.

Wheat Crop Off Sharply

Wheat, both winter and spring, fell nearly 20 per cent below average. Other crops much below average were dry peas, cowpeas, sweet potatoes, buckwheat, sugarcane syrup, peaches and pecans.

The corn crop at 3,185,000,000 bushels was the sixth largest on record. But for a severe summer drought on the western fringes of the Corn Belt, the crop would have been millions of bushels higher. The corn yield this year was 39.8 bushels an acre. This compares with 37.5 bushels an acre in 1954 and a 10-year average of 36.4 bushels.

Wheat yields reached a record high of 19.9 bushels an acre. This compares with 18.1 bushels last year and 10-year average of 17.1 bushels.

More Food For The Hungry

Americans, as individuals, will certainly join major relief agencies in welcoming Secretary of Agriculture Benson's decision to release surplus grains for distribution to the world's hungry. To cite one example of what the action means, CARE officials were immediately able to start planning extension of their Food Crusade program to additional countries, particularly the critical areas of Asia.

Under previous allocations CARE was able to prepare a 22-lb. Food Crusade package of surplus diary products which it asks Americans to send as good-will Christmas gifts to needy families overseas, at $1 per package. But because the dairy surpluses did not meet the dietary requirements in many lands, distribution was limited to nine areas: Italy, Yugoslavia, Berlin, East Germany, Greece, India, Pakistan, Hong Kong, Haiti.

Now, the release of wheat, rice, corn and dried beans means that suitable Food Crusade packages can be prepared for future CARE distributions to the hungry in such countries as Korea, Vietnam, Laos.

Meanwhile, CARE's 1955 Christmas Food Crusade is in full force. Over 700,000 of these $1 packages have been suscribed to date and 1,000,000 packages are prepared for distribution. Each $1 you send today to CARE, 660 First Ave., New York 16 will help feed the hungry from our over-abundance.

The name CARE is taken from Cooperative for American Remittances to Everywhere.

Prime Minister Of Sudan Announces Its Independence

by CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Sayed Ismail El-Azhari, prime minister of the Sudan, has decided that he likes independence so much that he must have it right away.

Great Britain and Egypt, which had long controlled the Sudan, agreed on Dec. 3 that its people should hold a plebiscite to determine their future.

But Azhari announced last week that he intended to proclaim complete independence immediately.

As the result, the Sudanese parliament Monday proclaimed the complete independence of the 967,500 - square - mile territory and established a republican form of government.

There is nothing either Britain or Egypt can do about it, so apparently a new nation has been born.

It is quite a blow to Egypt.

One of the chief complaints Egypt had for years against Britain was that under what was called a condominium, or joint control arrangement, Britain actually was dominant in the Sudan.

In 1951, former King Farouk cancelled the condominium agreement and assumed the title of King of the Sudan as well as of Egypt.

But Britain would not consent, and Farouk's proclamation did not 1952. Britain and the new Egyptian government agreed that the stick.

Farouk lost his throne in July, Sudan should have the right to determine its own future, subject to a three-year transitional period.

Egypt had expected confidently that the Sudanese would agree to unite with it.

Azhari himself, when he became premier early in 1954 as leader of the Sudanese National Unionist Party, was on record as all in favor of union.

But the granting of a little independence led to the strong desire for more.

Dispatches from London and Cairo say that Monday's action by Azhari and his parliament is illegal and unconstitutional.

But neither Britain nor Egypt seems in position to interfere.

is in control.

Hoodlums Try To Rob Santa Claus

NEW YORK (UP) — Six Hoodlums tried to stick up Santa Claus today. They didn't get a red plush cent.

The hold-up men all masked and one with a gun, appeared at the Volunteers of America Building shortly before 6 a.m. as two employes were loading portable chimneys onto a truck for delivery to "Give us the combination to the safe or we'll shoot you on the spot," one young thug said to John T. Malone, 26.

"You'd better shoot me, Mister," Malone replied, "because I haven't got the combination."

The six then attacked Malone and his fellow worker, William Jones, 62. Jones fell to the floor and feigned unconsciousness. Malone was tied up. The six men, all said to be in their early 20s, then tried to crack the safe. They couldn't.

They fled, and Santa's $3,000 in weekend receipts were safe.

Fireman Rescues 3-Year-Old Girl

CHICAGO (UP)—A fireman ran into a burning apartment Monday and found 3-year-old Sherrilyn Kaminski standing in the middle of the floor, staring at a blazing Christmas tree.

"Come on," the firemen yelled.

Shirley kept looking at her Christmas presents, going up in flames with the tree, and shook her head.

"I can't leave," she said. "My mommy told me not to leave until she got back."

The fireman grabbed the child and carried her outside. A short time later Sherrilyn's mother returned from a school, where she had taken one of the little girl's brothers. Another brother, 5-year-old Wayne, explained how the fire started.

He and his younger sister had been lighting matches and blowing them out, he said.

"I could blow mine out and Sherry couldn't," he told his mother.

Over 400 Drivers Ask For Special License Numbers

More than 400 auto owners already have ordered and paid for special 1956 license numbers at the Columbia City Auto License branch, according to Charles O. White, manager.

Others wishing special numbers on their 1956 auto tags, have until Dec. 31 to order them.

It appears that more will apply than did two years ago for the specially numbered auto tags.

Most of the orders, according to Mr. White, represent a desire for some particular number or for the 1956 plates to be sent to Florida or some other out-of-state point where the local resident is vacationing or in temporary residence. Many who make requests for special numbers wish their auto tags to bear the street or telephone number of their residence. Some ask for "low" numbers or wish easily remembered numbers, such as 500 or 1000.

Mr. White by last Friday noon had deposited over $4,841 into the 1956 special plate account.

Those desiring some specially reserved number may secure it at the license branch, but to do so must appear with their 1955 fall tax receipt and the 1956 registration blank which they received through the mails from Indianapolis.

In 1953, the last time that the large auto tags were issued, 750 secured special numbers. With over 400 tags already ordered for 1956 and yet two weeks in which to apply for these, it is probably that more will get specially numbered plates than did two years ago.

Marines To Form Indiana Company

An Indiana Company of Marines is now forming which will depart from Indianapolis on January 31 as a single unit, it was announced by Captain E. W. Hanlon, officer in charge of recruiting.

This will be the second special company of this type sent from Indiana. Enlistment allows the men to remain together during their basic training and to be identified as the "Indiana Company".

Between January 1 adn 27, all applicants will receive their physical and mental examinations on the day they apply for enlistment. If they pass they will return January 31 to be sworn in as a group and then will go to California for 10 weeks of basic training at San Diego.

Young men from Whitley county, who are interested, can contact the Marine Corps Recruiters at the Post Office building in Fort Wayne.

The first official American flag, the Continental or Grand Union flag was displayed on Prospect Hill, Jan. 1, 1776, in the American lines besieging Boston.

Christmas Songs

Lesson for December 25, 1955

DID the angels sing when Christ was born? Some prosaic and unimaginative people say they didn't. True enough, Luke never says there was music. All he says is that the "multitude of the heavenly host" (he does not even say they were angels) were praising God and "saying, Glory to God in the highest . . ." Surely Christian art and Christian story is not wrong in thinking of this as song, not mere recitation or speech-making. At any rate, if the angels did not sing such words, the church has sung them. All down through the Christian centuries Christmas has been a singing time. You cannot suggest all that Christmas means in simple spoken prose; you have to sing.

Dr. Foreman

Beauty In a Jangled World

Luke, who had an ear for such things, put into his gospel not less than four poems connected with the birth of Christ. Of these the "Glory in the highest" is the shortest. The others are the words of Mary (Luke 1:47-55), of Zachariah (1:67-79) and of Simeon (chap. 2:29-32). In the R.S.V. these are printed as poetry, as they really are. (The reader will note other poetic passages, but these are the four most famous ones.) The church has set all these to music many times over, and in some churches they are sung every week. Mary's song like the others has been given a Latin name, from their first words in the Latin Bible: "Magnificat" for Mary's song, "Benedictus" for Zechariah's, "Gloria in excelsis" for the angels', and "Nunc Dimittis" for Simeon's. But modern church-goers do not always realize that each of these poems was called forth in some way by the birth of Jesus. This is as it should be. What poetry is to language and to sound, the coming of Christ is to this world of humanity. In the midst of all the jangling, wrangling, maddening and often meaningless noises of the world, in the midst of all the stupid ordinary soon-forgotten outpouring of talk, talk, talk, a lovely poem comes bringing beauty and meaning, like a rose in a junk-yard. So in the midst of our jangling world Christ comes bringing meaning and joy and peace

Some Will Not Listen

To some—to too many—Christmas means nothing. "Silent Night" is a tune to be tired of, nothing more. The angels might as well never have sung, the Story never written. Readers of TIME magazine will recall an article last July 18 about a writer who is typical of many men and women in these times. He knows there is such a thing as the way of Love, for every cross on every church proclaims it, and every Christmas carol sings it. But he will not accept it. He chooses the way of defiance and despair. To him, life is a wandering in the dark, with nothing but his own candle which will soon go out.

But Some Have Heard

On the other hand there are many, and among them some of mankind's best, who have found in the Christian faith something more than merely a story, a lovely legend, a song for little children, something which it would be pleasant, but impossible, to believe. A good book to get for the new year is one called "This I Believe about Jesus Christ" (edited by J. C. Monsma; Revell & Co., New York). It is a collection of testimonies to Jesus Christ, by an impressive variety of men and women. College presidents, executives of great business firms, scientists, politicians, persons in many walks of life, all write on the same theme, what Christ has meant to them. Any one who thinks that Christianity is a religion only for weak characters ought to read this book. Any one who thinks that Christ is attractive only to children, might well read this book and learn better. The writers by their testimonies show that not alone for ancient and legend-loving times, not only for simple peasants in primitive lands, but for modern men, hard-headed, highly educated, burdened with great responsibilities, Christ brings meaning and beauty as well as power. Strong voices in every land join the heavenly host in praise to God who has given us his Son.

Power Of Letters To The Editor

BLOOMINGTON Never underestimate the power of "Letters to the Editor " columns of newspapers.

Except for some heated espistles penned to editors of Louisville newspapers, persons now traveling by rail between Jeffersonville and Louisville might make the trip under the Ohio River, rather than over it.

John. J. Weisert, assistant professor of modern languages at the University of Louisville, has described the futile attempt to link the two cities by going underground in the current "Indiana Magazine of History", published quarterly by the Indiana University department of history. Title of Prof. Weisert's piece is "A Tunnel for Southern Trade?"

The author reports that the tunnel was prosposed by the Fort Wayne and Southern Railroad, which had been chartered in 1849 to run south from Fort Wayne. The railroad not only wanted to tunnel under the river but to carry the tunnel under Louisville to emerge "somewhere south of Prather Street."

Permission for the project was granted by Kentucky authorities on March 6, 1854. The tunnel was to go "through, into, over and under so much of the territory of Commonwealth of Kentucky as may be necessary to form a convenient connection with the Louisville and Nashville Railroad and the proposed Louisville and Memphis railroad, at some suitable point at or near the southern limit of the City of Louisville."

Louisville aldermen were in sympathy with the project, particularly because the excavating would provide enough gravel to pave the city's streets. The Louisville newspapers endorsed it, too. The area was undergoing one of its recurrent financial crises at the time, but by Dec. 1, a local member of the approximately 75 stock agents of the road was reported to have obtained more than $10,000 in subscriptions in the city and an individual in Clark County, Indiana, more than $8,000.

When Joseph A. Wright, then governor of Indiana, spoke at a meeting of friends of the tunnel at the Merchants' Exchange in Louisville, the Louisville Daily Journal reported that it was "large and highly respectable." In a flurry of enthusiasm, $1,100 was subscribed at the end of the speech.

On Dec. 14, 1854, The Louisville Times published an article signed "Tunnel", which again glowingly described the advantages of such a work, together with editorial endorsement. Two days later, a letter to the editor of The Daily Journal, over the signature "Bridge", denounced with much heat and sarcasm the earlier letter and discussed the inevitability of a bridge at the Falls.

Letters to the editors continued until Jan. 18, 1855, when publication of an article entitled, "Bridge or Tunnel, No. 5", apparently ended the argument. The funds did not come in, whether because of the eloquence of "Bridge", the continuing financial stringency, or rival business interests.

The Fort Wayne and Southern was forced into bankruptcy in the fall of 1855. The vision of a tunnel faded. Even talk of a bridge died out, not to be resumed seriously until 1867. The railroad began a tortuous financial history until its eventual absorption in the present Nickel Plate system. Work on the southern division was ultimately completed by the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, today a part of the Baltimore and Ohio.

Christmas Day is celebrated on Jan. 6 in Spain, and members of the Russian Orthodox Church observe Christmas on Jan. 7.

Complete Details Of Fabulous, Fascinating Business Success Story Will Be Revealed

By REY W. BRUNE
United Press Staff Corespondent

DETROIT (UP)—The complete details of one of America's most fabulous and fascinating success stories will be revealed for the first time Wednesday.

Ford Motor Co. will open its books for the Securities and Exchange Commission in Washington to clear the way for public sale of Ford stock.

The open books will reveal for the first time how the firm, set up for $28,000 cash in 1903, has turned into one of the world's industrial giants.

By 1919, when Henry Ford and his son, Edsel, bought out the last of the remaining stockholders of the original 11 other investors, each $5,000 invested in the firm had grown to a return of 12½ million dollars.

The accounting expected Wednesday should make even that fabulous figure seem small by comparison.

15 Million Model Ts

The story of the Ford Motor Co. and its founder, Henry Ford, has long captivated the fancy of the American public.

It was the son of a Michigan farmer who spurred interest in automobiles with his auto racing feats.

It was Ford who had the idea of "building a car for the great multitude . . . a universal car." His production chief questioned his sanity, but Ford sold 15 million Model T's in 19 years.

Ford was credited with a major role in development of mass production with the moving assembly lines developed in the Highland Park plant in 1913-14 in suburban Detroit.

His views and his operation were often the subject of public controversies.

In 1914, he distributed 10 million dollars to his employes as a bonus and announced a $5-a-day wage scale for an eight-hour day.

The $5-a-day wage attracted cowboys, sailors, lumberjacks and others to Detroit. They wore company identification badges on their coat lapels on Saturday night when they went into downtown Detroit.

Company Made Money

Many manufacturers told Ford he was "crazy." But the company prospered.

Other ideas of his worked out less well. His public views and pronouncements were in that category in many instances. During World War I, he loaded a boat — a "Peace Ship"—with various persons and sent it to Europe to a peace canference at The Hague. Before it landed, various factions aboard started squabbling. It docked at various spots, but never reached The Hague, the group disbanding before that time.

Since World War II, Ford has spent more than $3,750,000,000 of earnings for expansion, modernization and tooling.

The day of Henry Ford is gone. The Ford Foundation which will sell the stock wants to diversify its holdings. Ford itself is anxious to have stockholders. It is believed it will be a boost to sales since stockholders probably would buy Ford products. Stockholders now won't be considered nuisances.

Kefauver Will Discuss Plans On State Primaries

At Afternoon News Conference

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) has tentively decided to challenge Adlai E. Stevenson in Florida's presidential primary next May, informed sources said today.

Formal announcement of the decision could come today. Kefauver called an afternoon news conference to discuss further his plans for entering state primaries in his bid for the Democratic nomination. He also was ready to announce selection of his key campaign aides.

Sources close to the lanky Tennessean said the April 3 primary in Wisconsin and Florida's primary May 29 are the most likely additions to his primary schedule. He announced previously he will campaign in New Hampshire and California.

To date, the June 5 California contest provides the only sure meeting between Kefauver and Stevenson. A Florida announcement by Kefauver would provide another.

Such an announcement, if not made today, is anticipated soon. Kefauver has been planning a holiday-week trip to Florida where he may appear as a speaker and as a spectator at football bowl games.

Some of Kefauver's campaign aides became pretty well identified in the weeks before he formally announced his candidacy. F. Joseph (Jiggs) Donohue, Washington attorney and former member of the D. C. Board of Commissioners, was expected to be named as campaign chairman.

J. Howard McGrath, former Rhode Island senator and one-time attorney general under the administration of former President Truman, was another expected to have some role in the campaign. He was an early supporter of Kefuaver's candidacy.

Gift Wrappings Add Personality Touch

CHICAGO —(UP) —Take time to look at the wrappings before you open your Christmas present. It may be the only special touch to the gift.

Carol Thompson, supervisor of a group of gift-wrapping instructors for a large ribbon and paper manufacturer, said the gift covering had added meaning in this hurried, mechanical age.

"People rarely make gifts anymore," she said. "Wrapping provides the only personal touch you can make."

Bradshaw Tells Of Treatment In Red Captivity

Missionary Was Barely Able To Walk

HONG KONG (UP)—Dr. Homer Bradshaw of New York City said today Communist "bandits" kidnaped him from his Chinese hospital in 1951 and held him prisoner for more than four years before charging him with "spying."

The American missionary was barely able to walk when he and his wife reached freedom here today, but after a few hours' rest he was able to talk to newsmen.

Mrs. Bradshaw, whose brain gave way under the strain of Communist captivity, was unable to leave her bed at St. Theresa's Hospital.

A U.S. Air Force ambulance plane will fly the couple to the Philippines as soon as Mrs. Bradshaw is able to stand the trip — perhaps Wednesday. Her husband said they plan to go to the home of his wife's family in Pittsburgh.

Bradshaw said he was brutally mistreated by his captors during the early days of his imprisonment, but that they were kinder later on.

"I was handcuffed for two days at a time," he said. "I was roughly manhandled, and my arms were twisted . . . I was questioned for as much as six hours at a time."

He said the Reds forced him to sign a confession saying he was a U.S. spy and an "agent of Wall Street" who kept in touch by radio with Hong Kong, Manila, Tokyo and the United States.

"Later on, I'll give my (Presbyterian) mission accusations against these bandits that I can't give you now," he said. "I've kept all the records which I brought out."

After being seized in March, 1951, Bradshaw said, he was finally brought to trial on Oct. 27 on 55 charges of "espionage." He spent five hours before a Communist "court."

Sixteen Have Been Freed

Bradshaw said the doctors have not told him how serious his wife's condition is.

"As early as April 29, 1951, her condition was not mentally normal, and since then it has worsened," he said. "The first time I was allowed to see her was Dec. 8, and when I saw her then she was negative.

"She had tears in her eyes, she recognized me, but nothing registered. . .

"It will take a while to make her realize she's out (of Red China)," Bradshaw said. "She's had terrible treatment."

They are the 15th and 16th Americans who have been allowed to leave Red China since the Communists promised in Geneva to free all of their U.S. prisoners. At least 13 others remain in Communist captivity.

Reds Threaten GIs Entering East Berlin

Following Acquittal Of Two Soldiers

BERLIN (UP)—The East German Communists threatened today to take action against American soldiers entering East Berlin, the "capital of the German Democratic Republic.'

The threat came in angry commentaries on the acquittal Monday by a U.S. Army court martial of two soldiers the Communists accused of attacking an East Berlin actor.

The Neues Deutschland, official newspaper of the Communist Party, said the "American court and the rowdies backed up by it should take care not to confuse the capital of the GDR with Chicago."

The Junge Welt, East German newspaper for the Communist Youth, said, "If American military authorities think they have given their rowdies carte blanche to do as they please in the area of the GDR they have made a powerful mistake.'

The two soldiers involved were Pvt. William J. Holden, 19, of Poplarville, Miss., and Pvt. Richard L. Calbert, 22, of Kansas City, Mo. They were arrested by the Communists Dec. 7 and accused of knocking out actor Werner Lierck outside a bar in the East sector.

They were acquitted when they told the court martial Lierck called one of them an "American swine" and started to attack. They pleaded self defense.

Christmas Mail 27,000 Pieces Ahead Of 1954

According to the records of Postmaster Harry G. Bollinger, the local post office patrons have sent out 27,321 more pieces of Christmas and business mail thus far in December than they did in 1954.

Peak mailing day was Monday when 40,828 pieces of letter mail went through the cancellation machine. Parcel post and other bulk mail is not included in these figures.

The recapitulation of December mailing out of Columbia City shows 260,489 letter mail cancellations this year. In 1954 during the corresponding period 233,168 pieces of mail were cancelled.

The following shows the letter mail cancellations daily, Dec 1 to Dec. 19:

Cold Wave

Elsewhere, Americans showed widely-varying reactions to the weather.

At Toledo, Ohio, a judge loaned a freed prisoner his spare overcoat when he discovered that the man had entered prison with only a summer-weight suit on his back and the temperature was currently 15 above.

Nudists Ignore Weather

A Kansas Nudist club applied for a state charter while the mercury read three above at Topeka and a railroad conductor refused to pass up his daily swim in Lake Michigan at Chicago, even though the temperature was nine above.

To the west, forecasters promised that a double blast of torrential rains and gale force winds would abate. But the San Francisco area was still pounded by a terrific downpour, accompanied by rattling gusts of wind.

Flood threats mounted rapidly as the rain kept coming down. The Russian River in Northern California was expected to crest today and minor flooding was already reported.

Sub-Zero Blast Has Fizzled Out

By UNITED PRESS

Nippy weather greeted Hoosiers today and many shuffled to work through a layer of snow. But a sub-zero cold blast fizzled out.

The weatherman eyed a southeasterly cold air mass late Monday and predicted it would freeze upstate Indiana with 5 above to 5 below zero temperatures by this morning and 5 to 15 above elsewhere. But it failed to penetrate Indiana, leaving the morning readings no lower than these:

Lafayette 8, Fort Wayne 9, Indianapolis and South Bend, 12 and Evansville 210.

But three inches of snow was underfoot at South Bend, two at Goshen and Fort Wayne and an inch at Lafayette. Occasional or light snow was due today in northern counties and along Indiana's eastern border.

The state's biggest cities reported highs Monday ranging from Lafayette's 17 to Evansville's 26. Today's top readings were tagged at 20 north to 28 south.

A five-day outlook indicated winter will begin Wednesday with a warming trend but cool off by the weekend. Temperatures Wednesday through Sunday will average 3 to 6 degrees below normal, the outlook said.

Normal maximums are 32 north to 43 south and minimums 17 north to 25 south.

Five-day precipitation will total .15 to .30 inches, forecasters said. Snow north and rain south is due by the weekend.

Chaplain Tells GI He Needs Backing Of Church Group

NEAR THE WESTERN FRONT, Korea (UP)—Pfc. Fritz Moeller said today an Army chaplain told him his efforts to run a Korean orphanage would be like "pouring money down a rat hole' unless he won the backing of a church group.

Moeller, 22, of South Port, Ind., is trying to run an orphanage for 30 Korean children, some of them blind in an area marked "off limits" by the Army. The Army has frowned on the project but he has gone ahead with it anyway.

Moeller said he went to see the chaplain twice "but got the brushoff."

"The chaplain said that if the Koreans couldn't handle their own affairs, the rmy certainly couldn't do it for them," he said.

Maj. Dean W. Dryden, Seattle, Wash., the chaplain said, "Yes I told him something like that but I certainly didnt mean to give him any brushoff."

Need Proper Supervision

"I talked with him at great length,' 'Dryden said. "He came to me without making an appointment, came up without proper permission. I scolded him for not coming to me when I had time to talk to him."

The chaplain said he told Moeller "I would not be interested in supporting his project because unless it was connected with a church related organization for proper supervision it would just be pouring money down a rat hole."

Dryden said he still won't have anything to do with Moellers home for orphans.

"Until such time as he gets it officially related to a church missionary agency which would have authority to administer and supervise the orphanage and thus prevent the possibility of wrongly disposing of the funds and materials."

Gary Man Killed

HUNTINGTON, Ind. (UP)—Milfred C. Calhoun, 47, Gary, was killed today when struck by a car while walking along U.S. 24 near Roanoke searching for gasoline.

State Police said Calhoun was a passenger in a car which ran out of gas. He started out to look for some and was struck by a car driven by Darrell Staup, 55, Fort Wayne. Police said Calhoun was walking in the middle of the highway.

Dean Trippet To Be President Of Wabash College

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) — Dean Byron K. Trippet, a former Rhodes scholar, will become president of Wabash College Feb. 1, 1956, to succeed Dr. Frank H. Sparks, who resigned.

Sparks' resignation was presented to the Wabash board of trustees at its meeting in the Columbia Club late Saturday.

The board immediately elected Trippet as head of the 123-year-old men's college at Crawfordsville, effective Feb. 1.

Sparks will fill the dual posts until then of president and board chairman. As chairman, he replaces Lee McCanliss, New York attorney, who retired. McCanliss was a member of the board for 30 years.

The board also elected Ivan L. Wiles, Flint, Mich., a vice president and director of General Motors, as their vice chairman.

Trippet was graduated from Wabash in 1930. The following year he was appointed a Rhodes scholar, and he returned to Wabash a year later as a professor of history. He became dean of the college in 1940.

Trippet is a native of Princeton, Ind., and is president of the American Conference of Academic Deans.

His successor will be voted on by the faculty following the Christmas holidays.

Jenner Assails United Nations

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind) late Monday assailed the United Nations for permitting Russia to win recognition for "four bastard governments."

Jenner also congratulated Nationalist China for its "fearless veto" of the admission of Outer Mongolia to the U.N. He charged the failure of U.S. representatives is "a matter of the deepest shame for most Americans."

"Our government pretended to abstain from taking any position" Jenner said. "But for 2,000 years Pontius Pilate who washed his hands of responsibility has been the symbol of the lowest form of moral cowardice."

Ohio Man Killed As Car Crashes Truck

KOKOMO, Ind. (UP)—Harry B. Coates, 41, Lebanon, Ohio, was killed today when his speeding car crashed into a truck at the U.S. 31-35 junction here.

State Police said Coates was traveling at a high rate of speed in a 30 mile per hour zone. His car went past a stop light and struck the side of a truck driven by Orville Wilcox, 40, Kalamazoo, Mich., police said.

Coates was hurled from the auto, and wheels of the truck passed over his body. His two nephews, William and Rodney, ages unknown, were not hurt in the accident, nor was the trucker.

Cooley Concedes Failure Of Effort To Restore Supports

WASHINGTON (UP)—Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D-NC) concedes that Democratic efforts to restore rigid high farm price supports next year will fail. But he says the move will provide a "clear-cut" farm issue for next year's elections.

Cooley, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, predicted Sunday that the Senate will approve a House-passed bill to junk the administration's flexible support program in favor of high rigid price props. However, he said President Eisenhower is almost certain to veto it and Congress would fail to override.

Cooley said the final version of the farm bill sent to the White House would include any new farm proposals recommended by Mr. Eisenhower and Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson which Congress might consider "needed and worthwhile."

If this bill is vetoed, Cooley said, Congress would then pass a bill stripped of the controversial price support provisions to which the President objects.

"We could never get enough support in Congress to override a veto, and we would not take the position that we wouldn't give the President any farm legislation unless he signed the first bill," Cooley told a reporter.

Cooley said that a presidential veto of rigid supports would provide a "clear-cut" farm issue for the 1956 presidential elections. Democratic presidential candidates already have opened fire on the administration on the farm issue.

Some congressional Democrats were reported to have opened a behind-the-scenes drive to cut down intra-party differences on price supports and win solid backing for other farm proposals.

Ford To Offer 10,200,000 Shares Of Common Stock For Public Sale

By DAYTON MOORE and MAUREEN GOTHLIN
United Press Staff Correspondents

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Ford Motor Co. announced today it plans to offer 10,200,000 shares of its common stock for public sale—the first such public offering in its 52-year history.

This would be the largest corporate offering in history. A registration statement filed with the Securities & Exchange Commission indicated that the common stock will be offered to the public at about $75 a share.

The actual price will be announced before the securities are put on sale next month.

The registration statement revealed publicly for the first time in the firm's history the Ford Co. financial status.

It showed that from 1946 through Sept. 30, 1955, Ford's net profits totaled $1,536,800,000.

For the nine years 1946 through 1954, Ford's net earnings were $1,224,600,000. This compares with $4,775,000,000 by its chief rival—General Motors Corp.—and $688,000,000 by Chrysler during the same period.

New Line of Cars

A 39-page prospectus also revealed:

Sales during the first nine months of this year totaled $4,042,600,000.

Consolidated net income for the first nine months of this year was $312,200,000.

Total capital and earnings retained in the business as of last Sept. 30 amounted to $1,840,000,000.

The company plans to introduce a new line of passenger cars.

The company had factory sales of 1,991,000 passenger cars and trucks during 1954. This represented 30.2 per cent of the industry's total sales.

Factory sales of passenger cars and trucks for the first nine months this year totaled 1,901,000 or 27.5 per cent of the industry's total factory sales.

The prospectus showed that the company's directors already have voted a dividend of 60 cents a share for the first quarter of next year.

Future quarterly dividends will

Two Students To Enter Science Talent Contest

A preliminary examination in connection with the Fifteenth Annual Science Talent Search will be held Thursday at the Columbia City Joint high school.

There will be two students from Whitley county who will be taking the science aptitude test. They are Marcia Turpin, and Phyllis Wiedenhoeft. The two girls are seniors in the Columbia City Joint high school.

Miss Turpin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. John Turpin of Washington township. She is taking diversified training this year in dietetics at the Whitley County Hospital and plans to further her education in food nutrition, probably at Purdue.

Miss Wiedenhoeft is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wiedenhoeft of Washington township. She is planning on going to Purdue after finishing high school.

The Science Talent Search for the Westinghouse Scholarships is conducted annually by Science Clubs of America, administered by Science Service. The purpose of the search is to discover and foster the education of boys and girls with skill, talent, and creative originality in science.

Forty boys and girls who lead in the preliminary examinations will be given all-expenses-paid trips to Washington to attend the Science Talent Institute for five days early next spring and take the final examinations for the scholarships. One contestant will be selected by a board of judges to receive a Westinghouse grand science scholarship of $2,800. One other contestant will receive a Westinghouse grand science scholarship of $2,000, eight more will receive $400 scholarships and $3,000 additional in scholarships will be awarded.

EdenReorganizes His Cabinet From Top To Bottom

To Meet Threats Of Inflation And Soviet Provocations

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Anthony Eden reorganized his cabinet from top to bottom today to meet the threats of inflation at home and new Soviet provocations abroad.

A key feature of the reshuffle was a decision to stress air power in Britains armed forces at the expenses of the Army, whose authorized first-line reserve strength was slashed Tuesday from 12 to two divisions.

Four major posts and many minor ones were involved in the reorganization, in which Eden replaced ministers inherited from Winston Churchill with younger men of his own choice. The average age of the cabinet was reduced from 58 to 55 years by the changes.

The major replacements were affected by transfers within the existing cabinet, but seven minor ministers were dropped. Six of them were either elevated to the peerage or promoted within its

Fall Makes Her Farewell Appearance Today, Sets Mark For Oncoming Winter To Shoot At

By UNITED PRESS

Fall made its farewell appearance today and set a high mark of sub-zero cold and icy storms for the oncoming winter to shoot at.

New England and the northern Plains were plunged into a subzero ice box. A new Alaska storm threatened rain-battered northern California and a two-day snowstorm buried autos and piled up two feet of snow on the famed ski runs of Sun Valley, Idaho.

In Washington state, three snow weasels pushed into the mountains in search of a downed paratrooper whose chances for survival were "fading with every hour."

The death toll rose elsewhere in the Pacific Northwest, where floodwaters killed two persons, and in the frost-bitten East. In addition, some of the iciest weather in European history was blamed for 22 deaths.

The storms and cold provided a fitting end for the fall of 1955 which will give way to winter at precisely 9:12 a.m. CST Thursday. The last full day of fall today was also the shortest day of the year, since the sunshine will start lasting longer after winter's arrival.

The nation's East was feeling the bite of the season's bitterest cold wave, with temperatures well below zero throughout New England's interior and near zero along the Atlantic Coast.

Mile-high Mt. Washington in New Hampshire was the frostiest spot in the nation. The mercury dipped to 26 below there early today, adding to the miseries of four Boston television engineers who

Stevenson's Son Injured In Crash Which Kills Two

Another Classmate Is Also Injured In Car-Truck Collision

GOSHEN Ind. (UP) — Adlai Stevenson's son, John, 19, was injured seriously in a car-truck collision today which killed two Harvard University classmates riding in his car.

The dead were William S. North III, 19, Lake Forest, Ill., and William C. Boyden Jr., 19, Chicago.

The son of the presidential candidate was taken to Goshen General Hospital in serious condition. He suffered a broken knee cap cuts and bruises. Also injured was another classmate, James Gilligan, 19, Nebraska City, Neb.

At Chicago, an aide said Stevenson would fly here immediately to be at the bedside of his son. The aide described Stevenson as "terribly shocked" to learn of the accident.

Police said a truck driven by Fred Gill 29, Detroit, Mich., collided head-on with the westbound Stevenson car. Gill's truck was attempting to pass another truck and was in the wrong lane when it struck the youths' auto, police said.

The trucker was not hurt.

The accident occurred on U.S. 20 about 10 miles northeast of here. Stevenson's car was on an incline approaching a bridge over a railroad.

The Harvard students were on their way home from school for Christmas vacation. The car was loaded with ski equipment.

Dulles To Give Ike First-Hand Report On NATO

Secretary Of State Glowingly Optimistic

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer

WASHINGTON (UP) — The status of WesternEurope's defenses occupied President Eisenhower's attention today.

He summoned Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to an afternoon conference for a first-hand report on last week's meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Council.

Dulles on his return from the Paris meeting Sunday was glowingly optimistic. He said the nations of Western Europe feel "more than ever secure."

The President and Dulles also might discuss administration plans to ask Congress for $4,900,000,000 in foreign aid next year — almost double the appropriation for this year. Dulles was reported to have discussed the increase at Paris.

Opposition In Congress

Announcement of the administration's foreign aid proposals has stirred up strong opposition in Congress.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower completed plans for celebrating Christmas at the White House and waited for news of the birth of their fourth grandchild.

Their daughter-in-law, Barbara Eisenhower, was at nearby Walter Reed Army Hospital. The baby was expected soon.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower visited their daughter-in-law late Tuesday in the hospital's presidential suite. The anxious father, Maj. John Eisenhower, also was present.

Mr. Eisenhower grinned after the visit and said: "Why, she looks fine."

Return To White House

The Eisenhowers returned to the White House Tuesday, a day earlier than planned, from their farm at Gettysburg, Pa. White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the move to Washington, originally scheduled for today, was changed so Mrs. Eisenhower could get to work on some Christmas arrangements.

The President had been at his farm with one side trip to Washington since Nov. 14, recovering from his heart attack. He plans to go south after the Christmas holidays.

Cost Of Living Up Again Last Month

WASHINGTON (UP)—The cost of living edged up again last month.

The government report said today that price rises on 1956 autos and other items more than offset declining food prices.

The report also showed that average factory take home pay reached a new record level for the third straight month and that the purchasing power of average factory pay also set a new record.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said its consumer price index climed .1 of 1 per cent to reach 115 per cent of average 1947-49 prices for the first time since August, 1954.

The price index in November stood .3 of 1 per cent higher than a year ago and .3 of 1 per cent lower than the record level of 115.4 per cent of the base period set in October, 1953.

Deputy BLS Commissioner Aryness Joy Wickens said the price picture is still "one of consider able "stability" despite creeping increases in the last half of this year. She said the outlook is for "no marked change" in the index over the next few months.

Business To Be Suspended Monday

Russian Leaders Back From Month Long Asian Tour

Say Their Junketing Has Been Useful

MOSCOW (UP) — Russia's roving rulers arrived home to a joyous welcome from their month-long Asian tour today and declared they had "exposed the policies of the colonizers in Asia."

Communist Party leader Nikita Khrushchev said in a homecoming statement that he and Premier Nikolai Bulganin had found colonial regimes to be a "blot on mankind." He said, in the midst of a welcome by tens of thousands of cheering Russians lining the main streets, that their junketing around India, Burma and Afghanistan had been "useful."

Khrushchev said he and Bulganin found that India and Russia "are brothers—in adversity and fortune." The phrase "India and Russia are brothers" was the slogan of their 7,000-mile Indian tour.

Referring to Western denunciations of his anti-British and anti-American remarks on the tour Khrushchev said he would "go on saying" that colonial regimes are a "blot" regardless of "hatred" in the bourgeois press.

Bulganin, in a brief address after his co-tourist spoke, said they had a "wonderful trip." He said the enthusiasm that greeted them in Asia reflected friendship and cooperation which will be "an important fact for peace which no one can ignore."

In London, the British government in April, despite anger over Khrushchev's denunciation of Britain as a bloodsucking colonial power and his statement that Britain, the United States and France were behind Hitler's attack on Russia.

Peace Returns To Holy Land After 5 Days Of Riots

The Curfew, That Threatened To Mar Christmas, Lifted

JERUSALEM (UP) — Christmas week turned peaceful today after five days of riots in the land where Christ was born.

The Jordan government soothed inflamed crowds which had convulsed the nation from Jericho to Hebron, and the curfew that threatened to mar Christmas services at Bethlehem was lifted.

Border troubles continued, however. Reliable sources in Cairo said Egyptian anti - aircraft batteries fired this morning on three Israeli planes flying over the town of Gaza in the Gaza Strip. The planes were forced to turn tail, the sources said.

As peace slowly returned to Jordan, the British government in London charged that the riots were deliberately incited by "misrepresentations" about Jordan policy. It did not name the country or countries it held responsible for the misrepresentations.

The riots ostensibly were in protest against Jordan's plans to join the anti-Communist Baghdad Pact.

The new caretaker government of Jordan ordered the release of persons arrested in the riots, to satisfy riot leaders.

Shuttered schools were ordered reopened. Pilgrims began to arrive for Christmas week ceremonies. Several planeloads landed in heavily guarded Amman for the annual treks to Bethlehem and the crypt over the manger where Christ was born.

Officials of Jordan and Israel who face each other across barbed wire barriers dividing the holy city of Jerusalem, approved passage of 165 pilgrims through the Mandelbaum Gate separating their sectors for a pilgrimage to Bethlehem.

The director of the Jordan tourist office said the situation had "returned to normal" and that pilgrims could enter the country without fear.

Jerusalem itself was quiet.

Kroger Employes Receive $26,000 Christmas Gift

Roanoke Girl Killed; Five Hurt In Crash

Head-On Collision On State Road 9

A head-on crash on State Road 9 twelve and a half miles south of Columbia City at 9:10 p.m. Tuesday resulted in fatal injuries to Miss Bonnie Lou Boughman, 16 of Roanoke, R 1.

Five others were injured, one seriously, in the collision which happened at a point five and a half miles north of Huntington. They were taken to the Huntington County Hospital in Huntington.

John Kheller, about 28, Logansport, was hospitalized in a critical condition. Less seriously hurt were Shirley Boughman, 17, Roanoke; James Redding, 20, Roanoke; Donald Crumpacker, 21, Huntington and Donald Gundrum, 28, Sturgis, Mich.

Miss Boughman, who died almost instantly, suffered a broken neck and internal injuries. Kheller suffered a possible skull fracture, a brain concussion, and numerous cuts and bruises.

The accident, police said, occurred as Crumpacker, following a second vehicle, passed a third car and then failed to get back into his lane of traffic, hitting the car operated by Gundrum headon. Gundrum was northbound while Crumpacker was southbound.

Miss Boughman was riding in Crumpacker's car as were her sister, Shirley, and James Reddin. With Gundrum was Kheller.

Following the crash the Crumpacker car left the road, rolled approximately 150 feet, and landed on its top in a field. Gundrum's vehicle spun on the pavement, stopping headed south.

Program To Be Given At Saturn

The Loyal Sons and Daughters at the Saturn Christian church will present a program Christmas Eve at the church at 7:30.

Plane Crashes, Explodes Near Yards Of Homes

All Aboard Killed, Charred By Flames

By DAWSON N. OPPENHEIMER
United Press Staff Correspondent

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UP) — Seventeen persons were carried to sudden death early today in an Eastern Airlines Constellation that crashed and exploded almost in the back yards of residences bordering Municipal Airport here.

All aboard the Miami to New York plane—12 passengers and 5 crew members—were killed and charred beyond recognition by gasoline-fed flames that seared the 199-yard bulldozing path of the stricken aircraft.

There was also a body on the plane, identified as that of C.D. Thrift, an Eastern Air Lines accounting employe. It was being shipped to Washington for burial. Passengers were enroute to Washington, New York and Boston.

The plane was coming into the Jacksonville airport for a routine instrument landing. Cause of the crash was unexplained.

John Ingle, local EAL manager, said that one of many rumors and reports that "undoubtedly will be checked" came from an unidentified airlines pilot who said the sound pf jet planes was heard in the vicinity just before the crash. The Jacksonville control tower said it had no contact with any other planes at the time.

The four-engine plane was on air coach service and an airliner official in Miami said this just happened to be a slack pre-

Whitley County Boys And Girls Write Santa Telling 'What Christmas Means To Me'

Twenty-five boys and girls have been awarded prizes for letters written to Santa Claus, the Retail Division of the Columbia City Chamber of Commerce has announced.

The letters, given to Santa Claus at his Whitley County Headquarters on the courthouse lawn, were on the subject, "What Christmas Means to Me."

Awards to the winners were made by members of the Chamber's Retail Division and were mailed last week. The awards were gift certificates at Columbia City stores and cash prizes. Judging of the letters was done by the Associated Churches of Columbia City.

Those winning prizes were Cindy Ramsey, Cindy Brunner, Darlene Kay Warnick, Rickey Scott, Carla Cooper, Linda Zumbrun, Cheryl Ann Cotterman, Linda Lou Gibson Margaret Ann Auer, Pamela Walker, Dennis Pence, Connie Smith and Cathy Manns, Robert Brunner, Jeanne Auer, Roger Gumm, Sue Ellen Anderson, Sylvia Binkley, Cheryl Gumm, Beth Meyers, Susan Kay Krider, Jack Branning Michael Zeigler, David E. Keiser and Marvin Dean Ewing.

Following are the top six letters:

What Christmas Means to Me

Dear Santa: Christmas to me means not just Santa Claus and the presents he brings, but instead it means the birth of Christ. I not only think of Santa's coming on Christmas Eve but I also think of that glorious night when the angels sang to the shepherds watching their sheep.

Christmas is such an exciting time. I am so full of secrets that I am about ready to burst. It's so much fun to buy and wrap gifts. This is what Christmas meant to me.

You Don't Need A Million

You don't have to be a millionaire or even have a bank account with three figures to give gifts.

Perhaps at Christmas more than at any other time one might indulge in wishful thinking for a large account to shower remembrances on loved ones and friends.

As shopping reporters we found gifts starting at ten cents.

Perhaps when one has more years, an important factor is that we have been remembered by someone in the busy holiday season.

The least expensive gift we can suggest and one guaranteed to give the giver and the recipient a glow is to write a note or letter to some relative or friend you haven't written for a long time.

You may say "I can't write letters, I haven't time." May we suggest that you try to think of what you remember about the person and what they would like to know about you? Your family? Your work? Your hobbies? Your vacation? Or tuck in a picture of your house, your family.

We all have gifts we treasure because of the association with the giver who remembered us.

One of my pesrno latreasures is a tiny pincushion fashioned by a "miss" of four years. The stitches were a mite long and its shape was not exactly square, round or oblong but it was made to the best of her ability as a Christmas gift especially for me.

Hoosier Students May Get Unexpected Christmas Gift

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Indiana school children were handed an unexpected Christmas gift today: a possibility of shorter school terms.

A legal interpretation of the state's public school law may result in one or two weeks' less school starting with the 1956-57 school year.

Atty. Gen. Edwin Steers paved the way for shorter terms in an official opinion upholding the views of some school attorneys that the number of actual teaching days now required to qualify for state aid is excessive.

State School Supt. Wilbur Young has handed out tuition support on the basis that an eight-month school year must consist of 157 actual teaching days, an 8½-month year 167 days and a nine-month year 177 days.

Young said that has been the practice for 30 years.

But Steers interpreted the law as requiring terms of only 152, 162 and 172 days, respectively. That would cut a week off the school term.

The opinion also said it would be legal for schools to close on certain holidays such as Lincoln's Birthday and Good Friday, so long as teachers are paid. This could mean a second week off for students.

Young said the ruling allows schools to stay in session longer if they want but it "leaves the school administration wide open to pressure groups." He said some teaching groups doubtless will bring pressure to close schools on more holidays and to teach only the minimum number of days.

He expected that the ruling will have its effect next May, when school administrators plan their schedule for the 1956-57 school year.

Irvin To Appeal Verdict Of Guilty

PRINCETON, Ind. (UP)—Leslie Irvin, accused "Chinese-style executioner' of six persons, today planned to appeal a verdict of guilty and a recommendation of death in the murder of an Evansville, Ind., service station attendant.

An all-male Gibson Circuit Court jury returned the guilty verdict and death recommendation Tuesday night after deliberating less than two hours. Sentencing was postponed.

The jury found Irvin, 31, guilty of first degree murder in the robbery slaying of W. Wesley Kerr, 29, last Dec. 23. Irvin also is accused of slaying five other persons during a wave of killing in Indiana and Kentucky.

Sudden Outburst Of Confidence Ike May Run Again Attributed To Exchange Of Views

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — The sudden sunburst of confidence that President Eisenhower may run again should be attributed largely to a recent exchange of views among top drawer Ike - men.

As many as a dozen persons engaged in the informal back and forth by mail, telephone and face-to face conversations. The round robin developed several substantially-held opinions, such as:

1. Mr. Eisenhower has about converted to the idea that the Democrats will sweep 1956 if he withdraws.

2. The President would not require more than a reasonable chance of survival to take on a second term. He would balk, however, if he felt that another four White House years might invite lingering incapacity.

3. Neither Mrs. Eisenhower nor the President's esteemed younger brother, Milton, is likely to determine the issue. The decision must be, finally, by the one most concerned.

4. Mr. Eisenhower feels that his administration has developed an overall domestic program, but especially in the areas of spending and taxation, which must be completed to avert national disaster.

5. As a West Point graduate and a senior American military figure, Mr. Eisenhower has been trained to respond instinctively to such as might be regarded a duty.

Group Did Most

These are some of the substantially-held opinions of some of the men who did the most to put Mr. Eisenhower in the White House and are most eager that he may be willing and able to seek another term.

Among those who exchanged views on 1956 Republican prospects were Gen. Lucius Clay, board chairman of Continental Can Co.; presidential chief of staff Sherman Adams; Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr.; former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Dr. Paul D. White's optimistic report last weekend on Mr. Eisenhower's present and probable future vigor gains added significance when measured against the judgment of the top Ike - men as to the factors likely to govern the President's 1956 decision.

These men and the powerful political and moneyed interests they represent are wholly committed to Mr. Eisenhower for 1956, if he will go. Privately, most or all of them say the party must have him. They would not want to be in the position, however, of dragooning an ailing man.

The tie binding these men together would break with a snap heard coast-to-coast if the President pulled out. Two of the group are possible Republican presidential nominees if Mr. Eisenhower withdraws. The two are Dewey and the vice president.

Dewey withdrew from politics when he left the governor's chair in 1954. It is no reflection on his integrity to recall that he withdrew with equal emphasis toward the end of his second term as governor in 1950. He was trapped by events in 1950 and ran again, not merely to regain the governor's office, but to launch and to help support the Eisenhower-for-president boom. He is counted the party's ablest administrator.

It is no reflection on Dewey, either, to report that he definitely figures now in speculation for 1956 if Mr. Eisenhower is not a candidate. Nixon's availability, if his chief takes a walk, is well known—and there is much evidence that he would be Mr. Eisenhower's choice in that event.

But Nixon and the other top drawer Ike - men are becoming increasingly confident that the President finally will say: Yes!

Studebaker Reaches Tentative Agreement With CIO-UAW

DETROIT (UP) — Studebaker-Packard announced today tentative agreement has been reached with the CIO United Auto Workers on a new contract covering 11,000 workers in the Studebaker division at South Bend, Ind.

Terms of the agreement were not announced, but a company spokesman said the agreement provided for a guaranteed pay plan in the "big three pattern."

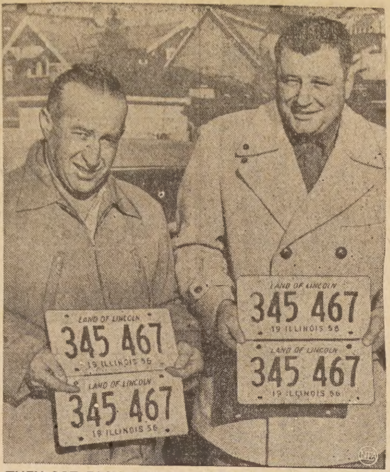
Negotiations have been going on since last Jan. 20. The old Studebaker contract expired Sept. 1 and since then the contract has been continued through various extensions. There have been intermittent work stoppages during the extensions.

A spokseman said the new contract will have "some basic difference from the old agreement that will make it more competitive with the big three contracts."

The agreement which has been reached is tentative and the contract itself hasn't been written down yet.

A spok enmsas aidiil wqterueil r

A spokesman said it will require "at least several days" to "reduce it to writing so it can be submitted to the union members for ratification."



THEY GOT EACH OTHER'S NUMBER—Brothers-in-law always have something in common, but these two had a little more than they were supposed to have—identical license numbers. George Klupping, left, and George B[illegible]asek bought the 1956 plates in Maywood, Ill., at the same license bureau, but four hours apart. One set was traded in for a different number.

The Dining Room Is On Its Way Out

LANSING, Mich. — (UP) — A five-year study by a Michigan State University researcher indicates dining rooms are on the way out in modern living.

Mrs. Alice Thorpe, a home management researcher, said her studies show most families do much of their eating in the kitchen, although many homemakers feel dining rooms are necessary if they are to teach their children good table manners and how to entertain guests.

Mrs. Thorpe based her findings on interviews with 50 farm and 50 town families, with each family submitting time records on the use of every room i nthe house in a 24-hour period.

She said farm dining rooms were being used for studying, reading, resting, ironing, sewing and lounging but were not adequately equipped for these activities.

Whitley County Home Demonstration Chorus Holds Its Christmas Party And Goes Caroling

Among the holiday festivities of the Whitley Home Demonstration chorus was the annual Christmas party held by the chorus at the REMC Home.

Twenty-nine members of the chorus were present to enjoy the dinner and gift exchange. Covers were laid at one long table decorated in the traditional Christmas colors, nut cups marking each cover in the form of a Christmas tree.

The group sang carols in the afternoon and during the gift exchange Mrs. Paul Zumbrun, director, and Mrs. Earl Hoover, accompanist for the chorus, were presented gifts by the chorus.

Pictures were taken of the group which will be used with an article about the chorus activities which will appear in the Indiana Farmers Guide in the near future. Each Home Demonstration Chorus has been or will be featured in the Guide. At present and until January 15, the choruses are working in a contest to secure subscriptions for the Indiana Farmers Guide. A certain per cent of the money received in this way will be placed in a travel fund to help pay transportation costs to Sarasota, Florida in April, when combined choruses in the state will appear on the Indiana Day program, in a concert under the direction of A. P. Stewart, of Purdue University.

The chorus went caroling in the afternoon when they sang for shut-ins at the Whitley County and Memorial Hospitals, and the three convaslescent homes in the city

Hostesses for the affair were the Mesdames Raymond Messner Jacob Kerch, Lawrence Wolfe Jacob Dial, Frank Kneller, Anna Schrader, Glenn Burns, Henry Sievers.

Circle Three Of Presbyterian Women Meets At Wilson Home

Mrs. Wilfred Wilson, North Chauncey street, was hostess Tuesday evening for a meeting of Circle Three of women of the First Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Garland Mullendore read the Christmas story from Luke and Mrs. James Gallagher conducted a study of the 13th chapter of Hebrews. Mrs. Ralph Brockenhamer read a Christmas sermon of the late Peter Marshall.

Mrs. Wilson served a date nut dessert with coffee.

Walnut Corner Club Entertained By Mrs. Wilson Frank

Mrs. Wilson Frank was hostess Tuesday to members of the Walnut Corner club. It was the annual Christmas party of the club for which Mrs. Clebert Johnson was a co-hostess with Mrs. Frank.

Guests at the Yuletide party included Mrs. Ira Cornelius and Mrs. Marcus White, mother and sister of the hostess. Twenty-two members attended the meeting.

Mrs. Johnson read the Christmas story from Luke. Contests formed the entertainment in which Mrs. Lloyd Smith and Mrs. Paul Rhoads won prizes. In the gift exchange, secret sisters were revealed. A dinner marked the all-day meeting.

Christmas greens decorated the mantel above the fireplace and red poinsettias were used in the decoration of the various rooms.

LEAVING THURSDAY FOR GREENFIELD

Mrs. Everett Archer of this city and Mrs. Lodema Sellers of North Webster will leave Thursday for Greenfield to be guests until next week of Mr. and Mrs. Rollo Roath.

Mrs. Archer is the mother of Mrs. Roath and Mrs. Sellers the mother of Mr. Roath.

Smith Township Club Holds Its Christmas Party

The Civic room at the Churubusco bank was the scene for the recent annual Christmas party of the Smith Township Home Demonstration club. Mrs. Herbert Gross and Mrs. Leo Bixler served as hostesses.

Thirteen older members of the club were honor guests at the dinner meeting and were presented corsages. During the afternoon Mrs. John William Green led the group in singing of "Silent Night," Mrs. Avery Nuif and Mrs. Perry More were in charge of devotions when Mrs. More sang "Joy to The World." Mrs. Paul Fry presented the Safety lesson.

"The Greatest Christmas Story Ever Told," taken from the Readers Digest, was given by Mrs. James Lee and she also read from the "Upper Room." A gift exchange followed.

In January the club will meet for an all-day meeting on the 19th in the Bank Civic room.

Cloverleaf Club Entertained At The Schalk Home

Mrs. Louis Schalk was hostess to members of the Cloverleaf club Saturday when 18 members responded to roll call by giving simple ways in which one might bring cheer to others at Christmas time.

One large candle surrounded by pine cones centered the table laid in red, for the noon luncheon. Mrs. W. H. Terry read the Christmas story from the Bible and the program included a story titled "The Warmth of the Star," by Mrs. Roy Metzger. The story of the first Christmas was given by Mrs. Ratio Smith, and Mrs. Donald Hill presented the reading "On a Farm in Maine."

The attendance prize was won by Mrs. H. O. Raypole.

Charity Circle Holds Meeting At The Lawrence Wolfe Home

Mrs. Lawrence Wolfe, of New 30 west, entertained the Charity circle of the Evangelical United Brethren Church Monday evening. The hostess was in charge of the missionary topic "Jesus Christ, Who is He?", a Christmas lesson on Christ, the head of the church.

Mrs. Wolfe was assisted by Mrs. Richard Allen and Mrs. Vada Nolt. Mrs. Wolfe played recorded carols during the presentation of the lesson.

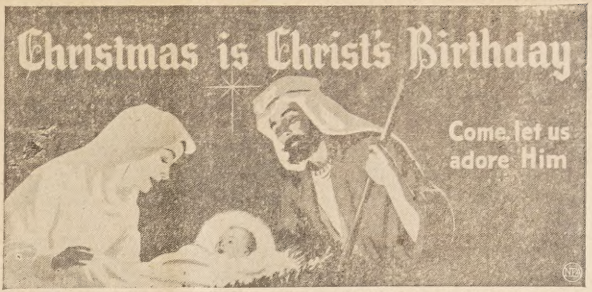
In response to roll call each member told of a gift she had appreciated most at Christmastime.

The missionary group will make bandages for missions in Africa.

Mrs. Wolfe served punch and Christmas cookies.

BUILDERS CLASS TO MEET AT THE CHURCH

The Builders class of the Evangelical United Brethren church will meet Friday evening at 7:30 in the social room of the church. A 25-cent gift exchange will be held.



THE REAL MEANING OF CHRISTMAS—Billboards like this one are being promoted across the country by the Christmas Committee, a civic group at Davenport, Iowa. The group hopes to encourage a reverent observance of Jesus' birthday by its program to "Put Christ Back Into Christmas." Billboards are idea of Rev. Edward L. Lew of St. Ambrose College at Davenport.

VISITS HER PARENTS FOR FEW DAYS AT KNOX

Mrs. Sidney Gebert of Richland township has returned from Knox where she visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Miller.

Mrs. Miller is making improvement from a compound fracture of the hip and is a patient in Memorial Hospital at Knox.

ARRIVES HERE FROM MINNEAPOLIS FOR THE HOLIDAYS

Bill Stamm of Minneapolis, Minn., has arrived in this city for a visit through the holidays with his mother, Mrs. O. A. Stamm at the Guest House, and his sister, Mrs. Harold Baker in Fort Wayne.

Eagles Auxiliary Has Christmas Party

Twenty-three members of the Eagles Auxiliary attended the Christmas party of the order Tuesday evening when a gift exchange was conducted and refreshments were served in the midst of a Christmas setting.

The local auxiliary women will play hostess for a children's party to be given at the Eagles Home this evening. Mrs. Flossie Van Deman served as gift chairman and Mrs. Donald Phend was in charge of table decorations. Mrs. Sam Galbreath, Mrs. Paul Dunfee and Mrs. Harry Castator were in charge of the refreshments.

Mrs. Cecil Gradeless who is living in Florida, has resigned as a trustee.

Toyshop Mixup May Ruin Christmas Day For Some Little Girl

ATLANTA (UP) — A toyshop mixup threatened today to ruin some little girl's Christmas because a dainty doll that is supposed to say a goodnight prayer will instead growl a fire prevention rhyme in a bearlike voice.

The mixup occurred in a toy factory commissioned to manufacture talking models of Smokey, the bear used on posters by the U.S Forestry Service in its fire prevention campaign.

The same factory also makes a petite little doll equipped with a voicebox that says gently:

"Now I lay me down to sleep. I pray the Lord my soul to keep. God bless Mommy. God bless Daddy. Amen."

The prayer and the voice are much different from the sounds created for Smokey, the Forest Service teddy bear.

It growls in a gruff voice:

"I'm Smokey the bear, I'm Smokey the bear.

"Running and looking for smoke in the air.

"I warn careless people and tell them 'take care.'

"Please prevent forest fires says Smokey the bear."

The South Carolina Forestry Commission ordered 96 of the stuffed bears for use in its fire prevention campaign. The first of the 96 Smokey bears to arrive in the commission office was immediately tested. It created pandemonium by uttering in a childish voice:

"Now I lay me down.....

Regional employes speculated that the toyshop mixed the voice boxes earmarked for the Smokey bear and the dolls.

One of the bearlike voice boxes was sure to end up in one of the dainty "praying" dolls, they calculated.

And they feared it was bound to make whoever got the doll with the gruff voice mighty unhappy on Christmas Day.

Courthouse Employes To Hold Party Thursday

Mr. and Mrs. Kenyon Kaufman and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse F. DePoy are the committee planning the annual Christmas party, to be staged on Thursday afternoon in one of the building corridors, by the courthouse employes. Guests include the officers, deputies, and the courthouse clerical workers, plus their families.

A gift exchange is one of the features of the group's annual party.

Request Doubling Foreign Aid Fund Will Be Rejected

Predicts Chairman Of Senate Foreign Relations Committee

By WILLIAM GALBRAITH
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—Chairman Walter F. George of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee predicted today that Congress will reject an administration request to double foreign aid appropriations next year.

The influential Georgia Democrat was one of a number of congressmen who said the $4,900,000,000 in foreign aid funds the administration plans to seek will be trimmed sharply.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said Tuesday that Congress would be asked to fix foreign aid appropriations at that level—nearly double this year's allotment—although actual spending would be boosted only by 20 million dollars

Sees Congress Rejection

"I am satisfied that Congress will not approve any $4,900,000 if they (the administration) ask for it," George said at his Vienna, Ga., home.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), another member of the Foreign Relations Committee, agreed. He said the administration appears to be "overemphasizing the value of dollar aid" an dthat it is time to reevaluate both economic and military assistance programs.

Both George and Rep. John Taber (R-NY), ranking Republican on the House Appropriations Committee, said that Dulles' announcement was not in accord with what he told congressional leaders at a recent White House briefing.

Sees Close Study

Rep. Omar Burleson (D-Tex), a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said the stepped-up appropriation request "to put it mildly, will be looked over very closely."

The congressional complaints were voiced despite Dulles' warning that foreign aid of more than four billion dollars a year must be maintained for the indefinite future in view of recent cold war developments.

The new appropriation request would be divided so that three billion dollars would go to military aid and $1,900,000 tp economic aid.

be subject "to business conditions" and the company's operating and financial position, a statement accompanying the statement said.

So far this year, dividends were paid equal to $3.27 per share on the newly classified capital stock. This dividend was declared on the basis of profits of $312,200,000 on sales of $4,042,600,000 in the first nine months of 1955.

The Ford Foundation will sell the common stock to seven large underwriters — Blyth & Co., the First Boston Corp., Goldman, Sachs & Co., Kuhn, Loeb & Co. Lehman Brothers, White Weld & Co., and Merrill, Lynch, Pierce Fenner & Beane.

The seven, in turn, will ask 700 smaller brokerage houses throughout the nation to participate in the sale of the stock to the public. A local broker said the word in security circles is that the major underwriters will ask that individual allotments be limited to 5 or 10 shares to insure wide public holding.

A heavy demand for the stock could enable the original individual buyer to turn a quick profit upon receipt of his stock, if he desires.

Dear Santa:

To me Christmas is the day that Jesus was born. Wise men took him gifts that is why you give little girls and boys gifts. We put a star on top of our Christmas tree because of the Star in the East that led the Wise men to Jesus.

Loads of Love.
Darlene Kay Warnick, age 5

Darlene is the daughter of Mr and Mrs. Harold Warnick, 203 N Chauncey.

Dear Sir:

I want to tell "What Christmas Means To Me." I have always been taught that the first thing I should remember about Christmas, is that it is the birthday of Jesus the Son of God. Jesus' only thought was for others-so on his birthday Santa, I like to buy gifts for my father, mother, brothers, grandpa and grandmas and all others I love. These have to be small, as I am just a little boy, but the thought and love, I put into giving them. Last, Santa, as I am just a normal little boy, I love to get presents too, toys, books, clothes, and everything that goes to make a happy, merry Christmas.

So Santa, I hope there is enough toys to go around to all the boys and girls in the whole world, and this is the best Christmas ever.

Lots of Love and Merry Christmas

Rickey Scott-7 years old.

P. S. Santa, I knew what I wanted to say, but I had to be told how to spell the words.

Rickey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Scott, 316 N. Chauncey.

Dear Santa Claus:

My name is Carla Cooper and I am ten years old.

Christmas is a time that we all should be very thankful because it was the night that Jesus was born. It also reminds us about the star that guided the shepherds to the stable where Jesus was lying asleep in the manger.

Some kids think Christmas is just a time to give and receive gifts but I think it is a time to be thankful.

Yours truly
Carla Cooper

Carla is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cooper R 4. She is seven years of age.

Dear Santa Claus:

I think Christmas is the time to be loving and happy. I like to give presents to people. I like Christmas best because it is Jesus birthday.

I am eight years old.

Your little friend
Linda Zumbrun

Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Zumbrun, R 7.

Dear Santa :

Christmas means to me a very happy time. We not only get many gifts but we have the joy of giving as well as getting.

We see you Santa and all your reindeer. We have beautiful decorated trees, lots of good food. But the thing that means the most to me going to Sunday School and hearing the stories again, about Jesus and when he was born in the stable.

I want a wrist watch.

Love

ranks.

Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler was promoted to lord privy seal and majority leader in the House of Commons, making him in effect deputy prime minister.

Harold Macmillan, whose policies as foreign secretary have been under opposition fire for some time, was shifted to the exchequer post to replace Butler as head of the fight against Britain's ominous inflation.

Defense Secretary Swelyn Lloyd replaced Macmillan as foreign secretary to lead the diplomatic fight against Russia, and Labor Minister Sir Walter Monckton moved up to the defense post to protect Britain if diplomacy fails.

Health Minister Iain MacLeod replaced Monckton as labor minister, and was replaced in his turn by R. H. Turton, who is new to the cabinet.

Nigel Birch, a wartime lieutenant colonel in the army, replaced Lord de L'Isle and Dudley as air secretary — a change reflecting Eden's decision that "because of the greatly increased importance of air power" he wants the civilian chief of the branch to be a member of the House of Commons.

were marooned on the peak following a Sunday program.

The temperature hovered around zero in the upper Mississippi and Missouri River valleys.

Exploding stoves were blamed for two of three fires which broke out in New York City, causing deaths and 22 injuries.

The temperature was 4 below zero early today when Leighton Pa., firemen battled a blaze which swept through nine buildings and routed 15 families. The fight to subdue the fire was hampered by layers of ice which formed quickly on pavements and buildings.

Also in Pennsylvania, the body of a 78-year-old woman was found in a Philadelphia area creek, frozen in foot-thick ice.

The eastern cold was too much for a 20-year-old Texan who nearly froze while trying to hitchhike back to his home state. The chilled Westerner, James A. Jones of Wichita Falls, used a dime of his last 20 cents to telephone Rochester, N. Y., state police to "lock me up on any charge — just put me someplace where it's warm."

The kindly policemen rescued Jones from the 10-above cold and put him in jail for five days on a vagrancy charge.

Lightweight Power House

Weighing less than 150 pounds, one of the world's smallest gas turbines delivers 84 horsepower. It's a lightweight wonder when compared with a 25 H.P. outboard motor which weighs over 95 pounds. Used as the source to provide self-starting power for jet aircraft engines, it operates a pneumatic system on the same plane as well. To produce this power from such a small unit, its rotor must turn at a speed of 40,000 revolutions-per-minute and withstand temperatures up to 1600° Fahrenheit.

Plane Crashes

Christmas week for north-bound flights. Any other week the plane probably would have carried up to 60 passengers.

The airliner crashed in a wooded area, clipped off tree-tops at the 25 foot level, then bored 66 yards through the trees and hit the ground.

The charred remains of those aboard were taken to Jacksonville mortuaries. They could be identified at the scene only by sex.

Then began the grim task by postal inspectors and airline personnel of picking up the few pitiful belongings that were not burned to ashes.

The crash was Eastern Airlines' first major disaster since Nov. 1, 1949, when 55 persons died in the collision of one of its planes with a fighter plan over Washington's National Airport.

The airline said that from that date until today it had flown 453,-309,841 plane miles, carrying 24,-472,827 passengers for nearly 15,000,000 passenger miles with only two fatalities.

Christmas Songs

Lesson for December 25, 1955

DID the angels sing when Christ was born? Some prosaic and unimaginative people say they didn't. True enough, Luke never says there was music. All he says is that the "multitude of the heavenly host" (he does not even say they were angels) were praising God and "saying, Glory to God in the highest . . ." Surely Christian art and Christian story is not wrong in thinking of this as song, not mere recitation or speech-making. At any rate, if the angels did not sing such words, the church has sung them. All down through the Christian centuries Christmas has been a singing time. You cannot suggest all that Christmas means in simple spoken prose; you have to sing.

Dr. Foreman

Beauty in a Jangled World

Luke, who had an ear for such things, put into his gospel not less than four poems connected with the birth of Christ. Of these the "Glory in the highest" is the shortest. The others are the words of Mary (Luke 1:47-55), of Zachariah (1:67-79) and of Simeon (chap. 2:29-32). In the R.S.V. these are printed as poetry, as they really are. (The reader will note other poetic passages, but these are the four most famous ones.) The church has set all these to music many times over, and in some churches they are sung every week. Mary's song like the others has been given a Latin name, from their first words in the Latin Bible: "Magnificat" for Mary's song, "Benedictus" for Zechariah's, "Gloria in excelsis" for the angels', and "Nunc Dimittis" for Simeon's. But modern church-goers do not always realize that each of these poems was called forth in some way by the birth of Jesus. This is as it should be. What poetry is to language and to sound, the coming of Christ is to this world of humanity. In the midst of all the jangling, wrangling, maddening and often meaningless noises of the world, in the midst of all the stupid ordinary soon-forgotten outpouring of talk, talk, talk, a lovely poem comes bringing beauty and meaning, like a rose in a junk-yard. So in the midst of our jangling world Christ comes bringing meaning and joy and peace

Some Will Not Listen

To some—to too many—Christmas means nothing. "Silent Night" is a tune to be tired of, nothing more. The angels might as well never have sung, the Story never written. Readers of TIME magazine will recall an article last July 18 about a writer who is typical of many men and women in these times. He knows there is such a thing as the way of Love, for every cross on every church proclaims it, and every Christmas carol sings it. But he will not accept it. He chooses the way of defiance and despair. To him, life is a wandering in the dark, with nothing but his own candle which will soon go out.

But Some Have Heard

On the other hand there are many, and among them some of mankind's best, who have found in the Christian faith something more than merely a story, a lovely legend, a song for little children, something which it would be pleasant, but impossible, to believe. A good book to get for the new year is one called "This I Believe about Jesus Christ" (edited by J. C. Monsma; Revell & Co., New York). It is a collection of testimonies to Jesus Christ, by an impressive variety of men and women. College presidents, executives of great business firms, scientists, politicians, persons in many walks of life, all write on the same theme, what Christ has meant to them. Any one who thinks that Christianity is a religion only for weak characters ought to read this book. Any one who thinks that Christ is attractive only to children, might well read this book and learn better. The writers by their testimonies show that not alone for ancient and legend-loving times, not only for simple peasants in primitive lands, but for modern men, hard-headed, highly educated, burdened with great responsibilities, Christ brings meaning and beauty as well as power. Strong voices in every land join the heavenly host in praise to God who has given us his Son.

All-Faiths Religious Organization Promises To Head Hoosier Soldier's Plea For Orphans

PORTLAND, Ore. (UP) — An all-faiths religious organization today promised to heed an Indiana soldier's plea for someone to take over a pathetic little orphanage for blind Korean children.

World Vision Inc. said steps to assume the responsibility for Pfc. Fritz Moeller's "off limits" orphanage already are being taken, and funds will be made available before Moeller is sent back home to Southport, Ind., in February.

"So you tell that boy and his mother not to worry," Roy Wolfe director of publications at World Vision's headquarters here told United Press.

Moeller, 22, started his orphanage in an "off limits" area near Seoul despite objections from the Army and assurances it would not be successful. Once he was jailed by Army authorities for visiting his charges, but the Army later relented and issued Moeller an unlimited pass.

"Help Is Coming"

Moeller grew fearful about the future of the orphanage when his rotation date approached. He wrote his mother, Mrs. Christian Moeller, for help. She got the name of World Vision Inc. from her Baptist minister and asked for help.

"Help is coming," Mrs. Moeller was able to cable her son in Korea late Tuesday after contacting World Vision in Portland.

Moellers flock is made up of refugees and orphans from North and South Korea. About half of them are blind, either as a result of diseases or from war injuries. Their ages range from 6 and 7 years to a few youths in their 20s who are as helpless as 5-year-olds.

One 7-year-old boy, a United Press reporter cabled from Korea, sports the biggest smile of all though he has no right arm. He has never seen himself and he doesn't know the wounds which blinded him make his face a horrible caricature.

Each night two of the children walk four miles to the service company of the 24th Division near Moeller's unit, United Press staff correspondent Robert Brown cabled. They carry two large paint buckets to receive leftovers from the mess hall.

Building New House

The two girls who pick up the leftovers each night also act as guides for the others who stumble and fall if not helped through the doorway of the small mud-walled, tin - roofed building Moeller is having built for them.

Moeller said he found them in August living in an old Army squad tent and "I couldn't believe they could exist like that, sleeping on the ground with no blankets or anything."

He tried to buy them blankets but deliveries were not permitted through the lines so "when I found out that a house only costs $500 or $600 I decided to buy some land and have a Korean contractor build one," he explained to Brown.

Even when the building is finished it won't be much of a house — no electricity or plumbing, Brown reported. Water comes from a crude well.

"But it's pretty good for Korea —and warm," Moeller said.

It May Be Just Christmas Spirit

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—It may be the Christmas spirit, or perhaps just the normal flow of the milk of human kindness. But the word I get is that the gum-shoes of the Army are softening a bit—at least in Germany.

My informant sends word from Heidelberg of strange happenings among the military police, particularly a winking at violations by slightly absent-without-leave GIs.

The major says that the MPs often are rounding up wayward soldiers and driving them back to their outfits instead of to the guardhouse.

This report is almost enough to make a veteran of World War II quit his job in the hardware store back in Dubuque and re-enlist just to witness such a miracle.

My source, who is stationed at the Army's headquarters, says that last month alone the Army military police in Munich gathered in more than 200 AWOL GIs and got them back to their outfits in time to say "yes, sir" before their first sergeants knew they were missing.

Lt. Col. H. J. Miclaw, Union City, N. J., the Army's "high sheriff" in Munich put it like this:

"If we can grab an AWOL who is only a few hours overdue on a pass, we can get him back to his unit in time for duty—and possibly save him no end of trouble."

The Army is saved trouble, too. It doesn't have to court-martial a boy, something the Army doesn't always relish.

No Stirring

In some factories, the paint used for finishing various products is circulated in pipes. The hose lines of spray guns are attached to the pipes containing the desired colors and the finishing process is completed swiftly and easily.

Santa's Pack Can Be Filled With Toys For Kiddies, Without A Casualty In A Sleighload

By PATRICIA DALTON
United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO—(UP) —Santa's pack can be filled with toys for children of all ages without a casualty in a sleighload.

For a "careful" Christmas, unmarred by injuries, the National Safety Council has compiled a shopping list for safety when buying toys.

For tots in the "hand-to-mouth" age (up to two years), the council suggested the shopper avoid small toys or toys with small, removable parts which might be swallowed; stuffed, with button eyes; playthings with poisonous paint, and flammable toys.

The best toys for children of this age, the council said, are sturdy rattles, bright-colored objects which may be hung in view, rubber or other washable "squeak" toys, large, soft-colored balls, blocks with round corners, push and pull toy with strings or rounded handles, or nests of boxex or other objects.

For the explorative age (two to three years), the council frowned on toys with sharp or rough edges, thin plastic or otherwise flammable toys, objects with small removable parts, or marbles, beads, and coins.

Up to Six

Safe toys for these children the council said, are sandboxes and equipment, large peg boards, wooden animals, cars and wagons to push, tip-proof kiddy cars and tricycles, large crayons, low rocking horses and small chairs and tables.

For the "let's pretend" afe (three to four years), the following toys are unsafe: toys that are too heavy, poorly made toys which may break or splinter, sharp or cutting toys, electrical toys and flammable costumes, especially with fringe trimmings.

These children may safely have small brooms or carpet sweepers,

Remains Of Bird Need Fast Chilling

MADISON, Wis. —(UP) —Store the left-over holiday turkey in the refrigerator in a hurry if you want to preserve its flavor, says Maxine McDivitt, University of Wisconsin nutritionist.

Strip meat from the carcass and keep it in a covered dish to prevent drying. If the bird was stuffed, remove the stuffing and store in a separate bowl.

Small, carefully wrapped portions of left-over turkey can be frozen and kept about a month, Miss McDivitt said, but don't freeze the stuffing.

All poultry left-overs need freezing and re-heating to be safe for eating.

Even Santa Claus Has Trouble Hitchhiking

WALSENBURG, Colo. —(UP) — Even Santa Claus has a hard time hitchhiking a ride these days, Henry Summers found out Monday.

Summers put on a beard and Santa Claus suit and awaited his scheduled ride to town for a children's Christmas party put on by the Chamber of Commerce.

Chamber officials forgot to pick him up, however, and Summers began thumbing for a ride. Forty cars passed before he finally got a lift.

Carols And Santa's Bells Echoing At Medical Center

INDIANAPOLIS Christmas carols and the jingle of Santa's bells are already echoing through the hospitals at the Indiana University Medical Center while decorated trees in the wards help bring the holiday spirit to the bedsides of children and adults alike.

While major attention is given the children at Riley Hospital, the adults at Long and Coleman Hospitals are included in the festivities with each receiving a gift from Santa who moves from bed to bed.

Santa will visit the children at Riley on Tuesday to distribute a huge bag of toys during the Christmas party. He returns Christmas morning with more toys and gifts. Gaily wrapped presents have been prepared for the hundreds of youngsters who are patients in the Medical Center clinics.

Many of the youngsters as well as some of the adults are looking forward to Christmas at home, returning to the hospitals to resume treatments. On Wednesday the Ogden Chorale will make the rounds of the hospitals, singing carols; the boy's choir of Christ Church on Christmas Eve, and the nurses in their candle-lighted processional on Christmas morning.

Much of the planning and selection of gifts in the hospitals is the work of the state-wide Riley Cheer Guild organization.

Christmas Spirit

MIDLAND, Mich. (UP) — Somebody stole 8 - year - old Wallace Green's bicycle from a curb near his home last month.

Monday, Wallace found his bike parked at the exact spot from which it had been stolen.

On the handlebars was a note which said: "Merry Christmas. It must have been the Christmas spirit that got the best of this thief."

Young King's Desire To Take Jordan Into Baghdad Alliance Just Another Of Crises

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Young King Hussein's trouble over his desire to take Jordan into the Baghdad Alliance is just another of the crises that have long beset the Arab countries.

Eight Arab nations are supposed to be united in the Arab League.

When that alliance was formed on March 22, 1945, it seemed to be a step toward the years-long dream of pan-Arabism, which would unite 50 million people.

Actually the Arab countries are torn by rivalries which have prevented any real cooperation.

The Arab League members are Egypt, Saudi Arabia, Iraq, Syria, Lebanon, Jordan, Yemen and Libya.

Both Egypt and Saudi Arabia would like to be dominant in the Arab world.

King Saud of Saudi Arabia has inherited from his father, Ibn Saud, a feud with Jordan and Iraq.

Saud, like his father, is bitterly opposed to a recurrent proposal for a "Greater Syria" which would unite the blood - related royal houses of Jordan and Iraq with Syria.

Syria wants no part of any such union.

Lebanon, though a member of the Arab League, does not want to be dominated by it and especially it does not want to be drawn into a war with Israel.

The so-called Baghdad Pact was a punishing blow to Arab unity, if a blow were needed.

This treaty for Middle Eastern defense against Communist aggression was signed on eb. 26 last year between Turkey and Iraq.

Egypt and Saudi Arabia were bitterly ngry over this development. It hit at their own ambition for Arab leadership and it put Turkey, the most powerful of Middle Eastern nations, into an influential position.

Allied with Britain

Since then Pakistan, Iran and Great Britain have joined the alliance and the United States has associated itself with it.

New Jordan is involved in serious internal crisis because King Hussein wants his country to enter it.

In doing that, Hussein would be following the lead of his cousin, King Faisal of Iraq.

"Anti-colonialists" might suspect that Britain has played a part in this situation.

Both Hussein and Faisal attended Harrow, the famous English school that numbers Winston Churchill among its more illustrious pupils.

Iraq has long been allied with Britain, and Jordan's Arab Legion, the most powerful fighting force in the Arab world, is commanded by British General Glubb Pasha, who is John Bagot Glubb. He has been in Jordan since 1926, after fighting there in World War I, and assumed command of the legion in 1939.

Holloware Adds To Table Decor

NEW YORK —(UP)— Deck the holloware with boughs of holly. It's an easy way to pretty up a holiday party table.

Some simple, yet effective ideas for making candlesticks, goblets, bowls and even vegetable dishes into attractive table decorations come from the Jewelry Industry Council.

One of the easiest: Use white, green or red candles in silver candlesticks, and add a few sprigs of holly at the base. Place between them a low silver bowl heaped with holly and ivy. A silver bowl piled high with multi-colored silver ornaments also gives a holiday touch.

Red carnations, greenery and one or two fat red Christmas candles arranged in a silver vegetable dish combine for a centerpiece. The candles can be set in jelly moulds and the flowers and foliage secured in pin holders. A poinsettia plant, if not too tall, can be set in a large silver bowl lined with flannel to prevent scratching. The space between the bowl and the flower pot can be filled in with holly or bits of other Christmas greens.

Meditation

By REV. H. R. STEEL
Washington Center Evangelical United Brethren Church
St. Luke 2:1-19

Beloved, again we read the Christmas story, and just what does it mean to us? What does Christmas mean to us this year? To most people the Christmas season is a mad rush, we start about Thanksgiving time and it never lets up until December 24 at the midnight hour. We rush to get our chores done and then we rush to the city, and we find ourselves in a mesh of shoppers, all headed for some store. The stores are so attractive and we are so occupied in our getting presents bought, that we never have a chance to stop and greet a friend across the counter. The cash register rings more often and perhaps louder than the Christmas bells and carols. The wife in the kitchen rushes from one batch of cookies to another. Then the holly and the mistletoe must be hung, the greens must be fitted properly to the fireplace—the table setting takes time and the rush goes on and on. Then comes the midnight hour, we retire—sleep restlessly—rise early—open gifts—eat a bountiful dinner that God has provided for us, then relax. What a let-down. We say "Its all over for another year. Is this all, that we get out of the Most Holy day of the year?

Beloved let us for a moment look at the first Christmas when Jeusu was born. God's Word says this about the Shepherds "And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the Babe lying in the manger—" This was the reaction of the men who had heard about the Babe in the manger. Sure they rushed—but bless your heart, they came to see the long promised Messiah, the Babe in the manger.

So, Beloved, in our rush if we fail to hasten to Him we shall miss the glory of Christmas Day. Possibly, if we take a few moments in meditation, if we have time to sit long enough, we too may hear the Angels sing. At least we can tune in on our radio's and Televisions long enough to hear the wonderful Christmas songs and messages which brings us closer to the Babe that was given to us as one of the greatest gifts to mankind.

So, Beloved, let us this Christmas in our imagination hurry to Bethlehem, there to see again the Babe wrapped in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger.

On that first Christmas day, God was lonesome. He sent His only begotten Son away—on Christmas and for thirty-three years after that, the Son was away—At Christmas. Finally He came back, wounds in His hands and feet and brow and side, but He came back a Victor.

It was just a few years ago that all the world shared with the British the keen anticipation of the coming of the heir apparent to the throne. Every possible preparation was made for his arrival, and there was great rejoicing when he came.

Beloved, such was not the case when the Lord Jesus came. Joseph and Mary knew about Him, but no one else seemed to care. The Hosts of heaven were enthralled, to be sure, and shard their exultation with some lonely shepherds. For Him there were only a stable and some shepherds, and also a star and a song. He came to be our Saviour, to give His life a ransom for us. Some day, soon we believe, He will come again to earth, then to be our King. Are we keenly aware of His second coming, ready for Him, loving His appearance, watching daily at His gates, and doing His service faithfully, so that we are not ashamed when He comes? Will the world Be more prepared for His Second Coming than it was for the first? I think not, but we should be! Beloved, if the first Christmas was glorious, what will the Second Coming be?

New Year's Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas Day are the only holidays celebrated by all 48 states.

That's right—
you can buy a '56 Buick

This one has moved a lot of folks to change their buying habits.

For this strapping sweep of car is a Buick SPECIAL—solid Buick through and through, and sedan-big for six adults.

Yet the dollar difference between this beauty and the well-known smaller cars can be sifted down to a pocketful of pennies. (Actually, this Buick costs less than some models of those very same cars—as the price we show here proves.)

But the difference in brawn and breadth and fun and thrill—that's the clincher for the move to Buick . . .

Because here, folks find, is so much more sheer automobile for the money—big-car power, big-car ride, big-car performance and big-car room at a small-car price.

It comes from new, record-high power—from a big new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine, the same basic engine that powers the costlier Buicks.

It comes from a new Buick ride—backboned by Buick heft, sinewed by stout steel, leveled by all-coil springing, cushioned by triple-oil-volume shock absorbers.

It comes from a new and advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow† that brings you brilliant new getaway response and bigger gas mileage in your normal driving range—plus sizzling new full-power safety-surge when you floor the pedal and switch the pitch.

for only $2455.00*

delivered locally!

*2-door, 6-passenger Buick SPECIAL Sedan, Model 48, illustrated. Any state and local taxes, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities. A wide variety of extra-cost equipment and accessories available at your option.

And it comes, of course, from Buick size and solidity and steadiness—and all dressed up in Buick's new sweep-ahead style.

So why not come in and try one on for size?

Drop in this week and borrow a key. What happens from that point on is pure thrill—aided and abetted by low prices that make this the best buy yet.

†New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

HELSINKI, Finland (UP) — Finland will become the Soviet Unions main Western civil aviation partner when the Finnish airlines, Aero, opens direct services to Moscow Feb. 18, informed aviation circles said today.

The sources said that Aero will replace Scandinavian Airlines as the Soviet Aeroflot's booking agent on the Helsinki-Moscow route.

MANILA, P.I. (UP)—A band of gunmen, believed to be members of the Communist-led Huk, ambushed and killed four Filipino soldiiers in Laguna Province south of here, according to Army reports today.

It was the fourth attack in five days in Luzon blamed on remnants of the outlawed underground organization. Fifteen persons have been killed and 26 wounded in the attacks.

CHARLOTTE AMALIE, Virgin Islands (UP) — A committee of citizens adopted a resolution Tuesday asking the U.S. Congress to grant the Virgin Islands the same political status Puerto Rico received in 1948.

Such status would give the Virgin Islands the right to elect a governor, now appointed by the American president, and to appoint a resident in Congress. It would also allow the legislature full powers to legislate on internal matters, although reserving Congress the right to annul any legislation deemed inconvenient.

TOKYO (UP)—An attempted sit-down strike by Japanese demonstrators in the target area flopped today and the U.S. Army carried out its third test-firing of the "Honest John" rocket launcher.

Only about six of more than 150 labor demonstrators managed to sneak into the impact area at the foot of Mt. Fuji. Japanese police ejected them and the launcher was fired only 45 minutes behind schedule.

The rocket carried a dummy warhead.

PITTSBURGH—A striking worker of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. on receiving a $100 interest-free company loan:

"There won't be much left over for toys after I buy the kids clothes and shoes."

WASHINGTON—F, Joseph Donohue, Washington attorney, on limiting the number of primaries Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) will enter:

"I don't want to kill the senator. I want to elect him."

AMMAN, Jordan—Hazzah Majali, resigned premier of Jordan, on Jordianian membership in the anti-Communist Baghdad Pact:

"I am still an ardent believer that joining the Baghdad Pact is the surest way for maintaining Jordan's territorial integrity."

VIENNA, Ga. — Sen. Walter F. George on his meeting the almost certain challenge of young Herman Talmadge for the veteran senator's seat:

"If my friends in Georgia desire to return me to the Senate next year, I hope it will be my last term."

NEAR THE WESTERN FRONT IN KOREA — Pfc. Fritz Moeller on Christmas for 30 orphans, most of them blind, whom he adopted when he found them living in a tent:

"We haven't planned anything for Christmas. But at least they will be warm."

NEW YORK — An official of a bank which sold Nashua for a record $1,251,200 on its promise to buy a saddle horse for Karen Ann McGuire, Valhalla, N.Y., who tried to buy the champion race horse with her $24.03 savings:

"We decided her bid should not be in vain."

miniature garden tools, trucks and tractors, toy telephones, building blocks, non-flammable costumes, dolls with simple clothing, doll buggies, small furniture and dishes, mechanical trains and drums.

For the creative age (four to six), the council said these toys may be dangerous: shooting or target toys, which might injure eyes, badly balanced mobile toys, poisonous painting sets, pinching or cutting objects.

The children probably will be happy with blackboards and dustless chalk, simple construction sets, paint and paint books, modeling clay, doll houses and furniture, small sports equipment, skipping ropes, washtubs and boards and paper doll sets with blunt scissors and costumes.

The Dextrous Age

When a child is between six to eight years and is beginning the age of dexterity, the council warned against giving electrical toys, which do not have Underwriter's Laboratory approval, anything too large or complicated, sharp edge tools, conductible kites, poorly-made skates, and shooting toys.

These children are better off with carpenter's benches and well-constructed lightweight tools,sleds, roller skates, construction sets, for play stores, banks, filling stations, and such, play yard puzzles and games, sewing materials and dolls."

When children reach the age of eight, the council said they are beginning to specialize in tastes and skills and the following toys should be avoided: air rifles, chemical sets, dart games and bows and arrows, dangerous tools and electrical toys (unless used under parental supervision), motorbikes, and scooters.

Ideal gifts for children of this age, the council said, are hobby sets, arts and crafts, photography equipment, coin and stamp collections, puppet shows, musical instruments, gym and sports equipment model and construction building sets, electrical trains with Underwriters' approval, bicycles, and science sets.

Winter Conference Will Feature Grass Silage Discussion

LAFAYETTE, — A quartet of men who manage Purdue University farms will list their experiences with grass silage during the January 5 session of the Winter Agricultural Conference at Purdue.

Farmers who attend the grass silage discussion set to open at 9 a.m. (CST) in Purdue's Memorial Union will hear H. W. Wheaton, superintendent of the Miller-Purdue Farm; G. M. Adams, superintendent of the Southern Indiana Forage Farm; C. H. Nickel, manager of the Lynnwood Farm; and E. R. Baugh, superintendent of the Throckmorton Farm. M. E. Heath, Purdue agronomist, will moderate the panel.

"Grass Silage—Bonanza or Bust" will be the basis of a talk by D. L. Hill, Purdue dairy research specialist. Another Purdue dairyman, B. J. Walker, will discuss the quality factors in grass silage. John Foley, Purdue extension agricultural engineer, will speak on "Silage Storage Developments."

"What's New in Marketing Farm Products" will be discussed during another session on the Thursday program. D. E. Wilkinson of the Wisconsin State Department of Agriculture will explain what is being done through standardized products and a unified effort. R. B. Wilson, Purdue extension agricultural economist, will speak on "Working Together — Producers, Processors and Distributors." George Doup, chairman of the Indiana Farmers - Retailers committee, will preside.

Other features during the day will include a continuation of the 27th Farm Electrifcation Conference which will open the previous day. Speakers and their topics are A. C. Dale, Purdue agricultural engineer, "Methods and Controls for Poultry House Ventilation;" B. A. McKenzie, Purdue extension agricultural engineer, "Mechanical Grain Handling and Processing systems;" G. H. Foster, USDA, "Grain Conditioning With Natural Air;" and J. G. Taylor, USDA, "Electrical Controls Can Do It—Why Do It Yourself."

Rural Youth from thoughout the state will also convene for a day-long program, L. E. Hoffman, associate director of the agricultural extension service at Purdue, will welcome the group. Kelso Wessel of Brownstown, Beulah Bertsch of Plymouth, Monte Aldefer of Bourbon of Ridgeville, and George Wappes of Garrett, will comprise a symposium to give visitors a look at "The World As Seen by Indiana Rural Youth."

Awards will be presented to outstanding Rural Youth clubs during the WLS Dinner Bell program Thursday evening.

A fish fry, election of officers, and presentation of awards will feature the annual meeting of the Purdue Ag Alumni Association.

Detroit Inventor Looks Upon Failure Same As Compliment

WASHINGTON (UP)—My friend Norman C. Consterdine of Detroit is the only man I know who looks upon failure as a compliment.

Norman has invented a lot of things. All of them to help people. Like how to wash a window without leaning out same and risking life and limb. How to swat a fly without moving off the couch.

Things like that. None of these ever have been patented.

But, according to my Detroit friend, some of his ideas have been picked up, patented and put on the market. Instead of being sore and running for a lawyer he says:

"I find this situation most heartening. It serves to cast a certain favorable reflection on the basic soundness of the ideas themselves. It gives me a great lift."

A great lift is what Consterdine needs. It's something he never has had in his life, except from the daily confession his parish priest hears at his bedside.

The man is 39 years old. He never has walked, or moved a muscle, hardly, except his one typing finger. Hes been a bedridden victim of cerebral palsy since boyhood. His speech comes with hesitation. He can't even feed himself. He depends on his mother for everything. That includes lifting his movable finger atop a typewriter, which Mrs. Consterdine props in front of him on a couple of pillows. It takes the man three days to write a letter such as he wrote to me.

But Norman isn't complaining.

The guy knows that the patent laws are tricky. It is hard, indeed, to protect your brain children if you don't have a patent lawyer. Norman never could afford one.

Norman's father died when he was young. His stepfather died not long ago. His mother has been his nurse and has taken care of his every need. For 39 years.

He wants to do something for her, "to take some of the load off."

So, if he can swing it somehow, Norman hopes to go into some kind of business — which he can handle from his bed. And what is best of all, at the Yuletide, he thinks maybe he could get handicapped people to work for him as salesmen.

Whatever he has in mind, let's wish the man luck.

Urge Good Roads Day April 15th

A resolution has been adopted by the Board of Directors of the Chicago Motor Club calling upon its members to re-enact "Good Roads Day" on April 15, 1956, to re-appraise our modern highway aims and achievements.

The resolution reviving Good Roads Day urges every mayor in the territory served by the Chicago Motor Club to set April 15 in their city as the date in which they will take stock of highway progress.

"The Board of Directors resoution is timely," Hayes says. "It comes when there is a slumbering revolt ready to explode over ever increasing highway accidents, due to reasons which every thinking man believes can be corrected.

"Statewide Good Roads Day throughout Illinois and Indiana could point to the achievements reached by people interested in highway progress; it might bring an understanding between factions supporting and fighting new and better roads.

Old Timers Have Not Forgotten Spry And Restless Little Old Man, Andrew W. Mellon

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — Andrew W. Mellon might be a Civil War hero or the name of a horse so far as the present generation would know or care. But the old timers around town have not forgotten the spry and restless little man who stuttered in his speech.

A three-cent stamp bearing Mellon's likeness was dedicated in his honor Tuesday. Perhaps the old man's bones can cease rattling now in protest against what his friends hotly called a notable effort to smear his memory forever.

It was just 20 years ago that FDR's New Deal Department of Justice sought to indict Mellon on charges of fradulent income tax returns. Mellon, Pennsylvania's greatest financier, had been secretary of treasury in three successive Republican administrations—Harding, Coolidge and Hoover — 1921-1932. He was for years called the greatest secretary of treasury since Alexander Hamilton. But Mellon's luck faded with the great depression and former President Hoover whisked him out of the cabinet to be ambassador to Great Britain before the election of 1932. The old man had become a political liability.

Mellon No Crook

But that did not mean he was a crook. The Roosevelt administration, however, was slugging the so-called reactionaries in 1935 and Mellon was a stand-out. As former ace treasury agent and tax commissioner Elmer Irey related to William Slocum for the book "The Tax Dodgers," it happened like this:

"The Roosevelt administration made me go after Andy Mellon," Irey said. "I liked Mr. Mellon, and they knew it, so the FBI took first crack.

"Bob Jackson (later attorney general and Supreme Court justice) was made Internal Revenue Department chief counsel and he said to me: 'I need help on this Mellon thing. The FBI investigation was no good. You run one on him.' (The FBI evidently had found no tax dodging.)

"In a short time Irey got a telephone call from Henry Morgenthau Jr., secretary of treasury. The secretary said: 'Irey, you can't be 99 2-3 per cent on this job. Investigate Mellon. I order it.'

"Irey explained his personal viewpoint that Mellon was innocent, although admitting it was not his place to judge. Morgenthau's answer was: 'I'm directing you to go ahead, Irey.' "

Jury Refused To Indict

Mellon's tax paying easily survived investigation, and that was that. The grand jury refused to indict.

Mellon was a patriot by his own and the standards of many others but he was no softy. He was, in act, hard in many ways although a wispy little man, physically, given to fluttering through downtown traffic in Washington like a startled bird. Treasury corner tourists usually scoffed when a guide suddenly urged them to believe that the slight figure dodging the trams and autos at 15th and Pennsylvania was, in fact, secretary of the treasury of the United States.

His coal and iron police in industries Mellon controlled long were under charges of strike brutalities. When depression came there is the word of Mr. Hoover, himself, that Mellon had only one formula: "Liquidate stocks, liquidate labor, liquidate the farmers liquidate real estate." Although a great giver to good causes, churches, museums and, it is true, hungry men and women, Melon was hardly a humanitarian. But neither was he a tax dodger. The grand jury refusal to indict after FBI and treasury investigations seems to call a foul on the New Deal against an old and, tax-wise, innocent man.

Make Safety Head Your Christmas List

By Betty Skelton, Dodge Test Driver

Strange that so many Christmas shoppers should forget to include on their lists the most important gift of all—their own safety!

In the excitement of Christmas good cheer and good will, good common sense is often temporarily submerged beneath the holiday hustle and bustle.

What can cause this traditionally joyous season to be such a dangerous one for motorist and pedestrian? Let's call it "holidaze"—that state of confusion brought about by the holiday spirit, frantic Christmas shopping, crowded streets and party-going. Add the hazards of winter weather to December's early darkness and the stage is set for danger.

Miss Skelton

Pedestrians, during the rush and tension of Christmas shopping, can protect themselves by watching their step, and observing these simple safety rules:

1. Cross only at corners and use pedestrian crosswalks.

2. Never dart into traffic from between parked cars.

3. On rural highways always walk facing traffic.

4. Never carry packages or umbrellas in a manner that will obstruct your vision.

5 Be extra careful at night, especially if streets are wet or slippery.

The bustling holiday season leads to tensions, impatience and inattention in motorists as well as pedestrians.

If you plan to do your Christmas shopping by car, don't let your excitement over selecting the right gifts cause you to forget your safe driving habits. A few basic rules to remember are:

1. Don't window-shop while you drive. Park, get out on the right side, and then look.

2. Be sure you don't block your line of sight through the rear window. Don't pile packages on the back seats. Always scrape off the snow or ice from windshields and rear windows.

3. If you drive, don't drink.

4. Stay alert. Preoccupation with holiday plans weakens your defenses, diverts your safety control.

5. Reduce speed. This is your most important protection against holiday driving hazards.

December is a month for giving and receiving. In traffic, if you give the right of way to other drivers, you'll receive added years of safe driving.

Remember the slogan: "Don't give your life for Christmas."

Candle In Window Is A Tradition On Christmas Eve

Lighted candles gleaming in the windows of millions of American homes on Christmas eve will perpetuate a tradition that has survived so many centuries as to have lost its origin somewhere in the veils of the ancient past.

A probable genesis of the custom lies in the hoary legend that the spirit of Jesus is reborn on Christmas eve and that the Christ child himself walks forth on that night to enter once more the hearts of men.

Candles burning in the window to light the way are an invitation to the Christ spirit to cross the threshold.

Blended with contemporary deference to this tradition descended from the dim recesses of antiquity is the modern feeling for decoration at Yuletide.

Despite electricity's unchallenged ascendancy for utilitarian needs, it is noteworthy that it gives way to candlelight in the heart of mankind at Christmas. From the cheerful flame flows a magic atmosphere of warmth, friendliness, and well-being that is singularly appropriate to the sentiment of the season.

History reveals the use of candles as far back as the ancient Chinese civilization of 7,000 years ago. This illumination was doubtless crude, being merely reeds or rushes saturated with grease, tallow or spermaceti wax. Possibly they were nothing but pieces of resinous wood.

Biblical history abounds in references to candles and candlesticks. From the Old Testament it is gleaned that Solomon placed ten golden candles in his renowned temple, and that no feast celebrating a religious event, a conquest, or the consummation of successful peace negotiations was complete without candles.

Candles Stretch Way

The candle first demonstrated its utility to man by stretching his day beyond evening twilight so that he might satisfy his thirst for knowledge far into the night.

Primitive man's embryo art, consisting of outlines of birds and beasts laboriously etched with crude implements in the stone of his cavern walls, developed with the aid of candlelight.

The candle played a humble but worthy role in removing the gloomy darkness from the cabins of the first American settlers and by its gleams the hardy pioneer forged westward through dense wilderness.

The Declaration of Independence was framed by the light of the candle, and by the same illumination Abraham Lincoln acquired the education which was to aid him guide a reeling nation through the most critical stage of its history.

Halos cast by the flames of candles flood with medieval splendor the altars of many faiths paying homage to the Christian Yuletide, and in millions of homes throughout all Christendom glowing candles perpetuate an observance of Christmas customs descended from ancient days.

What's New In Washington

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)— What's new in Washington:

In this congested city, the Washington Parking Assn. has done something pretty nice. Anybody who wants to drive down town for church can park in any lot or garage free on Sunday. The program will run past the Yuletide—from now on.

The Farm Bureau News Letter reports that if each of 50 million families in our land serves just a single kraut, pork and apple dinner, a 100 million pound dent could be made in the current pork supply. The suggestion originates with the kraut packers—naturally.

Maybe you never heard of the peripophthalmus barabusus. Well, according to the Smithsonian Institution, which knows most everything, it is commonly known as the "mudskipper," described as a "pop-eyed aquarium fish that can skip, or jump as far as 20 feet. It has two large eyes with an extension on top of its head that allows them to be raised or lowered at will. Each eye is capable of independent sight. One may be looking under water, while the other is observing out of the water." You learn something every day.

The Democratic National Committee received a letter addressed to "President or Sen. Adlai Stevenson." There was no signature, but there was a $5 bill inside.

Reporters covering the Joint Congressional Economic Committee hearings on tax policies stopped loafing and put pencil to pad when Sen. Paul H. Douglas, Democrat from Illinois, started to spiel. Why now, he said, let the government take over collection of all state income taxes, and redistribute the money? Turned out the senator was just talking, not proposing. That was a joke, folks. But it happened here.

FOR WASSAIL BOWL

NEW YORK —(UP)— Spiced hot grape juice punch makes a welcome beverage for holiday parties.

Here's how to make. Tie 1 teaspoon of whole allspice and 12 whole cloves in a cheese cloth bag. Boil gently with 1 quart grape juice, 1 cup orange juice, ¼ cup lemon juice, 1 cup of water, and ¾ cup of sugar for 5 minutes. Remove the spice bag. Pour at once into a punch bowl. Serve hot. Yield, 12 servings of ½ cup each.

Most Indiana Cities Owe Their Location To Transportation

BLOOMINGTON, — Most Indiana towns and cities owe their location to transportation growth or geographical features, Prof. S. S. Visher of the Indiana University geography department points out in an article in the December issue of the Indiana Magazine of History.

Many Hoosier towns started as trading centers for the people of a locality, Visher says. Therefore, since most of the first Hoosiers lived near the Ohio River, because of its value for transportation, the first towns were established there.

By 1830, Visher writes, more than three dozen towns were established on the Ohio, including Lawrenceburg, Aurora, Rising Sun Vevay, Madison, Jeffersonville, New Albany, Cannelton, Tell City, Rockport, Newburgh, Evansville, and Mount Vernon.

Other early river towns were Vincennes, (the oldest town in the state and territorial capital before Indiana was established) and Terre Haute, on the lower Wabash; and, on the upper Wabash, Lafayette, Logansport, Peru, Wabash, and Huntington.

Local topographic advantages affected the start and growth of most Indiana villages and towns except those on essentially level land, Visher points out. Several towns along rivers, such as Terre Haute, New Harmony, Vincennes, and Lafayette, are on relatively high land, and most river towns are on ground less subject to floods than are nearby tracts.

Most of the early roads and trails followed uplands and drainage divides, Visher says, and many towns were established on these routes. Valley locations increased with the coming of the railroads, which often followed valleys.

"Numerous towns grew up where early roads or railways crossed or converged," Visher writes. "Most of the towns which have grown into cities are served by more than one railway, and by several roads."

Existence of natural resources were factors in the establishment of some towns, Visher points out. Among these he lists waterpower water supply, gas, oil, coal, and limestone.

More than half of the 92 county seat towns and cities in Indiana were planned as county capitals, Visher says. He describes how the counties were laid out to contain about 400 square miles: anything smaller would have provided insufficient tax funds to pay the salaries of county officers, and a larger size would have made it impossible for some residents to travel to the county seat and back home again in one day.

Fess Parker Turns In Coonskin Cap

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Hollywood Writer

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Fess Parker has turned in his coonskin cap, officially buried his Davy Crockett character and admitted that the nationwide storm he caused is down to a slow drizzle.

A year ago Parker's furry top and shootin' iron launched the country's sub-sub-deb set on the biggest hero worship craze since Hopalong Cassidy. But even Parker confessed that by now the kids have left their coonskin caps to the moths.

"Too much heat in too short a time,' drawled the lanky actor. "But I'm grateful to old Davy. I only feel we should let him rest in peace — and give him back his cap."

The second of this year's two-part Crockett TV series was aired on the ABC-TV "Disneyland' program last week. Unless Disney reruns them in the spring, that's the last of Davy.

Parker meantime has left TV behind and gone one to star in a Disney cinemascope color feature, 'The Great Locomotive Chase."

In the Civil War story he was promoted to a fancy frock coat with black velvet piping and a gray wide-brimmed hat.

"My wardrobe will knock you out," grinned Parker. "Before I had a full beard but now I'm clean shaven. I still get killed in this movie, though. But in my next Disney picture, 'Westward Ho, The Wagons, I live and I even get the woman."

Fess figures Davy Crockett's popularity faded because of other historical Westerns such as "Frontier' and "Wyatt Earp' on TV this season. To confirm the demise of Davy, the actor is sending back his Crockett outfits to the Disney wardrobe department soon.

Fresh Air Needed In Poultry House

LAFAYETTE. A Purdue University extension poultryman, D. D. Jackson, has reported that there is something wrong with the ventilation in the hen house when the roof and sidewalls sweat and the litter becomes damp.

Fresh air, which will be heated by the body temperature of the chickens, must be provided to carry off moisture and odors. But direct draft on the birds should be avoided at all times.

If a hen house is less than 24 feet deep, the only winter ventilation necessary can be provided through the front windows. It is best to locate these windows high on the south wall and tilt them into the house from the top. Side baffles should direct the flow of the air upward. Another good means to prevent drafts is to use burlap or muslin to cover one-third to one-half of the window space. Such a cover will permit a slow exchange of air.

Ventilation is not effective unless it carries out the excess moisture. According to Jackson, one hundred birds will give off as much as 7.5 gallons of water a day.

Insulation will pay dividends by keeping the house cooler in the summer and warmer in winter. The roof or ceiling, will need better insulation than the walls since more heat is lost through the roof than any other part of the building.

Jackson points out that the front windows should be left open until the water starts to freeze in the house. Hens can take a sudden weather change much better if they are accustomed to a cool house. Even when the temperatures cannot be kept above freezing in the house, the windows should never be completely closed. It is better to have all the windows open a little in cold weather than to have just one or two opened wide. This cuts down on the danger of draft, the Purdue specialist concludes.

Auto Racing Barely Survives Blackest Year Of Postwar Era To Face Challenge In 1956

By KURT FREUDENTHAL
United Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) — Auto racing barely survived its blackest year of the postwar era to face the greatest challenge in its history in 1956.

Crashes claimed the lives of half a dozen pilots who rocketed to fame at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, scene of the annual Memorial Day 500-mile race.

Eighty-two persons met death in racing's worst mishap in LeMans, France, and the American Automobile Association, after half a century of supervising racing in this country, withdrew from the sport.

But racing's foremost backers, a handful of die-hard car owners, promoters and sportsmen like Tony Hulman, owner of the "500" track, came to the rescue. They were instrumental in forming the United States Auto Club and recently named popular Duane Carter as racing director.

"Safety First" is the new group's slogan.

"We intend to stress safety more heavily, plan to police and screen the drivers more thoroughly, especially here at the Speedway," said Carter.

The "Black" Year

The new group hopes new and stricter safety measures will help avoid such wrecks as the spectacular four-car pile-up which killed two-time "500" winner Bill Vukovich as he led this year's Memorial Day classic.

There'll be more mechanical inspections of cars, too, said Carter, and more rigid safety measures at all race tracks to reduce the danger to both spectators and drivers.

This year's appalling balance sheet of racing in this country also lists the deaths of Larry Crockett, the 1954 "rookie of the year" at Indianapolis, and Mike Nazaruk, both killed in separate crashes at Langhorne, Pa.; Manuel Ayulo, the peppery little Californian fatally injured in practice for this year's "500"; Jerry Hoyt, a hometown favorite who sat on the pole in the Memorial Day chase, and qualifying record-holder Jack McGrath, who crashed to his death in the AAA's final big-car program at Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. .

Former world driving champion Alberto Ascari was killed in an Italian test run, three British drivers met death at Belfast and five other persons were killed in Chile's Grand Prix.

"We're aware of the hazards auto racing involves and this has been a sad year for all of us," said Hulman. "But it's our sincere intention to continue racing just as in the past. We'll lend our efforts to try to prevent accidents."

In line with that, the Speedway repaved the four banked turns and short straight-aways. The southwest turn, in particular, has been rough on pilots and their machines.

Looking To Future

The Speedway improvement should pay off in faster trips around the oval but officials believe more speed has nothing to do with accidents.

"They tell us in the old days when the boys were going half as fast as today there were even more accidents," said Hulman.

Carter plans to run a drivers school at the Speedway next May "to inform rookies, try to make better drivers of them in some instances, and give them tips from the old-timers."

His group also plans to form a drivers committee to supervise "ill-handling" cars and to work closer with promoters throughout the country to assure the best race tracks possible.

"Our aim is to put the sport on a higher level, and this we'll accomplish with the experience already gained by other racing groups," Carter explained.

The new year may also see the first "invasion" of an American racing team of Europe in more than 20 years. Promoters of the Monza track in Italy are negotiating for a "match race," pitting the cream of this country's big-car chauffeurs against the Continent's.

"I'm ready to go," said "500" winner Bob Sweikert. The 1955 driving champion said the advertising alone would be worth the trip. Besides, he added, maybe it'll prove "once and for all" who puts out the best racing equipment and has the best drivers.

Attucks Again Tops U. P. Coaches Poll

By KURT FREUDENTHAL
United Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Indianapolis Attucks' state champions swept the board for the second consecutive week today and two other unbeaten powers at opposite ends of the state—Gary Roosevelt and Madison—joined the Indiana high school basketball "Big 10" for the first time this season.

While the Flying Tigers of Coach Ray Crowe, sporting a 21-game winning streak, seven this season, again compiled a perfect score of 20 points, Roosevelt's Panthers climbed from 13th to ninth place and Madison from 11th to 10th in the second weekly United Press Coaches Poll.

Three other front-runners retained last week's ratings. Lafayette, with 162 markers, again was runner-up, Seymour third with 124, and Kokomo fifth with 65.

Two other quintets also improved their standings. Hammond's Wildcats, who racked up an impressive victory over Indianapois Tech the last time out, vaulted from ninth to fourth place and Monticello's unbeaten Tioga Indians from eighth to sixth.

Four Teams Slip

At the same time, Logansport, South Bend Central, Elkhart and New Albany, all members of the elite in the first roll call, slipped somewhat.

Logan, upset by Fort Wayne South last Saturday, skidded from fourth to seventh place; the South Benders, whipped at Lafayette, from sixth to eighth; Elkhart, a 13-point loser to Logansport, and New Albany dropped out of the First Ten—Elkhart from seventh to 13th, New Albany from 10th to a tie for 11th with fast-coming Hammond Noll, also still with an unblemished record.

The board nominated 29 clubs this week, four less than in the initial poll.

Coesse Indians Beat Busco Eagles On The Eagles Court 74-61

The Coesse Indians beat the Busco Eagles 74-61 for the second time and two teams have met this year The first time the Indians defeated them by a score of 59-43.

The first period started off with Maley of the Indians dumping in the first two field goals. The Eagles didn't score any field goals until the last part of the period. Most of the Eagles points in the first period were made on foul shots. The score at the end of the first eight minutes of play was 20-18 with the Indians in the lead.

The second stanza was a very close period with both teams trying to get a lead and maintain it. It was nip and tuck all the way with first the Eagles and then the Indians ahead. At the end of the second stanza the Eagles led only by three 40-37. The Indians scored 17 points while the Eagles socred 22.

It was still a close ball game going into the third stanza. The Indians soon tied the score and the Eagles were still wanting to win the game. Both teams were ahead alternately for several minutes in the first of the period. With a little more than four minutes to go the Indians started to widen the margin and the quarter ended with the Indians in the lead 53-46. The Eagles scored only six points in this quarter while the Indians scored 16.

With less than two minutes gone in the fourth period the Indians were ahead 55-48. The Indians still widening their gap were thirteen points ahead half way through the fourth period. The final whistle blew with Coesse 74 and the Busco Eagles 61.

The officials were Duffield and Butz.

The Eagles made twenty-three out of 31 foul attempts while the Indians made twenty-four of 39 attempts.

Keirns of the Indians and Lewellyn of the Eagles both fouled out in the last few minutes of the game.

High point man for the game was Steele of the Indians with 26. P Geiger of the Eagles and Maley o the Indians tied for second each having 19. Geiger made 18 of his points in the first half. Walker of the Indians and Shively of the Eagles were tied for third with 11 points each.

The preliminary game was won by the Indians after they overcame a 9-19 score at the half. At the end of the regulation game the score was tied up 34-34. The Indians won 38-39 on a foul shot by L. Barnes. This was their second win this year the other one also being from Busco.

Briggs Says Letter Inquiry Not Offer

DETROIT (UP) — Walter O. "Spike" Briggs, president of the Detroit Tigers, said today he considered a reported "offer" of more than two million dollars from his ball club as an "inquiry" and would not discuss it until after the first of the year.

Briggs confirmed Tuesday night a report that a six-man eastern syndicate was "interested" in the Detroit baseball team, a member of the American League. But he said he considered a letter received from the syndicate an inquiry and not an offer.

The syndicate, headed by New York insurance executive Cy Block reportedly offered more than two million dollars for the team. The "offer" first was revealed by the Long Island Press.

ABC To Unveil Its First Spectaculars

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP) — Robert Kintner, president of the American Broadcasting Co., confirmed reports today that his net work is planning to unveil its first "spectaculars."

"We expect to do about 12 special shows during the 1956-57 season,'said Kintner. "All of them will be live. As yet, we havent chosen the properties or producers.

"It's our hope that the Theatre Guild will do a specific number of them for us. All of them will be in black-and-white —we don't believe the importance of color in the industry will be really felt until the fall of 1957."

Kintner, who will mark his sixth year as head of ABC next week, ticked off three reasons for his network's planned entrance into the field of the big show.

"First of all," said Kintner, "a show of longer length can use better story ideas, more stars and more people to produce a stronger show.

"Second, its possible to hold an audience for a longer period of time as we do with our 'Warner Bros. Presents.'

"Third, with the rise of multiple sponsorship, the longer show in TV has been made more feasible."

Traffic Deaths Fall During Recent Driving Campaign

WASHINGTON (UP) — The President's Committee for Traffic Safety said today that traffic deaths fell 3½ per cent during its recent three-week safe driving campaign.

This reduction was achieved, the committee said, "in the face of an upward trend that had continued uninterruptedly" since the end of February.

Final figures of the National Safety Council show 2,069 fatalities for the 21 days of the campaign. This was 75 fewer than in the corresponding 1954 period when the toll was 2,144.

Mid-point of the campaign was Safe Driving Day, Dec. 1. The toll that day was 89, compared with 81 on the corresponding Thursday last year. This was an increase for the one day of 9.8 per cent.

Twenty-one states and the District of Columbia reported no fatalities on this year's Safe Driving Day, and six other states had better records than last year.

Two things that make for SAFER driving!

The first and most important thing is you—the driver. As the highway safety organizations and law enforcement agencies point out, the courtesy, care, and common sense you show count more than anything else. You can drive any car safely — or foolishly.

The second thing is the car itself. All cars are safer today. That's shown by the number of accidents in relation to the number of miles passenger cars are driven. The figure's been going down steadily and sharply.

Chevrolet engineers and designers have always made your safety a major consideration, introducing many such features as the all-steel top, safety plate glass all around, and windshield-wide defrosters into the low-price field. And this '56 Chevrolet is the safest one ever built.

Its lively new power means safer passing. Its special Ball-Race steering—the oversize brakes with Anti-Dive control—the Unisteel construction and safety door latches of its Fisher Body—the nailed-to-the-road stability that comes from outrigger rear springs, an advanced suspension system and better balance—the sweeping panoramic windshield — all these things add to your safety.

Seat belts with or without shoulder harness? Instrument panel padding? Of course, they're available at extra cost on your new Chevrolet. But the best protection of all is to keep out of accidents in the first place. And that depends mostly on you and the built-in safety of your car.

As your Chevrolet dealer, we'll be glad to show you the many safety features of the '56 Chevrolet.

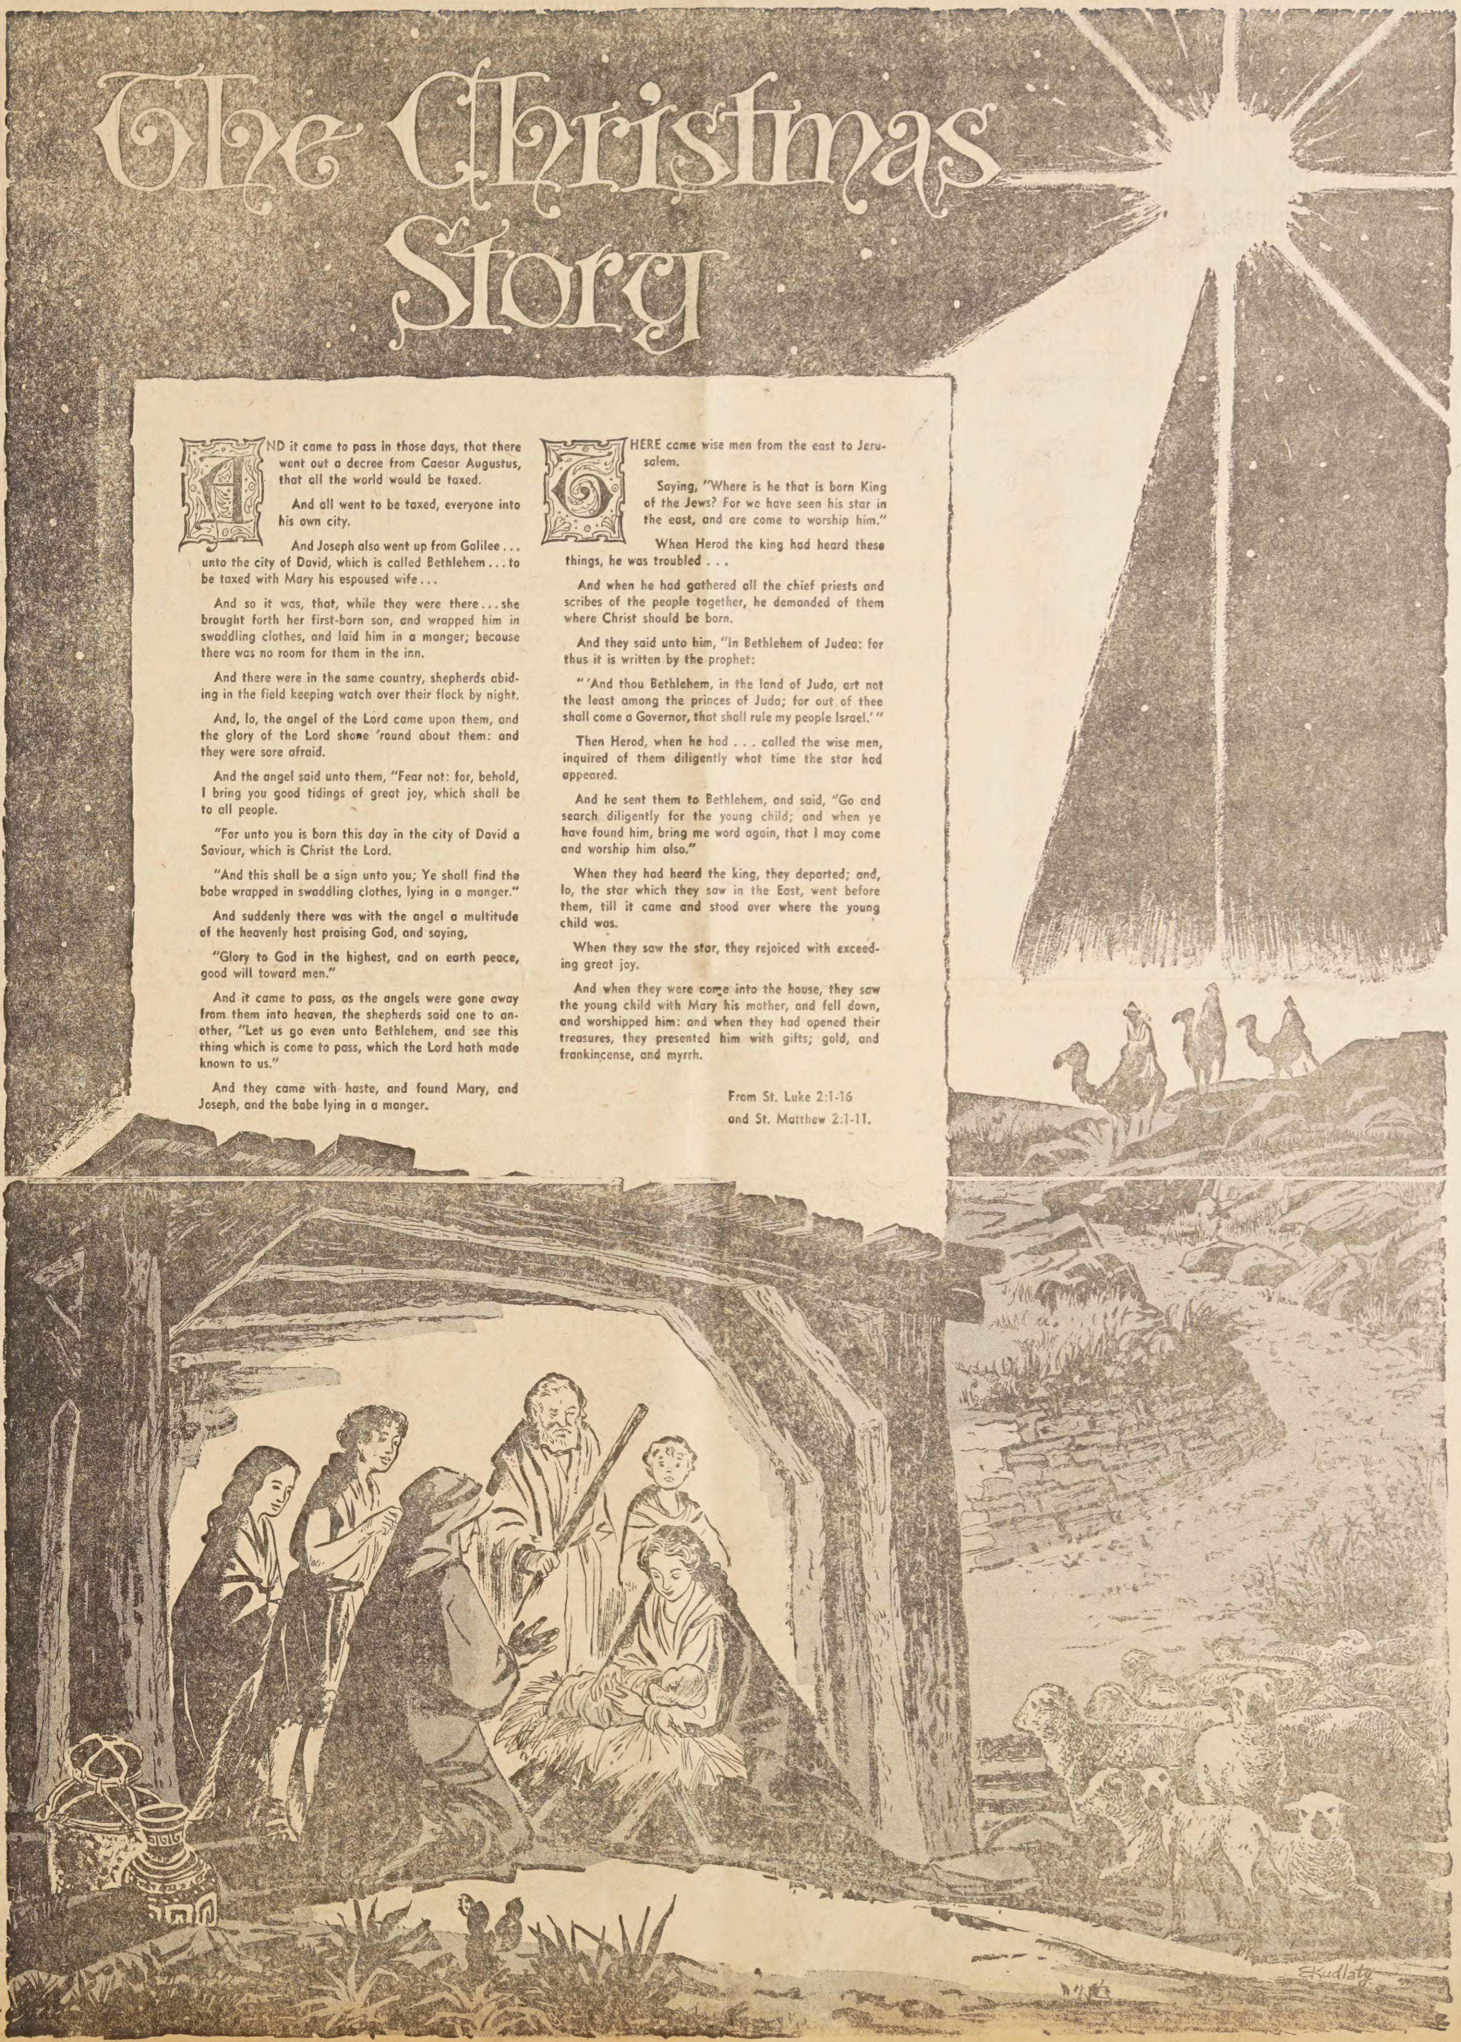
The Christmas Story



AND it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world would be taxed.

And all went to be taxed, everyone into his own city.

And Joseph also went up from Galilee . . . unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem . . . to be taxed with Mary his espoused wife . . .

And so it was, that, while they were there . . . she brought forth her first-born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country, shepherds abiding in the field keeping watch over their flock by night.

And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone 'round about them: and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, "Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

"For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

"And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger."

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, "Let us go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known to us."

And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

THERE came wise men from the east to Jerusalem.

Saying, "Where is he that is born King of the Jews? For we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him."

When Herod the king had heard these things, he was troubled . . .

And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where Christ should be born.

And they said unto him, "In Bethlehem of Judea: for thus it is written by the prophet:

"'And thou Bethlehem, in the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda; for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall rule my people Israel.'"

Then Herod, when he had . . . called the wise men, inquired of them diligently what time the star had appeared.

And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, "Go and search diligently for the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also."

When they had heard the king, they departed; and, lo, the star which they saw in the East, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.

When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented him with gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh.

A Wilderness Christm as Was Described 38 Years Ago By Pioneer For Local Readers

Thirty-eight years ago the Columbia City newspapers published "Christmas in the Cabin," written by Mrs. A. J. Douglas, mother of Lloyd Douglas, minister and author whose boyhood was spent in Columbia City.

This article, which appeared in 1927, written by the wife of a Whitley county school superintendent, is reprinted today to remind us that Christmas has not changed but the manner of keeping it is much different now than in Mrs. Douglas' day—and the modern observance of the great religious holiday is still different than any Christmas Mrs. Douglas knew.

The story from her pen follows:

CHRISTMAS IN THE CABIN

It is Christmas Eve; the old Grandfather Clock stands in the chimney corner ticking off the hours, minutes and seconds as it has done for many years. The hickory logs are sending out a crackling sound from the wide fire-place which gives out heat into the cabin, and illuminates the rough-hewn walls with cheer and comfort. It is snowing; the blazed trail is already covered with a mantle of white, while the great oaks, poplars and beech trees are bending with their snowy weight which almost obscures the sight of cabins scattered along throughout dense forests and open spaces, where the pioneer has cut a wide swath through the deep woods and rejoicing at the sight of land called a clearing. Cabins are far apart in this wilderness, and it was a glad night when a light from another cabin could be seen across a clearing.

A portion of a log was removed in the cabin wall to admit panes of glass to let in the light. But they were too high for a child to look out, for caution was in every plan lest the Indian might look in upon a happy family with ill intent, or a wild beast watch the family come and go. The puncheon floor in these rude cabins show the heelmarks of rough-shod men and also that of careful house-wives whose only cleanser was lye soap, and sand. In these havens of rest to a growing family, we not only find crude beds fastened to the wall but we find homemade tables and chairs which will outlast a century of service. And today they are sought after by antique hunters. The early pioneer cooked meals over glowing coals in the fire-place. Upon the hearth is a dutch-oven with live coals underneath and on top of an iron lid, which contains a sweet corn pone baked to a golden brown and served with maple molasses made from sap of sugar trees when winter was about ready to give place to spring. Memory often calls us back to the beginning of things in our childhood, when our world was new and primitive and our wants were few compared to today. The young bride who lived in a covered wagon, until enough trees could be felled to admit a cabin, was brave in her effort to secure a home, and I doubt, not but believe that she was as happy with her husband and the new world she had come to build from the foundation, as the bride of today with every new invention and labor-saver at her command. Now, we press a button or turn a switch and light appears. In pioneer times, a grease lamp made of iron hung from a peg in the wall, or a tallow candle was lighted on Sunday night in honor of a Christian Sabbath. Our fathers and grandfathers read their few books by the light of pine-knots or hickory logs, and their minds showed a wonderful knowledge of nature not bound in volumes but to them nature was an open book. Civilization has turned a corner since those days and we stand face to face with problems unheard of in the long ago. Our minds are not able to grasp it all. Let us return to our cabin in the wilderness, for it is Christmas Eve. The snow is still falling and every path or trail is covered and the heavy-laden trees hung over the cabin and almost obscures the light at noonday. A busy mother is at work by a long table.

Surrounded by busy little helpers, small hands are cutting out wonderful animals from golden sheets of dough. The mother drops them into a kettle of boiling lard suspended by a crane which is imbedded in the wall of a wide fire-place. Happiness reigns supreme in homes where the Christmas spirit lives in the crude and simple things of life. In the Chimney corner coarse yarn stockings hang in a row. And on Christmas morning delighted children will find a stick of candy, pop-corn balls and one of the animals made on Christmas eve. While these small gifts fitted into the wants of these isolated children, yet, I am led to believe that they were happier than the children of to-day who are given so many things that they do not know how to appreciate them. These simple home-made gifts did not carry with them a jingle of coin, or an obligation which caused the receiver to wish that a lavish hand had been withheld. The little girl of pioneer days who rocked her rag doll in a sugar trough lined with moss, was just as happy as the little girl of to-day who holds a most wonderful doll dressed in silk and lace. The boy who made a sled with wooden runners, or a wagon with rough wooden wheels, was proud of his workmanship, and more content than the boy of today who lives in a ready-made world, where the wheels go round and round whilst the boy and girl of early settlers' were denied the things that makes child-life while in these days; yet, they were spared the discontent that hovers over many homes today. Both rich and poor. As we look out over this beautiful and bountiful world of ours, with its home-comforts and new inventions at our doors. We should not overlook or forget the struggle of our forefathers who blazed the trail for us, to build into an open, and main-traveled road. The Babe of Bethlehem; our great ever-present Christ of today said: "In as much as ye have done it unto the least of these, ye have done it unto me." Happiness comes from passing it along. The bent forms of early settlers can still be seen here and there, like the long cabins going into decay. Christ said—"Greater things than these shall ye do in my name." But, what are the greater things? Not raising the dead Lazarus, but in carrying love, cheer and sunlight into homes darkened by adversity affliction and sorrow.

"Our Christmas carols must be sung in harmony with "Peace on Earth, Good will to Men." Our years are not numbered by length of life upon earth, but by what we have done for the betterment of this world and humanity. We need to take an inventory of ourselves as we pass along through life, and see what we have really done in the name of our Blessed Lord.

Let us now return to the Cabin in a wilderness. The winter wind whistles down the chimney, and the tread of man or beast is hushed in the deep, new-fallen snow. The father takes down the Bible from a shelf on the wall; gathers his family near him, and reads the story of the Shepherds. Then kneels around that altar built by a loving Saviour; and thanks God for the love He has sent into the world through "The Babe of Bethlehem." The fire has burned low upon the hearth. Night has fallen over this cabin in a deep woods, and the winter winds whispers through the trees-sleep and rest on this blessed Christmas Eve.

Award-Winning Designer Creates Dark Restaurant

By ALFRED LEECH
United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO (UP) — Robert Lederer, award - winning designer, created one of the world's darkest restaurants.

"Not dingy," he said. "Dark. In a spectacular way."

It's the Sherman Hotel's Well of the Sea, an ultra-swank seafood emporium illuminated by black light. The walls are tinted with luminescent paint and glow in the dark.

Lederer, a Viennese architect who turned to modern interiors, said the room is a good example of his "shock treatment" technique.

"People are jaded," he said. "You must shock them. Otherwise, they won't notice."

Plays on Emotions

An artist in his own right, Lederer is nonetheless a realist.

"My most objective critic is the cash register," he said.

"And dark restaurants and cocktail lounges are economical to maintain. Seldom must you replace the carpet."

Lederer, intrigued with Western ideas and gadgets long before he came to this country, designed his famous "Robert's American Restaurant" in Berlin in 1928 and ran it himself for two years.

"My European friends told me I was crazy," he said. "They said American decor and cuisine would have no appeal in Europe. But it was an unqualified success."

Lederer believes a room should "play on the emotions." But he feels most contemporary design is "sterline."

Story of Hemisphere

"I eliminate sterility by using what I call the uncontrolled element. This you find in nature—in plants, the grain of wood, the surface of stone. And you find it in the work of an artist, in his paintings and murals."

Lederer is proud of the room he designed for the Kahler Hotel in Rochester, Minn. It's called the "Hemisphere Room," and caters to persons from throughout the Western Hemisphere who come to the Mayo Clinic.

The specifications called for no painted murals, so Lederer told the history of the hemisphere in 6 wire murals and 48 silhouetted portraits.

"It's the world's most educational cocktail lounge," he said.

"But seriously, when the place was opened to the public, the first patrons stood and applauded."

An estimated 30 per cent of tire replacements were tubeless this year. Before 1954, less than 2 per cent of all automobile tire replacements were tubeless.

Christmas Shows On TV Are Repeats Of Old Favorites

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Christmas shows on television, like old carols and last year's tree decorations, are becoming repeats of well-worn favorites.

Many TV producers can win themselves a few days' vacation by dusting off last year's show for another performance. Audiences, according to the fan mail, get sentimental around Noel time and like to watch the same programs over again.

Jack Webb, hero of NBC's "Dragnet," appeared Wednesday night for the third Christmas in a filmed story about the theft of a statue from a church.

"People asked for it again this year so we used it," Webb explains. "We think the story is appropriate for a Christmas police show. There's no definite crime, but it has the Dragnet flavor."

For the second Christmas, "Medic" used its startling program that condemns the old American institution, the office party. Both the sponsor and the fans asked for a repeat. Last year, says Producer Frank Latourette, reaction among viewers was "terrific." The program was cited by the National Safety Council for pointing out dangers of driving home after an office soiree.

CBS repeated Dickens' "Christmas Carol" last week. The show starring Frederic March and Basil Rathbone, was filmed a year ago.

Christmas Eve "Babes in Toyland," a color spectacular with Wally Cox and Dennis Day, will be repeated by NBC because of its success last Christmas. Christmas night NBC wil re-stage for the Menotti opera "Amahl and the sixth year another live show, the Night Visitors."

Campbell And Nelson, Golfing Hot-Shots, Indiana's Bright Stars On 1955 Sports Scene

By KURT FREUDENTHAL
United Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) — Joe Campbell and Jane Nelson, a couple of golfing hot-shots, were Indiana's brightest stars in the national sports scene during 1955.

Both rocketed to fame in national tournaments.

State-wide, the No. 1 event was the first crowning of an Indianapolis team as Indiana high school basketball champion. There were many other outstanding performances as the year unfolded.

But there was little doubt the individual spotlight belonged to the stocky, crew-cut Campbell, Indiana's links ambassador who racked up a one-season record unequalled in the history of Hoosier golf.

The Purdue star from Anderson not only captured every state amateur crown open to him—including the Indiana Open—but also grabbed the tough NCAA championship. Then, in his first National Amateur he reached the quarter-finals and was acclaimed by the "old pros" as one of the top young prospects.

"All The Way"

Miss Nelson, the comely Indianapolis school "marm," electrified the female fairway set by blasting through to the National Women's Amateur finals where she bowed to the expert Pat Lesser of Seattle, Wash. Miss Nelson previously was runner-up in the Western Women's Amateur.

Indianapolis, on the sidelines in the state's No. 1 athletic extravaganza for 44 years, collared the "big one" last March when Crispus Attucks waltzed all the way to the cage crown with a devastating 97-74 triumph over Gary coveted title, also the first time two Negro quintets battled for the coveted tite, also the first time a Negro club went "all the way."

And as 1955 bowed out, Attucks' Flying Tigers still were the team to beat next March.

In other top high school developments, East Chicago Roosevelt was crowned Indiana's "mythical" foobal champ by the United Press Coaches Board. A streak of lightning named Bob Buck led Gary Froebel to its 11th Indiana track and field crown, while Anderson's Indians regained the cross-country title, their eighth in 10 years.

Stu Quits Purdue

Stu Holcomb, who experienced some glorious moments during nine years as Purdue football coach—such as wrecking long winning streaks for Notre Dame and Michigan State—took over as athletic director at Northwestern . . . promptly booting out Lou Saban and his grid assistants.

Jack Mollenkopf, who developed some fine lines for Holcomb, was named Boilermaker mentor and inherited at least half a dozen starters for 1956, including star passer Len Dawson.

Two Indiana University athletes became top Olympic prospects for next year. Milt Campbell, halfback for Bernie Crimmins' Hoosiers, won national high hurdle honors. Greg Bell, of Terre Haute, took NCAA broad jump laurels.

Plaudits during 1955 also went to a Purdue freshman, Dick Stillwagon, who in his first attempt placed ninth in the National AAU Decathlon, track and field's toughest test.

Money for B^a^seball

Two sports popular with Hoosiers—baseball and auto racing—underwent changes.

Faced with the loss of the national pastime, Indianapolis followers chipped in with more than $200,000 to purchase an American Association franchise and assure a 1956 season under public ownership.

Racing, battling for survival after a dismal year in which six Indianapolis Speedway veterans were killed, including two-time "500" winner Bill Vukovich, was reorganized under the banner of the United States Auto Club. In 1956, USAC officials said, the emphasis will be on safety.

Actually 1955 Was Pretty Interesting Year, Featurewise

WASHINGTON (UP)— Actually 1955 was a pretty interesting year, featurewise.

Cute things happened although they probably will be pushed into limbo and be forgotten.

It was interesting to learn during the year that Vice President Richard M. Nixon is like a lot of us. He shines his own shoes, except when he gets a hair cut. Not only that, on world travels he swipes buffers that are left in hotel bathrooms for souvenirs. The V.P. asked me if I thought that was wrong and I had to admit that I had a pretty fine collection, too.

In the patent business, there was a man in Virginia who took all of the fun out of paddling our young by inventing a stick that wouldn't hurt children. With small fry over knee, all a parent had to do was to hit a kid almost hard enough to make him "ouch!" and the paddle would collapse, leaving the kid with a giggle instead of smarting from a spanking, which they probably deserved.

I don't suppose this gimmick sold very well—if, indeed, it ever got onto the market.

President Eisenhower had a bad time with the squirrels which were hiding nuts under his putting green on the front side of the White House. Squirrel experts were called into play and it was learned that some squirrels were smarter than others. Some were burying nuts. Others were plain old dumb. They didn't know a walnut from a golf ball. That has been straightened out now. The offending squirrels have been shunted off to parts unknown. And a new family has arrived on the White House lawn They leave the president's playground strictly alone.

At the copyright office at the Library of Congress, some character sent in two samples of falsies for girl dolls. The copyright folks were a little taken back and told the "inventor" that it was not possible to copyright falsies — for ladies in the flesh, even. The model flat-fixers were sent along to the patent office, as a joke kinda, and the "inventor" was told that he was honking up the wrong tree.

Nobody has heard from the "inventor" since, and a big mystery still is unsolved. What ever happened to the samples?

Cranberry Fruit Bread

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 cup sugar
1½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
Juice and grated rind of 1 orange
2 tablespoons melted shortening
1 egg, well beaten
½ cup chopped nuts
2 cups fresh cranberries, cut in halves

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder, soda, and salt. Combine orange juice, grated rind, melted shortening, and enough water to make ¾ cup juice; then stir in beaten egg. Pour this mixture into the dry ingredients, mixing just enough to dampen. Fold in halved cranberries and nuts. Spoon into greased loaf pan (9" x 5" x 3") spreading it evenly making corners and sides slightly higher than center. Bake in moderate oven (350 F.) 50 to 60 minutes. Remove from pan. Cool for easy slicing. If wrapped it will keep moist for days or it may be frozen.

Santa Rides Camel; Temperature 105

ALICE SPRINGS, Australia (UP) —Santa Claus rode through the main streets of Alice Springs aboard a camel today in temperatures of 105 degrees.

The occasion was the annual Christmas parade for this central Australian town.

The weather bureau forecast fine pre-Christmas weather for most of Australia but said a "cold wave' would lower temperatures inland to 80 degrees—70 in the coastal areas.

"Average" temperatures prevailed through most of Australia today with Marble Bar and Mundi Windi in West Australia recording temperatures of 114 and 112 degrees.

Eisenhowers Get Christmas Gift They Wanted Most

WASHINGTON (UP)—President and Mrs. Eisenhower got the Christmas gift they wanted most—their fourth grandchild.

Her name: Mary Jean Eisenhower.

Born Wednesday at 4:58 p.m EST at the Army's Walter Reed Hospital.

Weight: Seven pounds and two ounces.

She's a blonde.

Her mother, Mrs. Barbara Eisenhower, the President's daughter-in-law, is "doing very well," the White House said.

And the President? "delighted and happy" like any grandparent, according to Press Secretary James C. Hagerty.

Mary Jean is the President's third granddaughter. The other two are Barbara Anne, 6, and Susan 3. He has one grandson, David, 7.

Philippines Will Propose Increase In Membership

MANILA, P.I. (UP)—Vice President Carlos P. Garcia said today the Philippines will propose an increase in the U.N. Security Council's present membership of 11 countries.

Garcia, who is concurrently foreign minister, said a proposal to amend the U.N. charter and increase the council's membership will be submitted at the General Assembly next year. The amendment he said would give equitable representation to all regions and take into consideration the expansion of the organization from 60 to 75 nations.

Sign Agreement To Sell American Surplus Edible Oils

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, (UP)—An agreement for the sale of more than 25 million dollars worth of American surplus edible oils to Argentina was signed here Wednesday.

The agreement approved by Foreign Minister Luis Podesta Costa and U.S. Ambassador Albert F. Nufer calls for payment in Argentine currency. Seventy per cent of the total will be lent back to Argentina to finance economic development projects, with part of the balance used to finance an educational exchange program.

Predict Smaller 1956 Wheat Crop

WASHINGTON (UP) — Indiana farmers will harvest a smaller winter sheat crop in 1956 than they did this year, the Agriculture Department predicted late Wednesday.

The department estimated Indiana's output at 30,200,000 bushels, about 3,799,000 below the 1955 crop total and about 3,879,000 under the 10-year average.

However, the estimated national production is about four per cent above the 1955 winter wheat production.

Meeting On Monday Of The Soviet Russian Parliament In Moscow Is Sure To Be Big Story

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Monday's meeting of the Soviet Russian parliament in Moscow is pretty sure to be a big story.

Diplomats all over the world will be watching it closely.

The meeting could bring some important pronouncement of Kremlin foreign policy.

Presumably any such pronouncement would come from Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin or Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov.

The 1956 budget which is to be approved will show whether the Kremlin feels whether the world outlook calls for increased or reduced spending on armaments.

The meeting could clear up the positions of Molotov, one of the last of the "Old Bolsheviks," and Georgi M. Malenkov, one of the new top-level men.

Experts in various fields in Western governments will analyze everything that is said and done. They will try to read between the lines of the speeches on foreign affairs. They wil try to find clues to the Russian agricultural situation.

Big Four Report

Molotov is likely to report on the meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers which was held in Geneva, Switzerland, in October and November.

United Press Moscow dispatches say that, regarding that meeting, the Kremlin's newspaper mouthpieces refuse to concede that the "Geneva" spirit of cooperation is dead.

It is pretty certain that either Premier Bulganin or Communist Party leader Nikita S. Khrushchev will report on the tour they have just made of India, Burma and Afghanistan.

Moscow dispatches say also that the parliament meeting probably will show, by its tone, that the post-Stalin system of collective leadership is working well.

As regards Molotov, it has been reported in European capitals for some months that he is on his way out as foreign minister.

Molotov is 65. That is not aged for a foreign minister, and Molotov has been called the cleverest diplomatist in circulation.

But he has been under great strain for many years in posts of high responsibility.

Might Want Newcomer

Further, if the Kremlin happened to plan any big turn in its foreign policy, it might want to get a new man in its foreign ministry to handle it. If Molotov resigned, now or later, the announcement might come at a parliament meeting.

As regards Malenkov, it was a world sensation when he resigned as premier. His resignation was announced at a meeting of the parliament—the Supreme Soviet as it is called—last February.

There have been numerous reports that Malenkov might be purged. But Moscow dispatches emphasize that he remains one of the 11 top-level men who are running Russia.

Malenkov was demoted to the level of an ordinary deputy premier when he resigned. A Moscow radio broadcast referred to him on December 5 as a first deputy premier. There was no doubt about the broadcast. But the Soviet press office blandly denied next day that the broadcast ever had been made. The parliament meeting could give an indication whether he really is on his way up again.

Just What Is Normal Weight, Blood Pressure

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor

NEW YORK (UP) — The chief scientific trouble in making fat people over into thin people is in finding answers to these questions: What is "normal" weight? What is "normal" blood pressure?

Nevertheless, said a group of science teachers at the University of Texas, it is a good idea to be thin and a poor idea to be fat because there seems to be no doubt whatever that thin people, generally speaking, live longer than fat people.

That seems a fact because all mortality statistics, particularly the very scientific ones of insurance companies, show it. Yet the Texas educators were unable to find where any scientist has ever proven an unvarying relationship between fatness and diseases of the heart and arteries.

The "obese" or fat person is one whose body has stored too much fat, the educators decided, while the overweight person is one who weighs more than is "normal." He may be "obese," too. But what is "normal:" They examined several methods of measuring but found none entirely satisfactory. As for "ideal" height-weight charts, they found "considerable difference of opinion" among scientists as to their accuracy.

So the question has to be answered by the individual medical examiner—and the answer "except in extreme cases," is entirely his opinion, although based upon such considerations as bone structure, muscularity, body build age, sex, and occupation.

They were equally unsuccessful in finding a generally agreed upon "normal" for blood pressure, but they found scientists of high repute who doubt that any rigid "normal" applicable to all people exists And there appears to be ' ovnn-o And there appears to be "no constant relationship" between fatness of body and blood pressure which is undoubtedly higher than "normal."

Restitution

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UP)—The State Road Department said today John W. Jakway, of Lamberton, Minn., has returned a state road marker he took as a souvenir 13 years ago.

Jakway explained he recently became a Christian and wants to "make every restitution possible for every sin of my past life."

Television Widow

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Mrs. Annette Stoica, 33, won a divorce from swimming pool builder Eli M Stoica Jr., 38, on the ground he watched television so much she became a "television widow."

"He even liked the commercials," she said.

Christmas Spirit

CHICAGO (UP—Five gunmen apparently were filled with the Christmas spirit Wednesday when they robbed a United Parcel Service office of 15 fur coats and $2,000 in cash.

The bandits served coffee and candy while they held five United Parcel employes at gunpoint.

Eyes Looked Glassy

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP) — Patrolman John Milcinovic said a motorist he accused of drinking readily admitted the patrolman's charge that his eyes "looked glassy."

"One of them is glass," the motorist told Milcinovic.

Captured

WASHINGTON (UP)—Patrolman Daniel J. Andrews caught two men fishing coins from a sidewalk telephone and captured them with a minimum of trouble.

Andrews hailed a passing taxi and had the driver pin the phone booth door shut with his cab, hoding the two men inside until the paddy wagon arrived.

The U.S. Senate has rejected only one presidential cabinet nomination since the days of President Andrew Johnson and that was the nomination of Charles B. Warren for the attorey generalship by President Coolidge in 1925.

Unemployment Insurance Claims Drop

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Claims for unemployment insurance dropped by 400 last week as now new large layoffs were reported in the state, the Indiana Employment Security Division said today.

Division Director William C. Stalnaker said there was a total of 24,728 claimants during the week, with 18,840 of them out of work a week or more. The total was about half that of the same time last year.

There Was Span Of Years When Savings Bonds Could Not Meet Investment Tests

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—There was a span of years back there before, during and after the war when United States savings bonds could not meet the tests of a good investment.

The money was safe enough, and safety is one of the tests. But a good investment also should show a profit. United States savings or war bonds purchased in the early 1940s showed no profit when they were cashed in 10 years later.

The dollars paid to the treasury for the bonds in the early 1940s were almost twice as large in purchasing power as the dollars the treasury returned in the early 1950s. The investor got back more dollars—$50 for example, for $37.50 paid in ten years before. Trouble was, the $50 would not buy as much when the bond was redeemed as the $37.50 would have bought 10 years before.

That's what's called inflation of the dollar. It was begun by President Roosevelt in the early 1930s in an effort to help the nation out of a great industrial, business and agricultural depression. The effort was still going strong, but without curing unemployment, when along came the peacetime national defense boom and then, the war.

Truman Approved Program

President Truman inherited and approved of Mr. Roosevelt's big spending program. Mr. Truman raised spending and taxation to new highs for the United States—which means for the word, too. Inflation went on and the dollar continued to shrink.

From 1939 to 1952 the dollar lost almost half of its purchasing value in terms of the average family's cost of living. That was one of the big issues of the 1952 presidential campaign. Republican campaigners boldly promised a balanced budget and a stable dollar.

A balanced budget still eludes them, although the sharp pencil boys believe a balance may be achieved next June 30 at the end of the current fiscal year. But the Republicans are making good on a stable dollar. The Eisenhower dollar is not the big, beautiful prewar dollar equal to 20 street car rides or 20 hamburger sandwiches.

Half Pre-War Dollar

It is a dollar worth about 50 cents compared with pre-war. The remarkable thing about the Eisenhower dollar is that it has been relatively stable in terms of living costs since Mr. Eisenhower took office. The Bureau of Labor Statistics offered some evidence of that Wednesday in its monthly cost of living report. The c-o-l had edged up a bit. It was three-tenths of one per cent higher last month than in November, 1954.

More significant is a comparison with November, 1952, the month in which President Eisenhower was elected. The Bureau of Labor Statistics cost of living index shows an increase since November 1952 of only seven-tenths of one per cent. That is real stability compared to the earlier span of years. Stability is especially important not only to owners of U.S. bonds, but to all persons with fixed income resources.

U.S. bonds will be a profitable investment again if the trend toward stability continues. If the trend is the other way, your money might as well be in a burglarproof safe. None could steal it, and you wouldn't get a profit on it there, either.

Backstairs At The White House

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer

WASHINGTON (UP)—Backstairs at the White House:

Mr. Eisenhower has been out of Washington about two-thirds of 1955. His actual calendar time away from the White House has not been added up, but it comes out roughly to more than two-thirds of the year.

The reporters who have lived with the story of the President's heart attack since last September are, in general, convinced that the President will not run again in 195.

Their reasoning is not particularly definite. They just have not heard anything to the contrary. The White House staff, the men and women who handle the President's daily business, don't talk about politics, particularly the 1956 brand.

The road staff, the people who were at Denver and Gettysburg this year, talk mostly in terms of getting the President well. They are quite willing to let the future take care of itself. And, apparently, so is the President.

To the people around the President, it also comes as a somewhat strange thing to read or hear that the President must declare himself by a certain date. If Mr. Eisenhower runs again he can wait until the day the GOP convention convenes to say what he is going to do in 1956.

Circuit Court News

A divorce was granted to Mrs. Lois L. Cripe Tuesday in circuit court from Alfred L. Cripe, Sr. Ralph F. Gates heard the case as special judge. Representing Mrs. Cripe was James F. Biddle, local attorney. Cripe's counsel was Howard S. Grimm, Jr. The plaintiff was given custody of the 4-year-old son of the couple with the right of visitation to the defendant. Cripe was directed to pay $7 weekly for the child's support, starting Dec. 24. A property settlement was approved by the court. This included $400 alimony to be paid by Cripe within two weeks.

Motion for a new trial has been filed here by Henry Werling, Allen county farmer, against the New Haven Conservation club. He seeks to recover damages allegedly due to construction by the conservationists of a wier which impounds waters in a guley. Crop destruction due to flooding is charged by Werling. When the court entered its finding in his suit, it directed that Werling recover nothing from the defendant club.

Upon the plaintiff's motion, costs being paid, the suit of Earl S Carver and the Calvert Fire Insurance Company against John M. Hindbaugh, action for $846.85 damages, has been dismissed. Carver and his insurance company had charged that because Hindbaugh stopped his one and a half ton truck on the paved portion of state road 14 on Feb. 6, 1950, Carver, following behind the truck, was unable to avoid a collision. The collision allegedly took place one mile west of the Fort Wayne city limits.

Governor Craig Finds Bible To Be A Rich Guidebook

Governor George N. Craig of Indiana is one of 13 Methodist governors who are featured in a December issue of the denomination's national news magazine, "The Christian Advocate."

The magazine asked Methodist governors, "What does the Bible mean to you?" "The variety of replies," the magazine stated, "is proof again that the Bible makes its contribution to each reader and believer individually, in terms of his own needs. Whether in private or public life, he finds it a laboratory guide for living."

Governor Craig stated that the Bible is the basis for our laws. He said, "I believe that no one is more cognizant of the immense treasuring of wisdom in the Bible than a man in public life. It is a place where inevitably man faces problems greater than human faculties can correctly solve. It is at these points in public life that I have really found out what the Bible means to me.

Throughout my life I have recognized the Bible as containing the word of God. In school it was pointed out that the founding fathers of our great nation leaned heavily on the Bible, not only for inspiration, but for the basic truths upon which they built America.

And upon my election to the office of governor of Indiana, it seemed altogether fitting and proper that I place my hand on the Bible to swear a solemn oath to perform the tasks ahead to the best of my ability.

I think every Christian will find the Bible to be the same rich guidebook I have found it to be.

May the best of all life's blessings and the warmth of the Yuletide cheer be with you this glad season.

President Gives Staff Members Copies Of Landscape He Painted

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today gave members of his staff for Christmas copies of a mountain landscape which he started before and completed after his heart attack last fall.

The President allowed the annual White House Christmas party and pleasant musings about his new granddaughter to interrupt the business of state for a while.

The painting was started a week before Mr. Eisenhower suffered a heart attack Sept. 24. He completed it while he was recuperating in Fitzsimons Army Hospital in Denver. It is a winter scene of a mountain stream in the Colorado Rockies.

Each copy was in a large white envelope accompanied by the small personal Christmas card of Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower. The gifts were presented to about 700 members of the White House staff, the White House Secret Service detail, members of the White House police force, and the reporters and photographers who regularly cover the President.

Painted Winter Scene

Mr. Eisenhower and his wife held their customary Christmas reception for the staff, police, and secret servicemen in the East Room of the White House.

The painting shows St. Louis Creek in winter with Byers Peak in the background. The foreground is part of Byers Peak ranch at Fraser, Colo., where Mr. Eisenhower visits and fishes in the summer with Aksel Nielsen, Denver mortgage banker.

The Christmas party gave staff members an opportunity to congratulate Mr. Eisenhower on the birth of his new granddaughter, Mary Jean. She was born Wednesday afternoon at the Walter Reed

Conductors And Brakemen Get WageBoostToday

Labor Peace Still Threatened

CHICAGO (UP) — More than 26,000 railroad conductors and brakemen won a $1.15 a day wage boost today on the heels of a 14½ cent an hour increase granted about 750,000 non-operating railroad employes.

Railroad labor peace was still threatened, however, by a threat of a strike at midnight by 22,500 members of the Transport Workers Union against the Pennsylvania Railroad in a dispute over wages, shift differentials, severance pay and a 30-hour work week.

The raise for 26,000 members of the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen was retroactive to Oct. 1.

It included a 10½ cent an hour increase plus a 2 per cent differential adjustment. The two amount to $1.15 a day.

Four cents of the total is in lieu of a health and welfare plan, a railroad spokesman said.

The 14½ cent increase won by non-operating employes Wednesday night was the same as recommended by a presidential emergency board Dec. 12, a railroad spokesman said. The wage boost was retroactive to Dec. 1.

Schultz Brothers Employes Receive $54,275 In Bonuses

Santa Claus will distribute $54,275 in Christmas bonuses to 731 Schultz Brothers Company employes in their 62 stores located in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa and Wisconsin and in the Chicago general offices and warehouses.

This amounts to an average of more than $72 per employee and does not include store managers, superintendents, office executives or buyers. The bonuses are paid on length of service and yearly earnings. The annual bonus policy has been in effect during the past 24 years.

The bonuses in the local Schultz Brothers store amounted to $915.00

THE FIRST CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Editors note: "The First Christmas Gifts" is a condensation taken from the December 1955 Good Housekeeping magazine. The summarization was prepared by Mrs. J. K. Muhlenbruch, North Park addition, and was given as a Christmas response at her literary club.

"Gold, Frankincense and Myrrh"

Beneath the fragrant Christmas is piled the gifts of their gay wrappings. Eager hands reach for or them, and the children seize their own with innocent greediness. Before we tear at the bright papers and ribbons, let us pause to remember the meaning of presents on Christmas Day. The custom is very ancient, as old as the Gospel itself. A Christmas gift symbolizes the love that Christians bear to one another, in the name of the One who loved them all.

St. Matthew tells us that Wise Men brought gold, frankincense and Myrrh. Why were these gifts chosen? What are they? The Magi brought their best to the Newborn Baby. They must have felt that nothing would be more appropriate than gold, for it is a noble metal. No acid ca ndestroy it, nor will it rust away. It is a metal easily turned to the uses of beauty.

In the ancient world into which Christanity was born, gold was far rarer than now. A housewife could not even wear a small band on her fourth finger. In love and reverence the Wise Men brought the most precious stuff the ancient world knew.

– Frankincense is a resin, from a kind of tree so sacred of old that in Arabia and Ethiopia, where it grew, only a few particularly pure persons were even allowed to touch it. To conjure up a frankincense tree, think of a tree that is about fifteen feet high with patchy bark as a sycamore. It is as crooked as a snake and all but leafless. To obtain the frankincense, one must slash the trunk, as a Vermonter cuts a maple, then strip off a piece of bark five inches long. The sap slowly oozes out and is allowed to harden for three months. The yellow colorless bitter lumps burn with a bright white flame and a sweet heavy perfume rises to heaven — a pleasing thing to God thought the Wise Men.

Myrrh is a shrub. The sap is extracted in the same way as that of frankincense and it comes in small lumps of reddish brown resin. But its symbolism is more somber. The word myrrh comes from the Hebrew mar, meaning bitter. The ancient Egyptians used it in embalming and hence its connection with solemn occasions. Was this a strange gift for an Infant King? Not for One destined to die for His people.

Such were the first of all Christmas presents, birthday presents to the Little Lord of Light. They were offered in a spirit of wondering humility and love. In all that we ourselves may give, gaily in the modern manner, may there linger, too, some sweet savor, some hidden glint of the greater love that gives Christmas its real meaning.

Annual Theater Christmas Party

Jack Hancock, of the Columbia Theater, has announced that the theater's annual Christmas party for the kiddies will be held Saturday, beginning at 1:00 p.m. The movie will be "California Passage," starring Cornel Wilde and Theressa Wright, and includes a cartoon. The party will be over at 2:30 p.m.

Representatives of the retail division of the Columbia City Chamber of Commerce will be on hand to wish the children a Merry Christmas and give them balloons.

Fires Kill Five In Pennsylvania, New York City

Destroys Historic Wayside Inn

By UNITED PRESS

Pre-dawn fires destroyed the historic Wayside Inn at Sudbury, Mass., and killed five persons in New York City and Pennsylvania today.

The 269-year-old Wayside Inn, a landmark of American history, went up in a column of smoke and flame. Firemen tried to save the venerable building, but 10-degree-below-zero cold and sparse water supplies made the fight impossible.

Another blaze burned through two tenement houses in New York, killing two little girls, their mother, and an aged woman. Three other persons were hospitalized with severe burns.

At Warren, Pa., fire blazed at the United Oil Refinery Co. plant, and Fire Chief Hartwell Willey, 45, was killed when an explosion blew out the walls of a building.

The Sudbury fire turned the interior of the Wayside Inn into charred rubble. John A. Saint, who manages the inn for the Ford Foundation, said the T-shaped building was insured "but how can you replace these antiques?'

The inn was immortalized in Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's "Tales of a Wayside Inn" and the grandfather clock of which Longfellow wrote was among the priceless antiques which were destroyed.

In the centuries past, such famous men as George Washington and Gen. LaFayette had stayed at the inn, located outside Boston.

The New York tenement blaze apparently was started by a cigarette thrown into a trash carton Firemen fought the flames for an hour and a half and discovered the badly burned bodies of Mrs. Eileen Best, 21; her two daughters, Ruth Ann, 6, and Joyce, 3; and Mrs. Margaret Murphy 83.

The refinery fire at Warren started in the plant's filter house and an explosion a half hour later blew out the building's walls, killing the fire chief.

Nine firemen were injured in the blaze and six of them were admitted to a hospital suffering from burns and shock.

At Herrin, a voracious fire collapsed Rechter Brothers' department store and ate through a fire wall into the Yuill Music Store. The store owner, Harvey Yuill, suffered a heart attack as he watched his store go up in flames.

Public Interest In Ford Stock Flares Higher

Ford Ranks Third In Sales And Earnings So Far This Year

NEW YORK (UP)—Interest in Ford Motor Co. stock flared higher today with the revelation that the huge auto firm is within striking distance of General Motors in a fight for supremacy in the United States industrial field.

Information made public for the first time Wednesday showed Ford ranked third in the nation in sales so far this year, third in earnings, and fifth in total assets.

The report on the company's position filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission was better than some of the rosiest predictions made when sales, earnings and growth figures were still a secret.

Brokers expected a deluge of orders for the stock which could not even be promised until the Ford reports were filed with the SEC. They said their biggest job would be parceling out tiny packages of the stock on a ration basis and attempting to keep as many prospective buyers happy as possible.

Some 100,000 persons were expected to become owners of the 10,200,000 shares of Ford stock which will become available about Jan. 18. Most buyers were expected to be limited to 100 shares or less of the premium issue.

A breakdown of the report filed Wednesday showed Ford sales for the first nine months of 1955 amounted to $4,042,600,000 a little less than half of the record $9,543,778,894 sales figure chalked up by General Motors during the same period.

Ford earnings for the first nine months of this year amounted to $312,200,000, within striking distance of the $912,887,537 earned by General Motors.

The company listed total assets of $2,483,010,550, a figure which could be topped only by such giants of industry as Jersey Standard, General Motors, U.S. Steel and Du Pont.

A ten year earnings and sales report was regarded as even more dynamic in financial circles.

Since 1945 the company has earned more than $1,730,000,000 and paid out 460 million dollars in dividends. During that time it spent more than $1,300,000,000 for expansion and modernization.

Elderly Resident Burned, Taken To Veterans Hospital

Edward "Charlie" Walker, elderly resident who lived alone on the Hanna street extension in a house trailer to which an addition had been built, is now at the U.S. Veterans hospital in Fort Wayne, result of burns he received Tuesday night when fire ruined his living quarters.

He suffered burns about the face, hands, and the back of his neck as he tried to remove a flaming kerosene heater from the house. The fuel, which spilled to the floor, spread the fire rapidly and his neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hendrickson and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Rupert, were unable to extinguish the blaze with water carried from their homes.

Mr. Walker was taken to the Hendrickson home, then brought to a physician's office where his burns were dressed. Yesterday he was admitted to the veterans' hospital.

The fire department, called by Mrs. Rupert, checked the spreading fire. Mr. Walker, who owned two pet dogs, almost had to be restrained from re-entering his home to save the pets. They suffocated under his bed.

Is Recovering From Pneumonia

Oliver Radcliff, Etna-Troy township farmer, was dismissed from the Whitley County Hospital Thursday morning and taken to the Bakle Nursing Home in the Smith and Sons ambulance. He is making satisfactory recovery following pneumonia.

Meditations Provide Readers Inspiration

We believe that the ministers of the community have performed a real service by the inspirational reading material they have provided the newspaper subscribers in the form of the Christmas Meditations.

These have appeared almost daily during the Advent season. Any reader who has perused these articles surely has gleaned much to his benefit and has thereby strengthened his faith.

For the service performed by these pastors beyond the boundaries of their parishes, the newspaper expresses for all its readers gratitude upon their behalf.

Winter Arrives, Is Old Stuff To Most Americans

Rains Threaten Northern California, Pacific Northwest

By UNITED PRESS

Winter arrived across the nation today, but its baggage of cold, wind, and snow was already old stuff to most Americans.

New England was deep in a subzero freeze, and endless, pounding rains threatened new floods in northern California and the Pacific Northwest.

An unseasonable "heat wave" in the Rockies and a warmup in the frost-bound East also dimmed the impressiveness of winter's debut.

Winter's official arrival time was exactly 9:12 a.m. CST, the moment the sun reached its southernmost point below the equator. From now on the days will get longer, even though the temperatures are likely to get even colder.

However, winter will have to unleash some of its frostiest blasts to beat such temperatures as today's 30 below zero at Missina, N.Y. It was warmer at Anchorage, Alaska, where the mercury stood at 14 above, than the 5 above at Boston, or the 11 at Buffalo, N.Y.

Storm Batters West Coast

Elsewhere on the first day of winter, temperatures were below freezing from southern North Carolina to eastern Oklahoma, northeast Kansas, and northeast Montana.

On the storm - battered West Coast, winter promised no relief from howling winds and flooding rains.

In northern California, slides, washouts, and fallen trees blocked scores of roads and highways. All roads into Eureka were closed and scores of families evacuated their homes along the rising Russian River.

Flood waters from the El River had already flowed into homes south of Eureka, washing away a $12,000 house and causing $125,000 damage to a Bear River lumber mill.

It was the same story in Oregon, where four inches of rain soaked Eugene in a 24-hour period and a Roseburg man was killed when gale-force winds toppled a tree onto him.

Flood Maroons Ranchers

Roseburg residents were evacuated along the Umpqua River, 78-mile-per-hour winds ripped down telephone and power lines at Coos Bay, and ranchers in the Coquille Valley were marooned by high waters. Near Sweet Home a freight train tumbled into a 12-foot hole, but the four trainmen aboard escaped serious injuries.

In the East, warmer weather was expected to return to New York City after the mercury hit 14 above today. The cold trapped a salvage boat with six men aboard when the Hudson River began to freeze Wednesday. Ocean liners, docking up to 24 hours late, reported the roughest Atlantic crossings in 35 years.

Wintry weather was already just a memory in the Rocky Mountain states, however.

In Utah, where the temperature set an all-time low of 14 below Nov. 16, residents basked in 40 to 50 degree readings on winter's first day.

"Winter" a weather forecaster asked. "I thought that had come and gone".

AmbulanceTakes Young Stevenson Home ForSurgery

After Traffic Crash Which Killed Friends

GOSHEN, Ind. (UP) — An ambulance today carried Adlai E. Stevenson and his youngest son homeward where the youth will undergo surgery in the aftermath of a traffic crash which killed two college companions.

The presidential candidate comforted his son on the 100-mile trip to a Chicago hospital where 19-year-old John Fell Stevenson's shattered knee cap will be repaired by a bone specialist.

His condition was described by hospital officials as "good."

A grand jury, meanwhile promised an early report on whether it will press charges against a truck driver blamed for the head-on crash.

The truck driver, 29-year-old Fred Gill of Detroit, was held without charge pending the Elkhart County grand jury action. Indiana state police quoted him as saying "it was my fault."

Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic candidate for president and an avowed candidate for his party's presidential nomination next year, stayed in Goshen overnight to be near his stricken son.

The Democratic leader flew to Goshen from Chicago in a chartered plane after the crash near Goshen Wednesday. He spent two hours at the bedside of his son, 19-year-old John Fell Stevenson, and then issued a statement saying he was "heartbroken" over the deaths of the two other youths.

Son Was Driving

Young Stevenson, who was at the wheel of his father's car when it crashed, was scheduled to be moved today to Passavant Hospital in Chicago.

Doctors said Chicago surgeons will operate on the Harvard junior's broken right knee cap next week. He also suffered a fractured lower jaw, facial cuts, and the loss of five of his upper teeth. But doctors said he would probably not be permanently handicapped.

The two youths killed in the smashup were both socially prominent young Chicagoans and classmates of the younger Stevenson at Harvard University. They were William S. North III, 19, of Suburban Lake Forest, Ill., and William C. Boyden Jr., 19, Chicago.

A fourth Harvard student, James Gilligan, 19, Nebraska City, Neb., was riding in the back seat and suffered apparently minor injuries. However, an attending doctor said he was "a little worried about the boy" because he complained of a neck pain.

Home For Holidays

The four collegians had set out from Harvard Tuesday to drive home for the holidays. They kept going all night, taking turns at the wheel, and the younger Stevenson was driving when the gift-loaded car was turned into a mass of twisted metal on U.S. 20, 10 miles northeast of Goshen.

Stevenson's car was going up a railroad overpass just as Gill, driving up the other side of the overpass, swung his truck into the oncoming lane of traffic.

The organist will present three numbers, "Lo' How a Rose Ere Blooming" by Brahams; "La Nativita" by Langlais and "Hail This Day So Rich In Cheer" by Buxtehude.

The choir will sing two anthems: "Praise God, Extol Him" and "The Shepherds Story." Soloists will be Mrs. Herbert Johnston, Gary Pittenger and Claud Walker.

Rebels Battle Loyal Forces In Paraguay

Reports Come From Nearby Argentina

FORMOSA, Argentina (UP)—Reports from nearby Paraguay today said rebels supported by troops and police are battling forces loyal to President Alfredo Stroessner, who seized power 19 months ago.

Telephone services with Asuncion, the Paraguayan capital, has been interrupted since Tuesday night, when the revolt began, and no information about the progress of the uprising could be obtained immediately.

Unconfirmed reports said the revolt was led by Epifanio Mendez Fleitas, president of Paraguay's central bank, and supported by the garrison at Campo Grande, a big army base near Asuncion.

Public Works Minister Marcial Sananiego, a major general who also commanded the Campo Grande garrison, is said to be supporting the revolt.

Reports of fierce fighting in the streets of Asuncion were denied by the newspaper El Dia, of Posadas, Argentina, which said police as well as troops are supporting the uprising.

The revolt is said to have started when Stroessner ordered the arrest of Mendez, who was closely associated with the Argentine regime of ousted ex-President Juan D. Peron, on charges of plotting against the government.

Recurrent unrest in Paraguay has been intensified recently by that country's agreement to receive Peron when he fled into exile from Buenos Aires, As long ago as October, troops were patrolling the streets of Asuncion.

New Columbia City Lions Club Meets

The new Columbia City Lions Club held its first supper meeting Tuesday, in the Clugston Hotel. Additional officers were elected second vice president, Kenneth Crace; third vice president, Dr Jerome H. Wait; directors, Lloyd L. Smith and Russel D. Wolfe, short term; J. Gerald Phend and Theodore E. Pequignot, long term.

President, John Andrews, appointed the following committee chairmen: Kenneth Crace, general chairman of charter night committee; Lyman W. Scott, membership; Robert E. Binkley, finance; and Dr. Jerome H. Wait, constitution and by-laws.

Walter Kessler, president of the Tri Lake Lions Club, Ernest Buenting, chairman of the Tri Lake extension committee, Gordon Thrasher, Chairman of zone D, Region 2, District 25B and a member of the Huntington Lions Club, and four Huntington Lions attended the meeting.

The next meeting will be December 27, at 7:00 p.m. in the Clugston Hotel at which time organizational details will be completed and charter membership will be closed. George W. Bormuth, special representative of Lions International of Fort Wayne has been in charge of the organization meetings.

Lausche To Run For Senate Seat Held By Bender

Offsets Recent Jolt Democratic Hopes Received From Nevada

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — Republican hopes of regaining control of the Senate were jolted today by news from Ohio that offset a recent jolt Democratic hopes received from Nevada.

The bad news for the Republicans came in Wednesday night's announcement that Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio will run next year for the Senate seat now held by Sen. George H. Bender.

Although party regulars view Lausche as a maverick, he has been the greatest Democratic vote getter in Ohio in many years.

He easily won reelection to the governorship in 1952 while President Eisenhower carried the state by 500,000. Bender won his Senate seat by a margin of about 6,000 votes in 1954 to serve the final two years of the term of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Despite Bender's victory, the Democrats in 1954 recaptured control of the Senate by the narrow margin of 49 to 47.

Although control of Congress usually goes to the party winning the presidency, the GOP can act on no such assumption in 1956. Most of the Democratic seats at stake next year are in "safe" Democratic states. The Republicans have proportionately more seats at stake in the closely-divided states than the Democrats.

The Democrats suffered a similar blow recently when Sen. Alan Bible (D-Nev) announced he would not seek reelection next year. He was considered a strong candidate in a state where the GOP has shown increased strength in the last decade.

Bender responded to Lausche's announcement by citing his record of support for the Eisenhower administration. He said he would campaign in every Ohio County "to retain for President Eisenhower and his program the Senate seat which may be crucial to the success of America in the years directly before us."

Referring to Lausche's reputation as an independent, Bender said there is "no seat in the middle of the aisle in the Senate...you are either a Republican or a Democrat."

Coesse Band Has Guest Program And Dance In Gymnasium

Twenty-five couples attended the party and dance given by the Coesse School Band, Saturday evening from 7:30 to 11:30, in the school gymnasium. Decorations in one end of the gymnasium where the dancing took place were in blue and silver.

The other end of the gymnasium took the form of a cabaret with red and green, the traditional Christmas colors. They were most effective and a large illuminated tree formed a background to the tables and chairs arranged for the serving.

Records were used for the dancing. The programs bore a blue cover with a silver tree. There were instrumental and vocal numbers. Lynn Palmer was master of ceremonies and was the honor guest in the "This Is Your Life" program.

Churubusco Election Recount Is Tonight

At 7 o'clock Thursday night the ballots cast Nov. 8 in the town election, Churubusco, will be recounted in the circuit courtroom here. The election of two of the town Republican trustees, is being contested by the Democrats, defeated by a small margin of votes. Judge Lowell Pefley has named Perry Ort and William Shew, R., and Dale Barrett, D., to the recount commission.

The Magic Of Christmas

Impressive and significant is the story of the three wise men who came from the East.

An early story says they met by some mysterious power and together were led by a brilliant star in the sky to Bethlehem. Each of the wise men had no previous knowledge of the other and they greeted and spoke in strange tongues yet they understood each other.

They followed the star to the inn where the Christ Child lay in the manger. The three wise men knelt before the Child and gave him bifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh.

That was the first Christmas 1955 years ago, but the spirit of that Christmas has come down to us through the ages, with different customs from many lands but the source of the idea is the same.

The magic of Christmas is everywhere—there is an air of expectancy, an air of something about to happen that causes people to open their hearts to give as did the three wise men of long ago.

In windows, a wreath, a light, a bell, a candle, a tree to show that the spirit of Christmas has passed that way.

We pass by the fir, the spruce, the pine tree the rest of the year but at Christmas time with the lights and decorations they somehow take on a magic glow.

In stores, people of all ages are searching to find the best gift for the person they have in mind. They smile mysterious smiles and hurry hither and yon carrying bundles.

When we think of Christmas eve, we think of glistening snow, of gleaming stars that somehow seem closer to earth. We think of carolers singing and never do the songs of Christmas sound the same as on Christmas eve.

That is the magic of Christmas

Contributions Of $72 Put Firemen's Fund Over The Top

With $72 received from individuals, organizations and business people Wednesday, the Firemen's Christmas Party fund hit the $230 mark and the sponsors were relieved that the $200 goal had been exceeded.

Any further contributions received at the local banks, the newspaper office, left with the firemen or police departments will be kept in a fund to finance the 1956 Christmas treat party for the community's children.

The community treat is to be given at the courthouse Saturday at 7 p.m., just after Santa and Mrs. Santa arrive with police car escort. The manner of their arrival will depend upon weather conditions. Unless the streets will accommodate sled runners the Santas will probably be conveyed to the party location via the fire truck.

The children gathering to receive treats will enter the courthouse through the front doors, will be ushered up stairs to meet Santa and his wife who will hand each child his treat. The children will leave by one of the second floor exits.

The treats will consist of candy and oranges. Sacking of the 800-odd treats is the work of Santa's helpers—the firemen and their ladies.

The Wednesday contributions, which made the fund exceed the goal, included:

Gill was attempting to pass a second truck, which was churning along at 20 miles per hour because of battery trouble. The two trucks were almost side by side when they met the oncoming Stevenson car at the top of the overpass.

Stevenson tried to find a path between the two trucks. But there wasn't room. His car brushed the side of the slow-moving truck and bounced head-on into the Gill truck, which was travelling at about 50 mph.

Royal Canadian Air Force Finds Missing C45

Reports American Airmen Safe

DULUTH, Minn. (UP) — Royal Canadian Air Force search planes today found a missing C45 and reported all three American airmen aboard were safe.

The place was forced down near Graham, Ont., while returning to Minneapolis after a special religious mission to a remote radar station.

First reports indicated the C45 plane landed safely either on a frozen lake or in a pasture 7½ miles west of Graham, north of Port Arthur-Ft. Williams. The three officers were to be returned to the Twin Cities.

The men aboard the plane were identified by the 31st Air Division as Capt. Hal W. Burch, 31, Omaha, Neb., the pilot; Maj. Ellis Ira Veatch, 47, Drake, N.D., division chaplain, and Capt. Dorsey L. Stover, 32, East Beckley, W.Va., base operations officer.

All three now live in Minneapolis while stationed at Wold-Chamberlain Field.

The plane had been missing since late Wednesday on a return flight from a U.S. radar station at Siou Lookout in Ontario.

Mrs. Heimbach Reviews Book; Meet Held At Her Home

Eighteen members of the Rebecca Circle of Trinity Methodist church were guests Wednesday afternoon of Mrs. Elmer Heimbach at her Columbia township home Other guests included Mrs. Robert Reese and Mrs. Wayne Bechtold of the Oak Grove parish.

As an introduction to the program the group sang "We Three Kings of the Orient are." The program included a book review of "Amahl and the Night Visitors" written by Menotte which is the story of "The Three Wise Men." "Bringing Gifts to the Christ child" was the theme of the devotions in charge of Mrs. Nellie Jones.

One large cone brought from California by Mrs. Robert Noble was reflected in the mirror that centered the serving table laid in white linen. Red candles burned in silver candelabra. Individual cakes that had the appearance of Christmas wreaths baked by Mrs. Blain Schang, were served from the lovely appointed table. Mrs. Verlin Vernon presided at the silver coffee service.

On the antique dough box in front of the large window stood the Christmas tree surrounded with gifts which were exchanged. Groups of lighted candles furnished illumination in the dining room where an attractive "back home for Christmas" scene was found on the large mirror that hung on the wall.

Hostesses for the meeting besides Mrs. Heimbach were Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Noble, Mrs. Schang and Mrs. Harmon Murbach.

Past Presidents Legion Auxiliary Have Yuletide Party

The past presidents of the Amertan Legion Auxiliary of Post 98 were guests Wednesday evening of Mrs. Paul Windemuth Sr., on East Jackson street following a dinner at the 30 Club, covers being laid for 20, all living in Whitley county.

Co-hostesses for the Yuletide meeting were Mrs. Paul Fesler Mrs. DeWitt Lilly and Mrs. Lulu Kuglin. At the Windemuth home gifts were exchanged and tables formed at cards in which prizes were awarded to Mrs. Bert Walker and Mrs. Royce Galbreath.

Mrs. Windemuth served fruit cake and coffee.

Others present besides those already named were the Mesdames Donald Deeter, Ronald Nelson, Jack Stephenson, Glenn Coolman Ned Trout, Fred Sell, Junior Hively, Harry Stemen, Asher Western Harold Lundblad, Edith Reider, Isabelle Pence, Doris Shaw, and Hattie Whitmen.

Members Of Goe Bic Demonstration Club Guests Mrs. Langohr

Mrs. Dale Langohr entertained the Goe Bic Home Demonstration Club at her Big Lake home Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was attended by 17 members. The program of the afternoon included a Christmas story and a poem given by Mrs. Laurel Cox. Mrs. Louis Hurley read the story "Best Gift of All."

Games pertaining to Christmas were conducted by Mrs. Langohr and Mrs. Hurley. Secret sisters were revealed in the gift exchange. The Langohr home was most attractive with its Yuletide decorations.

A salad mold was served with cake and coffee.

A white elephant sale will feature the January meeting to be held at the Richard Whitelock home.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Langohr were Mrs. Hurley, Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Louis Henline.

Guests Of The McNabbs At Laud

Mr. and Mrs. Richard McNabb of Albany, Ga., are guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McNabb at Laud, through the holidays.

Mr. McNabb is attending the University of Georgia and his wife is a teacher in the Georgia schools.

Mrs. Emerson Has New York Guest

Mrs. Sarah Emerson of 211½ West Van Buren street had as her guest Wednesday, her stepson, Ernest Emerson of New York City. Mr. Emerson was en route home from a business trip of several weeks to Indianapolis, Chicago, St. Louis, Minnesota and Los Angeles, Calif.

Mr. Emerson is manager of the Lowes theatres in New York. En route home he will visit his sister Mrs. George Baker in Detroit, and an aunt, Mrs. Lucy Knox in Cleveland.

He will leave Cleveland Friday by plane for his home in New York to spend Christmas with his family.

Leave Today For Missouri To Spend The Holidays

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Souder and daughter, Miss Norma Jean Souder, teacher at Dearborn, Mich., left this afternoon for Independance, Mo., to spend the holidays with their son and brother, Arnold Souder, Jr., and family.

This will be the first Christmas since the marriage of Arnold Souder Jr., that the family has been together at Christmas time.

Builders Class At Larwill Entertained At The Parsonage

The Builders class of the Larwill Methodist church was entertained Wednesday evening at the parsonage by Rev. and Mrs. Walter Meachan. Thirty-one persons were present to enjoy the gift exchange and program.

A feature of the affair were the gifts brought to the minister and his family known as a pound party which included many lovely gifts Mrs. Henry Schuman gave the Bible story during the devotional period and Mrs. Theodore Knox directed the singing of carols.

The two young children of Rev. and Mrs. Meachan gave a special Christmas arrangement, in which Walter Meachan Jr., sang, accompanied by his sister, Marietta, at the piano.

The committee composed of Mrs. Earl Norris, Mrs. Fred Dietrich and Mrs. Knox served a Jello mold, wafers and coffee.

Berean Class Holds Christmas Party At The Gregg Home

Covers were laid for 15 for the steak dinner of the Berean class of the Baptist church at the Randall Gregg home on North Oak street. Red and green candles flanked the clever Santa Claus arrangement which centered the table laid for the dinner.

There was a large illuminated tree surrounded by gifts for the gift exchange and a manger scene in the north living room. A thought of Christmas prevailed in the decorations of the other rooms.

Mrs. Belle Egner and Mrs. R. R. Ferrey were in charge of the devotions and Mrs. Ann Diffendarfer read the Christmas story.

A contribution was made by the class to the Firemen's Christmas party for the children. Mrs. Diffendarfer and Mrs. Ferrey were co-hostesses with Mrs. Gregg.

Jefferson Center Leads First Half, But Loses 63-58

The Jefferson Center Tigers fell behind in the last half, after leading for the first two quarters, and lost their ninth basketball game of the season at Arcola last night 63-58.

Coach Newell's Tigers led 13-8 at the end of the first quarter and 28-25 at halftime, but personal fouls and the lack of substitutes hurt in the last half. This was the second win of the season for Arcola.

The Jefferson Center starters for the Arcola game were Butcher, Dygert, Aker, Phillips, and Juillerat.

Bob Butcher copped game scoring honors with 25. He hit high percentage of free throws, 13 of 17.

A total of 23 personal fouls were called against Arcola, while the Tigers received 16 personal penalties. Aker, Tiger center, saw very limited action, due to personal foul trouble. He collected four personals in the first quarter, and Coach Newell pulled him out of the game for the second and third quarters. Aker returned in the game in the final period and fouled out, playing little more than a quarter in all.

The Arcola reserves also won the preliminary game 38-28, after leading the Tigers 17-14 at halftime.

Basketball Player Dies Of Injuries Received In Accident

GREENCASTLE, Ind. (UP) — John E. McLaughlin, 18, New York, a basketball player at St. Louis University, died today of injuries suffered in a car-truck crash which critically injured two others.

McLaughlin died in Putnam County Hospital about 24 hours after the accident on U.S. 40 south of here.

Eisenhower

Army Medical Center to the President's daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Eisenhower.

Security Council Meeting

In the afternoon today the President planned to meet with the National Security Council to discuss defense and foreign problems.

As for his future plans, Mr. Eisenhower apparently is not going to take as soon as originally thought that trip to the South for exercise in the sun which his doctors have ordered.

Originally it was indicated Mr Eisenhower would make the trip shortly after Christmas. But apparently he will remain in Washington until after the opening of Congress next month and possibly delay the trip until spring.

New Year's Eve

It is expected that Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower will return to their Gettysburg, Pa., farm to spend New Year's Eve.

There was no immediate explanation as to why the President intends to disregard his doctors' orders for a trip soon to the South.

The White House said Wednesday Mr. Eisenhower probably will resume late next month one of his most arduous public duties—news conferences with the capital press corps.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said after a conference with the President that he "assumes" the conferences will be revived. Mr. Eisenhower's last press conference was Aug. 5.

First Greenlease Kidnap Ransom $10 Bill Is Found

St. Louis (UP) — The FBI reported today that the first $10 bill from the Greenlease kidnap ransom money has been found in East Palestine, Ohio.

The FBI said the note was discovered by a bookkeeper of an auto firm located in the town between Cleveland and Pittsburg.

All 83 bills which turned up earlier from the $303,702 ransom have been $20 denominations. The first was found at Minot, N.D., Aug. 3. The latest note was the third uncovered since Oct. 5.

Finance Company Starts Action Against 2 Men

Two suits upon conditional sales contracts have been filed in circuit court here by the First Citizens Finance Co., Inc, through their local attorney, Joseph R. Roe.

Thurman A. Hull, R 1 is named defendant in one of the suits, result of an auto sale to him by the Speedway Auto Sales Co., Fort Wayne. Demand is for $192.28 plus interest and attorneys' fees.

The other suit named Mervin Gillum, 207 West Van Buren street, as defendant, seeks $407.33 plus a tow bill of $17.50, also interest and attorneys' fees. This grows out of a conditional sales contract between the West End Auto Sales, Fort Wayne, and Mr. Gillum.

"MY FAT GIRL"—That's the title of this painting, judged the most controversial in a recent Chicago, Ill., art exhibit. It's the work of William Welsh, Lexington, Ky., artist who says he painted it as a joke. The painting was put in a Chicago store to test public reaction.

Some Heart-Warming Gift Suggestions

NEW YORK (UP) — Your wife shivering through the cold wave without a mink coat?

You shivering through her icy glances without enough cash or credit to buy one?

We present some heart-warming solutions. They show a man is solicitious of his wife's warmth even though somewhat short of cash.

There are mink ear muffs, for instance. They only cost $4.00, and they're enough of a novelty to attract attention away from the old cloth coat below. One Fifth Avenue store also sells leopard fur ear muffs.

Long red underwear still is popular among outdoorsy women. It comes in two parts, $4.40 for the bottoms and $3.00 for the tops.

Knitted bed socks are gayer this year. You can buy the foot-warmers with sequin trim and mink pom pons.

There are a dozen different styles of new furry-lined boots for street wear. The most stylish are shapely, ankle-high boots made to wear in place of shoes. They come in suede or calf and range in price from $10 to $20.

Killer Floods In West, Predicted Highway Deaths To Dim Holiday

LIVING CHRISTMAS TREE—Since 1939 the Glee Club of West High School in Denver, Colo., has been presenting as part of their annual holiday program a living, singing Christmas tree. Some 75 young men and women form the bulk of the tree.

Hundreds Of Christmas Pilgrims Plod Along Road To Bethlehem

JERUSALEM (Israeli sector), (UP)—Hundreds of Christmas pilgrims plodded today along the dusty road to Bethlehem through villages torn three days ago by rioting and gunfire.

Bright sunshine streamed down on the little town where Christ was born and there were few signs of the bloody riot that the Arab Legionnaires of Jordan suppressed with machineguns and tear gas.

By 8 a.m. some 400 Christian Israelis, Arabs, monks and nuns had crossed the Israeli - Jordan lines and moved into Jordan through ancient Mandelbaum Gate.

Anti - government demonstrations by Jordanians angered at their country's threatened adherence to the Baghdad Pact sealed off Bethlehem last week, but today there was almost no hindrance to the religious procession.

A few would-be pilgrims were refused entry permits by Jordanian authorities holding forth in a series of customs and immigration tents set up at right angles to the Mandelbaum Gate.

Israeli authorities said some pilgrims had stayed on the Israeli side of the border for fear of getting caught up in further Jordanian rioting.

White - painted United Nations jeeps buzzed along the road the three wise men took nearly 2,000 years ago, but except for the ruins left by the 1948 war there was little or no sign of strife.

The pilgrims crossing from Israeli today were mostly Christian Arabs from the north — from Galilee and from Nazareth where Christ once plied his trade as a carpenter.

Overseas tourists, including a large number of Americans, will not cross into Jordan until Saturday, Christmas Eve, when the U.N. consular corps will travel together to Bethlehem's Church of the Nativity for the traditional Christmas ceremony.

Fires Across Nation Cause Deaths Of 23

13 Children And 10 Adults

By UNITED PRESS

Fires across the nation have killed 23 persons, most of them children, on the eve of the Christmas holiday celebration.

All but 10 of the fire victims Thursday were children eagerly awaiting the excitement and gifts of Christmas.

Tenement fires in St. Louis and New York City both killed two youngsters. Three Indianapolis children died in their flaming tarpaper home and three more were killed in a Davenport, Iowa, fire.

A Nashville, Tenn., blaze took the lives of two children and another tot died in an Ohio fire.

Other fire victims included an 89-year-old Clinton, Iowa, woman; a deckhand on a freighter at Manitowoc, Wis.; a fire chief fighting a refinery blaze at Warren, Pa.; and Mrs. John V.W. Falck, onetime society editor of the Panama City, Fla., News-Herald.

The New York tenement fire killed two adults and three more died in Ohio blazes. Another victim was counted in the St. Louis fire.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters meanwhile warned that winter is the most dangerous time of the year for fires and the Christmas season is even more hazardous.

The highest fire losses are recorded from December to March, the board said. And on Christmas, when homes are jammed with gifts and merry-makers, the chances of tragedy jump higher.

Injured In Fall

Mrs. Harvey Kemery, who fell at her home at 208 S. Wayne street Wednesday night was taken to the Lutheran Hospital, Fort Wayne on Thursday morning in a J. A. DeMoney and Son ambulance. Mrs. Kemery suffered a fractured right arm and lacerations to her right eye. Her room number is 208.

Bible Reading: Isaiah 53:1-12

Isaiah 53, 5: "He was wounded for our transgressions, He was bruised for our iniquities; upon Him was the chastisement that makes us whole, and with His stripes we are healed."

The greatest of Christmas is due to the fact that it is followed by two other great days, Good Friday and Easter. By itself, Christmas is just another birthday, which everyone has once a year and considers a common thing; but when it is understood as the birthday of Jesus Christ, it isn't just anybody's birthday - it is the day on which the Savior of the world was born.

Jesus was great during His earthly life, in which He lived perfectly and kept God's Law in our stead. He was even greater in His suffering and death, through which He paid for all our sins, in order to make peace between God and men, and suffered the torments of Hell itself so that we need not be eternally lost. But He was greatest in His resurrection, through which He proved that He actually has power over death and that all His words are true. That is when the angel had told Joseph that Jesus would "save His people from their sins" (Matt. 1,21); it is the reason why the angels sang to the shepherds, "On earth peace" (Luke 1, 14); and it is the reason why Isaiah had foretold that the Messiah would actually pay for our sins. Take these facts away, and Christmas is meaningless, empty, a pagan celebration. Keep these facts (as Scripture does), and Christmas becomes the glorious day it really is -the birthday of the One who is our Savior and Lord!

Local Organizations Making Christmas A Happy Occasion For The Ill, Unfortunate

Local organizations, which have prepared for weeks to make Christmas a happy occasion for the ill and unfortunate, now are in the process of cheering the sick with gifts, seeing that the Christmas dinners are prepared and delivered, and that all worthy souls are remembered.

Those residing at the county farm or detained at the jail are going to have turkey dinners with the customary trimmings on Christmas day.

Jaycees

The Jaycees tonight will deliver approximately 55 gifts to patients in the four Columbia City nursing homes. These are individualized so that each person will receive something he particularly needs or wants. The Jaycee Christmas delivery will be made to the Gibson Farris, Irwin, and Bakle convalescent homes.

Friday afternoon the Salvation Army workers visited all the patients in the local hospitals, taking each a treat and leaving with each sick person a copy of the "War Cry" Christmas issue. The 55 nursing home patients also are being visited with treats and the Christ-

Three Local Boys To Be Together In Germany Christmas

On Christmas Day, three local boys expect to be together in Germany, according to letters received by their families. They are Stephen Spence, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Spence; Bob Hiscuitt, son of Mrs. Edith Hiscuitt; and Jimmy Ferguson son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ferguson.

Spence is stationed at Weisbaden Hiscuitt at Munich and Ferguson at Frankfurt.

Approve Plans To Solve Farm Price Problems

Leaders Meet To Air Views

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) — Two plans for solving the farm price problem had the approval today of 70 farm owners, economists, and agricultural and political leaders.

They met Thursday to air their views on how to halt declining farm prices and supported a soil bank plan and a proposal by Sen. Homer Capehart.

Capehart, chairman of the meeting, suggested "a plan or plans that will boost farm prices 20 per cent in six months" and eliminate surpluses. He called for a Surplus Commodities Disposal Commission to take control of surpluses and remove them from market competition.

Under the soil bank plan, farmers would take certain acreage out of production and plant soil-building grasses and legumes in their place. The government would reimburse them for the resulting lost income.

Capehart said the government pays a million dollars a day to store surplus grains and cotton under the price support system.

W.L. Cook, a Boswell bank president, said "it's time to act and act fast" to solve that problem.

"I think it is so serious that Congress should declare an emergency on farming,' Cook said. "It should put price floors and ceilings on all commodities. It should curtail crops by bushel measure, not by acres at present."

Congressman Ralph Harvey, New Castle, opposed "dumping on world markets" because it would cause"immense damage to our trading.'

Lowell Hardin, Purdue University agricultural educator, predicted "the government is going to pump perhaps a billion dollars into agriculture' because of coming elections. "Let's be sure that immediate steps do not injure farming in the long run," he said.

Congressman Charles Halleck, Rensselaer, said a farm program must not create economic disturbances in other countries, and John Raber, president of the Indiana Farmers Union, said "we must practice birth control on crops and lead farmers to cut production.'

Willard Jones, president of Producers Marketing Association, warned "if agriculture stays where it is, then the entire economy is going to come down, too."

Zanesville Youth Hurt In Coesse Game

Billy Joe Sheplar, 16, of Zanesville, member of the Union Center basketbal squad, was injured during his school's game with Coesse Thursday night in the Coesse gymnasium. Sheplar, during the third quarter, took a shot at the basket while running and went against the barrier pad. He was in great pain and removed immediately from the game by his coach.

Taken to the Whitley County Hospital he was examined, then sent to Lutheran hospital in Fort Wayne for further examination and tests. A kidney block developed due to shock or the injury he received.

Sheplar advised the local hospital to get in touch with his uncle, Marlowe Shepard, Zanesville.

Prospects For White Christmas In Indiana Dim

Mild Temperatures, Rain Forecast

By UNITED PRESS

Hoosier prospects for a white Christmas appeared dim today as the Indiana weatherman issued a forecast calling for mild temperatures and rain Saturday and Saturday night.

Northern portions of the state retained a dim hope for the traditional white as the weatherman predicted "a chance" of snow flurries in the extreme north Sunday.

The forecast indicated a little snow presently on the ground in parts of Indiana would disappear before Santa makes his annual visit.

But Hoosiers were not alone in the prospects of a non-white Christmas. The weatherman said temperatures were rising throughout the nation at the end of a week-long cold wave which dumped up to seven inches of snow in New York City. On the West Coast, rising flood waters threatened scores of cities and towns after savage storms left seven dead and at least a dozen persons missing.

Indiana temperatures today climbed to 50 south and the low 40s north. Overcast skies and occasional rain accompanied the temperature rise in most parts of the state.

The five-day forecast was for temperatures averaging three to six degrees below normal. Normal maximums are 32 north and 43 south.

Normal minimums are 16 north and 25 south.

The weatheramn said it will turn colder Sunday and then become warmer Monday and Tuesday before another cold wave moves in about Wednesday.

Precipitation will average .25 to .50 of an inch in the form of rain Saturday and again about Tuesday.

Lows tonight will range from 35-40 north to about 45 south.

Highs Thursday ranged from 44 at Evansville and 40 at Indianapolis, to 33 at South Bend and 34 at Fort Wayne.

Lows early today ranged from 27 at South Bend and Fort Wayne, to 38 at Evansville.

Second Child Born To Mr. And Mrs. Paul Harris

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harris, South Whitley, are the parents of a daughter, Tanya Marie, born at the Whitley County Hospital, at 6:42 a.m., December 23. The baby weighed six pounds, 15 ounces.

The mother is the former Lois Genevieve Bennett. They also have a son.

Second Daughter Born To Clair VanAmans

A daughter, Candi Lou, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Clair VanAman, R 2, Fort Wayne. Born at the Whitley County Hospital, at 12:04 p.m., December 20. The baby weighed seven pounds, nine and three-fourths ounces.

The mother is the former Kara Lee Keirns. They have another daughter.

Leaves Hospital

Mrs. Lida Todd, who has been a medical patient at the Whitley County Hospital the past few days was dismissed on Wednesday afternoon and taken to the Whitley County Home in the J. A. DeMoney and Son ambulance.

At Daughter's Home

Mrs. Fanny Warner was dismissed from the Whitley County Hospital on Wednesday afternoon and was taken to the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Palmer in Smith township in a J. A. DeMoney and Son ambulance.

Firemen's Party Fund Receives $21 More

The Firemen's Christmas Party fund received $21 more in contributions Thursday. The total contributed now stands at 251. The portion of the fund not required to meet the expenses of the Christmas Eve children's treat will be banked to form a nucleus for the 1956 party fund.

Thursday's contributions included:

Berean Class of Baptist church	3.00
Whitley County REMC	5.00
Walter Wolfe, Jr.	3.00
Eagles Lodge	10.00

The fire department is grateful to all who have contributed to the party fund, thereby making possible a continuance of the town's oldest Christmas tradition.

The treats for the children will be distributed by Santa and his wife in the courthouse at 7 o'clock Saturday night. Children will enter by the north door of the building and be greeted by the Santas on the second floor level.

Paratrooper Survives 5 Days In Wilderness

In Sub-Freezing Cold Of The Cascades

EASTON, Wash. (UP)—A tough Army paratrooper who walked away from death in a mountain wilderness on a pair of makeshift snowshoes grinned as he was put into an ambulance today and murmured "I'm okay."

Sgt. John H. Horan, Maynard, Mass., limped on frostbitten feet into Rustic Inn here Thursday after five days of a bitter fight for survival in the sub-freezing cold of the Cascade Mountains.

"Tell my wife I'm okay," he muttered to Kelly Page, manager of the Inn.

Horan bailed out of a C45 Air Force plane Sunday when it went into a spin over the bleak Cascades. He was dressed only in a field jacket, paratrooper boots and regulation Army uniform.

Page said the sergeant told him how he landed west of Lake Kachess, just north of here.

Followed Creek To Lake

"He told me he found an old logging road and followed it until it got dark," Page said. "Then he finally found Fetus Creek. He followed that until he reached Lake Kachess.

"The next morning he found a

Christmas Program To Be Presented Friday

The Ormas Baptist Church will present their Christmas program Friday, at 7:30 p.m. The choir will sing special numbers, and the welcome will be given by the Beginners department. The Primary and junior department will present a short three act play of the Nativity of our Lord. A short two act play, "For Times Like These," will be given by the young people and adults.

After the program there will be the annual gift exchange under the tree and treats for the children.

Condition Of Edgar Carriger Very Serious

1956 Spring Pig Crop Will Total 56 Million Head

Ag Department Makes Prediction

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Agriculture Department has predicted the 1956 spring pig crop will total 56 million head, a decrease of two per cent from the 1955 spring crop.

The prediction was based on reports from farmers that they have bred or will breed 8,116,000 sows to farrow next spring. The number of sows farrowing in the spring 1955 was 8,309,000. They produced 57,342,000 little pigs in the spring of 1955.

The predicted 1956 spring crop of little pigs compares with a 1944-53 average spring production of 54,213,000 head, and 1954 spring production of 52,852,000.

The 1955 fall crop of 37,914,000 pigs combined with the spring crop of 57,342,000 produced a total of 95,256,000 hogs for this calendar year.

The heavy crop of pigs played havoc with live hog prices this fall, knocking them down about 40 per cent. The national average price of good butcher hogs Wednesday was about $11 per hundredweight. A year ago the national average price was around $18.

The plummeting prices for live hogs this fall caused Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson to announce in October a limited government pork purchase program in an effort to stabilize the market.

On the day the pork purchase program went into effect, live hogs sold at $13.90 a hundredweight. During the next two months the average market price dropped to $10.40, the lowest point in 14 years.

The total pig crop this year was

The Delta Theta Tau sorority gave filled Christmas stockings.

The Columbia Township Pet and Hobby club gave the Christmas tree ornaments. Girl scout troop No. 2 made a candy wreath for the school.

The Columbia Dairy has donated milk for the school since its opening last fall.

The Tri Kappa sorority gave an earlier Christmas party complete with Santa, gifts and ice cream.

Classes for the Opportunity school are held mornings in the Grace Lutheran parish hall.

The school is under the supervision of the Whitley County Council for Retarded Children.

Carl Sederlund Is Home After Four Years Spent In Navy

Carl Sederlund arrived in this city Tuesday after a service of four years in the Navy. His wife is the former Elaine Bechtold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bechtold of East Van Buren street They will move in a couple of weeks to 407 West Market street, the property of Mrs. Mabel Bayman Miner at Coldwater, Mich., formerly occupied by the Hartwell Giles family.

Mr. Sederlund was on the USS St. Paul and was in Japan and Formosa part of the four years. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sederlund of near South Whitley.

Merry Chrismas

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UP) — Restaurant owner Jimmy Caracostis put the "T" in his "Merry Chrismas' sign today despite the way he pronounces the misspelled word.

The misspelling attracted nationwide attention after Caracostis explained to a United Press reporter, "I spell it the way I say it.'

News commentator Paul Harvey in a nationwide broadcast asked influential persons in Knoxville to please tell Caracostis to put the "T" in his sign. Caracostis said he was flooded with telephone calls.

Police Just Checking; Holdup Report False

Rumors of an armed robbery at the Kroger store went through the business district Thursday evening while it was crowded with Christmas shoppers.

The store had asked the city police to check upon a man who had acted suspiciously. The police arrived promptly, had to double park because shoppers' cars had filled all curb parking space. This added to the supposition that a holdup had taken place.

Recount Gives 2 Town Board Seats To Republicans

Churubusco Democrats Lose In Bid For Town Board Control

Recount of the ballots cast Nov. 8 for two town board offices in Churubusco, last night gave control of the board to the Republicans. Two Democratic candidates, defeated by 4 and 9 votes, respectively, when the Nov. 8 returns were counted, asked for a recount of ballots.

The recount commission appointed by the Whitley circuit court, last night gave out the following as its official count:

Cecil Allman, R., 160; William Veazey, D., 157.

Abraham Nestel, R., 161; Nile Egolf, D., 154.

The Nov. 8 count gave Allman 173 votes and Veazey 169. By the recount Allman's majority was cut from 4 to 3 votes.

When the Nov. 8 ballots were counted by the election board Nestel was leading Egolf 173 to 164 by a margin of 9 votes. Last night's recount cut Nestel's victory margin to 7 votes.

The Nov. 8 vote in which Merl Leitch D., defeated Wilbur Gaff, R., 193-146 was not contested.

The recount commission composed of Perry Ort and William Shew Republicans, and Dale Barrett, Democrat, threw out approximately 23 ballots which were counted by the Nov. 8 election board. But they counted one ballot which the Nov. 8 election board did not count. The majority of ballots thrown out by the recount commission bore check-marks instead of the required "x" to denote the voter's choice.

The other town officer at Churubusco is Dale LeFever, R., elected clerk-treasurer over Mrs. Vernon Harrold, D., by a vote of 200-139 last month.

Has X-Ray

Darrell Workman was taken from the Irvin Nursing Home to the Whitley County Hospital Thursday morning for X-rays. He was later returned to the Nursing Home in a J. A. DeMoney and Son ambulance.

Fear 560 Traffic Deaths; Floods Kill 10 In West

5-Inch Snowstorm For New York City

By UNITED PRESS

Killer floods in the West and a prediction of 560 deaths on the highways dimmed the start of the nation's Christmas holiday today.

This was the day of office parties and last-minute buying. By tonight, highways and transportation facilities will be jammed with homeward bound travelers.

But the National Safety Council warned that the merriest holiday of the year will probably cost the nation a full share of tragedy—560 traffic deaths between 6 p.m. tonight and midnight Monday.

Saturday will probably be the most dangerous day on the streets and highways, the council said.

Pre-holiday fires had already killed 13 children who will never see another Christmas, plus 10 adults.

Snowstorm Surprises New York

In most of the nation temperatures were warming up for the holidays on this, the first full day of winter. New York City was digging out of a surprise five-inch snowstorm. But warming weather, plus forecasts of rain in the Midwest, gave promise of a mild but non-white Christmas elsewhere.

At least one part of the country was promised a white Christmas, In Buffalo, N.Y., weatherman Ben Kolker predicted today that nearly 4 inches of snow will fall intermittently today and Saturday.

In flood-ridden northern California and Oregon, however, the holiday season brought floods, storms, and death.

The third savage storm in a week hit the area and practically every stream in northern Cali

Columbia Engineering Entertains Employes; Bonuses Are Given

Employes of the Columbia Engineering Company and their wives were entertained Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Yost Braddock, 501 West Ellsworth street, with a home cooked T-bone steak dinner.

The three-course dinner was served at an attractively appointed table. There was a gift for each employe and his wife under the large illuminated tree and bonuses were distributed.

F. D. Ruhl of Schenactady, New York, sales representative for the company, was a guest. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sickafoose, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Ressler, John Kessler.

Worshippers Expected To Throng Churches For Christmas Eve And Nativity Day Services

The community's churches are expected to be thronged at the Christmas Eve and Nativity Day services.

Four Columbia City churches will hold Christmas Eve services. These are Zion and Grace Lutheran, Evangelical United Brethren and Trinity Methodist Churches. In other local churches the Christmas services will be at the regularly scheduled hours on Sunday Members of Columbia City Commandery, Knights Templar, will attend the Christmas Eve service at Grace church.

At Zion Lutheran

Christmas, the anniversary of the Savior's birth, will be observed at Zion Lutheran church with three special services.

Friday evening, beginning at 7:30 the children of the Sunday school will present the story of Jesus' birth through song and recitation. A colored film strip will accompany some of the recitations. The sermon topic for that evening, based on Isiah 11, 6, will be "A Little Child Shall Lead Them." Following the service, there will be a party for the children in the parish hall. Movies, refreshments and gifts will await the children.

"Glorious Light" (John 12, 35) is the topic which Rev. J. K. Muhlenbruch will present at the 10 p.m. service on Christmas Eve. This is a special candle-light service.

A service of song and praise will climax the Christmas services. "Praises to the Newborn King" is the sermon topic for the 10:30 service on Christmas morning, text: Colossians 3, 16.

At Grace Lutheran

The annual Christmas Eve service at Grace Lutheran church, to be attended by the uniformed Templars, will open at 11 o'clock but will be preceded by the carol program on the chimes. The following order of service has been announced by the pastor, Rev. G. L. Kleespie.

Prelude (organ) "Sleep Well, Child of Heaven," Guilmant, "Carol Rhapsody," Purvis - Kenneth

Whitley County Hospital Scene Of Parties Thursday

Thursday was party day at Whitley County Hospital when the office force and those associated with the surgery department held a gift exchange and had refreshments.

Going from one party to the other, they got their sandwiches in the surgery department, and went to the office party for cookies, ice cream and candy.

Stanley Mullendore, business administrator, was presented a gift as was Mrs. Florence McDaniel, superintendent of nurses, who presented each one a gift.

Large trees in the lobby and on the second floor of the hospital added to the Christmas setting.

Salvation Army

The Salvation Army has prepared baskets of food for 20 families in Whitley county, each basket containing a nice Christmas dinner for the household. In addition, the S.A. workers are distributing toys for the children in these households.

Christmas dinner at the county jail will be turkey with all the customary side dishes, according to Mrs. Galen O. Adair, wife of the sheriff.

At the Whitley County Farm, dinners for the 30 residents will be served Sunday noon. The turkeys for this holiday meal have been provided by the Blue Bell, Inc. The menu, being prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Parrish, cooks, will include mashed potatoes, gravy, dressing, gelatin fruit salad, and pumpkin pie for dessert.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Zumbrun, superintendents of the county home, are having Christmas gifts Friday night for all the residents. These will be distributed at the Christmas tree.

The county farm residents have been feted by many clubs and organizatins the past week. These parties have been greatly appreciated by the resident and the management. Many of the parties have carried entertainment features and refreshments as messages of holiday cheer.

These have included parties sponsored by:

The Churubusco Methodist church, Rev. Darrel Taggart, pastor, on Dec. 13.

First Baptist church, Columbia City, Rev. Dale T. Hindbaugh, pastor, Dec. 13.

Columbia City First Church of God, Rev. Alvin Link, pastor, Dec. 16.

Coesse Lutheran church, Rev. G. L. Kleespie, pastor, Dec. 15.

Salvation Army, Dec. 21.

Columbia City Brownies, Dec. 20.

In addition to these events, the Jefferson Center school chorus sang Dec. 17 for the county farm residents, candy was brought tc them by the Washington Center Missionary society, and they received fruit from the Parliamentary Law and Literary club.

Fall Meetings Of Better Farming Group Concluded

The fall meetings for the Better Farming and Better Living Extension Program ended recently with a tour of the Charles Wilcoxson farm in Thorncreek township. This farm was used as a sample to be worked with as to the different alternatives of livestock and cropping systems that would fit the farm considering soil capabilities, buildings and size of operation. In the morning the men considered the farm while the women considered the home as a sample for house planning ideas. In the afternoon the men and women worked together on the planning of different alternatives for the farm.

Anna K. Williams, Home Management Specialist, and Lester Arnold, Extension Economists, both from Purdue were in charge of the group discussion.

Art Flickinger, Unit Conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service, worked with the group on soil types and capabilities in planning the farm.

With the completion of the meetings, Hugh Reinhold, assistant agent, will work with the individual families.

There were twenty-eight families enrolled for this series of meetings with twenty completing. The rest have stated a preference to attend the February meetings. Enrollment is now being taken for the February group. Reinhold invites you to stop in the Extension office or see a member of the advisory committee for enrollment blanks and more details.

Eight townships were represented in the meetings by the following families: Lester Robbins, Ralph Shively, Robert Pontzius, Ford Mishler, Harris Wright, William Snodgrass, John Wallace, Harold Arnold, Byron Miller, Charles Wilcoxson, Louis E. Wait, Dean Crowell, Constantine Petroff, Russell Taylor, John Herriott, Harold Neher, Loren Metzger, Edward Willey, H. Leigh Waugh, and Lowell Yohe.

G-M Aerotrain Out For Testing

General Motors' Aerotrain, low-slung light weight train designed to greatly improve passenger train operating economy, has been halted several times in Columbia City the past two days during test runs.

Thursday the train was viewed by several local people while standing at the tower where the Pennsylvania and Vandalia cross.

The Diesel engine pulls ten integrated coaches, each designed to seat 40 passengers. The passenger seats are twin chairs on each side of the center aisle, much like a bus. The coaches are to have small galleys installed at the ends where a steward could prepare coffee, sandwiches, warm baby bottles.

It is understood that General Motors, following the test runs of the train and correction of any defects revealed in the tests, will deliver the train to the Pennsylvania Railroad company for operation on one of its eastern divisions.

Red Wings Defeat Boston Bruins 3-2

By UNITED PRESS

Rookie goalie Glenn Hall's shutout streak has been snapped at 198 minutes and 10 seconds but he and his Detroit Red Wing mates are rolling on a four-game National Hockey League victory streak that has pulled them within five points of the second place New York Rangers.

The Red Wings made it four in a row Thursday night by defeating the Boston Bruins, 3-2, on Alex Delvecchio's goal in the final seconds of the second period. It was the only NHL game scheduled.

Marcel Bonin scored both Bruin goals. His first at 17:39 of the opening period cracked Hall's streak of three shutouts. Bonin also scored at 15:38 of the second period to give the home team a 2-1 edge but Gordie Howe and Delvecchio each scored in the final two minutes of the same session to preserve Detroit's five - game unbeaten string against the Bruins.

Hall's string of scoreless minutes was shattered well short of the modern NHL mark of 309 minutes and 21 seconds set by Montreal's Bill Durnan during the 1948-49 season.

The Red Wings, who have won seven straight league championships, are getting close to the Rangers but are 18 points behind the first-place Canadiens.

Action resumes Saturday night with Detroit visiting Montreal and the Chicago Black Hawks playing at Toronto.

Union Center Badgers Defeat Coesse Indians 71-62

The Coesse Indians were host to the Union Center Badgers of Well's County. The Badgers won from the Indians in a rough and tumble game 71-62.

In the first quarter the Indians couldn't find the rim of the bucket and only made four points. The Badgers were exceptionally hot and made 22. Baker the center for the Badgers made 18 points in the first period.

During the second period the Indians outscored the Badgers by one point but were still behind 17 points as the half way whistle sounded.

As the third stanza started the determined Coesse five were making a better percentage of their shots and climbd to within 11 points of the Badgers. The Badgers still in the game fed Baker and he made several one-handed field goals. The Indians outscored the Badgers but the Badgers led 54-41.

With one minute gone in the fourth quarter Sheplar of the Union Center team was injured when he fell on the corner of the stage. The Indians scored 21 points to the Badgers 17 but were still unable to overcome the big lead the Union Center boys had built up in the first period.

The officials were Clapp and Kennedy.

Baker and Taylor of the Badgers led their team with 33 and 20 points respectively. Steele and Walker of the Indians led with 24 and 16 points.

Union Center won the preliminary game 44-22.

The Thorncreek eighth grade team and the Coesse eighth grade team played with Coesse winning 30-26.

Officials Named

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Veteran official Ronald Gibbs of St. Thomas (Minn.) has been named referee for the National Football League championship game Monday between the Cleveland Browns and Los Angles Rams. Other officials named by Commissioner Bert Bell include Umpire, Samuel Wilson of Lehigh; head linesman, Dan Tehan of Xavier; back judge, Tay Brown of Southern California, and field judge, William McHugh of DePaul.

Sports Briefs

LOS ANGELES (UP) — UCLA passing ace Ronnie Knox, who participated in his first real workout Thursday since breaking a bone in his ankle, reported a little stiffness and said he won't try to go out until some time next week.

Knox, who injured the ankle last month, quickly demonstrated he hadn't lost his throwing magic by hitting on 14 straight passes during the Bruins' workout. The Bruins meet Michigan State in the Rose Bowl Jan 2.

PASADENA, Calif. (UP)—From here on, the Michigan State football team will work out only once daily in its preparations for the Rose Bowl game against UCLA Jan. 2.

Coach Duffy Daugherty ran the Spartans through their last double drills Thursday in which defenses against UCLA's passing game were emphasized. The Spartans seemed to handle the Bruin single-wing formation better than they had in previous workouts and Daugherty said he was pleased.

MIAMI, Fla. (UP) — Freddy Wyant, West Virginia quarterback, and Pat Bisceglia, Notre Dame guard, have been named co-captains for the North team that will meet the South in the annual Shrine Game Dec, 26.

The Yankees worked on pass defense and polished up their running game during Thursday's drill. In the South camp, the emphasis was on defense.

WASHINGTON (UP)— Howard Cassady, the All-America from Ohio State, won another honor today—the Washington Touchdown Club's Walter Camp Memorial Trophy as the year's outstanding college back.

The Buckeye star already has been awarded the Heisman and Maxwell trophies as outstanding college football player of the year. He will receive the Walter Camp Trophy at the Touchdown Club's annual dinner Jan. 7.

Ohio State, Indiana Add Victories To Their Cage Records

By UNITED PRESS

Two Big Ten teams added victories to their cage records Thursday in pre-Christmas games.

Ohio State, paced by the 34-point performance of Robin Freeman, toppled the University of Washington, 94-63, while Indiana came from behind in the second half to defeat Drake 82-79.

Ohio State's fast-breaking quintet gained the upper hand just before the end of the first half to lead at intermission 44-39. From that point, the Huskies, coached by former Buckeye mentor William Dye, never caught up.

The triumph marked the fifth straight win for Ohio State.

Indiana added its fifty victory in six starts by rallying to erase a five-point deficit in the second half. Forward Wallie Choice led the Hoosier attack with 23 points, most of them on long set shots.

Guard Hallie Bryant pulled the game out of the grasp of Drake when he sank a spectacular field goal with less than three minutes to play. His two points put Drake behind 78-77 and a few seconds later Bryant added two free throws for good measure.

At present he is visiting his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Von Eichhorn of Uniondale. He expects to return to Calif., around December 30.

The basement social room of Saturn Christian church was well filled Sunday night for the special Christmas program. The minister Rev. Paul Clark presented the Christmas story especially for the children. Santa arrived with treats and the group enjoyed singing carols accompanied by Lois Gordon on her accordion. Refreshments of doughnuts, coffee and hot chocolate were served.

Sonarman 1-c James Leighton left Saturday after spending two weeks here visiting his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Wren Herbst and daughters. Sonarman Leighton has been in the Navy for the past eleven years and is making it his career. He is stationed in the Panama Canal Zone.

The Builders Class of the Laud Christian church held their Christmas dinner at the 30 Club at 7 p.m. Friday. Sixteen were present. The group later held their meeting at the home of Mrs. Tom Juillerat in Columbia City. Mrs. Henry Lefever presented the Christmas lesson and the group sang carols. They also remembered the minister with a gift for Christmas and his wedding gift. They sent a gift to their proxy child, Nelson Chaney, at the Cleveland, Ohio, Christian Home. The January meeting will be with Mrs. Michael Edsall.

The cub pack meeting held Saturday evening in the social room of the Laud Christian church was well attended by the cubs, den mothers and the parents. Articles made by the various dens were on display. Den 3 headed by Mrs. John Mathiew, conducted the opening ceremonies and den 5 headed by Mrs. Max Kaufman, had the closing ceremonies, during which the entire group sang "Silent Night."

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lefever had as Sunday dinner guests Rev. Paul Clark, Miss Yvonne Racine and Mr. and Mrs. Ansel Mullett.

The Saturn-Laud junior CYF met Thursday evening at the home of Lois Sheets in Washington township. Keith Doudt was the leader for the devotional period and recreation. The group exchanged gifts. The next meeting will be held January 5 at the home of Max Lefever and Charlotte Hurd will be the leader.

Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Hindbaugh and family and Mrs. Clarence Ihrig were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Hindbaugh of Etna-Troy township.

The Laud-Saturn Chi Rho group held their regular meeting and party Monday evening at the home of Richard Tschantz. The group enjoyed a gift exchange.

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Crowell, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Crowell and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. William Wheeler and daughter motored to Kendallville Sunday where they were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Porter Crowell.

Ezzard Charles Defeats Albright

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Ezzard Charles, just a shell of a former world heavyweight champion, still wants another shot at Rocky Marciano.

After whipping big Bob Albright on a split decision here Thursday nightCharles asked:

"Who else is there around to give Rocky a battle?"

Manager Tom Tannis proposed that Archie Moore and Charles meet for the right to tangle again with Marciano.

"Although Ezzard has beaten Archie three times already, it appears they are the only ones on the scene right now who can give Rocky a battle," Tannis said.

Continuing progress toward the development of a superior sprout inhibitor for use on stored potatoes is being made by plant pysiologists of the Department of Agriculture.

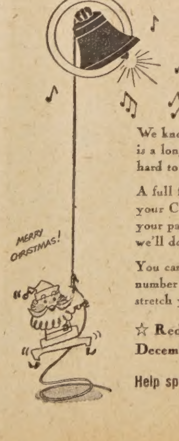
The Happy Sounds of Christmas...
...mean so much to all of us!



MERRY CHRISTMAS!

We know that one of the happiest holiday sounds is a long distance call to a loved one. That's why we try so hard to get every Christmas call through.

A full force of operators will be on hand to help make your Christmas complete. We may not be able to reach your party at the exact time you'd like, but you can bet we'll do our best to complete your call!

You can help us to serve you better if you know the number and use it on your calls. And this year you can stretch your holiday calls over two whole days.

☆ Reduced holiday rates apply on Monday, December 26, as well as on Sunday, Christmas Day.

Help speed your calls — Remember to call by number!

Hartack, Merrill To Be Honored At Dinner Of Champions

HALLANDALE, Fla. (UP) — Willie Hartack, the nation's leading rider who on Wednesday hung up his tack for 1955 with 412 victories, and Frank H. Merrill, Jr., the top trainer of the year, will be honored guests at a "Dinner of Champions" on Wednesday Dec. 28. Both will be presented with appropriate trophies by James Dunn, president of Gulfstream Park.

Circuit Court News

In the hearing on medical claims against the estate of Mrs. Alice A. Stickler, taking of evidence was concluded Wednesday and the arguments of counsel heard. However, the court anounced he will withhold his finding and judgment until Dec. 28.

In the petition of Joseph Wilkinson and others for drainage, the court had found the project completed fully and has ordered the contractor and engineer released from liability, along with their bondsmen.

Ralph F. Gates, as special judge in the divorce action brought by Mrs. Ruby F. Riemersa against Cornie Riemersa, granted an absolute divorce to the plaintiff. She is to recover from the defendant $1500 in alimony in 90 days, she is to have custody of their two sons, Robert an dGlen, with the defendant having the right to visitation. Riemeras is to pay $15 weekly beginning Dec. 24 for their support and also for the plaintiff's attorney's fees and costs in the action. The court has declared both tenants in common in connection with ownership of 89.79 acres in Richland township and that they will be jointly liable for all present encumberances on the real estate. Mrs. Riemersa's attorney is John D. Widman, Warsaw. Representing the defendant is Joseph R. Roe.

Traffic deaths to date are twice the total of deaths in all wars in U.S. history.

Wrong Party

ESSEX, Conn. (UP)—Santa Claus bounded into a Christmas party with a hearty "Ho, ho, ho" and began to hand out the gifts.

The names were unfamiliar. Santa stumbled over a couple. Then he beat a hasty retreat.

He was hear to exclaim as he drove out of sight: "Wrong party."

Burglar Posing As Santa Claus Kills Two Men

ALEXANDRIA, La. (UP) — Police hunted for an unkempt burglar who told a little girl he was Santa Claus and then killed her father and his father-in-law when they surprised him looting their home.

The intruder Thursday entered a bedroom where Mary Susan Felknor, 4, and her brother Frank, 2, were sleeping.

He quieted the awakened Mary Susan by telling her he came to leave presents under the Christmas tree "for your daddy."

Air Force Capt. Edward M. Felknor, 32, and his father-in-law Frank E. Miller, 55, of Clinton, S.C., were killed with six shots from a .22 caliber pistol when they surprised the burglar in another bedroom.

Authorities questioned 13 persons without finding a clue to the identity of the slayer.

The search for the killer ranged from Oakdale, La., to Natchez, Miss. He was described as badly in need of a shave and was believed to have fled the pre-dawn death scene in a late model Chevrolet coupe.

Quarrel To Be Made Up On Christmas

PARIS (UP) — A 25-year-old family quarrel will be made up on Christmas.

A young husband, annoyed at his mother-in-law's too strict views about religion, refused through the years to have his children baptised.

All nine of them will be baptised Christmas morning.

Craig Ill

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Governr Craig was confined to the executive mansion with a virus infection today as speculation built up that he might run for the U.S. Senate in 1956 after all.

Fire Damages Elkhart Store

ELKHART, Ind. (UP)—A fire burned through the interior of a three-story department store in the heart of the downtown district today, and firemen said damages would total at least $100,000.

One fireman and the wife of a night watchman at the store suffered minor injuries as a result of the blaze.

It broke out about dawn, apparently in a basement of the Charles Drake Co. store where cartons were stored. Firemen had it under control within two hours, but they expetced to be at work much of the day before completely extinguishing the blaze.

The fire was confined inside the brick building, which is about one-half block long. Flames shot out several windows, and there was smoke damage to an adjoining drugstore.

Fireman Donald E. Abel suffered minor hip bruises when he was knocked from a ladder by a hose. Mrs. Floyd Swinehart, who was asleep in the store with her husband, the watchman, ran back inside once to get her husband's shoes, and her hair was singed.

The watchman, Floyd, 66, said he discovered the fire when he awoke. Flames cut him off from a telephone, so he ran outside wearing only his pants to summon aid.

Fire Chief Miles Houghton estimated damage to be at least $100,000.

fornia was over its banks. There were already ten known dead in the two states, at least a dozen more were missing and feared dead, and damage was estimated at least 10 million dollars.

Flood Imperil Reno

Thousands of flood-routed families faced the prospect of spending Christmas in makeshift dormitories set up in schools and public buildings.

The weeklong rain was also melting snows in the High Sierra, turning the Truckee River into a furious torrent at Reno, Nev. The river was swollen to nearly six times its normal size and emergency crews were called out to keep the rushing waters from spilling into the downtown section.

New York's snowstorm appeared to be the last blast from a weeklong cold wave which at one time covered most of the nation. Southerly winds sent temperatures rising 15 to 25 degrees practically everywhere east of the Rockies today.

Pig Crop

12 per cent larger than in 1954. The number of pigs per litter for the 1955 fall crop was 6.81, the highest on record.

The fall pig totals for this year are above those of last year in all regions. The North Atlantic states are up 6 per cent; East North Central, 10 per cent; West North Central, 13 per cent; South Atlantic, 3 per cent; South Central, 18 per cent; and West, 10 per cent.

Farmers' reports on breeding intentions indicate that production in the West North Central and Western states will drop 7 per cent and 2 per cent, respectively. Breeding intentions for the East North Central region are the same as last year. All other regions showed increases, with the North Atlantic region up 1 per cent, South Atlantic region up 3 per cent, and South Central up 11 per cent.

The department said the number of hogs over 6 months old on farms Dec. 1 this year was about 5 per cent more than the number on Dec. 1 last year.

Farrowings of the 1955 spring crop were the earliest of record and hogs have been marketed at lighter weights than a year earlier.

cabin and it contained some food. He stayed at that cabin Monday and Monday night. Tuesday he started out again, following a road from the cabin but he decided he wouldn't find his way out by evening. He went back to the cabin and stayed there again Tuesday night.

"Wednesday Horan tore the racks out of a refrigerator at the cabin and fashioned some makeshift snowshoes. He started out again and followed the rim of the lake. He built a fire Wednesday night with material he took from the cabin and he stayed by the fire overnight.

Found Inn Thursday

"He started out again Thursday morning and finally found the inn the same afternoon.'

Despite his condition when he stumbled into the inn Horan phoned his tiny Japanese wife waiting with their three children at Fort Lawton at Seattle.

"I'm all right honey," he told her. "I love you. I'll see you tomorrow.

I love you, Johnny, I love you, sobbed his wife Teruko.

She was so overcome with emotion she had to be given a sedative and put to bed after she talked with Horan.

Honey bees' great contribution to agriculture is the pollination of 50 or more important crops that are almost entirely dependent on bees for seed production.

Craig Will Urge Ford To Build Plant In Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Governor Craig announced through his staff today that he will go to Detroit next week to urge Ford Motor Co. officials to build a new plant in Indiana.

The governor will take economic data about the state to Ford officials on Tuesday. He said Indiana is "under consideration" for a new plant which would employ about 3,000 persons with an annual payroll of 15 million dollars.

Ford planned to build it at Columbus, Ohio, but changed plans because of an adverse zoning ruling there. It was reported earlier Indianapolis might be the location.

"The Ford people told me they still haven't made up their minds," Craig said. "I thought it might be useful to provide them with as much information and data about Indiana as possible."

Accompanying him to Detroit will be Dean Arthur Weimer, head of Indiana University's School of Business which has just completed an economic prospectus about Indiana.

Pappy Gault Takes Title From O'Brien

SPARTANBURG, S.C. (UP) — Henry "Pappy" Gault of Spartanburg took the U.S. bantamweight title from Boston's Johnny O'Brien Thursday night, leaving the defending champion a bruised face and a nearly-closed left eye in return.

Gault, who weighed 117¾ pounds battered O'Brien's head with a stream of left jabs to win a unanimous, 15-round decision. O'Brien, who decisioned Gault at West Palm Beach, Fla., last December in their only previous meeting, scaled 117 1-4.

There were no knockdowns. Gault, a former North American bantamweight titleholder, drew the only blood when he hit O'Brien's nose in the eighth.

First Family To Lead Nation In Having Old-fashioned Christmas

BIRD-FEEDING HOBBY PAYS OFF—C. R. Likins, almost 75 years old, retired in 1950 as an aircraft inspector and has since parlayed his hobby into a new business—building "scientific" bird feeders. He's shown above inspecting some of his colorful "restaurants" in his Cleveland, Ohio, workshop. In action now from Canada to Texas, Likins' feeders consist of citrus, tomato juice, pickle and lard cans for containers and cut-up coat hangers for "working parts." Metal "cone" awnings protect birds from the rain. His feeders hold from a pint to as much as 50 pounds of food. He says birds he feeds eat up to 40 pounds of food a week.

Traffic Deaths, Savage Weather Spoil Nation's Christmas Holiday

By UNITED PRESS

Mounting traffic deaths and savage weather spoiled the merriment of the nation's Christmas celebration today.

The National Safety Council warned that today — the day before Christmas — is the most deadly 24-hour span of the year on the streets and highways. An estimated 560 persons will be dead in traffic accidents before the holiday ends at midnight Monday.

Already, a United Press count showed, 43 persons had died in traffic smashups across the nation since the holiday weekend began at 6 p.m. Friday night. In addition, three persons died in fires and five in miscellaneous accidents for a holiday death total of 51.

Illinois Tops List

Illinois recorded the most shocking total when 12 persons were killed in car accidents, most of them in the Chicago area, during the holiday's early hours. There were eight traffic fatalities in Michigan and five each in Ohio and California, already ravaged by killer floods.

Near Washington, Pa., the lives of three teenagers were snuffed out in a single headon crash.

Fires, which had already taken 31 lives in the 48 hours before the holiday, claimed three more Friday night when the Roman Catholic convent of Our Lady of Grace at Guilford, Conn., burned down. All the victims were nuns.

In Northern California, Oregon, and Nevada, the holiday season coincided with some of the worst floods on record.

At least 15 persons were known dead, scores more were missing and feared dead, and 25,000 flood refugees spent the holidays in makeshift shelters — if they were lucky.

There was some hope that Christmas would bring relief from the floods, however. Week-long rains and howling winds abated and flood waters were falling back in California, Oregon and Nevada.

New Fury In Rockies

But to the east, the weather unleashed new fury in the Rocky Mountain states and the northern plains.

Hurricane - force winds ranging from 90 to 100 miles per hour raked parts of Colorado, Utah Wyoming, and the Dakotas late Friday. The blasts, heralding the advance of a cold front, smashed through windows, tipped over trailer homes, and caused widespread

Meditation

The Path of a Wise Man

" Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the King, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jersualem, saying, Where is He that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship Him." Matthew 2:1-2.

One of the carols we sing at Christmas time is, "We Three Kings." No portrayal of our Lords Nativity would be complete without the entrance of three Kings from the east to the strains of this song. Yet to be technical the scripture does not say Kings, but rather calls them wise men.

There can be no doubt but that the men were of a character that surpassed that of many Kings of their day and after. Yet, they were wise men and not kings.

A large billboard along the highway to Fort Wayne quotes part of the above passage, and then adds the thought, Wise Men Still Seek Him!

Webster's Collegiate Dictionary says that wisdom is the power of true and right discernment. These men from the east made a right discernment. From their study of Hebrew Scripture and observation of the stars they discerned that the King of the Jews had been born as was prophecied of old. "there shall come a Star out of Jacob, and a Sceptre shall rise out of the land of Israel." (Numbers 24:17).

God has sent the Star and Wise Men today will be able to discern that Jesus is the Savior.

The dictionary adds also that wisdom is conformity to the course of action dictated by such discernment. The wise men of old, after they discerned the truth, sent out on a long journey that cost them much; but they saw the KING.

They acted in conformity with the dictates of wisdom. And wise men of today who discern through the Holy Scriptures that Jesus is the Savior will accept Him and conform their life to a life of Godliness regardless of what it may cost.

District Dairy Meeting Slated At 4-H Center

Striving To Better Consumer Relations

"Improved relations between the producer, consumer and distributor," will be the theme for a district-wide dairy program, to be held Friday, January 20, at the 4-H Center, reports Ralph Kelley, president of the Northeastern Indiana Dairy Association.

The day's program has been arranged by the executive committee of the association, which is made up of manufacturers, county agents and producers.

The head-line speaker will be Dr Herrell DeGaff, professor of food economics Cornel University. Dr DeGraff has been employed by the American Dairy Association to tell the public the story of dairy products over TV and radio.

The morning's program will begin at 10:00 a.m. with State Veterinarian Dr. Joe W. Green of the Indiana State Livestock Sanitary Board. Dr. Green will discuss the brucellosis program in Northeastern Indiana and the state.

The second morning speaker will be Dr. C. E. French of the Agricultural Economics depart-

Pope Pius Calls For International Agreement To Ban Test, Use Of Nuclear Weapons

VATICAN CITY (UP) — Pope Pius XII called today for an international agreement to ban the test and use of nuclear weapons.

8he 79-year-old Pontiff made the plea in his annual Christmas message to the world. The speech was broadcast in 29 languages by seven national radio networks.

The Pope said such a ban must be based on an effective system of international inspection and control.

He told the peoples and leaders of the world that it was a "duty of conscience" to achieve such an agreement to prevent destruction

The Pope warned of the increasing dangers of nuclear experiments. But he emphasized the prohibition of use and test of the dreaded hydrogen and atomic bombs should be part of a general agreement on inspection and controls.

Sitting on a golden throne in the Consistorial Hall of the Apostolic Palace of the Vatican, the Pope spoke before the microphones of Vatican Radio before a glittering array of 16 purple-clad cardinals and high-ranking church and lay officials.

"Efforts toward peace," he said "must consist not only in measures aimed at restricting the possibility of waging war, but even more in preventing, or eliminating, or lessening with time the quarrels between nations which might lead to war.

Tonight at 6 p.m. EST, radio listeners may hear the Pope's voice when he recites Christmas mass in his private chapel. Vatican radio will broadcast the mass which will be attended only by a few intimates.

Christmas morning, the Pope will recite two more masses. They will not be broadcasting.

Army Takes Over Peruvian Cradle Of Revolution

Following Revolt By Students, Union Leaders And Police

AREQUIPA, Peru (UP) —The Army took over this south Peruvian "cradle of revolution" today with orders to quell a four-day-old "revolt' supported by students union leaders and the local police.

Maj. Gen. Ricardo Perez Godoy, commander of the garrison here, assumed control of the city and province of Arequipa in place of Gov. Ernesto Pflucker, who resigned when the police lined up with anti-government forces.

Several persons were injured Wednesday when police fired into the crowd at a pro-government mass meeting in the worst incident reported so far in the subversive upheaval.

Commercial Activity Slowed

No other major violence has been reported, but commercial activity in Arequipa was virtually paralyzed Friday by a general strike called to enforce rebel demands for the resignation of Interior Minister Alejandro Esparza Zanartu and the repeal of the unpopular internal security law.

A "protest committee" of students and union leaders also is demanding a blanket pardon for political offenders and reform of the electoral law before the June 3 presidential election.

The rebels apparently were not satisfied by President Manuel Odria's promise two weeks ago that he will throw open the gates of Peru's political prisons before the voters choose his successor.

Perez relayed the committee's demands to Lima. He told a press conference here Friday he was awaiting orders from the capital.

Trouble Started Wednesday

The trouble here started Wednesday, when an anti - government mob massed at the municipal theater top revent a political meeting scheduled by the "national (government) coalition."

Leaders of the official group called for police protection, but the police turned their tear-gas guns on the government supporters instead of the mob.

Arequipa, Peru's third city, is traditionally a center of rebel sentiment. This country's independence from Spain was proclaimed here more than 100 years ago, and it was a rising of the Arequipa garrison in 1948 that started the revolution that swept Odria to power.

New Type Plane To Be Built And Tested In 1956

Will Take Off And Land Vertically

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (UP)—A wingless, tailless "flying body" plane, designed to take off and land vertically, will be constructed and tested next year, an aircraft designer has reveaed.

Dr. A. M. Lippisch, designer of the radically new plane and director of aeronautical research at the Collins Radio Co., revealed details of the craft Friday.

He said it would be able to take off and land vertically while in a horizontal position and should be able to fly "at least at the same speeds of jet planes today."

Models of the plane have been test flown, he said, and a full-scale experimental model of the "Aerodyne" will be completed sometime next year.

Research on the Aerodyne is being financed by the U.S. Navy, Lippisch revealed, and experiments have been under way since 1952. Security restrictions on the research were lifted only last Wednesday.

The wingless Aerodyne is based on an entirely new concept of flight and "does not have a prototype," Lippisch said.

It will look like the fuselage of a normal plane, except that its wings, external engines, and tail assembly will be sheared off.

Air will be sucked through the front of the craft and will pass through a blower arrangement into a curbed diffuser. The air will finally be ejected through an opening in the bottom of the plane.

When the pilot wishes low speed or hovering flight, the air will be deflected straight down by a Venetian blind type of grillwork over the exhaust opening.

The deflectors will be partly or fully retracted for faster forward flight, Lippish said. Gas turbine engines will supply the plane's power.

Lippisch designed the delta wings used on German gliders in the 1930s and later designed the Messerschmidt 163, the world's first combat rocket fighter.

Departments At Blue Bell Have Party, Gift Exchange

Blue Bell Inc. employes enjoyed a gift exchange party in each department Friday at the loacl plant.

The cutting tables were decorated for each department with the following department supervisors serving as hostesses: the Mesdames Gladys Albert, Clare Eilen Fugate, Eloise Zent, Ruth Runion, Sarah Coon, Eunice Ditton Harriet Kaufman.

Candy was served and all employes received turkeys as gifts. All employes who have been with the company for five years or longer (over 30 per cent) received a Christmas bonus.

A turkey and ham dinner was served to all employes Wednesday Mrs. Lucille Scott is in charge of the cafeteria.

The Salvation Army trucks will pick up waste paper in Columbia City on Thursday, December 29.

It will help the collectors if you have small pieces of paper such as Christmas wrapping and packing, secured in-sacks and boxes. Magazines and newspapers are handled more easily if placed in boxes or tied in bundles.

Christmas Gift For Community

Aside from the greatest gift......Peace for America and the precious preservation of the Four Freedoms in our land..a welcome Christmas gift, in the community, is the rebuilding rapidly of the Fibre Form factory.

This is due, in large, to the vigorous and aggressive management of the company. These men, the two Brennan brothers and their father, with the aid of a loyal force, are expediting the reconstruction of their plant, ravaged by fire on Nov. 17.

Not to be overlooked are the various contractors who are pushing the rebuilding job to get the Fibre Form in full production as quickly as possible, working under the handicap of winter cold.

The payroll of the firm is essential to maintaining 40 workers and a return to production will be welcoming news to these individuals. Already wherever possible the employes have been called back to work....to ready machines and equipment for the production days ahead.

The Brennans during the rapid reconstruction of the Fibre Form are improving their manufacturing facilities and adding to their floor space. They have moved a small dwelling adjacent to the factory and are extending their plant to the south.

The management of the Fibre Form has gone ahead energetically in the good old American tradition..without asking for public or private aid, reassembling a production line to market its products in a free enterprise market.

These, who are expending their energy to make 1956 a brighter year in Columbia City, are bringing the community a much appreciated Christmas gift.

Baby Chokes To Death On Candy

MOLINE, Ill. (UP) — Steven Allan Noel, an 18-month-old boy whose last name means a Christmas carol or a sign of joy, choked to death Friday night on a piece of Christmas candy.

It was already a tragic Christmas for the Noel family, even before Steven's death. His father died less than three weeks ago.

Three Nuns Are Burned To Death In Convent Fire

Fire Levels Four Buildings

GUILFORD, Conn. (UP)—Three nuns burned to death and another was injured Friday night in a fire that levelled the four buildings of a Roman Catholic convent. Another 41 nuns and a priest were able to escape the flames.

The tragedy struck as the members of Our Lady of Grace Monastary were preparing for their deeply religious celebration of Christmas, one of the most joyous days in the convent's year.

The nuns who were killed were identified as Sister Mary Delores, Sister Mary Regina and Sister Mary Constance. Their baptismal names were not immediately available.

The injured nun, identified as Sister Mary Pierre, was taken to St. Raphael's Hospital in New Haven, Conn., where she was in good condition with a broken foot. She received the injury in jumping from a second floor window of the burning convent.

Possible tragedy was averted in a convent fire in Elizabeth, N.J., Friday because of the timely action of a nun, Sister Frances Anthony, of the Immaculate Conception Church Convent, smelled smoke coming from the basement of the building and rang the prayer bell. The warning enabled four nuns and their housekeeper to escape in time. Flames severely damaged the building.

Forty - one survivors of the Guilford fire were taken to Albertus Magnus College in New Haven.

The fire, believed to have been started by a short circuit, spread rapidly through the main building, which included the dormitory, and three other buildings.

All four buildings were levelled.

The bodies of two of the dead were found huddled in one corner of a room in the main building. The third body, also badly burned, was found on the ground outside the room's window. Apparently the third nun had jumped from the building, her clothing aflame.

Tri-Lakes Man Hurt In Crash

Richard Lohmeyer, 30, of Tri-Lakes, was being held at Whitley County Hospital today for x-rays to determine the extent of injuries he received about 8:20 a.m. Saturday in a one-car accident.

Driving his 1951 DeSoto sedan on the county blacktop highway from Churubusco to Tri-Lakes, he crashed at the Smith-Thorncreek township line. The accident was investigated by State Policeman Norman Pierce.

Americans Sing Christmas Carols On Soviet Radio

First Time Since 1917 Such Songs Broadcast There

LENINGRAD (UP)—The American company of "Porgy and Bess" today sang Christmas carols over a Soviet radio. It was the first time since the 1917 revolution that such songs have been broadcast in the Soviet Union.

The Americans were forgetting the sub-zero cold this Christmas Eve in the warmth of their reception in the Soviet's second largest city.

Leningrad has gone wild over the members of the first American troupe to ever visit the Soviet Union. And the Americans almost unanimously agree that this is the most enthusiastic reception they have enjoyed in their years of globetrotting.

The Americans, even before they have presented the George Gershwin production, area "solid hit." Russians look on in delight and admiration as they jitterbug in the restaurant of the Astoria, the plushest hotel in Leningrad.

"They all look like Paul Robeson," is an often-heard comment.

Throughout the day, mobs of Russians followed the actors along the snow - blanketed Nevskyl Boulevard, and besieged them outside of the czarist winter palace, shaking hands and demanding autographs.

"It's phenomenal," said Roberto Breen, the producer.

"It's fantastic," added Anatole Heller, manager.

Paul T. Riddick Is Appointed Program Chairman For HSPA

Paul T. Riddick, publisher of The LaGrange Standard and Robert Brown of the Columbus Evening Republican have been appointed co-chairmen of the annual Hoosier State Press Association convention at Indianapolis April 6 and 7.

Mr. Riddick will be in charge of the sessions for the weekly publishers, while Mr. Brown will handle the program for the daily publishers.

Paul Riddick is a brother of Foster Riddick, Whitley county treasurer.

Holiday Truce For Negotiators Of Detroit Papers

Picketing Halted Until Tuesday

DETROIT (UP) — A holiday truce between strikers and publishers of Detroit's three major daily newspapers went into effect today with negotiations aimed at settling the 24-day strike scheduled to resume next Tuesday.

Under the agreement, picketing was halted until Tuesday morning and publishers have agreed not to attempt to publish during that time.

Bargaining sessions, also in recess during the three-day holiday, were scheduled to resume Tuesday between the Detroit Free Press, one of the struck dailies, and the American Newspaper Guild which represented idled editorial, advertising and business employes of the newspaper.

The Detroit News and the Detroit Times are the other newspapers affected.

The strike began when the Stereotypers Union struck in support of demands for extra help to handle color plate work. Members of seven other unions employed by the dailies were idled.

Since then, two of the eight unions involved have reached agreement on new contracts with the publishers while two others officially joined the stereotypers of strike.

Contracts of all eight Unions have expired.

Leaves Hospital

Mrs. Harvey Kemery was dismissed from the Lutheran Hospital, Fort Wayne, Friday afternoon and returned to her home at 208 South Wayne street in the J. A. DeMoney and Son ambulance.

Mrs. Kemery suffered injuries in a fall at her home last Wednesday evening. She has been placed in an arm and shoulder cast.

Make Last-Minute Preparations For Religious Holiday

President Will Play Santa Claus To His Grandchildren

By PATRICIA WIGGINS
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower's three oldest grandchildren moved into the White House today as the first family made last-minute preparations to lead the nation in celebrating an old fashioned Christmas.

Maj. John Eisenhower and his three children moved into the gaily decorated executive mansion from their home at Ft. Belvoir, Va.

The President will put aside his official burdens Sunday to play Santa Claus for his excited grandchildren — David, 7, Barbara Anne, 6, and Susan, 3. Wearing mufti, he will personally distribute gifts to the children as they gather around the big tree in the White House's second floor living room.

To Resume Work

Mr. Eisenhower apparently planned to resume work immediately after the holidays, possibly postponing indefinitely the trip South suggested by his doctors.

He told the Key West, Fla., Chamber of Commerce in a better disclosed Friday that he doubts he will "be able to leave Washington" or a trip South this winter. He said he thought he "should go no further than Georgia, if I do manage to get away."

The letter was in reply to an invitation to visit Key West.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said there is "no emergency" keeping Mr. Eisenhower in Washington. But he added the return of Congress next month entails a "considerable amount" of work by Mr. Eisenhower.

Earlier, Hagerty had indicated Mr. Eisenhower probably would leave for Augusta, Ga., some time after Congress returned Jan. 3. The President's doctors had urged the southern trip to aid his recovery from his heart attack Sept. 24.

To Attend Church

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower plan to attend the regular Christmas Day services at the National Presbyterian Church. The President will be attending church for the first time since his heart attack.

Eighteen persons will be seated around the president's table in the state dining room for a Christmas turkey dinner.

Among the guests will be Mrs. John Eisenhower, who gave birth to the President's fourth grandchild Wednesday. However, little Mary Jean Eisenhower will spend Christmas in Walter Reed Army Hospital where she was born.

Christmas Eve Brings Glimmer Of Hope As Storms Subside, Government Rushes Aid To Flood Area

By EDWIN S. CAPPS
United Press Staff Correspondent

MARYSVILLE, Calif. (UP)—An army of 2,000 volunteers battled today to hold off the swollen Feather and Yuba Rivers which were threatening to swallow up the thriving town of Marysville in the heart of California's disaster area.

Both the Feather and the Yuba were lapping at the top of their levees.

But Christmas Eve brought a glimmer of hope for some 25,000 homeless people with a letup in the week-long series of violent storms which ravaged other sections of California, Oregon and Nevada.

Most of the 10,000 residents of Marysville were evacuated to safety west of the Feather River Friday afternoon by order of the city council.

Passed Critical Level

The balance of the city's able-bodied, augmented by soldiers from nearby Beale Air Force Base patroled the seven miles of levees surrounding the city as the water rose to — and then passed — what engineers considered the "critical point."

The crest hit 81 feet and there were fears the levees would break, sending an 18-foot wall of water surging through the city.

The Marysville threat was the latest development in a series of disastrous floods which have plagued the three-state area as the result of one of the worst storms in western history.

At least 15 persons were known to have died and property damage was estimated at nearly 10 million dollars in flood areas stretching along a 500-mile belt from south-central California to central Oregon and including the Reno area of Nevada.

President Eisenhower formally declared the flood areas of California a major disaster area and threw the full resources of the federal government into the relief and rescue work.

Letup In Rain

A letup in the driving rain and howling winds came as almost an answer to a Christmas prayer to the three-state area — but the damage was already done.

Eight communities were completely wiped out and at least 15 others were inundated as swollen, muddy rivers rushed to the sea carrying with them complete

Mrs. John Hooker's Car Catches Fire

The fire department was called about 3 p.m. Friday on U.S. 30 near the American Legion home to extinguish the blaze which was threatening the 1955 Buick automobile operated by Mrs. John B. Hooker, third-grade teacher in the West Ward school.

A passing motorist, seeing Mrs. Hooker's trouble, turned in an alarm for her at the Crystal Dairy bar. Meanwhile a truck driver from Warsaw, not identified, jumped from the cab of his tractor and extinguished the blaze, confined to the area under the hood, with a fire extinguisher. The fire truck, when it arrived, pushed the auto onto the old U.S. 30 approach to U. S. 30 and check it to see that the blaze did not restart.

Thursday Was Rough Day For Santa Clauses

LONDON (UP)—It was a rough day for Santa Clauses in London Thursday.

One Santa saw red and soundly thrashed another who was proclaiming that "Christmas is a good time to join the Communist Party. A third Santa got stuck in an elevator.

The thrashing incident occurred in Hyde Park on the famous "Speakers Corner where orators of any political tinge traditionally have freedom of expression. But not this time.

Passers-by took little notice at first of the little man in a grubby red robe and tattle tale grey-white beard who paraded morosely up and down with his placard inviting them to join the Communists.

Then a taxicab screeched to a stop, the door was flung open and out jumped a second Santa. He floored the Communist Santa with a right hook, rolled him in the mud and then strode back to his waiting taxi.

"Im Santa in a London store and I was on my way to work when I saw that Commie parading around, he said. "I just saw red. This is one time when politics should be forgotten and he's the only one I don't wish a Merry Christmas to.

The card - carrying Santa could not be reached for comment.

Santa No. 3 had his troubles in a movie theater in Wardour Street where he went tod istributegift s where he went to distribute gifts to children. He was using an elevator for a dramatic appearance but it stuck between floors. Children wailed and Santa cussed until a mechanic freed him 20 minutes later.

"Next time Ill use the chimney, he growled.

French Troops Stand Guard In Algeria

ALGIERS (UP)—French troops stood guard throughout troubled Algeria today on alert against the threat of a Christmas Eve uprising by Arab terrorists who caused 40 deaths during the past 24 hours.

One of the largest Moslem parties Friday night called on its members to boycott the Algerian government as a protest against the deteriorating situation.

In Paris, Premier Edgar Faure's chief aide canceled Christmas plans to lead a four-man investigating commission due here Sunday.

A military report covering the 24 hours ending Friday said that French troops arrested 98 suspects. Seven were definitely identified as "rebels."

Several farms were set afire and telegraph poles cut down Friday, but officials said the situation was "generally quiet."

The elements carbon, copper, gold, iron, lead, mercury, silver, sulfur, tin and zinc were discovered before the birth of Christ.

The British weight measure cwt. or hundredweight, is equal to 112 American pounds.

Christmas Songs

Lesson for December 25, 1955

DID the angels sing when Christ was born? Some prosaic and unimaginative people say they didn't. True enough, Luke never says there was music. All he says is that the "multitude of the heavenly host" (he does not even say they were angels) were praising God and "saying, Glory to God in the highest . . ." Surely Christian art and Christian story is not wrong in thinking of this as song, not mere recitation or speech-making. At any rate, if the angels did not sing such words, the church has sung them. All down through the Christian centuries Christmas has been a singing time. You cannot suggest all that Christmas means in simple spoken prose; you have to sing.

Dr. Foreman

Beauty in a Jangled World

Luke, who had an ear for such things, put into his gospel not less than four poems connected with the birth of Christ. Of these the "Glory in the highest" is the shortest. The others are the words of Mary (Luke 1:47-55), of Zachariah (1:67-79) and of Simeon (chap. 2:29-32). In the R.S.V. these are printed as poetry, as they really are. (The reader will note other poetic passages, but these are the four most famous ones.) The church has set all these to music many times over, and in some churches they are sung every week. Mary's song like the others has been given a Latin name, from their first words in the Latin Bible: "Magnificat" for Mary's song, "Benedictus" for Zechariah's, "Gloria in excelsis" for the angels', and "Nunc Dimittis" for Simeon's. But modern church-goers do not always realize that each of these poems was called forth in some way by the birth of Jesus. This is as it should be. What poetry is to language and to sound, the coming of Christ is to this world of humanity. In the midst of all the jangling, wrangling, maddening and often meaningless noises of the world, in the midst of all the stupid ordinary soon-forgotten outpouring of talk, talk, talk, a lovely poem comes bringing beauty and meaning, like a rose in a junk-yard. So in the midst of our jangling world Christ comes bringing meaning and joy and peace

Some Will Not Listen

To some—to too many—Christmas means nothing. "Silent Night" is a tune to be tired of, nothing more. The angels might as well never have sung, the Story never written. Readers of TIME magazine will recall an article last July 18 about a writer who is typical of many men and women in these times. He knows there is such a thing as the way of Love, for every cross on every church proclaims it, and every Christmas carol sings it. But he will not accept it. He chooses the way of defiance and despair. To him, life is a wandering in the dark, with nothing but his own candle which will soon go out.

But Some Have Heard

On the other hand there are many, and among them some of mankind's best, who have found in the Christian faith something more than merely a story, a lovely legend, a song for little children, something which it would be pleasant, but impossible, to believe. A good book to get for the new year is one called "This I Believe about Jesus Christ" (edited by J. C. Monsma; Revell & Co., New York). It is a collection of testimonies to Jesus Christ, by an impressive variety of men and women. College presidents, executives of great business firms, scientists, politicians, persons in many walks of life, all write on the same theme, what Christ has meant to them. Any one who thinks that Christianity is a religion only for weak characters ought to read this book. Any one who thinks that Christ is attractive only to children, might well read this book and learn better. The writers by their testimonies show that not alone for ancient and legend-loving times, not only for simple peasants in primitive lands, but for modern men, hard-headed, highly educated, burdened with great responsibilities, Christ brings meaning and beauty as well as power. Strong voices in every land join the heavenly host in praise to God who has given us his Son.

Meditation

By REV. ERNEST MINEGAR
Churubusco Methodist Circuit

"Where is He, that is born King." Matthew 2:2.

If we were to scan the world over, we would find many records of celebrations with their celebrities, lying unloved and unremembered amid the dust of the centuries: they have had their day, and now cease to be, but the world at large are unaware of this fact.

Is there any other event in the pages of history that commands such faithfulness, such remembrances of praise and devotion, such constant and universal recognition, as the coming to earth of God in lowly guise—the birth of the "Babe of Bethlehem."

And from His birth, He has taken His place in the forefront of mankind: He was born King, in His own words, "to this end was I born" this King forever constrains His friends, and forever commands His enemies, and will forever remain the ultimate test of human values.

And as Isaiah prophesied, " if he be lifted up, will draw all men unto Him," he draws some with gifts; some with obeisence; some with wonderment and questions; some with curse's and spitting; also some with thorns and thistles; some with nails and spears; others with incense and oil and sweet spices, some for Judgment; and many, many, for mercy.

The cradle of the "babe of Bethlehem draws millions of adores; and even some unbelievers may say with, Thomas Hardy:

"If some said on Christmas eve,
"Come; see the oxen kneel
In the lonely barton by yonder coomb
Our childhood use to know,"
I would go with him in the gloom,
Hoping it might be so,

Yes I suppose that is it—the doubter feels that the Christmas story is so beautiful that he hopes that it might be true, indeed, for this world's sake;

Yes indeed, this sad world does need to seek, as did the "Three Wise men" nearly twenty centuries ago, asking the same question, "Where is He, that is born King? "The human searchs the world for stability; the ear listens for the Song of Peace, to replace the blare of the war trumpet, of hate and jealousy; yes, this sad world does need to seek for the King of Peace; Isaiah records (9:7) "of the increase of His government and peace there shall be no end; and in the words of the angel Gabriel, "He shall be great—He shall reign —of His Kingdom there shall be no end."

Yet this "babe, born King" in the City of David had to accept the undreamed of humility, start His life in the poorest crib we had to offer, without delicacy and refinement; had to grow up with us, so that he became man, to share our problems, sorrows and sufferings—living is a dangerous business and He knows all about it.

These are the reconstructed stories of the birth of Our Saviour and Lord Jesus Christ, and they are beautiful, and we love to sing the songs of that great Angelic Chorus. But the king is not there. "Not in the Cradle" that is where He started, "Where is He, that is born King?" Yes, we remember the story of how the sword drove the fearful Joseph and Mary into Egypt with the infant King; some have said that Jesus was the first refugee; yes, too we have heard of Kings in exile, with Crowns dishonored, their authority rejected.

No! Jesus is not a King in exile, though some would like to make us believe that, but we have the authority of God the Father, "Out of Egypt have I called my Son." (Matthew 2(15)

No! no power can again drive Jesus into Eygpt, nor is He in hiding, or exile, he who would profess to be his follower needs to look elsewhere for Him, Nor is He on the Cross, the sign, "This is Jesus, King of the Jews" has long since been taken down, neither is He in the tomb of Joseph of Armethea, then where is He that was born King? Where is the Saviour of the World? Every Christian has every reason to believe and without doubt that this "babe of Bethlehem is "Lord and King" and let us this Christmas time proclaim Him so.

Have you, dear friend, found the answer to the question that the "Wise men were asking and men yet today are asking, "Where is He, that is born King...."Thy King is in the Midst of Thee."

Christmas Pageant
There's a Star in the Sky

This is the story of the wisemen—how they beheld the Star of Bethlehem in the sky and followed its rays to find the Saviour. It points out the wisdom of obeying God's call and the folly of allowing anything material to interfere.

The author, Elsie Duncan Yale, has drawn on her imagination to tell a splendid story with a message that is applicable not only to the Christmas season but each day that we live.

Characters

The Star - Lulabelle Smith
The Wisemen, Gaspar, Lawrence Keirn; Melchior, Dick Smith; Balthasar, Pete Mitchel

AUBURN, Neb. — (UP) —Gov. Victor Anderson, attending a fall festival here after his second trip to the state prison in five months to help stop a riot, got a serenade. The festival band marched to the governor's stand and played "The Prisoner's Song."

Good And Bad News On Balance Sheet

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet:

The Good

1. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, returning from a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty countries in Paris, said European nations feel "more than ever free—more than ever secure." The increasing strength of the 15-nation alliance was demonstrated in two countries. The West German parliament gave final approval to an agreement for U.S. military assistance for the new Germanarmy. Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, supreme allied commander, announced he would set up a new tactical air force in Italy. It will include both American and Italian planes.

2. The United Nations ended a long and serious deadlock on a seat in its Security Council. The Philippines, supported by the United States, and Yugoslavia, supported by Great Britain, were rivals for the seat. By a compromise, Yugoslavia was elected on the 36th ballot. Yugoslavia promised to give up the seat after one year and let the Philippines hold it for the second year. However, some delegates were unhappy. Theysaid the compromise violated the spirit of the U.N. charter.

3. The famous siren which for years had signaled the arrival of big news shrilled again from the building of the great independent newspaper La Prensa of Buenos Aires. Seized and prostituted by Argentine dictator Juan D. Peron, La Prensa was turned back to Dr. Alberto Gainza Paz, its editor and publisher.

The Bad

1. Serious riots broke out in Jordan against a decision by young King Hussein and his government to join the Middle Eastern treaty organization, which corresponds to the North Atlantic alliance in Europe. An official announcement said 41 persons were killed and 150 injured in Amman, the capital, alone. No mention was made of the casualties in other cities, including the Jordon section of Jerusalem.

2. The East German Communists become increasingly belligerent. The Communists threatened to try Americans who are accused of offenses in East Berlin. They were enragedbecause two American soldiers, accused of assaulting a Communist cabaret comedian, were acquitted by a U.S. Army court martial. It is customary for the Russians to turn over the U.S. Army any Americans arrested in East Berlin.

3. Campaigning for the French parliamentary election to be held January 2 became steadily more confused and more riotous. Gangs of the supporters of anti - tax crusader Pierre Poujade broke up election meetings. There were three chief contesting groups. They were Premier Edgar Faure's right-of - center coalition, Pierre Mendes - France's left-of-center coaltion and Maurice Thorez's Communists. It was forecast that neither Faure nor Mendes-France would get a majority and that Thorez would gain. The prospect was for continued French government bickering and indecision.

U. S. Army In Europe Switches Its Policy

HEIDELBERG, Germany (UP)—The U.S. Army in Europe, with "more firepower than any other force ever fielded," has switched from a policy of withdrawals to the "forward concept of hard-hitting mobile defense," Army headquarters here said today.

American troops manning the periphery of the Iron Curtain are "fully capable of fighting for every inch of ground" they hold, headquarters said in its annual report.

In the year's-end self-scrutiny, the Army said that "in virtually every field of endeavor, 1955 was a banner year for soldiers of the U.S. Army in Europe."

"The report said that "forward concept" of hard-hitting mobile defense had replaced an earlier concept of withdrawal to the west bank of the Rhine."

"The army's combat units had shown time and again that they could take to the field ready to fight on a few hours notice," the report said.

Reviewing the year in which U.S. soldiers spent half their time in the field on combat problems headquarters said the army "enjoyed more firepower per man than any other force ever fielded."

Bears often select a prominent tree for rubbing, gnawing and clawing. They mark these "bear trees" to show their size as a challenge to other bruins.

The Gospel by St. Luke

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

DURING the first six months of this year many scholars in church schools will be studying lessons from the Gospel according to Saint Luke.

It is a good time for readers of the Bible at home and elsewhere to concentrate on this Gospel. Without following any specific topics or titles, the comment in this column is designed to bring this Gospel, the fullest account of the life, ministry, and mission of Jesus, into its richest interest and its most effective impact on our daily lives.

The Gospel of Luke is, I think, the fullest account of the Christian story. However we should lose much if we did not have the other three Gospels.

There is St. Matthew's account of the Christmas story, and his incomparable account, in three wonderful chapters, of the Sermon on the Mount.

St. Mark has no Christmas story at all, but enters at once on the ministry of Jesus. His brief Gospel is direct and vivid. Its characteristic word is "straightway," and that's how everything happens.

We should not have the greatest word on worship ever spoken, if we did not have St. John's Gospel, with the story of the meeting of Jesus with the Samaritan woman; we should lack Christ's words about truth and freedom; and the intimate discourses with the Disciples as they neared the final scenes of Calvary and the Resurrection.

But, if we could have only one Gospel, I think St. Luke's is the one we should have to choose. In it is the fullest Christmas story, with the vivid background setting—the devout expectations of the Messiah and the meaning of Christ's coming.

The full richness of the Gospel of God's grace is in the Parable of the Prodigal Son, enforced by the Parable of the Lost Sheep and the Lost Piece of Silver and all that tells of the divine purpose of redemption.

If we had no other part of the New Testament, we would have had in St. Luke's Gospel all that is essential in the story of God's quest for man.

Luke had some advantages over other Gospel writers. Both his Gospel and the Book of Acts reveal him as an accomplished writer, highly skilled in narration. The "we" parts of the Book of Acts suggest that he was a participant, as well as a narrator, in much that happened.

He was not among the original Disciples, nor an eyewitness of the events he describes, as he himself states in Luke 1:2. But he had access to all the sources of knowledge concerning Christ's life and ministry, both in his contacts with those who had walked with Jesus, observed, and listened; in oral tradition; and in what others had written.

It is no wonder that Luke's is the greatest telling of the story of Jesus.

The first essential in studying, or reading, the Gospel of Luke, is to read the entire Gospel through, perhaps more than once. No exact or extensive information about Luke himself is available, but it will help to consult a Bible dictionary, or the "Helps" in a Bible that has them.

I think one's own outline, or plan of study, after careful reading of the Book will fix the events and teachings firmly in mind in a way that a formal outline is not likely to do.

Presbyterian Women Entertained At The McLean Home

Circle Two of the First Presbyterian church was entertained at the Murray McLean home this week for its Christmas meeting. Twelve members attended the meeting.

Mrs. Roy Hammer presented the Bible study and Mrs. Margaret Woodham the topic of the evening "Dealing With Christmas."

Mrs. McLean was assisted in serving a dessert by Mrs. James Elliott.

"What Is Christmas" Story Given Before Builders Class

Forty-five attended the Builders class of the Evangelical United Brethren church for the Christmas meeting of the class, held at the church Friday evening.

A gift exchange followed the delightful program given in the prettily decorated social-room of the church. The program opened with a trio number "Winter Wonderland" sung by Mrs. Don York, Mrs. Lawrence Wolfe and Beverly Hile. The story "What is Christmas," given by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wolfe and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cramer, was interspersed with carols.

A quartette composed of Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe and Mr. and Mrs. John Andrews sang "Deck the Halls" and "Come All Ye Faithful," and Carolyn Sue Binkley sang "The First Noel," Noreen and Teressa Crampton sang "Jingle Bells." Mrs. York, Mrs. Wolfe and Miss Hile sang "O Holy Night" as a closing number to the program.

Punch and Christmas cookies were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cramer and Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe formed the committee in charge of the Christmas program.

The charity ball of Alpha Iota chapter of Kappa Kappa Kappa, given annually by the local sorority chapter, will be an event of next Tuesday evening, at the American Legion Home.

Jimmy Stier and his orchestra, with Miss Phyllis Powell as soloist, will play for the dancing. Jim McBride, well-known television artist on the Charles Powell program, will be at the dance to draw characterizations.

Mrs. Phil McNagnyJr. is general chairman of the affair. Mrs. Don Beard, member of the chapter, will be assisted by members of Sigma Nu of which Barbara Mundt is president.

Mrs. Kirk McNagny and Mrs. Elvin DeWitt form the publicity committee. Decorations for the dance will be in charge of Mrs. Dale Pence, Mrs. Ed Parker and Miss Carol Meyers, Mrs. Donald Helfrich and Miss Shirley Gates are in charge of tickets.

Mrs. B. J. Bloom, Mrs. Leon Alter and Mrs. Merrill Munns will have charge of the refreshment booth.

Judy Langohr To Go To Rose Bowl Game On Student Special

Miss Judy Langohr, freshman student at Michigan State, Lansing, is leaving Chicago Sunday to attend the New Year's Rose Bowl game and Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena, California.

She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Langohr, 321 North Main street.

Twenty-five hundred students are making the trip in seven vista dome trains which will each be named with a color. The trains will make the California trip over different routes. Side trips to attend an Indian powwow in Colorado, Salt Lake City, and the Grand Canyon have been planned.

Hotel accomodations for each train load of fans have been arranged and side trips will be taken to Disneyland, Hollywood, The Knotts Berry Farm and the Capsitrano Mission.

Special trains will return the students to the Michigan campus January 4.

Jesse Rhoads Leaving Sunday By Plane For California Vacation

Jesse Rhoads will leave by TWA plane from Chicago at 1:30 p.m. Sunday for Los Angeles and a California vacation of indefinite length.

Him prime objective is to witness the 195 Rose Bowl parade and game at Pasadena.

Mr. Rhoads plans to visit with former Columbia City people now living in southern California before returning here.

Leaves Today For Iowa To Spend The Holidays

Mrs. Gideon Luckenbill left today by train for Des Moines, Iowa. She will spend Christmas and the holidays with her son, Charles LaVon, and his family.

Mr. Luckenbill is a band teacher in a college in Des Moines.

The Thomsons Leaving Sunday; Will Be Gone Until Mid-January

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Thomson, North Line street, will entrain on the Santa Fe "Chief" from Chicago Sunday evening for California with their primary intention of witnessing the Parade of Roses and the Rose Bowl game in Pasadena on New Year's day.

They will stop over at the Grand Canyon in Arizona for a day, are due to reach Los Angeles Dec. 8 where they have accommodations at the Biltmore hotel.

Side trips are being arranged for them from the hotel. During their stay in California they will go to San Diego where they will see Miss Lydia Grant, former Columbia City resident. At Los Angeles they expect to see Thomas Biggs, who has been transferred to California with the Overhead Door Corporation, also Mr. and Mrs. Argyle Luckenbill.

Before their return to Columbia City in mid-January they will visit San Francisco.

Ormas Club Fills Baskets, Remembers Nursing Homes

The Friendly Neighbor club at Ormas met at the Verly Fry home Wednesday for the regular meeting of the club when members of the club filled baskets with fruit, cookies, candy and nuts for those in the neighborhood who are ill.

The club also remembered the Farris Nursing Home in this city and the Mock Nursing Home in North Webster, with gifts for each convalescent.

There was a buffet dinner at noon and secret sisters were revealed in the gift exchange during the afternoon.

The Stalhuts To Vacation On West Coast In January

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stalhut owners of the 30 Club, plan a midwinter vacation which this year will take them to California.

Unable to get plane reservations for the west coast in time to see the Rose Bowl game and festivities surrounding it, they will leave from Chicago January 2 via United Air Lines for Los Angeles. They will return here January 14.

Among the former Columbia City people whom they plan to see while in southern California are the Argyle Luckenbills.

Here Is Mamie Eisenhower's 'Million Dollar Fudge' Recipe

This is the time of year when most folks are keenly interested in making candy. So, this newspaper is especially pleased to give you the different, the wonderful fudge recipe of the nation's First Lady. This recipe of hers appears in the new cook book, "Who Says We Can't Cook!" which is a compilation of the favorite recipes of newspaper women and VIP's in our Nation's Capitol. You can get a copy for two dollars plus fifteen cents postage by writing the Women's National Press Club, 1367 National Press Bldg., Washington, D. C. But don't wait . . . try Mamie's recipe now! For family enjoyment and gift-giving it's a natural. Here it is:

MRS. EISENHOWER'S MILLION DOLLAR FUDGE

4½ cups sugar
Pinch of salt
2 tablespoons butter
1 tall can evaporated milk
Boil 6 minutes.

Put in large bowl:
12 ounces semi-sweet chocolate (chocolate bits)
12 ounces German's sweet chocolate
1 pint marshmallow cream (2 jars)
2 cups nutmeats

Pour boiling syrup over ingredients in bowl; beat until chocolate is all melted, and pour into pan. Let stand a few hours before cutting. Store in tin box.

* * *

Where German's Chocolate is not available, 3 to 4 squares of unsweetened chocolate may be substituted.

The Morsches Family To See Rose Bowl Game In Pasadena

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morsches Sr., with their children, Jane and Bobby, will leave next Wednesday, from Chicago via United Airlines for Pasadena, Calif., and the Rose Bowl festivities.

Their son, Dick, a speech senior at Michigan State university, as one of the co-drum majors of the college band, will entrain with the band Sunday at Chicago for the trip to the coast.

He will be the drum-major for the Michigan State band during its appearance in the Rose Bowl. The co-drum major, Archie Patton, will lead the band during the parade down Pasadenas Colorado boulevard. The local student will be seen by TV viewers of the parade as one of the twirlers.

The Morsches family expects to return January . During their Los Angeles stay they will be guests of the Biltmore.

Communists Clamp Scrooge Blockade On Red Berlin Today

BERLIN (UP) — The Communists clamped a "Scrooge blockade" on Red Berlin today, forbidding shortage - plagued East Germans to shop in the western sectors and holding up Christmas gifts sent them by friends and relatives in the West.

The Communist Berliner Zeitung said Red police confiscated $4,250 worth of goods, food and western currency from Germans who had saved their money for months in hope of a chance to Christmas-shop in the lavishly-supplied West.

Allied officials said that, for senseless arrogance, the shopping ban could be compared only to the Communist confiscation of the food parcels the United States sent to hungry East Germans two years ago.

Another Red organ, Der Morgen, indicated that Christmas mail from the West will be held up indefinitely.

The Red organ added that even food parcels are being pierced with "sterile probes" by the searchers.

Dairy Meeting

ment, Purdue University. French's subject is "More Output Per Input."

DeGraff will be the afternoon speaker.

Speakers Named

Each session will be followed with a panel discussion of the subject matter discussed. On these panels will be the speakers and they will be assisted by Extension Dairyman E. A. Gannon, Agronomist Lester Smith, Extension Engineer John Foley, Farm Director Jay Gould, Oscar Swank, secretary of Indiana American Dairy Association and others.

Dairy equipment companies will have exhibits to add to the days attractions. A panel exhibit will be displayed by Purdue. Area dairymen have promised free milk for everyone.

All persons interested in dairying are invited to come to the Columbia City 4-H Center, Friday, January 20, and meet the men of the dairy industry including producers, equipment dealers and milk distributors and learn how each is working on this dairy problem.

Americans

There were scenes of extraordinary emotion today when the actors and actresses visited the radio studio to tape record Christmas Eve messages to be broadcast to the United States.

Breen, on behalf of the entire company, broadcast a message to President Eisenhower. He wished the American president a Merry Christmas and good health "because we all need you."

Then the entire company joined in singing "Silent Night" and "Joy to the world."

Porgy and Bess" is scheduled to open a 12-show run here on Dec. 26. The troupe then will continue to Moscow where 10 performances are scheduled.

Readers Get Whiff Of Christmas Spirits

MARKS, Miss. (UP) — Readers of the Quitman County Democrat will get a whiff of holiday "spirits" in the Christmas edition of the newspaper even though the state is legally dry.

Editor Henry Burns mixed a gallon of bourbon with the printing ink when the edition was run off and had an employe squirt each copy with a bourbon - filled spraygun as it rolled off the press.

Deputies Use Tape Measure

LENOIR, N.C. (UP) —Sheriff's deputies uncovered an illegal cache of liquor Friday with the aid of a rule and tape measure.

The deputies measured the Time Grill inside and out and decided the exterior was too much longer than the interior. They tore out a section of wall, discovered the cache and arrested proprietor Namon Church.

New Use For Old Christmas Trees

HATTERAS N.C. (UP) —Residents of North Carolina's wind swept Outer Banks are thrifty folk. They've found a new use for old Christmas trees.

Heavy winter rains scooped out deep holes in the sand sideroads of the Outer Banks. The residents gathered up all their old Christmas trees and stuck them in the sand as "channel markers" around the holes to lead motorists along a safe route.

Farm Record Books Are Vital Thing For Modern Farmer

The time of year is here again to start thinking about keeping records on your farm, reports Hugh Reinhold, assistant county agent in charge of the Better Farming and Better Living Program. He states that records have become a very important factor in all businesses, including farming, the past few years. Accurate records have to be kept now for the purposes of Income Tax and Social Security. Another vital factor is to be able to analyze the records at the end of the year and pick out the strong and weak points of the farm business.

The Indiana Farm Account Book is for farm business analysis. This book has been designed so that a complete summary and brief analysis of the farm business can be made. Entries can be made for both tenant and landlord with ease and accuracy. An Income Tax section has been provided for your convenience.

The Indiana Farm Record Book is especially designed for income tax use, and individual records. Tenants and landlords should keep their own records in separate books. This book is not recommended for complete analysis of the farm business, and is prepared by the Agricultural Economics Dept. at Purdue University.

Reinhold states that a new supply of these books are on hand and are for sale at cost in the county extension agent's office. He emphasizes that these records should be started by January 1.

Bookie In Bookshop

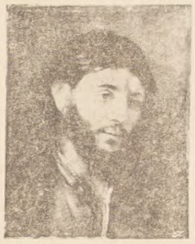
NEW YORK (UP)—Uninformed persons who think a bookie is a man who runs a bookshop were right for a brief time Friday.

Police raided the Tremont Book Shop and found a thriving betting operation going on in the back room.

Christmas Story On Television

The traditional Christmas tale, the story of The Nativity, will be seen this year in a special televised program, "No Room at the Inn," which will be telecast over the NBC television network on Christmas Day, Sunday, December 25th, at 4:00 p.m. (EST). This program, though sponsored, will be offered as a public service, without any commercial or institutional messages to disturb the reverence and sincerity of the dramatic story of the birth of Christ. For those who miss the television broadcast, the story of The Nativity can be heard the same day from 5:30 to 6:00 p.m. (EST), over the ABC radio network, when "No Room at the Inn" will be presented on "The Greatest Story Ever Told" radio program.

The Christ Of The Beatitudes



Rembrandt's Head of Christ, often called The Christ of The Beatitudes, will probably be studied by more people during the next two months than at any time since it was painted in the 17th century. It appears on the cover of The Upper Room, daily devotional guide with more than 3 million circulation. The painting is in the Metropolitan Museum in New York.

Dr. J. Manning Potts, editor of The Upper Room points out that in this picture Rembrandt was seeking to show the compassionate Christ — friend of the lonely, the poor and the suffering. Rembrandt painted this picture after he had himself experienced great personal sorrow, lost his fortune and his popularity. Worshippers of wealth and power brush him aside but the poor and suffering see compassion and love in his eyes.

C. C. Wins Fourth Tilt

The Columbia City Eagles wrapped up their third conference win and fourth victory of the season last night in Marshall Memorial Hall by defeating Decatur 54-38. The win gives the Eagles an impressive conference record, with only one loop game left on the schedule, but the overall season record is an average four wins in eight games. The Yellow Jackets came to Marshall Memorial Hall with two wins.

The Eagles indicated they were out to win from the opening tipoff. The tip went to Woodham, who drove under the C.C. basket for nice, open lay-up shot. Woodham quickly hit from the field again, and Carpenter added a free throw for an early 5-0 C.C lead Columbia City was not headed during the game.

Columbia City built up as much as a 10-2 lead in the first three minutes of the game, as Schwarz, Woodham, and Carpenter did a thorough job of controlling the bankboards. In the opening minutes of the game, the Yellow Jackets had trouble controlling the ball, losing it several times on bad passes and fumbling. The quarter ended 13-9, Columbia City, as Decatur had come back late in the period.

In the second quarter, Bridge Woodham, and Schwarz paced the Eagles, and the scoreboard read 26-13 at halftime.

Decatur Rally

As the second half opened, the Yellow Jackets opened up a scoring barrage that cut the C.C. lead from 13 points to 7 in about two minutes' time. Kirkpatrick and Murphy sparked the Decatur rally which narrowed the gap to 26-19 However, this outburst was quieted by the Eagles, and the game continued at the temp set in the first half, with C.C. holding leads of 30-20, 32-21, and 32-25. The quarter ended 36-27. In the last couple minutes of the quarter, the small Decatur cheering section inspired a speeded up style of play by the Yellow Jackets, and during this running game, Banks again cut the C.C. lead to 7 points when he dropped in a lay-up shot on a fast break play.

Schwarz, Eagle center, put the Eagles back out in front with a comfortable lead in the closing moments of the period by hitting two spectacular shots in rapid succession.

The most outstanding play of the game, by the Eagles, was executed in the third quarter. Woodham received a pass from either Bridge or Deutsch and slid the ball off to Carpenter, who was cutting across the foul lane, and he banked in a perfect shot under the basket.

In the final quarter, Columbia City built up a 44-30 lead with five minutes left in the game, and then began to intermittently stall the ball for an open shot, which was successful on two occasions when Schwarz and Woodham scored from under the basket.

The game ended with Dorman sinking a long push shot for the final score of 54-38.

Preliminary Game

The Columbia City reserves got off to an extremely slow start and could never catch up, losing the preliminary 42-32. Decatur led 12-1 at the close of the first quarter (Hindbaugh scored the lone point) and 22-6 at halftime of the curtain-raiser. However, the Eagle reserves began to find the range in the third period. They trailed 32-18 at the three-quarter point.

Stickler and Whetstone led the C.C reserves in the last half as they scored 25 of the 26 points scored in the last two quarters Stickler hitting 15 and Whetstone 10.

The scoring for the reserves went: Miller 3, Kniss 1, Hindbaugh 1, Stickler 15, Whetsone 10, and Jones 2.

Record Set In Christmas Buying

WASHINGTON (UP) — The nation's shoppers set a record in Christmas buying last week.

Department store sales for the week ending last Saturday were 6 per cent higher than the old record set a year ago, the Federal Reserve Board reported.

The board gave no dollars and cents figures but said its sales index for last week — normally the peak of the Christmas rush — stood at 255 per cent of the 1947 1949 base period. This was 15 points higher than the same week in 1954 and 21 points above that week in 1953.

Graham Named Player Of Year

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP)—Otto Graham the 34-year-old quarterback who will lead the Cleveland Browns against the Los Angeles Rams Monday for the National Football League championship, today was named the pro circuit's Player of the Year in the annual United Press poll.

Graham ended a brief retirement shortly before the 1955 season began and led Cleveland to a division title for the 10th straight year. He won the individual passing crown while directing the team that led the league in scoring with 349 points.

Won Title Easily

Graham was voted the season's outstanding pro player in voting by 30 sportswriters who covered the games in the various league cities. He received 13 votes, winning the honor easily.

Graham's closest rivals in the balloting, rookie fullback Alan Ameche of the Baltimore Colts and end Harlon Hill of the Chicago Bears, each drew four votes.

Quarterback Norm Van Brocklin, who will lead the Rams against the Browns Monday at Los Angeles, and end Gene Brito of the Washington Redskins each received two votes.

Didn't Plan To Play

Graham didn't plan to play this year. After leading Cleveland to the 1954 championship, he announced he would be selling insurance and working on several other business ventures while the Browns tried for their sixth straight Eastern Division title this year.

But he agreed to play one more year when Coach Paul Brown was faced with starting the 1955 campaign with only one quarterback, George Ratterman.

Graham was a bit rusty at first but soon regained his brilliant passing form. He wound up with one of his best seasons, completing 98 of 185 passes for 1,721 yards and 15 touchdowns. He won the passing title by averaging 9.30 yards per throw.

He has announced that Monday's game will be his last "even if Paul Brown has to play quarterback next year."

Bookmakers May Not Take Deduction

WASHINGTON (UP) — Horse race "bookmakers" who operate illegally may not deduct salaries of their employes for income tax purposes.

The U.S. Tax Court made the ruling Thursday in the case of Sam Mesi, Chicago racing book maker whose 1946 tax return was challenged by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service.

The 16 member court with three dissents, held that Illinois laws outlaw bookmaking establishments and makes employment in them a crime.

Judge Stephen E. Rice, who wrote the majority opinion, said paying wages to Mesi's employes "in and of itself constituted an illegal act."

DEAR INDEED!

MADISON, Wis. — (UP) —Wisconsin paid more than $400,000 between 1932 and 1954 for damage done by deer to farm crops. Most of the damage was to oats, corn and apples.

BIRTHDAYS OF THE PRESIDENTS

By Robert C. Preble President, Encyclopaedia Britannica

Johnson with Lincoln during the inaugural procession.

Faults of personality were the great handicaps of Andrew Johnson, who was born Dec. 29, 1808 in Raleigh, North Carolina. He was often tactless, even undignified, and his shyness was taken for hardness. His career was of the essence of tragedy. Of unlimited faith in the people, he was overwhelmingly repudiated by them. Of unswerving devotion to the letter and spirit of the Constitution, he was impeached on charges of violating it.

Though a Southerner, he opposed slavery; his family was not of the wealthy planter class, and he never attended any school. Apprenticed to a tailor at the age of 10, he taught himself to read and write. When he was 18, he moved to Eastern Tennessee, where he entered politics. He went to Congress in 1843 and became a Senator in 1857.

When Tennessee seceded in 1861, he refused to leave the U. S. Senate, and for two Civil War years he served as military governor of Tennessee.

Johnson was a Democrat, and when he was nominated for vice-president on Lincoln's ticket, it was by a convention that called itself "Union," not "Republican."

After Lincoln's assassination in April 1865, Johnson tried to carry out Lincoln's plans for reconstruction. Like Lincoln, he held that the Southern states had never actually been out of the union, and as commander in chief, he could withdraw military and restore civil rule. The radical Republicans who controlled Congress considered the Southern States conquered territories, and set up a congressional committee to decree the terms for their readmission.

Because of this deadlock over executive and legislative authority, the Southern States remained unrepresented in Congress. When Johnson discharged Secretary of War Stanton, the Senate held that Stanton's appointment had been with Senate approval, and his dismissal must have Senate approval as well. The House brought impeachment proceedings and Johnson was tried before the Senate. He escaped impeachment by only one vote, May 16, 1868.

He left the Presidency, beaten and embittered in 1869, but Tennessee returned him to the Senate in 1875. There he made one brilliant speech in defense of his reconstruction policies, but it was his last. Shortly after, he died.

ANOTHER ART "MECHANIZED"—This is the season when hotel and restaurant chefs display their artistic skill in ice sculpture for window displays and dinner centerpieces. But now they can throw away their chisels and relax. A Cincinnati ice manufacturer has developed a molding process which creates any one of a dozen ice-statue subjects by just freezing water inside metal molds. Above, Paul Brogan, president of the company, displays a mold-cast fish centerpiece. He says it's just as decorative as the pieces produced by laborious hand-carving. But no assembly-line technique can overcome one weakness of ice sculpture. No matter how it's made, it will melt eventually at room temperature.

Record 1,500,000 Fans May Attend 46th Annual High School Basketball Tourneys

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—There was an even chance today a record 1,500000 fans will witness Indiana's 46th annual high school basketball tourneys next February and March.

From the 64 sectionals to the four-team grand finale at Butler Fieldhouse here the turnstiles may be clicking at an unprecedented rate, thanks primarily to the shifting of tourney sites to larger centers.

Thus, it's a good bet the Northeastern semi-final tourney will be switched back to Fort Wayne from Elkhart. The Summit City gave up the third-round session last March to make room for the American Bowling Congress at the beautiful Allen County War Memorial Coliseum.

Keeping in stride with its policy to assign tourneys to the largest gymnasiums, whenever possible, the IHSAA is expected to select Fort Wayne again for semifinal Fort Wayne again for semi-final fans, 1,335 more than Elkhart.

Assignment of all tourney sites probably will be announced by the IHSAA the first week in January.

Another major change, however, will not go into effect until the 1957 "March Madness." The East Chicago Washington gym, with a planned capacity of 7,200 seats, may not be completed until the latter part of February. Besides, East Chicago school officials have not requested that their new goal house be included in this year's tourney plan.

East Chicago, ultimately, will offer the largest seating capacity in the Calumet and should bag at least sectional and regional honors.

Switz City, which recntly dedicated a spanking new 3,500-seat gym, may also figure in this season's tourney set-up. And so may several other "shooting galleries" erected since last year.

The 1955 tourney offered a capacity of 408,376 seats and was seen by 1,483,211 fans. With interest in the "Hoosier Hoopla" still sky-high, don't be surprised if the attendance records tumble.

Godfrey Sends Christmas Check To Air Force Aid

WASHINGTON (UP)—TV star Arthur Godfrey has sent a $100,000 Christmas check to the Air Force Aid Society to help Air Force families in need.

Society officials said Friday the check represented Godfrey's proceeds from a series of Saturday Evening Post articles about his life.

The society is a semi-official Air Force organization which provides financial help to airmen, their families and widows.

Cash farm income during the first five months of 1955 fell three per cent below a year ago for the country as a whole.

Eagles To Open Holiday Tourney. Tickets Available

Columbia City will play Goshen in the opening game of the 4-way Holiday Tournament at Nappanee Tuesday and Wednesday nights next week, December 27-28. The other two teams in the tourney will be Warsaw and Nappanee, and they will play the second game on Tuesday night.

On Wednesday evening, the consolation game will be played first and the championship game following. Games will begin at 7:00 and 8:15 each evening.

In previous meetings this season Goshen has beaten Nappanee and Warsaw, and Nappanee has beaten Warsaw and Columbia City, so by reasoning and dedutcions from those performances, Goshen is the tourney favorite.

The games will be broadcast over the Warsaw radio station.

Principal Max Gandy has announced that since his office will be closed, tourney tickets will be on sale at Helfrich's Mobil Service, West Van Buren street.

West Ward Teams Beat Kendallville

The West Ward eighth grade team maintained its undefeated status Thursday night when they defeated Kendallville 58-22 in Marshall Memorial Hall. It was the fifth straight win for West Ward

The local team led 33-9 at half and was able to stay in a comfortable lead during the last half, despite the fact that one of the mainstays on the team, Sutton, did not play.

The scoring for the eighth graders was as follows: Clark 2, Schwarz 2, Johnson 9, O'Connor 6, Shively 7, Weeks 6, Hyndman 2 Goldwood 2.

West Ward's seventh grade team also won from Kendallville 19-16, after trailing 9-6 at halftime.

Scorers for the local seventh grade team were: Eberhard 8 Kimmell 4, Fleck 2, and Parrott 5.

Mr. Heeter and Mr. Barnum West Ward teachers, were the officials for the games.

Government Will Ask Supreme Court To Overturn Ruling

WASHINGTON (UP)—The government will ask the Supreme Court to overturn a federal judge's ruling that civilians are not subject to military court martial.

U. S. Atty. Leo A. Rover filed notice Friday in U.S. Federal District Court here that the Justice Department will appeal directly to the Supreme Court bypassing the federal appeals courts.

Rover will ask the high court to overturn a ruling by Federal Judge Edward A. Tamm that civilians are not subject to trial by military courts.

Tamm's decision was in the case of Mrs. Clarice B. Covert, convictedby Air Force court-martial and sentenced to life imprisonment for the 1953 ax-slaying of her husband, an Air Force sergeant in England. The court-martial was held under an act of Congress authorizing military trials of civilians accompanying the armed forces overseas.

Mrs. Covert was imprisoned in the federal reformatory at Alderson, W. Va. Later a new court-martial was ordered on technical grounds. Tamm's ruling cancelled theproposed rehearing and freed Mrs. Covert.

His ruling bears on the case of Mrs. Dorothy Krueger Smith, daughter of Gen. Walter Krueger, who was sentenced to life imprisonment in the knife-slaying of her husband, Col. Aubrey D. Smith in Tokyo in 1953. Federal Judge Ben Moore, Charleston, W. Va., has under advisement a plea to free Mrs. Smith on a writ of habeas corpus, similar to that under which Tamm freed Mrs. Covert.

Ag Department Is Investigating Farm Price-Gouging

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Agriculture Department today pressed its investigation to discover if price-gouging by middlemen may be partly the cause of plummeting farm profits.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T Benson said he wants to know if middlemen are reaping "improper" profits at the expense of the nation's hardpressed farmers.

Benson announced Thursday the farmer's share of the consumer food dollar declined to 39 cents in November—the lowest point in 15 years.

However, he said while farm prices had declined 10 per cent compared to one year ago, retail food prices were down only 2 per cent.

He said his department is making detailed studies of marketing charges of various farm products to learn if the charges are unfairly inflated. Earlier this month he said "we know" some middlemen's charges are out of line.

Benson said the farmer is squeezed between rising farm costs and falling farm prices. He called the squeeze "a real obstacle to a solution of the farm surplus problem."

He said in an interim report on his investigation that beef and pork are outstanding examples of the farm price spread. He said prices paid farmers for pigs and beef cattle have declined about 10 cents a pound during the last year, but retail beef prices have declined only 4 cents and retail pork prices 6.1 cents.

Demands have been made both in and outside of Congress for an investigation of the price spread. Rep. Sid Simpson (R-Ill.-, a member of the House Agriculture Committee, has proposed the calling of a bi-partisan farm conference to study the problem.

SANDRINGHAM, Eng. (UP) — Young Prince Charles may be a little disappointed tonight when he unwraps his Christmas presents at the royal palace in the Norfolk woods here.

The heir to the British throne wants a jet plane. He also is interested in a yacht — small size.

While Charles won't get the jet plane, he may get a toy helicopter that flies. Queen Elizabeth bought one in a London department store seveeral days ago.

TOKYO (UP) — Christians in Communist China are observing Christmas with religious services, Radio Peiping said today.

The Red radio, in a broadcast monitored in London, said a Christmas service arranged jointly by 40 Peiping Protestant churches was held Friday night in Asdury Church. The service was conducted by two Chinese Protestant ministers from the staff of the Yenching Union Theological Seminary.

FRANKFURT, Germany (UP)—More than 6,500,000 foreign tourists visited West Germany during the first 10 months of 1955, the German Tourist Assn. reported Friday.

Topping the list were 946,820 Americans, according to the association.

TOKYO (UP) — Radio Peiping said today that 33 persons were killed or injured in recent Nationalist Chinese air and artillery attacks on Red Chinese coastal areas.

PUSAN, Korea (UP) — Fifteen Japanese fisherman captured by South Korean patrol boats inside the "Rhee Line" were sentenced today to prison terms ranging up to 10 months by the Pusan District Court.

The Republic of Korea joint chiefs of staff have issued "shoot and sink" orders against Japanese fishing boats violating the 60-mile zone off South Korea established by President Syngman Rhee.

SEOUL, Korea (UP)—Gen. I. B. White, commander of U.S. Army ground forces in the Far East, arrived Friday to spend Christmas with Eighth Army soldiers in Korea.

White planned to spend Christmas Day visiting patients at the Army's 121st Evacuation Hospital near Inchon and small units in and around Seoul.

EGGS AWAY!

GRAND FORKS, N.D. —(UP) —State Treasurer Albert Jacobson was dive-bombed by a bird near here recently. The bird dove at Jacobson's car but pulled up in time to avoid a crash. However, it dropped an egg that splashed across the windshield.

Group Of Citizens Come To Aid Of Dispossessed Family

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UP) Citizens tossed in dollars and presents today for a junk yard worker and his family who were thrown out of their tiny home just before Christmas.

Robert Chyle, his wife and six children had collected over $500 in cash, hundreds of dollars worth of food and clothing and the promise of a local building company president to provide a rent-free house "for as long as you need it."

A group of citizens headed by Pinellas Park Police Chief Ellis Devoe also vowed to give the Chyles "a Christmas tree with plenty of presents."

A police officer and deputy sheriff denounced as "despicable' and "indecent' the Rev. Ray Hanselman's eviction of the family from the rented church-side home.

Chyle said he was $40 behind in his $10 a week rent because he had used most of his money recently to buy supplies for a small house he is building.

But Hanselman, pastor of the Community Baptist Church, said the back rent was only part of the reason he evicted the Chyles from the home, which adjoins the church.

The family, Hanselman said, was a "dirty lot...permitted their children to run wild, piled junk all over the place and permitted acts of destruction against the property.'

The Rev. Ben F. Wyland, executive secretary of the United Churches of St. Petersburg, said, 'I can find no evidence that Hanselman is an ordained minister."

"His church is not a recognized Baptist church. His action is an indecent thing and does not express the Christmas feelings of our people," he added.

Woman Wants To Cash 10-Year-Old Christmas Check

NEW YORK (UP)—"Merriment and jesting" prevailed 10 years ago Christmas Day when Albert B. Zink, a Philadelphia lawyer, made out a $75,000 check to his wife and dated it Dec. 25, 1955.

But Mrs. Zink didn't think it was a joke at all, Zink now 50, told Manhattan Supreme Court Wednesday. She saved the check and now she wants to cash it.

Zink, who didn't have anything like $75,000 10 years ago but has done better since, asked the court to restrain his wife from cashing the check when it becomes good. He said she is suing him for separate maintenance.

The attorney gave his wife, Mrs. Maude Lennox Zink, "several inexpensive gifts" that Christmas 10 years ago, he said, and then "I told her I was sorry that I was unable to give her more elaborate presents."

But, "in the merriment and jesting which prevailed," he said, "I wrote out a check for $75,000 to her order and dated it Christmas Day 10 years later, Dec. 25, 1955. I told her I only wished that I could give her a gift like that."

Later that day Zink said he looked for the check but couldn't find it. His wife told him that she had torn it to bits and flushed it down a toilet bowl, he said, and that was why he was "shocked and incredulous" in 1953 when an attorney approached him with a photostat of the check and an offer of a $50,000 settlement.

He asked her about it and she told him she had kept the check as a "sentimental keepsake," Zink said. Mrs. Zink now lives in New York.

A hearing on Zink's request for the restraining order was set for Jan. 3.

Biggest Cancer Survey Ever Conducted Sees Progress In Management Of Cancer Problem

CHICAGO (UP) — The biggest cancer survey ever conducted shows "some progress" in the management of the cancer problem, the American Medical Assn. reported today.

The survey, reported in the AMA Journal, was made by the National Cancer Institute in 10 metropolitan cities.

The report said there was a rise in the incidence of cancer from 1937 to 1947, but it is difficult to determine its significance or how much of the increase was "real."

"Improved techniques for diagnosis have resulted in the discovery of some cases that in the past would have been missed," the report said.

"The number of physicians with training and experience in diagnosis of cancer has also increased."

Large-Scale Survey

The survey consisted of studies made of cancer incidence, prevalence and mortality rates in 1937-39 and 1947-48 in Chicago, Detroit, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Atlanta, New Orleans, Dallas, Denver, San Francisco and Birmingham, Ala.

It showed that in 1947, 430 of every 100,000 residents had cancer at some time during the year, 26 per cent more than in 1937. In 1947 149 of every 100,000 died of cancer, an increase of 19 per cent.

The report showed that in 1947, there were 319 new cases diagnosed for every 100,000 persons, 30 per cent more than in 1937.

The survey also showed that:

Thirty-two of every 100 newborn children may expect to develop cancer at some time if present rates continue.

Of those, 3 may be expected to develop cancer by the age of 45, 14 by the age of 65, 23 by the age of 75 and the remainder in later years.

More than 500,000 new cases are being diagnosed in the United States each year. At current rates, cases may be expected to increase by more than 50 per cent in the next 25 years, as total population and the proportion of older persons increase.

Adjusting for age difference, cancer is found at the same rate among men and women (331 and 330 per 100,000;.

But the death rate is higher for men than women, 169 against 147 per 100,000. This is due mainly to the fact that cancer in men occurs more frequently in the stomach and lungs, with poor chance of recovery.

Among women the risk of cancer before 65 is highest in the reproductive organs. The rate is 7.2 for the genital organs and 7.5 for the breast per 10.

Edgar Carriger Dies Late Friday; Ill More Than A Year

Taken To Hospital 10 Days Ago In A Coma

Edgar Carriger, 43, former Whitley county resident, died at 9 o'clock Friday night at Parkview hospital, Fort Wayne. Ill for more than a year, Mr. Carriger was taken to the hospital 10 days ago when he lapsed into a coma.

He had undergone a number of operations. A son of Omer and Bertha Carriger, he started to school in Churubusco, and was a and a half ago, living in this city resident of the county until a year at one time. He was formerly employed by Columbia Products.

The family later located at 1813 Morris street, Fort Wayne. His wife, the former Leila Heintzelman of Larwill, survives, also four children, Donald 13, Mary Ann, 10, Diane 6, and Richard 18 months. Mrs. Harry Conley of Montpelier, O., is a sister.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Man Advised To Take It Easy, Has Bullet In Heart

ESCANABA, Mich. (UP)—A 53-year-old garage superintendent who played amateur hockey until five years ago received orders from doctors today to "take it easy" because he is carrying a .22 caliber bullet in his heart and has been since his childhood.

Waino Petaga was 13 or 14 when he was accidentally wounded by a shot fired from his cousin's rifle.

He recovered quickly, however and led a normal life including 30 seasons of hockey during which he never experienced discomfort, he said.

The bullet was discovered when Petaga took a cardiogram test after a minor accident. It is imbedded a quarter of an inch in his heart wall.

Physicians, who advised Petaga to take it a little easier, said they did not plan at present to remove the bullet. They will take occasional x-rays to make sure it is not shifting and endangering his life

Christmas Recess For Negotiators Of Westinghouse

Both Sides Still Far Apart On Issues

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Negotiators in the 69-day Westinghouse Electric Corp. strike called a Christmas week-end recess today with bargaining sessions to resume Tuesday.

Federal Mediator John R. Murray got both sides back to the conference table Friday after a two-day "break-off" in talks aimed at ending the 10-week walkout of 44,000 International Union of Electrical Workers members at 30 company plants across the nation.

The IUE and the United Electrical Workers (Ind.), which called 11,000 Westinghouse employes out on strike Oct. 25 at 10 other company installations, were pressing for immediate 15-cent hourly wage boosts under a one-year contract.

Still Far Apart

Although there was no mention of progress, IUE President James B. Carey indicated both sides were still far apart on issues.

"The company has made no proposal," Carey said. "The company's representatives are not capable of making a proposal.

Carey said he submitted a three-point "revised' proposal under which the IUE would "be glad" to sign a five-year contract instead of a short-term pact which the union demanded.

The proposal called for no job studies affecting wages without the unions consent; no wage cuts or changes in wage payment plans, and a wage increase under the reopening clause of the current contract.

Westinghouse vice president and chief bargainer R. D. Blasier said there was "nothing new" in the union offer.

Fact-Finding Committees

In another development, the IUE announced that Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner of Columbus, Ohio, where Westinghouse operates a plant, has called for formation of fact-finding committees in communities affected by the bitter walkout.

Sensenbrenner said he has appointed a committee in Columbus, which recommended that issues in the strike be submitted to arbitration. The four-member committee was composed of clergymen from the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faith

The clergymen urged that the strike-bound plant be shut down for five days and picket lines withdrawn. If both parties agree to arbitration, the plant could resume production pending the arbitrator's ruling, the committee said.

destruction and power failures.

In contrast, temperatures were mild across most of the rest of the nation. A white Christmas was assured across the northern plains, the northern Great Lakes, and New England. But climbing temperatures and dense fog in the Mid west were melting the snow cover further south.

Transportation facilities were jammed in most of the nation's major cities, with many railroads and airlines estimating a passenger load of up to 10 per cent more than last year.

It Pays To Advertise

Blue Bell, Inc., served as host to the seventeen students of Diversified Occupations Class of Columbia City Joint High School recently. After the luncheon, Mr Duncan delivered a very interesting speech in which he pointed out the fundamental principles of Diversified Occupational training. He emphasized the importance of attitudes, humility and initiative in developing good character. Developing good character and gaining experience in the business world are the primary purposes of this work experience program. Paul Murphy, Columbia City Joint High School Instructor, directs this program.

Only seniors may be enrolled in this program. They work a half a day on the job in the vocation they have chosen, and they spend the rest of the day in school. One period of their school time each day is devoted to studying specific related material concerning their job. Gloria Ruby, Richard Smith and Eddie Roby served as guides and showed the group around the plant. They introduced the group to their respective supervisors. tions and discussed various phases of their departments.

Whitley County Committee On Brucellosis Control Making Progress, Much To Be Done

"Workers on the brucellosis control project are making progress but much remains to be done," reports Merle Kyler, chairman of the county committee on Cattle Health. "Public sentiment is about 90 per cent favorable to protecting human health by producing disease free beef and milk on the farms of Whitley county," he says. These observations were made after a check-up meeting with project leaders was held at the county agent's office here Wednesday.

State regulations provide, at this time, that three-fourths of the cost of a county-wide test of cattle for the control of brucellosis will be paid from state and federal funds provided 75 per cent of the owners of 75 per cent of the cattle petition for it. The remaining fourth is to be paid by the county. The proposition holds as long as the state and federal funds allocated for the work are not all budgeted. It is still possible for Whitley county to get the assistance since all the funds are not yet exhausted, Kyler explains.

There are 42 Indiana counties that have brucellosis control testing of cattle under way, Paul Linhart, assistant in the Federal Disease Control Work, told the project leaders at the check-up meeting. Stuben county is the most advanced in the testing work in this area and has had approximately 4 per cent reactors. At this rate Whitley county would have over a 1000 diseased cattle, the local committee estimates. Some counties have as low as 2 per cent infection. Less than one-half per cent if required for accreditation as a brucellosis free area by City Boards of Health.

Project Leaders

Beef and dairy cattle representatives made Kyler chairman of the project when they decided that Whitley herds should be ridded of the disease. Project leaders for the respective townships were named as follows: Cleveland - Max Wright; Columbia - Clarence Fahl; Etna-Troy - Glen Western; Jefferson - George Frazier; Richland - John Mathias; Smith - Clarence Zeigler; Thorncreek - Monroe Kitson; Union - Burton Hess; and Washington - Ralph Heine. Each project leader has a corps of assistant workers helping him.

IT'S GRAND, AT 3 OR 103—Who said Christmas is just for kids? Certainly not Maximillian von Stephany of Cincinnati, Ohio, who's seen 103 Christmas Days. "Young or old, Christmas can't help being wonderful," he says. "There's a bit of childhood left in all of us, and Christmas warms it up."

INSULTING A CHAMP — Four-year-old Steven Williams of LeRoy, Ill., sticks his tongue out at "Julius," grand champion steer of Chicago's recent International Livestock show. Julius was honored guest of the University of Illinois and the community at Champaign at the time of this "insult."

homes and the bodies of drowned victims.

Twelve persons were known dead in California and three were known dead in southwestern Oregon. There were no deaths or injuries reported in Nevada, but property damage was high in Reno, where the Truckee River sent from three to six feet of water swirling into the business district and its famed gambling casinos.

However, with the exception of the Marysville area, latest reports were favorable.

Water was reported receding in Oregon and Nevada and the main disaster areas of California.

Once In 100 Years

The floods, described by the U. S. Army engineers as a "once in 100 years" situation, were born of eight days of almost continuous downpour from three savage storms that marched in from the Pacific in follow-the-leader fashion.

The weather bureau explained that the huge disturbances were caused by a collision of warm moist air from the sub-tropics with a mass of low pressure polar air moving down from the North Pacific.

All main rail and highway routes between California and Nevada and between California and Oregon were cut off either by slides or high water. Travel between northern and southern California was restricted to secondary roads.

WASHINGTON (UP)—The government todav mobilized its resources to rush aid to flood-stricken areas in the West.

President Eisenhower Friday declared California, hit hardest by the floods, a major disaster area. He notified Gov. Goodwin J. Knight by telegram that the federal Civil Defense Administration will be provided "such funds...as are necessary to supplement state and local efforts" in the widespread relief program.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra T Benson offered California and Oregon surplus foods for the emergency feeding of flood victims. The Small Business Administration declared northern California, southern Oregon and western Nevada as disaster areas.

The moves came swiftly on the heels of a personal plea from Senate Republican Leader William F Knowland (Calif) to Mr. Eisenhower for all possible federal help to flood-stricken areas of California.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President's action gives the Civil Defense Administration a virtua "blank check" in its flood relief activities. He said it was similar to federal action in the northeastern floods last summer.

Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson said early estimates of the damage were between seven and eight million dollars. He said his agency has been on 24-hour duty in flood areas since 7 a.m. Friday and is keeping a close watch on developments in Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Nevada.

Chairman E. Roland Harrimar of the American Red Cross assured the President that his organization has made all its resources available to flood victims and "assistance will continue until all needs are met."

Bank Bandits Get $34,662

FISK, Mo. (UP) — Two bandits forced three employes of the Bank of Fisk into a vault and escaped with $34,662 Thursday.

It was the third time the bank in this tiny community of 386 persons has been held up in the past several years. The latest previous robbery took place three years ago.

The bandits, described as shabbily dressed and wearing glasses, entered near the 3 p.m. closing hour and forced cashier Gene Shain to hand them the money. Shain and two women were locked in the vault for 30 minutes before a passerby freed them.

The hold-up men fled in Shain's car and abandoned it on a side road. They apparently continued their flight in another auto parked there earlier.

One bandit was said to be about 6 feet tall and the other a foot shorter. FBI agents from St. Louis were investigating the robbery.

Denies Charges Army Restricted Soldiers To Duty

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Army denied charges today that it has restricted about 500 soldiers at Ft. Bragg, N.C., to duty over the Christmas holidays.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) Friday wired the Senate preparedness subcommittee, which he heads, to investigate complaints by soldiers at the base. They complained to Johnson, now in Texas, that they would not be allowed to leave the base during the holidays even to go to church.

The Army said it had ordered the base to allow a "normal' amount of personnel to go on leave during the holidays. It said a "liberal leave policy" allowing 50 per cent of the personnel leave is in effect.

An Army spokesman said 240 members of the 50th Signal Battalion, stationed at Fort Bragg, already have been granted Christmas leave. He said the rest of the personnel will be entitled to leave over the New Year's weekend.

Most of the soldiers on the base had been taking part in Operation Sagebrush in the Louisiana swamps for the last 80 days. They told Johnson they had been required to get all trucks and other vehicles cleaned before they could have Christmas leave. They said this would take at least until Dec. 27.

The spokesman said that "with the exception of the necessary guard and administrative personnel, personnel remaining at Fort Bragg are required to work only half-days during the holiday period."

He added that "no duties other than necessary guard and administration will be required on Christmas and New Year's days."

WRONG JAR

ROCHESTER, N.Y. —(UP)— A police officer arrested a man a few blocks from the Treadway Inn when he became suspicious of a bulky object the individual was attempting to hide under his coat. The object turned out to be a gallon jar of strawberry preserves. The brand name on the jam jar was "Old Honesty."

Christmas Gift

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (UP)—Zoo Director Fred Meyer opened his first Christmas present Friday — two diamondback rattlesnakes sent to him by a friend from Laredo, Tex.

"They're real beauties," Meyer said. "I couldn't appreciate a Christmas gift more."

The Bad Lands of South Dakota are called that because the land is too poor to farm and is extremely difficult to travel.

Traffic Deaths This Christmas Weekend Set All-Time Record

SERGEANT FIRST Class Keith L. Hawn of Larwill gives a toy to an orphan for Christmas in Japan. Sergeant Hawn's unit, the Army's Sub-Port at Moji, contributed money to the Seiokozaki Orphanage to insure a merry Christmas for the waifs. The Sergeant is a stevedore in the unit. He entered the Army in 1948. Hawn holds the Bronze Star Medal. He is the son of Mrs. Thelma P. Hawn, Larwill. His wife, Miyoko, is with him in Japan.

New Crest Sends River Pouring Through Levee Along Yuba City

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—A new crest sent the Feather River pouring today through a 600-foot gap in the levee along Yuba City, flooding the deserted town for the second time in less than a week.

The muddy waters began rising at the rate of 3 inches an hour during the night. Finally they overflowed the gap at Gumtree, broken during last Saturdays flood when 10,000 persons fled for their lives.

The waters filled half of the stricken town before they began to recede. In the southeast section, they rose to nearly 3 feet. Flood officials expected them to go no higher.

Actually, there was little further harm the flood waters could do. Where they were deepest was already an area of destruction, with some houses crumbled into pieces and debris piled against trees and crooked street signs.

May Be 100 Victims

One house, for example, was perched at a crazy angle on a railroad track and another sat squarely in the middle of the street.

The worst effect of the new flooding was the delay it caused in the grim work of searching through th ruined houses and the debris for those who failed to escape last Saturday's wall of water. There may be as many as 100 victims, officials said.

It also kept the city's residents from returning to salvage what they could from the ooze that covered what once was their homes.

Armed guards ordered all persons who returned to their homes out of the city Monday night when a post-Christmas rain posed the threat of the new flood.

The guards patrolled the streets Monday to prevent looting. Anyone still in the city had to show a pass.

Army Announces GI Is Arrested By Communists

After Minor Traffic Accident In East Sector Of Berlin

BERLIN (UP)—The U.S. Army announced today that an American soldier was arrested by Communist police Monday after a minor traffic accident in East Berlin. He still is missing.

Authorities asked the Russians today to return Kliman. He was last seen at about 10:30 p.m. (3:30 p.m. CST) Monday when East Berlin "People's Police" took him to East Berlin police headquarters.

It was the second time since the East Germans began insisting on "sovereignty" in East Berlin that an American soldier has been arrested. Earlier this month, two GIs were arrested and accused of beating a cabaret actor in the Soviet Zone of the city. They were returned to Army control by the Russians despite the East German claims that they should have been tried in East German courts.

The arrest of Kliman raised the question of whether the East Germans will exercise their "sovereignty," which the West does not recognize, by trying the soldier.

They threatened last week to try Americans after a U.S. Army court martial acquitted the two men accused of manhandling the actor.

Air Force Pilot Killed When Jet Shoots Off Field

Onto Busy Highway, Strikes Car, Burns

LOS ANGELES (UP) — An Air Force pilot, killed when his jet plane shot off the field at Los Angeles International Airport and crashed into an automobile apparently mistook a taxi strip for the regular runway, officials said today.

Air Force Capt. Dwight M. Cook died at Daniel Freeman Memorial Hospital of severe burns and other injuries Monday a few hours after his T33 jet trainer shot onto busy six-lane U.S. Highway 101, struck the car and then burned.

The woman driving the car, Mrs. Louise La Montagne, 25, of Oakland, Calif., was reported hurt, but not seriously.

Authorities said it was "a miracle" the accident was not worse.

Airport spokesmen said the pilot apparently mistook a taxi strip for a regular runway and landed on it. Still rolling at high speed, the plane shot off the field. The taxiway, south of the regular runways, takes a slight jog as it nears the tunnel entrance.

The plane broke through a wire fence, barely missed a small radar building, skipped over a couple of cars on the highway and then hit Mrs. La Montagne's auto. The pilot ejected himself from the plane shortly after it burst into flames. The plane flipped over "several times" before hitting the car, witnesses said.

Man Wades Two Miles Through Waist High Flood Waters To Retrieve Christmas Gifts

By EDWIN S. CAPPS
United Press Staff Correspondent

YUBA CITY, Calif. (UP)—Neil Johnson had to wade two miles through waist high flood waters to his home, dodging patrolling helicopters on the way, to do it—but he provided a Christmas for his wife and seven children.

It was a makeshift Christmas spent 20 miles from their Yuba City home in an apartment which a fellow churchmember had provided.

It was a Christmas which left much to be desired. But the Johnsons were more fortunate than most of the 10,000 residents who fled, or attempted to flee, before marauding flood waters of the Feather and Yuba rivers.

Johnson, a moderately well-to-do home builder and a high council man in the Mormon Church, told the story of his Christmas as he ate a bowl of split pea soup during a brief rest from the task of cleaning the debris from his home.

Like Ocean Waves

When the call came from neighboring Marysville for volunteer workers to battle the rising Yuba, Johnson and his oldest son, Gary, 17, answered it. They worked on one of the most critical sections of the levee during the four hours when the levees were expected to brach at any moment, bringing certain death to hundreds of workmen.

But at 1 a.m. on the day before Christmas when he heard reports the levee had broken on the opposite side. Johnson gave up the fight and returned to his home.

President Plans His State Of Union Message

No Official Callers Scheduled

By PATRICIA WIGGINS
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today began a quiet week pondering what he will tell Congress next month about the problems of the United States and the world.

Mr. Eisenhower will deliver his annual State of the Union message shortly after Congress convenes next Tuesday.

He planned to devote the rest of the week to working in his office on the message. Assistant White House Press Secretary Murray Snyder said no official callers are scheduled.

Snyder said the President has given no further indication whether he will go south this winter as his doctors recommended. The doctors suggested the trip to aid the President's recovery from his heart attack.

Mr. Eisenhower told the Key West, Fla., Chamber of Commerce last week he doubts he could get away from Washington this winter, but if he could he "should go no further south than Georgia."

The President interrupted his long holiday weekend early Monday morning to meet at his office with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles for about an hour.

Dulles told reporters afterwards that he and the President discussed "four or five matters." He said "nothing special" was on the agenda.

Snyder told reporters as Dulles went into the Presidents oval office that the legal holiday "was the kind of a day the President and secretary of state can talk together for an hour and probably get twice as much done' as on a regular work day.

Snyder made the statement after a photographer cracked, "Doesn't the President know it's a holiday.

The Presidents Christmas holiday ended in the afternoon when his son, Maj. John Eisenhower and his three grandchildren returned to Ft. Belvoir, Va., after spending an old-fashioned Christmas at the White House.

Indiana Counts 20 Accidental Weekend Deaths

15 Killed In Traffic

By UNITED PRESS

Indiana counted 20 accidental deaths during the 78-hour Christmas weekend customarily devoted to carefree family gatherings.

Traffic killed 15, miscellaneous accidents 3, and the crash of a light plane in Madison County Monday killed two Anderson men on a "joy ride."

The single-engine plane crashed on a farm just south of Huntsville, killing Paul Thompson 41, and Jesse Johnson, Jr., 39. State Police said the cause of the crash was not determined.

Richard Rudnick, 15, and James Baron, 16, both of Fort Wayne, were shocked fatally as they climbed a fence at a Fort Wayne factory yard. Police said they apparently seized a "hot" utility pole guide wire.

2 Die Near Haysville

Steven J. Chodzinski, 60, South Bend, was struck and killed by a train at a South Bend crossing.

William F. Mosier, 19, Loogootee, and Lois Kemp, 48, Velpen were killed late Monday night in a two-car accident on Ind. 45 north of Haysville. Claude Kemp, 51, Velpen, was in serious condition in a Jasper hospital as a result of the accident.

Charles E. Garst, 17, Atlanta, died of internal injuries after he apparently left a one-car accident unhurt. His car rolled over several times when it went out of control on a county road 10 miles south-

450 Children Enjoy Treats From The Santas

Fire Truck Brings Santa And Wife To Community Party Saturday Night

Approximately 450 children living in the Columbia City area received from the hands of Santa or his wife their Christmas treats of candy and oranges when they gathered Saturday night at the courthouse to meet the legendary figure of Christmas.

The Santas arrived at the Firemen's Christmas Party aboard the fire truck. The Clauses were seen to have hopped abroad the red fire truck in the vicinity of the James Gallagher residence in West Park addition. This proved to the children of the neighborhood that the Santas arrived here from the west on their miracle trip which covers the entire world the night before Christmas.

Santa's local helpers, the firemen and their ladies, had 550 treats prepared for distribution to the waiting youngsters. The 100 left-over treats were taken to the homes of sick or shut-in children after the party at the courthouse.

The firemen today acknowledged $7 more in contributions to their Christmas party fund from the following:

Tri-Lakes Fish Hatchery	$2.00
Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Shelton	2.00
A Friend	1.00
Mrs. Arthur Linvill and son, George	2.00

Speaking for the firemen, Fire Chief Russell Wolfe today said that if any contributor's gift to the party fund was overlooked in public ack-

Business Outlook Optimistic For U. S. During 1956

Survey Predicts Production To Rise

By ROBERT F. MORISON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — The government today appeared optimistic that America's economy would continue to soar during 1956.

The Commerce Department's Business and Defense Services Administration released a survey of major industries for the first half of 1956, predicting production in most industries would rise.

Small Business Administrator Wendell B. Barnes predicted that next year will see further rise in earnings by small manufacturers. He said the competitive position of small business has been strengthened and "the extremely low rate of business failures is also a good sign for the future."

Sample Of Report

Here is a sampling from the major industry report:

Iron and steel — Current record-breaking production momentum to continue through June, 1956, making first half of year one of the highest "if not the highest" in history.

Aluminum — First half 1956 shipments expects to be at annual rate of 4,60,000,000 pounds — a new record and 18 per cent above first half of this year.

Automobiles and trucks — Auto output first six months expected to hit 4,250,000 compared with the record 4,227,000 in the first half of this year. Truck production should "show a sizeable increase over the first half of 1955' after finishing "the best year in its history."

Construction — Estimated spending in 1956 on all new construction

Indiana Economy Will Continue To Prosper In 1956

With Industry Pacing The Way

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (UP)— Indiana's economy will continue to prosper during 1956, the Indiana University Bureau of Business Research predicted today, with heavy industry pacing the way although farming has shown a decline.

The experts also forecast "somewhat higher prices."

As 1955 bows out, the Bureau's survey showed, steel mills are running at or near full capacity, employment is at record high levels, and coal and limestone production is above that of a year ago in Indiana.

Retail business, in general, also shared in prosperity, the report said.

"Again the farm segment of the economy has lagged behind as increased marketings have meant lower prices for hogs and cattle which represent a sizeable portion of Indiana farm income," the statisticians said.

"The effects of high level production have filtered through to prices. In the last 12 months wholesale prices have edged up about four per cent. Projecting this into 1956 means somewhat higher retail prices can be expected . . ."

Expenditures to modernize plants, purchase new equipment and expand present facilities were expected to run about 13 per cent above 1955 levels, the forecast said.

"The metal, automobile and chemical industries will be the leaders in the increased spending," the economists predicted.

The report further predicted that automobile sales will remain high "but somewhat lower than this past year, with other durable goods increasing slightly."

Passes 588 Mark Set In Yuletime Weekend Of 1952

Too Many Cars On The Road

By UNITED PRESS

More than 600 traffic deaths during the "black Christmas" weekend set an all-time, all-holiday record for slaughter on the highways.

The three-day Christmas weekend became the deadliest holiday of all time when the United Press death count passed the 588 record set during the four-day Yuletime weekend of 1952, then soared above 600.

The count from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Monday showed a total of 613 traffic fatalities. There were 72 deaths in fires, 4 in plane crashes and 129 in miscellaneous accidents for an overall accidental death toll of 818.

Despite the repeated warnings of safety experts and the recent Safe Driving Day campaign, Americans killed each other at a record rate.

"How much longer will a civilized nation create or endure such mass mayhem?" asked Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council.

"Let us hope and pray that the weekend slaughter we have just experienced will cause all of us to make a New Year's resolution to drive better not only over the New Year's holiday but from here on in."

Some safety experts said privately that there are "just too many

Jailed Here After Fight In Auto

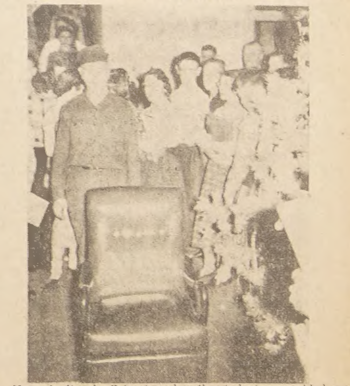
Disputing a piece of real estate resulted in the jailing here Monday of Manion Ward, 34, of Chicago. He is reported by authorities as having fled on foot near Larwill after slugging his brother, Zellus, 35, while Zellus was driving on U.S. 30. He managed to keep control of the automobile.

Manion Ward used a gun butt to strike his brother. Seated between them in the front seat of the car was Zellus Ward's young son. The wives of the two men were in the rear seat.

The assailant fled from the car as soon as it stopped after the driver was hit. He threw away his gun. State Trooper James Lewinski, Churubusco, picked him up along the highway a short time after.

At the time of the slugging, the gun discharged, sending a bullet into the roof of the car. Zellus Ward, taken to the Whitley County Hospital, was released after treatment.

Students Give Janitor Chritsmas Present



J. A. Ness, janitor in Columbia City high school for the past 8½ years, received a pleasant surprise at the close of school Friday afternoon.

Mr. Ness had recently announced his plans to retire, effective at the end of this year, so the high school students wanted to give him a combination Christmas and retirement present. Donations were made by the students, and a rocking chair was purchased for Mr Ness. At the close of school Friday, the students assembled around the Christmas tree in the main hall of the school, and Dick Fleck, on behalf of the student body, made the presentation to Mr. Ness.

The teachers and office force also presented Mr. Ness with a gift later.

Mr. Ness is a Coesse resident, and for "years and years" before working at the school, he was employed by the Columbia Woolen Mills.

2,300 Soviets Give Porgy And Bess Standing Ovation

LENINGRAD, Russia (UP) — A capacity crowd of 2,300 persons gave the American folk opera "Porgy and Bess" a standing ten-minute ovation at its premier in the Soviet Union Monday night.

The Gershwin opera was performed at the Palace of Culutre by the first American opera company ever to tour Soviet Russia. It will move to Moscow on Jan. 12.

After the performance officials of the Ministry of Culture and U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen went backstage to congratulate the cast of 60.

Peter Kabanov, head of the Department of Theater and Music of the Ministry of Culture told the cast, "I congratulate you on your great success."

Bohlen commented that the story of Catfish Row was a "singularly well-chosen opera" for the first American appearance in Russia.

In a pre-curtain speech Boris Sagurski, director of the Leningrad Maly theater, said, "The Soviet Union appreciates the opportunity to become acquainted with the operatic culture of the United States and the great talents of the American people.

"Musical art transcends language and therefore brings the peoples together," he said.

Konstantin Sergeev, ballet master of the Leningrad Ballet Theater, drew cheers when he said, "Let this be the beginning of our great and sincere friendship."

The audience reacted enthusiastically and with some puzzlement. The plot was difficult to follow because the Russian programs had not arrived from Moscow. But most of those present seemed to like the music and the staging.

Nominates Honors For Funniest TV Boners Of The Year

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—This is the season of "the year's best" awards. As a TV fan I would like to nominate honors for the funniest TV boners of the year.

While TV producers are toting up their successes of the year, armchair critics at home get a chuckle by remembering mistakes that millions of viewers saw.

A gold engraved statuette for the all-time greatest fluff of 1955 should go to the Jackie Gleason show. Art Carney, playing the comic's sidekick, started to enter the Gleason apartment but couldn't get the door open.

The quick - thinking Carney climbed through the window. This appeared to be a stroke of genius, except it had puzzling moments for viewers. For one thing, the glassless window was supposed to have been closed. Furthermore, the Gleason apartment allegedly was on the second floor.

A runner-up award could be handed to "Climax!" In the middle of a starring drama on that CBS-TV program a corpse got up and walked away in plain view of the camera.

Came Tumbling Down

Then there was the time Jerry Lewis pulled a towel off a rack on the "Comedy Hour" and the entire wall came with it. Jerry turned the boner into a gag by hauling out a real prop man to hammer the wall back into place.

Host Bill Lundigan of "Shower of Stars" won the biggest laugh of the evening, but by mistake, when he introduced a ballet dancer as a "belly dancer."

Jimmy Durante goofed when he identified comedienne Pat Carrol as Pat Crowley. But James Mason outfluffed them all to take an "Oscar" for introduction boners when he started to introduce Rhonda Fleming on the Lux Video Theater — and couldn't remember her name.

Jan Sterling once said on a live TV drama, "I chose this play because of the character I betray," instead of "portray." On other live dramas there was the usual quota of wandering stage hands and microphone shadows caught by the camera. One character couldn't get a fireplace to work on "Robert Montgomery Presents" and saved the day by muttering, "Damp Wood."

No Safety In Film

But even the filmed shows racked up boners. On "Alfred Hitchcock Presents" Joseph Cotten was shown weeping as he was lying down in a mortuary. The tears rolled down instead of sideways in the close-up.

On "Waterfront" a crew was shown loading a schooner. When it sailed out of the harbor the boat was suddenly a sloop. When it arrived in Honolulu it was a yawl.

Jero Jim Arness stood in a graveyard on "Gunsmoke" while the wind blew across the grass. But the tombstones revealed they were paper props when they bent in the wind, too.

NBC's "Matinee Theater" has had its share of red-faced moments. One character talked for three minutes into the wrong end of a telephone. Another day Irene Hervey couldn't zip on her dress on cue. It stuck. She had to play the scene clutching the gap in her gown.

THAT COLLEGIATE LOOK—This 1911 model-T Ford is the proud possession of Bill Robeson, right, University of Illinois senior at Urbana-Champaign. The 12th auto Robeson has restored in two years, this one has gleaming brass radiator and headlights, a high body and straps to hold down the top. The Chicago student finished it with 14 coats of hand-rubbed lacquer. His only casualty with the car, which averages 28 to 30 miles per gallon of either gasoline or kerosene, was a broken wrist while cranking the car to start it. Examining its four-cylinder engine are, left to right, classmates Gerald Pullen, Princeville, Ill; John Graves, Wyoming, Ill., and Max Whitman, Monmouth, Ill.

This poster and an accompanying lesson sheet is being distributed by the Chicago Motor Club to more than 44,000 elementary school classrooms in Illinois and Indiana. Crossing streets only at corners is especially important now because of poor visual conditions and early dusk which hinders both drivers and pedestrians during the winter months.

Being a Hypocrite

Lesson for January 1, 1956

NOBODY ever began his list of New Year's Resolutions with this: "I resolve this year to be a hypocrite." Nobody wants to be a hypocrite, no one loves such a person. As if they were not already detested enough, Jesus shot at them his most piercing sarcasms. The pathetic thing is that even the best people can slip into hypocrisy without knowing it. Since Jesus "told off" the hypocrites of Galilee very plainly, we can see just what it is that makes hypocrites what they are, and be warned.

Dr. Foreman

Showy Stuff

Jesus condemned the Pharisees for being concerned with the looks of things most of all. As he put it, they cleaned up the outside of the cup and the platter but the inside was left dirty. They themselves, he said, were like graves over which men walked without knowing they were there. Outside, they were a grassy park. Down under, inside, they were nothing but decay. The other day a bulldozer turned up four little coffins under what is now an airport. Nobody had guessed those bodies were under the grass. The first thing any one asked, after, "Who were these?" was "Where shall we put them now?" It turned out that the four little bodies, buried a century ago, belonged to one family; and one living relative could be found—but she did not even want to look. Let them be put under grass somewhere else, hide them as soon as possible. Well, there are characters like that. Cover all the dead stuff with something pretty,—whatever looks right is right . . . Keep thinking that way, live that way, and you will be a hypocrite too.

Trifling Stuff

Another count against the Pharisees was that they spent so much time and energy on little things that they missed the greater things that a truly good life will have. You could see Pharisees out in their back yards counting their mint-leaves. Every tenth leaf belonged to the Lord, they said; every tenth bean, every tenth lettuce-leaf, and so on. But leaf-counting took up too much of their time. Justice? The love of God? They had no time for it. They were too busy with mint-leaves. Now it is good to be conscientious about tithes; Jesus had nothing to say against that in itself. But it is rather interesting that the only times when Jesus mentioned tithing, he condemned the people who did it.—Not for doing it, but for supposing that that was the main thing in religion. When Jesus picked out something on which all the "law and the prophets" hang, a kind of nail holding up the rest of the Bible, he picked something big: Love to God and love to one's neighbor.

Old Stuff

Another way to be a hypocrite is to be so much interested in the past that you do not apply religion to the present. In Jesus' vivid language, the hypocrites built the prophets' tombs, but they were children of those who had murdered the prophets, and they were the people who would murder Jesus himself. They honored the prophets of the past; but prophets of the living present they could not see and did not honor. It is an ancient and still strong temptation. There are persons in America who are very proud of ancestors who crossed the ocean to worship God freely; but who themselves will not cross a wet street to go to church. There are persons proud of their revolutionary ancestors, who attack with every weapon of slander any one who has any proposals for change today. Revolution in the 18th century—fine!

Revolution in the twentieth century—horrible! There are people who wish to preserve every line of some historic creed and shout down every one who has the least suggestion of change; they forget that the creed-makers they honor were themselves radicals, innovators, dangerous men in the eyes of their time. A church that becomes a preserver of antiquities, a historical society, and nothing more, with nothing to say to now, is a church the Pharisees would have loved . . . but not Jesus.

Strike Against Detroit Papers Resumes Today

DETROIT (UP) — A strike against Detroit's three major daily newspapers—The Detroit News Times and Free Press—resumed today after a three-day holiday truce.

Striking stereotypers, mailers and printers returned to picket lines around the newspaper plants which remained idle for the 27th day today.

The truce was called Dec. 24 at 3 p.m. to permit pickets and special police detailed to strike duty to spend the holiday with their families. It was arranged by Detroit Police Commissioner Edward Piggins who had assigned officers to each of the newspapers since the strike began Dec. 1.

The only negotiating session scheduled today was between the Detroit Newspaper Publishers Assn., which represents the strike-bound papers, and the Free Press unit of the Newspaper Guild of Detroit. The guild represents editorial, advertising and business employes.

Mediators said they also were trying to arrange talks between the Detroit Typographical Union 18 (printers) and publishers.

The guild unit and two other unions, the Detroit Photo Engravers Union 12 and the Newspaper Drivers and Handlers Union 372 (teamsters), are not on strike but their contracts have expired and they refuse to cross picket lines.

A meeting between the teamsters and publishers was set for Wednesday.

Two unions, the Detroit Paper and Plate Handlers Union 10 and its parent organization, the Detroit Newspaper Printing Pressmen's Union, have come to terms with the publishers but terms of the contracts were not revealed.

Israeli Patrol Exchanges Fire With Egyptians

JEJRUSALEM, Israel (UP) —An Israeli patrol exchanged automatic weapons fire with Egyptians near the tense Gaza strip today. No casualties were reported in the brief exchange.

It was the third incident reported in the border area in two days. It came amid reports from authoritative Israeli sources that the Egyptians have reinforced their troops around the Gaza strip.

Maj. Dan Gov, Israeli military spokesman, said intermittent automatic fire bursts surprised inhabitants of the Jewish settlement of Ein Hashelosha. An Israeli patrol returned the fire, he said.

Ein Hashelosha is less than five miles from the Egyptian town of Khan Yunis inside the Gaza strip, which was attacked by Israeli armored columns last Sept. 3.

Gov said today's attack followed a Syrian "pinpricking" barrage of automatic fire on the Jewish settlement of Ein Gev on the eastern shores of Lake Tiberias (the Sea of Galilee).

He said no casualties resulted from the "intensive" Syrian attack, adding that Jewish forces did not bother to return the fire.

The Israeli sources said the Egyptian reinforcements totaled about one division of troops.

The informants said that the equivalent of one division—possibly 10,000 men—are now entrenched in the area, scene of continued border skirmishes. "There was no such force there six months ago," the sources said.

Gov accused Egyptians of two border violations in the last two days. He said Egyptian soldiers Monday fired on an Israeli patrol near Kissufim, a settlement on the vital Negev Desert water pipeline. Sunday, according to Gov, infiltrators attacked the settlement of Mir Yitzhak. Gov said the Israelis suffered no casualties in either of the incidents.

Traffic Deaths

cars on the road."

Every state in the nation added to the death toll except for Rhode Island, New Hampshire, South Dakota, Montana, and the District of Columbia.

The death rate during this year's three-day holiday was seven every hour. Safety experts felt sure this killing pace would push the final count close to the 600 mark.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, said the nation's motorists had turned the holiday into a "black Christmas."

"We may have dreamed of a white Christmas, but we have turned it black with a record of death, destruction and disaster on the highway by which no American can help but be depressed, ashamed, and frightened," he said.

The death count mocked the spirit of Christmas and some persons even stooped to looting the bodies of the holiday victims.

Such a case was reported at Webster City, Iowa, after an 8-year-old girl was killed in a smash up Monday. Someone got to the wrecked car before police arrived and made off with a wallet and purse containing $175.

At flood - stricken Yuba City, Calif., armed men guarded against more looting. A three-state area was ravaged by floods throughout the holidays, with Yuba City suffering the most. Today, the tragedy-haunted community braced for yet another flood crest on the Feather River.

The holiday was also marred by killer fires which struck without warning across the country.

In the worst holocaust, a farmhouse blaze took six lives — a mother and her five sons — near Gaylord, Mich., Monday. A downtown city block in Lowell, Mass., went up in flames, causing $1,800,000 damage, and fires which destroyed an historic church and a rail terminal in Chicago were blamed for $1,500,000 damage.

But the traffic massacre was the most shocking holiday tragedy and as Dearborn commented "the pity of it is that it doesn't have to happen."

Motorists could not blame bad weather for the toll. There were disastrous rains in the West and rain and fog in the Midwest. But skies were fair and roads clear in most of the country during the holidays and today.

However, the Safety Council pointed out, the holiday death rate mirrored the steadily climbing total of traffic fatalities throughout the year.

Traffic deaths in 1955 are running about seven per cent higher than 1954, when 36,300 persons died the council said.

Entire Film Library Sold For Use Of World Television

NEW YORK (UP) — The entire film library of RKO Radio Pictures, produced over a 30-year period, has been sold for $15,200,000 for the use of world television.

C & C Super Corp., soft drink and rubber manufacturer and restaurant chain operator, paid $12,200,000 cash Monday for 740 feature length films and more than 1,00 short subjects. The remaining $3,,0balanc e will be paid over the next two years.

The fims incude such cassics as "Citizen Kane" "The Hunchback of Notre Dame,' "The Sea around Us, "Gunga Din and eight musicals starring Fred Astair and Ginger Rogers.

The original cost of the movies in the library was about $75,000,000. RKO officials said it would cost at least $1,700,, to produce them today.

In the United States and Canada the films will be shown exclusively on television. In other parts of the world they will be distributed to theaters as well as television stations.

Plan To Rebuild Hope Industry

HOPE, Ind. (UP)—Plans were made today to rebuild this community's only industry which was destroyed in a $200,000 Christmas morning fire.

Meanwhile, authorities investigated the cause of the blaze which swept the Fishel's Products Co., manufacturer of dog food and poultry feed supplement. The plant employs nine persons.

Robert Fishel, plant manager, said the fire broke out in a mixer area of the main building. Firemen from Hope, Flatrock, Hartsville and Columbus fought the flames.

Warsaw Man Fined On Traffic Charge

Pleading guilty to a charge of reckless driving on Nov. 4 when he left the American Legion home drive and entered U.S. 30, approaching Columbia City partially in the wrong lane of traffic, William Jack Stephenson, Warsaw, was fined $25 and costs in circuit court Friday.

A 6-month sentence to the Indiana State farm was suspended by the court for two years conditioned on his good behavior. Stephenson was represented by Benton W Bloom, local attorney. The state's case was presented by Edward J Meyers, prosecutor.

Two Remanded to Jail

Indicating that he does not wish to be arraigned, Bill J. Netherly alias Billy J. Perry, held upon a charge of check forgery, was remanded to jail by the court Friday when he appeared in court with counsel. Representing Netherly are Attorneys John W. Whiteleather and Clarence E. Benadum. Bond of $2,000 set by the court. Lacking the amount of bond, the defendant was returned to jail. He is specifically charged with passing a forged check for $85 at the Western Auto Associates store Nov. 12.

Leonard Richards, charged with passing a fraudulent check for $15 to Gilbert Davis American Legion Post No. 157, Churubusco, last Aug. 15, pleaded not guilty when arraigned Friday. His bond was set at $1,000. Being unable to provide the bond, he was remanded to the custody of the sheriff.

Fat Persons Storm Sweden's Drug Stores

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UP) — Fat men and women stormed drug stores throughout Sweden today in a near-riot sell-out of what was billed as a new "miracle reducing solution."

The solution (tradenamed "Minus") went on sale for the first time after a frenzied advertising buildup and every single jar was sold out in less than half an hour.

The solution which allegedly inhibits the appetite is prepared from a Norwegian alga or type of seaweed and is produced by a firm (Swedish Remedia Co. Inc.) owned by multi-millionaire industrialist Axel Wenner-Gren.

Medical experts have closely followed the development of the preparation and declare it both useful and harmless.

The preparation is made from a special type of alga on the Atlantic coast from which a chemical is extracted and mixed with hydrochloric acid in a jelly mold. It sells for about $5.40 per pound jar —a month's supply.

Another Week Of Mild Weather For Hoosierland

By UNITED PRESS

The Indiana weatherman today predicted at least another week of mild weather is in store for Hoosiers, with temperatures slated to average 6 to 12 degrees above normal.

Maximums will range from the high 30s and low 40s north to the low 50s south.

Minimums will range from the mid 20s north to mid 30s south.

The five-day forecast also called for a total of one-half to an inch of rain falling on Thursday and Sunday.

The weather bureau said temperatures will climb to 50 throughout the state Wednesday and then "turn colder" Thursday and Friday, resuming the warming trend again on Saturday and Sunday.

Highs today will range from 39 north to 47 south, lows tonight from 26 north to 33 south.

Monday maximums ranged from 45 at Evansville and 40 at Indianapolis, to 36 at Lafayette and 37 at South Bend.

Lows early today ranged from 21 at South Bend to 26 at Evansville.

Christmas Eve Scene

Except for the traffic caused by Christmas Eve gift deliveries and the slamming of car doors as gift bearers went from house to house early portion of Christmas Eve was quiet in Columbia City. The decorative lighting shone down on wet streets as mist fell, replacing the snow which vanished a couple of days earlier.

The streets around the churches where midnight services were to take place, became filled with automobiles about 10:30 p.m. The attendance at the Christmas Eve services reportedly came near to taxing the seating capacity of the churches. Many attended the Christmas Day services in the churches as Christ's birth was celebrated in sermon, anthem, and prayers for fulfilment of His teachings and for peace were offered in the congregations.

Sunday, Christmas Day, was given over principally in the homes by reunited families to the traditional Christmas dinners and to gift exchanges not accomplished the night before.

Celebrates Her 104th Christmas Birthday

LIBERTY, Ind. (UP)—Miss Emmaline Kelly, a former school teacher who retired in 1879 because of poor health, celebrated her 104th birthday on Christmas Day in the company of friends and relatives.

Miss Kelly opened gifts and greeting cards during the morning, then topped off the double celebration by eating a slice of birthday cake.

Nixon Is The Man With Ideal Look

NEW YORK (UP) — Vice President Nixon is the man with the "Ideal Look" according to the American Women's Institute, which named him the nation's best dressed man for 1955.

Mrs. Veronica Dengel, author and president of the institute, Monday night announced the top ten. She said Nixon was chosen because his clothing is neat, smart and striking, "the ideal sought by the average American man."

The "casual dignity" of the clothes worn by Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, gave him the No. 2 spot on the institute's list as the man with "The Poised Look."

Other "lookers" on the institute's list included:

Henry Ford II, automobile manufacturer, "The Handsome Look."

Averell Harriman, New York governor, "The Conservative Look."

A.M. Sonnabend, industrialist and hotel owner, "The Executive Look."

Joseph Pellegrino, macaroni magnate, who "mirrors the average white collar worker, The Contemporary Look."

Conrad Hilton, hotel owner, "The Impeccable Look."

Ruby Newman, society orchestra leader, "The Suave Look."

Leo Durocher, former baseball manager and now a TV executive, "The Sports Look."

Eddie Fisher, singer, "The Young Look."

BONN, Germany (UP) — The West German government faced the facts today. It gave legal recognition to a booming blackmarket business conducted by Allied servicemen and Germans for nearly 11 years.

Hereafter Germans may accept specified amounts of tax-free cigarets, tobacco, coffee, tea and iquor from friends or employes without paying customs duty — which the government never could collect anyway.

The announcement Monday thus "legalized" the wages or bonuses of thousands of house maids, handymen, mechanics and salesmen. Since the occupation, American, British, and French troops have been paying all or part of their help with commodities they get tax free but for which the Germans must pay high duty.

UDINE Italy (UP)—A flight of 20 U.S. F84F Thunderstreak jet fighter - bombers arrived here on Monday and the new Fifth Tactical Air Force became a reality.

The new force, which will help defend the northern Italian region from possible attack, was approved only 11 days ago at the North Atlantic Treaty Council of Ministers in Paris.

U. S. and Italian officers from the NATO Southern Europe Command were at the Aviano airfield to welcome the pilots.

LONDON (UP)—Pope Pius XII's Christmas message "command attention," Radio Moscow said Monday night.

The Italian - language broadcast monitored in London said that public opinion in many countries "heard with satisfaction" that part of the speech in which "the Pontiff expressed himself in favor of prohibiting nuclear weapons, in favor of the termination of atomic tests, and for setting up of armament supervision."

TOKYO (UP)—An atoms-for-peace agreement between the U. S. and Japan went into effect today with the exchange of notes in Washington, the Japanese Foreign office announced.

LONDON (UP)—A colored documentary film on the trip through India by Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist Party Chief Nikita S. Khrushchev will be shown in all Moscow cinemas today, Moscow radio annouñced.

The film is entitled "The Friendship of Great Peoples."

The broadcast said also that the speeches of the two Russian leaders during their tour of India, Burma and Afghanistan have been published in pamphlet form.

Federal Income Tax Forms Are In Mail

WASHINGTON (UP) — The season of good cheer received a body blow today.

The Internal Revenue Service dumped 60 million income tax forms and instructions into the mail.

Tax officials said everyone should have his form by Jan. 4

In case anyone forgets, the government expects them all back by April 15.

Dionne Quints Break Away From Home Says Papa

CALLANDER, Ont. (UP)—Oliva Dionne, father of the quintuplets said today the four surviving quints have broken away from their home in Callander, and there was "no use" camouflaging the fact.

Dionne said the girls did not send their parents a Christmas card, or call them on the telephone, or write them about their Christmas plans. The girls spent Christmas in Montreal.

Dionne said he and Mrs. Dionne had realized for several months that the girls had been drifting away from the family. He blamed the separation on what he called "intruders,' but he refused to identify the so-called "intruders."

It was the first time that the quints had not spent Christmas with their family.

Two of the quints, Yvonne and Cecile, were training as nurses at Notre Dame L'Esperance Hospital in Montreal. Annette has been studying art at Nicolet, Que., and entered hospital for a checkup and rest early this month.

The fourth quint, Marie, withdrew from a convent in Quebec City and entered the hospital Nov. 16.

A hospital authority said last week that Marie and Annette were now in good health and had been dismissed to go home for Christmas. It was said then that Yvonne and Cecile would join the family for the New Year's weekend.

But Dionne said the girls neither returned home nor sent word they would not be home for Christmas. Dionne said the quints had also cut their brothers and sisters off their Christmas card mailing list this year.

"In fact," he said, "lately they have been treating their brothers and sisters almost with contempt.'

He said the four remaining quintuplets had begun to drift away from the family before their 21st birthday last May 26, and after they became eligible to handle their own affairs, the rift became certain.

The girls took over a considerable fortune, the exact extent of which was never made public but believed to approach one million dollars, when they became 21. It was built up after their birth by advertising endorsements, public appearances, and other grants.

The fifth quint, Emilie, died in August, 1954, and her share of the fund held in trust for the girls, went to the remaining four.

Largest state park in New York State is the Allegany, 70 miles south of Buffalo and containing more than 55,000 acres.

Negotiations Resume At Westinghouse

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Joint union-management talks in the bitter Westinghouse Electric Corp. strike resumed here today with negotiators hoping the Christmas spirit would lead to a peace formula in the 72-day dispute.

Bargaining sessions were recessed for the holiday weekend after Federal Mediator John R. Murray brought the company and the striking International Union of Electrical Workers back to the conference table Friday after a breakoff in talks.

Some 44,000 IUE members at 30 company plants across the nation walked out last Oct. 17. They were joined a week later by 11,000 members of the United Electrical Workers (Ind.) at 10 other Westinghouse installations in a similar contract dispute.

Cleveland Browns Crush Los Angeles Rams For National Football League Championship

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Otto Graham returned to retirement today after a valedictory appearance in which he ran and passed the Cleveland Browns to a 38-14 rout over the Los Angeles Rams for their third National Football League championship.

It was a fitting climax to a fabulous career. Graham ended 10 years of service with the Browns —the team which recorded the most successful decade in pro football history with 10 straight division pennants. Cleveland also has won seven league titles in two circuits since Coach Paul Brown took over 10 years ago.

Brown termed Graham "the greatest quarterback ever to play in that spot" following Monday's victory.

Graham Scored Twice

Graham scored two touchdowns and passed to two touchdowns—hurling 50 yards to Dante Lavelli and 35 to Ray Renfro.

The Browns based their victory on a defense that picked offsev en opposition passes — one short of the 15-year-old record for interceptions in a championship game. Three of the interceptions produced touchdowns.

Lou Grozas 26-yard field goal started the scoring parade following a drive from the Browns' 24 that featured a 32-yard pass from Graham to Lavelli.

Two interceptions, both off Norm Van Brocklin, added two touchdowns in the second period. Halfback Don Paul ran 65 yards for the first one and Lavelli, following halfback Tom James' interception, took a Graham pass to paydirt in play that covered 50 yards.

Score In Second

Los Angeles scored in the second on a Van Brocklin pass to Volney (Skeet) Quinlan, good for 67 yards.

Graham scored twice in the third period. The first one was on a 15-yard rollout following a 46-yard drive highlighted by substitute fullback Maurice Bassett's blast through center for 27 yards. Otto punched over from the one for the second eight plays after center Sam Palumbo picked off another Van Brocklin pass.

Cleveland tacked on the final one in the middle of the fourth when Graham lobbed 35-yards to Renfro.

The Rams got their second and last score late in the fourth with halfback Ron Waller taking it four yards off tackle following a 57-yard march.

Providence Reds Defeat Springfield

By UNITED PRESS

The Providence Reds, only two games away from equalling their entire victory total for last season, opened up a five-point lead today in the American Hockey League race.

The Reds gained their 19th win of the current campaign Monday night, 4-2, over the last - place Springfield Indians as the veteran Zellio Toppazzini scored a pair of goals and picked up an assist.

The Cleveland Barons, struggling to get into the race, downed the Hershey Bears, 3-1, in the only other game played.

Camille Henry gained a 2-2 tie for the Reds, who wound up last in the 1954-55 race, with only 29 seconds left in the second period Topazzini then scored his two goals in the final period to gain the win for Providence.

The Barons, in fourth place, 15 points out of first, gained their win on a secnd-period goal by Ike Hildebrand and third - period markers by Jackie Gordon and Cal Stearns.

Sports Briefs

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Ronnie Knox, UCLA's injured quarterback was told by Coach Henry (Red) Sanders today that he could work out in full swing with the team in its preparations for Michigan State in the Rose Bowl.

Knox, who slowly is rounding into shape after suffering a broken bone in the ankle, took part in the Bruins' entire practice session Monday except for the kicking portion.

PASADENA (UP) — Michigan State's Spartans will hold afternoon workouts the rest of the week with a two-hour session on tap today. The Spartans went through a long defensive drill, a dummy session and wind sprints Monday.

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (UP)—The ban on scrimmage sessions for the East team which meets the West in the annual Shrine East-West game, Jan. 2, will continue according to Coach Woody Hayes of Ohio State.

The Easterners worked out in a howling wind and intermittent rain Monday. Hayes had Ed Lindbeck of Illinois, Len Moore of Penn State, Bob Pascal of Duke, Bill Murakowski of Purdue and Don Schaefer of Notre Dame in one backfield and Garet Reichow, Iowa, Tony Branoff, Michigan, Howard Cassady, Ohio State and Chuck Sticka Trinity in the other.

Pistons Move Into First Place

By UNITED PRESS

The Fort Wayne Pistons, playing 22 points under .500, moved into first place in the Western Division race of the National Basketball Assn. today, while the Eastern Division leading Philadelphia Warriors had their lead shaved to 2½ games.

George Yardley, with 15 points, took scoring honors as the Pistons downed the St. Louis Hawks, 83-67, to take first place from the Hawks by two points.

The New York Knickerbockers breaking a three - game losing streak, defeated the Warriors, 108-97, to move into a third-place tie with the Syracuse Nationals, who were edged by the Rochester Roals, 93-91. The loss was the first of the season for the Warriors on their home court. Rookie Ken Sears led all scorers with 26 points as five New Yorkers in all hit for double figures.

Richie Regan's last minute basket proved the margin of victory for the Royals, but Art Spelstra paced Rochester with 19 points. Adolph Schayes led all scorers with 27 points.

Ussery Leading New England Rider

MIAMI, Fla. (UP) — Bobby Ussery, the leading rider in New England this year, is making a bid for the Tropical Park Jockey championship with 23 winners for the first racing days. Willie Hartack, who is not expected to resume riding until Jan. 2, has 25.

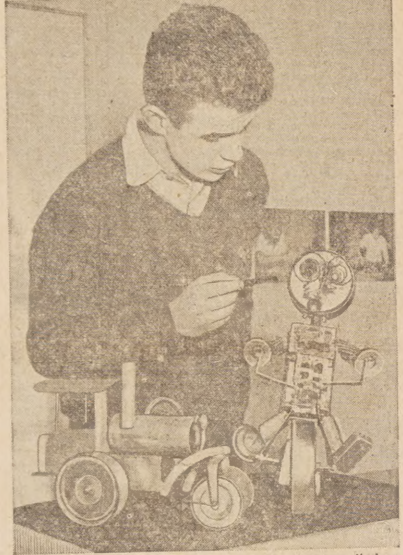
BOTTLED UP—These jug-tooting high school lads from Provo, Utah, have formed a new kind of band. Bottles are their instruments. Their music is called "watersport," because various notes are sounded by filling bottles to different levels with water. Trouble is, speculates two-gallon bass Grant Miller, center, that when the music gets real hot the water is liable to steam off and the band get out of tune. Others in the "Blowhearts" band are, from left: Bob Shaw, Swen Swensen, Dave Weight, John Hart and Brent Brockbank, all from Brigham Young University High School. Oh, yes, they don't really play in a jug. This is just a trick photo.



CANNED ART—A youngster in West Berlin, Germany, displays the ingenious toys he made of empty food cans in grammar school. At left is a miniature steam roller, and at right is a rider on a motorcycle. Other students in his class were given rags, empty boxes, wire, old nails and screws to test their creative abilities.

Oscar Fraley Names Jack Fleck Personal Choice For Outstanding Athlete Of The Year

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP) — One year ago you wouldn't have known him, but as we hammer down the stretch today my personal choice for the outstanding athlete of the year has to be the quiet man from Iowa named Jack Fleck.

Maybe you'll go for Johnny Podres, Sugar Ray Robinson or Willie Hartack, but for the greatest single achievement of 1955 in this corner it has to be the playoff triumph Fleck scored over the mighty Ben Hogan to win the U.S. Open golf championship.

It took a lot of class and courage. Fleck was a nobody that day he went out as an underdog to match payoff shots with the immortal bantam Ben. He wasn't accustomed to those tremendous galleries and it was a nerve-shattering situation. But he won with a flaming 69 while the tournament-tough Hogan had a 72.

That made him the man of the sports year on this typewriter and in the other sports the personal choices are:

Baseball

Podres, the lad you'll remember when you've forgotten that Yogi Berra and Roy Campanella were the MVP's. It was Johnny who picked the Dodgers off the floor with his third game triumph over the Yankees and then led them to their first world series victory with a 2-to-0 eight-hitter in the final game.

Boxing

Robinson has got to be the man, even while Rocky Marciano was making mincemeat of his challengers. No man ever had retired and then staged a comeback to regain a title. But Sugar Ray smashed the old cliche that "they never come back" as he flattened Bobo Olson for the middleweight crown.

Racing

Beat Hartack and you take it all. His 412 wins made him the second jockey in all racing history to better 400 in one year.

Tennis

The Aussies made a landslide of the Davis Cup but Tony Trabert put on an individual parade. Taking Wimbledon, France and the U.S. titles made him the boss.

Basketball

Tom Gola of La Salle finished his career as a three-time All-American. And he finished as he started, on top.

Track And Field

Laszlo Tabori of Hungary ran the mile in 3:59 — and two other guys, Chris Chataway and Brian Hewson, also broke four minutes in the same race.

Weight Lifting

Paul Anderson, 22, of Toccoa, Ga., became one of the muscular marvels of the ages with a record 1,130-pound Olympic triathlon lift.

Auto Racing

Bill Vukovich, in death, was the big man. They may not remember Bob Sweikert won at Indianapolis but those who were there will never forget the awesome way "Vuky" was running away from 'em all when it happened.

Great competitors all, but Fleck still was tops.

Loi Scores TKO Over Goodman

MILAN, Italy (UP)—Duilio Loi of Italy, the European lightweight champion, scored a sixth round knockout over Britain's Gordon Goodman Monday night in their scheduled 10-round non-title bout Loi weighed 139 pounds; Goodman, 138½.

Welsh Leads South To Win Over North 20-7 In Shrine Game

By FRANK EIDGE JJR.
United Press Sports Writer

MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—A little guy who used to pitch lumps of coal as a kid in Coaldale, Pa., added a new star to his crown as the nation's leading college football passer today.

Navy quarterback George Welsh was the unanimous choice as "Outstanding Player" of the annual Shrine college all-star game Monday night as he led the South to its sixth victory over the North, 20-7. The five-foot-10 future admiral's throw produced one touchdown and set up two others, one of which he scored himself.

In all, Welsh connected on 12 of 20 passes for a net of 164 yards. And his ball-handling fakery with Georgia's hard - headed fullback Bobby Garrard carrying the ball, produced telling gains in the touchdown drives.

Welsh had the services of two of the country's finest ends, All-America Ron Beagle of Navy and Harold Burnine of Missouri, top passer catcher of 1955.

With the game only one minute and 15 seconds old, Beagle caught a 31-yard throw from Welsh for the South's first score. Garrard kicked the first of his two-out-of-three extra points.

Welsh's three passes to Beagle for 36 yards in the second period set up the second touchdown just before halftime which the 165-pound field general collected himself with a three-yard sneak.

On an 80-yard march in the third period, Welsh hit four times for 68 yards. Garrard scored the final points witha one-yard plunge after contributing a 16-yard-run in the drive.

North Scores Once

Southpaw Freddy Wyant pitched 38 yards to Don Holleder, 1954 All-America from Army, as the second period opened for the North's only touchdown, a play that helped Holleder win the choice as the North team's most valuable player.

Twice more the "Yankees" went to the shadow of the Souths goal posts with Wyant connecting with Holleder and end Gene Kapish of Notre Dame on long passes. But both times, the Souths defenders, led by Steve De La Torre of Florida, Bill Dooley of Mississippi State and Joe Silas of South Carolina threw back the threats inside their 10-yard line.

Fullbacks Pat Uebel of Army and Dick Fitzgerald of Notre Dame were the North's leading ball carriers.

San Francisco Leads U. P. College Basketball Ratings

By NORMAN MILLER
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP)—San Francisco's wandering Dons, in the midst of a coast-to-coast tour that will test their claim to greatness, led the United Press college basketball ratings today with the highest point-total ever amassed by any team.

Thirty-three of the 35 leading coaches who make up the United Press rating board voted San Francisco No. 1 this week, and the two other coaches on the panel picked the Dons second. That gave Coach Phil Woolpert's men 348 out of a possible 350 points. No team ever has been such a solid choice of the Board of Coaches since the United Press ratings were inaugurated in 1950.

Dayton, undefeated in its first eight games, received the two other first-place votes and jumped up to second place, while North Carolina State retained the No. 3 rating. Louisville and Illinois, tied for eighth place, were this week's newcombers among the top 10 teams.

Bahama Wins All 10 Rounds Over Paolo Melis

NEW YORK (UP)—Yama Bahama, the speedy young West Indian welterweight who Monday night won the first main - event shutout decision in the 59-year history of St. Nicholas Arena, will have another TV fight at St. Nick's on Jan. 30 or Feb. 6, probably against Chico Vejar.

Each of the three ring officials gave 22-year-old Bahama all 10 rounds over Paolo Melis of Montreal, former welterweight champion of Italy, for his 18th straight victory.

In his first New York main event, Yama's rapid-fire hooking combinations and accurate uppercuts made the bout so lopsided that it became dull at times.

Bahama was favored at 2-1 although he fought as a substitute for Chico Vejar of Stamford, Conn who withdrew from the match last week because of an alleged back strain.

Promoter Tex Sullivan said today, "Vejar must fulfill his contract to fight at St. Nick's before he can fight anywhere else. I want him to meet Bahama on Jan. 30 or Feb. 6."

Bahama's manager, Bobby Melnick, said, "That's okay with us. Yama will be delighted to meet Vejar."

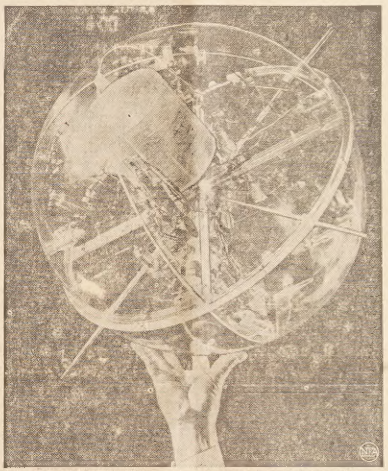
FASHION NOTE—Here is the parade uniform for men and women of the United States team going to the Winter Olympics at Cortina, Italy, Jan. 26-Feb. 5. The skiers and skaters will wear a hooded white wool fleece duffer coat with red and blue trim and navy blue tapered worsted pants. These are to be worn with a red mouton fur Alaskan cap, woolen red, white and navy blue turtleneck sweater, red wool mittens and socks. The snow boots are of navy blue leather with white leather trim and red fasteners.



HERE'S FIRST MODEL OF EARTH SATELLITE—It's on display at the American Museum-Hayden Planetarium in New York City. Encased in a transparent plastic sphere, the works of the projected artificial moon are clearly visible. Standard subminiature electronic parts are used to show the kind of instruments that may be used in the actual satellites the United States plans to launch within two years. The model, 18 inches in diameter and weighing 25 pounds, was built by Associate Editor Herbert R. Pfister of Popular Science Monthly. He consulted scientists working on the program.

Man, Brandishing Knife, Holds Baby Captive Three Hours

MILWAUKEE (UP) — A man brandishing a bloody butcher knife held a 3-month-old baby captive for almost six hours Monday night while a Catholic priest broadcast repeated appeals that he give himself up.

The man, 26-year-old Ysaias Sanchez, was finally captured late Monday night in the home of a friend. The baby was found unharmed in the house and was returned to the mother.

Police said Sanchez, a suspected narcotics addict, seized the child because he claimed to be the father. He knifed Sepharino Garcia, husband of the mother, and pushed another man through a plate glass window during his flight with the baby.

Sanchez and the Garcias lived in the same apartment building. Police said Sanchez broke into the Garcia apartment, seized the infant, and knifed Garcia when he tried to stop him.

Neighbors tried to block the knife - wielding Sanchez in the street. But he pushed one through the window, threatened to knife another, and fled with the baby in his arms.

Franciscan Father Gerald of Our Lady of Gudalupe Catholic Church aided the police manhunt by broadcasting repeated appeals in Spanish over radio station WOKY.

Man Says He Acted As Hand Of God To Halt Atom Research

PARIS (UP)—A court hearing was scheduled today for the 45-year-old baker police said planted a time bomb in the Basilica of the Sacre Coeur (Sacred Heart) in Montmartre.

Police said the court probably would order a psychiatric examination for Daniel Havas who claimed he was acting as "the hand of God" to halt atomic bomb research.

Havas was arrested Monday. Police found three partly-completed bombs in his apartment. They said he admitted placing the time bomb in the famed basilica on Christmas Eve. The bomb was found some 50 minutes before it was to go off Christmas Day.

Havas was formally charged with "attempted destruction of a public building by an explosive substance."

West's Observers Find Moderation In Peace Budget

In Special Session Of Supreme Soviet

By HENRY SHAPIRO
United Press Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW (UP)—Western diplomatic observers were impressed today at the moderation expressed thus far toward the West in the special session of the Supreme Soviet (Parliament) now underway in Moscow.

There was no mention of "aggressive designs against the Soviet,' and in fact there was little mention of the West. Instead there was a "peace budget" for 1956 that cut defense spending 10 per cent and promised a better deal for the Russian consumer.

The budget cut was announced at the first session Monday by Minister of Finance Arseny G. Zverev. The supreme Soviet's second session was scheduled for this afternoon and the session is expected to end Wednesday.

Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist Party Secretary Nikita Khrushchev were expected to report on their month-long tour of Burma, India and Afghanistan at today's or Wednesdays session.

The Supreme Soviet was expected to go further into the subject of the budget, presented in the form of an appropriation bill which placed the emphasis on housing, consumer goods and industry rather than arms.

The new 1956 budget cut defense spending from 112 billion rubles (approximately 28 billion dollars) to 102,500,000,00 rubles (approx-it wiped out last year's 12 per cent military hike which was the first since the war.

Zverev in presenting the budget, failed for the first time in many years to attack the Western powers and accuse them of aggressive designs against the Soviet Union. He dealt mainly with internal affairs and reaffirmed Soviet statements that Russia desires to relax international tensions through negotiations and high level personal contacts.

SOURCE OF SAUCE

SOUTH CARVER, Mass. —(UP) — Massachusetts, which raises more cranberries than any other state, harvested a 1955 crop estimated at more than 1,000,000 barrels.

Here's How

ADVERTISING

by selling more goods to more people

MAKES YOUR JOB MORE SECURE

No matter what your job today, it depends on "good business." And someone has said that in the American business system, nothing can be accomplished until "something is sold."

You know the truth of this. Falling sales mean pay cuts, layoffs, fear. Increased sales mean better pay, promotions, more security in every job for every man.

Advertising is the low-cost, efficient way to sell goods. Advertising is the spark plug of business. So advertising, by selling goods, makes your job, your home, your income more secure!

Other Ways Advertising Helps You:

1. Brings you better goods for less money.
2. Makes shopping more pleasant and easier.
3. Has given us the world's highest standard of living.

Three Damage Suits Settled By Compromise

Three damage suits for personal injuries, by compromise agreement, have been settled in circuit court here. These involve injuries received by the children of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Cayot, R 2, while they were passengers in the car driven by their mother. Her car, traveling on state road 9, was struck by the vehicle at state road 114 intersection, owned by the New Haven public schools and operated by the school principal, John M Henwood.

The accident happened July 16, 1953 at about 9:30 a.m.

In suits brought against the New Haven schools and Henwood by their father as next friend, damages for $250 for personal injuries were made a record of the court for Thomas H. Cayot, aged 5, and Chery Ann Cayot, aged 1 year. In addition, $50 was awarded to children's father in each of these suits for the loss of income and for medical expenses he incurred for the children after the accident.

In a similar suit against the New Haven schools and Henwood, judgment for $500 or Cayot's medical expenses for his son, Denis, aged 2, was entered, also a $1,000 award for injury claims of the child.

Edward Meyers appeared as attorney for the Cayots while Gates & Gates represented the defendants.

Return Verdict Of Accidental Death Of Fort Wayne Boys

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UP)—Authorities have returned an accidental death verdict in the deaths of two teen-aged Fort Wayne boys whose bodies were found in a junk yard Christmas day.

The victims, both shocked fatally, were James Baron, 16, and Richard Rudnick, 15.

They had been missing from their homes since Friday night. Their bodies were discovered by three other youths along an eight-foot fence at the American Iron and Metal Co. salvage yard here.

Deputy Coroner Victor Moeller said the bos died accidentally late Christmas eve or early Sunday.

Police Capt. Mitchell Cleveland said the boys died accidentally "hot" guide wire on a utility pole as they climbed the fence. Utility workers reported the guide wire was charged with 2,300 volts of electricity due to a broken insulator on one of the power lines.

Mrs. Robert E. Peary Buried In Arlington

WASHINGTON (UP) — Mrs. Robert E. Peary, widow of the discoverer of the North Pole, was buried in Arlington National Cemetery today beside her famous husband.

Mrs. Peary, who accompanied her explorer-husband on three trips to the Arctic, died Dec. 19 at her home in Portland, Maine. She was 92.

Rear Adm. E.B. Harp Jr., head of the Navy's Chaplain Corps, officiated at graveside services.

Scientists Get Top-Level Briefing

ATLANTA (UP) — Scientists today got a top-level briefing on preparations for man's greatest single probe of nature's secrets, a world-wide investigation during the International Geophysical Year.

Dr. Lloyd V. Berkner, vice president of the IGY committee, opened a three-day symposium to bring his colleagues up to date on the scope of the giant scientific undertaking by 44 nations starting July 1, 1957.

The symposium is being held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Among the most spectacular events planned for the Geophysical Year are the launching of the first man-made satellite and the huge Antarctic expedition being led by Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd.

But the vast undertaking will embrace 11 branches of geophysics Berkner said.

The Sun will be under continuous observation by 20 stations around the earth watching for changes in sunspots and other conditions affecting the earth's atmosphere.

The Ohio River starts at the Monongahela Rivers at Pittsburgh, Pa., and ends at Cairo, Ill., where it joins the Mississippi, a distance of 981 miles.

Vets Liable For Mortgage Loans By Government

Even When Homes No Longer Owned By Veteran Buyer

By FRANK ELEAZER
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—The House Veterans Committee warned today that thousands of veterans who have sold their GI-mortgaged homes are still liable to Uncle Sam and don't know it.

Committee Chairman Olin E. Teague (D-Tex) said about a fourth of the 3,350,000 homes purchased with GI mortgages are no longer owned by their veteran buyers.

But, he said many of these veterans don't realize that the government still holds them liable if the mortgage loan is defaulted. He said his committee will seek remedial legislation next year along with other amendments to the GI Home Loan Law.

Other proposed amendments included:

1. A new program of scholarships for orphans of men killed in World War II and Korea. Under a bill already introduced by Teague 156,000 such youngsters between 16 and 23 could get free college educations.

2. Continued pressure on the administration to begin a promised program of replacement and major repairs in veterans hospitals, some officially described as firetraps.

The committee also must decide whether to extend the GI home loan program which expires for World War II veterans on July 25, 1957. The housing industry would like the program with its easy credit terms, continued just about unchanged. Teague said the committee has a lot of studying to do on the question.

He said the committee has found shortcomings in the program in several fields, including that of loan transfers to non-veteran buyers.

He said in many cases ex-GI's have learned about their liability to their sorrow when the government slapped them with claims years after the homes were sold.

One possible cure eyed by Teague's committee is to transfer all the veteran's obligation to the second home buyer, provided the new owner meets the Veteran Administration's credit tests. If the VA failed to approve, the GI still could sell his house and transfer his loan — but at his own risk — or he could let the new buyer get his own financing.

"We had to get out. It was perhaps 15 minutes after Gary and I returned from working on the levees.

Didn't Have a Chance

"We have two cars and I put my wife and six of the children in one and started them on their way to Colusa. I don't know how many people there were who were asleep or just wouldn't believe the water would come into Yuba City. They didn't have a chance. I think they will find whole families, hundreds of people, when they're able to go through the houses."

Johnson said he arrived in Colusa, some 20 miles to the west, to find his wife and family had not registered there. A short time later, however, he spotted her car in a slow-moving column approaching the town.

"It was 6 a.m. when we lay down. I guess we slept an hour, then we started for Gridley where there were church members.'

Luckily,a few last minute gifts for the children were in the trunk of one of the cars, so the Christmas would not be entirely without gifts. But Johnson said he walked two miles through waist high water the next day to retrieve more of the presents.

"I was sneaking along, taking cover under trees whenever the helicopters went over as no one was supposed to re-enter the area," he said. "Maybe I did wrong but I wanted to see my house and I wanted to get those presents.'

So it was far from a lavish Christmas but Vaughn, 10; Ronnie, 7, and Robert, 2, each had a toy jeep or truck to play with Christmas morning while 5-year-old Mary Alice had a set of dishes. There also were gifts for Gary, Lanny, 14, and Virgie, 16.

Robert Rigsby, 60, Anderson, was killed when a car hit a bridge on U.S. 31 south of Crothersville.

Six persons were killed in traffic Friday night. They were:

Frederick Leininger, 33, and Wayne D. Gall, 23, both of Elkhart —killed when their car struck a dead end south of Elkhart; Jerry Hollingswroth, 20, Dugger, when a car went out of control near Linton; Joseph C. Dalton, 27, Sylvatus, Va., in a two-car crash near Kentland; William Meyers, 72, Brookville, struck by a car near his home, and Patty Schlageter, 14, Peru, in a one-car wreck north of her home town.

Business Outlook

44 billion dollars, five per cent above 1955s record 42 billion.

Strike Causes Drop

Power equipment — New electric generating units expected to go into service in first half will be "far below" previous estimates because of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. strike.

Electronics — Output in 1956 expected to exceed this year's record of $6,300,000,000 by 5 million dollars.

Machinery — A five to 1 per cent rise in dollar volume of farm machinery sales expected, reflecting price increases. Increase in unit sales "doubtful" during first six months.

Lumber — Output, expected to set a record this year, may drop off about two per cent during first six months of 1956.

Consumer durable goods — sales in first six months expected to "equal or slightly exceed" record 1955 rate.

Meanwhile, the Federal Reserve Bulletin reported that despite the record growth of consumer crdit this year rising incomes have kept the debt burden from becoming too heavy.

What About Christmas

NEW YORK (UP)—Last month when a Nassau County Court judge sentenced Percy the painter to 30 days in jail for being drunk, Percy said, "That's fine judge. That takes care of Thanksgiving. But what about Christmas?"

On his 57th arrest, Percy — Percy P. Ousterman as his name appears on a lengthy police record — checked in just a few minutes before they started serving turkey.

"I thought I'd missed Christmas," Percy, who had just finished a lost weekend, said. "I thought I had a couple of days to go."

Takes Back Present

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Nationalist Chinese government took back a "Christmas" package two Chevy Chase, Md., children received because of a post office error.

But the children didn't want it anyway. It was an 877-page United Nations transcript written in Chinese.

Time Now To Write Obituary Of Conservative Political Movement In The United States

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — The time has come to write the obituary of the conservative political movement in the United States.

It was represented by the Republican Party of Mark Hanna, Boise Penrose and such. There isn't any anymore. That party is dead although surviving millions of conservative voters may not realize it. They are learning the hard way, however, as presidential elections roll around, that no one has been nominated for them.

The rug was yanked from under American conservatives by an action of the 1936 Democratic National Convention which was little noted in that precise light at the time. That was the convention which nominated FDR for a second term.

But it was not that nomination which quenched the conservative party yeast. It was the convention's action in throwing out the party's 104-year-old two-thirds rule. That action deprived the Southern Democratic minority not only of control, but of almost all influence in Democratic national conventions. It opened the way for the Democratic Party to move steadily and rapidly to the left.

The Republican Party has followed, carrying millions of contented voters with it, but leaving other millions of conservatives in the lurch.

South Had Power

The abandoned rule required that a two-thirds majority was necessary to nominate. William Jennings Bryan slipped by it three times with his free silver and currency inflation heresies. But the rule served normally to give the conservative South a real voice in the nomination of Democratic presidential candidates.

FDR could and did move the Democratic Party far to the left. But his successors could not consistently keep it there if the two-thirds hurdle had to be cleared each time. As it stands now, left of center is about as conservative as a Democratic hopeful dare be if he wants serious consideration from a Democratic convention.

When Adlai E. Stevenson recently plumped for political moderation, he was rebuked instantly by such party figures as Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Michigan, and Gov. Averell Harriman, New York. Harriman said there was no place for moderation in the Democratic Party.

FDR and former President Truman found political gold in the left of center mine, Mr. Truman being considerably more left than Mr. Roosevelt. Republicans saw what was going on and began in 1940 with the late Wendell L. Willkie to mine the same gold field.

Struck It Rich

But it was left for General Dwight D. Eisenhower, finally, to strike it rich by becoming the first Republican president elected in 24 years. Mr. Eisenhower was not exactly left of center, but he was a long way from the Republican Party principles of 1918 or, even, 1928 when Herbert Hoover won.

Mr. Eisenhower broke with the New Deal-Fair Deal traditions in several ways, including the type of men who should sit in a cabinet. But old line Republicans in Congress often complained that Mr. Eisenhower was demanding that they support policies which they consistently had opposed through the Roosevelt and Truman regimes.

Most of the congressional Republican conservatives have folded by now to chant: We Want Ike. There remains a hard core of storm troopers, little else.

But, dead as it seems to be, American conservatism might revive if the right leader came along and the conservatives of the South were released from one-party captivity.

Detectives Seek Prime Suspect In October Slaying

CHICAGO (UP) — Detectives pressed their search today for a pimply faced man described as a "prime suspect" in the October slaying of three boys.

The man, believed to be in his middle 20s, was sought after he tried to coax four teen-age boys into his car Thursday night. When one boy refused his offer of money to accompany him, the man slapped him and kneed him in the abdomen.

A lie test given to one man seized by police Monday indicated he had no connection with the crime. He was held for further questioning in cases where advances were made to young boys.

The bodies of Robert Peterson, 13, and John and Anton Schuesser, 13 and 11, were found Oct. 18 in a forest preserve ditch. Two had been strangled and one beaten to death.

Peace Talks Deadlocked Over Recognition Of Communist Party

STILL SMILING—These two girls in Buffalo, N.Y., were still able to smile for the cameraman despite the fact they had walked three miles through a blizzard. Western New York was hit by a 12-to-18-inch snowfall with Buffalo proper recording more than a foot and one half of the cold white stuff.

History's 1st Nonstop Atlantic Crossing By Jet Transport Plane

LONDON (UP) — Britain's Comet III jet airliner flashed from Montreal to London in 6 hours and 18 minutes today in history's first nonstop Atlantic crossing by a jet transport plane.

The crew "breafasted" in Canada before leaving and lunched in Britain, as it completed the last leg of a round-the-world shakedown flight that covered a total of 30,041 miles in a flying time of 66 hours and 43 minutes.

The average speed on the more than 3,000-mile flight from Montreal to London was announced at 548 miles an hour.

Veteran pilot Group Capt. John (Cats Eyes) Cunningham said the four-jet Comet hit the near-sonic speed of 600 miles per hour at one point over Shannon, Ireland. He said that was the top speed for the trip, despite favorable 50 to 60 mile tailwinds.

The Comet left London on the round-the-world flight on Dec. 2. The 24,000-mile trip was designed to restore confidence in the De Havilland-produced Comet and recapture commercial jet supremacy for British aviation.

Only one minor incident marred the tour across four continents and two oceans. It forced the plane to turn back on its first attempt to span the Atlantic.

The trouble developed in No. 3 engine. The plane turned back to Montreal last Dec. 22 when the sub-zero cold caused a bracket holding a jet tailpipe to snap and loosen the tail pipe.

Fear New Year's Record Traffic Death To Be Set

Governors Move To Hold Down Death Count

CHICAGO (UP)—Safety experts feared today that the nation will follow its all-time "Black Christmas" holiday massacre with a New Years record for deaths on the highways.

The National Safety Council said the "cold figures" forced it to predict 420 deaths in traffic crashes during the holiday period between 6 p.m. next Friday to midnight Monday.

A 420 death toll would be far below the record total of 621 persons who died in traffic during the three-day Christmas holiday last weekend. But it would set a new record for a New Year's holiday—making it the second shameful mark set in the nation within a period of one week.

Many state governors, shocked by the all-time, all-holiday Christmas toll, moved quickly to hold down the death count next weekend.

Illinois Gov. William G. Stratton considered calling out the National Guard to patrol the highways. Full-scale investigations of the Christmas slaughter were also ordered in Michigan and New York state.

The Safety Council, meanwhile, expressed hopes that "the terrible lesson of the Christmas holiday" will sober drivers into caution during the New Year's holiday.

But Council President Ned H. Dearborn warned "the cold figures force us to the conclusion that 420 will die.'

The safety experts blamed "just too many cars on the road" for the Christmas tragedy and pointed out that many of those same cars will be jamming the highways next weekend.

Holiday Mail Here Up 3 Per Cent Or By 9,504 Pieces

Letter mail leaving Columbia City from Dec. 1 through Dec. 24 increased slightly more than three per cent or by 9,504 pieces, the records of Postmaster Harry G. Bollinger reveal.

If local residents indulge over the holidays in drinks, hard or soft, they certainly can to a certain measure be excused, as their tongues were dried between Nov. 25 and Dec. 27 by licking some 310,900 stamps. Of this number 182,400 were two-centers and 128,500 were three-cent stamps. These were the stamp sales, exclusive of postage meter sales.

To give a complete picture of the post office's outbound letter mail, the cancellation machine recorded the following with a comparison given for the same dates in 1954:

New Year's Holiday Plans Of Dionnes Loom As Test Of Seriousness Of Riff Of Family

MONTREAL (UP) — The New Years holiday plans of the four surviving Dionne quintuplets loomed today as a test of the seriousness of the riff between the famous girls and their family.

Marie and Annette "are supposed to be going home for New Years."

Cecile and Yvonne "will be working.'

But at Notre Dame de LEsperance Hospital, officials said student nurses Cecile and Yvonne had worked through Christmas Day and were to take a three-day holiday at New Years.

In North Bay, Ont., Oliva Dionne the girl's father, made no effort to hide his grief that none of the "Quints" had returned home for Christmas.

He publicly blamed "outside intruders for this separation' but refused to identify the "outsiders."

"We didnt even receive a card from them,' he said. "They didnt write. They didn't phone. They did nothing to tell us where or how they planned to spend Christmas."

Yvonne burst into tears when a reporter told her of her fathers statement.

"It's not true. Don't believe it,' Yvonne said outside her room at the hospital.

When asked why her parents had not received a Christmas card, Yvonne explained, "We sent one. Is it our fault they didnt get it?"

Why they hadn't telephoned? "We were on duty. It's not easy,

Air Force Tells New Industrial Production Plan

To Achieve Immediate Air Readiness For Atomic War

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Air Force today announced a radical new industrial production policy designed to achieve immediate air readiness for an atomic war.

The new policy, concurred in by the Defense Department, represented a shift from the traditional concept of a prloonged industrial buildup after war starts to a concept of industrial and military readiness before a war breaks out.

The policy, laid down by Air Force Secretary Donald A. Quarles, reflects Air Force thinking that any big war of the future will be decided in the first few weeks with the exchange of nuclear blows.

In a seven-page memorandum on the policy to Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, Quarles said the "new approach" to industrial readiness is "essential because, for the first time in modern history, our nation is faced with a continuous potential threat of devastating destruction at the outset of general war."

"If, in an emergency, we are to survive and minimize the devastation to our nation," Quarles said, "the traditional concept of a prolonged industrial buildup after attack must be replaced by a 'readiness' program."

The new policy, superseding one laid down in June ,1953, specifies that industrial resources will be concentrated on "the most important' planes and missiles—such as those for strategic bombing and air defense.

Quarles said such "selective planning (in production) is imperative" because "sufficient resources are not available to attain the required readiness for all aircraft, guided missiles and support equipment."

To achieve "maximum, all-out production' of strategic and air defense weapons in the first two to three months of an atomic war, the policy sets forth a concept of "production compression capability.' This concept provides that industries producing top priority weapons must be able to go into accelerated production instantly with the outbreak of a general war.

Cleaning Up Of Flood Ravaged Homes Is Begun

Danger Not Yet Over In Delta Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—California, beset by a week of torrential rains and catastrophic floods, welcomed today the return of its famed sunshine.

As thousands of persons began the grim task of cleaning up their flood ravaged homes, the state listed 47 dead and estimated the damage conservatively at 100 million dollars. Floods took another 13 lives in Oregon.

Even with a break in the weather, the danger from further floods was not yet over in the delta area. This is a vast area of islands and channels through which the swollen Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers are dumping their muddy waters into San Francisco Bay.

"The situation is still critical," said the San Joaquin County sheriff's office at Stockton early today. "It will remain critical at least through tomorrow.'

Levees Have Held

So far, the soggy levees managed to hold back the surging river waters and to fend off high tides backing into the delta area from the bay.

At Isleton, a community of 2000 persons on the lower Sacramento River, 200 men worked day and night to bolster the levees with sandbags. Mayor Morris Stewart said the levees withstood a high tide of 9.8 feet Tuesday.

"It's still very dangerous and it's a mighty tough battle,' he said, "but were holding.

The town has been battling flood waters and high tides for seven straight days. The main danger lies a mile and a half south of the town, where the San Jaoquin and Mokelumne rivers join. The Sacramento flows on the north side of town.

Rio Vista In Trouble

The town of Rio Vista, on the Sacramento River five miles west of Isleton, also was battling high waters, but it was having an easier time of it. Much of that town lies on higher ground.

Levees in the delta area of Contra Costa County, which lies west of San Joaquin County, were holding against the San Joaquin River. Some lateral fractures were reported, but they were on the inside of the levees rather than on the water side.

A storm, at least, was unlikely. For the first time in 13 days, the weatherman issued a prediction that did not call for either light or heavy rains. He predicted sunny skies and colder weather in the mountains. The colder weather spelled an end to the disastrous mountain runoff.

Hospitalized After Crash On U.S. 30

Lewis N. Van Cleave, 25, of Warsaw, was treated at the Whitley County Hospital following a collision Tuesday on U.S. Highway 30 about three miles west when his car struck the rear end of a truck.

Van Cleave was westbound, according to Trooper James Lewinski, when his car struck the rear of a westbound truck driven by Elmer C. Mitchall, Norwalk, O.

The Warsaw man suffered a laceration on his nose, a possible nose fracture, and possible fractured ribs.

Soviets Release Airman Arrested By Communists

Of East Berlin, 23 Hours After Arrest

BERLIN (UP) —Soviet release of an American airman arrested by the East German Communists makes it clear the Russians will respect four-power agreements on treatment of Western Allied nationals in the city, American officials said today.

Action of the Soviets in returning M.Sgt. Mike Kliman, 45, Brooklyn, N.Y., was seen as a rebuff to the East Zone Communists who labeled him a "drunken" driver and demanded his trial by a Communist court.

The Communist press and radio denounced the sergeant in a campaign as bitter as that directed afainst two other American soldiers arrested recently in East Berlin on charges of striking an East German actor.

The Americans were braced for a test case on four-power occupation rights when the Soviets released Kliman 23 hours after his arrest by East German police as a "drunken American occupier" after his car collided in East Berlin with a speeding taxi.

Kliman, nervous and apparently shaken by his experience, told a news conference he was treated "well" by the Communists but he would answer only "no comment" to most questions.

His damaged car still was in East Berlin today awaiting a tow car to take it to the West. Apparently worried about the car he answered "no comment' when asked if he had been drunk, if he had passed a stop sign and if he had been transferred to Soviet hands by East Berlin police.

"I came to Berlin on leave from Orly Field in Paris to visit relatives," he said. "I went to East Berlin to see friends. While there I had a minor traffic accident. I was detained by Peoples Police and treated well."

The East Berlin Communists still were angered by the court-martial acquittal of the two other Americans, but apparently the Soviets acted without even informing them of their intentions in releasing Kliman.

In three hours of negotiations that preceded Kliman's release, Col. I.A. Kotsiuba, Berlin's deputy Soviet commandant, did not mention East German sovereignty or the "right" of the Communists to try the sergeant.

When the Russians released Kliman to Col. O.M. Barsanti, Army chief of staff here, they did not even demand any punishment for him, officials said. Barsanti was said to have agreed only that the sergeants insurance company would handle any damage claims made by the East Berlin taxi driver.

Mrs. Minnie Wheeler, a patient at the Irvin Nursing Home, was taken to the Whitley County Hospital, Tuesday evening in a J. A. DeMoney and Son ambulance.

President Will Work And Play For Two Weeks

In Tropical Warmth Of Key West, Florida

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower departs by plane today for two weeks of work and play in the tropical warmth of the nations southernmost city.

His destination: The Key West Fla., naval base, a favorite winter vacation spot of former President Truman.

Accompanying the President, among others, were his brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, and his physician, Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder. Mrs. Eisenhower was remaining in Washington to be near her daughter in law, Barbara, who gave birth to her fourth child last week.

The President's decision to make the trip to Key West came as a surprise and represented a change of mind on his part.

His doctors had been urging him to go south for some mild exercise in a warm climate as part of his recuperation from his heart attack But only last week Mr. Eisenhower indicated he intended to ignore their suggestion.

At that time he informed the Key West Chamber of Commerce that he did not think he would be able to get away from Washington this winter and that if he did, he probably would go only as far south as Georgia.

What caused the President to change his mind was a mystery. It was possible that his doctors took the matter up with him again and put greater stress on the importance of his making the trip.

Mr. Eisenhower's trip means that he will not be in Washington when Congress reconvenes next Tuesday. But White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said that during his vacation the President will continue to work on his State of the Union message—which will be read to Congress in the President's absence Jan. 5—his budget estimates and other special messages to Congress.

If Mr. Eisenhower confers with congressional leaders or administration officials on congressional matters within the next two weeks, those conferences apparently will have to take place in Florida. But the number of his callers undoubtedly will be held to a minimum.

Stork Visits Local Hospital On Christmas

The stork visited the Whitley County Hospital three times Christmas Day.

He first visited the hospital at 4:16 a.m. bringing a son, Rex Leroy, to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carpenter, R 7. The baby weighed seven pounds, 10 ounces.

The mother is the former, Juanita Jean Henline. They have two sons and a daughter.

At 4:35 a.m. he arrived with a daughter, Tina Marie, for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Otis Green, 110 North Madison. The baby weighed five pounds, 13 ounces.

The mother is the former Lois Joann Provansha. They have one other daughter.

The third baby was delivered at 12:33 p.m., which was a son, Michael Lynn, to Mr. and Mrs. Phil E. Beard, 401 E. Van Buren. He weighed seven pounds, two and one-half ounces.

The mother is the former Jessie Lee Wilkinson. This is their first child.

On the day before Christmas Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Stanfield, R 6, became the parents of a son, David Merrill, at 12:07 p.m. He weighed eight pounds, three and one-fourth ounces.

The mother is the former Elizabeth Irene Gale. The have another son and a daughter.

Also on the same day, a daughter, Barbara Ann, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Blaugh, R 2, at 8:51 a.m. She weighed nine pounds, three and one-half ounces.

The mother is the former Mary Aileen Smith. They also have three sons.

Post-Christmas Gift Exchange

Clubs and organizations have been having their Christmas exchanges since Dec. 1, but a different type of Christmas exchange is now keeping clerks in the stores busy.

These are the exchanges of gifts which were "wrong size," "wrong color," or a try for the more practical for the impractical.

The post-Christmas exchange is expected to continue until New Year's. The exchange started Tuesday when the stores opened, in some stores kept clerks busier than new sales.

Internal Revenue Agents To Aid PuzzledTaxpayer

Order Cutting Down Assistance Reversed

WASHINGTON (UP)—Internal Revenue agents will fill out income tax forms for puzzled taxpayers next year after all.

Also, taxpayers will get all the government help they need in figuring out for themselves how much they owe the government.

T. Coleman Andrews, former Internal Revenue commissioner, had issued an order cutting down federal assistance in making out tax blanks. His successor, Russell C. Harrington, reversed it Tuesday.

Andrews order permitted tax agents to fill out forms only for taxpayers who are illiterate, physically disabled or unable to speak English. The order also reduced the number of days a week agents might help taxpayers fill out forms.

The new regulations were issued to improve efficiency.

Harrington ordered Internal Revenue agents to fill out forms for anyone who requests them to do it. He also ordered regional tax offices to designate up to five days a week as "special taxpayer assistance days" during the last two February and the first two of April. Two "assistance days" a weekwillbe set aside during the first half of January.

However, the tax chief said, that he wanted to "make it clear that any taxpayer will be given assistance even on non-designated days."

He said he approved of "self-help methods" designed to encourage taxpayers to fill out their own returns, with agents answering any questions they have.

But, he said, if the plans to increase efficiency turn out to be ill-founded, we must provide "all necessary assistance even it this means failure to achieve the savings in employe time that we are hoping for."

Malayan Red Leader Talks With Officials

Comes Out Of Jungle To Attend Meeting

BALING, Malaya (UP) — Chin Peng, young leader of the Malayan Communist guerrillas, came out of the jungle today to talk peace with government officials. They promptly deadlocked over recognition of the Communist Party.

The 34-year-old Chin insisted that the outlawed Communist Party be recognized. A communique issued after the opening 3½-hour session said the government refused the demand.

A second session followed after an hour recess and adjourned with an agreement by both sides to meet again Thursday.

The communique after the first session said Chin asked whether the government would dissolve the Malayan Communist Party if he accepted government amnesty terms.

Engku Abdel Rahman, chief minister of the Federation of Malaya, who is representing the government with David Marshall, chief minister for Singapore, replied: "Unequivocably, yes."

Throughout the session, Chin, who once was a British war hero and Britain's "most trusted guerrilla" in the war against Japan, emphasized that recognition of the party was the Communists chief interest.

However, the communique said the talks were carried on in "an atmosphere of understanding."

Chin and his two lieutenants,

Eisenhower Administration Is Making Plans To Cramp Democratic Campaign Strategy

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Eisenhower administration plans to spend many additional millions of the taxpayers' dollars next year in ways very likely to cramp Democratic campaign plans. The sum will be way over one billion dollars.

That may be good politics. It may be good national policy. It very well could be both.

However that may be, the proposal to spend additional money on national defense, and for roads, social welfare and, even, foreign aid, will tend to blunt some Democratic presidential campaign issues.

The billion dollar hike in national defense spending announced by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson is an example. The Eisenhower administration has been criticized for some of its Defense Department economies. Wilson's added billion will help Republican campaigners to answer such criticism next year.

Perhaps most important, the Air Force cheering section in Congress will find their pet service getting 700 million dollars of the new money. That, alone, should spike some Democratic campaign guns.

More Foreign Aid

Foreign aid spending is something else, again. There is much congressional sentiment to get out of the aid business soon. Instead Mr. Eisenhower will ask Congress to appropriate $4,900,000,000 this year against the $3,200,000,000 he asked a year ago and the $2,700,000,000 which Congress voted.

Unexpended balances left over from previous appropriations has enabled the spending of about $4,200,000,000 for foreign aid annually in the past few years. The fat

Malaya Background

By UNITED PRESS

BACKGROUND ON MALAYA—The Communist movement in Malaya started with that in China during the 1920s. It received its biggest boost with Japan's rapid conquest of the Peninsula in World War II and Britain's failure to defend it.

The fighting that has raged for eight years has been the bitterest between the free world and Communism since the end of World War II. In recent years it has been a losing battle for the Reds.

The Communist movement got a grip on the Chinese in Malaya where the Communist Party fermented trouble along the usual lines from 1928 onward.

That went on until Nazi Germany attacked Russia in 1941. Then the Communists changed their tactics and strongly supported the Allied war effort. The Communist leader, Chin Peng, 34, became a British war hero in the war against Japan.

China led his fighters into the jungles as guerrilla fighters. Arms and equipment were parachuted to them by the Allies and were still there at the liberation in 1945.

During three years of fighting the Communists were able to indoctrinate many impressionable young men still smarting from the British defeats. They boasted that after the liberation they would set up a Communist republic of Malaya.

They began their campaign in the cities, especially Singapore, fomenting the usual strikes and labor troubles. These plans failed because they could not gain complete control of the trades unions and by 1948 they decided on a shooting war.

The "Army of Liberation" went back to the jungles. In June 1948 they began shooting up tin miners and rubber planters with the intention of creating economic chaos. They were troublesome, but they failed to create the disorder they hoped. Record quantities of rubber have been produced; tin production has soared.

While guerrillas fought in the jungles, Communist leaders in Singapore created riots and called strikes. One effect was to speed up the British government's plans to give full self government to the Malayan Federation and to allocate more funds for development.

Officials claimed now their rehabilitation and development schemes are beginning to pay off. Gen. Sir Gerald Templer, who took over the long jungle campaign, said as far as the shooting war was concerned "we have got the Communists down."

Scientific Promise Is Christmas Gift For All Persons Concerned For Little Children

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor

NEW YORK (UP) — Science had a Christmas gift for all persons concerned for little children.

It is a clear demonstration that perhaps as many as 10 per cent of those who are severely "retarded" mentally, (to use a polite word,) needn't have been.

The scientific promise is that in some 10 per cent, mental retardation can be prevented, and — if treated soon enough — cured.

Science has assumed mental deficiency had to have an organic basis, such as chemical accidents and malformations in the central nervous system during the period in the womb, or injuries suffered at birth. By and large, nothing can be done about mental deficiency due to organic causes.

But in a certain number of mental defectives, no organic cause—not even the suggestion of an organic cause — can be found. Dr. Harold Bourne, a psychiatrist, looked into this fact.

Hospital Medical Officer

He was in an ideal position to investigate, since he was medical officer of the Fountain Hospital in London which gets severe mental defectives at the beginning of their life-times of custodial care. Its patients when admitted are rarely older than five years.

He took 15 consecutive admissions. Of these, there were organic causes for mental deficiency in 138. In the remaining 16 there were none. He then directed an exhaustive investigation into what had happened to all 154 beginning at the moment of birth.

What he found out was that an overwhelming percentage of the non-organic mental defectives had been subjected to what he called "pathological mothering" and "pathological fathering" or both. Pathological refers to sickness or disease — or to what is likely to cause sickness and disease. In the organic cases, this "pathological" rearing was too small percentage-wise to be significant.

Severe Mental Deficiency

Dr. Bourne was so bold as to say that this cause of severe mental deficiency should be considered an entity of its own. He suggested a name for it — "protophrenia." It is a sickness which originates in an infant mind which has been deprived of what it needs to develop.

In his words — "this work indicates that extreme mental defect may be attributed to grossly perverted infant rearing in about 10 per cent of cases."

He anticipated scientific criticism based upon the objection that "not all infants exposed to harmful social experience become imbeciles." But these same skeptics concerning psychological causes for disease do not question the sickening power of the tubercle bacillus, though "the vast majority infected with it" do not develop tuberculosis.

At any rate, his investigation were minutely scientific and was given the recognition of a detailed account in the famous medical journal, "The Lancet." Dr. Bourne now is on the faculty of the University of Otago Medical School in New Zealand.

South Korea Seems To Have Forgotten Its Heated Charge

SEOUL (UP) — South Korea's government appeared today to have forgotten its heated charge that a Communist Christmas clash with a Korean patrol boat was an "act of war" calling for immediate retaliation.

The cabinet was in session for some time today, but an official spokesman said after the meeting the weekend "sea battle" was not discussed. Korean patrols in the area have been reinforced, but no further hostilities were reported.

President Syngman Rhee, who is vacationing in Chinhae, did not come here for the cabinet meeting. He is not expected back until after New Years.

The five and a half hour Christmas Day clash started when the patrol boat caught 14 Communist fishing boats violating South Korea arbitrarily - proclaimed "60-mile limit." Four Korean coast guardsmen were captured by the Communists, but no casualties were reported.

A Communist claim that two Red fishermen were captured by the Koreans was dismissed as "utterly untrue' by the Office of Marine affairs here.

Nation's Colleges And Universities Get 507 Million

NEW YORK (UP)—The nation's colleges and universities received 507 million dollars in gifts and grants during the 1954-55 fiscal year but fell 100 million dollars short of estimated annual needs.

The 210-million-dollar grant recently made by the Ford Foundation to the nation's private colleges and universities was not included in the survey which ended last July 1.

An announcement made Monday, said the 507 million dollars was 50 per cent more than was given in 1952-52.

The survey was made by the Council for Financial Aid to Education in cooperation with the American College Public Relations Assn. It was described as the most extensive survey ever made of philanthropy in higher education.

Wilson Compton council president, said the Ford grant of 210 million dollars plus an earlier 50-million-dollar gift will yield about 13 million dollars a year in actual income for the beneficiary schools.

LONDON (UP)—Police today pushed an investigation into a "deliberate" sabotage attempt against the government - owned railways, plagued by a month-long series of crashes and accidents that have killed 24 persons and injured more than 180.

Saboteurs were blamed for cutting the main Bradford to Skipton line at Charleston, Yorkshire, Tuesday. A trackwalker found a heap of ballast sand on the mainline at one point and lengths of unbolted rails at another. The bolts were missing and police said "it was a deliberate attempt to sabotage the line."

MANILA, P.I. (UP)—Justice Undersecretary Jesus Barrera is advocating talks between the Philippines and United States to explore revision of the military bases agreement, particularly in regard to the question of jurisdiction in criminal and civil cases.

The issue was raised by the fatal shooting of a Filipino by an American sentry at the U.S. Navy Supply Depot in Olongapo, Zambales Province. U.S. naval authorities ruled the shooting was justified and refused to prosecute or even identify the sentry.

TOKYO (UP)—A 59-year-old American Negro from Moffett, Okla., sought an "amiable" Japanese wife in a letter to the editor of the Tokyo newspaper Mainichi today.

The man identified himself as Plummer Jones and said he was a widower with a permanent income of $205 a month. He said he would like to "correspond with an amiable Japanese lady who might be interested in becoming my wife and companion for the remaining years of my life in exchange for the security and freedom from financial worries which I can give her."

Jones said the woman must be between 35 and 45.

BUENOS AIRES (UP) — Dr. Jeronimo Remorino, former Argentine foreign minister and ambassador to the United States, left Tuesday for political exile in Colombia.

When dictator Juan D. Peron was ousted last September, Remorino took political asylum in the Colombian embassy here. The revolutionary government extended him a safe-conduct pass to go abroad.

SAN SALVADOR (UP) — A citizens group representing several El Salvador political parties said today they would ask the United Nations and the United States to lend voting machines for next year's presidential elections.

The group pointed out that the government has commited itself to make the election a true example of democracy at work. The United Nations and the United States should be willing to assist by furnishing technical facilities, the group added.

OLDEST SYMBOL

The fish is considered the oldest symbol of Christianity. When the pagans first became Christians they were afraid of being persecuted and put to death by those who still believed in pagan gods; so they invented a secret sign, giving it the form of a fish.

When they wanted to make their new and beautiful belief known to each other and wanted to find out whether the man with whom they associated was pagan or Christian, they drew the sign of the fish in the sand, and if the person responded in the same way, they felt safe to speak of their new faith.

Circuit Court News

In the Wilton Keiser estate the administrator's final report has been approved and he and his bondsmen discharged from further liability.

In the action brought by Silas E. Leininger and others against the Allen-Whitley County Gravel Co., Inc., for $20,000 damages and for termination of a 1953 lease, the defendant company has filed a petition to require oral examination of the plaintiff. This has been granted and Mrs. Helen Foust, court reporter, has been appointed for the conditional examination set for Feb. 16 at the law offices of Gates & Gates. Mr. Leininger has been instructed to produce the following records at the time of the examination: A certified copy of the will of Orpha E. Leininger, a record of all payments received from the defendant company since the lease agreement dated Jan. 20, 1953, the original warranty deed received when Silas E. and Orpha E. Leinnger purchased the real estate, a record of all payments received by the Leiningers from the date of the real estate purchase, these to include those received from Ralph Walb and Roma Leininger, Fort Wayne, and from any an all during sand and gravel operations.

Mr. Leininger charges that the gravel company has changed the course of Eel river, that the dredge employed was not equipped to remove material to a 40-foot depth from shallow water line, that the dredge was removed in July, and that large quantities of material were covered with sand and waste to make removal unprofitable, that no notice was given to the dredge removal, that when the defendant company moved the dredge to the E. Ford Hickman lands adjacent to his, deposits and fluming wastes in large quantities came upon the Leininger holdings, that the defendant company has been in possession of the Leininger premises, all of which he maintains is in violation with the lease agreement.

Korean Student Here To Help Her Homeland

BELTON, Tex. —(UP)— Chung Ai Chang from Korea is studying home economics, American style, so she can one day help the women of her homeland.

Miss Chang, who previously studied at Ewha Women's University in Korea, is majoring in economics at Mary Hardin-Baylor College here.

She said that by acquiring a thorough knowledge of home economics, she will be able to help "revise the lives of Korean women and make it possible for them to have enough time to think of peace on earth.

Miss Chang was graduated from Masas Girls' High School in Masas, Korea, with honors in March, 1954, and attended Ewha Women's University, a Methodist school and the only mission school for girls in Korea. She has completed her freshman year there.

She told Dr. Arthur K. Tyson, president of Mary Hardin-Baylor, that "the women in Korea, my mother, sister and others, are bound at home, especially in the kitchen, working without a rest. They have no opportunity to talk and think of our country's condition in the world."

At Year's End Woman's Future Seems More Serene, Filled With Worthwhile Projects

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—For a few smug hours at this time of year every woman's future seems to grow more serene, filled with worthwhile projects and wondrous accomplishments.

The disciplined days ahead are forecast in a few neat lines headed "New Year's Resolutions."

Figures are better, dispositions are sunnier, homes are run more smoothly, husbands are happier and wardrobes are dreamier.

The dreams of glory aren't entirely foolish, psychologists say. Just putting them down on paper is a step toward accomplishing them.

The following resolutions are made not only in recognition of strictly personal put-off-till-tomorrow projects of 1955, but also with an eye to what the year 1956 will require of all women. I hereby resolve to:

Forget The Flare

1 — Quit kidding myself that flared skirts hide extra pounds. Designers are giving us fewer flared skirts in new spring fashions anyway. And after spring comes bathing suits. So bend to the floor, two, three, four....

2 — Find out who all these women are who control more than 70 per cent of the saved wealth of this nation and inquire how they did it.

3 — Think up a good answer to the inevitable question, "How come you never got married?" and have it printed on ladylike cards for all single girls who get tired of getting the same question from nosy acquaintances.

4 — Ask Marlene Dietrich how she manages to look so young. There must be some part of her beauty regimen that all women could copy.

5 — Look with less admiration at those pointed-toed Italian pumps and more realism at my feet. The barefoot sandals they're designing for next summer require straight, unbelmished toes.

Remember The Men

6 — Pay more attention to men's clothes and remember to compliment them when their suits or neckties deserve it. It is amazing what a big kick the most sophisticated man gets out of having his taste in clothes complimented.

7 — Become an expert at something before those contestants on the multi-thousand dollar quiz contests completely shatter my ego. Pick a category that will be practical in real life as well as on TV, though, like "Outstanding Bachelors" or "Money and How To Save It."

8 — Try one new recipe a week. With all these new cookbooks and TV instruction in cooking it seems a shame to keep serving my guests pork chops creole.

9 — Find out exactly how models outline their eyes so expertly with eyebrow pencil for that oriental-eyed look. It's going to be more important in makeup than ever this spring.

10 — Find out if it's really true that men prefer long hair on women. A lot of us have been making a serious cutting mistake if it is true.

NO WINGS
-but a wing-ding take-off!

(And at only part throttle — with Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflow*!)

Of course, you don't get wings with this sleek and stunning new '56 Buick—but you can get the nearest thing to them.

It goes under the name of Variable Pitch Dynaflow, because it uses the principle of the modern plane's propeller.

But the 1956 version of this great transmission goes airplanes one better now.

It's all as simple as it's thrilling.

At take-off, a pilot sets the pitch of his propellers for all-out acceleration. Aloft, he switches to cruising pitch for top mileage.

You can do that, too, in a '56 Buick. Just floor the pedal and you switch the Dynaflow blades to high-performance angle. That gets you going instantly at full-power sweep. Then, just ease up on the pedal, and you switch to cruising pitch — and a lot better gas mileage.

But now you get something a pilot doesn't get — a new quick getaway response even without switching the pitch. A sizzling new take-off at only part throttle. A wonderfully solid new take-hold that you use in all your normal driving situations. And you get it with Dynaflow smoothness — plus another boost in gas mileage.

Why not come try it?

Why not get the feel of it by taking the wheel? And there's no better place than right there to learn about the great new record-high horsepowers, the sweet new ride, the superb new handling, and the long list of safety features that make this, literally, the best Buick yet.

Drop in on us soon—this week would be fine —and let this sweep-styled new beauty show you what pure automobile can do.

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.*

Pink And Silver Form The Theme Of Annual Tri Kappa Holiday Ball Tuesday Evening

Pink and silver formed the theme of the Holiday Ball, the annual charity ball of Alpha Iota chapter of Kappa Kappa Kappa sorority. Approximately 200 couples attended the dance, which was held Tuesday evening at the American Legion Home.

The table in the check room was decorated with tinsel and a silver box ornamented with a red poinsettia.

Glittering mobiles of silver and pink hung from the ceiling of the hall. From the center hung a mistletoe ball; the mistletoe was enclosed in a globe of silver tinsel and tied with a pink bow. Pink trees, sparkled with silver, decorated the walls.

Pink flocked trees, illuminated by spot-lights, stood in two corners of the hall, and a traditional green tree, beautifully decorated, stood in a third corner.

A pink light shone on the band, Jimmy Stier and his orchestra which sat on a raised pink platform. Behind the band was a pink backdrop, on which was a silver tree decorated with aqua ornaments.

Also present at the dance to provide entertainment with his individual caricatures was Jim McBride, television artist on the Charlie Powell program over WKJG-TV, Fort Wayne.

The punch table was laid with a pink cloth and a silver runner. Two delicate pink trees, sparkled with silver, were on each side of the crystal punch bowl. Silver service and pink napkins carried out the color scheme.

Presiding at the punch bowl were Mrs. B. J. Bloom, Mrs. John Q Adams, Mrs. Leon Alter, and Mrs. Merrill Munns.

Committees

Mrs. Phil McNagny served as general chairman for the dance. Mrs. Don Beard, chairman of the Checking committee, was assisted by members of Sigma Nu Delta, of which Miss Barbara Mundt is president.

Other committees included: Publicity, Mrs. Kirk McNagny and Mrs. Elvin DeWitt; Decorations Mrs. Dale Pence, Mrs. Ed Meyers, Jr., Mrs. Ed Parker, and Miss Carol Meyers; Tickets, Mrs. Donald Helfrich and Miss Shirley Gates; Refreshments, Mrs. B. J. Bloom, Mrs. Leon Alter, and Mrs. Merrill Munns.

Out-of-town guests attending the annual affair included: Mr. and Mrs. Colby Armstrong, Ludington Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. William Travelbee, Coshocton, Ohio; Mr and Mrs. Cleon Fleck, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Schinbeckler, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bolyard, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Somers, Mr. and Mrs. William McNagny, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Eberly, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Eberbach, all of Fort Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kreiger, Huntington; Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Foust, Jr., Indianapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Loos, Rome City; Mr. and Mrs William Striggle, South Whitley; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Neidigh, Jr. Lafayette; Mr. and Mrs. Phil Lowe, Pierceton; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fritz, Bluffton; Chauncey Hill, Warsaw.

1955 Business Boom Continues

WASHINGTON (UP) — The government reports the 1955 business boom continued through November and early December.

Factory production continued to rise. It was accompanied by a further increase in non-farm employment, on a seasonally adjusted basis, and a longer workday.

Business spending and plans for plant improvements and equipment continued strong, the department said, with an increase in the last quarter of the year and a further increase expected in the first quarter of 1956.

Personal income rose well above the average rate for the third quarter of the year with some further increase in pay rates.

Both durable and non-durable goods production reached new highs in November. The auto industry was back up to its high rates of production and employment of last spring. After mid-December, however, a reduction in overtime work was expected to bring a "moderate" reduction in output.

Retail sales in November were at about the same rate as last fall although down somewhat from October and September.

CHICAGO — Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, on the "Black Christmas" highway massacre:

"How much longer will a civilized nation create or endure such mass mayhem?"

CALLANDER, Ont. — "Papa" Oliva Dionne, charging that the four surviving quintuplets have broken away from home:

"Lately they have been treating their brothers and sisters almost with contempt."

MONTREAL — Yvonne Dionne, when asked by a Montreal Star reporter whether rumors of a famly split were factual:

"Don't believe it. It's not true."

RALEIGH, N.C. — Basketball Coach Frank McGuire of North Carolina, a coach noted for his court strategems, plitting how he will play arch rival North Carolina State:

"It depends on what develops. We may even let the air out of the ball."

NEW YORK — John Boning, president of the Bartenders School, Inc., on having a morning-after "hair of the dog" drink to cure a hangover:

"That's a little like pouring gasoline on a bonfire."

At Home

ITHACA, N..Y (UP)—Sheriff Howard A. Harvey was about to leave his office for home when an assistant asked him if he wanted to investigate an accident involving a trailer-truck.

"Sure," said Harvey, "where is it.'

"The trailer is on your front lawn, the assistant said.

Just Old - Fashioned Painter Says Gloria

By GLORIA SWANSON
Written for United Press

ROME (UP)—I am a "me, too." I paint. And who doesn't since Grandma Moses? Presidents, taxi-drivers, premiers, plumbers, doctors, lawyers, merchants and executive VPs. Oops, almost forgot an ambassador (scuse me, Clare Boothe Luce).

I held out as long as I could in keeping my secret from the public. I'm convinced I could become more famous by being "the one and only" who did not paint or write a biography.

Mind you, I did not seek public recognition as a painter. It just happened that my Rome landlady was examining the two bathrooms in my newly built apartment because of some water leaks and admired three of four jaintings I had put there to give these very utilitarian looking rooms a cozier appearance.

When she was told in answer to her question, "Who did them?", that I did, nothing would do but that they must hang in a gallery instead of bathrooms! If you knew my landlady you wouldn't argue with her.

Next day they were hanging in a gallery that was having an exhibition.

The day after the opening of the exhibition, my landlady excitedly arrived asking for the other five canvasses I had tucked away and insisting that I tell her what price I wanted for them.

"You mean some fool wants to buy them?" I exclaimed.

"Yes, you've made a great success," she replied.

All I can say is that my paintings will appeal to the simple minded because there no guessing games. A pansy is a pansy, a glass a glass, a flight of stairs simply stairs.

I guess I am just old-fashioned.

Seventeen Stamps To Be Issued In The Coming Year

Postmaster General Arthur E Summerfield today announced seventeen stamps scheduled to be issued during the year 1956.

Seven of these stamps have previously been announced. They are: the 1½ cent Mount Vernon; the 3-cent 250th Anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin to be issued at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on January 17, 1956; the 7-cent Woodrow Wilson to be issued at Staunton, Virginia, on January 10 1956; the 9-cent The Alam; the 10-cent Independence Hall; the 20-cent Monticello; and the $5.00 Alexander Hamilton. All of these stamps, with the exception of the Benjamin Franklin issue, are of the regular series.

New stamps announced today for the first time include these ten: 3-cent Labor Day; 3-cent 200th Anniversary of Nassau Hall (Princeton University); 3-cent Booker T. Washington Centennial; 3 cent Wildlife Conservation (three stamps); also a 3-cent Commemorative Stamp, an 11-cent Souvenir Sheet, a 2-cent Postal Card, and a 6-cent Air Mail Envelope in honor of the Fifth International Philatelic Exhibition, New York.

The designs, places and dates of sale of the stamps not previously announced will be given in future press releases by the Post Office Department.

Only 2 Employes Of Kokomo Firm Receive Bonuses

KOKOMO, Ind. (UP)—Only two employes of the Accurate Parts Inc. firm here have qualified for holiday bonuses of $100 each.

That's because the payoff is made only to those workers who give up smoking for a year.

M.E. Hicks, president of the firm, began offering the bonus in 1951 to all employes who quit smoking for a year. So far, he's paid off 11 times.

Hicks said he's not against smoking, and even enjoys an occasional cigar himself. But he contends that stopping the habit for a year at a time helps build character through the exercise of will power.

Last Jan. 1, seven of his employes accepted the challenge to stop smoking. Only two survived the test. In 1954 four of nine persons qualified for the award.

Hicks recalled one case in which an employe quit smoking on a Jan. 1 and held out until the following Dec. 19 before succumbing to temptation.

Many of the men who enter the non-smoking contest, Hicks added, keep the pledge about three months.

Democrats Take Over Control In Majority Of Cities Throughout State This Weekend

By KEITH L. MARTIN
United Press Staff Correspondent

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Hoosiers embark on one of their biggest political years this weekend as Democrats take over control in a majority of Indiana cities.

From this "grass roots" level they will build up party organizations to do battle with the Republicans later in 1956 when all major state and national offices will be at stake at the ballot box.

The Republican answer to this seemingly Democratic edge in the municipalities is the fact the GOP now is entrenched in state and federal government posts. They can cite know-how as a recommendation for reelection.

The new year will start politically at noon Jan. 1 as city officials elected Nov. 8 take the oath of office. This will be a quiet affair in most of the 106 cities, though Indianapolis might drum up a bit more voter interest since the swearing-in will be televised.

By mandate of about 775,000 voters, control of the cities will switch from top-heavily GOP to top-heavily Democratic. Mayors of the Democratic faith were elected in 72 cities, Republicans were elected in 31 and Independents in three.

First Presidential Primary

By normal standards, 1956 would be a busy political year—a U.S. senate post is up for grabs, all 11 congressional seats, the governorship and allied state offices and, of course, Indiana's electoral votes for president.

The coming year will be bigger than ever, though, since it will include the state's first presidential preference primary, created by a 1953 law to enable Hoosier voters to indicate which man they prefer as their party's presidential nominee.

Heretofore, the votes of Indiana's national convention delegates were not earmarked.

This year, congressional district delegates must support on the first ballot the man preferred by a majority of his district voters, and delegates at-large must give first ballot support to the presidential candidate polling the most votes statewide, provided in each case the man is a candidate before the convention.

It takes 500 petitioners to get a name on the ballot, and the candidacies may be filed with the secretary of state during a 30-day period starting Feb. 28.

Capehart Vs. Craig?

It now appears the names of Adlai Stevenson or Sen. Estes Kefauver or both will appear on Democratic primary ballots, while Republicans may be asked to support Rep. Charles Halleck as a "favorite son" if President Eisenhower decides to quit public life.

The state's top political prizes—nominations of senatorial and gubernatorial candidates—will be deceded in early summer at party state conventions. Despite Governor Craig's repeated disavoyals of interest, there is increasing speculation he will challenge Sen. Homer Capehart's bid for renomination.

Democratic senatorial hopefuls have not yet materialized.

Five men already are announced and running for the gubernatorial nomination—Frank Millis, Dan Cravens and State Rep. Merrett Monks on the Republican side and State Sen. Matthew Welsh and Nelson Grills on the Democratic side.

They no doubt will get more competition as their campaigning picks up momentum during the early months of the politically-conscious new year.

First Hurricane In Year 1956 Will Be Named Anna

WASHINGTON (UP) — If 1956 brings forth a prematurely spawned hurricane like last year's Alice, it sname will be Anna.

That, it developed today, is as far as the Weather Bureau and its associated agencies have got in their efforts to draft a new list of names for next year's big tropical storms.

A bureau spokesman said last week that the 1956 list would be published some time this week. But another spokesman said today that the new names won't be unveiled until February.

That will give the Army, Navy, Coast Guard, Civil Aeronautics Administration, and others concerned, as well as the Weather Bureau, a chance to make nominations and drop black balls.

Even Anna has no official standing and is a stopgap name only. This year, a spokesman said, "we were caught with our plans down' when a hurricane developed in the first week of January, the earliest date of record for such a storm.

So the weather people, with no new name ready, had to dust off and re-use Alice, the name of the first 1954 hurricane.

If 1956 produces a similarly premature birth before the official list is completed, the word has gone out to the weather stations concerned to call it Anna.

Otherwise, there is no telling yet what hurricanes will be called.

BUDGET SAVING MEAL

NEW YORK —(UP)— Here's an easy main dish casserole which will help repair the budget after the holiday spree. Cut a can of pork lunch meat into thin slices and top with 2½ cups of cooked large dry lima beans, adding 4 tablespoons of liquid. Sprinkle generously with grated cheese and bake in a moderate over for half an hour.

Public Health Service Releases More Polio Vaccine

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Public Health Service today released 1,363,306 additional shots of polio vaccine.

All states and territories were allocated 1,355,814 shots for public agency and commercial distribution. The remaining 12,492 shots were reserved for the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis.

This is the 10th allocation of the vaccine under the voluntary control plan.

Including the supply released today, $29,961,831 shots of polio vaccine have been released since April. States and territories have been allocated 15,827,868 shots; the National Foundation has reserved 13,571,223; and 562,740 shots were distributed commercially before the voluntary control program was established.

The new supply includes 1,088,406 shots produced by Eli Lilly and Co. and 279,900 shots produced by Wyeth Laboratories.

Muncie Mother Strangles Son

MUNCIE, Ind. (UP) — Mrs. Judith Ann Warren, 24, mother of two small sons, strangled one of them today "because I felt I couldn't take care of him any longer," she told police.

Mrs. Warren called police and told them "I just choked my baby to death."

Officers found 15-months-old David Lee Warren lying dead in his crib.

They sent Mrs. Warren to Ball Memorial Hospital. Coroner Eugene Eissman said she has been under a doctor's care for a mental disorder for a year.

The baby was killed while his 4-year-old brother Bobby slept on the second floor of Mrs. Warren's parents' home where the family lived. The baby's grandparents also were asleep upstairs. Mrs. Warren's husband had gone to work as a meat cutter in a Muncie store.

In a statement to police, Mrs. Warren said she "just knew there wasn't anything more for me to do. I felt I couldn't take care of him any longer. I didn't mean to do it but I couldn't help it."

Communists

Chen Tien and Abdul Rashid Bin Mahideen, appeared glum as they entered the conference room in a school house which was roped and cordoned off by government security forces.

Formalities of greeting and picture-taking took 15 minutes. Then the principals, including Sir Chen Lock Tan, head of the Malayan Chinese Assn. sat down to discuss peace.

Chin said the Communists want peace, and for that reason he said he agreed to come out of the jungle and attend the meeting at great risk.

If the talks are successful, they will end one of the bitterest and oldest struggles between the Communists and the free world since the end of World War II. The fighting in the jungles has been long and vicious and both sides have indicated they are tired of it.

The meeting opened with a barrage of propaganda broadcast from Communist China which depicted the meeting as a victory for Communism. But the Malayan government made it clear it considered the meeting the result of the Reds' losing battle against British military might.

Authoritative sources said Rahman announced he would "give Chin Peng hell" for issuing a statement on the eve of the meeting saying the talks would fail unless the Reds were allowed to work together with all poitical parties in achieving Malayan independence from Britain.

The meeting had been postponed many times because of Communist insistence they be treated as "equals" at today's session. Rahman has emphasized he had no intention of treating the Reds as "equals" and said such treatment would imply recognition of the Reds.

this job. Marie and Annette are supposed to be going home for New Years. We have to stay o duty."

No telephone calls were accepted at the Dionne home in North Bay Tuesday night. Dionne also ignored telegrams sent to him by Canadian reporters.

News that the four dark-haired girls were shunning their large, happy French - Canadian family, was received with consternation by Canadians who took the quints into their hearts when they were born 21 years ago.

Until Tuesday there had been no indication of a rift. The fact that Yvonne, Marie, Annette and Cecile had chosen to live in Montreal was simply regarded as part of the process of growing into an adult world.

Fort Wayne Man Found Dead In Tractor-Trailer Cab

CHARLEROI, Pa. (UP)—John E. Ross, 29, Fort Wayne, Ind., was found dead of carbon monoxide poisoning in the cab of his tractor-trailer here today.

A driver for the Glenn Reede Trucking Co., Defiance, Ohio, Russ brought a shipment of canned milk here Tuesday night, but found the warehouse to which it was consigned closed for the night. He decided to sleep in his cab and was overcome during the night.

Ross' body was found this morning by a warehouseman reporting for work.

BETTER ROADS
for Indiana taxpayers

An adequate, modern highway system doesn't just happen. It is the result of sound, careful planning, proper engineering design and the best possible type of pavement for each road in the system.

In this state, as in others, highway planning is a continuing job. Providing new and better roads to meet the personal, commercial and defense interests of all sections of the state is the task of the legislature, highway officials and engineers—and you.

Every motorist and commercial highway user has a vital stake in roads because his license fees, gas and other taxes pay for them. Tax dollars go farther when invested in concrete pavements. Concrete has moderate first cost, low maintenance cost and long life. The result: low annual cost. Concrete is safest, too. Its gritty texture is highly skid-resistant; its light color provides better visibility at night.

Here's how you can help this state get a highway system second to none: 1. Support the state highway program. 2. Tell your legislators you want all main roads paved with safe, low-annual-cost concrete.

Goshen Edges Eagles

The Columbia City Eagles were handed a heartbreaking 53-51 setback by the Goshen Redskins at the Nappanee Community Building Tuesday evening in the first game of the 1955 Holiday Tourney. The loss pairs the Eagles with Nappanee in the consolation game Wednesday evening.

The Eagles went to an early 6-4 lead on a pair of field goals by Bridge and two free throws by Schwartz. Baskets by Woodham and Carpenter widened the margin 10-6. Goshen tied the score at 12-12 and the ball game was tied 14-14 at the close of the initial period. Superb rebounding coupled with a tight defense which allowed the Eagles only one inside shot in the stanza, kept the Redskins in the game.

Goshen Defense Tight

Goshen broke away to a 21-14 lead in the second period before Carpenter sank a free throw for the Eagles. Woodham made the only Columbia City field goal of the quarter on a drive-in shot. The Eagles were able to connect on only 1 of 18 shots in the quarter being forced to shoot from the outside by the tight defense. The Redskins controlled the defensive backboard especially well, usually allowing the Eagles only one shot each time they brought the ball downcourt. Columbia City trailed 23-31 at halftime.

The Eagles started penetrating the defense and opened the third period with five consecutive points. Columbia City was able to remain within three points during the rest of the quarter, and the Redskins held what seemed a bare 37-34 advantage at the three quarter stop.

Eagles Take Lead

Two set shots by Carpenter and a free throw by Deutsch narrowed the Goshen lead to 41-39. Bridge was fouled and sank two charity efforts to tie the score 41-41. Goshen lost the ball and Bridge made a field goal to put the Eagles ahead 43-41. The Redskins tied the score at 43-43 and went ahead 45-43 on two free throws. Schwartz made two hook shots to put the Eagles out in front 47-45. Sherman of Goshen, who made all eight of his points in the last half of the final period, netted two long set shots to increase the Redskin lead 51-47. Quick baskets by Schwartz and Bridge tied the score at 51-51 but Sherman dropped another long set through the hoop to give the Redskins a 53-51 advantage. Columbia City had the ball downcourt once and had possession of the ball on two other occassions in the waning seconds but were unable to get a scoring opportunity.

Schwartz and Bridge paced the Eagles with 17 and 16 points respectively while Smith contributed 12 to Goshen's winning cause.

Warsaw Wins

The Warsaw Tigers defeated the Nappanee Bulldogs in the second tilt 56-48. Warsaw won the game with comparitive ease, although the score was tied at the end of three quarters of play. Bad passing on the part of Nappanee and aggressive rebounding by the Tigers combined to give Warsaw the win. Warsaw will meet Goshen in the championship game Wednesday evening.

Pistons To Defend Lead Thursday Night

FORT WAYNE, —The Fort Wayne Pistons will be defending first place in the Western Division Thursday night at the Coliseum when they meet Rochester's revived Royals in the second game of an all-important, all-Western Division double-header.

St. Louis opposes Minneapolis in the first game of the attractive holiday bargain bill.

The sensational Frank Selvy, of St. Louis, will be making his final pre-Army appearance at the Coliseum. He reports Jan. 1.

Having won three straight starts, the Pistons hope to expand their streak to six games this week, thus insuring Coach Charley Eckman of the Western All-Star team coaching position.

The Pistons oppose St. Louis Sunday afternoon in the first of their eight daylight games this season.

Thursday's first game will start a 7. Sunday's starting time will be 3.

PASADENA (UP)—Coach Duffy Daugherty was all smiles today as a result of the best workout Michigan State has had in preparation for its Rose Bowl meeting with UCLA.

"The boys worked up good sweats for the first time," Daughterty said after Tuesday's workout. "The perspiration wás rolling down their faces. The warm sun really made a difference.'

Daugherty added the Spartans were in good physical condition.

LOS ANGELES (UP) — UCLA's Bruins resumed regular practice sessions today for their Rose Bowl meeting with Michigan State. Coach Red Sanders gave the squad the day off Tuesday but planned four more practice sessions before the big game.

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (UP) — Howard (Hopalong) Cassady, Ohio State's two-time All-America halfback and winner of this year's Heisman Trophy, was due to rejoin the East squad today as it began final preparations for Saturday's all-star Shrine Bowl game with the West. Cassady missed Tuesday's workout when he flew to Los Angeles to attend the Los Angeles Times' football awards banquet.

Willie Pep-Arel 10-Rounder Tonight

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UP) — Aging Willie Pep, out to regain the world featherweight title, and young Andy Arel, out to win fame in his first "big money" fight, meet tonight in a 10-round nationally televised bout.

Win, lose or draw, the 22-year-old Arel, from Massena, N.Y., will pocket at least $5,000 from the fight, his first television appearance. Arel previously has never earned more than $400 for any one fight.

But the up-and-coming southpaw is likely to have plenty of trouble when he steps into the ring against the determined pep at the Miami Beach Auditorium. Pep is favored at 5-1.

Pep, in his late 30's, has been trying for a comeback and figures a win over Arel could help him get the big chance he wants—a shot at Sandy Saddler's crown.

Arel has more to win than Pep does. A victory before the national audience could put him in the limelight for keeps and give him a ranking that might lead to a title shot for him. If Pep wins, it will be just another triumph in his long string.

Fraley's Follies And Bowl Game Winners

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP) — Fraley's Follies and the bowl game "winners"—just in case you have any scratch left over after Christmas

Rose Bowl

Michigan State (8-1-0) over UCLA (9-1)—These are two clubs which feature speed and the Uclans would seem to have a passing edge if Ronnie Knox is fit for full-time duty. But the Spartans have a psychological edge going for them in the long string of Midwest triumphs over the Western teams. They also have a sterling pass defense and a vastly underrated field general in Earl Morrall.

To coin a phrase, the ball takes funny bounces. But the boys from the Big 10 will take a lot of beating.

Orange Bowl

Oklahoma (10-0-0) over Maryland (10-0-0)—This has got to be the game of the day come Monday because both clubs are unbeaten and the winner could be considered the national champion. You can argue schedule here, on the premise that Maryland played the tougher lineup.

It figures, however, as a battle between a great Maryland defense and a fast-striking Oklahoma offense which will be more dangerous in the second half than in the opening quarters. And, in football, you have to go with the guys who can score.

Sugar Bowl

Georgia Tech (9-1-1) over Pitt (7-3-0) — Had this been played a week ago, when Pitt was stirred up over the segregation issue, the onrushing Panthers would have been a cozy bet. But Tech is recovering from its humiliation and, knowing that it will have to be "up," should reach an even higher peak than Pitt by kickoff time.

Realize, too, that Tech doesn't beat itself. This is a club which has fumbled away the ball only four times all year, an amazing figure in a season marked by fumbleitis.

Cotton Bowl

TCU (9-1-0) over Mississippi (9-1-0) — The posse is a cinch to ride, but you have to grant the "home" team an edge in this one. Nobody will throw those Christians to the officiating lions in Dallas and with a speedy attack led by swanky Jim Swink the Southwest entry will be tough to handle.

Gator Bowl

Auburn (9-1-1) over Vanderbilt (7-3-0) — Here's another "home" team choice, the Auburn club appearing in the Gator Bowl for the third year in a row. They've got the horses, and what else do you need?

Sun Bowl

Texas Tech (7-2-1) over Wyoming (8-3-0) — Tech, which can and does hold its own with the best in the Southwest Conference, figures to be a league above the Cowboys. This holds particularly because Wyoming has injury problems.

Tangerine Bowl

Juniata, Pa. (8-0-0) over Missouri Valley (8-1-0) — And if you want to know why, don't wire, write!

Hawks Lose To Celtics 105-102

By UNITED PRESS

It takes a real champion to bounce back from a bitter performance with a brilliant one — and that's just what Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks accomplished today.

Held to only four points by Fort Wayne Monday night, the 6-foot, 9-inch scoring machine pumped in a season National Basketball Assn. mark of 46 points Tuesday night. The outburst wasn't enough to give the Hawks a victory—they lost to the Boston Celtics, 105-102 — but it restored Pettit's average output a game to 25 points this year.

In 22 games, Pettit has tallied 550 points for the best average in the NBA since George Mikan was averaging 26.5 in 1951. Pettit Tuesday night tallied 17 field goals and 12 free throws.

Player - Coach Bobby Wanzer scored 28 points to lead the Rochester Royals to a 91-80 victory over the Syracuse Nationals and Carl Braun's set shot with three seconds left gave the New York Knickerbockers a 80 - 79 decision over the Philadelphia Warriors in the other games played Tuesday night.

Special Meeting

MONTREAL (UP)—The International League will hold a special meeting in Miami on Jan. 3 to approve the transfer of the Syracuse, N.Y., franchise to that resort city. Club directors also will consider a revised scheduled on which each team in the circuit may pay three visits instead of two to Havana, Cuba, during the 1956 season.

Eisenhower

carryover has been eaten up by now and the administration will ask for a lot more money this year than last. But spending will be only $4,400,000,000 which is not much more than the old rate.

Eisenhower foreign policy will come under the hammer in next year's presidential campaign. The administration is on the defensive although about all the average person would be able to recall vividly would be the monumental disappointment of the Geneva summit conference.

When Democrats attack foreign policy, the administration can cite increased appropriations to purchase goodwill and improve defense muscle in troubled areas. That worked well for former President Truman in Greece, Turkey and Western Europe. The new money will maintain the steady flow of military aid items and, it is hoped, offset the Communist goodwil thrust in the middle and Far East.

More For Medicine

Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Marion B. Folsom has outlined plans for increased appropriations for medical research and for aid to education. Medical research did not get much last year — $97,800,000. Folsom would increase that by about 24 million dollars. That may or may not be enough, but it will provide for more medical research and is a solid fact for Republican campaign orators to boot.

Folsom also wants a considerable increase in federal funds for education.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson expects a 400 million dollar hike in farm relief, according to unofficial estimates. That would be for soil bank and incentive programs. There are other unofficial estimates that Benson had better be ready to ante-up about one billion dollars if he wants to calm the corn-hog and other farm belt storms.

Highways are going to cost taxpayers a lot of money, but it remains to be seen whether Mr. Eisenhower or the Democrats will father a road-building program.

And so it goes, bigger and better spending. Next year's tax cut is seriously endangered by new spending plans. But it is a presidential year and tax cuts often can be translated into votes.

Rivera Signs With Chicago White Sox

Russia To Note Criticism By Its Foreign Visitors

On Bad Housing, Wasted Manpower

MOSCOW (UP) — Russia admitted today that foreign criticism of bad housing, poor town planning and wasted manpower in the Soviet Union was correct.

It said it would "take note" of such criticism.

Vilis Lacis, chairman of the Council of Nationalities, told the third day's meeting of the Supreme Soviet (parliament) that the criticism came from visiting foreign delegations last summer.

He said the delegations particularly noted the waste of manpower, inadequacy in town planning and bad housing.

"We consider some of these remarks correct and will take note of them," Lacis said.

Lacis reported to the council on the exchange of delegations between the Supreme Soviet and parliaments of foreign nations. Last February the Supreme Soviet adopted a declaration calling for an exchange of parliamentary delegations.

The meeting of the Nationalities Council is expected to end Thursday when the fourth item on the Supreme Soviet's agenda, a report on the Asian tour of Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Party Secretary Nikita Khrushchev, is to be discussed.

At an earlier session today the Nationalities Council unanimously approved the "peace budget" for 1956 submitted on Monday. At another meeting, a deputy said that Russia's former breach of relations with Yugoslavia was "advantageous only to our enemies.'

Lacis disclosed that 6,000 foreign tourists visited Russia this year and 1,000 Russians traveled abroad.

He criticized the American Congress for not showing any interest in exchanging parliamentary delegations with Russia, although he pointed out that individual senators and representatives visited Moscow last summer.

North Beach Drive Being Changed To Eisenhower Drive

KEY WEST, Fla. (UP)—Painters went to work today to change the name of North Beach Drive to Eisenhower Drive to insure a proper welcome for the first Republican president to visit this southernmost Florida town.

Mayor C. B. Harvey said he was besieged with calls reminding him about the street names immediately after the surprise announcement late Tuesday that Mr. Eisenhower was coming here.

Harvey, who greeted Mr. Truman on all of his visits and plans to greet President Eisenhower, admitted city officials and many of the residents got into a dither of hasty preparations.

"It took us by surprise,' he said, "but it was a mighty pleasant one. It's wonderful to be back in the news again and the whole town's as excited as can be.'

But, city officials said that if Mr. Eisenhower follows the usual route to the naval base from the Boca Chica Naval Station he will travel Roosevelt Blvd., and Truman Avenue. He would merely cross the new Eisenhower Drive.

Mayor Harvey ordered the name of the drive changed after a quick poll of city commissioners.

Town officials and oldtime "Conches," as Key Westers call themselves, easily recall the giant boom that accompanied the period of 11 visits Mr. Truman made during his term as president.

The one-time sleepy fishing town has felt a surge of prosperity that more than doubled its size — the first boom since wreckers got profitable salvages from shipwrecks in the 1830's.

Key West is now a modern city but retains the "quaint" narrow, cobblestone streets of earlier times along with ancient fishing piers decked out with drying nets.

Scientists Tackle Alcoholism Problem

ATLANTA (UP) — Scientists today tackled the problem of acute alcoholism which was described as a potentially dangerous condition that could cause death within six hours.

Dr. Theodore Koppanyi, Georgetown University professor of pharmacology, told the American Association for the Advancement of Science of the experimental use of the sugar substance, fructose, in alcoholic treatment. It is used to burn up alcoholic content in the system more rapidly than insulin which is now widely used.

The cigaret-cancer controversy flared again at the convention as the result of two papers delivered by chemists for the Rand Development Corp., Cleveland, Ohio, which manufactures cigaret paper.

E.T. Alvord and S.Z. Cardon told a scientific group late Tuesday that a cancer-producing compound known as benzpyrene had been found in cigaret paper and that research had proved most of the substance could be removed by treating the paper with an ammonium sulfamate formula or certain similar compounds.

The papers were challenged immediately by Dr. Louis Feiser, chief professor of chemistry at Harvard, who said the Rand research was inconclusive and possibly wholly incorrect. He contended the research showed no proof of benzyprene in cigaret paper.

Warmer Weather For Hoosierland

By UNITED PRESS

Hoosiers were promised warming temperatures through Thursday following morning lows up to 11 degrees below freezing.

The weatherman said today's highs in Indiana will range from 40 to 50, and Thursday's from 43 to 55. Lows in between will range from 30 to 35, considerably above this morning's temperatures which ranged from 21 at Fort Wayne to 28 at Evansville.

Occasional rain was expected throughout the state Thursday.

High temperatures Tuesday hovered near the freezing mark, except for Evansville which had a mild 46. Fort Wayne was lowest with 30.

The outlook for Friday called for colder temperatures. There also was a chance of rain in the central and south portions and snow flurries in the north portion.

Creator Of Comic Strip Joe Palooka Dies Tuesday Night

NEW YORK (UP)—Cartoonist Hammond (Ham) Edward Fisher, creator of the comic strip "Joe Palooka,' died Tuesday night in a friend's studio apartment, an apparent suicide.

Fisher ,54, wrote in notes found near his body that he was despondent over his health, his eyesight had been failing for some years and he was suffering from diabetes.

Police found an empty pill bottle in the Madison Avenue apartment. An autopsy will be held to find out what the pills were and the exact cause of his death.

Joe Palooka, the central character in the comic strip, was created by Fisher in 1930 and won the world's heavyweight championship soon after that. In the strip Palooka never lost the title.

Fisher once described Palooka as "a big, good natured prize fighter who didn't like to fight, a defender of little guys, a gentle knight."

"Joe Palooka' appeared daily in more than 600 newspapers with a total circulation of 22 million. A recent survey estimated that 50 million persons read the strip every day.

Burning Jet Plane Crashes, No One Injured

LEVITTOWN, N.Y. (UP) — A fiercely burning jet fighter plane crashed in the midst of a thickly populated housing area Tuesday, just missing a small house containing seven people. The pilot had already bailed out and no one was injured.

Capt. T. B. Buechler, 30, of Grand Island, Neb., said he was flying over the Long Island community of Levittown when he began having difficulty with the controls. He began descending and then noticed the plane, an F86D Sabrejet. was on fire.

Buechler pushed the ejection button and was catapulted out into space along with the canopy and ejection seat. His parachute opened safely and he landed in a Levittown back yard. The seat and canopy hit the earth on a nearby estate.

The plane, by then a vivid ball of orange flame, crashed in the street in front of the Daniel Watson home.

Weekend Traffic Deaths Push State Toll Above 1,100

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) Christmas weekend traffic accidents pushed the year's death toll above 1,100 in Indiana.

State police statistics showed today that the toll reached 1,115 by midnight Sunday, with six days left before 1955 bows out.

The 1,115 fatalities represented a gain of 35 during the last week before Christmas. The toll stood at 1,080 at midnight Dec. 18.

A year ago, only 13 deaths were recorded during the corresponding week.

While this year's toll will be 6 to 8 per cent heavier than last year's, when 1,077 persons died, it will be somewhat below the 1953 and 1952 marks of about 1,275 deaths each year.

Happy New Year

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — I don't subscribe to the formula the late W.C. Fields advocated for a New Year's hangover. What the comedian advised was "the juice of a quarter of gin."

But there are some more sensible things in the files of the distilled spirits institute, which likes to have people drink, all right, but preaches the holding of the fire water, particularly when driving.

The Russians, says the institute, have a pretty sensible formula. That is to have a bite or two of food between every sip. That, of course is on the preventative side.

In the hangover files is a famous quotation from William the Conquerer, who woke up, wig in one hand, the morning after the Battle of Hastings. With the other hand he held his feverish brow and exclaimed to all within hearing:

"Send me the man who can remove the beehive from an overwrought brain."

None came forward and that's about it. No sure cure. But there are a few things that do ease the pain.

One of the most sensible bartenders in our town suggests that after a long and hard night, an egg in the beer not only is an expression, it helps a little. A raw egg, of course.

Other amateur doctors say that stale beer or ale work pretty good. Some folks recommend dumping a few tablespoons of vodka into tomato juice. Others say tomato juice straight is the best thing.

One women in our town says she has the best treatment. Boil some milk. Add a sprinkle of pepper and salt. Toast some bread and put the whole mess in a soup bowl. And if that doesn't make you well, or sicker, you'd best run back to the sack, put on the veil and vow to never again.

The thing to do on New Year's Eve is to sit by the fire, shoes off, at home. Run out and take the dog for a walk around midnight, come back and give him a biscuit, have one yourself and wash it down with a quart of milk. Warmed if you like it that way.

Next morning you'll wake up bright-eyed and ready to meet what may come in the year 195.

And a happy one to you all.

Ely Culbertson, Bridge Expert, Dies

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. (UP)—Ely Culbertson, 64, who made a national industry out of bridge, died Tuesday night after a brief illness.

Dr. Robert T. Walker, who was called to Culbertson's home, said death was due to a lung congestion.

Culbertson found wealth and prestige after creating the system of bridge that bore his name. Much of his life was devoted to intellectual pursuits, including a world federation peace plan evolved while a youthful revolutionist in Czarist Russia.

Culbertson's health began to fail a few months ago. He had been ill several times last summer.

Culbertson was born in Roumania of a Russian mother and American father. His father returned to the United States for a time and then went to Russia where he became rich developing oil fields.

Culbertson married a young widow, Josephine Murphy Dillon in 1923, and they developed the Culbertson system, entering various tournaments. They defeated Lens and Jacoby in 1931 in a "battle of systems" that really started the Culbertson organization.

Even after their divorce, the Culbertsons continued a business partnership grossing some $500,000 a year at one time.

Culbertson in 1947 met a 21-year-old Vassar College student, Dorothy Renata Baehne, who became his second wife.

Icebreaker Rescues 6 Stranded Seabees

ABOARD FLAGSHIP GLACIER Task Force 43, Antarctica (UP)—(Delayed)—The U.S. Navy icebreaker Edisto nosed through six feet of ice in McMurdo Sound Saturday and rescued six Seabees stranded for 16 hours at the water's edge, it was learned Monday.

The Seabees, who had a weasel tractor with them, saved themselves from being blown into the icy sea by lashing themselves together with rope.

They have been placed ashore by the expedition commanded by Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd aboard the USS Glacier.

Another snow-traveling weasel tractor was reported lost in an ice crevice, but no one was injured.

The worst accident reported so far was the crash of a plane on the ice with seven men aboard.

The plane nosed over from a height of 70 feet and slammed to the ice below, injuring four of the men aboard. The casualties were evacuated by air.

Pope Pius Willing To Serve World As A Moral Mediator

VATICAN CITY (UP) —Vatican sources said today Pope Pius XII is willing to serve as a "moral mediator" between East and West in hopes of preventing an atomic war.

These sources said the pope will make no formal offer of his services, but that he is ready to do what he can to solve outstanding differences in atomic control if he is asked to do so by leaders of the Western and Communist worlds.

They conceded that the likelihood of such a request is "very remote."

The sources emphasized also that any help from the pontiff would be purely moral, in his role as a spiritual authority. They said he could hardly be expected to take part in talks "on the political or technical level."

Pope Pius entered the atomic controversy four days ago with a Christmas message combining salient points from both sides—the Communist demand for a ban on nuclear weapons and the Western insistence on effective inspection to make it work.

Indiana Pays Vets Too Much Bonus

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Indiana paid perhaps $20,000 too much to World War II veterans in bonus checks due to mistakes, State Treasurer John Peters said today.

Peters said at least 135 veterans either were given overpayments or were paid twice. He said 9 of them already paid back $6,958.64 and the state is trying to collect from 86 others.

Officials said some of the mistakes were due to failure of the Bonus Division to cross-check claims filed by veterans, some of whom filed second claims because they apparently were confused over whether they filed previously.

Ag Department Issues Change On Government Loans

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Agriculture Department has reduced from 10 to 5 years the period private lenders must hold farm loans before they may be sold to the government.

The change is effective on all government-insured loans closed on or after Jan. 2. It is intended to make insured loans more attractive to private lenders.

The change is a contract matter between the government and the lender. It does not affect the terms and conditions of the loans so far as the farmers are concerned.

Craig Gives Ford Sneak Preview Of Economy Survey

DETROIT (UP)—Governor Craig of Indiana said Tuesday night he has given the Ford Motor Co. a "sneak preview" of an economic survey for "locating industry in Indiana."

The report, prepared by the Indiana University School of Business, will be made public officially at a meeting at the university Jan. 13.

"The purpose of my visit here was to give Ford Motor Co. the result of the economic investigation and the accompanying forecast," Craig said. "It was done to interest Ford in locating industry in Indiana."

Craig said he was "very graciously received" and had a "splendid talk with Ford officials." But he could not say whether or not the report had swayed the Ford officials.

"I cannot speak for Ford Motor Co.," Craig said. "Any report on their intentions must come from their officials."

Ford oficials were not available for comment.

Walt Whitman Diary Returned To Detroit Library

DETROIT (UP) — Walt Whitman's diary, which was stolen from the Detroit Public Library in March, was returned to the library today by mail.

Ralph Ulveling, library director, said the diary, valued at $25,000, arrived at the library's loan department this morning in a plain manila envelope with the address penciled in large block letters.

A note was included in the envelope along with the book.

It read: "The book was not stolen. I'm sorry I didn't return it sooner.'

Ulveling said the diary had been part of a collection of Whitmans works on display in a glass enclosed case on the second floor of the library when it disappeared. It was believed to be the only diary ever kept by Whitman in his own handwriting.

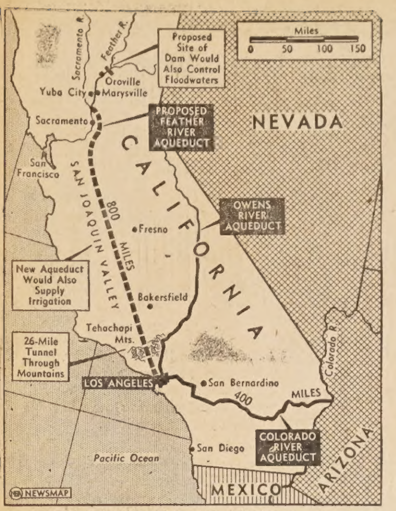
Khrushchev Attacks Eisenhower Today For "Crude Interference"



L. A. PLOTS LONG HAUL FOR WATER—Los Angeles is planning a water delivery system that may become the top engineering marvel of the nation. It is the Feather River project, which would include the nation's largest dam, near Oroville and an 800-mile aqueduct, as seen on map above. The dam would be 20 feet higher than Hoover Dam and require 14,000,000 cubic yards of cement to build. One monumental task of the aqueduct would be to lift the water 3400 feet over the Tehachapi Mountains or build a 26-mile tunnel. Estimated cost would be more than a billion and a half dollars. Los Angeles is no novice in the long-haul water business. In the years 1907 to 1913, it built the Owens River aqueduct and extended it in the 1930's. Later it was prime mover in the 400-mile Colorado River Aqueduct.

U. S. Far East Air Forces To Be Beefed Up To Meet Red Buildup

By RUTHERFORD M. POATS
United Press Staff Correspondent

TOKYO (UP) — U.S. Air Force Secretary Donald A Quarles said today the U.S. Far East Air Forces will be beefed up to meet the constant buildup of Communist jet air strength in Asia.

But Quarles, who arrived today on his first tour of Air Force facilities in the Far East since his appointment, said the free nations now have enough defense strength to make war "completely unprofitable" for any aggressor.

Quarles refused to share the alarm many military men here feel over the growing Communist air superiority in the Far East.

He conceded that Russia, Communist China and Red North Korea have numerically stronger jet air forces than the United States and its Asian allies and have further increased their strength during the past year.

To counter this trend, he told a press conference, the U.S. Far East Air Force will be strengthened "with primary emphasis on getting more modern aircraft to replace those now here."

Quarles gave no timetable for the buildup. It had been announced previously, however, that B57 twin-jet fighter - bombers are replacing the propeller-driven B26s based in Japan.

The Air Force secretary, apparently taking into account the U.S.-based reserves of the Strategic Air Command, insisted that the United States in Asia and elsewhere has "the quality and the stuff to do the job."

"The important thing is to be strong enough in our whole free world position to make it completely unprofitable to any enemy to star a war," he said. "I believe we have that position.'

Quarles flew into Tokyo for three days on the first leg of an 11-day inspection tour of American Air Force installations in the Far East.

Congress Must Reappraise Plan For Foreign Aid

Says Chairman Of Foreign Relations

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga) said today he thinks Congress must make a "serious reappraisal" of the foreign aid program next year.

George is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which handles foreign aid legislation and would handle any such reappraisal insofar as the Senate is concerned.

Returning to Washington for the 1956 session of Congress, George told reporters that "sentiment has been growing in Congress that economic aid should be trimmed 'way down."

The administration recently announced that foreign aid spending for the fiscal year beginning next July 1 will increase by about 200 million dollars above the $4,200,000,000 estimated for the current year. It also announced that Congress will be asked to appropriate $4,900,000,000 in new foreign aid funds, most of which will be spent in future years. That compares with only $2,700,000,000 voted by Congress this year.

George's first reaction last week to the proposed large increase in appropriations was that he was convinced that Congress would not agree. He has since received telephoned explanations of the administration program from Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Budget Director Rowland R. Hughes.

"I'm inclined to think that there will have to be a very serious reappraisal of the whole thing," George told reporters today.

He said he did not want to amplify his statement until the administration has explained its program to Congress.

School Bus Passer Forfeits His Bond

George Richard Bowman, Marion, O., arrested on the morning of Dec. 23 — the last day the school buses operated before the Christmas vacation — has forfeited a $25 bond posted in the court of Mayor Thomas H. Hood, for passing a loading school bus.

Bowman is a truck driver. He failed to appear in court Wednesday at the time set for his trial.

He was charged in city court by the father of one of the school children with passing the loading bus at Westgate, one mile west on U.S. Highway 30.

Due to the numerous violations of local and out-of-state drivers of the bus loading and unloading law at Westgate, local authorities and the parents of the children have been checking almost daily for violations as the safety of the Westgate children has been jeopardized frequently.

Department Prepares Report On Treatment Of American Prisoners By Chinese Reds

By DONALD J. GONZALES
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—The State Department expects to have ready early next year, probably in January, its report on the "cruel and inhuman treatment" of American civilian prisoners by the Chinese Reds.

The department's investigation of prisoner treatment began early this month. When the grim history is completed, the administration will be faced with a high-level decision on whether to make the "White Paper" public immediately.

An important factor in that decision will be whether Red China still holds the 13 American civilians remaining in Chinese jails despite diplomatic efforts to free them.

The report most likely will be made public at some point. But it may be decided to wait until the other Americans are freed to prevent their lot from becoming even more difficult by official U.S. charges of cruelty.

The State Department investigation covers information from other governments, other U. S. government agencies, personal interviews with persons already released by Red China, reports from refugees, information developed in Hong Kong on China's doorstep, and from a variety of additional intelligence sources.

The inquiry was sparked by advance reports on the condition of Mrs. Homer V. Bradshaw, an American medical missionary who was freed with her husband on Dec. 20.

Americans who met Mrs. Bradshaw were reported appalled and shocked at her condition although they had been warned to expect the worst. Her only apparent emotion upon being released has been fear. Her body had been ravaged by acute malnutrition and the effects of beri beri. Her weight had dropped to about 80 pounds. Dr. Bradshaw, who also suffered at Communist hands, reported he was handcuffed and "roughly manhandled" by the Reds.

Lloyd Ness Invites Farmers To Attend Adult Ag Classes

Lloyd Ness, Agricultural teacher at Larwill high school, has announced that adult evening classes will begin on January 3, and be held each Tuesday night for 10 weeks. The classes, which will begin at 7:30 in the ag room of the school, will deal with the general topic of soils.

A special invitation is extended to farmers in Etna-Troy township. Any one wishing to attend is welcome. Refreshments will be served.

Ward Assessed Fine; Richards' Term Suspended

Chicagoan Pleads Guilty To Unlicensed Pistol; Richards Must Reimburse

Manuel (Manion) Ward, 34, of Chicago, arrested along U.S. Highway 30 on Monday after he allegedly struck his brother over the head with a pistol butt, pleaded guilty in circuit court Wednesday afternoon to a charge of carrying an unlicensed pistol. Judge Lowell Pefley fined him $5 and costs.

A second charge of carrying a pistol in a car without a license, was continued indefinitely.

Ward was taken into custody by Trooper James Lewinski near Larwill after he left the car his brother was driving. They reportedly were arguing over their mother's estate. After being struck, the operator of the car, Zellus Ward, 35, brought it to a stop. The pistol reportedly discharged while Manuel was brandishing it, a bullet entering the top of the car. The young son of Zellus Ward was seated between his father and Manuel Ward in the front of the car during the episode.

Orders Reimbursement

Hearing the guilty plea of Leonard Richards, 43, of Lake Everett, charged with passing a fraudulent check at Gilbert David American Legion Post No. 157 in Churubusco last August, the court sentenced the Allen county man to a 1-5 year term at the Indiana State Farm but suspended the sentence upon the condition of reimbursement.

Richards is to reimburse the Churubusco American Legion post with the $15, amount of his bad check, also to reimburse Kenneth Austin for a bad check for $100 written Aug. 1 and for $65, amount of another bad check written Aug. 15. Restitution is to be made on or before Feb. 6, according to the court.

Richards was disfranchised for one year and is to be on probation, required to make regular reports to the Whitley County Probation officer and to keep her informed of his whereabouts at all times. A not guilty plea he previously made in the case was withdrawn Wednesday when he substituted a plea of guilty.

He was represented in court by Mrs. Phil McNagny, public defender. Prosecutor Edward J. Meyers appeared for the state at Richards' and Ward's arraignments.

New Cold Wave Races Across The Northern Plains

Temperatures Drop As Much As 46 Degrees

By UNITED PRESS

A new cold wave raced across the northern plains today, threatening near blizzards in Kansas and Nebraska.

The storm blew out of Canada, routed shirtsleeve weather in Colorado, and caused two deaths on icy highways. Snow overspread the upper Great Lakes region today and temperatures dropped as much as 46 degrees.

Special weather bulletins warned of falling temperatures and drifting and blinding snow creating near blizzard conditions in northern and western Nebraska and northwest and north central Kansas.

The storm should reach its peak in the two states today and tonight, the forecasters said. Motorists elsewhere in the Midwest were warned of treacherously glazed highways.

Cleanup Project Starts

The new cold blast came just as residents of flood-ravaged northern California tackled a giant cleanup project.

The 10,000 residents of devastated Yuba City were finally allowed to return to their homes and the only remaining flood threat in the state was in the Sacramento-San Joaquin river delta.

But the delta crisis appeared to be passing today and no more serious rains were in sight. As the flood waters fell, the states of California and Oregon counted 66 persons dead.

Meanwhile, the new winter storm knifed into Colorado and Wyoming Wednesday and was blamed for traffic deaths in each of the states.

Snow And Fog

Wyoming got one to eight inches of snow and heavy fog temporarily stranded 300 cars. There was up to a foot of snow in the high mountain passes and one to four inches of snow in southwest Colorado.

Minnesota measured up to three inches of snow and highway crews were called out to sand curves, hills, and intersections.

The cold wave routed mild holiday temperatures, sending the temperature skidding from 41 degrees to five below zero at Minot, N.D. It was 11 below at Grand Forks, N.D., today and a scant one above at Pierre, S.D.

New England also had plenty of cold weather, with the thermometer hitting nine below at Rumford, Me. The sub-freezing weather stretched as far south as North Carolina, where the mercury registered 23 degrees at Greensboro early today.

J. Hubert Bailey Heads Kiwanians

J. Hubert Bailey was installed as president of the local Kiwanis club for the coming year during installation ceremonies Wednesday night at the American Legion home. Harold Murphy is the retiring president.

Other officers installed are: Glenn Overdeer, first vice-president; Richard Dornick, second vice-president; Merl O. Plattner secretary; Dale Bitting, treasurer; Walter Binder, Max Gandy, Max Holloway, holdover directors; Richard Duffield, Herschel Hall, Archie Rohrbach, Russell G. Wolfe, new directors.

Serving as installing officer was Robert Hollingsworth, lieutenant governor of the third district.

Attendance pins were awarded to Herschel Hall, Furman Orcutt, Harold Murphy, Errol Schuman, John Markley, Scott Holderbaum Glenn Overdeer, and Merl O. Plattner, with 7-year pins for perfect attendance going to Overdeer, Plattner, and Holderbaum.

Daughter Born To The Charles Yagers

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yager, 506 Harrison St. are the parents of a daughter, Elaine Ellen, born at the Whitley County Hospital, at 9:38 a.m., December 28. The baby weighed six pounds, 13 ounces.

The mother is the former Florence Ellen Green. They also have a son.

Christmas Seal Sales 86% Of Quota

Receipts to date from the annual sale of Christmas Seals by the Whitley County Tuberculosis Association approximate $3700.00 or 86 per cent of the quota assigned to this county. It is hoped that many additional contributions will be received before the first follow up notices must be mailed. It is a part of the contract between the local Association and the State and National Associations that at least two such notices be sent following the original mailing of the Christmas Seals.

Peace Talks To End 8-Year-Old Rebellion Fail

Red Leader Fades Back Into Forests Of Upper Malaya

BALING, Malaya (UP) — Two days of peace talks aimed at ending the eight-year-old Communist rebellion in the Malayan jungles ended in failure today.

Chin Peng, leader of 3,000 Red Guerrillas, was reported to have faded back into the dense forests of upper Malaya to "fight it out to the last" with British and Malayan security forces.

The Communists sued for peace when Britain's armed might decimated their guerrilla forces, but in negotiations with Malayan government leaders here the Reds refused to surrender.

The Malayan government, represented by Gengku Abdel Rahman, chief minister of the Malayan Federation, told Chin that what had happened in China, Korea and Viet Nam would never be allowed to happen here.

Demand Blocks Truce

Chin offered today to end the fighting that has cost 10,000 lives, but he tied it up with a demand that Britain turn over to Malaya all the functions of internal security.

Though Chin came here as a defeated military leader, he demanded an impossible set of face-saving conditions and was met with a series of emphatic noes by the government negotiators.

In addition to Rahman, the negotiators included Chief Minister David Marshall of Singapore and Sir Cheng Lock Tan, a leader of Malaya's Chinese colony. They entered the talks Wednesday with a reminder to Chin he was in no position to make any demands.

The meeting began today in an atmosphere of deadlock. It ended with the deadlock apparently unsolvable on the Communists refusal to surrender.

Asia Watches Meeting

The meeting was one watched throughout Asia to see whether the Reds would again be able to wrest concessions from the free world.

Chin made a big effort today when he offered to end the war but only on a series of face-saving conditions. The hitch was that the fighting would end only "as soon as the elected government of the Federation of Malaya obtains complete control of internal security and local armed forces," now vested in Britain.

Rahman leaves Sunday for London to try to negotiate dominion status for Malaya and for Singapore. The Communist leader apparently was hoping to win time by making his peace offer dependent on this development.

Runaway Car Hits Side Of Grocery

A runaway 1954 Mercury hardtop struck the west side of the South Side Market about 12:35 p.m. Wednesday, inflicting approximately $200 damage to the building and contents. The car itself, owned by Carl Edgar Stayer, R 5, was not greatly damaged. Repairs to vehicle will not be much over $20, local police estimated.

Stayer's car was standing on the drive of the Gulf service station immediately west of the grocery. The engine had been left idling to warm up the car. Vibration of the idling motor put the car in reverse gear and it struck the side of the grocery building.

Damage to the South Side Market, owned by Robert Williams, was to the building wall and interior shelving, also merchandise.

Nike, Supersonic Missile, May Be Sent To Europe

Will Be Assigned To U. S. Forces

By JOJHN W. FINNEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Nike anti-aircraft guiedd missile is the next advanced weapon likely to be sent to Europe to strengthen Western defenses, it was learned today.

The missile itself probably will not be sent overseas for more than a year. But in the meantime, launching sites, including underground storage rooms, will be constructed for the Nike.

The supersonic missile, which already is protecting 18 major cities in the United States, will be assigned to U.S. forces stationed in Europe. Its primary mission will be to guard the string of U.S. bases there, particularly in Germany. But it also probably will be used in helping protect major West European cities.

Present plans do not call for furnishing any West European forces with the Nike, although the Allies will be informed about the capabilities of the weapon. There is a possibility West European nations may even be given sufficient information about the weapon so they can produce it themselves if they want to.

The plan to send Nike missile units to Europe reflects (1) the near completion of the first phase of affording anti-aircraft protection to major U.S. cities, (2) the growing demand of smaller European nations for greater access to advanced weapons developed by the United States and Great Britain, and (3) the determination to equip North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces with the most modern weapons, including nuclear weapons.

The Nike, which has a high kill capability against enemy bombers up to 25 miles away, is the only operational Army missile not yet supplied to U.S. Army forces in Europe. The missile would be of obvious value in providing a last-ditch defense in an area such as Germany where advance warning of an enemy attack would be difficult because of the closeness of Communist air bases.

The Army plans early next year to send to Europe four artillery battalions equipped with the Corporal, a bombardment missile with a 75-mile range. In addition, the Army has several batteries in Europe capable of firing the Honest John, a rocket with a 10-to-20 mile range.

Paul M. Tingle Announces Candidacy

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Paul M. Tingle of Connersville today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination as Secretary of State.

He pledged "an active campaign" and, if elected, "an efficient and businesslike administration."

Since January of 1953, Tingle has been secretary of the Indiana Public Service Commission. He formerly was GOP chairman in Fayette County, served two terms as county treasurer and for three years was treasurer of the Indiana County Treasurer's Association.

Also at the Statehouse, Adolph L. Fossler of Indianapolis, chairman of the State Tax Board, was drumming up support and may announce as a Republican candidate for nomination as state treasurer.

Man Killed Directing Traffic

MUNCIE, Ind. (UP)—Hugh F. Miller, 40, Bluffton, was killed today when struck by a truck as he attempted to direct traffic around his own stalled truck on Ind. 28 near Gaston.

State Police said the battery on Miller's truck failed and he flagged down another truck to give him a push.

As Miller tried to halt traffic to allow the second truck to get in position, he was hit by a truck driven by Robert Mansfield, 23, Muncie.

Mansfield told police he was blinded temporarily by the truck lights and did not see Miller standing in the road.

Resents Holiday Message Sent To Eastern Europe

Claims It Leads To Incitement Of Passion

By HENRY SHAPIRO
United Press Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW (UP) — Soviet Communist leader Nikita Khrushchev attacked President Eisenhower today for what he called his "crude interference' in the affairs of Communist East Europe.

The rare Soviet attack on an American head of state came shortly after Premier Nikolai Bulganin hinted in a speech before the Supreme Soviet (parliament) that Russia had developed rocket weapons of "inter — continental power."

Then Khrushchev said the power of Russia's recently exploded hydrogen bomb "can be considerably increased beyond its present equivalnt of "many millions of tons of orinary explosive."

Crators of tension "should remember the result of this test,' Khrushchev declared to thunderous applause from the Soviet parliament.

Khrushchev said Christmas messages broadcast to Eastern Europe by President Eisenhower, U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and other Americans were designed to "reestablish capitalism" in those states.

Harsh on Dulles

The Communist Party leader said hedid not like to criticize President Eisenhower "whom I respect so much," but he was less soothing to Dulles and singled him for particularly heavy criticism.

He said the American messages are not "compatible with the Geneva spirit" because they said their authors were praying for the liberation of Eastern European countries and would give them assistance.

"It leads to the incitement of passions," Khrushchev said. "I speak like this unwillingly about President Eisenhower whom I re-

No Paper On Monday; Banks, Offices Closing

The local newspaper will not publish on Jan. 2, next Monday, the legal observance of New Year's Day.

There will be no city or rural mail deliveries Monday, but the lobby will be opened as usual. The holiday will witness a general suspension of business activity here. Banks, public offices also will be closed.

State Officials Answer Appeal For Traffic Crackdown With Nationwide Program Plans

CHICAGO (UP)—State officials answered an unprecedented appeal for a drastic traffic crackdown today with plans for a nationwide program to save lives over the New Year's holiday.

The appeal came from the National Safety Council, which was shaken by the all-time record of 621 traffic deaths over Christmas and its own prediction that a new record will be set during the New Year's holiday.

The council followed up its forecast of 420 New Year's deaths with telegrams to the governors of all 48 states.

"This nation cannot afford to experience or tolerate another toll comparable to the one over the last weekend," Council President Ned H. Dearborn's telegram said.

Wants Emerbency Action

"We feel the toll of more than 600 deaths from highway accidents constitutes a national emergency that must be met just as floods, fires, and other major disasters are met—by emergency action.'

It was the first time that the safety council had made a direct appeal for emergency action by the states. Plans for such action were already under way in many state capitols.

In Texas, the director of the Public Safety Department told highway patrolmen to "throw away your warning ticket books" and "make an arrest in every moving traffic violation which comes to your attention."

Plans to call out the National Guard were being considered in Illinois and Wisconsin Gov. Walter Kohler asked military police from the National Guard to volunteer for holiday duty.

At Denver, Colo., the City Safety Council launched plans to serve free coffee in a hotel lobby between 10 p.m. Saturday and 2:30 a.m. Sunday—the height of the merry-making period. The coffee

Scholarships To Be Given In Memory Of Two Harvard Students

CHICAGO (UP)—Two scholarships to Harvard University will be awarded yearly in memory of two youths who died in an Indiana traffic accident involving Adlai Stevenson's youngest son.

Scholarships in memory of William Cowper Boyden III, 19, and William Stanley North III, 19, were announced by the Harvard Club of Chicago Wednesday.

Stevenson was one of the first contributors to the scholarship fund.

His son, John Fell, 19, was injured seriously in the accident Dec. 21 near Goshen, Ind. Young Stevenson, driver of the car in which Boyden and North were riding, was reported improving today in Passavant Hospital here.

Background On Prisoners

By UNITED PRESS

Background On Prisoners — American and Chinese representatives have been negotiating at Geneva, Switzerland, on release of U.S. civilian prisoners since Aug. 1. At that time, the Chinese held 41 American civilians. In the drawn-out negotiations that have followed, the Chinese gradually have given permission for all to leave except 13 still in jail.

The Geneva talks are being held on the ambassadorial level, although the two nations do not maintain formal diplomatic relations. The United States is represented by its ambassador to Czechoslovakia, U. Alexis Johnson; the Chinese by their ambassador to Poland, Wang Ping Nan.

On Sept. 10 Red China promised at Geneva to release all Americans held within its borders in return for an American agreement to let Communist Chinese civilians in this country return home who wished to do so.

The Communists, meanwhile, balked on carrying out their agreement fully and on Dec. 15 charged the United States had violated the "letter and spirit" of the Sept. 10 agreement. They claimed some Chinese still were being held in this country against their will.

The United States issued a strong denial. It said India, which is acting as intermediary, had reported no Chinese being held against their will. It then charged the Communists with "cruel and inhuman" treatment of the Americans held in China.

Americans released have told of varying experiences with the Chinese, ranging from mere petty annoyances and house arrest to imprisonment in solitary confinement and virtual torture. One civilian, Walter A. Rickett, of Seattle, returned an apparent "brainwashing" victim. He said he engaged in espionage for the U.S. government and was convinced this country used germ warfare in Korea.

White Sox Sign Minoso

CHICAGO (UP) — The Chicago White Sox allowed their disappointment over Minnie Minoso's poor 1955 season today and signed the slugging outfielder to a 1956 contract that is believed to call for the same amount he made last year — about $32,000. Minoso hit .288 last season and had disastrous slumps both early and late in the campaign.

Forty-Niners Sign McElhenny, Toneff

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Halfback Hugh McElhenny and defensive tackle Bob Toneff have signed with the San Francisco Forty-Niners, club-owner Tony Morabito said today. McElhenny was sidelined most of the season with injuries while Toneff was voted onto the second United Press All Professional football team.

Plant Diseases May Be Conquered By Atomic Energy

ATLANTA (UP) — Atomic scientists and agricultural experts indicated today that plant diseases may be chased right off the farm some day by atomic energy.

Recent strides in applying atomic energy to the farm were revised in a symposium at a session of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

One of the big farm problems today is the length of time—sometimes 20 years—that it takes to develop hardy plants that will resist disease.

"By the time they are developed, another disease is ready to strike and the process must be started all over," Dr. Harold B. Tukey, head of the Michigan State University said.

"Atomic energy is beginning to change all that, and we'll be able to develop new strains in a fraction of the time it now takes."

Tukey said isotope experiments with plants have disclosed that:

1. Radiation will greatly speed up plant breeding, permitting development of new forms in a period of a few years.

2. Leaves will take in fertilizer and "now we are beginning to feed plants by that method in critical times when roots will not absorb food.'

3. Vital materials are leached out of leaves by heavy rains, making plants susceptible to winter damage.

Tukey said some of the wonders of atomic science already are being used by agriculture at the production level. He mentioned a new strain of hardy peanut in ofa type of oats that will resist disease.

Experiments with plants were made by feeding them radioactive isotopes and tracing the course of the substance.

Khrushchev

spect so much."

The messages were year - end holiday greetings from Mr. Eisenhower and other U.S. leaders broadcast to Eastern Europe over the Voice of America and Radio Free Europe.

Khrushchev then took up the subject of Dulles.

"Some Western politicians have a strange idea of the Geneva spirit,' he said. "They want to disarm us morally and politically. Such conditions are unacceptable to us.

Ridicules Goa Statement

"The most eager proponents of such an unrealistic policy are in the United States, particularly Secretary of State Dulles who plays a leading role in advocating massive retaliation and other absurdities."

Khrushchev disposed of President Eisenhower's "open sky" arms inspection plan with a brief question and answer.

"How does it differ from military intelligence?' he asked. "It differs in no way at all."

Turning back to Dulles, the Communist leader ridiculed his statement regarding the Portuguese overseas province of Goa. He said Dulles claimed Goa belonged to Portugal because Portugal had taken it 400 years ago. He recalled that America was once a colony.

"If we were to follow Mr. Dulles record, the United States would consider herself her majesty's dominion," he said.

The huge audience of 1,400 deputies rocked with laughter. The audience included U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen.

And while heaping criticism on the United States he tempered his remarks about Britain which he and Bulganin visit in the spring. He said he meant only English colonizers and not the "English people whom we admire.'

He brought more laughter when he ridiculed the British contention Britain lost India "voluntarily" and said, "The people of India would have expelled them anyhow just as the Chinese people expelled Chiang Kai-shek."

Bulganin dropped his hint of inter-continental missiles in saying the Soviet Union wants to outlaw rocket weapons along with atomic arms.

Warsaw Wins Tourney

The Columbia City Eagles defeated the Nappanee Bulldogs 49-38 Wednesday evening in the consolation game of the Holiday Tourney at Nappanee. The Warsaw Tigers held off the scrappy Goshen Redskins to win 62-55 and receive the tournament trophy.

Nappanee jumped to an early lead in the consolation tilt, but Carpenter sank a field goal to put the Eagles ahead for the first time 8-7. The Bulldogs took the ball downcourt and scored, but quick baskets by Schwarts and Smith gave Columbia City a 12-9 lead. The first quarter ended with the Eagles holding a 16-11 advantage.

Poor ball handling on the part of both teams during the first four minutes of the second stanza held scoring to a minimum. Baskets by Smith and Schwartz gave the Eagles a more comfortable margin after Nappanee had drawn within one point, 15-1. At halftime the scoreboard read 21-19 in favor of Columbia City.

Eagles Surge Ahead

The Bulldogs tied the score at 23-23 early in the third period, though their rally was short lived. The Eagles ran their score up to 31 before Nappanee scored again. Capitalizing on the home teams' bad passing, as they had throughout the quarter, Columbia City worked to a 39-27 lead with one period of play remaining.

Early in the final quarter, neither team could get the ball through the hoop. Each team controlled its defensive back board and play shuttled from one end of the court to the other. Woodham found the range twice for Columbia City in the hectic play. The tempo slowed down and play leveled off, with the Eagles leading 49-38 at the final gun.

Schwartz, Carpenter, and Woodham led Columbia City in scoring with 14, 11, and 10 points respectively.

Tigers Win

The Warsaw Tigers displayed a great deal of strength in defeating an aggressive Goshen Redskin aggregation 62-55 in the championship game. Warsaw held an 18-8 lead at one stage in the first period and led 20-13 at the buzzer. Late in the second quarter the Tigers led 30-25, but six consecutive points by Essig, a 6'6" Goshen center, put the Redskins out in front 31-30 at halftime. Warsaw went ahead 32-31 but Goshen regained the lead and had a 49-47 margin over the Tigers at the three quarter stop. Warsaw went ahead 53-51 early in the fourth period and were never seriously threatened from there on.

The Tigers were presented the 1955 Holiday Tournament trophy and Goshen received the game ball.

Hawks Beat Lakers

By UNITED PRESS

Bob Pettit, the St. Louis Hawks' six - foot, nine - inch shotmaker, seemed well on his way today toward breaking Neil Johnston's three-year stranglehold on the National Basketball Association's scoring title.

Following up on his 46-point scoring performance Tuesday night, the former LSU star tallied 33 Thursday night in a 111-90 victory over the Minneapolis Lakers. The two-game total of 79 points gave Pettit a total of 583 points in 23 games this season for a 25.3 average.

Pettit tallied eight field goals and equalled the season's NBA mark for foul shooting by connecting on 17 of 19. Chuck Share tallied 30 more points for the Hawks while Clyde Lovellette scored 26 for Minneapolis.

At Rochester, the New York Knickerbockers scored their third straight victory, beating the Royals, 113-91, as Carl Braun tallied 23 points and Gene Shue added 22. Jack Twyman scored 20 for the Royals.

Pierceton Cubs Win

The Pierceton Cubs won the 4-way holiday basketball tournament by defeating the South Whitley Bulldogs 72 to 62 in the championship game played Wednesday night in the Manchester College gymnasium, North Manchester.

The Pierceton Cubs got off to an early lead and held it only letting the Bulldogs get within five points which they held at the end of the first quarter the score being Pierceton 16, South Whitley 11. The Cubs lead seventeen points at one time during the game.

At the end of the second quarter the Pierceton Cubs held a fourteen point lead over the Bulldogs by a score of 39 to 25. During the third quarter the Bulldogs scored 15 points to the Cubs 12 with the quarter score Pierceton 52, South Whitley 40. In the fourth period the Bulldogs outscored the Cubs by two points but these extra points were not enough to close the gap the Pierceton Cubs had made earlier in the game and the final score was Pierceton 72, South Whitley 62.

Easterday was high point man for the Bulldogs by scoring 21 points.

The consolation game Wednesday night which was played at 7 o'clock. The Central Trojans of North Manchester defeating the Chester township Panthers 55 to 47. Halftime score was Central 30, Chester 22.

South Whitley school was host for the tourney. Oficials were Burl McKenzie and Glen Wisler.

Afternoon Game

The Pierceton Cubs won the first game Wednesday afternoon when they defeated the Central Trojans 64 to 54.

The close and hard fought game changed leads many times. The end of the first quarter found Pierceton ahead by only one point 14 to 13 and at half-time Central was in the lead 25 to Pierceton 24. During the third period the Pierceton Cubs outplayed the Central Trojans by scoring 22 points to the Trojans 11, and leading Pierceton 46, Central 35. In the final period each team scored eighteen points to make the final score Pierceton 64, Central 54.

Richard Roberts a member of the Central Trojans was the high scorer of the game in which he made 21 points for his team. T. Watters accounted for 20 of the Pierceton Cubs 64 points.

South Whitley - Chester

The second game of the holiday tournament found the South Whitley Bulldogs meeting the Chester Panthers with the Bulldogs outplaying the Panthers by a score of 59 to 46.

The Panthers led the Bulldogs in the early minutes of the ballgame by making the first two baskets of the ballgame and led four to nothing but the Bulldogs came back quickly to change that situation and held the lead throughout the rest of the game.

The Bulldogs added 20 more points to their score to the Panthers 17. Half time score was South Whitley 37, Chester 27.

At the end of the third quarter the Bulldogs still ten points in the lead by the score of 49 to 39 and in the final period the Bulldogs made ten more points to the Panthers nine.

Ted Easterday led the scoring for the Bulldogs with 21 points. Schumaker accounted for 17 of the Panthers 46 points.

Swaps Favorite

AGUA CALIENTE, Mex. (UP)—Swaps replaced Nashua today as the Caliente Futre Book favorite for the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap after a $6,000 bet on the Kentucky Derby winner was received. Swaps is now a 2½-1 favorite while Nashua is quoted at 5-1.

Attorney Cites Marquette's Journal

MADISON, Wis. (UP) — Pere Jacques Marquette, the French explorer who toured the Midwest almost 300 years ago, was a central figure in a utilities case today.

An attorney for the Wisconsin Power and Light Co., arguing before the Public Service Commission, cited Marquette's journal of 1673 as evidence that the Wisconsin river has been shifting for quite a long time.

Father Marquette worte: "The river on which we embarked is called 'Miskonsing.' It is very broad, with a sandy bottom forming many shallows, which render navigation difficult."

Pep Wins Decision Over Andy Arel

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UP) — Ex-champion Willie Pep, flaunting his 10th straight victory and gunning for another shot at the featherweight crown, asked today for a "challengers' fight" with third-ranking Carmelo Costa of Brooklyn next month.

Unranked Willie displayed some of his old-time ring-magic Wednesday night as he won a lop-sided decision over Andy Arel of Massena, N.Y., a 22-year-old southpaw who once served as Willie's sparmate.

Thirty-three year old Pep of Hartford, Conn., said he would be ready to start training for a fight with Costa within 10 days despite a four-stitch gash on his left brow and a nick on his right cheek, both suffered in an accidental head-collision in the ninth round of the TV-radio 10-rounder at the Miami Beach Auditorium.

"Naturally, I'd like to fight Sandy Saddler for the title as soon as possible," said Pep today. "But Saddler's defending against Flash Elorde at San Francisco on Jan. 18. So, I agree with my manager, Lou Viscusi, that Carmelo Costa and I should fight next month, and our winner could fight the San Francisco winner for the title."

The ex-champ, who twice wore the 126-pound crown, weighed 128 to Arel's 131½, as he registered his 199th victory in a 209-bout career, which started 15 years ago. He was favored at 5-1 because of his greater experience.

Arel, in his third year as a professional, suffered his sixth defeat in 26 bouts.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at the Hopewell Presbyterian Church for Edward Zolman. The Rev. William Werth officiated, and burial was in the Christian Chapel cemetery at Merriam.

Mr. Zolman was the brother of Clyde Zolman and Mrs. Lulu Kaiser, both of near this city, and the half-brother of Castor Herron, who also resides near this city.

Tuberculin Test In Schools Shows 40 New Reactors

The Whitley County Tuberculosis Association announces that in the tuberculin test, undertaken during the past several months in all schools of the county, and limited to students in kindergarten and the first nine grades, 40 first-time reactors were found. All parents have been notified of the reactions and already many of the children have been X-rayed; others are waiting for appointments; but to date, parents of ten of the children have made no report to the Association.

If parents will contact the Association, the expense of X-raying will be borne and arrangements made by the organization.

Reaction to the tuberculin patch test does not mean that the child has a case of tuberculosis. It does mean that there has been a contact with an open case of the disease and that the child has a few germs in his body. A large X-ray is advised for a reactor in order to determine whether any damage to the child's lung tissue has taken place. In some cases the infection has been so slight that no abnormalities show on the X-ray film. According to Dr. David Stone, Director of the Division of Tuberculosis Control of the State Board of Health, this is not an unusual happening; it means that the calcifications resulting from the infection are so minute that they are not discernible to the radiologist reading the film.

In some instances children who were patched on Monday were absent on Friday when the tests were read; some were not present on Monday to be patched; therefore, there cannot be an entirely accurate picture of the situation in the Whitley County School System. This year the reactors were found as follows:

Columbia City - West Ward, 15; Mary Raber, 2; McLallen, 1; Churubusco, 6; Columbia 4; South Whitley, 3; Larwill, 3; Coesse, 2; Thorncreek, 2; Washington 1; Collins, 1; Jefferson and Etna-Troy, none.

The patch testing program is carried out with the assistance of the County Health Nurse, Mrs. Florence Sinninger, and the expenses are met by funds of the Whitley County Tuberculosis Association received from the annual sale of Christmas Seals.

Questionnaires On Juvenile Delinquency Requested By Craig

The Indiana Council for Children and Youth, upon the request of Governor Craig, has distributed 120,000 questionnaires in Indiana. The purpose of these questionnaires is to obtain a true report of public opinion as to the causes of juvenile delinquency in Indiana.

The results of this survey will be used to develop the program for the Indiana Council for Children and Youth. Two statewide workshops will be held on February 29 and April 17 to study the results, and it is expected that the eleven regional groups working on the distribution will follow with regional conferences.

Responses given on the questionnaire are entirely anonymous. They do require background information, such as sex, whether married or single, age, occupation, education, and residence, but this is merely to asist the researchers in their study.

In addition, the questionnaire asks questions concerning the amount of juvenile delinquency since the close of World War II in Indiana and within individual communities.

Public opinion regarding the importance of various factors as contributing to delinquency is indicated by the ranking of 24 factors. These include lack of discipline within the family, broken homes lack of religious influence, comic books, narcotic addiction, increase in urban life, and fear and insecurity.

The person filling out the questionnaire is also requested to comment on popular remedies advocated for curbing delinquency. These remedies are curfews, physical punishment of children, fines or imprisonment for parents of children adjudged delinquent, and parental education. Suggestions for preventing or controlling delinquency are also welcomed.

Persons interested in receiving such a questionnaire should write to the Indiana Council for Children and Youth, Room 210, State House, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Will Watch Drunken Drivers

Plans to keep drunken drivers off the road were also pressed in Chicago, which contributed more traffic deaths than any other city over the Christmas holidays.

About 30 traffic and safety officials met in an emergency session with Mayor Richard J. Daley and came up with plans to put every available policeman and police vehicle on the streets this weekend.

In New Hampshire, state troopers were put on 24-hour duty and the Nebraska safety patrol planned to use planes to spot dangerous drivers.

Full-scale investigations of the Christmas slaughter were ordered in Michigan and New York.

Princeton, N.J., Magistrate Lewis B. Gerber was already putting his own get-tough policy into effect. He sentenced a speeder to 40 days in jail.

"The nation is terrifically shocked over the tremendous toll on the highways this weekend. We must do something—and it's got to be tough," Gerber said.

The New Years holiday at which all these plans are directed starts at 6 p.m. Friday and lasts until midnight Monday.

President Has Relaxation And Exercise Program

Wednesday's Pattern - Golf Chip Shots, Walks

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer

KEY WEST, Fla. (UP)—President Eisenhower today followed the prescription of his doctors for relaxation and exercise with diligence and vigor.

He set the pattern for his recreational program Wednesday when he hit golf balls on a naval baseball diamond for 30 minutes, then took a 55-minute walk around the Navy reservation where he is expected to stay until about Jan. 8.

Since the President is not an ardent devotee of ocean swimming or deep sea fishing, his press secretary, James C. Hagerty, said it was fair to assume that the exercise recommended by the doctors will follow the pattern of Wednesday — golf chip shots and walking.

Travel With President

The President arrived here from Washington Wednesday with his brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State University, and a small contingent from the White House Staff.

After a large and enthusiastic civic welcome, the President lunched at his quarters which are not far from the house ex-President Truman occupied on his 11 trips to Key West when he was in office.

By 2:45 p.m., however the President was out on the ball diamond, hitting nine-iron shots of from 50 to 80 yards to his valet, John Moaney. It was the first time since his illness that the President really hit into a ball, although he has practiced putting some in recent weeks since his return from Denver.

No Fixed Schedule

Hagerty said that while the President had no fixed schedule today, he thought the President would devote his time in about the same fashion. If the President tires of walking, this southernmost area of the United States abounds in lush and colorful scenery which might bring out Mr. Eisenhowers oils, brushes and painting easel.

Meantime, there continued unanswered the question of why the President said last week that he could not come to Florida and probably could not leave Washington, yet changed his mind abruptly on Tuesday and headed south Wednesday morning.

Hagerty would say merely that the President was here because he was following the advice of his doctors to go to a warmer climate which would encourage more exercise than the chilly East. Asked why Mr. Eisenhower apparently rejected the advice last week when he wired the Key West Chamber of Commerce that he was not coming south, Hagerty shrugged his shoulders and declined to discuss the matter further.

Minnesota was the first state in the nation to employ public health nurses for Indians.

Indiana GOP Leaders Pledge Their Support To The Governor's Petition

By KEITH L. MARTIN
United Press Staff Correspondent

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Indiana Republican leaders today pledged suport to Governor Craig's personal campaign to earmark the state's national convention votes for President Eisenhower.

GOP State Chairman Alvin Cast and State Sen. Roy Conrad readily joined the movement. Like the governor, Cast was confident the President will allow his name to go on Indiana's first presidential preference primary ballot.

Conrad "hopes" the President will run but fears he will not.

If Mr. Eisenhower does not run, Conrad said he will proceed with plans to boom Rep. Charles Halleck as a "favorite son choice.

Sen. Homer Capehart, enroute home from Florida, could not be reached for comment. Nor could Sen. William Jenner.

500 Signers Wanted

Craig told a news conference late Thursday his "sole political activity this spring will be devoted to campaigning for Mr. Eisenhowers reelection. The governor will circulate a petition to obtain the 500 signatures needed to place Mr. Eisenhowers name on the May 8 primary ballot.

"Unless the President specifically asks that his name not be placed on the ballot, it will be, the governor said.

The 1953 law does not specify if a candidates consent is needed. Craig will ask the State Election Commission for a ruling before Feb. 28, the start of a 30-day period for filing petitions of candidacy.

Conrad, the author of the law, said it was the Legislatures intent to require consent. He believed the Secretary of State could rule on the matter, since that officer receives the petitions.

The primary will allow voters to state their preference for presidential nominees. National convention delegates then will be obligated to give first-ballot support to the Hoosier favorite.

Cast said members of the GOP

Biting Weather Ushers In New Year's Holiday

In Most Of North Today

By UNITED PRESS

Biting winter weather ushered in the start of the New Year's holiday in most of the North today.

Meanwhile, a state of semi-emergency was declared in Anchorage, Alaska, after the city's worst early winter storm on record dumped snow "by the foot."

A new cold wave clamped icy temperatures on the northern plains, the upper Mississippi Valley, and most of the Great Lakes. Low temperatures included 15 below at Grantsburg, Wis., 1 above at Bismarck, N.D., and 14 at Chicago.

The cold blast also penetrated the southern Plains and Ohio Valley, but with less bitterness. Farther east, freezing rain or drizzle slicked roads in parts of Pennsylvania and New York.

Temperatures were also below normal in the West, where Californians rolled up their sleeves in wintry weather for their biggest reconstruction job since the San Francisco earthquake.

Christmas week storms and floods had killed 74 persons in northern California and Oregon and caused 150 million dollars damage. The flood waters were falling back in most areas, but they left a thick layer of slime over everything they once covered.

At Anchorage the snow measured 64.3 inches when Mayor Ken Hinchey issued his semi-emergency declaration early today. He asked that businesses remain closed and that everybody except snow removal crews stay off the streets.

No traffic was moving in the city and snow removal trucks worked around the clock trying to keep up with the still-falling snow.

Approximately 750 Get Special Plates

Approximately 750 individuals have reserved for themselves at the local auto license branch special number tage for 1956. Branch manager Charles White has received $9,871.85 from the persons wishing special number tags While most of the requests for specially numbered plates are from passenger car drivers, several truck operators have applied for special plates.

The sale of 1956 tags will open Jan. 3. Except for new drivers, next year the driver's licenses will have to be renewed. These are issued for a two-year period.

Chinese Reds Bombard Ends Of Island Chain

May Be Prelude To Invasion Of Matsu

By WILLIAM MILLER
United Press Staff Correspondent

TAIPEI, Formosa (UP) — The Chinese Communists were reported today to be bombarding both ends of the Nationalist off-shore island chain an apaprent prelude to an invasion of Matsu, Quemoy or both.

Heavy Nationalist Chinese air and naval patrols were reported in naval skirmishes have taken place in the past week. Nationalist sources believed an attempt was more likely against Matsu or its satellite island of Kaoteng.

Sketchy reports received here told of continued artillery duels between Nationalist and Communist gunners at Quemoy Island, southern anchor of Chiang Kaisheks island defense chain just off the mainland, with the Reds pumping in 700 shells Thursday alone.

Reds Shell Kaoteng

Sporadic Communist shelling was directed against Kaoteng in the Matsu Island group 150 miles up the coast. Kaoteng is five miles from the nearest Communist position and serves as an outpost for the main Matsu island.

Up until late today there were around Matsu although battles were reported in the area Tuesday and Wednesday night.

There were widespread predictions in Taipei the Communists were ready to rekindle the Formosa crisis, and one newspaper predicted an attack against Matsu within a week. Other sources believed the Reds would attack in mid-January.

There were no predictions of an immediate attack against Formosa, backed up by the U.S. 7th Fleet and by U.S. air power which can be flown in from Okinawa and the Philippines. American sources thought there might be Red harassment to bolster the Communist position in the Geneva Sino-Aemrican talks.

Nationalist sources said the Reds

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Platt of Bluffton Road, Fort Wayne, are the parents of their first child, a son, born early this morning at the Lutheran Hospital in Fort Wayne. The baby, who was named James, weighed almost 8 pounds.

Mrs. Platt is the former Sharon White, daughter of Sam White of near this city. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Platt of Churubusco.

Ike Edits Almost Completed Draft Of His Message

Confers With McCann, Hagerty

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer

KEY WEST, Fla. (UP)—President Eisenhower today edited an "almost completed draft of his State of the Union message which will be dispatched to Congress for reading on Jan. 5.

An Air Force courier during the night rushed a new draft of the message from Washington to Key West. Riding with the courier was Kevin McCann, the chief White House speech writer.

During the morning, the President planned to run over the message draft with McCann and James C. Hagerty, press secretary to the President. Once a final working draft of the message is completed, McCann will fly back to Washington during this afternoon.

Todays program appeared less leisurely than that of his first full day here Thursday, which he spent mostly in a session of practice golf swings, a long stroll about the base, and in work on two paintings.

After clearing weather lured him from the indoor easel the President used the opportunity to take his first full golf swings since his heart attack.

Stroll Follows Golf

After 30 minutes of this performance before a gallery consisting of his brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, the White House physician and Hagerty, the President took a leisurely stroll about the base.

Fund Transfers End Council's 1955 Business

Bonded Indebtedness Of The Light Plant Stands At $458,000

The city council's 1955 business was wound up Thursday night by allowing of bills presented against the civil city since its last meeting and by transfers of money from one fund to another.

To pay the cost of steam heat at the city hall for the second half of the year, $638.43 was transferred from the general to the steam heating fund. The amount of $13,000 was transferred from the parking meter fund to the general fund. From the light department to the light department depreciation reserve fund was transferred $24,000. From the water to the water construction fund $5,000 was transferred. The sum of $10,000 was transferred from the general to the street fund to complete the adjustment of the administration's books.

The old council, entirely Republican, retired from management of the city's affairs, with the conclusion of business Thursday night. The new council, wholly Democratic, will assume office next Monday. The clerk - treasurer, Franklin Dillman, R 1, will remain in office. Mayor Thomas H. Hood will be replaced by Mayor-Elect Garland F. Stickler.

$36,000 Paid on Bonds

During 1955 the city reduced its bonded indebtedness on the light plant by $36,000. The indebtedness now stands at $458,000. This includes $250,000 still owed on the $400,000 of 2 per cent bonds issued in 1947 and $208,000 still due to retire the 1947 bond issue of $288,000. The 1949 bonds bear 2⅝ per cent interest.

Payments on the light plant bonds included $20,000 applied on retirement of the 1947 bond issue and $16,000 applied on retirement of the 1949 issue.

It is anticipated that next July the city will pay off on the two issues in inverse order, thereby saving considerably on interest. By the terms of the issues, after five years have elapsed this option is granted to the city. Thus more will be applied in paying off the 1949 issue bearing 2 5-8 per cent interest and the lesser amount will be applied on the retirement of the 2 percent interest bearing issue of 1947.

Farmers Must Obtain Social Security Number

Must Obtain Account Numbers Soon

Self-employed farmers in Indiana have been reminded by J. B. Kohlmeyer, Purdue University extension agricultural economist, that social security account numbers must be obtained within the next few weeks.

Farmers who have social security numbers from other employment will not need new numbers. The account numbers will be needed when farmers file their social security report along with their 1955 income tax returns on or before February 15, 1956.

According to Kohlmeyer, about two weeks are required to process applications for social security numbers. And if forms are not filled out correctly, there will be further delay. Applications for social security numbers may be obtained at any post office or from the district social security office. No proof of age is necessary when an application for an account number is filed.

Amount Declared

Farmers with gross income between $800 and $1800 have the privilege of declaring one-half of that amount as net income, even though the net is less. Farmers with a minus net income can declare $900 net income if their gross income is $1800 or more.

Kohlemeyer says that farmers who have kept good records of farm receipts and expenses will find it easy to supply the proper information when filing reports to qualify for social security requirement benefit payments.

Agricultural economists at Purdue, with the help of social security administrators, have been conducting a series of Farmers' Social Security and Income Tax schools in the state at the county level. These schools were designed to give farmers a clear understanding of who is included in the social security program and who must pay social security taxes.

A representative of the Social Security Administration can be contacted in each county seat on certain days when additional information can be obtained by farmers.

Richland Township Farm Neighborhood Group Organizes

Neighbors of Northwestern Richland township elected Sidney Gebert, chairman, of their newly organized Neighborhood Extension at Larwill, Thursday night, December 29. Mrs. Jerry Bower was made secretary. Willis Miller, chairman of the community, was in charge of the meeting. The objectives and methods of organized neighborhood activity were explained to the group by County Agent, B. V. Widney.

"Farm families can make their neighborhood just the kind they would like to have by working together in an organized way," Agent Widney said. "It is surprising how effective just a little guidance can be. Satisfaction can come from helping a neighbor succeed as well as from succeeding yourself. At the same time he becomes a better neighbor," he pointed out.

Neighborhood planning committees are busy now inspecting their commom problems and laying out things to be done about them. All townships have organizations but one, its reported.

The Largest Force Of Indiana State Troopers Ever Assembled On Duty

By UNITED PRESS

The start of the New Year's holiday today touched off an all-out campaign to head off a record-breaking highway massacre.

The National Safety Council predicted that 420 Americans will be killed in traffic accidents from 6 p.m. tonight until midnight Monday. It called the threat a "national emergency."

The council added grim weight to its forecast with the announcement that an estimated 38,500 persons died on the nation's streets and highways this year. The figure is the highest recorded since 1941's all-time record of 39,969.

A death toll of 420 this weekend would be five more than the New Year's record of 415 fatalities set in 1952. It would also be the second

An army of 420 Indiana State Police troopers, the largest force ever assembled in Hoosierland for traffic patrol, hits the road beginning tonight in an effort to prevent another round of heavy holiday slaughter on the highways.

The full concentration of manpower from state police posts goes on duty Saturday night and works through the early morning darkness of Sunday watching for New Years Eve celebrants who drive after drinking too much for safety.

Around Indianapolis, the troopers will use squad cars equipped with chemical testing devices for the first time. The "portable drunkometers will test drivers suspected of intoxication.

Supt. Frank Jessup said in the past such suspects were taken to police stations and laboratories for examination.

"My boys will take drunk drivers to jail, Jessup said.

The campaign is aimed at preventing a repetition of what happened last year in Indiana. In a 6-hour period ending at midnight Dec. 31, eight persons were killed in Indiana traffic.

Last weekend, during a 78-hour Christmas holiday period, Indiana chalked up at least 17 traffic fatalities.

The troopers, their force augmented by county and city law enforcement officers throughout the state, will patrol highways steadily through the 78-hour period beginning at 6 p.m. tonight and ending at midnight Monday.

Meanwhile, the Indiana Office of Traffic Safety issued a new appeal for safer driving in 1956, pointing out that nearly 1,150 were killed in 1955 and this was a gain of seven or eight per cent over the 1954 toll.

Woman Charged In Theft Of One Million Dollars

Generous And Kindly Sunday School Teacher

NORFOLK, Va. (UP)—A "generous and kindly Sunday school teacher was held today on grand larceny charges involving a loan firm's shortage estimated at one million dollars or more.

Miss Minnie C. Mangum, 52, was arrested Thursday after a month of auditing of her multi-million dollar records as secretary-treasurer of the Commonwealth Building and Loan Assn.

Unable to make a $25,000 bond, she was held overnight in jail pending a hearing today in police court. She told a reporter, "I have nothing to say.

Miss Mangum was immediately charged with grand larceny of $100,000 during the last year but state officials and others estimated audits of previous years might disclose shortages totaling more than $1,000,000.

BLA President Roy F. Phillips said a detailed "verification of records of investors and borrowers already in progress might require two or three months. His estimate of the total shortage was $900,000.

Miss Mangum was widely known in Norfolk for her personal generosity and her kindly interest in others. A neighbor said, "anyone in trouble could go to Miss Minnie and she would take care of him.

She recently donated $8,800 to a building fund of the Port Norfolk Baptist Church where she has taught Sunday school classes for 15 years. The church immediately returned her check to the loan company.

Authorities did not state the particular personal use Miss Mangum made of the allegedly embezzled money but said she admitted using misappropriated money to buy eight houses valued at $50,000.

Authorities said she quickly turned the houses, including her own modest residence, over to the state.

Juveniles Caught After Car Theft

Two Fort Wayne juveniles, boys aged 16 and 14, have been detained by Fort Wayne police following auto thefts Thursday afternoon.

Taking the car identified as belonging to Lynn Munger of Fort Wayne, they drove it to Columbia City where they abandoned it in the 100-block on East Ellsworth street. The Munger 1949 Ford was recovered Thursday night by local police.

While in Columbia City the two boys took the automobile of Ted Smith, Churubusco, returning to Fort Wayne in it.

The auto thefts were cleared in Fort Wayne when a restaurant waitress overheard one of the boys bragging about stealing the car for a trip to Columbia City and then returning to Fort Wayne in another stolen car.

Winners Of DAR "Good Citizen" Contest Are Named From Four Schools In County

The local winners of the "Good Citizen" contest, sponsored by the Colonel Augustine de la Balme chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, have been announced. The girls have taken an examination to determine the winner of the county contest, who will then enter state competition. The county winner will be announced at a later date.

The girls were chosen on the basis of leadership, character, and interest in school and community affairs, according to Mrs. O. H. Jones, chairman of the contest.

Columbia City

Miss Zoe Anne Stafford represented Columbia City Joint High School in the contest. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Omer Stafford, North Main street, city. Members of the high school senior class nominated three senior girls, and the faculty then selected Miss Stafford from these three. Max Gandy is principal of the high school.

Miss Stafford is president of the Booster Club, co-president of the Commercial Club, secretary of the high school Choir, and also a member of the Annual staff, NFL, and the Press Club. In addition, she is vice-president of the MYF of the Trinity Methodist Church and a member of the church choir.

She plans to attend college next fall, but has not yet definitely decided which college she will attend.

Coesse High School

Miss Anita Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Valiere Taylor, R 5, was selected rom Coesse high school. Richard C. White is principal.

Miss Taylor is a member of FHA, GAA, Booster Club, Band, and the Girls' Glee Club. In addition, she is secretary-treasurer of the Speech Club, secretary of the senior class, and editor of the annual, "Chieftain."

Also active in community affairs, she is a member of the youth group of the Oak Grove Church of God and assistant chorister of the Sunday School.

1955 Is One Of Deadliest Highway Years On Record

CHICAGO (UP)—The National Safety Council revealed today that traffic accidents have killed an estimated 38,500 persons this year, making 1955 one of the deadliest highway years on record.

Ned H. Dearborn, council president, released the figures with the hope that they will sober drivers into caution during the New Years weekend.

The 1955 toll is the highest since 1941, when an all-time record of 39,969 deaths was set.

It is also 7 per cent and 2,500 lives higher than 1954's 36,000.

Only three other times, in 1936, 1937 and 1941, has the count of deaths on the nations streets and highways passed the 38,000 mark, the council said.

The council said it had counted 34,690 dead in traffic up until the end of November. The estimate of 3,810 more fatalities this month was based on a study of all previous December records, plus the fact that December is always the deadliest month of the year for traffic deaths.

In November, the death count was up a full 10 per cent and the count of 3,680 deaths was the worst record for any November since the record year of 1941.

Thirty states had higher November death counts than in 1954 and, during this year's first 11 months, the death rate has increased in 34 states, the council said.

Exceptions during the 11-month period included Idaho, with a 21 per cent decrease, and Minnesota, with 11 per cent.

Scattered individual cities posted even finer 11-month records, such as the 53 per cent cut in traffic deaths in Syracuse, N.Y., and the 28 per cent fall at Tampa, Fla.

Only 89 cities got through the first 11 months without a single fatality, the largest being Medford, Mass.; Muskegon, Mich.; and La Crosse, Wis.

SEOUL, Korea (UP) — Pfc. Fritz Moeller is confident today that the new year will usher in a brighter future for the 32 Korean refugee orphans he has "adopted."

The 22-year-old Southport, Ind., soldier bought a piece of land and built an orphanage for the children out of his meager Army pay. he ran into trouble with military authorities for ignoring channels in erecting the orphanage in an off-limits village but the difficulties were straightened out.

Moeller said the Overseas Foundation for the Blind has promised to find him a Korean teacher next month. Moeller spent his Christmas holiday in Seoul on pass from his front-line outfit to arrange for the teacher.

LONDON (UP)—A semi - official Royal Air Force magazine said today that British jet fighters are a poor third behind their American and French counterparts.

The Royal Air Force Flying Review said Britain has only three fighter plane types believed capable of flying faster than sound. The United States has nine and France has six, the magazine said.

The magazine said that France's fastest jet, the Leduc 022, can do 1,320 miles an hour as can four top U.S. Air Force planes.

Britain's fastest in the English Electric P1, said to be capable of 1,056 mph in its improved form.

LONDON (UP)—Hollywood actress Arlene Dahl's fur coat was under lock-and-key at the London airport today and customs inspectors said they would keep it until she pays $2,380.

The money will be held as a guarantee that Miss Dahl does not sell the coat during her stay. She will get the money back when she and the coat leave, the inspectors said.

TOKYO (UP)—A "command echelon" of the U.S. 3rd Marine Division Headquarter will move to Okinawa Tuesday to pave the way for the transfer of all Marine units from Japan to the island fortress, it was announced today.

The announcement was made by Maj. Gen. Thomas A. Wornham, division commander, and Gen. I. D. White, commander of Army forces in the Far East.

DUESSELDORF, Germany (UP) —The first contingent of the new West German army to visit the United States will leave here Sunday for training at American Army and Air Force bases, it was announced Thursday.

The 40 officers and enlisted men, ranging up to lieutenant colonel, will make the flight aboard a German Lufthansa airliner. They will wear the new Streit Kraefte uniform and carry complete equipment.

All-Points Teletype

VISALIA, Calif. (UP) — Tulare County Sheriff Sandy Robinson, cheered by reports of receding flood waters in his country and remembering Noah on the ark, sent out an all-points teletype to fellow officers:

"Be on the lookout for carrier pigeons carrying dry leaves."

Cleon Fleck Home Receives Third Place In Fort Wayne Christmas Lighting Contest

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Cleon Fleck, 4640 Lafayette Esplanade, received third place in the Fort Wayne Christmas Lighting contest.

"The Light of the World" was the theme for the Christmas display, a project of the Art Class III of the Fort Wayne South Side high school where Mrs. Fleck is an instructor of art.

A manger scene is arranged against the front of the house under the "Light of the World" sign. Angels with trumpets and the star in the sky are arranged above the caption.

The shepherds and sheep, the wise men and the camels are side scenes all leading to the main theme, "the babe in the manger."

Mobiles with stars and angels arranged by Dave Klemm, student general chairman, are in the scenes. He has been heard over station WANE.

Biblical Themes

On the windows of the garage doors are posters lettered with the Bibical themes selected by the class:

Isaiah 60:1 "Arise, shine for thy light is come and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee."

John 8:12 "Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying 'I am the Light of the World, he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life'."

Expressing appreciation for the display, a neighbor has written to Mr. and Mrs. Fleck," We are the ones who have a perfect view of the "Light of the World." We marvel at what man can do. It has caused me to reread the scripture of the Birth of Christ, the shepherds, the wise men, and the star in the east."

The Flecks reported that so many cars were parked to see the display Christmas night, that they had to wait to enter their own driveway.

Mr. Fleck is the son of Mrs. A. R. Fleck, East Jefferson street, Columbia City. He said the display will be lighted and kept up until Monday for any local friends who might wish to drive over. All ready plans are underway for adding to the display and lighting for next year.

Thursday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cleon Fleck were Mr. and Mrs. Ford Fleck and children, George, John and Carolyn, of Ligonier, and Mrs. A. R. Fleck, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fahl and sons, Bobby and Gregory,Mrs. B. J. Bloom, Miss Marguerite Stultz and Mrs. John Q. Adams, all of Columbia City.

The hostess served punch, coffee, cookies, candy and hot rolls from a holiday table laid with a hand blocked Christmas cloth.

Sugar And Spice Club Holds Monthly Meet

The December meeting of the Sugar and Spice Club was held at the home of Mrs. Raymond Crain of Crooked Lake.

Since there was no lesson for the month, the members exchanged Christmas gifts and played games. The club decided to hold a white elephant sale at the January meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Raymond Stone. Several other suggestions were made and discussed for projects for next year.

Cake, Jello, and coffee and tea were served by the co-hostesses, Mrs. Crain and Mrs. Herbert Griffith.

Events Leading To Khrushchev's Blast At Eisenhower Began With Blunder At Geneva

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—The immediate events leading up to Nikita S. Khrushchev's blast at President Eisenhower began with a United States blunder at the Geneva summit conference.

The word as President Eisenhower took off for the July meeting in Geneva was that the United States would make some powerful propaganda medicine there. It was to be done in a nice way, not offensively. But it was to be effective.

One of Mr. Eisenhower's best propaganda bets was the slave status of captive peoples behind the Iron Curtain. American citizens of Czech, Polish, Slovak and such ancestry had an ear cocked for what the President would say in Geneva in protest against the Communist slave-state system.

Smiles Block Punch

They listened in vain. The American determination to strike a real blow for the captive nations faded under the phoney smiles of Khrushchev, Soviet Communist Party chief, and Premier Nikolai Bulganin. The odds are long that Mr. Eisenhower did not pull his punches on that issue by advice of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. But the punches were pulled, and the President was not long in regretting it.

Within a matter of days after the President's return here, the administration realized its mistake. The Russian bear already was shucking his sheep's clothing. So Mr. Eisenhower began to repair his mistake.

The repair job began Aug. 24 in his address to the American Bar Assn. in Philadelphia. He hit hard in three short paragraphs:

"The domination of captive countries cannot longer be justified by any claim that is needed for purposes of security.

"An international political machine, operating within the borders of sovereign nations for their political and ideological subversion, cannot be explained away as a cultural movement.

Not Part Of Peace

"In justice to others and to ourselves, we never can accept those wrongs as a part of the peace that we desire and seek."

The President's Christmas message broadcast to the captive nations was a substantial re-statement of that position. It did not make the United States position any firmer; it merely said again that this country does not and will not accept the conditions presently imposed by the Soviet Union on most of its neighbors.

Perhaps Khrushchev did not hear it the first time. He got the Christmas message all right, however, and so, no doubt, did the millions of American citizens and voters who came themselves from the captive states or were born of immigrant parents.

There will be more of the same and more after that.

In the lofty phrases of the late Al Jolson: You ain't heard nothin' yet.

3 Of Quintuplets Decide To Face Papa

MONTREAL (UP) — Three of the Dionne quintuplets sneaked out of their bachelor girl flat today to go home and face an angry papa and "get it over with."

Yvonne, Cecile and Annette changed their minds Thursday and decided to go home for New Year's for a showdown on their housekeeping in Montreal and new independence.

"They figured that if they were going to be bawled out, they might as well go home and get it over with," said L. M. Edwards, a close and trusted advisor.

While Marie, always the frailest of the famous five, stayed alone in their fashionable west - end apartment Yvonne, Cecile and Annette slipped stealthily out into a snowstorm Thursday night. They were whisked in a chauffered limousine toward the family home at Callander, Ont.

They were expected to reach the 18-room Dionne mansion late today and meet Papa Oliva Dionne.

Papa has roundly criticized them all week for renting an apartment and apparently "living it up" in gay, metropolitan Montreal.

Dionne said he got only one and a half hours sleep over Christmas because his famous daughters had failed to come home for the holiday. He also complained the girls who reached 21 this year and received a one million dollar fortune had been treating their eight brothers and sisters with "contempt."

A chance automobile accident, in which a car slipped on icy Cote St. Luc Road and slammed into a utility pole, gave the surviving quints, whose sister Emilie died in August last year, their chance to duck a small army of reporters and photographers.

The car hit the pole, knocking it over, and some wires snapped, causing a temporary blackout in the district. The car caught fire.

Newsmen who had staked out the Dionne apartment rushed to check on the accident. Meanwhile, the girls' brother, Oliva, Jr., an enlisted man in the Royal Canadian Air Force, hustled them downstairs from their top - story apartment into a chauffeured limousine waiting on a side street.

Newly-Published Yalta Documents Reveal Trickery

Russia Pretending Friendship With Allies

By WILLIAM GALBRAITH,
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — Newly published documents on the 1945 Yalta conference today provided further evidence of Soviet trickery while the Russians were pretending friendship with their wartime allies.

It was contained in some 40 additinonal Yalta documents made public by the State Department. The newly released papers were almost certain to add more fuel to the long Democratic - Republican controversy over the 1945 meeting of the late President Roosevelt, former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and the late Soviet Premier Josef Stalin.

One of the new documents showed that at almost the time of the Yalta meeting, Averell Harriman, wartime ambassador to Moscow, was finding evidence that U.S.-Russian relations were heading for trouble.

Reds Curb Cooperation

Harriman, now governor of New York and a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, said in an April 2, 1945, message to the President that he had noticed six weeks earlier—which would have been just after the Yalta meeting—that the Russians were curbing their cooperation with the United States.

"Aside from the major questions which are causing concern in our relations with the Soviet Union there has been an accumulation of minor incidents which started some six weeks ago," Harriman said.

"The following are only examples: ...Little or no progress has been made in getting Soviet approval for our air teams to visit Soviet controlled territory for appraisal of bomb damage or for our naval team to visit Gdynia. Both proposals were agreed to at Yalta."

Red Designs On China

Another document from Acting Secretary of State Joseh Grew to Secretary of State Cordell Hull at about the time of the Yalta meeting cast light on a Communist falsehood about its designs on China. Grew said a message from ambassador Patrick Hurley in China reported Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov had insisted "that Russians are not supporting Chinese Communists, who are not Communists at all." The envoy said Molotov also claimed Russia wanted no concessions in China.

The new documents were obtained from the Roosevelt collection at Hyde Park, the State Department and other government agencies. State Department officials insisted they were of no major significance and did not change "the general picture as presented" when the original Yalta record was first published in galley form last March.

New Type Of Silo Roof Is Developed

MARIETTA, O. —(UP)— A new trick of silo domes has been introduced by the Marietta Concrete Corporation.

To top its new concrete farm silos, the firm created a plastic roof. The new top, called silo-lite, is constructed of fiberglass- reinforced plastic.

While it is translucent, the roof is unaffected by weather conditions.

The company says the dome shows great strength and can be installed easily on existing wooden or metal silos.

Holiday Tourneys Provide Many Surprises; High School Rankings In For Streamlining

By KURT FREUDENTHAL
United Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Indiana's high school basketball rankings were in for some streamlining today after top-ranking Indianapolis Attucks barely nosed out city foe Tech for the Capital City holiday tourney crown, Hammond Noll ran off with its second major triumph of the week and Gary Roosevelt and Monticello tumbled from the perfect ranks.

Attucks' defending state champions, although never headed, had to hustle to stave off fired-up Tech before 7,000 Butler Fieldhouse fans Thursday night, 46-39, to run their victory string to 24.

Other major tourneys went to East Chicago Roosevelt, LaPorte, Plymouth, and Noll.

Noll, ranked only 17th in this week's United Press Coaches Poll, cut up the Frankfort competition to capture its second major tourney in three days.

Noll is "Hot"

The unbeaten Warriors, champs at Hammond Tuesday, knocked 10-game winner Monticello from the unbeaten ranks, 71-44, then routed Crawfordsville, 83-58, to take home laurels from Frankfort and finish the first half of the season with a 10-0 record. Monti, tied for seventh place in the state, salvaged consolation honors, trimming the host club, 65-50.

East Chicago Roosevelt shattered Portage's 8-game string, 51-50; LaPorte, with Harry Turak hitting 25 points, walloped host Michigan City, 61-35, and Plymouth dumped Lapaz, 58-61, at Plymouth. In the consolation game, Fred Doelling exploded for 36 points in Valparaiso's 65-59 win over Culver.

Gary Roosevelt's state tourney runner-up, ninth in the U.P. elite, were upended by crosstown rival Forebel, 68-64, in the steel city preliminaries, ending their 6-game string. Little Leroy Gamble was Froebel's hero with 24 points in a thriller from start to finish.

Unbeaten Seymour and once-defeated Fort Wayne South, also members of the U.P. "Big 10," survived preliminaries at Elkhart and Richmond, respectively.

Seymour's third-rated Owls, who reinstated fiery Bode Hill after a four-game "cooling off" period, romped over Mishawaka, 67-53, for win No. 10. Danny Thomas of Seymour and Mishawakas Leroy Thompson each caged 28 points. Hill chipped in 14. Host Elkhart advanced with a 74-54 drubbing of Elwood. Both previously were beaten just once.

Richmond, North Fade

South Side, tied for ninth with Roosevelt, qualified to meet Marion for the championship at Richmond. South beat Muncie Central, 47-43, while Marion turned back favored Richmond, 61-60.

Another surprise cropped up at Huntington, where th ehost vikings shellacked Fort Wayne North, another 1955 state tourney finalist, 64-43 ,after North Side fired into a 10-2 lead. Peru shaded Central Conference foe Wabash in the second game, 61-56.

At Columbus, Jasper and Columbus qualified for today's title round. At Princeton, the unbeaten host club and Southern Conference rival Washington will battle it out.

Attucks blew a 12-point, second period lead against Tech and little Fred McCoy, a dashman, tied the score at 39-all with three minutes to go. With 1:06 remaining, the reliable Oscar Robertson hit a fadeaway onehander for the gamewinning bucket. A freethrow by Bill Brown, Robertson's tip-in and two more charity tosses by brother Henry Robertson put the game away.

Tech outscored the champs from the field, 1817, but hit just three times from the charity stripe.

Pistons Defeat Rochester Royals

By UNITED PRESS

The Philadelphia Warriors posted three new home court records today while boosting their first place lead to two games in the National Basketball Association's Eastern division.

The Warriors whipped the Syracuse Nationals Thursday night, 112-83, and the capacity crowd of 11,236 broke the former attendance high of 10,787 at Philadelphia's Convention Hall.

The Fort Wayne Pistons took undisputed first place in the Western division with the aid of an assist from the Minneapolis Lakers. The Pistons defeated the Rochester Royals, 83-75, in the windup of a doubleheader after the Lakers downed the St. Louis Hawks, 74-71, in Thursday night's other game.

Fort Wayne and St. Louis started the Fort Wayne bill tied for first.

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (UP)—Willie Hartack rode four winners to boost his 1955 victory to 416, tops in the country.

2 Players Sign With Washington Senators

WASHINGTON, D.C. (UP) — Chuck Stobbs, a veteran southpaw who had a poor 414 season in 1955, and Hal Griggs, a rookie right hander who had a 159 record this year with Chattanooga of the Southern Assn., signed 1956 contracts today with the Washington Senators. Stobbs reportedly took a salary cut because his ninth major league campaign was such a disappointment.

pleasant, relaxed mood during the hours walk in which he was conducted about the base by his naval aide, Cmdr. Edward L. Beach, and trailed by reporters.

Beach pointed out a route alongside the quarters once occupied by ex-President Truman and which now serve as the home of the base commandant, Rear Adm. H. H. Henderson.

Mr. Eisenhower paused briefly and said to beach:

"You lead on — the sign says no passage and I dont want to get shot.

Dignity And Humor

Beach, a former submarine commander of imperturbable dignity but not without humor, replied drily, "The admiral lives here and if he shoots you, he's got to answer to me.

The President returned to his quarters to rest before dinner. Hagerty then announced the President had declared flood-disaster areas in south and southwest Oregon.

As a major disaster area the section was thus made eligible for federal funds and assistance, the exact amounts to be determined by the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

The President also received a telephone call from Mrs. Eisenhower, who said their daughter-in-law, Mrs. John S. Eisenhower, and her new baby, Mary Jean, had left Walter Reed Hospital during the afternoon.

The younger Mrs. Eisenhower returned to her home in Ft. Belvoir, Va., where her husband, an Army major, is stationed.

Indiscreet

NEW ALBANY, Ind. (UP)—The Board of Public Works and Safety today took the suspension of police Capt. Robert T. Edlin "under advisement" after he declined a hearing.

Eldin and his attorney attended a meeting behind closed doors. Edlin recently was suspended by the board on grounds he was "indiscreet" in permitting two patrolmen to carry lunchboxes while walking their beats.

Veterans Carry Colors Into Sugar Bowl Tennis Tourney

NEW ORLEANS (UP)—Veterans Tom Brown Jr., 33, and Gardnar Mulloy, 42, today carried the favorites colors into the opening round of the annual Sugar Bowi Tennis Tournament doubles.

The top-seeded tandem faced Bob Bedard, Canada, and Bob Howe, Australia, in a match believed to be easy going for the tennis oldsters at the New Orleans Country Club.

Grant Golden, Chicago, and Bernard Bartzen, San Angelo, Tex., were pitted against Allen Morris, Atlanta, and Harcourt Waters, New Orleans, in another early contest.

Second - ranked Vic Seixas, Philadelphia, and Sid Schwartz, New York, went against Armando Vieira, Brazilian Davis Cupper, and Johann Kupferburger, South Africa. Eddie Moylan, Trenton, N.J., and Richard Savitt, Corpus Christi, Tex. faced Tulane University teammates Jose Aguero of Brazil and Henry Jungle of New Orleans.

In the singles semifinals scheduled for afternoon, Seixas took on Mulloy, the upset winner over defending Sugar Bowl champion Moylan and fourth-seeded Brown met Savitt, another tournament darkhorse.

Mulloy, the graying crewcut veteran, Thursday curbed his flaring temper to pull out his match with Moylan, 6-4, 1-6, 6-2.

Murphy-O'Brien Bout January 12

BOSTON (UP)—Bobby Murphy of Brighton, Mass., who recently was named boxings "Rookie of the Year," signed today to meet Jackie OBrien of Meriden, Conn., in a 10round bout for the vacant New England welterweight title Jan. 12 at the Mechanics Building.

Byrd Hoists The American Flag

BAY OF WHALES, Antarctica (Delayed) (UP)—Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd hoisted the U.S. flag here Wednesday on the site of the "Little America" settlement founded by his 1929 expedition.

The Stars and Stripes fluttered to the top of an improvised flagpole in bright sunlight at 4 a.m., while 24 members of the current U.S. naval expedition to the Antarctic stood at the hand salute.

The persons taking part in the ceremony were ferried ashore by helicopter from the icebreaker Glacier as it passed down the coast.

The original Little America settlement and another founded on the same site by an expedition in 1947 both had been swallowed by snow. The only trace of either one remaining was the top 8 feet or so of a 70-foot radio mast prijecting above the gale-driven, hard-packed snow.

record-breaking highway slaughter in the space of just one week, since an all-time, all-holiday record of 621 deaths was set over the Christmas holidays.

Toll Shocks Authorities

The shocking "Black Christmas" toll aroused a grim determination among states and cities that the slaughter must not return this weekend.

For the first time in Illinois history, National Guard units were ordered onto the highways to save lives over a holiday weekend. Gov. William Stratton, in calling out more than 200 troopers late Thursday, called it "highway martial law."

More than 200 guardsmen were also ordered out in Michigan and emergency measures were launched in other states and cities. examples:

New York City — Police Commissioner Stephen B. Kennedy ordered a fleet of unmarked police cars, manned by officers out of uniform, onto the streets. "When we are dealing with human lives, traffic law enforcement must go beyond the sporting stage," he said.

Stiff Penalties Asked

Washington — Justices of the peace were asked to hand out mandatory jail sentences to all persons convicted of drunken driving. Double bails and fines were asked for other violations.

Wisconsin — State policemen who graduated from the academy only Thursday were rushed into duty. National Guard military police were asked to volunteer for weekend highway patrols.

Ohio — Authorities considered a suggestion that drivers pay "silent tribute" to those killed on the highways over Christmas by turning on their headlights during daylight hours this weekend.

The police of more than 70 communities in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Rhode Island and Massachusetts posted signs offering motorists free coffee at police headquarters.

Welsh Appoints Campaign Manager

VINCENNES, Ind. (UP)—State Sen. Matthew Welsh today appointed John Hurt of Martinsville as manager of his campaign for the Indiana Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Hurt, who was secretary of the Democratic State Committee from 1948 to 1952, said Welsh will open headquarters in Indianapolis early next year.

The Vincennes attorney, who formerly was U.S. attorney for the Southern Indiana district, also named Marshall Hanley of Muncie as chairman of a "Matt Welsh for Governor Committee. Miss Eudora Kelley, Nashville, was named vice-chairman, and Mrs. Jack Mankin, Terre Haute, treasurer.

Welsh said Richard O'Connor, U.S. commissioner at New Albany, will head his campaign in Clark, Floyd, Harrison and Crawford countries. O'Connor is expected to resign as commissioner.

Insects May Pester Corn-Producing Areas

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Agriculture Department said today corn borer populations are sufficient to cause serious infestations in 1956 corn if coming weather conditions favor the insect.

Many of these pests now are present in much of the corn-producing area despite a decrease between 1954 and 1955 in several of the corn belt states, the department said.

A survey conducted in the fall in 23 states indicated heavy infestation may be expected in the 1956 corn crop in eastern and northwestern Illinois, southeastern Iowa, and the eastern shore of Maryland if weather favors the insects survival and development.

Communist Threat To East Germany Barges No Longer Pressed

BERLIN (UP) — The East German Communists have backed down on their threat to halt barge traffic to isolated Berlin in the new year, it was announced today.

West Berlin Traffic Senator Otto Theuner told a press conference the Communists will continue to accept old permits used by barges to bring supplies to West Berlin through the Soviet zone.

"The permits will not expire Dec. 31 as Eastern propagandists have threatened," Theuner said. "They will continue to be valid as in the past."

He expressed belief the East German government does not want to press the matter.

Communist announcements the barge permits would expire on Dec. 31 led to widespread fears in West Berlin that the Reds were preparing a new blockade of Berlin.

The announcements were accompanied by a series of harassing actions similar to those which preceded the historic 1948 blockade of Berlin.

16 Million Acres Of Land Damaged During Last Season

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Agriculture Department warns that about 20 million acres of drought-stricken topsoil in the Midwest is in condition to be blown away this winter and next spring.

However, the department said this is an improvement since this time last year when 26 million acres was in condition to be blown away. The department estimates were as of Dec. 1.

Land actually damaged during last season totaled about 16 million acres.

A department official pointed out the report on land conditions, released Thursday, is merely preliminary and could change greatly, depending upon weather and other conditions.

The preliminary report said land conditions for the southern Great Plains, where drought and dust storms were the rule last winter and spring, showed 16,400,000 acres were in bad condition. This is 3,300,000 acres less than for Dec. 1, 1954.

Unemployment Claims Fewer Than In 1954

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Indiana unemployment claims last week totaled 25,684, about 950 more than in the previous week but only about half the number received during last years Christmas period.

State Employment Security Division director William C. Stalnaker said the total included 4,685 initial claims. He said most layoffs last week were "either seasonal or temporary."

Larwill

The representative from Larwill High School is Miss Joann Vandersaul, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Vandersaul, R 6, according to Paul Patterson, principal. Miss Vandersaul was also chosen by the faculty from among three girls nominated by the senior class.

Miss Vandersaul is a member of the Sunshine Society, Choir, Booster Club, and is a member of the staff of both the Annual and the "Home Run," the school paper. She was also in the senior play, and is secretary of her Sunday School class at the Big Lake Church of God.

Her plans following graduation are still indefinite.

South Whitley

Miss Judy O'Grady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael O'Grady of South Whitley, was chosen by the members of her senior class to represent South Whitley high school, according to Edward C. Barton, principal.

Miss O'Grady is a four-year member of the Thespian and Dramatic Club and of the Sunshine Society. She has no definite plans following graduation.

Asks Divorce From Robert D. Ditton

Suit for divorce was filed by Attorney Joseph R. Roe today in circuit court acting for Mrs. Mary H. Ditton, 605 East Jackson street, against Robert D. Ditton. Mrs. Ditton alleges cruel and inhuman treatment.

The couple was married Oct. 10, 1955 and the date of their separation is listed as Dec. 27. Mrs. Ditton has been granted an order to restrain her husband from molesting her or her five children by a previous marriage. Hearing on whether the restraining order is to be made permanent has been set for Dec. 31.

In her complaint Mrs. Ditton states that on Dec. 3 while operating his automobile, Ditton was involved in an accident and that her son, James L. Mettler, 8, who was riding with his step-father, was injured. The boy is now in St. Joseph's hospital Fort Wayne, due to a fractured right leg. According to her allegations, Ditton has promised to stand the medical expenses and other costs in connection with the boy's injury. Mrs. Ditton states that she is sole owner of the household furnishings and personal property but that Ditton has certain obligations outstanding against him.

Government Has Program To Help Small Publishers

Need For Domestic Source Of Newsprint Is Extremely Great

WASHINGTON (UP) — The government today launched a program to help small publishers assure themselves of an adequate newsprint supply.

The program requires publishers of small newspapers and magazines to band together and form a corporation. The corporation may then apply to the small business administration for a direct loan.

Such loans will be limited to $250,000 for each of the participating publishers. Interest was set at 5 per cent and the repayment period at 10 years.

The need for a domestic source of newsprint is great, SBA Administrator Wendell Barnes said in announcing the program Thursday. Newsprint is being used now at record rates and publishers stocks are at their lowest point since June, 1953, he said, with deliveries running 6 to 30 days behind schedules.

Since about 80 per cent of newsprint used in this country is imported, the pool loans to groups of publishers will be "fostering a domestic industry for which there is a big need.

Barnes said the agency considered as "small" a publisher employing under 500 persons.

Barnes said an "efficient newsprint plant—one capable of turning out 300 tons a day—would cost about $120,000 per daily ton of production.

He thought interested publishers might enter such a program with money of their own, plus a loan from SBA and probably "they would want to have some public offering of stock.

Prior SBA policy has been not to issue loans to newspapers and radio stations lest the agency be accused of influencing their policies. However, Barnes said SBA's loan policy board—headed by Barnes with Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey and Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks as members—decided that since loans would be made to a joint corporation and not directly to publishers, the agency "would not be influencing them.

Randolph Pate New Commandant Of Marine Corps

WASHINGTON (UP)—Lt. Gen. Randolph McCall Pate, a mild-mannered, battde-hardened officer who began his military career as an Army GI, was sworn in today as the new commandant of the Marine Corps.

He was installed as the 21st commander of the Leatherneck corps at a colorful ceremony in the Pentagon office of Navy Secretary Charles S. Thomas.

The swearing-in was followed by a formal change of command ceremony in front of the Marine Corps headquarters, at which the corps paid departing honors to its retiring commandant, Gen. Lemuel C. Shepperd Jr.

Shepherd, 59, is stepping down as commandant after four years in the top Marine post, climaxing 39 years of duty in the Marine Corps. Shepherd will continue in military service as chairman of the Inter-American Defense Board.

Pate, 57, has been assistant commandant and chief of staff of the Marine Corps. With the new post will go the four stars of a full general.

EVANSVILLE, Ind. UP Allen E. Reeves in Vanberburgh Circuit Larkin, 28, whose only previous brush with the law was a $5fine for reckless driving, was sentenced to life imprisonment Thursday for beating a market owner during a $143 holdup.

Larkin, father of two children, was sentenced by JJudge Ollie Court. Reeves explained the charge of inflicting injury during commission of a felony carries a mandatory life term. Larkin pleaded guilty.

His victim was Lloyd Fisher, wh was hospitalized with his injuries. He told authorities he was beaten with a meat cleaver.

Accused Strikers In New Castle Are Free On $4000 Bond

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (UP)—Four strikers accused of an ambush incident during the violent Perfect Circle Corp. strike, including a union local president, were free on $4,000 bond each today after plead-conspiracy.

They were arraigned in Justice of the Peace Court late Thursday and bound over to a Henry County Grand Jury for actoin next month.

The defendants were Carl Batchfield, president of the United Auto Workers local involved in the recently-settled walkout; John Rothrock, Loran Asberry, and Leonard Shelton, all of New Castle.

They were arrested Wednesday night in connection with an ambush Sept. 10 of three Perfect Circle non-strikers north of here.

Edward H. Hunsaker Of Coesse Dies At Home This Morning

Funeral Will Be At 2 p.m. Monday

Edward H. Hunsaker, 66, of Coesse, died at 10:50 a.m. today at his home in Coesse. He had been ill since suffering a stroke in September. After one month of hospitalization following his stroke, he had been returned to his home.

Mr. Hunsaker was born in Peublo, Colorado, to Edward H. Hunsaker and Maud Anderson, both of Ohio. He moved to Fort Wayne, where he resided for several years, and then moved to Coesse.

On March 19, 1913, he was married to Edith G. Moore of Fort Wayne. Survivors in addition to the wife include one son, Edward L. Hunsaker of Fort Wayne, and two grandchildren.

Mr. Hunsaker, an employe of the Inca Corporation, Phelphs-Dodge, Fort Wayne, was a member of the Bethany Presbyterian Church at Fort Wayne.

Friends may call at the Hollingsworth Memorial Chapel after 4 p.m. Saturday. The funeral will be held at the Chapel at 2 p.m. Monday, with the Rev. D. Charles Elson of the Trinity Methodist church of Fort Wayne officiating. Burial will be in the Lindenwood cemetery at Fort Wayne.

Fred Brown, 53, Dies Early This Morning After Heart Attack

Services To Be Held Monday Afternoon

William Fredrick (Fred) Brown, 53, son of the late Harvey M. Brown, died at 4 a.m. today at the Easthaven Sanitarium at Richmond following an apparent heart attack. He had been in failing health since the spring of 1941 and, prior to entering the hospital at Richmond, he had been a patient at the Sawyer Saniarium at Marion, Ohio.

He was a native of Columbia City and was born August 18, 1902, a son of Harvey M. and Anna Heck Brown. He was associated with his father in the operation of the Columbia City dray line and in later years the Palm Garden Restaurant. Mr. Brown was a member of Grace Lutheran Church and the Columbia City Lodge 1417 BPOE

The surviving relatives include his step-mother, Mrs. Lowis Brown, this city; one uncle, Eli Brown, Marion; one aunt, Mrs. Emma Kyler, Mansfield, O., and several cousins.

The body will be returned to the Smith and Sons Funeral Home where friends may call after 7 p.m. Saturday. The Rev. Graham L. Kleespie, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, will officiate at the funeral services to be held Monday at 2 p.m. at the Funeral Home. Committal services and burial will be in the Greenhill cemetery.

Services Held Today For Briggs Infant

Memorial services were held from the chapel of the J. A. DeMoney and Son Funeral Home at 2:00 p.m. Thursday for Robert Kenneth Briggs, 2-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard K. Briggs of Chicago Heights, Ill.

The Rev. Graham L. Kleespie, pastor of the Coesse Lutheran Church, officiated at the funeral home rites and at the committal services which followed at the Coesse Lutheran Cemetery. Mrs. B. V. Widney, funeral home organist, played the organ prelude and postlude.

Diplomats See Stepped-Up Red Activity In Asia

On Basis Of Report By Russian Leaders

By HENRY SHAPIRO
United Press Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW (UP)—Western diplomats said today a study of the Bulganin - Khrushchev report on their tour of India, Burma and Afghanistan indicated that Russia would step up its activities in Asia.

The two leaders' speeches to the Supreme Soviet (parliament) made it plain the Kremlin has found staunch allies among the non-Communist powers of Asia—at least in such big issues as the colonial problem, abolition of nuclear weapons and recognition of Communist China.

A new emphasis on the sure-fire Asian issue of colonialism was the major shift of policy revealed by the speeches of Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist Party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Asian Gold Mine

They apparently had found a gold mine among the restive Asian peoples, most of whom had been colonies under the Western powers not too long ago.

It appeared that Russia is now in a position to exploit Asian anti-colonial sentiment for all it is worth. Westerners here believed an intense "activization," a Soviet term, of policy in Asia is imminent.

Otherwise, it was felt in diplomatic quarters, there was nothing essentially new in the Bulganin-Khrushchev reports.

Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Mootov's speeches at Geneva had firmly drawn the lines of Soviet foreign policy. It is as clear now, as it was after the summit conference, that the Soviet Union plans no significant departure from traditional policy.

Even anti-colonialism is not new. It has been a bulwark of Bolshevik policy since the days of Lenin. But it has acquired new urgency with the emergence of Red China and India as major powers.

Khrushchev's speech Thursday was his first comprehensive statement on foreign policy since he joined the top leadership which succeeded Josef Stalin and Georgi Malenkov.

It may have sounded blunt and uncompromising to newcomers, but it was in fact relatively moderate compared to earlier anti-Western utterances of the Soviet leaders.

Phrases like "warmongering Americans" still have not reappeared in the Soviet vocabulary although Alexander Korneichuk, president of the Supreme Soviet of the Ukraine, did denounce "war mongering imperialist provocateurs" without naming names in one of the windup speeches of the Supreme Soviet meeting.

Temperatures Drop 23 Degrees In Indiana

By UNITED PRESS

Indiana temperatures dropped as much as 23 degrees from Thursday's highs today as a bitter cold wave edged into the Midwest to herald the start of the New Year's holiday.

Temperatures today will range from 24 to 32. They will fall tonight to a frigid 7 north, 10 central and 14 south.

The weatherman forecast slowly rising temperatures over the holiday weekend with little chance for snow except near Lake Michigan.

Highs Saturday will range from 27 north to 33 south.

The five-day forecast called for temperatures averaging near normal.

Maximums will range from 33 north to 42 south. Minimums will range from 17 north to 24 south.

The weather bureau said there will be "little if any precipitation during the five-day period.

Highs Thursday ranged from a mild 51 at Evansville and 47 at Indianapolis, to 41 at Lafayette.

Lows early today ranged from 18 at Lafayette to 30 at Evansville. South Bend was the only weather station reporting snow today.

now have latest model Soviet-built MIG-17s ready for action and that they were working on three more jet bases to bring the total in Fukien Province opposite Formosa to eight.

Unofficial sources estimated the Communists had 1,200 Red warplanes of all types near Formosa, including MIG-15s and twin-engine Russian jet bombers. Total Red air strength was put at 2,000 planes.

Gen. Ben O. Davis, American Air Force chief in Formosa, called the Red air threat "real. He said some of the bases were not manned but that the Reds could move in aircraft overnight.

Government sources have estimated communist army strength available for an attack on the Nationalist islands at one million men with several hundred thousand in the area now, including marine units and tanks.

Problems Growing Out Of 1954 Amendment To Social Security Law Confront Farmers

Many problems are confronting farmers growing out of the 1954 amendment to the Social Security Law which takes effect January 1. Many questions are beging asked about the problems concerning the new social security phases of their federal income tax returns.

When filing their federal income tax for 1955 they will also be paying an additional tax of 3 per cent on the net income for old-age and survivors insurance.

Who Will be Included in This New Program?

Hired farm workers—who earn $100 or more cash from a single employer in a year. Hired girls employed in farm homes by employers operating farms for a profit are classified as hired farm workers and not domestic workers. Self-employed farm operators - who have a gross income of $800 or more or a net income of $400.00 or more.

What are the Benefits?

At retirement (age 65 or over) primary insurance to the insured monthly with a minimum of $30.00 and a maximum of $108.50. The amount is determined by 55 per cent of the first $110 of average monthly earnings plus 20 per cent of the balance up to $240.00. There is also a payment to the wife (age 65 or over) of one-half of the primary insurance with a minimum of $15 and a maximum of $54.25.

There are also payments to survivors of insured.

What Are The Costs?

For hired farm workers including farm hired girls, earnings are taxable at 4 per cent, (2 per cent for the worker and 2 per cent for the employer). The percent rate is increased starting at 5 per cent for 1960 to 1964, 6 per cent from 1965 to 1969, 7 per cent for 1970 to 1974 and 8 per cent for 1975 and after.

For self-employed farm operators earnings are taxable at 3 per cent each year until 1960. Earnings for 1960 to 1964 are taxable at 3¾ per cent, for 1965 to 1969 4½ per cent, 1970 to 1974 5¼ per cent and 1975 and thereafter 6 per cent. The first tax is due on 1955 income early in 1956.

The new Farmers' Tax Guide, a 64-page booklet has been prepared by the national office of the tax collection agency with the aid of revenue agents in farm areas, the Federal extension service of the Department of Agriculture, and the state extension services of the Federal land grant colleges. This booklet is now available at district offices of the Internal Revenue Service and from the county farm agents.

A million copies of the booklet have been published for nationwide distribution. Advance copies sent to large national farm organizations have been highly commended by such groups as the National Grange, the American Farm Bureau Federation, the Farmers' Union and the National Livestock Tax Committee.

In addition to describing in detail the steps to be taken by farmers in all categories in preparing their 1955 returns, the booklet also provides numerous examples on how to do it.

The booklet also deals with such subjects as farm inventories, depreciation, capital gains and losses, casualty losses and thefts, trades, condemnations and diseased livestock, soil and water conservation, and other matters of farm interest

The publication contains considerably more material than is included in the information booklet which will accompany 1955 farmers' tax forms, scheduled to go into the mails late in December or early in January. Farmers who have had special problems during 1955 will be able to play much of the calculation required by their retaurns by using the new guide, revenue officials say. It will enable those who file January 15 estimates to do much of their computation in advance of the actual form preparation.

To Call Hutchins To Testify, Ford Financed Fund

Grant For Studies On Civil Rights

By FRANK ELEAZER
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) said today his House Un-American Activities Committee soon will call Robert M. Hutchins for testimony —probably in public — on the Ford financed Fund for the Republic.

Hutchins is director of the fund, set up under a 15 million dollar grant from the Ford Foundation for studies on civil rights, Walter said the fund has maintained that the Communist Party is a political group and has criticized Congress for branding it part of an international conspiracy.

"It is inconceivable, Walter told newsmen, "that the heads of such an organization could be so naive as to believe that the Communist Party is a political party in the usual sense of the word.

Walter said a staff inquiry into the fund question already is underway and that committee hearings will start after a current investigation into alleged subversion in the National Labor Relations Board has been completed.

The committee chairman said Hutchins will be asked how the criticism of Congres got into its 1954 report. He said Hutchins' testimony "probably will be public, although no decision has been made on this.

Hutchins, former chancellor of the University of Chicago, has denied that the fund in any way has been "soft on Communism. He said recently the fund considers Communism the most serious menace to civil liberties in this country.

Walter told reporters the committee is not investigating the fund as such. But he said it wants to find out how it happened that the fund took what Walter said has been a consistent line of the Communists.

"Throughout the years the committee has run into attempts to make people believe that the Communist Party is just another political party, like the Republicans and the Democrats, Walter said. "Thats very definitely part of the Communist Party line. I think it is an obligation of the committe to find out how that deliberate effort at deception by the Communist Party got into a report of the Fund for the Republic.

The most practical method of freeze-drying potatoes for cattle feed is to spread the potatoes on the open ground in layers no more than six to eight inches deep.

More than 60 per cent of the rural roads in the United States are hardsurfaced.

Tree stumps can be rotted out by cutting them as close to the ground line as possible, covering them with soil or sod, and keeping the stump area moist so wood-destroying fungi and insects can work.

Bulk tanks for hauling milk to processing plants have replaced milk cans on at least 15,000 dairy farms in the United States.

Great wind-up to a great year –

Buick Builds 800,000

Highest peak of all time points to Buick as the buy of the year!

LATEST BULLETIN: Buick's total new car production for the United States and Canada in 1955 is crowding 800,000 at the time this goes to press.

Every time you traveled America's roads and streets and highways this year, you saw Buick history being made.

You saw more new Buicks than ever before—because more new Buicks were bought and registered in 1955 than in any previous year since car-building began.

You saw big, beautiful new Buicks in ever-increasing numbers because this year Buick outsold, by far, every other car in the land except the two most well-known smaller cars.

And if you had taken a look behind the scenes, you would have witnessed new Buicks being built at the rate of over three cars per minute to meet the public demand.

As Buick dealers, we recognized this mounting demand from the first—and nurtured it to the fullest benefit of the public.

For, with our growing volume, we were able to offer bigger trade-in allowances—and we did. So more and more people, attracted to the great new Buicks found it easier and easier to buy them.

Today, the demand continues upward. With the much-wanted 1956 Buick—introduced last month, and now in full production—this calendar year closes with Buick building toward an all-time high of 800,000 Buicks. The New Year looks like a million.

So MAYBE you ought to look into Buick for 1956.

Maybe you ought to look into that stunning new sweep-ahead styling that's winning such raves. Maybe you ought to try the wholly new sweetness of Buick's superb ride—and the precise sureness of handling that goes with it.

Maybe you ought to sample the lofty new horsepowers that come from Buick's big new 322-cubic-inch V8 engines—and the brilliant new response of an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflow* that brings you double-action take-off and a big boost in gas mileage.

Above all, maybe you ought to come in and see for yourself the bedrock value packed into every new Buick—and how much more sheer automobile your money buys here than the same money buys elsewhere.

Drop in first chance you get. We'll show you what solid worth Buick builds into cars to win such soaring success—and how favorable a trade-in allowance we can offer you with such tremendous volume to back us up.

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.*

And now comes the '56 – Best Buick yet

Buick builds cars in every price range, including the very lowest. And typical of Buick value in every price class is this buy:

$2455.00 †
Local Delivered Price of the 1956 Buick SPECIAL
2-Door, 6-Passenger Sedan,
Model 48 (illustrated)

†Any state and local taxes, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities. A wide variety of extra-cost equipment and accessories available at your option.

Thousands Of Salk Polio Shots Went To Waste In 1955 Program

By MICHAEL J. O'NEIL
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—Thousands of Salk polio shots went to waste in the 1955 mass inoculation program, it was learned today.

State health authorities revealed in a nationwide United Press survey that enough serum to inoculate more than 35,000 children became "staled" before it was used. They blamed distribution mixups, the safety testing snafu this summer and other factors.

Most of this vaccine was earmarked for the school program of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

More than 11,000 additional doses, it was learned, also have been returned to manufacturers since the start of the governments voluntary distribution program.

Says Record Good

Dr. G. Foard McGinness, vaccine director of the foundation, said he estimated vaccine losses this year wouldn't run more than 20,000 shots. But, he said even if the 35,000 figure is correct, it represents a "pretty good record."

"With all the clearing and reclearing of vaccine this summer, he said, "its surprising a lot more shots didn't become outdated and go unused."

At present, vaccine is declared outdated if it has not been used within a six-month period. In the United Press survey 32 states reported no waste, but 12 states reported losses ranging from "a little" to more than 13,000 shots.

Here is the breakdown of wasted shots:

Oklahoma, 13,605; Pennsylvania, 10,000; Kentucky, 5,649; Ohio 3,000; Alabama "several thousand"; Nevada 150; Texas, 18; Georgia and Louisiana, "some"; Florida, Tennessee and Virginia, "a little".

Hope To Beat Deadline

Nine states reported they have between 53,000 and 100,000 shots close to expiring. But they indicated they hope to get them into childrens arms before the deadline.

A number of explanations were offered for the vaccine losses dur-

1955 Bowing Out; Road Patrol Will Be Continuous

Voters To Fill Several Local Offices In 1956 Clubs Featuring Parties

As this area prepared today to celebrate New Year's, law enforcement officers were alerted for highway patrol duty in an attempt to reduce the accident rate which has persisted through 1955.

All available state police will be on patrol; city police will continue the patrol within the city limits.

Whitley county's fatal accidents still number six for 1955 while the year saw one drowning - that of Keith Huffman, Columbia City, in Big Cedar lake Nov. 17.

An estimated 1150 died on Indiana highways during the year while the nation-wide toll is estimated at 38,500, exceeded only by the 39,969 killed in 1941. Only in 1936, 1937 and 1941 have the traffic fatalities exceeded the 38,000-mark.

Clubs Feature Parties

New Year's eve parties will be featured by the local fraternal organizations which maintain clubrooms tonight. Others will celebrate in homes.

New Year's arrival is more quiet now than in past years when the custom of ringing all church bells and blowing all factory whistles was followed. Then, Pop welcomed New Year with blasts from his shotgun, Mother beat the wash boiler with the clothes stirring stick, the kids rang cowbells or beat on the dishpans.

Needs Fishing Licenses

Those planning ice fishing over the weekend will have to secure 1956 hunting and fishing permits first. These are on sale at sporting goods stores and several filling stations.

Elections Coming Up

In addition to national and state elections, with primaries in May and the election next November, local voters will choose several new county officers next year.

These include a new county treasurer, coroner, surveyor, judge, ond district commissioner. The ond district comimssioner. The term of Lee Plattner, first district commissioner, expires at the end of '56. That of second district commissioner Earl Fisher expires in '57 so a candidate is elected for this office also in 1956.

Edgar E. Ferrey C Of C President In San Carlos

A former Columbia City resident, Edgar E. Ferrey, has been elected president of the Chamber of Commerce in San Carlos, California for 1956.

Ferrey, who has been a director of the San Carlos Chamber the past three years, will be formally installed in the top office at the organization's annual dinner-dance January 7. He is a past vice president and also has headed the Chamber's industrial committee.

San Carlos, located 25 miles south of San Francisco, has a population of nearly 17,000.

Ferrey is public relations manager of the Lenkurt Electric Company, a manufacturer of electronic communications equipment. The company employs 1,400 people in San Carlos and also has a subsidiary in British Columbia, Canada.

Ferrey, his wife and 5½-year-old son have resided in Palo Alto, eight miles south of San Carlos since 1952 when they moved to California from Bloomington.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Ferrey, 414 West Market street.

Cars Collide At Fibre Form Entrance

The cars owned by John DeWitt Vance, 33, Columbia City, R 1, and Walton H. Pfeiffer, 40, Tri-Lakes contractor were damaged about 10:45 p.m. Friday at the entrance to the Fibre Form factory on River street when Vance failed to see Pfeiffers turn lights as he turned into the factory entrance and struck the Pfeiffer car in the rear. The motorists were southbound. Front end damage to Vances '49 Chevrolet coach was estimated at $225; the right rear fender and panel of Pfeiffer's '53 Buick coach received $80 damage. The investigating officer was John G. North of the city police.

An adult evening class for farmers will begin at Coesse High School on January 4 at 7:30 in the evening, according to A. A. Pylant, ag teacher at Coesse.

The series of meetings, which will be conducted by experts in the various fields will be as follows: January 4, Feeding Swine; 11, Feeding Dairy Cattle; 18, Preventing Disease of Poultry; 25, Controlling Disease of Cattle; February 1, Constructing and Using Silos; 8, Establishing and Managing Pastures; 15, Using Chemical Sprays; 22, Determing Effects of Fertilizer Elements; 29, Using Anhydrous Ammonia; March 7, Selecting and Applying Fertilizers.

This anticipated program is free, and the public is invited to attend. Mr. Pylant announced that those attending at least 70 per cent of the meetings will be awarded a certificate.

U.S. NotAshamed Of Treatment Of Chinese Student

Who Is Now Confined At Mental Institution

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States has "nothing to be ashamed of" in its treatment of a former Chinese student who is confined at a Missouri mental institution, officials said today.

Red China has complained that Liu Yung-Ming has been prevented from leaving the United States by being held at the Missouri State Hospital at Farmington, Mo.

Officials said Red China apparently was trying to find a "parallel" to the case of Mrs. Homer V. Bradshaw, an American released in Hong Kong Dec. 20. Mrs. Bradshaw's only apparent emotion after she crossed "freedom bridge" into Hong Kong was continued fear. Her weight had fallen to 80 pounds and she was suffering from a mental breakdown, acute malnutrition and the effects of beri beri.

Officials said Liu has been taken care of for six years at public expense. They said he would be turned over to anyone willing to take both "legal and moral care" of him.

Has Freedom Of Grounds

Dr. Emmett Hoctor, head of the hospital, said at Farmington that Liu has the "freedom of the grounds" and "could walk off any time he wanted."

The Chinese complaint was contained in a note handed earlier this week to American diplomats in Geneva, Switzerland. The United States has been negotiating with the Chinese Communists at Geneva for a return of Americans held by them.

The note said the student has branded the hospital a "hell" and has expressed the hope of returning "to the arms of my mother country as early as possible."

The State Department said Liu was committed by court order in 1949 while attending the University of Missouri. It said hospital physicians said he was suffering from schizophrenia.

The Chinese complaint said that before his commitment, Liu sought permission to return to China in May, 1949. But instead, it added, he was declared a mental case.

The State Department said the Chinese note was its first knowledge of the case. It said it sent immediately for his immigration file, and is consulting with the Red Cross on how to dispose of the case.

The department said without qualification that no order was ever issued barring Liu from leaving the country.

On the contrary, it said, the Immigration Service actually obtained a deportation order against Liu in January, 1951, but was unable to carry it out "due to the impossibility of obtaining travel documentation."

Tar Buckets Ignite

The fire department was called about 3 p.m. Friday to the Fibre Form factory where construction is under way to repair the building which was damaged by fire Nov. 17. Several buckets of tar composition used on roof construction, being heated in front of the building, became ignited. The fire was quickly extinguished.

Legless Veteran Brands Charges Unmitigated Lie

Sweats Out Decision On Case

WASHINGTON (UP)—A legless World War II veteran, facing disloyalty charges that could stop his disability payments, today sweated out a decision on his case by a Veterans Administration committee.

Veteran James Kutcher of Newark, N.J., branded the charges against him as an "unmitigated lie. He appeared before the three-member committee Friday in a two-hour hearing.

Earlier this month the VA notified the 44-year-old Kutcher, who lost both legs in a German mortar blast, that his $329 monthly pension) had been cancelled because he belonged to the Socialist Workers Party, an organization on the attorney generals subversive list. However, the pension was restored pending the outcome of Friday's hearing.

No Immediate Decision

Committee Chairman Peyton H. Moss doubted a decision could be reached before next week and perhaps not that soon. He said the committee would give the case "careful consideration.

Kutcher seldom raised his voice during the hearing. But his attorney, Joseph Rauh, and Moss repeatedly exchanged heated words during the stormy session.

Rauh charged the VA has no authority to withdraw benefits in a loyalty case until action has been taken by a court of law. He said it was the "first time in history" such action has been taken and charged it marked a "rebirth of star chamber proceedings . . ."

A so-called 'star chamber" trial is one which is held in secret without a jury.

Fired By VA

Kutcher was fired seven years ago as a file clerk in the Newark Veterans Administration office because of alleged membership in the Socialist Workers Party. He has been trying to get his job back.

In its letter to Kutcher, Dec. 12, the VA said evidence shows he gave "aid and assistance to an enemy of the United States during the Korean War by being a member of the party.

May Discontinue Coesse H. S., Rules Appellate Court

The Appellate Court on December 30, affirmed the judgment of the lower court in the Union township case according to word received here today by Robert E. Gates, attorney.

The original parties who sought to stop the school were Harold B. Wherry, Roscoe G. Johnson, Carl L. Ferber, David M. Oliver, Carl F. Hess, Leo C. Maley, Valliere Taylor, William Pettigrew, LaVern Clark, Charles Schall, and Edward Wilhelm.

The circuit court with Judge Walter Stump of the DeKalb Circuit Court, sitting as Special Judge in the case, had decided that there was a majority of the resident taxpayers of Union township that had signed the petition to abandon the high school at Coesse. These people objected to the petition upon the basis of the way the signatures were made upon the petition.

Judge Stump held that the persons named as signed were sufficient and approved the petition, and stated that the school should be abandoned on the basis of that petition.

These people appealed the case to the appellate court of Indiana and the Appellate court held that the decision of Stump was correct and that Coesse school should be abandoned.

Asks Change Of Venue From County

Clarence K. Stewart, Fort Wayne resident arrested Dec. 4 on state road 14 upon charges of public intoxication and drunken driving, sought a change of venue from the Whitley circuit court Friday. The motion was filed by his attorney, Robert E. Gates.

Dick Morsches To Make Last Appearance With Spartans On Monday

Richard R. (Dick) Morsches, co-drum major of the Michigan State University marching band, will be making his last appearance in front of the 125-piece Spartan band on Monday in the famed Rose Bowl at Pasadena when the Spartans meet UCLA.

Morsches, who will appear in the Tournament of Roses parade will be twirling as the band marches down Colorado boulevard. He will lead the band as drum major on the field at the Rose Bowl game, however, on Monday. He is a speech senior at the University of Michigan. His parents, brother Bobby, and sister, Jane, are now in California to witness the parade and game.

Morsches appeared at Pasadena in 1953 with the Spartan band when Michigan State defeated UCLA in the New Year's spic.

Ike's New Pledge Has Put Moscow On The Defensive

Propaganda Fight Advantage Shifts To The United States

By DONALD J. GONZALES
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower's newest pledge to work for the "peaceful liberation of Iron Countries" has put Moscow on the defensive, administration officials said today.

They said the current advantage in the East-West propaganda fight over the satellites clearly shifted to the United States in less than a week.

The American-Russian fight was influenced by Christmas messages from Mr. Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to Iron Curtain nations. The messages, broadcast the day before Christmas, expressed hope and conviction that the satellites would escape bondage and join the free nations.

Last Day Of Year Is Cold And Sunny In Much Of Nation

By UNITED PRESS

The last day of the year was cold and sunny in much of the nation today.

Rains resumed over central and western California, where residents were still cleaning up from Christmas week floods which killed 66 persons.

But cooling weather appeared to have brought the flood threat to a stop. Levee patrols kept a constant watch over dikes protecting Stockton and Isleton, but even there engineers expected the San Joaqun River to drop.

Another record - breaking storm appeared over at Anchorage, Alaska. Skies began to clear after the heaviest early winter snowstorm in the city's history, although officials said "the big job of removing the snow still is ahead."

It snowed for almost 66 hours from Anchorage to Yakutat, turning hundreds of stranded cars into igloos. The territorial employment service hung out "men wanted" signs for men willing to shovel snow. It got 25 applicants, but needed 100.

Meanwhile, the weather took a sharp turn toward the cold side throughout the lower Great Lakes and along the Atlantic Coast. Rumford, Maine, reported an 8-below zero temperature early today, and it was below freezing as far south as Jackson, Miss., and Birmingham, Ala.

In contrast, westerly winds warmed up most of the Great Plains and upper Mississippi Valley.

Stickler To Be Mayor Number 17 On Monday

10 Of The Past Mayors, Democrats; 6 Were Republicans

Garland F. Stickler, co-owner with Walter Meyers of the Meyers & Stickler drug store, will become Columbia City's 17th mayor when he takes the oath of office at the city hall Monday, Jan. 2.

Stickler will be the 11th Democratic mayor the city has known. Of his 16 predecessors, 10 were Democrats; six were Republicans. The first assumed office in 1888 when Columbia City changed from a town organization to the city form of government.

The political history of Columbia City has been, as far as the presiding officer of the city council is councerned, 39 years under the Democrats and 28 years under the Republicans.

The first mayor of the town was Judge Joseph W. Adair, Democrat elected in 1888 for a one-year term. His successor was from the same party, Richard Butler, who served in the year 1889. Thereafter the mayors served four-year terms.

Frank L. Myers, local creamery owner, was the city's first Republican mayor — elected in 1914, the year World War I engulfed Europe and several years later brought the United States into the conflict. Since Mr. Myers' term the city has been almost evenly divided politically speaking, in choosing its mayors. Since '14, the Democrats have had 24 years in office to the Republicans' 20.

Five of Columbia City's former mayors are still living. These are: Lloyd S. Crouch, Merle M. Fisher, James A. Brown, Edward C. Binder, and the retiring mayor, Thomas H. Hood. All of these except Mr. Binder are Republicans.

Mr. Brown has the distinction of occupying the mayor's office longer than any of the others. He served the city as mayor from 1935 to 1947, or 12 years. The only other individual who has served as mayor here for more than one term was Democrat Col. Joseph R. Harrison, who occupied the mayor's chair from 1902 to 1910.

Mayors

The list of city's mayors includes:

Eight men, representing industry, retail stores, and professional and miscellaneous activities, have been elected to the board of directors of the Columbia City Chamber of Commerce.

These include: Ray Gasaway and Shinzo Ohki, representing the industrial section; Edwin Heupel, Carl Anderson, Robert Thomas and Arthur Trier, Jr., representing the retail division; Dr. Lowell Grant and Robert Weir, representing professional and miscellaneous business classifications.

The board members continuing in office for the second of their two-year terms are: Charles Argerbright, Milton Schubert, Clarence Jones, Glenn Frank, William Thomson, Carl Arntson, John W. Whiteleather, Leland Williams, and David Walter. Walter is the retiring president.

The 1955 and 1956 boards will meet jointly at noon Tuesday, Jan. 10, in the Clugston Hotel dining room. Organization of the Chamber for the coming year will take place at that time.

On the retail members' calendar is a meeting at 8 p.m. Wed., Jan. 18 at the city hall for selection of a retail chairman.

Attend Farm Bureau Institute At Purdue

Several people from Whitley County attended the State Farm Bureau Institute at Purdue University this week. The Institute was held Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday at the Union Building.

On Thursday evening they attended a banquet. Charles Schuman, National Farm Bureau President was the principal speaker. The classes were taught by the Farm Bureau staff and professors from Purdue University.

Those attending from Whitley county were Preston Gregory county president; Thomas Western, county vice-president; Ralph Heine policy development leader; Merle Kyler, county secretary and public information chairman; Mrs. Talmadge Leedy, county S and E leader; and Mrs. Guy Gross, district S and E leader.

President Rests Under Warm Sun In Florida Today

Still Uncertain About 1956 Plans

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer

KEY WEST, Fla. (UP)—President Eisenhower relaxed under the warm Florida sun at year's end today, still uncertain whether the new year ahead would move him toward a hot campaign for re-election or toward retirement.

His main concern as he soaked up the suns rays and exercised vigorously remained the continuing battle for fuller recovery from the heart attack that made 1955 for him one of the more eventful years of an action-packed life.

Staff members in a position to know reported that he had not yet passed the word to them, even privately, as to whether he would run again.

It was here four years ago this month, and nearly four months ahead of any public announcement, that former President Truman told his top aides in confidence that he would not run again.

Early To Bed

Hhe President's program for marking the end of a fateful year was unannounced, but the chances were that he would be in bed and asleep long before midnight. He had been retiring early, on doctors orders, and getting a couple of rest periods during the day as well.

Friday, demands of his White House duties, kept him busy at his desk and out of the sun for half the day.

New cold war strategy had to be mapped to meet the harsh accusations of Nikita S. Khrushchev, Soviet Communist Party leader, that it was Mr. Eisenhower, and not Russian leaders themselves, who had violated the "spirit of Geneva.

It was Khrushchevs claim that

Guardsmen And Police Wage War Against Death

Hours Of Greatest Danger Still To Come

By UNITED PRESS

One of the biggest safety campaigns in the nation's history appeared to be holding down traffic deaths on the start of the New Year's holiday today.

The United Press count starting at 6 p.m. Friday night showed that only 16 persons had met death on the streets and highways. In addition, there was one death from miscellaneous mishaps for a total of 17.

Across the nation, a small army of police and National Guardsmen waged war against death. Their assignment was to prove the forecast of a record-breaking 420 traffic deaths by midnight Monday wrong.

However, the hours of greatest dangers were still to come. The death rate was expected to pick up rapidly tonight, when hordes of merrymakers will welcome in the New Year by drinking too much and then trying to drive home.

Michigan led with four deaths, Ohio had three and Washington two. South Dakota which got through the bloody Christmas weekend without a single traffic death, had already recorded one for the New Year's holiday.

Five Deaths An Hour

If the National Safety Council's prediction of 420 New Year's dead proves true, it will mean that more than five Americans will die in smash-ups during every hour of the 78-hour holiday.

It will also mean an all-time record for New Year's slaughter—five above the record 415 traffic deaths counted over the 1952 holiday.

Only one week ago, the nation set an all-time, all-holiday traffic death record of 621 during the three-day Christmas holiday. It was this staggering total which aroused today's all-out, no-holds barred drive to save lives.

Uniformed National Guardsmen left their homes for the holidays and aided state police in Louisiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Kansas, Arizona, Michigan, and Tennessee. In

Speaker Advocates Program To Keep School System Abreast Of Advances In Other Fields

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (UP)—Commissioner of Education Samuel M. Brownell today advocated a research program to keep schools abreast of advances in the atomic and electronic fields.

Brownell told the 50th anniversary celebration of the founding of Phi Delta Kappa fraternity at Indiana University Friday night "educational research must advance side by side with research and development in technology."

He said basic educational research is needed to:

1. Explore the possibilities of using teachers and classrooms more efficiently.

2. Make possible more efficient conservation and development of human resources through education..."to make certain that every child in America develops as much through education as possible with benefit to himself and to our society...to bring about the wisest and best balanced development of each child."

3. Examine the implications of our expanding economy and advancing technology for the future of education.

Brownell told the gathering the educational challenge of the future is immense. Measured in numbers alone--pupils, teachers, buildings--neva involved no relaxing of to achieve liberty and justice for the oppressed peoples of the world.

America's "peaceful purpose.

The statement, read by White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, said "the peaceful liberation of the captive peoples has been, is, and, until success is achieved, will continue to be major goal of United States foreign policy."

Reply Is Broadcast

The Voice of America immediately broadcast the statement to Russia and Eastern Europe.

The President, Dulles and other high administration leaders were reported highly pleased that Khrushchev has reacted—and so quickly—to the Christmas messages. His reaction, experts said, would get the American attitude on the satellites far more publicity behind the Iron Curtain than this country had ever hoped to achieve.

Khrushchevs quick crack at Mr. Eisenhower also indicated the extreme sensitivity the Russian leaders have on the satellite question.

Some experts believed the Red chieftains, who have been talking so much lately about "colonialism and imperialism, may have a "guilt complex about their iron-fisted control over the Iron Curtain countries.

New Testament Messages

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

THERE are two outstanding messages in the New Testament. One, and the basic one underlying all else, is the message of the Gospel of God's grace. And the other is the message, or messages, concerning the Christian way of life.

The one is the message of salvation. The other, with great insistence, sets forth the nature of the saved life.

The Philippian jailer (Acts 16) asked, "What must I do to be saved?" He got a very definite answer. He might well have asked, "What must I do after I am saved?" People somehow always have been more concerned with the first question than the second.

But the New Testament insists as much upon the nature of the saved life as upon salvation itself. Paul, for instance, was always emphasizing what Christians should be saved unto as much as they were saved from.

It is the great distinction of St. Luke's Gospel that it sets forth the two great messages of the New Testament with a simplicity and clarity that is unexcelled.

Take the message of the gospel of God's grace. How could it be stated more clearly and beautifully than in Luke's account of the Parable of the Prodigal Son (Luke 15) and the accompanying parables of the Lost Sheep, and the Lost Piece of Silver?

Here is the presentation of God's love and free grace in the stories of an earthly father, welcoming a wayward son; in the conception of God earnestly seeking lost men, as a shepherd persistently seeks a lost sheep until he finds it; in the tale of a woman earnestly sweeping for the lost coin that she can ill afford to lose.

I cannot profess to be a theologian, or to understand all that may relate to salvation and sacrifice, especially concerning the statement in Hebrews 9:22 "without the shedding of blood there is no remission of sin."

I can only think that St. Paul, in his writings concerning the Atonement, and the writer in Hebrews were relating the gospel of God's free, pardoning grace to the conception of sacrifice in the Old Testament, and incidentally to the idea of sacrifice and the necessity of appeasing a just or angry God, or gods, that has permeated practically all religions.

I leave to the more competent all expositions concerning the nature of the Divine Sacrifice; but in the Parable of the Prodigal Son there is no suggestion of the forgiveness and welcoming of the prodigal by punishing someone else. And a transaction of justice is hardly a matter of mercy and free grace.

It is "the goodness of God that leadeth—to repentance" (Romans 2:4). I recall a verse that I often heard sung in my boyhood: "My God is reconciled; His pardoning voice I hear; He owns me for His child; I can no longer fear."

The experience is fine, but its source is wrongly stated. It is not God who is reconciled, but man. Witness Paul's appeal (II Cor. 5:20), "Be ye reconciled to God"; and never forget that the very heart of Paul's gospel, was that "God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto Himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them." (Romans 5:19)

Operating Costs Of Home Freezers Listed

KINGSTON, R.I. — (UP) —A consumer education specialist says the home food freezer may be a helpful, desirable piece of household equipment, but it isn't likely to save the owner much money.

Writing in Rhode Island Agriculture, a quarterly published by the University of Rhode Island, James D. Bromley, a faculty member, said there are several expenses which must be added to the cost of the freezer. He listed these as including depreciation (10 years estimated life), interest on investment, possible repairs and electricity.

Bromley estimated it would cost about 19 cents a pound in operating costs to run a 14-cubic food freezer stocked twice a year.

Store Of Future To Be Fantastic Place

CHICAGO — (UP) — The retail store 45 years from now will have many of the aspects of science fiction. But it will all be real to the customer.

The main floor sales space will be covered entirely by displays in the store of 2,000 A.D. and the merchandise, what little there is of it, will be contained in automatic vending machines.

This is the prediction of Raymond L. Lutgert, 36, developer of a new suburban shopping center on Chicago's South Side. Lutgert also forecast that shopping areas at the beginning of the next century will be inclosed entirely in glass and heated for the comfort of the shoppers.

Other features of the store-to-come, Lutgert said, will be moving sidewalks, selling by automatic clerks, and machines to handle deliveries, inventories and similar chores.

U. P. Reveals Results Of Its State-By-State Survey Concerning Polio Vaccine Situation

By MICHAEL J. O'NEILL
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP—Salk polio vaccine now is rolling off the production lines faster than it's used. But demand is picking up fast and is expected to run far ahead of supplies in the next few months.

A nationwide survey showed today there are currently about five million shots — the equivalent of nearly two months' output — on the shelves of doctors' offices, drug stores and local health departments.

But state health authorities said they are not concerned. Main reason for the delay in the vaccine's use, they said, is that many areas have been stockpiling shots for mass inoculation programs.

A month or so ago public health officials were worried about lagging demand for the vaccine. Now their main concern is whether they will get enough vaccine to provide protection to millions of eligible children before the 1956 polio season hits next spring.

"Demand has been increasing steadily," said Dr. Malcolm H. Merrill, California health director. "There is a question at this moment whether vaccine production can keep up with demand, especially if the current increase in acceptance continues."

There have been conflicting reports about how well the nationwide inoculation program has been doing since the government's voluntary distribution system went into effect this fall. To get the facts, United Press correspondents went to the top health officials in the 48 states. Highlights of their report:

Demand

Demand for the vaccine was reported to be very great in five states, substantial in 18, about equal to supplies in 15 and small in only six — Idaho, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Tennessee, and Virginia. Four states didn't report. In many areas health authorities have been discouraging demand because of limited supplies.

Use

The 43 states which were able to supply figures reported a total of 4,968,144 shots currently in the hands of health authorities and physicians. The figure is believed conservative. Estimates were not available for five states and the number of unused shots in the hands of physicians could not be determined precisely. Also, more than three million shots, recently released by the government, now are en route to the states for use.

Some of the vaccine apparently has not been used because of local apathy. But the big reason for large unused stocks in some areas is the efforts of health departments to stockpile enough shots to keep a mass inoculation program rolling once started. These departments argue it would be unfair to distribute small amounts of vaccine piecemeal.

Inoculations

Some inoculations are now being given in most states but the pattern varies widely. Injections are currently being given on a statewide basis in 13 states, in many communities in nine states, and in only a few communities in 11 states. In another 11 states, very few injections are being given, because of inadequate supplies or opposition to the vaccine. Four states didn't report.

Opposition

Substantial opposition to the inoculation program was reported in five states. In Idaho, where Cutter-inoculated children were hard hit by polio, both the state health and medical authorities have opposed mass injection programs. In Massachusetts, authorities have declared the vaccine insufficiently safe but at least one community has gone ahead with vaccinations anyway.

In Kentucky, physicians took a stand against the vaccine but agreed health officers could give shots to those who requested them. Some medical opposition to mass inoculation programs also was reported in New Jersey and Kansas.

Priorities

Only about half the states are adhering strictly to the government recommendation that age priorities be limited to a 10-year span between birth and 15. Many are using the whole 15-year span and five have stretched their priorities through 19 years — Minnesota, Nevada, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming. Minnesota was typical. It enlarged its priorities group because of lack of demand for the vaccine in the smaller eligibility group.

Abuses

Illinois suspended commercial distribution of the vaccine until Feb. 1. Dr. Ruth Church, state vacine co-ordinator, reported "there was a feeling that some vaccine had been diverted to nonpriority groups." She said the supply situation will be re-evaluated in February and a decision made about resumption of distribution in commercial channels.

Health authorities cited three main reasons for the sharp drop in demand for the vaccine this fall: 1—Public uncertainty about the vaccine's safety; 2—Natural apathy setting in after the polio season ended, and 3—A slump in mass inoculations during the change-over from the school program of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and the voluntary, state-by-state distribution system.

These same factors, in reverse, are cited as reasons for the new pickup in demand. There have been numerous official reports confirming the vaccine's safety and effectiveness, many parents are becoming conscious of the approaching polio season, and many states and communities are getting their inoculation programs underway.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rider and family spent Christmas with Mrs. Rider's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Bryant, of Paris, Ill.

SfC. Jay Wolfe, Mrs. Wolfe and family, of Michigan City, where SfC. Wolfe is serving, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lesco Wolfe during the holiday weekend.

Leo Brunner, eighty-seven and his brother, Zeno, seventy-six, walked a mile and a half and cut a bee tree December 22. Both are still very active and walk and work out-of-doors every day.

Mr. and Mrs. George Noble and daughter Jayne, called Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Harris in South Whitley, to make the acquaintance of Tanya Marie, the new daughter of the Harris'. Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Noble are sisters.

Affiliation ceremonies were held Tuesday evening for two candidates, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Linhart, who were formerly members of the Eel River Chapter of South Whitley. The candidates were presented with a carnation in appropriate colors for each Star Point, by the various Star Points. The Worthy Matron, Mrs. Paul Boggs, greeted the candidates and welcomed them into the chapter.

A short memorial was read for the late Albert Phillips, a Past Worthy Grand Patron who died at his home in Hobart, December 19.

A committee with Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Gebert as chairman, served jello friut salad, wafers, and coffee in the dining room following the chapter meeting. The Worthy Matron announced the Masons will be honored at the January 24 meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. David Armstrong and daughter Janet, called Christmas Day at the home of Mrs. Armstrong's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Finley, daughter Janalyce, of near Greensgurg.

Miss Mardell Grant and her cousin Lucretia Grant, both of Muskegon, Michgan, are spending a few days with their grandmother, Mrs. Lucretia Shoemaker, and their aunt, Mrs. Paul Brandenburg.

The French Accent On New Year's Eve

PRAIRIE DU ROCHER, Ill. — (UP) — About the time smartly dressed residents of big cities are getting ready to celebrate New Year's Eve, a band of people wearing grotesque masks and beggar-like costumes will gather in this southern Illinois village.

They will meet to take part in La Guiannee, a holiday rite that has been celebrated in the town a short distance from the Mississippi River's banks for more than 200 years.

Once La Guiannee was an all-male affair but now women are included in the group of 20 singers and two or three violinists. Some of the members have been singing La Guiannee for 60 years or more.

The same routine is followed year after year. After the singers gather, they start their tour of the village, trying to arrive at each house as quietly as possible.

Refreshments, of Course

When they reach a doorway, the song leader and the musicians immediately begin the song. The leader, tapping out the beat with a walking stick, sings a couplet as a solo and the group repeats it. This continues until the first stanza is ended and the singers pause.

Then the householder, who considers the visit an honor, throws open his door and the group enters and finishes LaGuiannee.

The words of the song are in French patois, a language that was common in the years when this villiage and much of the area were under French control. A stranger may not understand the patois, but he can't mistake the rapt attention of the listeners who, although they may have heard La Guiannee through a lifetime, seem to be hearing it for the first time.

After the strange, plaintive air is completed, there is merriment and the householder serves cookies and drinks, often made from recipes used 200 years ago.

Then the singers move on to honor another house.

The annual celebration once was widely observed in French villages of Canada and the Mississippi Valley. Now it is found only here, in Ste. Genevieve, Mo., and in a few places in Canada where French traditions still are observed.

Mirthless Egg

WASHINGTON (UP) — An Agrigulture Department poultry expert with a sense of humor has run across a "mirthless" egg.

A Washington housewife recently complained to him that she broke open an egg and found no yolk at all.

Americans Growing; Need Outsize Bedding

CHICAGO — (UP) — Ralph Quinn, president of the National Association of Bedding Manufacturers, told the group's annual convention here that more supersized bedding are being produced.

He said the reason is a kind of "reverse evolution" in which succeeding generations of Americans are growing taller. The average height of five-ten of the time of Cro-magnon man seems possible, he added.

In 1955 Hoosier Private Planes Fly 4 Million Miles

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Private planes in Indiana flew nearly 4 million miles this year but there were only seven fatal accidents, statistics showed today.

Richard L. Cunningham, director of the Aeronautics Commission of Indiana, said the 490,000 hours of flying and 63,700,000 miles traveled were estimates.

But 87 accidents, only seven of them fatal, were cold, hard facts covering all aircraft except commercial and military, Cunningham said.

Actually, the figures showed, there were five more accidents this year than last when 82 were recorded. However, the number of fatal accidents dropped from 11 to 7, the number of aircraft deaths from 17 to 9, and the number of serious injuries from 23 to 9.

Credits Safety Devices

Cunningham said in the last three or four years there has been a "steady decrease" in fatalities and injuries although the number of accidents has remained rather constant.

He credited the decline in deaths and injuries to the use of "more and better safety devices," among other things.

"The commission conducts a safety campaign, too," he said.

The majority of accidents, Cunningham said, are traced to "human failure"—cases where the pilot made a wrong decision or tried to do something he couldn't do. There were few cases of equipment failures, he said.

The statistics cast some doubt on the validity of an excuse often used by persons who are skittish of flying, that an aircrash usually is fatal while the vast majority of motorists survive highway crashes.

The monthly review of accidents published in the commission's publication, "Aero-Notes," often tells of planes being demolished in accidents but occupants escaping injury.

Examples of Non-Fatals

Typical examples from the December issue:

"A private pilot attempted a takeoff from an unauthorized landing strip. The ground was softer than he had anticipated. He realized that a safe take off could not be made because of a fence so he decided to hold the tail on the ground and hit the fence squarely. Neither pilot nor passengers were injured. The aircraft was damaged substantially."

"A student accompanied by flight instructor returned to home field for a landing. The pilot made a normal approach but touched down short of the runway. The landing gear struck a ditch and collapsed. The aircraft received major damage but student and instructor were not injured."

"While on a routine cross country flight, a private pilot crashed during an attempted forced landing, after hitting a high tension line on the final approach. The aircraft was completely destroyed but the occupants escaped serious injuries."

Beware Of Friendly Wild Animals - Rabies

CHICAGO —(UP)— Should you find a wild animal that seems friendly, stay away. It may be infected with rabies.

The American Veterinary Medical Association offered this advice to hunters, farmers or just strollers-in-the woods. It said that rabies among wild animals is more prevalent than scientists used to think.

"Normal, healthy wild animals are usually shy and always try to avoid humans," the AVMA said. "But rabid animals are aggressive, and this trait often takes the form of apparent friendliness."

The warning goes for foxes, squirrels, skunks and other denizens of the woods.

FAITH
FAITH IN MAN ALONE

The Answer Is God

"Worship Him At Church Every Week, at Home Every Day", will be the slogan for publicity purposes. Ads will appear in local papers, Sunday School and pulpit announcements, window cards, auto stickers will be used in making the public Worship-Minded. While the movement is national in scope, each church will develop and operate its own program. Competition between churches and publishing of attendance figures is discouraged. The merit of the movement lies in the awareness on the part of each individual that he needs to attend church at least once each week, and to worship daily at home.

God Is the Answer to successful living. By worshipping regularly we will be assured a happier New Year. We hope to see you in church this week.

Miss Patricia Herron Weds Robert Johnson At Dunfee Christian Church Friday Evening

Miss Patricia Marcelle Herron and Robert W. Johnson were wed Friday evening in the Dunfee Christian Church. Miss Herron is the daughter of Earl Herron, R 5, and Mr. Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson, R 7.

The double-ring ceremony was conducted by Rev. Wilburn Smith, pastor of the church. The altar, decorated with palms, was lighted by candles.

A musical prelude was presented by Mrs. William H. Kneller, sister of the bride. Duane Johnson, brother of the groom, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Melody of Love." During the ceremony, Mrs. Kneller played the Bridal March by Wagner from Lohengrin. As the couple left the altar, the Wedding March by Mendelssohn was played.

Bride Chooses White

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a ballerina length gown of white Bambazine taffeta, with a modified waistline and a full skirt. The dress was accented by a scalloped neckline and jewel trim. The winged collar of the jacket, which had long, pencil-point sleeves, was also jeweled. The finger-tip veil of silk illusion was caught to a Juliet cap adorned with seed pearls. Miss Herron carried a bouquet of baby white pompons and red rosebuds.

Mrs. Richard Bolinger, R 5, attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a ballerina length dress of peacock blue taffeta with a portrait neckline. A jeweled head band held her small veil in place. Mrs. Bollinger carried a bouquet of baby white pompons and pink rosebuds.

Duane Ruckman served as groomsman, and Richard Bolinger and Lynn Ruckman acted as ushers.

The mother of the groom selected a dress of navy blue, with which she wore a corsage of red roses. All of the men in the bridal part wore boutonnieres.

Reception At Home

One hundred guests attended the reception, held at the home of the bride's father immediately following the ceremony. Assistants at the reception were Mrs. Charles Brown, Valparaiso, and Mrs. Junior Lee Wierick and Miss Sue Ann Clark, both of Columbia City.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Chicago following the reception. Upon their return they will reside near Columbia City.

The bride, who was graduated from the Lutheran Hospital School of Nursing in August, 1955, is now on the staff of the Whitley County Memorial Hospital. Mr. Johnson is employed by the Dana Corporation of Fort Wayne.

Out-of-town guests attended from Fort Wayne, Valparaiso, and Churubusco.

Tenth Birthday Of Jill Hyndman Is Observed Friday

Mrs. Ralph Hyndman, 141 Hilltop Drive, entertained ten small guests Friday afternoon in honor of the tenth birthday of her daughter, Jill. She was assisted by Mrs. Wayne Messmore, Jill's Sunday School teacher.

The gifts were placed under the large Christmas tree in the living room. A large white Christmas bell was hanging over the table, from which pink and white streamers led to the placecards, tiny white reindeer. A small illuminated white Christmas tree was used as the centerpiece.

Games were played, and the children then sang to Jill. After the opening of the gifts, the hostesses served birthday cake, ice-cream, and cokes.

Guests at the party were David Heritier, Richard Gall, Kathy Brennan, Jimmy Nelson, Vickie Mohler, Deliah Hyndman, Victor Robbins, Leon Wysong, Judy Ernst, and Willie Ann Kniss.

"it is staggering."

"Add to this complex the prospect for longer life and increased leisure time inherent in the simultaneous arrival of the atomic and electronic ages, each requiring more education of those who wish to continue as useful citizens, and you begin to sense the enormity of the challenge which faces us," he said.

"Just try to picture us as a nation of 200-million persons, with the required work day, work week and work year reduced materially and yet with a higher standard of living than today; a nation relatively free of the economic, physical and emotional handicaps which now cut down on school attendance; all of us living to a ripe and active old age, and all of us surrounded by an incomprehensibly complex world in which we are to do everything from understanding the peoples of the world, to operating electronic home appliances.

"If you can imagine such a life and what it means to education, you will agree with me that we are moving into an age whose complexity grows in geometrical progression, armed only with arithmetical formulas."

ing the inoculation program. Typical was Pennsylvania which reported 10,000 doses became outdated because they were so widely distributed they couldn't be shifted to areas where they were needed before the expiration date.

Another factor was the long period when the government held up distribution of all vaccine for rechecking. By the time re-cleared, vaccine got back into the inoculation pipeline, it was very close to expiring.

Tennessee, Louisiana, Kansas and Illinois, they were aided by planes which kept a sky patrol for dangerous drivers.

Forces Beefed Up

Police forces across the nation were beefed up to their top force and efficiency. Leaves were cancelled and shifts were lengthened to as long as 18 hours. Pennsylvania reported an "unprecedented" force of 1,200 state troopers on the roads, Indiana had a record-breakng 420, and Texas ordered public safety inspectors to go on the roads.

Tennessee, waging one of the most intense battles against highway slaughter, put 1,000 volunteer guardsmen, 200 guard jeeps, and ambulances on the highways. About 200 of the guardsmen were stationed on Memphis' outskirts to warn motorists to drive safely.

In Chicago, which posted the worst metropolitan death record over Christmas, bartenders and night club owners were warned not to let any tipsy customers try to drive home.

"Don't even fetch their cars for them," Traffic Chief Michael Ahern ordered. "Instead, stow them in taxis."

Chicago and other cities also planned to turn policemen into chauffeurs if necessary to get holiday celebrants home safely. Many police departments set up coffee tureens in their station houses, inviting motorists to have the last drink on them so long as it was java.

In the 55 years since 1900 there have been 143,000,000 motor vehicles produced in the United States.

Columnist Says Ike Will Become TV Commentator

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—President Eisenhower will resign and become a television network commentator from his Gettysburg home, a columnist for the Indianapolis Times said today.

Mrs. Dorothy Stephens, radio and television columnist for the Scripps-Howard newspaper, wrote in a forecast of 1956 in the TV industry that the report about Mr. Eisenhower "comes from a responsible source in New York."

Mrs. Stephens is the wife of Times managing editor J. Boyd Stephens.

Our Job

Our job is generating electricity and getting it to where it's used. We're in this business because it is concerned with the supply of a fundamental requirement of modern living, because it's an honorable one, because we like it, and because we want to earn a living at it.

We aim to give one kind of service to everyone . . . the best that's possible. That means supplying our customers with what they want when they want it. It means being courteous at all times and maintaining attractive easy-to-do-business-with offices. It means doing everything we can to keep complaints from arising, and it means prompt and fair handling of those that do.

We are a citizen of each community we serve and take an active part in its affairs. Like any other citizen, we want our neighbors to think well of us. Besides, it makes good business-sense. We can only prosper as the community prospers so we help it to thrive in every way we can.

Such is our job as we see it. We are trying to do it well and to do it better all the time.

San Francisco Dons Climax Coast-To-Coast Journey By Winning Holiday Festival Friday

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press Sports Writer

The San Francisco Dons end a triumphant basketball tour tonight when they fly back to the West Coast and, fortified by some home cooking, they figure to set a major college record for consecutive victories Jan. 28 by whipping California.

San Francisco, featuring All-America center Bill Russell and a strong supporting cast, climaxed its gruelling coast-to-coast journey Friday night by winning the Holiday Festival at Madison Square Garden. The Dons posted an easy, 70-53 victory over UCLA, with Russell collecting the tournament's most valuable player award.

The Dons began the tour as the nation's No. 1 team and swept seven games and two tournament crowns to emerge from the welter of holiday competition with added stature and a 36-game winning streak. San Francisco has home games with Pepperdine, Santa Clara and Fresno State in January before invading Berkeley for the game with California that should make it the first major team to win 40 straight.

Two Share Record

Long Island University and Seton Hall share the current major college high of 39.

Notre Dame, Iowa State, West Virginia, George Washington, Southern Methodist and Cincinnati also won major tournament titles Friday night, while North Carolina State and North Carolina set up a humdinger tonight at Raleigh, N.C. North Carolina State, rolling on a 22-game victory streak and ranked third in the nation, will try to win its sixth straight Dixie Classic at the expense of fourth-ranked North Carolina, which has a 7-0 record this year.

Notre Dame came from behind in the last seven minutes to upset sixth-ranked Utah, 70-65, and become the first team to win the Sugar Bowl championship at New Orleans twice in a row.

Iowa State triumphed 67-56 over Kansas for its first championship in 10 years in the Big Seven Tournament at Kansas City, Mo.

West Virginia took the Orange Bowl championship with an 83-78 victory over Miami at Miami Beach, Fla.

George Washington Wins

George Washington downed Michigan State 65-62 for the Mid-Winter Tournament title at College Park, Md. Southern Methodist won the Southwest Conference Tournament crown by downing Rice, 76-73.

Cincinnati took the University of Richmond Invitation title by whipping the host school, 89-60. Seton Hall's Dick Gaines, the only Negro in the eight-team tussle in the one-time capital of the Confederacy, was voted the tournament's most valuable player.

North Carolina State defeated Wake Forest, 70-58, and North Carolina defeated previously - unbeaten Duke, 74-64, to set up tonight's clash for the Dixie Classic crown.

Western Illinois won the NAIA Tournament at Omaha, Neb., by defeating Gustavus Adolphus, 83 72; Indiana State captured the Midwest Tournament championship at Terre Haute, Ind., with a 74-73 Midwest Tournament championsh at Terre Haute, Ind., with a 74-73 victory over the Quantico Marines; and Hofstra won its own tournament at Hempstead, N.Y., by beating Muhlenberg, 91-71.

Prince Charming, Bride Honeymoon

The prince is David Sant, 21, who won the title in a male beauty contest last year. He married Janet Harris Thursday against her parents wishes and rode off with her to Scotland.

Radad

RALEIGH, N.C. (UP)—Reporters were puzzled when Gov. Luther H. Hodges told them he got a "radad" for Christmas.

"A radad," the governor explained, "is something about the size of a pencil with something like snowflakes inside. You carry it in your pocket."

"What for?" reporters asked.

"To detect uranium," Hodges said.

Boston Celtics Whip Nationals

By UNITED PRESS

The Boston Celtics, unbeaten in their last five games, can pick up more ground in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Assn. tonight when they face the Rochester Royals at Rochester.

In another New Year's Eve game, the Syracuse Nationals host the New York Knickerbockers.

The second-place Celtics moved a half-game ahead of the Knicks Friday night by whipping the Nationals, 110-103, at Bangor, Maine. The loss dropped the defending champion Nationals into the Eastern Division cellar.

Three players on each team scored 20 or more points. The leading Boston scorers were Jack Nichols (25), Ed Macauley 24) and Bill Sharman (20). JJohnny Kerr had 21 for Syracuse, while teammates Paul Seymour and Red Rocha had 20 each.

Fort Wayne gained a two-game lead over St. Louis in the Western Division by edging the Hawks, 90-89, at Lansing, Mich.

Judge Gives Some Saturday Night Advice

TRUMBULL, Conn. — (UP) — Town Court Judge John P. Evans wasn't impressed with reasons given by Eugene H. Dilliston, 28, as to why he was caught driving while his license was under suspension.

Dilliston said his girl friend had forgotten her glasses, and he volunteered to take the wheel of her car. In imposing a $100 fine, the judge said:

"If your girl friend needs glasses to drive, you two ought to sit home on Saturday night and watch Jackie Gleason. Then you'll both be safe."

How Kent State Got Their School Colors

KENT, O. — (UP) — Time was when Kent State University had school colors of orange and black.

Today's color scheme is blue and gold.

The big change came about as a result of an economy-minded administration and a football uniform washing. Kent State's first football outfits were, like the school colors, orange and black. After their first washing the uniform colors faded into a mellow blue and gold.

The economy-minded front office decided blue and gold was just as good a color scheme as orange and black.

"Bullfrog" refers to a specific species of large frog. The sex of the animal is not involved in the name, so the female also is a bullfrog.

Only Five Major High School Quintets End First Half Of Season With Perfect Records

By KURT FREUDENTHAL
United Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Once-beaten Elkhart, Marion and Columbus created the latest Indiana high school basketball eyebrow-raising today as only five major quintets completed the first half of the season with perfect records.

Elkhart, ranked 12th in this weeks United Press Coaches Poll, shaded unbeaten and third-rated Seymour in the Elkhart holiday tourney finale, 62-61, on Dave Kollat's bucket with less than a minute togo.

That wrecked Seymours 10-game string. Denny Tepe plunked in 24 points for the winning Blazers, including 14 consecutive freethrows, but scoring honors went to reliable Danny Thomas of Seymour with 29.

Marion and Columbus, both beaten four times, along with undefeated Princeton, Gary Froebel, Huntington, and South Bend Washington also celebrated New Year's day early with tourney victories.

Dick Persinger with 21 markers paced Marion to an easy 72-55 upset victory over ninth-ranking Fort Wayne South for honors at Richmond. The Giants galloped.. into a 24-11 first-period lead and coasted home. The loss stopped South Side's 5-game winning streak

Richmond copped consolation honors with a 63-55 win over Muncie Central. The proud Bearcats, beaten only once last season, thus moved into 1956 with a shaky 4-6 record–their worst in years.

Columbus prevailed over favored Jasper, 53-49, at Columbus; Princeton rolled over Southern Conference rival Washington in its own show, 66-42; Froebel, which upset city foe Roosevelt Thursday, went on to take the steel city crown, beating Mann, 65-49.

Huntington, another 4 - game loser, won its four-team show with a 56-45 decision over Central Conference foe Peru, while South Bend Washington toyed with crosstown rival Riley, 85-64. Ed Jerzak caged 33 points for Washington, but Riley's Louis Anderson dropped 36.

State champion Indianapolis Attucks, Hammond Noll and Princeton are all unbeaten in 10 games. Madison and Lafayette are 9-game winners. All with the exception of Madison captured holiday tournaments–Noll won two within three days.

Bulganin Warns H-Bomb Warfare Is Possibility

Even Though East And West Posses These Weapons

MOSCOW (UP) — Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin warned today H-bomb warfare is possible even though both East and West possess these weapons of mass destruction.

The Soviet Premier sounded his warning in a question and answer interview with the American Telenews Television Company.

He said the possibility of thermonuclear war between East and West was not "automatically excluded' by the fact that both sides possess atomic and hydrogen bombs.

In his replies to a series of questions submitted by the agency, Bulganin expressed hope for peace in the New Year. But, he warned:

Says War Not Excluded

"It is wrong to assert that inasmuch as East and West possess hydrogen weapons the possibility of a thermonuclear war is automatically excluded.

"Assertions of this kind can in fact lull the vigilance of peoples who support the elimination of the threat of an atomic war."

Bulganin added: "Of course, the fact that under present conditions atomic and hydrogen weapons cannot be used with impunity has some deterrent effect on those circles which would like to unleash war, using weapons of mass annihilation.'

Ban War By Control

The Premier said that the only way to prevent a thermonuclear war was the "unconditional banning of atomic and thermonuclear weapons, the establishment of effective international control and the implementation of the related decisions on this question."

Bulganin said "it is clear that the arms drive, including that in the field of atomic weapons, is not diminishing, but is, on the contrary, increasing the threat of a new war.'

But the Soviet premier expressed cautious optimism when asked his opinion on the prospects for peace in 1956.

". . . International cooperation and trust is a fully attainable aim in our time" he said. "There is no doubt that if the governments of all countries . . . will in practice try to achieve a further relaxation of international tension and the strengthening of trust among the states, the year 1956 will witness new successes. . . ."

Radio Moscow today broadcast Bulganin's replies to the questions submitted by mail last month by Charles E. Shutt, Washington manager for Telenews. Copies were distributed to all foreign correspondents here.

Proving That People Are Still Eating Eggs

KINGSTON, R.I. —(UP)— What do you look for in an egg?

If you look for freshness and quality, you're in the majority—at least the majority of persons polled recently by W. H. Wallace and A. L. Owens of the state Agricultural Experiment Station.

They reported their findings in a station publication. About 40 per cent, they found, look for "convenience" and "satisfaction."

Only 21 per cent of the homemakers reported "shopping around" or purchasing eggs from a special source to get what they believed was higher quality.

The largest group of consumers, 38 per cent, bought eggs in two-dozen lots, while 34 per cent bought in one-dozen lots. The rest ranged from half-dozen to three dozen per-time purchasers.

Farm Prices In 1956 Expected To Be Lower According To Purdue

The following information is obtained from reports prepared by the agricultural economic staff at Purdue University and published in the most recent issue of Economic and Marketing Information.

United States farm prices in 1956 seem likely to average three to five per cent below 1955 because of large storage stocks, large expected crop production, and heavy livestock marketing.

Production costs will run about as high as in 1955.

Present indications point to continued business expansion for several months ahead. Personal income seems likely to rise further into 1956, but at a slower rate.

Hog prices are expected to increase at least $1 to $2 per hundredweight above the first half of December when the heavy runs are over. A peak price may be reached in late January or February.

No real improvement in the price of the better grades of cattle is in prospect until after February 1.

Production of milk has set an all time record in 1955 and will set another in 1956, the economists believe. Price supports will continue at 80 per cent of parity until April 1.

In the poultry industry, egg prices during January to June, 1956, are expected to average as high or slightly higher than during the similar period of 1955.

Marketable broiler supplies through February will run approximately 30 per cent above a year ago; however, stronger demand will keep prices during this period from averaging more than two to three cents below a year ago.

Eisenhower

the Presidents Christmas message holding out the hope of eventual liberation to the peoples of eastern Europe was not in accord with the ideas exchange at the "summit conference last summer.

Issue Blunt Reply

The White House reply was blunt,approved personally by the President and Secretary of State John F. Dulles. Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, announced that a major continuing aim of the American foreign policy would be the successful peaceful liberation of the "captive peoples in the Communist - satellite countries.

The President expected a weekend respite from work on his State of the Union message. He was reported to have "virtually finished" it Friday in a long conference with his brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower; chief White House speech writer, Kevin McCann; and Hagerty.

McCann flew back to Washington Friday with suggested revisions to clear them with other administration officials. Another, and final, draft of the message will be flown here Monday.

Hagerty said it now was definite that the President would not go back to Washington for the opening of Congress on Jan. 3. His message outlining the administrations legislative program for an election year will be forwarded for reading by clerks in both houses on Jan. 5.

Netherly Enters Not Guilty Plea

Arraigned on charges of check forgery and uttering a false instrument, Bill J. Netherly alias Bill J. Perry, Muncie, pleaded not guilty late Friday before Judge Lowell Pefley in circuit court here.

His bond was set at $2,000. Unable to provide the bond, Netherly was returned to jail. He is being represented by John W. Whiteleather, local attorney.

Though often denounced for destroying birds, the skunk aids man by eating vast hordes of cutworms, potato beetles, white grubs, and other crop ravagers.

Issues Temporary Injunction Against Mass Picketing

UNION CITY, Ind. (UP)—Randolph Circuit Judge John W. Macy issued a temporary injunction Thursday against mass picketing by striking International Union of Electrical Workers at the Westinghouse Corp. plant.

The injunction came in the wake of rock throwing which a company spokesman said damaged a non-striking workers car and caused minor injury to a company attorney.

Irving E. Slauer, plant manager, said he had mailed notices of discharge to a union stewart and five other striking employes.

The injunction limits the number of pickets to three at each gate and forbids the use of loudspeakers for "threatening, abusive, intimidating language or epithets aimed at non-strikers.

It also forbids strikers to gather in groups and obstruct cars on the road to the plant.

Slauer also announced the company is posting a $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons defacing cars with paint.

Slauer said 104 employes reported to work today, the largest working force since the nationwide strike began Oct. 17.

Greek God Of Love Is Being Replaced By Mickey Mouse

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor

NEW YORK (UP)—A scientific thought with which to ring out the old year is that the Greek god of love, Eros, who became Cupid, has had a further transformation in the minds of Americans and now is Mickey Mouse.

The thought belongs to Dr. Merrill Moore, Boston psychiatrist who also has a reputation as a poet. He voiced the thought in estimating the state of modern psychiatry as 1955 ends and a new year begins. Its state made him think of Cupid and Mickey Mouse.

"But with all their newfangled pictures and images, Americans have not wholly rid their minds of the fat, mischievous urchin with his bows and arrows," he said. "And so it is with many ideas in psychiatry today. In name and in form they have changed from the shape of an unwrought stone to a fat boy and thence to a highly mechanized dwarf, or animated cartoon."

Science Eliminating Schools

Scientific methods are eliminating opposing psychiatric "schools" which once seemed, to some scientists, to "stand in some strange antagonism to general psychiatry and to general medicine, general science and logic."

The "schools' are giving up their "self-imposed isolation,' and so "numerous different but not necessarily opposing schools of psychiatric thought at last have consented to join hands with the rest of humanity and come to life again."

He made a "single example" of the Rorschach ink-blot psychological test. It "alone has forced one to see the primitive parts of expressions of the mind not as sociologist or economists regarded mental phenomena but rather as Jung and Freud sa wthem.

"It is realized, for example, that erotic associations not only cling around sexual objects, where they undoubtedly belong, but may also be connected with percepts of color and motion and with (other) concepts of worship and adoration, and that they are crystallized in the formal religion to which many persons adhere.

Modern psychiatry finds in people, he said in the New England Jounral of Medicine, "ghosts and spirits and nature gods, ancestor worship, familiar patterns of thought and behavior, tribal attitudes (social and cultural.) body worship, or anthropomorphism, the formation of a regnant set of ideas of certain individuals or groups, individual psychologies, magical and obsessive rites, purifications, and sacrifices — all the common stock and the successive phases of emotional and superstitious humanity."

Ten Resolutions For Food Buyers Who Pinch Pennies

By PATRICIA WIGGINS
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Look to the kitchen for some of your New Year's resolutions this year.

Since one-fourth to one-third of the average family's income goes for groceries, some well-chosen resolutions in the food department could put you way ahead at the end of the next 365 days.

The age-old problem, of course is feeding the family well while keeping food costs down. And Department of Agriculture home economists, keeping this in mind, offer these 10 as a starting list:

1. Plan your meals. Make a list to take shopping instead of relying on "impulse buying." You may have to make substitutions at the store, but at least you'll be organized. Impulse buying can boost your bill way out of bounds.

Read Ads

2. Don't over-buy. Table and refrigerator waste is one of the biggest drains on the food budget.

3. Read advertisements, listen to the radio, and ask your grocer about good values. Keep track of seasonally good buys as well as store promotion drives. Every day there are some "best buys" —use them. Smart shoppers heed those "weekend specials" too.

4. Don't cut items which have necessary food values for the whole family to save pennies. Milk, for example comes in many shapes besides the quart, so vary the form used for cooking and drinking. Dry skim milk is cheapest.

5. Read and study labels to compare prices and amount of servings in different brands, grades or types of preparation. Pretty, top grade peaches could be replaced by lower and cheaper grades if they're headed for tapioca pudding, Spanish rice can call for a lower grade tomato than does a fancy salad.

6. Don't spend money on prepared foods if you could easily do the preparing at home with great saving. Pre-cooked rice is expensive compared to the others; so are pre-cooked cereals, bakery items, mixes.

Don't Skimp Breakfast

7. Take advantage of free information available from many sources to get "Squared away" on nutrition properties of foods and on family nutrition needs. The agriculture department offers free a "national food guide" listing the "basic seven" food types required by all daily.

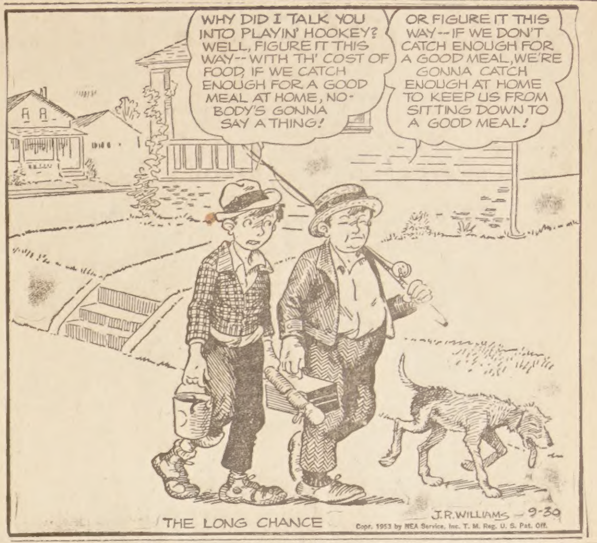
8. Resolve not to skimp on the most inexpensive but often most important meal of the day — breakfast. You need a daily dose of vitamin C because the body doesn't store it. If morning juice is skipped, chances are your family's missed it for the day. Air Force tests show pilots suffer blurred vision and exhaustion from missing breakfast. Your family probably does too.

9. Do start a garden if you have a place for it. This is the way really to save—grow your own vegetables. Start boning up now so you'll know how to go about it come spring.

10. Remember, there is no economy in a low-cost nutritious meal if your family won't eat it. Keep family quirks in mind, then buy and prepare food in a form your family likes.

Less Carpet Wool

United States mills consumed a fourth less apparel and carpet wool in the first four months of 1952 than they did during the comparable period of 1951.



WHY DID I TALK YOU INTO PLAYIN' HOOKEY? WELL, FIGURE IT THIS WAY-- WITH TH' COST OF FOOD, IF WE CATCH ENOUGH FOR A GOOD MEAL AT HOME, NOBODY'S GONNA SAY A THING!
OR FIGURE IT THIS WAY-- IF WE DON'T CATCH ENOUGH FOR A GOOD MEAL, WE'RE GONNA CATCH ENOUGH AT HOME TO KEEP US FROM SITTING DOWN TO A GOOD MEAL!

Indiana Editors Find Many Major Headlines Of Year 1955 Right In Their Own Backyards

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Indiana editors found many of their major news headlines of 1955 right in their own backyards, a review of the years top Hoosier developments showed today.

One of the biggest stories of the year, on both a state and national scale, was the violence-racked Perfect Circle strike of CIO United Auto Workers, referred to by some observers as the bitterest labor dispute in Hoosier history.

Sporadic violence at New Castle, hotbed of the walkout, broke out into a full-scale gun battle Oct. 5 and prompted Governor Craig, in a controversial action, to rush National Guard troopers into the area to maintain the peace.

In other labor developments, the StudebakerPackard plant at South Bend was hit by a series of walkouts during the summer, and the Indianapolis Stockyards, one of the nations biggest hog markets, was shut down for a week by a strike.

Demos Sweep Cities

On the political scene, the Democratic sweep of the November municipal elections caught even the winning party by surprise. The Democrats won 72 mayoralty seats and the Republicans 31 offices in a stunning reversal of power that could have national implications in the 1956 general elections.

The Hoosier political year got off to a fast start with the toll road battle in the General Assembly. The session-long fight found the still warring Jenner wing of the GOP controlled Legislature pitted against the Craig faction, and the battle ended with both sides claiming victory.

The Legislature also adopted the biggest budget in state history, a deficit spending package totaling 673.7 million dollars. Opponents of the high budget claimed it would force the state into bankruptcy and necessitate new taxes.

Korean war veterans benefited by a bonus bill adopted by law makers, and the surplus in the bonus fund was set aside to enable the state to aid in school construction for the first time.

Crime often made the headlines, headed by the arrest of Leslie Irvin, 31yearold Evansville pipe fitter, accused "Chinesestyle executor of six persons in a wave of robberymurders in the Evansville area. Irvin recently was found guilty and faces the death penalty in the murder of an Evansville filling station attendant.

Worst Holdup Wave

The state also experienced its worst year for bank holdups since the days of the Dillinger gang in 1953 as 10 banks were looted of more than $60,000. Hardest hit was the bank at Paragon which was robbed twice this year and once in 1954.

Indiana's traffic toll continued to soar despite a stepped-up highway safety campaign. The 1955 toll exceeded 1,100 killed, a poorer record that last year's.

There was good news on the economic scene as the industrial and business boom continued full blast, but despite a bumper agricultural harvest, the farm recession continued.

Other major stories included the 11-million-dollar refinery fire at Whiting in which, fortunately, there were no casualties; the shift of 39 eastern counties to yeararound "fast time, the disappearance of 3yearold Ronnie Weitkamp from his home at Crane and the discovery weeks later of his death by exposure, and the green light for Salk polio vaccine manufacture by Eli Lilly & Co. and Pitman-Moore Co., both of Indianapolis.

A TIME HONORED SYMBOL

. . . an inscription that has indicated prescriptions for centuries. It is an abbreviation of "recipe" — the Latin word for "take". Today it symbolizes even more . . . for behind each compounded prescription bearing the worthy symbol Rx are new methods of diagnosis, treatments practiced by your doctor, new skills and knowledge employed by your pharmacist, new drug discoveries by men of science . . . all bringing greater safety, quicker recovery, better health. The next time your doctor prescribes . . . bring your prescription to your Registered Rexall Pharmacist — always an alert guardian of your health.

The Year 1955 Proves To Be One Of Better Years In History Of The World Of Women

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — UP — Almost every way you look at 1955 as it goes into history it was one of the better years of our lives.

More women employed than ever before..personal income at an all-time high ... cost of living near a standstill ... consumer spending soaring ... birth and death rate fairly steady .. and many a child saved from death or crippling by a wondrous product of the test tube, the Salk vaccine.

But it was not a year without its shadows too. There was the frightening problem of juvenile crime; the mountainous task of providing more teachers and classrooms for school children; personal suffering for a woman whose famous husband had a heart attack.

First, a look at how the year affected the family budget.

More Outside Jobs

Approximately 1,000,000 more women held jobs outside the home in 1955 than in 1954. This year's total, as estimated by the women's oureau, the U.S. Department of Labor, was 20,500,000. Personal income was at a new high. But consumer spending also set new records, much of it on-credit buying. The Federal Reserve Board said 55 out of every 100 famlies owed money on an installment purchase.

The cost of living, which immediately after World War II climbed by leaps and bounds, settled down with only fractional changes in the year.

Helping to keep the family budget in line was the record supply of food at stable prices.

On the medical front, the year was notable for the crippling blow struck at "the great crippler."

In April, results of the 1955 mass inoculations of children with polio vaccine developed by Dr. Jonas Salk were announced. The vaccine was called safe and 80 to 90 per cent effective. The American Medical Association called the results "one of the great events in the history of medicine."

Birth Rate Down

The birth rate showed a very slight decline in 1955; the death rate rose a fraction. The National Office of Vital Statistics said the birth rate through September — the latest figure available — was 24.6 per 1,000 persons, compared with 24.9 in 1954. The death rate through September was 9.3 per 1,000 compared with 9.2 last year.

Marriage rates, curiously enough, were identical with death rates.

A grim statistic came from J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI He said that one out of every 18 teen-agers between the ages of 15 and 17 is a juvenile delinquent.

Educating the younger set provided a king-size headache for federal, state and local officials. There was an increasing shortage of teachers and classrooms, as the number of school age children grew.

If love makes the world go round, then the old earth spun dizzily in 1955.

Most publicized romance was that between Britain's Princess Margaret and Group Capt. Peter Townsend, a divorced commoner. Millions of words were used to tell their love story, but it took only three paragraphs October 31 to write its unhappy ending.

Romance Department

Margaret, in that three paragraph statement, said in part:

"...I have reached this decision entirely alone and in doing so, I have been strengthened by the unfailing support and devotion of Group Captain Peter Townsend."

Hollywood marriages included Kay Spreckels and Clark Gable; Joan Crawford and businessman Alfred Steele; Debbie Reynolds and Eddie Fisher; Dorothy Towne and Jack Webb; Yvonne De Carlo and movie stunt man Robert Morgan; Phyllis Gates and Rock Hudson.

Woolworth heiress Barbara Hutton married her sixth husband, the one-time German tennis star, Baron Von Cramm.

Nina (Honeybear) Warren, youngest daughter of Chief Justice and Mrs. Earl Warren eloped with Dr. Stuart Brien.

Marriages among the famous also ended. Actress Linda Christian divorced Tyrone Power; Mrs. Gregory Peck divorced her movie idol husband, and New York heiress Gloria Vanderbilt, divorced conductor Leopold Stokowski.

The year is one the nation's first lady undobtedly was happy to see end. Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who has had a slight heart condition since childhood, was with the president in Denver when he suffered a coronary thrombosis. Mamie Eisenhower never quit her vigil in the long weeks while her husband recuperated at an army hospital.

But as the year drew to a close, and the president's health improved, the Eisenhowers made plans for their first holidays with the whole family at the White House.

The typical consumer spends about one fourth of his income on groceries.

If farmers gave their wheat away, a 21-cent loaf of bread still would cost the consumer 18 cents.

Not All Of Indiana 1955 News Developments Were Of Sober Nature; Some On Light Side

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Not all of Indiana's 1955 news developments were of a grim and sober nature. The state had its share of items on the lighter side.

Many of them found their way onto police blotters, like the case of the Indianapolis man who complained to authorities about a horn-honking neighbor. Bernard Gray said he was a patient man, but the noise had been disturbing him for two years.

At Goshen, Oscar Holderman reported to police that all four hub caps on his car were missing. They were stolen while he and two friends slept overnight in the car parked near the city's business district.

Police Open Doors

Vandals also turned Goshen motorists into "wrong way Corrigans" for a time. The pranksters unbolted all the signs on one-way streets, and then put them back on the wrong side of the sign posts.

A questionnaire was given to Lafayette police to find out what they did with their time. The Purdue University police force reported it had answered 27 calls during October—to open doors for persons who forgot their keys.

What's in a name? City clerks at Bloomington ran into a bit of confusion when John Williams turned his farm over to John Williams, with John Williams acting as witness to the transaction. The owner, John Williams, 92, made the transfer to his son, John Jr., and John III is next in line for the inheritance.

Crocketts Put to Trouble

A Muncie police radio operator was startled when he received a call for a patrol car to "take Young and Massey to jail."

It turned out the caller meant prisoners Young and Massey, not detectives Young and Massey who were on duty together at the time.

The Davy Crockett craze made things tough for persons named Crockett. For instance, Opal Crockett, writer for the Indianapolis Times, said she was plagued by an anonymous caller who would ask "Is Davy there?" and then hang up.

The weathermen who named this year's East Coast hurricanes may have had the Clarence Hlavacek family of Plymouth in mind. Four of the female members are named Gladys, Carol, Connie and Diane. A fifth, Darlene, will have to wait for next year.

The impact of the television age was brought home to an out-of-town man who asked 2-year-old Park Carmon where he lived. "South Bend, Channel 34," was the prompt reply.

Bubblegum for Mama

The wife of a Muncie attorney got a Christmas gift she'll probably never forget. The attorney gave his small son $1 to buy a gift for his mother. The boy bought the most valuable gift he could think of, $1 worth of bubble gum.

On the sporting scene, Muncie's McCulloch baseball park was the scene of a rare steal of home plate. The trouble is it occurred after the game was over, and the thief also made off with the rubber from the pitcher's mound.

For those who say they don't make cars like they used to, a Tipton motorist can give them an argument. Frederick Jones' car hit the Jericho bridge and knocked it into the water. Damage to the bridge, $5,000. Damage to the car, $350.

And John Sabo of Evanston, Ill., got more than one jolt when his car hit a truck near Kendallville. Sabo escaped unhurt, but noted the truck was loaded with tombstones

Record Of Events Reported In 1955

There were 519 births reported in this paper in 1955; September led with a total of 53, and 52 births occurred in July. Deaths were less frequent, with 406 being reported. July was the most tragic month with 45 deaths. Ironically, 13 accidental deaths were reported in 1955.

June, as might be expected, was the most popular month for weddings, with 21 couples tying the knot. A total of 132 marriages were recorded. Engagements numbered 78; January was in the lead with 14 betrothals. Thirty-five anniversaries were reported. Of these, 29 were Golden anniversaries. The Levi Keisters were the longest-married couple to make headlines, having been married 60 years.
